¶ The booke of the Prophet Sophonia.

¶ The first Chapter.

Threatnings against Iuda and Hierusalem, by cause of their idolatrie.

1 THe worde of the Lorde whyche came vnto Sophoni the sonne of Chusi, the son of Gedaliah, the sonne of Amariah, the sonne of Hezekiah, in the time of Iosia ỳ son of Amon kyng of Iude.

2 I will surely destroy all things in the land, sayth the Lorde.

3 I will destroy man and beast, I will destroy the foules in the ayre, and the fishe in the sea, and great ruine shall fall on the wicked, and I will vtterly destroy the men out of the land, sayth the Lorde.

4 I will stretche out mine hand vpon Iuda, and vpon all suche as dwell at Hierusalem: thus will I roote out the remnant of Baal from this place, and the names of the Kemurins and preistes:

5 Yea, and suche as vppon their house toppes worship and bowe them selues vnto the host of heauen, which sweare by the Lord, and by their (o) Malcom also:

6 Which start backe from the Lord, and neither seeke after the Lord, nor regard hym.

7 Be still at the presence of the Lord God, for the day of the Lord is at hand: yea, the Lord hath prepared a sacrifice, and called his guests thereto.

8 And thus shall it happen in the day of the Lords sacrifice, I will visite the princes and the kings children, and all suche as weare strange clothing.

9 In the same day also will I visite al those that leape ouer the threshold so proudely, whiche fyll their Lordes house with robbery and falshood.

10 At the same time, sayth the Lorde, (there shall be hearde) a greate crye from the fysshe port, and an howling from the second porte, and a great destruction from the hylles.

11 Howle, ye that dwell in ỹ lowe places, for all the marchant people are destroyed, and al they ỹ were laden with siluer, are roted out.

12 At the same time will I searche Hierusalem with lanternes, and visite them that continue in their dregges, and say in their harts, Tush, the Lord wil do neyther good or euill:

13 Therefore their goodes shall be spoyled, and their houses layde waste, they shall builde houses, and not dwell in them, they shal plãt vineyardes, but not drinke the wine therof.

14 For the great day of the Lord is at hande, it is hard by, and commeth on a pace, euen the bytter voyce of the Lords day, then shall the strong man crie out, 15 That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and heauinesse, a day of vtter destruction and mistrie, a darke and glowming day, a cloudy and stormy day.

16 A day of the trumpet and alarme agaynste the strong cities, and high towres.

17 I will bring the people into such veration, that they shall goe about lyke blynd men, because they haue sinned against the Lorde, their bloud shall be powred out as dust, and their bodies as the myre.

18 Neither their syluer nor their golde shal be able to deliuer them in that wrathfull day of the Lorde, but the whole land shal be consumed through the fire of hys ielousie: for hee shall haue make cleane riddance of all them that dwell in the lande.

6 And as for the sea coast, it shall be heardmens cotages, and sheepefoldes.

The

¶ The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

1. The time of the prophesie of Aggeus. 8. An exhortation to buyld the temple agayne.

1 IN the seconde yeere of kyng Darius, in the sixth moneth, ỹ fyrst day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by ỹ ministerie of the prophete Aggeus, (a) vnto Zorobabel the (b) sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Juda, and to Josua, the son of Josedech, the high priest saying,

2 Thus speaketh the Lorde of hostes, saying, This people sayeth, (c) The time is not yet come for the Lords house to be buylded.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by ỹ ministerie of the prophet Aggeus, saying,

4 Is it time for you your selues to dwell in ceiled houses, and this house lye wast?

5 Now thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Consyder your owne wayes in your hartes.

6 Ye (d) haue sowen muche, but ye bring little in: ye eate, but ye haue not ynough: ye drinke, but ye are not fylled: yee cloth you, but ye be not warme: & he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, Consyder your owne wayes in your hartes.

8 (e) Geat you vp to the mountaynes, & fetche wod, and buylde this house, and I wil (f) take pleasure in it, and (g) I wyll be glorifyed, sayth the Lorde.

9 Ye looked for muche, and loe it came to little, and when yee brought it home, I dyd blowe vppon it: and why, sayth the Lord of hostes? Bycause of my house that is wast, and you runne euery man into his owne house.

10 Therefore, vppon you the heauen is stayed from deawe, and the earthe is stayed from yeelding hir increase

11 And I haue called for a (h) drought vppon the lande, and vppon the mountaynes, and vppon the corne, and vpon the wine, and vpon the oyle, & vpon al that the ground bryngeth forth, vpon men, and vpon cattayle, and vpõ all the labour of the handes.

12 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Josua the sonne of Josedech the hyghe priest, with all the (i) remnant of the people, hearde the voyce of the Lorde their God, and the (k) words of the prophet Haggeus, as the Lord their God had sent him, then the people did feare before the Lorde.

13 Then Haggeus the (l) Lordes messenger sayd in the Lordes message vnto the people, saying, I (m) am with you, sayth the Lorde.

14 And the Lorde styrred vp the (n) spirite of Zorobabel, the sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Juda, and the spirit of Josua the sonne of Josedech the high priest, and the spirit of al ỹ people: and they came and did the worke of the house of the Lorde of hostes their God.

i. For the greter part tarried in Babylon, & woulde not take the libertie which Cyrus had gyuen them.

k. Here is no differẽce made betweene the worde of the prophet, and the worde of God, to shewe that the prophet must so speake, and the people so heare them, as the wordes of God.

l. This should be remembred of all ministers that they be Gods messengers, and therfore must be faithful, diligent, and constant.

m. The penitent are not forsaken, God comforteth them, and assureth them of hys owne presence.

n. God is sayde to styrre vp our spirites, when hee moueth oure heartes by the power of his spirite, boldely too take in hande, and perfectly to fynishe that which he commaundeth.

The. ij. Chapter.

He sheweth that the glory of the seconde temple shall exceede the firste.

1 IN the (a) twentie and fourth day of the sixth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius,

2 In the (b) seuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord by the ministerie of the prophete Haggeus, saying,

3 Say nowe to Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, prince of Juda, and to Josua the sonne of Josedech the high priest, and to the rest of the people, saying,

4 (c) Who is among you left, whiche sawe this house in hir fyrst glory, and how do you see it nowe? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it, as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comforte, O Josua thou high priest, sonne of Josedech, & be strong all ye people of the land, sayth the Lorde, and worke: for I am (d) with you, sayth the Lord of hostes,

a. They had but three weekes, and three dayes, to heare the prophete, and to prepare theyr tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the prophet.

b. They had nowe not wrought a full moneth, yet they waxed weerie: & therfore had neede to be set on afresh by the prophete, who was therefore now sent vnto them agayne.

c. As were Seraiah, Zephaniah, and others. 2. Reg. cap. 25. vers. 18 which sawe the olde temple, and nowe were returned with Zorobabel. Esdr. cap. 6. verse. 3.

d. A strong argument why the people should be of good courage, when they are sure that God is with them.

power of God, that he needeth but to call for his plagues, & commaundement.

6 According to the (e) word that I couenanted wt you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my (f) ſpirit ſhal remayne wt you, feare ye not.
7 For thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, (g) Yet a litle whyle, and I wil (h) ſhake the heauēs, & the earth, and the ſea, and the drye lande.
8 And I will moue all nations, & the deſyre of al nations ſhal come, and I wil fyll thys houſe with glory, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.
9 (i) The ſyluer is myne, and the golde is mine, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.
10 The glory of the (k) ſecond houſe, ſhall be greater than the glory of the firſte, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes: and in this place will I giue peace, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.
11 In the twentie and fourth daye of the (l) ninth moneth, in the ſecōd yere of king Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto the prophet Haggeus, ſaying, 12 Thus ſayth the Lord God of hoſtes, Aſke now ye prieſts (concerning) the law, ſaying.
13 If one beare holy fleſhe in the ſkirt of hys coate, and with his ſkirt do touche the bread, potage, wine, oyle, or any other meate: ſhall it be holy? And the prieſtes aunſwered, and ſayd, No.
14 And Haggeus ſayd, If a polluted perſon touch any of theſe, ſhall he not be polluted? And the prieſtes aunſwered, and ſayde, Hee ſhall be polluted.
15 Then Haggeus aunſwered, and ſayde, So is this people, and ſo is this nation (m) before me, ſayeth the Lorde, and ſo is all the worke of their handes: and that whiche they offer there, is vncleane.
16 And nowe conſyder, I pray you, in your mindes, from this daye, and vpwarde, before there was layde one ſtone vppon another in the houſe of the Lorde,
17 Before theſe things (were done) when one came to a heape of twentie (meaſures) there were but tenne: ſo, who came to the wyne preſſe for to drawe out fiftie (veſſels of wine) out of the preſſe, there were but twentie.
18 I ſmote you with blaſting, and with mildeawe, and with hayle, and in all the worke of your hands, and you turned not vnto me, ſayth the Lorde.
19 Conſyder now in your mindes, from thys day, and afore, from the foure and twentith day of the ninth (moneth,) vnto the day that the foundation of the Lordes temple was layde, conſyder it in your mindes.
20 Is the ſeede yet in the barne? as yet the vines, and the fygge tree, and the pomegranate, and the olyue tree, hathe not brought fowth: from this day will I bleſſe (you.)
21 And (n) agayne, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Haggei, in the four and twentith (day) of the moneth, ſaying, 22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Iude, and ſaye, I will ſhake the heauens, and the earthe:
23 And I will ouerthrowe the "throne of kingdomes, and I wyll deſtroy the ſtrength of the kingdomes of the Heathen, and I will ouerthrowe the charrettes, and the ſitters thereon, and the hoyſe and the riders ſhall fall downe euery one by the ſworde of his brother.
24 In that daye, ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, will I take thee Zorobabel my ſeruaunte, ſonne of Salathiel, ſayeth the Lord, and wil make thee as a ſignet: for I haue choſen thee, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

The ende of the prophet Haggeus.

e. I will cauſe great feare to be: or the heauens ſhall be ſtirred at the byrth of Chriſte, his baptiſme, aſcention, at his comming to iudgement: but chiefly it ſetteth out the maieſtie of Chriſt, to whom heauen, earth, and ſea, ſhal obey. i. It is not the want of riches that cauſeth this houſe to be built in this ſort, ſeing that I haue all treaſures at my commaundement.

k. This is ſpoke not of this houſe, but of the ſpiritual Hieruſalē. Heb. 12. ver. 22. l. In the ſixth moneth, and in the ſeuenth, had Aggeus propheciedin the eyght moneth Zacharie: and now in the ninth is Aggeus ſent agayn: ſuch care hath God ouer his, and ſuche nede haue the people of inſtructiō. m. ¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. He moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eſchewe the wickedneſſe of theyr fathers. 16. He prefigureth Chriſt and his Apoſtles.

1 IN the eyghte moneth of the ſecond yeere of king Darius, came the worde of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the ſon of Barachias the ſonne of Addo ỹ prophet, ſaying, Math. 23. d.

2 The Lorde hathe bene ſore diſpleaſed with your forefathers.
3 And ſay thou vnto them, thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Turne you vnto me, ſayth the lord of hoſtes, and I will turne vnto you, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes.

5 What is now become of your forefathers? and do the prophets lyue for euer?
6 But did not my wordes and ſtatutes, whyche I commaunded by my ſeruaunte the the Prophetes; take holde of your forefathers? and they returned, and sayde, Like as the Lord of hostes determined to do vnto vs according to our owne wayes and imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Upon the four and twentith day of the eleuenth moneth, (which is the moneth Sebah) in the second yeere of Darius, came ẏ worde of the Lord vnto Zacharias ẏ son of Barachias, the sonne of Iddo, the prophet, saying.

8 I sawe by night, and behold, there sate one vpon a red horse, & stood still among ẏ myrre trees ẏ were in a bottome: and behinde hym were there red, speckled, and white horses.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me, sayd vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stoode among the myrre trees answeared, and sayde, These are they whome the Lorde hathe sent to goe thorowe the worlde.

11 And they answeared the angel of ẏ Lorde that stoode among the myrre trees, and sayd, We haue gone thorow ẏ worlde, & behold, all the world sitteth still, and is careles.

12 Then the Lordes angel gaue answer, and sayd, O Lord of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnmercifull to Hierusalem, and to ẏ cities of Iuda, with whom thou hast bin displeased now these threescore and ten yeeres?

13 So the Lorde gaue a louing and a comfortable answeare vnto the angell that talked with me.

14 And the angell that communed with me, sayd vnto me, Crie thou, and speake, Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, I am exceeding ielous ouer Hierusalem and Sion, 15 And sore displeased at the careles Heathe: for where as I was but a little angrie, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therfore, thus sayth the Lord: I wil returne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercy, so that my house shall be buylded in it, sayth the Lord of hostes, Yea, and the (a) lyne shall be stretched vpon Hierusalem.

17 Crye also, and speake, thus sayth the Lord of hostes, My cities shall be in good prosperitie agayne, the Lord shall yet comforte Sion, and chose Hierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and sawe, and beholde, foure hornes.

19 And I sayde vnto the angell that talked with mee, What be these? He answeared me, These are the hornes whiche haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Hierusalem.

20 And ẏ Lord shewed me foure carpenters.

21 Then sayde I, what will these doe? Hee answeared, and sayde, These are the hornes whyche haue scattered Iuda, so that no man durst lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them away, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, whiche lift vp their horne ouer the land of Iuda to scatter it abroade.

The renewing of Hierusalem and Iuda.

1 I Lift vp mine eyes againe, and looked: and beholde a man, with a measure line in his hande. A Ezech.14.8 Apoc.21.c.

2 Then sayde I, Whyther goest thou? And he sayd vnto me, To measure Hierusalē, that I may see howe long, and how broade it is.

3 And beholde, the angell that talked wyth me, went his way forth: Then went there out another angel to meete him,

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to thys yong man, and say, Hierusalem shall be inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell ẏ shal be therein.

5 For I my selfe, sayeth the Lorde, will bee vnto hir a wall of fyre round about, and wil be the glory in the middest of hir. Deut.3.d.

11 At the same time, there shall many Heathe cleaue to the Lorde, and shall be my people: Thus will I dwell in the middest of thee, and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto thee.

3 Now Iosua was clothed in vnclean rayment, and stode before the angell.

4 And hee aunswered, and sayde vnto those that stode before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him hee sayde, Beholde, I haue taken away thy sinne from thee, and I will cloth thee with change of raymente.

5 And I sayde, Let them set a fayre myter vpon his head: So they set a fayre myter vpon his head, and put on clothes vppon hym, and the angell of the Lord stode there.

5 The angell that talked wyth me, answeared, and sayde vnto mee, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No my Lorde.

6 He answeared, and sayde vnto me, Thys is the word of the Lord vnto Zorobabel, saying, Neyther through an host of men, nor 7 What art thou greate mountayne before B Zorobabel? thou must be made euen, and he shal bring forth the head stone thereof, with showtings, crying, Grace, grace, vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

9 The handes of Zorobabel haue layde the fundation of this house, his hands shall also finish it: and thou shalt know that the Lorde of hostes hath sent me vnto you.

10 For who hathe despised the day of small thinges? they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone (a) of tynne in the hand of Zorobabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lorde, whiche goe through the whole worlde.

11 Then aunswered I, and sayde vnto hym, What are these two Olyue trees vppon the right and left syde of the candlestick?

12 I spake moreouer, and sayde vnto hym, What be these two Olyue branches, which through the two golden pipes emptie them selues into the golde?

13 He aunswered mee, and sayde, Knowest thou not what these be? And I sayde, No my Lorde.

14 Then sayde hee, These are the two Olyue C branches, that stande with the ruler of the whole earth.

The.v. Chapter.

1. The vision of the fleeing booke, signifying the curse of theeues, and suche as abuse the name of God. 6. By the visiõ of the measure, is signifyed the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

1 SO I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, I and loked, and behold, a fleeing booke.

2 And he sayde vnto me, What seest thou? I aunswered, I see a fleeing booke, of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broade.

3 Then sayde he vnto me, Thys is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for al theeues shall be iudged after this booke, and all periured persons shall be iudged accordyng to the same.

4 And I will bring it forth, sayth the Lorde of hostes, so that it shall enter into the house of the theefe, and into the house of hym that falsely sweareth by my name: and shall remayne in his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.

5 Then the angell that talked wyth mee, wente forthe, and sayde vnto me, Lyft vp thyne eyes, and see what this is that goeth forthe.

6 And I sayd, What is it? hee aunswered, This is a

7 And beholde, there was lift vp a talente of leade: and loe, a woman sate in the middest of the measure.

8 And he sayd, This is vngodlynesse: So hee cast hir into the middest of the measure, and threw the lumpe of leade into the mouthe of the measure.

9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and loked, and beholde, there came out two women, and the winde was in their wings: for they hadde wings like the wings of a Storke, and they lift vp the measure betwixt the earth and the heaven.

10 Then spake I to ỹ angel that talked wyth me, Whyther will these beare the measure?

11 And he sayd vnto me, Into ỹ land of Sinnaar, to buyld it an house, and it shal be established, and set there vpon hir owne place.

The.vi. Chapter.

By the foure charrettes, hee describeth the prosperitie of foure kyngdomes.

1 MOreouer, I turned me, lifting vp mine eyes, and loked, and behold, there came four charrets out from betwixt two hylles, which hilles were of hasse.

2 In the fyrste charret were red horses, in the second charret were blacke horses,

3 In the thirde charret were white horses, in the fourth charret were horses of diuers colours, and strong.

4 Then spake I, & sayde vnto the angell that talked with me, O Lord, what are these?

5 The angell answeared, and sayde vnto me, These are the foure spirites of the heauen, which be come forth to stand before the ruler of all the earth.

6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the lande of the North, and the white folowed them, and the speckled horses wente forth toward the south:

7 And the strong horses went out, and required to goe, and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: And he sayde, Get you hence, and goe through the world: So they wente throughout the worlde.

8 Then cryed hee vppon mee, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe towarde the North, shall still ny wyath in the North countrey.

9 And the worde of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

10 Take of the prisoners that are come from Babylon, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia: and come thou the same day, and goe vnto ỹ house of Iosiah the son of Zophonia.

11 Then take golde and syluer, and make crownes therof, and set them vppon the head of Iosua the son of Iosedech the hyghe priest, 12 And speake vnto him, thus sayeth the Lord of hostes, Beholde, the man whose name is the branche, and he shall growe vp out of hys place, and he shall builde vp the temple of the Lorde. Zach.3.b.

13 Yea euen hee shall builde vp the temple of the Lorde, and he shall beare the prayse: hee shall syt vppon the Lordes throne, and haue the dominion: A priest shall he be also vppon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shall be betwixt them both. Psal.110.b. Heb.5.6.7.

14 And the crowne shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the sonne of Zophoni, for a memorial in the temple of the Lord. C

15 And suche as bee farre off, shall come, and builde in the temple of the Lorde, that yee may know how that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you: And this shall come to passe, if yee will hearken diligently vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

The.vij. Chapter.

5. The true fasting. 11. The rebellion of the people, is the cause of their affliction.

1 AND in the fourth yeere of king Darius the word of the Lord came vnto Zacharia in the fourth (day) of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu, I

2 What time as Sarasar and Rogommelech, and the men that were with them, sente vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lorde:

4 Then came the word of the Lord of hostes vnto me, saying,

The. viij. Chapter.

2. Of the returne of the people vnto Hieruſalē, and of the mercy of God toward thē. 16. Of good workes. 20. The calling of the Gentils.

A 1 AGain the word of the Lorde of hoſtes came vnto me, ſaying, 2 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, I was in great ielouſie for Sion, yea I haue bin very ielous for hir with great wrath.

3 Thus ſayth the Lorde, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwel in the middeſt of Hieruſalem: ſo that Hieruſalem ſhall be called, Eſai. 1. b. A faythfull and true citie, the hill of the Lorde of hoſtes, an holy hill.

4 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, There ſhall yet olde men and olde women dwell againe in the ſtreetes of Hieruſalem: yea, and ſuche as goe wyth ſtaues in theyr handes for verie age.

5 The ſtreetes of the citie alſo ſhall be full of young boyes, and damſels playing in the ſtreetes therof.

6 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, If the reſidue of this people thynke it to be vnpoſſible in (their) eyes in theſe dayes: Math. 19. b. ſhoulde it therfore be vnpoſſible in my ſighte, ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes?

B 7 Thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Behold, I will delyuer my people from the countreyes of the Eaſt and Weſt, 8 And wil bring them agayne, that they may dwell in the middes of Hieruſalem: they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God Iere. 3. e. Apoc. 21. c. in truth and righteouſneſſe.

9 Thus ſayeth the Lorde of hoſtes, Let your handes bee ſtrong ye that nowe heare theſe wordes by the mouth of the Prophets, which are in theſe dayes, that the foundation of the houſe of the Lorde of hoſtes is layde, that the temple may be buylded.

10 For before theſe days, neyther men, or cattell could win any (a) thing, neyther might any mā come in & out in reſt for trouble: but I let euery man goe againſt his neighbour.

11 Neuertheleſſe, I will now intreat the reſidue of this people no more as afore tyme, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes.

12 For the ſeede ſhall proſper, the Vine ſhall giue hir fruite, the grounde ſhal giue hir increaſe, and the heauēs ſhal giue their dewe, and I ſhall cauſe the remnant of this people to haue all theſe in poſſeſſion.

13 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that lyke as ye wer a curſe among the Heathen, O ye houſe of Iuda, and ye houſe of Iſrael, euen ſo wil I deliuer you, that yee ſhall bee a bleſſing: feare not, but let your hands be ſtrong:

14 For thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, Lyke ℄ as I thought to puniſhe you, what tyme as your fathers prouoked me vnto wrath, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes, and ſpared not:

15 Euen ſo am I determined nowe in theſe dayes for to do well vnto the houſe of Iuda and Hieruſalem: (therefore) feare ye not.

16 Now the things that ye ſhall do, are theſe: Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement truely and peaceably within your portes:

17 And let none of you imagine euill in hys hart againſt his neighbour, and loue no falſe othes: for all theſe are the things that I hate, ſayth the Lorde.

18 And the word of the Lorde of hoſtes came vnto me, ſaying, 19 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, The faſt of the fourth (moneth) the faſt of the fyfth, the faſt of the ſeuenth, and the faſt of the tenth, ſhall be ioy and gladneſſe, and proſperous high feaſtes vnto the houſe of Iuda: onely loue the truth and peace.

20 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, There ſhal yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie ſhall goe D to another, ſaying, Vp, let vs goe and pray before the Lord, let vs ſeeke ẏ Lord of hoſts: I wil goe with you.

22 Yea muche people, and mightie nations ſhall come to ſeeke the Lord of hoſtes at Hieruſalem, and to pray before the Lorde.

23 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, In that time ſhal ten men (out of al maner of language of the Gentiles) take one Iewe by the hemme of his garment, and ſay, We will goe wyth you: for we haue heard ẏ God is amōg you.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. The conuersion of the Gentiles. 9. The comming of Christ sitting on an Asse.

1 The burden of the woꝛd of the Loꝛde in the lande of Hadꝛach and Damascus shall be his rest, when the eyes of man, euen of all the tribes of Israell shall be towardes the Loꝛde.

2 The boꝛdeꝛs of Hemath shall be hard theꝛeby, Tyrus also and Sydon, foꝛ they are veꝛie wyse.

3 Tyrus shall make hir selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sande, and golde as the clay of the streetes.

4 Beholde, the Loꝛde shall spoyle hir, he shal smyte doꝛone hir poꝛwer in the sea, and shee shall be consumed with fyre.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and bee afrayde: Gaza shall be veꝛie soꝛie, so shal Accaron also, bycause hir hope is come to confusion: foꝛ the king of Gaza shall perishe, and at Ascalon shal no man dwell.

6 Straungers shall dwell at Asdod, & as foꝛ the pride of the Philistins, I shal roꝛt it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from theyꝛ mouth, and their abhominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shall be left, shal be foꝛ our God, he shalbe as a prince in Juda, and Accaron lyke as a Jebusite.

8 And I will pitche a campe (a) about myne house against the armie, agaynste hym that passeth by, & against him that returneth, and no oppꝛessoꝛ shal come vpon them any moꝛe: foꝛ nowe I haue seene with myne eyes.

9 Reioyce thou greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: Foꝛ lo, the king cõmeth vnto thee, euen ẏ righteous and sauiour, lowly and simple is he, he ryꝺeth vpon an Asse & vpon the foale of an asse.

10 I will roote out the charrets from Ephraim, and the hoꝛse from Hierusalem, the battaile bowes shalbe destroied, he shal giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: & his dominion shall bee from the one sea to the other, & from the riuer to the end of ẏ woꝛld.

11 Thou also (shalt be saued) thꝛough the blood of thy couenant: I haue losed thy pꝛisoneꝛs out of the pit wheꝛin is no water.

12 Turne you nowe to the strong holde, yee that be in pꝛyson, and long soꝛe to be deliuered: euen this day I bring thee woꝛd that I will reꝛwarde thee double agayne.

13 Foꝛ Juda haue I bent as a bow foꝛ me, Ephraim (his hand) haue I filled, and thy sons O Sion, will I rayse vp against the Greekes, and make thee as a Giants swoꝛde.

14 The Loꝛde God shalbe seen aboue them, & his dartes shall goe foꝛth as the lightning: the Loꝛd God shall blowe the trumpet, and shal come foꝛth as a stoꝛme out of ẏ south.

15 The Loꝛd of hosts shall defend them, they shal consume & deuoure and subdue thẽ with sling stones, they shall ꝺrinke and rage as it were thꝛough wine, they shall be filled lyke the basons, and as the hoꝛnes of the aulter. Zach.2.a. 1.Re.17.f.

16 The Loꝛde their God shal deliuer them in that daye as the flocke of his people: foꝛ as pꝛetious stones of a Diademe, they shall be set vp ouer his lande.

17 O howe pꝛosperous and goodly a thyng shall that bee? foꝛ the coꝛne shall make the yong men chearefull, and the newe wyne the maydens.

The.x.Chapter.

1. The people is moued to require the doctrine of truth of the Lord. 3. The Lord promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

1 PRay the Loꝛd then betimes to giue the latter rayn, so shal the loꝛd make bright cloudes, and giue you raine inough, and to euery one grasse in the field. A Deut.28.b.

2 Foꝛ vaine is the aunswere of idolles, the sothsayers see lyes, and the ꝺreamers tell but vayne thyngs, the comfoꝛt that they giue, is nothing woꝛth: theꝛfoꝛe they went awaye lyke a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, bicause they had no shepheard. Ezec.13.a.

3 My wꝛathefull displeasure was moued against the shepeheꝛds, and I will visite the goates: foꝛ the Loꝛde of hostes wyll visite his flocke the house of Juda, and will make them as a goodly faire hoꝛse in the battayle.

4 Out of Juda shall come the coꝛner, the nayle, the battaile bowe, and the appointer of tribute also. Gen.49.b. Esai.22.d.

5 They shall be as Giantes, whiche in the battayle treade doꝛone their enimies in the myre of the streetes: they shal fyght, foꝛ the Loꝛde shall be with them, and the hoꝛsemen shall be confounded.

6 I will comfoꝛte the house of Juda, and pꝛeserue the house of Joseph, I will bꝛyng them agayne, foꝛ I pitie them, and they shall be lyke as they were when I had not cast them off: foꝛ I the Loꝛd am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shall bee as a Giant, and theyꝛ heart shall be chearefull as thꝛough wyne: yea, their childꝛen shall see it, and be gladde, and their heart shall reioyce in the Loꝛd. B

8 I will hisse foꝛ them, and gather them togither, foꝛ I will redeeme them: they shall encrease, as they encreased afoꝛe.

9 I will sowe them among the people, that they maye thynke vppon mee in farre countreyes, they shall lyue with theyꝛ chyldꝛen, and turne agayne.

10 I will bring them agayne alſo from the lande of Egypte, and gather them oute of Aſſyria: I will carrie them into the land of Gilead, and to Libanus, and place (a) ſhall not be founde for them.

a. The multitude ſhall be ſo great.

11 He ſhall goe vppon the ſea of trouble, and ſmyte the ſea waues, ſo that all the deepe floods ſhall bee dryed vp: the proude boaſting of Aſſur ſhall be caſt downe, and the ſcepter of Egypt ſhall be taken away.

Eſai. 19. a. Ezech. 29. a.

12 I will comfort them in the Lord, that they may walke in his name, ſayth the Lorde.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. The deſtruction of the temple. 4. The care of the faythfull is committed to Chriſt by the father. 6. A grieuous viſion againſt Hieruſalem and Iuda.

I 1 OPen thy doores, O Libanus, that the fire may conſume thy Cedar trees, 2 Howle ye fyrre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea all the proude are waſted awaye: Howle, O ye oke trees of Baſan, for the myghtie ſtrong wood is cut downe.

3 Men maye heare the ſhepeheardes mourne, for their glorie is deſtroyed: men may heare the Lions whelpes roare, for the pryde of Iordane is waſted away.

4 Thus ſayth the Lorde my God, Feede the ſheepe of the ſlaughter.

5 Which haue bin ſlayne of thoſe that poſſeſſed them, yet they (tooke) it for no ſinne, but they that ſolde them, ſayde, The Lorde bee thanked, for I am riche: yea, theyr owne ſhepheardes ſpare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more ſpare thoſe that dwell in the lande ſayth the Lord: But loe, I will delyuer the people, euery man into his neighbors hand, and into the hande of his king, that they may ſmite the lande, and out of their handes I will not deliuer them.

B 7 I my ſelfe fedde the ſlaughter ſheepe, a poore flocke verily, and toke vnto mee two ſtaues: the one called Beautie, the other called Bandes: and ſo fedde the ſheepe.

8 Three ſhepeheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I myght not awaye with them, neither had they any delight in mee.

Exo. 22. a. 9 Then ſayde I, I will feede you no more: the thing that dyeth, let it die, & that that wil periſhe, let it periſhe: and let the remnaunt eate euery one the fleſhe of his neighbour.

10 I toke alſo my ſtaffe (euen) Beautie, and brake it, that I might diſanull the couenant which I made with all people.

11 And ſo it was broken in that daye: then Oſea. 2. c. the poore ſimple ſheepe that had a reſpecte vnto mee, knewe thereby that it was the worde of the Lorde.

12 And I ſayde vnto them, If yee thynke it good, bryng hyther my wages: if no, then leaue, So they weyghed downe thirtie ſiluer pence, the value that I was priſed at.

13 And the Lorde ſayde vnto me, Caſt it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I toke the thirtie ſiluer pence, and caſt them to the potter in the houſe of the Lorde.

14 Then brake I my other ſtaffe alſo (namely) Bandes, that I myght loſe the brotherhoode betwirt Iuda and Iſraell.

15 And the Lorde ſayde vnto mee, Take thee alſo the ſtaffe of a foliſhe ſhepeheard:

16 For lo, I wyl rayſe vp a ſhepeheard in the land, which ſhall not ſeeke after the thynges that be loſt, nor ſeeke after the lambes, he ſhall not heale the wounded, he ſhall not nouriſhe the thyngs that are whole: but he ſhall eate the fleſhe of ſuche as be fatte, and teare their clawes in peeces.

17 O idoll ſhepherd that leaueth the flocke, the ſworde ſhall come vpon his arme, & vpon his right eye: his arme ſhall be cleane dried vp, and his right eye ſhall be ſore blinded.

The. xij. Chapter.

Of the deſtruction and buylding agayne of Hieruſalem.

1 THe heauie burthen which the Lord hath deuiſed for Iſrael. Thus ſaith the Lorde whiche ſpreade the heauens abroade, layd the foundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of lyfe.

2 Behold, I will make Hieruſalem a cup of ſurfet vnto all the people that are rounde about hir: yea, Iuda himſelfe alſo ſhall be in the ſiege againſt Hieruſalem.

3 At the ſame tyme will I make Hieruſalem an heauie ſtone for all people, ſo that all ſuch as lift it vp, ſhall be torne and rent, and all the people of the earth ſhall bee gathered together againſt it.

4 In that day ſayth the Lorde, I wil make all horſes aſtonyed, and thoſe that ryde vpon them to be out of their wittes: I will open myne eyes vpon the houſe of Iuda, & ſmite all the horſes of the people with blindneſſe.

5 And the princes of Iuda ſhall ſaye in their heartes, The inhabiters of Hieruſalem haue gotten mee conſolation in the Lord of hoſtes their God.

6 In that tyme will I make the princes of Iuda like an hot burning ouen with wood, and lyke a fyrebrande among the ſtrawe, ſo that they ſhall conſume all the people rounde about them, both vpon the ryght hande and the left: Hieruſalem alſo ſhall bee inhabited agayne, agayne, (namely) in the same place where Hierusalem standeth.

7 The Lorde shall preserue the tentes of Iuda as aforetime, so that the glorie of the house of Dauid, & the glorie of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall not be exalted against Iuda.

8 In that day shal the Lorde defende the citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shall be as Dauid, & the house of Dauid shall be as Gods house, and as the angell of the Lorde before them.

9 At the same tyme will I go about to destroy al such people as come against Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the citizens of Hierusalē, will I poure out the spirite of grace & compassion, so that they shall looke vpon me, whom they haue pearsed, and they shall lamente for him as men mourne for their only begotten sonne: yea, and be sorie for him, as men are sory for their first childe.

11 Then shall there bee a greate mournyng at Hierusalem, like as the lamentation at Adadremmon, in the field of Mageddon.

12 And the lande shall bewayle, euery kinred by themselues alone: the kinred of the house of Dauid by themselues, and theyr wiues by themselues: the kinred of the house of Nathan themselues, & their wiues by themselues:

13 The kinred of the house of Leui themselues alone, & their wiues by themselues: the kynrede of the house of Semei themselues alone, and theyr wyues by themselues.

14 In like maner, all the other generations euery one by themselues alone, & theyr wiues by themselues.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. Of the wel of grace & truth. 2. Of the cleane riddance of idolatrie, and of false prophets.

1 IN that time shal the house of Dauid, & the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open wel to washe off sinne and vncleannesse.

2 And then, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will destroy the names of the idols out of the lād: so that they shall no more be put in remembrance. As for the false prophetes also, and the vncleane spirites, I will take them out of the lande.

3 So that if any of them prophesie any more, hys owne father and mother that begate hym, shall say vnto hym, Thou shalt dye, for thou speakest lyes vnder the name of the Lorde: yea, hys owne father and mother that begate hym, shall wounde him, when he prophesieth.

4 And then shall those prophets be confounded euery one of hys vision when he prophesieth: neyther shall they weare heare cloth any more, to deceyue men withal.

5 But he shal be fayne to say, I am no prophete, I am an husbandman: for so am I taught by man from my youth vp. Amos.7.c. Gene.3.d.

6 And if it be sayde vnto hym. Howe came these woundes then in thyne handes? He shall answeare, Thus was I wounded in the house of myne owne friendes.

7 Aryse, O thou swoorde, vpō my shepeheard, and vpon the man that is my felowe, sayth the Lorde of hostes: Smite the shepeheard, and the sheepe shal be scattered abrode: and so will I turne mine hande to the litle ones. B Mat.26.c.

8 And it shal come to passe, sayth the Lorde, that in al the lande two partes shal be rooted out, but the thirde part shal remayne therein. Amos.9.b Iob.13.a

9 And the same thyrde parte wyll I bryng through the fyre, & wyll cleanse them as the siluer is cleansed, yea, and trie them lyke as golde is tryed: then shall they call vpon my name, & I wil heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shal say, Lord my God. 1. The wasting of the Church, vnder the figure of Hierusalē. 9. Of the kingdome of the lord.

1 BEhold, the day of the Lord cōmeth, and thy spoyle shall be diuided in the middest of thee. I

2 For I will gather together all the heathen to fight agaynst Hierusalem, so that the citie shal be wonne, the houses spoyled, & the women defiled: the halfe of the citie shall goe into captiuitie, and the residue of the people shall not be caryed out of the citie.

3 After that, shal the Lord goe forth to fight agaynst those heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battayle.

4 Then shal his feete stand vpon the mount Oliuete, that lieth vpon the east side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuete shal cleaue in two, eastwarde & westwarde, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mount shall remoue towarde the north, and the other towarde the south.

5 And ye shall flee vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hylles shall reache vnto Asal: yea, flee shall ye, lyke as ye fledde for the earthquake in the dayes of Oziah king of Iuda: and the Lord my God shal come, and all the saintes with him. Amos.1.a

6 In that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 This shalbe ỳ spetial day which is knowē vnto the Lorde, neyther day nor night: but about the euenyng time it shal be light. B Mat.24.c

Zach.13.a. Apoc.22.a.

8 In that tyme ſhal there waters of life run out from Hieruſalem: the halfe part of them towarde the eaſt ſea, and the other halfe towarde the vttermoſt ſea, and ſhal continue both ſommer and winter.

Abdi.1.d.

9 And the Lorde himſelfe ſhal be kyng ouer all the earth: at that tyme ſhall there be one Lorde onely, and hys name ſhal be but one.

10 All the lande ſhall be turned as a playne from Gibea to Remmon, towards the ſouth of Hieruſalem: ſhe ſhal be ſet vp, and inhabited in hyr place, from Beniamins porte, vnto the place of the firſt porte, and vnto the corner porte, and from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the kings wineprelles.

11 There ſhall men dwel, and there ſhal be no more deſtruction, but Hieruſalē ſhal be ſafely inhabited.

12 This ſhal be the plague wherwith the lord wil ſmite al people that haue fought againſt Hieruſalem: Their fleſhe ſhall conſume away, though they ſtande vpon theyr feete, theyr eyes ſhal be corrupt in theyr holes, and theyr tongue ſhall conſume in their mouth.

13 In that day ſhall the Lorde make a great ſedition among them: ſo that one man ſhall take another by the hande, and lay his hands vpon the hands of his neyghbour.

¶ 14 Juda ſhal fight againſt Hieruſalem, and the armies of all the heathen ſhal be gathered together round about, with golde and ſiluer, and a very great multitude of apparel.

15 And this plague ſhal go ouer horſes, Mules, Cammels, Aſſes, & all the beaſts that ſhal be in the hoſt, lyke as yonder plague was.

16 Euery one that remayneth them of all the people whiche came againſt Hieruſalem, ſhal goe vp early to worſhip the king, (euen) the Lorde of hoſtes, and to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

17 And loke what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hieruſalem for to worſhyp the kyng the Lorde of hoſtes, vppon the ſame, ſhal come no rayne.

18 If the kynrede of Egypt goe not vp, and come not, it ſhall not (rayne) vpon thē: This ſhal be the plague wherwith the Lorde will ſmyte all the heathen, that come not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles, 19 Yea, this ſhal be the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not vp to keepe the feaſt of tabernacles.

20 At that tyme ſhall the rydyng geare of the horſes be holy vnto the Lorde: the kettels in the Lordes houſe, ſhal be lyke the balons before the aulter.

21 Yea, all the kettels in Hieruſalem and Juda ſhal be holy vnto the Lorde of hoſtes: and all they that ſlay offerings, ſhall come and take of them, and ſeethe therein: and at that tyme there ſhal be no mo Chanaanites in the houſe of the Lorde of hoſtes.

The ende of the propheſie of Zacharias.

The booke of the prophet Malachias.

A complaynt agaynſt Iſrael, and chiefly the prieſts.

a. That is, the greeuous and threatning propheſie.

I 1 The (a) burden of the worde of the Lorde to Iſrael by the miniſtery of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, ſaythe the Lord, yet ye ſay, Wherein haſte thou loued vs?

b. In our election is Gods great loue to vswarde declared.

(b) Was not Eſau Jacobs brother, ſayth the Lorde, yet loued I Jacob?

3 And I hated Eſau, and made his mountaynes waſte, and his heritage a wylderneſſe for dragons.

4 Though Edom ſay, Wee are impouerished, but we wil returne, & buyld the deſolate places: yet, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, they ſhal builde, but I wil deſtroy, and they ſhall call them, The border of wickedneſſe, & the people with whom the Lorde is angry for euer.

5 And your eyes ſhal ſee: and you ſhall ſay, The Lord will be magnified vpon the borders of Iſrael.

6 A ſonne honoreth his father, and a ſeruant hys maiſter: If then I be a father, where is mine honour? If I be a mayſter, where is my feare, ſayth the Lord of hoſtes to you, O ye prieſtes that deſpiſe my name? and ye ſay, Wherein haue we deſpiſed thy name?

c. Vncleane bread, that is, ſacrificed vpon the vncleane aulter.

7 Ye offer vpon mine aulter (c) vncleane bread, and ſay, Wherein haue we polluted thee? In that ye ſay, The table of the Lorde is not to be regarded.

8 When yee bryng the blynde for ſacrifice, (you ſay) It is not euil: and when ye bryng the lame and ſicke, (you ſay) It is not euil: offer it now (d) to thy prynce, wyll he be content with thee, or accept thy perſon, ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes?

9 And

9 And now I praye you, praye before God, that he may haue mercy vpō vs: (This (euil) hath bin done by out meanes) will he regard your persons, sayth the Lord of hostes?

10 Who is there euen among you that wold shut the doores, and kindle not fyre an myne aultar in vayne? (e) I haue no pleasure in you sayth the Lord of hostes, neyther wil I accept an offering at your hande.

11 From the rising of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same, my name is greate among the Gentiles, and in euery place (f) incense shall be offered to my name, & a pure offering: for my name is greate among the vnciē heathen, sayth the Lord of hostes?

12 But ye haue (g) polluted it, in that ye say, The table of the Lorde is polluted, and the fruite thereof, (euen) his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And ye sayde, Behold, (it is) a wearynesse, and you haue snuffed at it, sayth the Lord of hostes, and ye haue offered the stollen, and the lame, and the sicke ye haue offered an offering: shoulde I accept this of your handes, sayth the Lorde?

14 Cursed be the deceytfull, whiche hath in his flocke a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lorde: bycause I am a greate kyng, sayeth the Lorde of hostes, and my name is fearefull among the heathen.

The. ij. Chapter.

Threatnings against the Priests, being seducers of the people.

1 AND now, O ye Priests, this commaundement is for you.

2 If ye will not heare it, nor regarde it, to giue the glorie to my name, sayth the Lorde of hostes, I will send a curse vpon you, and will curse your blessings, yea I haue cursed them already, bycause ye doe not consider it in your heart.

3 Behold, I will (a) corrupt your seed, & cast (b) doung on your faces, (euen) the doung of your solemn feasts, & you shalbe like vnto it.

4 And you shall know that I haue sente this commaundement vnto you, that my couenant, which I haue made with Leui, might stande, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

5 My couenant was with him of life & peace, and I gaue them him (for) the feare wherwith he feared me, and was afrayde before my name.

6 The lawe of truth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie founde in his lips, he (c) walked with me (d) in peace, & (e) in equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 (f) For the Priestes lippes shall kepe knowledge, and they shall seeke the lawe at his mouth: bicause hee is the messenger of the Lorde of hostes.

8 But ye haue gon out of ỹ way, ye haue caused many to fal by ỹ lawe: ye haue corrupted ỹ couenāt of Leui, sayth the Lord of hostes.

9 Therfore haue I also made you despised, and vile before al the people, bicause you kept not my ways, but haue bin partiall in the lawe.

10 Haue we not all one father? hath not God made vs all? why then is euery one deceyued of his brother, to violate the couenaunt of our fathers?

11 Juda hath offended, and abhomination is committed in Israel and in Hierusalem: for Juda hath defiled the holynesse of the Lord which he loued, and hath maried the daughter of a strange God.

12 The Lord will destroy the man that doth this, both the rayser vp, and the answearer, out of the Tabernacle of Jacob, and him that offreth an offring to the Lord of hostes.

13 (g) And this againe haue ye done, in couerynge the aultar of the Lorde with teares, with weping and mourning, and therefore there is no more respect to ỹ offering, neither acceptable receiuing of it at your handes.

14 Yet ye say, Wherin? Bicause the Lorde hath bin witnesse betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast transgressed: yet is she thyne owne companion, and the wyfe of thy couenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had hee abundance of spirite: and wherfore one? Bicause he sought a godly seede: therfore keepe your selues in your spirit, and let none transgresse against the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hatest hir, put hir away, sayth the Lord God of Israell: yet he conuerteth the iniurie vnder his garment, sayth the Lord of hostes, and be ye kepte in youre spirite, and transgresse not.

17 Yee haue wearyed the Lorde with youre wordes, and you haue sayde, Wherin haue we wearied him? whylest you say, Euery one that doeth euyll, is good in the syght of the Lorde, and hee is pleased in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The. iij. Chapter.

Of the Messenger of the Lord Iohn Baptist, and of Christes office.

1 BEholde, I wil send my messenger, and he shal prepare the way before me, and the Lorde (a) whome ye seeke shall speedily come to his temple, and the messenger of the couenant whome ye desyre, beholde he commeth sayth the Lorde of hostes.

2 But

a. Though not as you should: for you seeke an earthlye Messias, and a worldly kingdoms

2 But who may abyde the day of his commyng? and who shall stande when he appeareth? For he is lyke a purging fyre, and lyke Fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit downe to trye and fine the siluer, and he shal purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde and siluer: and they shall bryng vnto the Lorde offerings in righteousnesse.

b. Whē Christ shall haue clensed his, and reconciled them to his father againe: then shal their seruice be accepted.

4 Then shall the (b) offerings of Iuda and Hierusalem be acceptable vnto the Lord, as in olde tyme, and as in the yeares afore.

5 And I will come neare vnto you in iudgement, and I will be a (c) swifte witnesse agaynst the (d) swthsayers, and against the adulterers, and agaynst false sweareres, and agaynst those that wrongfully keepe backe the hyrelyngs wages, and vexe the wyddowe, and the fatherlesse, and oppresse the straunger, and feare not mee, sayeth the Lorde of hostes.

c. Offenders thinke them selues safe, if they maye denie their fault: but when the iudge himself is a witnesse agaynst them, they shall not escape.

d. Soothsaying not inferior to adulterie, swearing, and such like vices with whom it is here numbred.

6 For I am the Lorde, I chaunge not: and you sonnes of Jacob are not consumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers, ye are gone away from myne ordinances, and haue not kept (them:) turne you to mee, and I will turne to you, sayth the Lorde of hostes. And ye sayde, Wherin shal we returne?

8 Will a man (e) spoyle his gods? yet ye haue spoyled me: and ye say, Wherein haue we spoyled thee? In tithes and offerings?

e. Such regard hath God to his ministers and poore members, that he thynketh himselfe robbed, whē they are defrauded.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse, and me haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring euery tythe into the storehouse, that there maye bee meate in my house, and proue mee withall, sayth the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the wyndowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you oute a blessing without measure.

11 And I will reproue the deuourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroye the fruite of the grounde, neyther shall your vine be barrein in the field, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: because you shall be a pleasant lande, sayth the Lorde of hostes.

13 Your wordes haue bene stout against me, sayth the Lorde: and you sayde: Wherein haue we spoken agaynst thee?

14 Ye haue sayde (It is but) vayne to serue God, and what profite (is it) that we haue kepte his commaundement, and that wee haue walked humbly before the face of the Lorde of hostes?

15 And now we cal the proud happie: yea, the workers of wickednesse are sette vp, and also they that tempte God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, spake euery one to his neighbour, and the Lorde considered and hearde, and there was written a booke of remembrance before hym, for them that feared the Lorde, and for them that thynke vpon his name.

17 And they shall be to mee, sayth the Lorde of hostes, in that day wherein I shall doe (iudgement) a storke: and I will spare them, as a man spareth hys owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shall yee returne, and discerne betweene the iuste and the wicked, betweene him that serueth God, and him that serueth hym not.

The. iiij. Chapter.

The day of the Lorde, before the which Elias shoulde come.

1 BEhold, the day commeth, burning like an Ouen: and all the proude, and all that worke wickednesse, shall be stubble, and the day that is for to come, shall burne them, saith the Lord of hostes, and shal leaue them neyther roote, nor branche.

2 But to you that feare my name, shall the sunne of righteousnesse aryse, and healthe shall be vnder his wings: and ye shall go forth, and skippe lyke fat calues.

3 And ye shall treade downe the vngodly, for they shall be dust vnder the soales of your feete, in the day that I shall doe this, sayth the Lord of hostes.

4 Remember the lawe of Moyses my seruant, which I commaunded hym in Horeb, for all Israell, with the ordinances and iudgementes.

5 Beholde, I will sende you Elias the prophete, before the comming of the great and fearefull day of the Lorde.

6 He shall turne the hearte of the fathers to their children, and the hearte of the children to their fathers, least I come and smyte the earth with curling.

1. Ioſias appoynteth Prieſts, and keepeth the Paſſeouer. 7. Offerings for the Prieſts, and the people. 11. The order of the Leuites. 23. The vpright lyfe of Ioſias. 25. Hys death, and the occaſion thereof, and the lamentation for him. 34. Ioachas is appoynted King. 53. the deſtruction of Hieruſalem.

1 ND Ioſias helde the feaſt of Eaſter in Ieruſalem vntoo hys Lorde, and offered the Paſſeouer ẏ fourtenth day of the firſte moneth.

2 He ſet the Prieſts alſo in order, accordyng to theyr dayly courſes, being arayed in long garmẽts, in the temple of ẏ Lord.

3 And he ſpake vnto the Leuites, the holy miniſters of Iſraell, that they ſhould hallow themſelues vnto the Lorde, to ſet the holy arke of the Lorde, in the houſe that King Salomon the Sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And ſayde, Yee ſhall no more beare the arke vpon your ſhoulders: and now ſerue the Lorde your God, and take the charge of his people Iſrael, and prepare you after your byllages and tribes,

5 Accordyng as King Dauid the king of Iſraell hath left in writing, and "accordyng as Salomon his Sonne hath honorably prepared: And ſtanding each of you in that degree of aucthoritie, which in the diſtribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the preſence of your brethren the children of Iſraell:

6 Offer the Paſſeouer in order, and make ready the ſacrifices for your brethren, and kepe the Paſſouer, accordyng to the commaundement of the Lord, which was gyuen vnto Moſes.

7 And vnto the people that was founde ther, Ioſias gaue thirtie thouſand Lambs and Kiddes, and three thouſande Calues. Theſe things wer giuẽ of the kings owne poſſeſſions, accordyng as he promiſed to the people, to the Prieſtes, and to the Leuites.

8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, & Siel, ẏ gouernours of ẏ temple, gaue to ẏ prieſts for the Paſſeouer, two thouſande and fiue hundred Sheepe, & three hundred Calues.

9 Moreouer, Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Iozam, Captaines ouer thouſandes, gaue to the Leuites, for the Paſſeouer, fiue thouſande Sheepe, and ſeuen hundred Calues.

10 And when theſe thinges were brought to paſſe, the prieſts and Leuites ſtod godly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throughout the tribes.

11 And after the degrees of preheminence appoynted to their fathers, to offer to the Lord in the ſight of the people, accordyng as it is written in the booke of Moſes: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they roſted the Eaſter Lamb with fire, as accordyng was: As for ẏ offerings, they dight them in kettels and pots with good ſauours, 13 And ſet thẽ before al them of the people, & afterward they prepared for thẽſelues & ẏ prieſts their brethren, ẏ ſonnes of Aaron.

14 For the prieſtes offered the fat, "vntill the time was expired, and the Leuites prepared for themſelues, and for the prieſtes their brethren, the children of Aaron. C "or, vntill the euening time.

15 The holy ſingers alſo the children of Aſaph, ſtode in their orders, accordyng as Dauid deuiſed, to wit, Aſaph, "Zacharias, and Iduthum, which was appoynted by the king. "or, Izaras, and Eddimus

16 Moreouer, the (porters and) dorekeepers ſtode by the dores (and that diligently,) ſo that none went out of his "ſtanding and ſeruice, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them. "or, his watch or turne, and courſe.

17 Thus were all things perfourmed, that belonged to ẏ offering of ẏ Lorde in that day, that they might hold the Paſſeouer, 18 And offer ſacrifices vpon the aulter of the Lord, accordyng to the commaundement of king Ioſias.

19 So the childr̃ of Iſrael which wer then preſent, held a (honourable) Paſſeouer, and the feaſt of ſweete bread, ſeuen days long.

20 Yea ſuche a Paſſeouer was not kept in Iſrael, frõ the time of ẏ prophet Samuel.

21 And al the kings of Iſrael held not ſuch an Eaſter, as this which king Ioſias held, and the prieſtes, the Leuites, the Iewes, and all Iſrael, of all them that "were at Hieruſa- "or, found dwelling at Hieruſalem.

Hierusalem.

22 In the eightenth yeere of the raigne of Iosias, was this Passeouer kept.

23 And with an hart full of godlinesse, did king Iosias rightly order all his workes before the Lord.

24 And the thinges that came to passe in his time, they were written of olde before those days, concerning those that sinned, & were vngodly against the Lord, aboue all people & kingdomes, and howe they greeued him in seruing sensible things, so that ẏ words of ẏ Lord rose vp against Israel.

25 Now after all these actes of Iosias, it came to passe, that Pharao the king of Egypt came to Charchamis vpon Euphrates, to moue warre: and Iosias went out against him.

26 But the king of Egypte sente to hym, saying, What haue I to do with thee, O king of Iudea?

E 27 I am not sent of ẏ Lorde God against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with me, yea the Lorde maketh diligent " speede with me: departe from me, and be not against the Lorde.

28 How be it, Iosias woulde not turne backe his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fyght with him, and hearkened not to the words of the prophet Jeremie, spoken by the mouth of the Lord:

29 But pitched a batayle agaynst hym in the field of " Mageddo: And the princes prested to king Iosias.

" or Megiddo

30 Then sayd the king vnto his seruantes, Carie me away out of the battayle, for I am very weake. And immediatly his seruantes tooke hym away out of the frunt of the batayle.

31 Then gate he vp vppon the second charet, came to Hierusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.

32 And in all Iurie they mourned for Iosias, yea Jeremie the prophet lamented for Iosias, and ẏ rulers also with their wiues made lamentation for him vnto this day: and it became a custome to be done continually in all the kinred of Israel.

33 These thinges are written in the booke of the stories of the kings of Iuda: and all the actes of Iosias, and his glory, and vnderstanding in the law of the Lord, & the things which he had done before, and that was now (recited) are written in the booke of the kings of Israell and Iuda.

3. Reg. 23. k. 2. Par. 26. a.

34 And the people tooke Iechonias the son of Iosias, and made him king in stede of Iosias his father, when he was twentie and three yeeres olde.

35 And he raigned in Iuda and in Ierusalem, three moneths, and then the kyng of Egypt put him downe from raigning in Ierusalem:

36 And rayled vp a tare of the people, namely an hundred talents of siluer, and one talent of golde.

37 The king of Egypt also made Joachim his brother king of Iuda and Ierusalem.

38 (a) And (thus) he " bound Joachim, and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother he apprehended, and led away with hym into Egypt.

a. Par. 36. a.

39 Fiue and twentie yeeres olde was Joachim, when he was made king in the land of Iuda and Hierusalem, and he did euill before the Lord.

40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp, and bound him with bands of iron, and caried him vnto Babylon.

4. Reg. 24. a.

41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holy vesselles of the Lorde, caried the away, & set them in his owne temple at Babylon.

42 But all his actes, and his prophanatiõ, and reproch, are written in the Chronicles of the kings.

G 43 And Joachim his sonne raigned in his stede: He was made king being eightene yeeres old, 44 And raigned but three moneths and tenne dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill before the Lord.

45 So after a yere, Nabuchodonosor sent, and caused him to be brought vnto Babylon, with the holy vessels of the Lord, 46 And made Zedechias king of Iuda & Hierusalem, when he was one and twitie yeeres old, and he raigned a leuen yeeres.

47 And he did euill also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the prophete Jeremie, from the mouth of the Lord, Jer.

48 And where he had made an othe vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore hym selfe by the name of the Lord, and hardened his necke and harte, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.

49 The gouernours also of the people and priestes, dyd many thinges against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, & defiled the temple of the Lorde, which was sanctified in Hierusalem.

50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent his messenger to call them backe, because he spared them, & his tabernacle also.

51 But they had his messengers in derisiõ:

and

and loke when the Lord spake vnto them, they made a sport of hys prophets.

51 This drew on so lōg, till the Lord was wroth with his people for their great vngodlynesse, so that he caused the kinges of the Chaldees to come vp against them:

53 Whiche slue their young men with the sword, yea euen in " the compasse of theyr holy temple, and spared no body, neyther young man nor mayden, olde man nor childe among them:

54 But they were all deliuered into theyr hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord both great and smal, with the vessels of the arke of God: and they tooke and caried away the kinges treasure into Babylon.

55 As for the house of the Lord, they went vp into it, & brent it, brake down ẏ walles of Jerusalem, set fire vpon hir towres, 56 Destroyed all hir " noble buildings, and broughte them to nought, and the people that were not slayne with the sworde, he caried vnto Babylon:

57 Which became seruants to him and his children, till the Persians raigned: to fulfill the word of the Lorde, (spoken) by the mouth of Jeremias:

58 Till the lande had fully " taken hir ease from them, which toke that ease all ẏ tyme she lacked hir inhabitants, to the ende and terme of seuentie yeeres.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes too returne. 10. He sent the holy vessels. 13. The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries dyd let their building, and the kings letters for the same.

1 NOw when king Cyrus raigned ouer the Persians in his firste yeere, when the Lord would perfourme the word that he had promised by the mouth of (the prophet) Jeremie:

2 The Lord rayled vp the spirite of Cyrus the king of the Persians, so that he caused his writing to be proclaymed throughout his whole Realme,

3 Saying, Thus sayeth Cyrus king of the Persians, The Lorde of Israel, that high Lorde, hathe made me king of the whole worlde:

4 And commaunded me to build hym an house at Jerusalem in Jurie.

5 If ther be any now of you that are of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord, be with him, and let him go vp to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and build the house of ẏ Lord of Israell, that is, the Lorde that dwelleth in Jerusalem.

6 And al they that dwell round about that place shall helpe hym, all that dwell in hys place, I say, whether it be with gold, with siluer,

7 With giftes, with horses, and necessary cattayle, and all other thinges that are brought with a free will to the " house of the Lord at Hierusalem. B " or temple.

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and villages of Juda and Beniamin stood vp: so did the priests also and the Leuites, and all they whose minde the Lorde had moued to goe vp, and to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in all thinges, with siluer and golde, horses and cattayle, and with " manye free gifts of many men, whose minds were stirred vp thereto.

" or, sundry vowes of sundry men.

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornamentes that were halowed vnto the Lorde, whiche Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Jerusalem, and consecrated them to his idoll (and image.)

11 And hauing brought them forth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasourer.

12 And by him they were deliuered to Abassar the deputie in Jurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousand golden cuppes, and a thousande of siluer, basens of siluer nine and twentie, for the sacrifices, vials of Golde thirtie, and of siluer two thousande foure hundred and tenne, and a thousande other vesselles.

14 So all the vesselles of golde and syluer which they caried away, were fiue thousād foure hundred threescore and nine. C

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

16 But in the time of Artaxerxes king of the Persians, Belemus, & Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretary, with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him against them that dwelt in Jurea and Jerusalem, these letters following:

To the king Artaxerxes our Lorde.

17 Thy seruauntes, Rathumus the story writer, and Semellius the secretarie, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria and Phenice:

18 Be it now knowen to our Lord ẏ king, ẏ the Iewes which are come vp from you vnto vs into the rebellious and wicked citie, beginne to builde the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple a newe.

19 Nowe if this citie, and the walles thereof be set vp agayne, they shall not only refuse to giue tributes (and taxes) but also rebell vtterly agaynst kings.

20 And for so muche as they take this in hande nowe about the temple, we thought it reason to thinke no skorne of it:

D 21 But to shew it vnto our Lord the king, to the intent that if it please the king, he maye cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde, 22 And thou shalt finde in recordes hereof written, and shalte vnderstande that this citie hath alway bin rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kings & cities.

23 And that the Jewes were rebellious, and rayled alwayes warres therein: for the which cause this citie is wasted.

24 Wherefore nowe we certifie our Lorde the king, that if this citie be builded (and occupyed) agayne, and the walles thereof set vp a newe, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the king to Rathumus the "skory wryter, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this manner.

26 I haue read the epistle whiche ye sente vnto me: therefore I commaunded to make diligent search, and haue founde that this citie hath euer resisted kings.

E 27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused muche warre, and that mightie kinges haue reygned in Jerusalem, which also haue rayled vp taxes of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commaunded to forbid those men, that they shall not build vp the citie, and heede to be taken, that there be no more done in it:

29 And that they proceed no further in those wicked workes, for so much as it might be occasion of trouble vnto princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus, and Semellius the scribe hadde read the wryting of king Artaxerxes, they gat them together, and came in all the haste to Jerusalem, with an host of horsemen, and with muche people on foote, 31 And forbad them to builde: And so they left of from building of the temple, vnto the seconde yeere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. The feast of Darius. 16. The three wise sentences.

1 KIng Darius made a great feast vnto his "seruantes, vnto all his coute, and to all the officers of Media and Persia.

2 Yea to al the gouernours, and captaines, and lieftenantes, that were vnder him, from India vnto Ethiopia, an hundred and twentie and seuen "countreys.

3 So when they had eaten and dranken, beying satisfied, and were gone home agayne, Darius the king went into his chamber, layde him downe to sleepe, and after that awaked.

4 Then the three yong men that "kept the kings person, and watched his body, (communed among them selues, and) spake one to another.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and loke who shall ouercome, and whose sentence may seeme wiser than the others, vnto him shall king Darius giue great gyftes, & great things, in token of victory:

6 As to weare purple, to drinke in golde, and to sleepe in golde, and a chariot with brydles of golde, and an "heade tyre of fine linnen, and a chayne about his necke:

7 Yea, he shall sit next to Darius, because of his wisedome, and shall be called Darius cousin.

8 So euery one wrote his "meaning, sealed it, and layd it vnder king Darius pelow.

9 And sayde, When the king aryseth, they woulde giue him the wrytings, and loke whose worde the king and the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the moste wisely spoken, the same shall haue the victorie as it was appoynted.

10 One wrote: wine is a strong thing.

11 The second wrote: The king is strong,

12 The thirde wrote: Women haue very much strength: but aboue all thinges, the trueth beareth away the victory.

13 Nowe when the king was risen vp, they toke their wrytings, and deliuered them vnto him, and so he read them.

14 Then sent he forth to call all his chiefe Lordes of Persia, and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaynes, and lieftenants, and consuls:

15 And when he had set him downe in the counsel, the writings were read before thē.

16 And he commaunded to call for the yong men, that they might declare their meanings them selues by mouth. So they they were ſent for,and came in.

17 And then he ſayde vnto them, Shew vs, and make vs to vnderſtande, what the thinges are that ye haue written. Then beganne he firſt, which had ſpoken of the ſtrength of wine, 18 And ſayde thus,O ye men,how ſtrong is wine,that deceiueth al men which drink it?
19 It maketh the kings minde and the fathers to be both one, the bondmans and the free,the poore mans and the riche.
20 It turneth alſo euery thought into ioye and gladneſſe, ſo that a man remembreth neither heauineſſe nor debt.
21 And it maketh euery heart(thinke it ſelfe) riche, ſo that a man remembreth neyther king nor gouernour,and it maketh to ſpeak all things by talentes.
22 Moreouer, when men haue dronke, they forget all friendeſhip & brotherly faythfulneſſe, & a litle after they draw out ſwords.
23 And afterwardes when they are from the wine,they remēber nothing what was don.
24 O ye men,is not wine the ſtrongeſt,that thus enforceth men to doe? And when hee had ſpoken this,he helde his peace.

The.iiij.Chapter.

1 Of the ſtrength of a king. 13. Of the ſtrength of women. 34. Of the ſtrength of trueth, which ſentence is approued. 47. And his petition graunted.

1 Then the ſeconde that had ſpoken of the ſtrength of the king,began to ſay,
2 O ye men,are not men the ſtrongeſt of al, that conquere both by lande and ſea, and all the things that are in them?
3 Nowe is the king ſtronger,as Lord of all theſe thinges, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and loke what he commaundeth them,it is all done.
4 If he byd them the one againſt the other to make warre, they doe it: if he ſende them out againſt the enimies,they goe and breake down mouſaines,walles,& towers.
5 They ſlaye,and are ſlayne, and ouerpaſſe not the kynges commaundement: if they get the victorie, they bring all to the king, as well the ſpoyle as other things.
6 Likewiſe, the other that meddle not with warres and fighting,but till the grounde: when they haue ſowen and reaped, they bring to the kyng, and compell one another to paye his trybute vnto the king.
7 And if the king,though he be but one man, commaunde to kyll, they kyll, if he commaunde to "forgiue,they forgiue:
8 If he commaunde to ſmite, they ſmyte, if he byd "driue away, they driue awaye, if he commaunde to builde,they builde: "or, make waſte, they make waſte.
9 If he commaunde to breake downe, they breake downe, if he commaunde to plant, they plant.
10 "So the common people, and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the meane ſeaſon ſitteth him downe, eateth, and drynketh,and taketh his reaſt. "or,ſo all his people and al his armies obey vnto one.

12 Iudge ye nowe,O ye men,howe ſhoulde not the king goe farre aboue, when in ſuch ſort he is obeyed? And(when he had ſpoken thus)he helde his tong. thing.
13 The third(whoſe name was Zorobabel) which had ſpoken of women,and of trueth, began to ſay(after this maner,) 14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men,neither is it wine that excelleth. Who is it then that ruleth them,or hath the lordeſhip ouer them? is it not women? C
15 Women haue borne the kyng, and all the people,which beare rule by ſea & by land.
16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought thoſe vp that planted the vines,whereof the wine commeth.
17 They make garmentes for men, they get honoure vnto men, and without women,can not men continue:
18 Yea, if they haue gathered together gold and ſiluer, or any other precious thing, doe they not loue a womā for hir comely ſhape and beautie?
19 And letting all thoſe things goe, do they not gape, and euen with open mouth, fixe their eyes faſt on hir? and haue not al men more deſire vnto hir,thā vnto ſiluer & gold, or any maner of precious thing?

22 By this alſo ye muſt needes knowe, that women haue dominion ouer you: doe ye not labour and trauayle, and giue and bring all to the woman? D 25 Wherfore, a man loueth his wife better than father and mother.

26 Yea manye there bee that runne out of their wittes, and become bondmen for their "wiues sakes.

E 27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women.

28 And now doe ye not beleeue me? is not the king great in his power? do not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yet dyd I see him, & Apame ỹ daughter of the great king Bartacus the kinges concubine, sate beside the king vppon the right hande, 30 And toke off his crowne from his head, and set it vpon hir owne head, and stroke the king with hir left hand.

31 And therewhile stedily the king looked vpon hir with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she toke any displeasure with him, the king was fayne to flatter hir, (and to giue hir good words) till he had gotte hir fauour againe.

32 O yee men, are not women then stronger, that do these things?

33 Then the king and the princes looked one vppon another: So hee beganne to speake of the truth.

Eccle. 1. a. 34 O ye me, are not wome stroger? Great is the earth, high is the heauen, swifte is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauen rounde aboute, and fetcheth hys course again to his own place in one day.

F 35 Is he not excellente that maketh these things? Therefore great is the trueth, and stronger than all things.

36 All the earth calleth vpon truth, the heauen prayseth it, all workes shake and treble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, yea and such are all their wicked workes, and there is no truth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they (be destroyed and) perish:

Esai. 40. a. Psal. 117. a. 38 As for the trueth it endureth and is alway strong, it liueth and conquereth for euermore world without ende.

39 With hir there is no exception or difference of persons, but she doth that iust is, & refrayneth fro all vniust & wicked things, and all men do well like of hir workes.

40 In the iudgement of it, there is no vnrighteous thing, and shee is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiestie of al ages: Blessed be the God of truth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people cryed, and then sayde, Great is truth, and aboue all.

42 Then sayde the king vnto him, Aske what thou wilte, more than is appoynted in the writing, and we shall giue it thee, for thou art found wiser (than thy companions) thou shalte sit next me, and shalt be called my kinsman.

43 Then sayd he vnto the king, Remember thy (promise and) vowe which thou hast vowed, (and promised) in the daye when thou camest to the kingdome, to builde vp Jerusalem:

44 And to send agayn all the vesselles (and iewels) that were taken away out of Jerusalem, whiche Cyrus set apart, when he vowed to destroy Babylon, and to sende them againe thyther.

45 And thy mind was also to build vp the temple, whiche the Edomites burnt when Judea was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And now this only (O king) is the thing that I require and desire of thee, this is the princely liberalitie that I aske of thee: I desire therefore, that thou performe the vowe which thou with thine owne mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stode vp, and kissed him, wrote him letters vnto all the Deputies and Lieftenantes, & to all the Lords and Nobles, that they should conuay him forth, and all them that went vp with him to build Jerusalem.

48 He wrote letters also vnto al the Lieftenants that wer in Coelosyria and Phenices, and vnto them in Libanus, ỹ they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Jerusalē, and build the citie wt hym.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for all the Jewes that were gone out of his "Realme into Jurie, concerning their freedome, that no Officer, no Ruler nor Lieftenante, nor Steward, should enter into their dores:

50 And that all their land which they kept, shoulde bee free, and not tributarie: and that the Edomites shoulde giue ouer the (cities and) vyllages of the Jewes whiche they had taken in:

51 Yea, & that there should be yeerely giuen twentie talents to the building of the temple, vntill the time that it were finished:

52 And to maintayne the burnt offerings vpon the aulter euery day, (as they had a commaundement to offer seuentene) other tenne talents euery yeere.

53 And that all they which come from Babylon to builde the citie shoulde haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the Priests prieſtes that went away.

54 He wrote alſo concerning the charges, & the prieſts garment wherin they miniſter.

55 And likewiſe for ỳ charges of ỳ L cuites to be gyuen them, vntyll the daye that the houſe were finiſhed, & Ieruſalē builded vp.

56 And hee commaunded that all they that watched the citie, ſhould haue their pentions and wages.

57 He ſent away alſo al ỳ veſſels that Cyrus had ſeparated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had giuen in cōmaundement, the ſame charged he alſo that it ſhoulde be done, and ſent to Ieruſalem.

58 Nowe when this yong man was gone forth, he lifted vp his face toward heauē toward Ieruſalem, & prayſed the king of Heauen.

59 And ſayde, of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wiſedome, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy ſeruant.

60 Bleſſed art thou whiche haſt gyuen mee wiſedome, for to thee I acknowledge it, O Lorde (thou God) of our fathers.

61 And ſo he toke the letters, and went out and came vnto Babylon, and tolde it all his brethren.

62 And they prayſed the God of their fathers, that hee had gyuen them freedome and libertie.

63 To go vp, and to buylde Ieruſalem, and the temple, "wherin the name of the Lord is called vpon: and they reioyced with inſtrumentes of muſicke and gladneſſe ſeuen dayes long.

39 And was named after him: the wryting of the same kinred was sought in the register of their generation, but it was not founde, and therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the priesthod.
40 For vnto them sayd Nehemias and Atharias, that they should haue no portion in the sanctuarie, till there rose vp an highe priest that were well instruct in the plaine clearenesse and trueth.
41 So of Israel, from them of twelue yeres old, & childre, they were al in nuber foztie & two thousande, three hundred & threescore, besides men seruantes & women seruants.

45 And to giue into the holy treasure of the wozkes, a thousande poundes of golde, fiue thousande of siluer, and an hundred precious garmentes.
46 And so dwelt the priestes and the Leuites and the people in Jerusalem, and in the countrey, (there about) the singers also and and ẏ porters, & al Iſrael in their vilages.

47 But when the ſeuenth moneth came, & when the chyldren of Iſrael were euery man in his owne, they came all togyther with one conſent into the open place of ẏ gate, which is towardes the eaſt.
48 And there Jeſus the ſonne of Joſedec, and his brethren the prieſtes, and Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and his brethren, kyling vp, made readie the aulter of the God of Iſrael.
49 To offer burnt ſacrifices vpon it, ſo as it is written in the law of Moſes the man of God.
50 And thyther were gathered agaynſte them, diuers of other nations of the land: but they dreſſed ẏ aulter in his own place, although all the nations in the land were enimies to them, and vexed them: and they offered ſacrifices to the Lorde bothe morning and euening.
51 And alſo they helde the feaſt of tabernacles as it is commaunded in tye law, and ſacrifices dayly as it was appertayning.
52 And after ẏ alſo the continual oblatiõs, and the offerings of the Sabboths, and of the newe monethes, & of all holy feaſtes.
53 And al they which had made any vow to God, began to offer ſacrifice to God, from the firſte daye of the ſeuenth moneth, although the temple of the Lorde was not yet built vp.
54 And they gaue vnto the Maſons and Carpenters, money, meate, & drinke, with chearefulneſſe.
55 Vnto them of Sidon alſo & Tyre, they gaue carres, that they ſhoulde bryng Cedar trees from Libanus, whiche ſhould be brought by flote to the hauen Joppe, according as it was commaunded them by Cyrus the king of the Perſians.
56 And in the ſecond yeere and ſecond moneth, came into the temple of God at Jeruſalē, Zorobabel the ſonne of Salathiel, and Jeſus the ſonne of Joſedec, and their brethren, and the prieſtes & Leuites, and al they that were come vnto Jeruſalem out of the captiuitie (of Babilon.)
57 And they layde the foundation of the houſe of God in the newe moone of the ſeconde moneth, in the ſeconde yeere that they were come to Jurie and Jeruſalem.
58 And they appointed the Leuites ẏ were abone twentie yeeres olde, ouer ẏ worckes of the Lord: So Jeſus, and his ſonne and brethren, aſſiſted, & Cadmiel alſo his brother, & the ſonnes of Madiabon, with the ſonnes of Joda the ſõne of Eliadon, & his ſonnes & brethren, euen al ẏ Leuites wt one accord, folowed on earneſtly to aduaũce ẏ worckes in the houſe of God: ſo the workmen buylt vp the temple of the Lorde.
59 And the prieſtes ſtode, & had their garmentes, with muſicall inſtrumentes, and trumpets, and the Leuites the ſonnes of Aſaph had Cymbales.
60 Gyuing thankes and prayſes vnto the Lorde, according as Dauid the King of Iſrael had ordeyned. 1. Par. 16. d.
61 And they ſong wt loude voyces songs, to the prayſe of the Lord, becauſe his mercie and glorie is for euer in Iſrael.
62 And all the people blew out with trumpets, and cryed with loude voyce, prayſing the Lorde togyther, for the rearyng vp of the houſe of the Lorde.
63 There came alſo from among ẏ prieſtes and Leuites, and of the chiefeſt according to the tribes of the kinredes, to wit, the elders which had ſeene the former houſe. 1. Eſd. 5. a.
64 To the buylding of this with great cry, & great mourning, many alſo with trumpets & (great) ioy cryed with loude voyce:
65 Inſomuch that the trumpets might not well be heard for the weeping and mourning of the people: yet there was a greate multitude that blewe trumpets marueyloully, ſo that it was heard farre of.
66 Wherfore, when the enimies of ẏ tribes of Juda and Beniamin heard it, they came to knowe what that noyſe of trumpets ſhould meane. 1. Eſd. 4. a.
67 And they perceyued ẏ they whiche were come againe out of captiuitie, buylt the tẽple vp a new vnto ẏ Lord God of Iſrael.
68 So they went to Zorobabel and Jeſus, & to the rulers of the vilages, & ſayde vnto them, Shall we buylde with you alſo?
69 For we likewyſe, as you, do obey your Lorde, and do ſacrifice vnto him, from the dayes of Aſbazareth the king of Aſſyria, whiche brought vs hyther.
70 Then Zorobabel, and Jeſus, and the rulers of the villages of Iſrael, ſayde vnto them, It doeth not agree that yee ſhoulde buylde the temple of our God with vs.
71 We our ſelues alone wyll buylde vnto the Lorde of Iſrael, as is meete, and lyke as Cyrus the kyng of the Perſians hath commaunded vs. 1. Eſd. 1. a.
72 But the heathen in the land, made them ſluggiſhe that were in Jurie, and hindred them, and letted their buyldings.
73 And by their imbuſhmentes, ſeditions, & conſpiracies, ſtopped, that the buylding coulde not be finiſhed all ẏ time that king

Cyrus

Cyrus lyued: so that they put of the buildyng for the space of two yeeres, vntill the raygne of king Darius.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2. The buylding of the Temple. 3. Sisinnes woulde lette them. 7. His letters to Darius. 23. The Kings answere to the contrary.

A 1 MOtwithstanding, in the second yeere of the raigne of Darius, Aggeus, and Zacharias the sonne of Addo, the Prophetes, prophesied vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iurie and Ierusalem, euen in the name of the Lorde God of Israel.

1. Esd. 5. a.

Agge. 1. c. 2 Then Zorobabel the sone of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, stode vp, and began to buyld the house of the Lorde at Ierusalem, when the prophetes of the Lorde were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same tyme came Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabusanes and his companions, & sayde vnto them,

4 Who hath bydde (and commaunded) you to buyld this house, to make this rofe and all other thinges agayne? And who are the "worckemen that buylde them?

"or, buylders that did these things.

5 Neuertheleſſe, the elders of the Iewes had (suche) grace of the Lord, after he had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from buylding, vntyl the tyme that king Darius was certified thereof, and an answere receyued (from him.)

B 7 The copie of the letter which he wrote, & sent vnto Darius, Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabusanes, with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, send their salutation vnto Darius the king.

8 We certifie our Lorde the king, that wee came into the lande of Iurie, and went to Ierusalem, where we found the auncients of the Iewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Ierusalem,

9 Buylding an house vnto the Lord, great and new, of hewen & costly stones, and the tymber already layde vpon the walles:

10 Yea, they make greate haste with the worke, and it goeth forth prosperously in their hands, and with great diligence and worshyp is it made.

11 Then asked wee the elders, saying, By whose commaundement buylde you vp this house, and lay the fundacions of these workes?

12 Which we demaunded of them, to ỹ intent that we myght giue knowledge vnto thee, & write vnto thee of those that gouerned it: & we required of them their names in writing, ỹ were their chiefe leders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answere, We are the seruauntes of the Lorde whiche made heauen and earth.

14 And as for this house, it was buylded C many yeeres agone, by a king of Israel, 1. Re. great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and sinned agaynst the Lorde of Israel, which is in heauen, he gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor, 4. Re. king of Babylon, of the Chaldees: Ier.

16 Which brake down the house, and burnt it, and caryed awaye the people prysoners vnto Babylon.

17 Neuertheleſſe in the first yeere that king 1. Es. Cyrus raygned ouer the countries of Babylon, Cyrus ỹ king wrote (and commaunded) to buylde vp this house (agayne.)

18 And the holy vessels of golde & of syluer, that Nabuchodonosor had caryed awaye out of the house at Ierusalem, & had dedicated thē in his own temple: those brought Cyrus forthe agayne out of the temple at Babylon, and delyuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commaunding him that he should carrie away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Ierusalem, and that the temple of the Lorde should be buylt in his (owne) place.

20 Then the same Sanaballarus, bryng ỹ come hyther, layde the foundacions of the house of the Lorde at Ierusalem, and from that to this, being still a buylding, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Nowe therefore, O king, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the libraries (and rolles) of king Cyrus:

22 And if it be founde then that the buylding of the house of the Lorde at Ierusalem hath bene done with the (counsel and) consent of king Cyrus, and if our Lorde the kyng be so minded, lette him geue answere vnto vs thereof.

23 Then cōmaunded king Darius to leke 1. Es. in the kings libraries at Babylon: and so 2. Es. at Ecbatane, a towre in the region of Medea, there was founde a place where these 2. Es. things were layde vp for memorie. Ioan.

24 In the first yeere of the raigne of Cyrus, (the same) king Cyrus commaunded that the house of the Lord at Ierusalem should be buylded againe, where they do sacrifice with with the continuall fire.

25 Whose heygth shalbe sixtie cubites, and the breadth sixtie cubites, with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of wodde, newe, and of that countrey, and the expenses therof, to be giuen out of the house of king Cyrus:

26 And the holy vessels of the house of the Lorde, bothe of golde, and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor toke out of the house at Jerusalem, and brought to Babylon, shoulde bee restored to the house at Jerusalem, and be set in the place where it was (before.)

¶ 27 And also he commaunded, that Sisinnes, the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and others, constituted rulers in Syria and Phenice, shoulde take heede not to meddle with that place, but to suffer Zorobabel the seruaunt of the Lorde, and gouernour of Judea, and the elders of the Jewes, to buylde that house of the Lorde in that place.

28 I haue commaunded also to haue it buylt vp whole agayne, and that they bee diligent to helpe those that bee of the captiuitie of the Jewes, tyll the house of the Lorde be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria, and Phenice, a portion diligently to be gyuen those men, vnto the offerings of the Lord, and the same to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therewithall may ordeyne Oxen, Rammes, Lambes,

30 And also corne, salte, wine, and oyle, and that continually euery yeere, after the expences whiche the Priestes that be at Jerusalem shal testifie to be made dayly (this shalbe gyuen vnto them) without delay, 31 That they may offer sacrifices dayly to the hyghest God, for the King, and for his children, and to pray for their lyues.

32 And he commaunded also that whosoeuer shoulde breake any poynte of the foresayde and foredecreed things, or make it voyde, of his owne goodes shoulde a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods sealoned vnto the King.

33 The Lord therfore, whose name is there called vppon, rote out, and destroy euery king & nation that stretcheth out his hande to hinder, or (hurt and) endomage that house of the Lorde in Jerusalem.

34 I Darius the king haue ordeyned, that according to these things it be done, with diligence.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. Sisinnes and his companions folow the kings commandement, and helpe the Iewes to build the temple. 5. The tyme that it was buylte. 10. They keepe the Passouer.

1 THen Sisinnes the gouernour in Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeyed the things that king Darius had ordeyned. A

2 And were diligent assisters in the holye workes, working with the auncients and gouernours of the sanctuarie.

3 And so the holy workes went forth, and prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophetes prophesied.

4 And they perfourmed al things thorow the commaundement of the Lorde God of Israell, and with consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artarerres king of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three and twentieth daye of the moneth Adar, in the sixth yeere of Darius king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the priestes, & the Leuites, & other that were of the captiuitie, that had any charge, did according to the things written in ẏ boke of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the temple of the Lord, they offered an hundred "oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, B "or, bulles.

8 And twelue Goates, for the sinnes of all (the people of) Israel, after the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 The priestes also, and the Leuites, stode arayed in their long robes after their kinreds, in all the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the boke of Moses, and the porters at euery dore.

10 And the children of Israel, with those that were come out of captiuitie, helde the Passouer the fourtienth daye of the firste moneth, after that the priestes and the Leuites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuitie, were not all sanctified togither: but the Leuites were all sanctified togither.

12 And so they offered the Passouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the priestes, and for themselues.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of captiuitie did eate, al they that had separated themselues from ẏ abhominatiõs of the people of the land, & sought the Lorde.

14 And they kept the feaste of vnleauened C breade seuen dayes long, making merry before the Lorde.

15 That the Lorde had turned the counsell of of the king of Assyria towardes them, to strengthen their hands vnto the workes of the Lord God of Israel.

The viij. Chapter.

1. Esdras commeth from Babylon to Hierusalem. 10. The copie of the commission gyuen by king Artaxerxes. 29. Esdras giueth thanks to the Lord. 32. The number of the heads of the people that came with hym. 76. Hys prayer and confession.

A 1 AND after these things, when Artaxerxes the king of the Persiãs raigned, there went vnto him Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helchias, the sonne of Salum,
1. Esd. 7. d.

2 The sonne of Sadoch, the sonne of Achitob, the son of Amarias, the son of Ezias, the son of Meraioth, the son of Saraias, the son of Saueas, the son of Boccas, the son of Abisum, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the firste priest:

3 This Esdras wente vp from Babylon, being a Scribe of good vnderstanding in the lawe of Moses, that was giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 And the king fauoured him, and did him greate (woorship and) honour, " after all his desires.

" or, in all his suites.

5 There went vp with him also certaine of the children of Israel, of the priestes, of the Leuites, of the syngers, porters, and ministers of the temple, vnto Hierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yeere of the raigne of king Artaxerxes, in ỳ fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yeere (for they went from Babylon in the fyrste daye of the firste moneth,

B 7 And came to Hierusalem, according as God gaue them speede in their iourney,) 8 For Esdras had gotte great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the lawe and the commaundementes of the Lorde, and to teach all Israel all the " ordinaunces and iudgements.

9 The copie of the commission which Artaxerxes the king wrote, & that was giuen to Esdras the priest, and reader of the law of the Lord, this is it that followeth.

10 King Artaxerxes sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the priestе, and reader of the law of the Lord.

11 I hauing wayed things with pitie, haue (ordeyned and) charged, if there be any of the Iewes, of the priestes and Leuites in my " realme, which desireth, & is content to goe with thee vnto Israel, ỳ he may do it.

12 Therefore so many as long thereafter, lette them departe together, and go with thee, like as I am contente, and my seuen frends my counsaylers,

13 To see what they doe at Hierusalem, and in Iurie, conueniently, according as thou hast in the law of the Lord:

14 And to bring the gyftes vnto (God) the Lorde of Israel, that I and my frendes haue " promised to Hierusalem, and al the " syluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be founde (pertayning) to the Lord in Hierusalem,

" or, vowed.

15 With the thing that is giuen of the people to the Lord their Gods temple at Hierusalem: that the same siluer and gold may be gathered, for Oxen, Rammes, Sheep, and Goates, and other that belong to these things, 16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the Lord, vpon the aulter of the Lorde their God which is at Hierusalem.

17 And what so euer thou and thy brethren will doe with the siluer and golde, that do according to the will of thy God:

18 And the holy vessels of the Lord, which are giuen thee for the seruice of the temple of thy God which is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set thẽ before thy God in Hierusalẽ.

19 And what soeuer thing els thou shalte remẽber for ỳ vse of the temple of thy god, thou shalt giue it out of ỳ kings treasure.

20 And I king Artaxerxes haue also commaunded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras the priest, and the reader of the lawe of the highest God shall send for, they shuld giue it him with speede:

21 Euen to the Summe of an hundred talents of syluer: of corne also an hundred " measures, and till an hundred " vessels of wine, and other things abundantly.

22 Let all things be done after the lawe of God diligently, vnto the highest God, that wrath come not vpõ the kingdome of the king, and of his sonnes.

23 I commaund you also, that ye require no taxe nor tribute of the priestes, Leuites, holy Singers, Porters, and Ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue doinges in this temple, and that no man haue authoritie to put any impost vpon them.

24 As for thee, O Esdras, set thou iudges and arbitrers to iudge in the whole land of Siria and Phenice after the wisedome of God, all skilfull in the lawe of God, and teach such as are ignorant.

25 And let al thẽ which shal offend against the the lawe of God and the King, bee diligently punished, whether it be by death or other payne, by punishment in money, or elle by banishment.

26 Then sayde Esdras the Scribe, Blessed be the onely Lord God of my fathers, that hath giuen so good a minde and wyll into the hart of the King, to magnifie his house that is at Ierusalem.

27 And hath "made mee to be accepted in the sight of the King, of his counsayle, of his friendes, and of his Nobles.

28 And so I was "stedfast in my mind, according as ẏ lord my God helped me, & I gathered vp men of Israel to go vp wt me.

29 And these are the guides after their families and orders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon, in the raigne of King Artaxerxes.

30 Of the sõnes of Phinees, Gersom: of ẏ sõnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the sons of Dauid, Hattus the sõne of Sechemah.

31 Of the sonnes of Phares, Zacharias, & with him there returned agayne an hundred and fiftie men.

32 Of the sonnes of Pahath, Moab, Elioenai, the sonne of Zacharias, and with him two hundred men.

33 Of the sonnes of Zathoe, Shechenias the sonne of Jezolus, and with him three hundred men: and of the sonnes of Adin, Obed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fiftie men.

34 Of the sõnes of Elam, Jesias, sonne of Gotholias, and with him seuentie men.

35 Of the sonnes of Zapathias, Zarias, sõne of Machael, & with him seuẽty men.

36 Of the sonnes of Joab, Badias, sonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundred and twelue men.

37 Of the sonnes of Banid, Asalimoth, sonne of Josaphias, & with him an hundred and threescore men.

38 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias, sõne of Bebai, & with him eyght and.xx.men.

39 Of the sonnes of Astath, Johannes, sonne to Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten.

40 Of the sonnes of Adonicam the laste: & these are the names of thẽ, Eliphalet, Jeouel, & Maias, & with them seuentie men.

41 Of the sonnes of Bagouthi, sonne of Iscacourus, and with him seuentie men.

42 All these called I togither by the water Thia, where we pitched our tentes three dayes, and there I mustred them.

43 As for the sonnes of the Priestes and Leuites, I found none there.

44 Then sent I vnto Eleazer, and behold there came Maasman, and Maloban.

45 And Inathã, and Samaian, and Joribon, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian, and Mosollamon the chiefe & best learned.

46 And I bade them that they shoulde go vnto Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treasurie.

47 And cõmanded them that they shoulde G speake vnto Daddeus, and to his brethren, and to those that were the Treasurers, to sende vs suche men as myght execute the priestes office in the house of our Lord.

48 And with the mighty hand of our Lord (God) they brought vnto vs men of good "experience, from among the sonnes of "or, learning. Moli, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, Seredia, and his sonnes, and his brethren, which were eyghteene.

49 And Asebia and Amon, and Olaian his brethren, of the sonnes of Canaineus, their sonnes were twentie men.

50 And of them that serued in the Temple whom Dauid had ordeyned, and the principal men to the worke of the Leuites that were ministers in the temple, two hundred and twentie, whose names are all signed vp in writing.

51 And then commanded I a fasting vnto the yong men before ẏ Lord, that I might desire of him a prosperous iourney (and a good way) bothe for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, & for the cattaile.

52 For I feared to desire of the King men of horse and of foote, to conuey vs safely agaynst our enimies.

53 For we had sayde vnto the king, that the power of the Lord our God shold be with them ẏ seeke him, to direct thẽ in al things.

54 And therfore we besought our Lorde againe as touching these things, and found him fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I separated from among ẏ chiefe of the tribes, and from the priestes, twelue men (to wit) Esebrias, and Assanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

56 And I wayed them the gold and the siluer, and the holy vessels of the house of our Lorde, which the king & his counsaile, and his princes, and whole Israel had giuen.

57 And when I had wayed it, I deliuered it vnto them, fiue hundred and fiftie talentes of siluer, and an hundred talentes in siluer vessels, and an hundred talentes of golde.

58 And.xx. golden basons, & twelue vessels of brasse, euk fine brasse, like shining gold.

59 And I sayd vnto them, Ye are holy vnto the Lorde, and the vessels are holy, and the golde golde and the siluer is promised " vnto the Lord (God) of our fathers.

" or, bowed.

60 Be " diligent now, and keepe it vntill the time that ye deliuer it to the chiefe of ỳ Priests and Leuites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Ierusalē, in the chambers of the house of our God.

1. Esd. 8. a.

61 So the Priestes and the Leuites which receyued of me the golde, the syluer, and the vesselles, brought it vnto Ierusalem vnto the temple.

62 And from the riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the fyrst moneth, according to ỳ mighty hand of our Lord which was with vs, and from the beginning of our iourney the Lord deliuered vs from euery enimie, so ỳ we came vnto Ierusalē.

63 And when the third day was past there, the wayed golde and siluer was deliuered in the house of the Lord on ỳ fourth daye, vnto Marimoth the Priestes, & son of Iozi.

64 And with him was Eleazar the soune of Phinees, and with them were Iosabdus the sonne of Iesu, and Moeth the son of Sabbanus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

65 And all the weight of them was written vp the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offered sacrifice vnto the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue Oxen for all Israel, fourescore and sixteene Rammes.

67 Threescore and twelue sheepe, twelue gotes for saluatiō, al in sacrifice to ỳ lord.

68 And the kings cōmission deliuered they vnto the kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honoured the people & the temple of God.

1. Esd. 9. a.

69 Now when these things were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayde, 70 The nation of Israel, the princes, the priestes, and Leuites, haue not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the vncleannesse of the Gentiles, to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebusites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites.

71 For both they and their sonnes haue mingled them selues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is mixt with the strange people of the lande: and since ỳ beginning of ỳ affayres, ỳ rulers & head mē haue bin partakers of this wickednes.

1. Esd. 9. a.

72 And as sone as I hadde heard these thinges, immediatly I rente my clothes, and the holy garmente, and pulled out the heare of my head and my beard, and sate me downe sorowfull and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued through the word of the Lord God of Israel, came vnto me whiles I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate still, full of heauinesse, vntill the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stode I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes and the holy garmente, and kneled downe vpon my knees, and held out my hands vnto the Lord, 75 And sayde, O Lord, I am confounded and ashamed before thy face.

76 For our sinnes are become many, euen aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp euen vnto heauen:

77 For since the time of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day.

78 And for ỳ sinnes of vs and our fathers, we with our brethren, & with our kinges, and with our priest, haue bin giuen vp vnto the kings of the earth, into the swoorde, and into captiuitie, and became a spoyle with confusion (and shame) vnto this day.

79 And nowe, O Lorde God, how greate is the mercie that we haue gotten of thee? in that thou hast lefte vs a rote, & a name in the place of thy sanctuary, 80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a light in the house of the Lorde oure God, and hast giuen vs meate in the time of our seruitude.

81 And when we were in captiuitie, we were not forsaken of the Lorde our God, but he made the kinges of Persia gratious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals (and meate.)

82 Yea, and honoured the temple of oure Lorde, and repayred the wasted places of Sion, and gaue vs assurance in Iuris and Hierusalem.

83 And now, O Lord, what shall we saye, hauing al these thyngs (in possession?) for we haue broken thy commaundementes, whiche thou gauest vnto vs, by the handes of thy seruantes the prophets saying,

84 Bicause the lande which ye goe to possesse as an heritage, is a lād defiled with ỳ vncleannesse (and filthinesse) of the strangers of the lād, and with their abhomination they haue polluted it altogyther:

85 Therefore now shall ye not ioyne they daughters vnto youre sonnes, nyther marrie your daughters to their sonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye shall neuer seeke to make " peace with them, that yee maye " increase and eate the best in the lande, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the lond vnto your children for euermore.

" or, strong.

" or, eate the things of the lande.

87 As for ỳ things that are come to passe, they they come all for our wicked workes and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, hast made our sinnes lyght.

88 And giuen vs such a rote: but we haue turned backe againe, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and mingled ourselues with the vncleannesse of ẏ outlandish heathen.

89 Mightest not thou be angry with vs, to destroy vs? so that thou shouldest leaue vs neyther rote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art true: for our rote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And beholde, nowe are we before thee in our sinnes, neyther can wee stande before thee for them,

91 92 And when Esdras with his prayer had knowledged the sinne, weeping and lying flatte vpon the grounde before the temple, there gathered vnto him from Jerusalem, a great multitude of men and women, of yong men and maydens: for there was a very greate (weeping and) mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Jechonias the sonne of Jeheli, one of the children of Israel, cryed out, & sayd, O Esdras, wee haue sinned agaynste the Lorde God, (bycause) wee haue marryed strange women of the nation of the land.

94 And nowe al Israel hangeth in doubt: We will sweare an oth therefore vnto the Lorde, that wee shall put awaye all our wyues whiche we haue taken of the "heathen, with their children.

95 Like as it may seeme good to thee: and to all those that obey the law of the Lord.

96 Stande vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doth this matter appertayne, and we are with thee, to adde thee strength.

97 So Esdras arose, & toke an othe of the chiefe of the priests & Leuites of al Israel, to do after these things: and they sware.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. After Esdras hadde reade the lawe for the strange wyues, 18. they promised to put them away.

1 Then Esdras rysing from the courte of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the sonne of Eliasib,

2 And remayned there, & did eate no meat, nor drynke "drinke, weeping for ẏ greate wickednesse of the people.

3 And there was made a proclamation in all Jurie, and at Jerusalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they shold gather togither at Jerusalem.

4 And that whosoeuer met not there within twoo or three dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appoynted, their cattell shoulde be sealed to the vse of the temple, and hee bee excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin, gathered togither at Jerusalem, the twentieth daye of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the " court of the temple, for it was winter. "or, the large roome.

7 So Esdras arose vp, and sayde vnto them, Yee haue done vnryghteously, in that yee haue taken "outlandishe wyues to marriage, and so to encrease the sinnes of Israel. B "or, strange.

8 And nowe knowledge the same, and gyue prayse vnto the Lorde God of our fathers:

9 And perfourme his will, departing from the heathen of the lande, and from the " outlandishe wyues. "or, strange.

10 Then cryed the whole multitude, and sayde with a loude voyce, Lyke as thou hast spoken, so will we do.

11 But forsomuche as the people are many, and winter season, so that wee may not stande withoute the house: and bycause this worke is not a thing that can be finished in a day or twoo, seeyng we be many that haue sinned in these things:

12 Ordeyne therefore, that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families, that haue strange wiues, tarrie.

13 And let the priestes and iudges come out of euery place in their time appoynted, till they swage the wrath of the Lorde in this businesse.

14 Then Jonathas the sonne of Azaiel, C and Ezechias the sonne of Thecan, receyued the charge of this matter, and Mosollam, and Leuis, and Sabathens, helped them thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, dyd according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the priest chose vnto him the principal men from among ẏ fathers, and them all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth they sate togither, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining, concerning the men that hadde marryed strange wyues, vntill the newe Mone of the firste moneth:

37 And the priestes and Leuites, and (all) they that were of Israel, dwelt at Jerusalem, and throughout all the land, in the "newe Mone of the seuenth moneth: and the children of Israel were in their "dwellings.
38 And the whole multitude came together with one accorde, into the wyde place before the east gate of the temple.
39 And they spake vnto Esdras the hygh priestе and reader, that hee would bring the lawe of Moses, which had bene giuen of the Lorde God of Israel.
40 So Esdras the hygh priestе brought the lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, & woman, and to all priestes, that they might heare the lawe, in the "newe mone of the seuenth moneth.
41 And he read in the first wyde place that is before the porte of the temple, from the morning early, vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde all vnto the lawe.
42 And Esdras the priest and reader of the lawe, stode vp vppon a pulpit of woode, whiche was made therefore:
43 And vppon his right hande, there stode by him Mathathias, Samus, Inanias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balasan:

45 Then toke Esdras the booke of the law, before the whole multitude (for hee was the principall, and had in moste honour of them all.)
46 And when he expounded the lawe, they stode all straight vpon their feete, So Esdras "prayed the Lorde the moste hygh God, the almightie God of hostes.

48 And Jesus, Inus, Sarabias, Idimus, Jacobus, Battaias, Autumas, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Iohasabdus, Ananias, & Biatas, the Leuites, lifte vp their handes, and fell downe on the grounde, and worshipped the Lorde.
49 And taught the lawe of the Lorde, and were earnestly occupyed togyther in the reading thereof.
50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the high priest and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, saying:
51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and all when they heard the law, wept.
52 (So Esdras sayde,) Departe your waye, therefore, and eate the fatte meates, and drinke the sweete drinkes, and sende gifts vnto them that haue nothing.

13 For this day is holy vnto the Lorde, and be not ye sory: for the Lord will bring you to honour.

14 So the Leuites " publyshed all these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lorde, be not sory.

15 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were merry, and sent presentes to them that had nothing, and made very good cheere:

41 The number of thy children whom thou longedſt for, is fulfilled: beſeeche the power of the Lorde, that thy people whiche haue bene called from the beginning, may bee halowed. F

48 Then the Angel ſayde vnto me, Go thy way, and tell my people what manner of things, and howe greate wonders of the Lorde thy God thou haſt ſeene.

The. iij. Chapter.

4. The woonderous woorkes whiche God dyd for the people, are recited. 31. Eſdras marueleth that god ſuffered the Babyloniās to haue rule ouer his people, which yet are ſinners alſo.

1 IN the thirtieth yeere after the fall of the citie, I was at Babylon, and lay troubled vpon my bed, and my thoughtes came vp ouer my heart:

2 For I ſawe the deſolation of Sion, and the plentyous wealth of them that dweit at Babylon.

3 And my ſpirite was ſore moued, ſo that I began to ſpeake fearefull woordes to the moſte higheſt, and ſayde,

4 O Lorde, Lorde, thou ſpakeſt at the beginning, when thou plantedſt the earth, (and that thy ſelfe alone) and gaueſt commaundement vnto the people,

5 And a body vnto Adam without ſoule, whiche was a "creature of thy handes, and haſt breathed in him the breath of life, and ſo he lyued before thee.

6 And thou leddeſt him into Paradiſe, whiche thy ryght hande had planted, or euer the earth brought fruites.

7 And vnto him thou gaueſt commaundement to loue thy way, whiche he tranſgreſſed, and immediatly thou appointedſt death in him, and in his generations: of whome came nations, tribes, people, and kinredes, out of number.

8 And euery people walked after their own Ga. wyll, and did woonderfull things before thee: and as for thy commaundementes they deſpiſed them.

9 But "in proceſſe of tyme, thou broughteſt the water flood vpon thoſe that dweit Ga. in the worlde, and deſtroyedſt them:

10 So that by ỹ flodde, that was wrought in eche of them, ỹ was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheleſſe, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noe with his houſhold, of whom came all ryghteous men.

12 And it "happened, that when they that dweit vpon the earth, began to multiplie, and had gotten them many children, and were a greate people, they beganne to bee more vngodly than the firſte.

13 Now when they liued ſo wickedly before thee, thou didſt chooſe thee a man from among them, whoſe name was Abraham.

14 Him thou louedſt, and vnto him only thou ſhewedſt thy will.

15 And madeſt an euerlaſting couenaunt with him, promiſing him that thou wouldeſt neuer forſake his ſeede.

16 And vnto him thou gaueſt Iſaac: vnto Ga. Iſaac alſo thou gaueſt Jacob and Eſau. Ga. As for Jacob thou didſt chooſe him to thee and put backe Eſau: And ſo Jacob be- Ga. came a greate multitude.

17 And it came to paſſe, that when thou leddeſt his ſeede oute of Egypte, thou Ga. broughteſt them vp to the mount Sina, De.

18 Bowing downe the heauens, "ſetting faſte the earth, mouing the grounde, making the deapthes to ſhake, and "troubling the worlde.

19 And thy glorie went throughe foure "poyntes of fire, & earthquakes, and windes, and colde: that thou myghteſt geue the lawe vnto the ſeede of Jacob, and "diligence vnto the generation of Iſrael.

20 And yet tookeſt thou not awaye from them that wicked hart, that thy law might bring forth fruite in them.

21 For the firſte Adam bearing a wycked hart, tranſgreſſed and was ouercome: and ſo be all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakeneſſe ſtil, and the Ro. lawe in the heartes of the people, with the 1. Ky. wickednelle of the rote: ſo that the god departed away, and the euill abode ſtill.

23 So the tymes paſſed awaye, and the 1. Ky. yeeres were brought to an ende: Then diddeſt thou rayſe thee vp a ſeruant called Dauid.

24 Whom thou commaundedst to buyld a citie vnto thy name, & to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done nowe manye yeres, then the inhabitours of the citie forsoke them, 26 And in al things, did euen as Adam and and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

C 27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the handes of thine enimies.

28 But do they of Babylon then any thing better, that they should therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, & sawe there so great wickednesse, that it coulde not be numbred: then my soule sawe many euill doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my hart fayled mee:

30 For I sawe howe thou suffredst them in such vngodlinesse, and sparedst the wicked doers: but thyne owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enimies, & this hast thou not shewed "me.

31 I cannot perceiue how this "happeneth. Do they of Babylon then better than they of Sion?

32 Or is there any other people that knoweth thee, saning the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleued thy "couenantes, as Jacob?

33 And yet their rewarde appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruite: for I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be "rich & wealthie, and thinke not vpon thy commaundementes.

34 Waygh thou therefore our wickednesse nowe in the ballance, and theirs also that dwell in the worlde: and so shal thy name be no where founde but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they whiche dwell vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy commandmentes?

36 Thou shalt finde, that Israel by name hath kept thy preceptes: but not the (other people and) heathen.

The.iiij. Chapter.

The Angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemed to enter into the profound iudgementes of God.

1 AND the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uziel, gaue mee an answere,

2 And sayde, thy heart hath taken to muche vpon it in this worlde, and thou thinkest to comprehende the way of the highest.

3 Then sayd I, Yea my Lord. And he answered me, and sayde, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof if thou canst declare me one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shewe thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I sayd, Tel on my Lord. The sayde he vnto mee, Go thy way, waygh mee the wayght of the fire, or measure me the blast of the wind, or cal me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and sayde, What mã borne, is able to do that, that thou shouldest aske suche things of mee?

7 And he sayde vnto me, If I should aske B thee how deepe dwellings are in the middest of the sea, or how great water springs are in the beginning of the deepe, or howe greate water springs are vpon the stretching out of the heauens, or whiche are the "outgoings of Paradise: "or, borders.

8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went down yet into ỹ deepe, nor hel, neither did I euer clime vp into heauē.

9 Neuertheless, nowe haue I asked thee but only of fire, and winde, and of the day, wherethrough thou hast trauayled, and from the whiche thou canst not be separated: and yet canst thou giue mee no answere of them.

10 He sayd moreouer vnto me, Thine owne things, and suche as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not knowe:

11 Howe shoulde thy vessell then be able to comprehende the way of the hyghest: and nowe outwardly in the corrupt worlde to vnderstande the corruption that is euident in my sight?

12 Then sayde I vnto him, It were better that we were not at al, thã that we should lyue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

13 He answered me, and sayde, I came to a Iud.9.b. forrest in a plaine, and the trees toke suche 2.Par.25.t. a deuise, 14 And sayde, Come, let vs go, and fight a- C gaynst the sea, that it may depart awaye before vs, & that wee may make yet more woddes.

15 The floddes of the sea also in like manner toke counsaile, and sayde, Come, lette vs go vp, and fight agaynste the trees of the woodde, that there wee may make vs another countrey.

16 The thought (and deuise) of the woodde was but vayne (and nothing woorth:) for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floodes of the Sea came likewise to nought also: for ỹ sande stode vp, and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge nowe betwixt these twoo, whome wouldest thou iustifie, or whome wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered, and sayd, Verily it is a foolishe thoughte that they bothe haue deuised: for the grounde is gyuen vnto the woodde, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floodes.

20 Then answered he mee, and sayd, Thou haste gyuen a ryght iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

D 21 For like as the grounde is gyuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his floodes: euen so they that dwell vpon earth, may vnderstande nothing but that whiche is vppon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, maye onely vnderstande the things that are aboue the heauens.

Esai.45.c. Iohn.3.c. 1.Cor.2.b.

22 Then answered I, and sayde, I beseeche thee, O Lord, let me haue vnderstanding.

D 23 For it was not my mynde "to bee curious of thy highe things, but of suche as wee dayly meddle withall, namely, as wherefore Israel is gyuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people whome thou haste loued, is gyuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the lawe of our forefathers is broughte to nought, and the wrytten "couenauntes come to none effect?

"Or, to enquire

"Or, ordinances.

24 And we passe awaye out of the worlde as the Grashoppers, and our lyfe is a very feare, and we are not worthie to obteyne mercie.

25 What wyll hee do then vnto his name whiche is called vppon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked question.

26 Then answered he mee, and sayde, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueyle, for the worlde hasteth faste to passe awaye, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the ryghteous in tyme to come: for this worlde is full of vnrighteousnesse, and weakenesse.

2.Ioh.5.c.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest mee, I will tell thee: The euill is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

E 29 If the euill nowe that is sowen bee not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euyll is sowen passe not away: then cannot the thing come, that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euyll seede hath beene sowen in the hearte of Adam from the beginning: and howe muche vngodlynesse hath hee brought vp vnto this tyme? and howe muche shall he yet bring forth, vntill he come into the barne?

31 Ponder nowe by thy selfe howe greate frute of wickednesse the corne of euill seede bringeth forth.

32 And when the stalkes shalbe cut downe, whiche are without number, howe greate a barne shall it fill?

33 Then I answered and sayde, How and when shall these things comme to passe? Wherefore are our yeeres fewe and euyll?

34 And he answered mee, saying, Hast not thou to much aboue the moste highest: for thy haslynesse to bee aboue him, is but vayne, though thou dost all that thou canst for it.

35 Did not the soules also of the ryghteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, Howe long shall I hope on this fashion? when commeth the fruite of my barne, and our rewarde?

36 And vppon this, Jeremiel tharchangel gaue them answere, & sayde, Euen when the number of the seedes is filled in you: for he hath waygyed the worlde in the balance.

37 In measure & number hath he measured the tymes, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntill the sayde measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, nowe are we all full of sinne.

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is, that the barne of the ryghteous are not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwel vpon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and sayde, Go thy way to a woman with childe, and aske of hir when shee hath fulfilled hir nyne monethes, if hir wombe may keepe the byth any longer within hir?

41 Then sayde I, No Lorde, that can shee not. And he sayde vnto me, In the graue, the secrete places of soules are lyke the wombe of a woman.

42 For lyke as a woman that trauayleth, maketh haste to escape the necessitie of the trauayle: euen so do these places haste to delyuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 Loke what thou desirest to see, it shalbe shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and saide, If I haue found founde fauour in thy sight, and if it be possible, and if I be meete therefore,

45 Shewe me then whether there be more to come, than is past, or more past than is for to come.

46 What is past, I knowe: but what is for to come, I knowe not.

47 And he sayde vnto me, Stand vp vpon the right side, and I shall expounde the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stode, and beholde, an hote burning Ouen passed by before me; & it happened that when the flame was gone by, I loked, and behold the smoke had the vpper hande.

49 After this, there passed by before me a water cloude, and sent downe much rayne with a stormie raine: and when the stormie raine was past, " the drops remained still.

50 Then sayde he vnto me, Consyder with thy selfe: like as the rayne is more than the droppes, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke: euen so the measure of the thinges that are past, hath the vpper hand, and the drops and smoke worke much in quantity.

51 Then I prayed, and sayde, May I lyue, thinkest thou, vntill that tyme? or what shall happen in those dayes?

52 He answered me, and sayde, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell ther of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee: for I do not knowe it.

The.v. Chapter.

1. In the latter times trueth shall be hydde. 6. Vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall raigne in the worlde. 23. Israell is reiected, and God delyuereth them. 35. God doth all things in season.

1 NEuertheleſſe, as concerning the tokens (marke this:) Beholde, the dayes shall come, that they whiche dwell vpon earth shal be taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shall be hyd, and the lande shall be barren from fayth:

2 But iniquitie shall be increased aboue that which nowe thou seest, or that thou hast heard long agoe.

3 And the lande that thou seest now to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.

4 But if God graunt thee to lyue, thou shalt see after the thyrde trumpet, that the Sunne shall sodainly shyne agayne in the night, & the Mone three times in the day:

5 And bloud shall droppe out of wood, and the stone shall giue his voyce, and the people shall be vnquieted:

6 And euen he shall rule, whome they hope not that dwell vpon earth, and the foules that flitte?

7 And the Sodomitishe sea shall cast oute the fishe, and make a noyse in the nyght, which manye haue not knowne, but they shall all heare the voyce thereof. B

8 There shall be a confusion also in many places, and the fire shall be ofte sent out againe: & the wilde beasts shal change their place, and menstruous women shall beare monsters,

9 And salte waters shall be founde in the sweete, and all friendes shall fight one against another: then shall all wit and vnderstanding be hid, and put aside into their secrete places:

10 And shall be sought of manye, and yet not be founde: then shall vnrighteousnesse and " voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hande vpon earth. " or, inconstinencie.

11 One lande also shall aske another, and saye, Is ryghteousnesse, " that maketh a man righteous, gone through thee? And it shall say, No. " or, that iustifieth. or, that doth righteously.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obtayne: they shall labour, but their wayes shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue: and if thou wilt pray agayne, and weepe as nowe, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalte heare yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse C went through all my body, and my mynd was feeble, so that I almost sowned wall:

15 So the angell that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set me vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the second night it came to passe, that Salathiel, the captayne of the people, came vnto me, saying. Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenaunce so heauie?

17 Knowest thou not that Israell is committed vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie?

18 Up then, and eate, and forsake vs not, as the Shepheard that leaueth his flocke " or, cruell. in the handes of " wicked wolues.

19 Then sayd I vnto him, Goe thy wayes from me, and come not nighe me. And he hearde it, and as I sayde, so went he his way from me.

20 And so I fasted seuen dayes, mourning D and weeping, like as Uriel the angel commaunded me.

21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughtes of my heart were very grieuous vnto me agayne,

22 And my soule receyued the spirite of vnderstanding, and I beganne to talke with the most highest againe,

23 And sayde, O Lorde, Lorde, of euerie wood of the earth, & of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard:

24 And of all landes of the whole worlde, thou hast chosen one pit, and of all floures of the grounde, thou hast chosen thee one Lilye:

25 And of all the depthes of the sea, thou hast filled thee one riuer: and of all builded cities, thou hast halowed Sion vnto thy selfe:

26 And of all the foules that are created, thou hast named thee one Doue: and of al the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one Sheepe:

E 27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whome thou louedst, thou gauest a lawe that is proued of all.

28 And nowe, O Lorde, why hast thou giuen ouer this one people vnto many? and vpon the one wote thou haste " prepared others, and why haste thou scattered thy only people among many?

" or, let.

29 Which treade them downe, yea which haue euer withstande thy promyses, and neuer beleeued thy couenantes.

30 If thou diddest so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thine owne handes.

31 Now when I had spoken these wordes, the angell that came to me the night afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And sayde vnto me, Heare me, and I will instructe thee: hearken to the thing that I saye, and I shall tell thee more.

33 And I sayd, Speake on my Lord. Then sayde he vnto me, Thou art sore troubled in mynd for Israels sake: louest thou that people better than he that made them?

34 And I sayd, No Lord, but of very grief (and compassion) haue I spoken: for my reynes payne me euerie houre, bycause I would " haue experience of the waye of the most highest, and seeke out parte of hys iudgement.

" or, comprehende.

35 And he sayde vnto me, That thou " mayest not. And I sayd, Wherefore Lord? whereunto was I borne then? or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I might not haue seene the miserie (and trouble) of Jacob, and the wearing out of the flocke of Israell?

36 And he sayde vnto me, Number me the things that are not yet come, gather me together the droppes that are scattered abroad, make me the floures greene againe that are withered, 37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the wyndes that in them are shut vp, shew me the image of a voice: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to knowe.

38 And I sayde, O Lorde, Lord, who may knowe these things, but he that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am vnwise: howe maye I then speake of these things, wherof thou askest me?

40 Then sayde he vnto me, Like as thou canst do none of these things that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not find out my iudgement, or in the ende, the loue that I haue promyked vnto my people.

41 And I sayde, Beholde, O Lorde, yet art thou nygh vnto them that be reserued tyll the end: and what shall they do that haue bene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shall come after vs?

42 And he sayde vnto me, I will lyken my iudgement vnto a ryng: lyke as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answered and sayde, Couldest thou not make those that haue bene made and be nowe, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shewe thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and sayde, The creature may not haste " aboue the maker, " neyther may the world holde them at once, that shall be created therein.

45 And he sayde, As thou hast sayde vnto thy seruant, that thou which quickenest all things, hast gyuen life at once to the creature (or woorke) that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so myght it nowe also beare them that be nowe present at once.

46 And he sayde vnto me, Like the wombe of a woman, and saye vnto hir, If thou bringest forth children, why dost thou it not together, but one after another? Pray hir therefore to bring forth tenne children at once.

47 And I sayde, She can not: but must do it by distance of time.

48 Then sayde he vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided by distance of time, the chylde bed of the earth, for those that be sowen vpon hir.

49 For

29 For like as a yong child may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged:
euen so haue I ordeyned "the world which I created.

30 And I asked, and sayde, Seeing thou hast nowe giuen me the way, I will pro-ceede to speake before thee: for our mother, of whome thou hast tolde me that she is yong, draweth she nowe nigh vnto age?

31 He answered me, and sayde, Aske a woman that beareth children, and she shal tell thee.

32 Saye vnto hir, Wherefore are not they whome thou hast brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

33 And she shall answere thee, They that be borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe fayleth) are otherwise.

34 Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that ye are lesse of stature, than those that were before you:

35 And so are they that come after you lesse than ye, as the creatures which nowe beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

36 Then sayde I, Lorde I beseech thee, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight, shew thy seruaunt by whome thou visitest thy "creature?

The.vi. Chapter.

1. God hath foreseene all things in his secrete counsayle, and is authour thereof, and hathe created them for his children. 25. The felicitie of the age to come.

1 AND he sayde vnto me, In the beginning, when the "grounde was made, before the dores of the world stode, or euer
the windes blewe.

2 Before it thundred and lightned, or euer
the foundations of Paradise were layde,

3 Before the fayre floures were seene, or e-uer the moueable powers were stablished, before the innumerable "multitude of angels were gathered together,

4 Or euer the highnesses of the ayre were lyfted vp, afore the measures of the fyrmament were named, or euer the chimneys in Sion were hote,

5 And or the present yeres were sought out, and or euer the inuentions of them that nowe sinne, were "put aside, before they were sealed that haue gathered fayth for a treasure:

6 Then did I consider, and ponder al these thinges, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shal be ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayd, What shal B be "the parting asunder of the times? or "or, diuision.
when shall be the ende of the firste, and the beginning of it that foloweth.

8 And he sayde vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, Jacobs hande helde first the heele of Esau:

9 For Esau is the end of this world, & Jacob is the beginning of it that foloweth.

10 The hande of man betwixte the heele and the hande: other question, Esdras aske thou not.

11 I answered then, and sayde, O Lorde,
Lord, if I haue founde fauour in thy sight,

12 I beseeche thee "shewe thy seruaunt the "or, make an ende of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst end to shewe me part the last night. thy seruant thy tokens.

13 So he answered and sayde vnto me,
Stande vp vpon thy feete, and heare "a "or, mightie.
perfect voice and sounde.

14 There shall come a" great motion: but "or, an earth-the place where thou standest shall not be quake.
moued. C

15 And therefore when "thou hearest the "or, when he wordes, be not afrayde: for of the ende speaketh.
shall the worde be, and of the foundation of the earth shall it be vnderstande:

16 And why? the worde thereof trembleth, and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must be changed at the ende.

17 And it hapned, that when I had heard it, I stode vp vpon my feete, and hearkened: and beholde, there was a voyce that spake, and the sounde of it was like to the sounde of many waters,

18 And it sayde, Beholde, the dayes come that I wyll beginne to draw nigh, and to visite them that dwell vpon earth:

19 And will beginne to make inquisition of them, what they be that haue hurte vniustly with their vnryghteousnesse, and when the lowe estate of Sion shall be ful-fylled.

20 And when the worlde that shall banishe away shall be ouersealed, then wyll I doe these tokens: the bookes shall be opened before the "fyrmament, and they shall see "or heauen.
altogether.

21 And the children of a yeere olde shall D speake with their voyces, the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure monethes olde, and they shall lyue, and be rayled vp,

22 And sodeynly shall the sowen places ap-peare

peare as the vnsowen, the full store houses shall sodenly be founde emptie:

23 And the trumpet shall giue a sounde which when euery man heareth, they shall be hastily afrayde.

Mich. 7.a. Mat.10.c. 24 At that time shall friendes fight one against another like enimies, and the earth shall stand in feare with them: the springs of the welles shall stande still, and in three houres they shall not runne.

25 Who so euer remayneth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, "or, he shalbe saued. shall escape, and see my saluation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are receiued shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their byrth: and the heart of the "or, inhabiters. indwellers shall be changed and turned into another meaning.

27 For euill shall be put out, and deceyte shall be quenched.

28 As for fayth, it shall florishe, corruption shall be ouercome, and the trueth whiche hath bene so long without fruite, shall be "or, shewed foorth. declared.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I loked a litle and a litle vpon him, before whome I stode, 30 And these wordes sayde he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.

31 If thou wilt praye yet more, and fast seuen dayes agayne, I shall tell thee more things, and greater than before, whiche I haue heard by the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the hyghest: for why? the myghtie hath seene thy righteous dealing, he hath seene also thy chastitie which thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath he sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:

34 And haste not with the tymes that are past, to thynke vayne thinges, that thou mayest not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept agayne, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I myght fulfyll the three weekes which he tolde me.

36 And in the eyght night was my hearte vexed within me agayne, and I began to speake before the highest.

37 For my spirite was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse, 38 And I sayd, O Lorde, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginning, euen the fyrst day, and saydest, Let heauen and Gen.1.a. earth be made: and thy worde was a perfect worke.

39 And then was there the spirite, and the darkenesses were yet on euerie syde, and silence: there was no mans voyce as yet from thee.

40 Then commaundedst thou a faire light "or, lyke. to come forth out of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare, and be seene.

41 Upon the seconde daye thou madest the spirite of the firmament, and commaundedst it to part asunder, and to make a diuision betwixte the waters, that the one part might remayne aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Upon the thyrde day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: fiue partes hast thou dryed vp, and kepte them, "to the intent that men might sowe and occupie husbandrie therein. "or, that they might be tilled vnder the sunne.

43 As soone as thy worde went forth, the worke was made.

44 For immediately there was great and innumerable fruite, & many dyuers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vnchãgeable coloure, and odours of wonderfull smell: and this was done the third day.

45 Upon the fourth daye thou commaundedst that the sunne should giue his shine, and the moone hir lyght, the starres diddst thou set in order: Gen.

46 And gauest them a charge to do service, euen vnto a man that was for to be made. Dan.

47 Upon the fifth day thou saydst vnto the seuenth parte, where the waters were gathered, that it shoulde bring forth (diuers) beastes, foules, and fyshes: and so it came to passe. Gen.

48 For the dumbe water & without soule, brought forth liuing things at the commaundement of God, that "all people might prayse thy wonderous workes. "or, the nations.

49 Then diddest thou ordeyne two soules: the one thou calledst "Enoch, and the other Leuiathan, "or, named.

50 And diddest separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part, (namely, where the water was gathered together) might not holde them both.

51 Unto "Enoch thou gauest one part which was dryed vp the thyrd day, that he should dwell in the same part wherein are a thousande hylles. "or, named.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moyst, and hast kept him to deuour what thou wilt, and when.

53 Upon the sixth daye thou gauest commaundemaundement vnto the earth, that before ther it ſhould bring forth beaſtes, cattell, and all that creepe :

14 And beſydes this, Adam alſo, whome thou madeſt Lorde of all thy creatures: of him come we al, and the people alſo whom thou haſt choſen (eſpecially vnto thy ſelfe.)

15 All this haue I ſayde nowe, and ſpoken before ther, (that I might ſhewe howe) that the worlde is made for our ſakes.

16 As for the other people which alſo come of Adam, thou haſt ſayde that they are nothing, but bee like vnto ſpittle, & haſt likened the abundance of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a veſſell.

17 And now, O Lorde, beholde, the heathen which haue euer bene reputed as nothing, haue begunne to be Lordes ouer vs, and to deuour vs :

18 But we thy people (whom thou haſt called thy firſt borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are gyuen into their handes and power.

19 If the world now be made for our ſakes, why haue we not the inheritaunce of the world in poſſeſſion? Howe long ſhall this endure?

The. vij. Chapter.

5. Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12. God aduertiſeth all in time. 28. the comming and death of Chriſte. 32. The reſurrection and laſt iudgement. 43. After the which all corruption ſhall ceaſe. 47. All fell in Adam. 49. The true life. 59. The mercies and goodneſſe of God.

1 AND when I had made an ende of ſpeaking theſe wordes, there was ſent vnto me an angell, which had bin ſent vnto me alſo the nightes afore.

2 And he ſayde vnto me, Up Eſdras, and heare the wordes that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I ſayde, Speake on (Lord) my God. Then ſayde he vnto me, The ſea is ſet in a wyde place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put caſe the entrance is narow and ſmall, like a ryuer :

5 Who then could goe into the ſea, to loke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not through the narowe, howe might he come into the brode?

6 Item "another. A citie is buylded and ſet vpon a broade fielde, and is full of all good things :

7 The entrance thereof is narowe, and is ſet in a dangerous place to fall, like as if there were a fyre at the right hande, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one ſtrait path betwixt them both, euen betwene the fire and the water, ſo ſmall, that there coulde but one man goe there at once :

9 If this citie were giuen vnto a man for an inheritance, and he neuer went thorow the perylous way before, howe woulde he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I ſayde, It is ſo Lorde. Then ſayd he, Euen ſo alſo is Iſraels portion.

11 And why? for their ſakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam tranſgreſſed my ſtatutes, the was the thing ſo appoinas nowe is done.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narowe, full of ſorowe and trauell : they are but fewe and euill, full of peryls, and labour.

13 For the entraunces of the fore worlde were wyde and ſure, and brought immortall fruite.

14 If then they which are lyuing, enter not diligently thorough theſe ſtraite and brittle things, they can not receyue the things ſo layde vp in ſecrete.

15 Why diſquieteſt thou thy ſelfe then, ſeeing thou arte but a corruptible man? And why arte thou moued, where as thou arte but mortall?

16 And why haſte thou not receyued into thyne hearte the things that are to come, rather than them that are preſent?

17 Then ſayde I, O Lord, Lord, thou haſt ordeyned in thy lawe, that the righteous ſhoulde inherite theſe things, but that the vngodly ſhould periſh :

18 Neuertheleſſe, the righteous ſhall ſuffer ſtraight things, and hope for wide: for they that haue lyued vngodly, and ſuffered ſtraight things, ſhall not ſee the wyde.

19 And he ſayd vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderſtanding aboue the higheſt.

20 For there be manye that periſhe in this life, becauſe they deſpiſe the lawe of God that is "ſet before them :

21 For God hath giuen ſtraight commaundement to ſuche as came, ſo often as they came, what they ſhould do to haue life, and what they ſhould keepe to auoyde puniſhment.

22 Neuertheleſſe, they were not obedient vnto him, but ſpake againſt him, and imagined vayne things :

23 And deceyued them ſelues by wicked deedes,

" or, appoynted them.

deedes, and denyed the power of the moſt high, and regarded not his wayes.

24 But his lawe haue they deſpiſed, and denyed his promiſes, in his ſtatutes and ordinaunces haue they not bene faythfull and ſtedfaſt, and haue not perfourmed his workes.

25 And therefore Eſdras, for the emptie, are the emptie things, and for the full, are the full things.

26 Beholde, the time ſhall come that theſe tokens which I haue tolde thee ſhall come to paſſe, and the bryde ſhall appeare, and the cõming forth, ſhall be ſeene, that nowe is vnder the earth:

27 And whoſoeuer is deliuered from the foreſayde euils, ſhall ſee my wonders.

28 For my ſonne Jeſus ſhall be openly declared, with thoſe that be with him: and they that remayne, ſhall be merry within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After theſe ſame yeeres, ſhall my ſonne Chriſt dye, and all men that haue life:

30 And the worlde ſhall be turned into the olde ſilence ſeuen days, like as in the forefudgements, ſo that no man ſhal remaine.

31 And after ſeuen days, the world that yet awaketh not, ſhall be rayſed vp, and that ſhall dye that is corrupt.

32 And the earth ſhall reſtore thoſe that haue ſlept in hir, and ſo ſhall the duſt thoſe that dwell therein in ſilence, and the ſecret places ſhall deliuer thoſe the ſoules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the moſt higheſt ſhall be openly declared vpon the ſeate of iudgement, and al miſerie ſhal vaniſh away, and long ſuffering[a] ſhall be gathered together.

34 But the iudgement ſhall continue, the trueth ſhall remayne, and fayth ſhall waxe ſtrong, 35 The worke ſhall follow, and the reward ſhall be ſhewed, the [a] righteouſneſſe ſhall watch, and the vnrighteouſneſſe ſhal beare no rule.

36 Then ſayde I, Abraham prayed firſt for the Sodomites, and Moſes for the fathers that ſinned in the wilderneſſe, 40 And Eziechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in lyke maner, which haue prayed for many.

4. Re. 19. c.

41 Euen ſo nowe, ſeeing the [a] corrupt is grouen vp, and wickednes increaſed, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore ſhall it not be ſo nowe alſo?

[a] corrupt is grouen vp

42 He anſwered me, and ſayde, This preſent lyfe is not the ende, oft times honour is retayned in it: therfore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the daye of doome ſhall be the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortalitie for to come, wherein all corruption ſhall be vaniſhed:

44 Intemperancie ſhall be loſed, infidelity be cut off, righteouſneſſe growe, and the veritie ſpring vp.

45 Then ſhall no man be able to ſaue him that is deſtroyed, nor to oppreſſe him that hath gotten the victorie.

46 I anſwered then and ſayd, This is my firſt and laſt ſaying, that it had bene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam: or elſe when it was giuen him, to haue kepte him that he ſhould not haue ſinned.

47 For what profite is it for men nowe in this preſent time to liue in heauineſſe, and after death to [a] looke for puniſhment?

48 O thou Adam, what haſte thou done? For though it was thou that ſinned, thou arte not faine alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there promiſed vs an immortall [a] time, whereas we doe the workes that bring death:

[a] time, whereas we doe

50 And that there is promiſed vs an euerlaſting hope, whereas our ſelues are cruel and vayne:

51 And that there is layde vp for vs dwellings of healthe and ſafetie, whereas we haue lyued wickedly:

52 And that the glorie of the higheſt is kept to defende them which haue led a perfect life, whereas we haue walked in the moſt wicked wayes of all:

53 And that there ſhould be ſhewed a paradyſe, whoſe fruite endureth for euer, wherein is [a] freedome & medicine, whereas we ſhall not go in?

[a] freedome & medicine, where-

54 (For we haue walked in vnpleaſant places,)

55 And that the faces of them which haue abſteyned, ſhall ſhyne aboue the ſtarres: whereas our faces ſhall be blacker than darkeneſſe.

56 For whyle we lyued and dyd vnrighteouſly, we conſidered not that we ſhoulde ſuffer therefore after death.

57 Then anſwered he me, and ſayde, This is the is the maner of the battell which man that is borne vpon the earth ſhall fight, 58 That if he be ouercome, he ſhall ſuffer as thou haſt ſayde: but if he get the victorie, he ſhall receyue the thing that I ſay.

59 For this is the life whereof Moſes ſpake vnto the people whyle he liued, ſaying, Chooſe thy life, that thou maiſt liue.

60 Neuertheleſſe, they beleeued him not, neither the prophetes after him, no nor me which haue ſayde vnto them, 61 That heauineſſe ſhoulde not ſo be vnto their deſtruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer thoſe "that haue ſuffered them ſelues to be enfourmed in ſaluation.

62 I anſwered then, and ſayde, I knowe Lorde, that the higheſt is called mercifull, in that he hath mercie vpon them whiche are not yet come vnto that world,

63 And vpon thoſe alſo that walke in his lawe,

64 And that he is patient: for he long ſuffereth thoſe that haue ſinned, as his creatures,

65 And that he is liberall, to giue whereas it requireth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he paſſeth in merry much, both thoſe that are preſent, and that are paſte, and alſo them which are for to come.

67 For if he multiplyed not his mercies, the worlde coulde not continue hys being with thoſe that haue inheritaunces therein.

68 He "giueth alſo: for if he gaue not of his goodneſſe, that they whiche haue done euill might be eaſed from their wickedneſſe, the tenne thouſandth part of menne ſhould not remayne lyuing.

69 And if he, being iudge, forgaue not thoſe that be healed with his word, and toke not away the multitude of contentions.

70 There ſhoulde be verie fewe left, peradventure in an innumerable multitude.

The.viij. Chapter.

1 The number of the godly is ſmall. 6. The woorkes of God are excellent. 20. Eſdras prayer for him and his people. 39. The promiſe of ſaluation to the iuſt. 55. The deſtruction of the vniuſt.

1 AND he anſwered me, ſaying, The moſt hyghest made this world for many, but the world to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a ſimilitude, Eſdras. As when thou aſkeſt the earth, it ſhall ſaye vnto thee that it giueth muche "moulde whereof earthen veſſels are made, but litle of it that golde commeth of: euen ſo is it with the woorke of this world.

3 There be many created, but fewe ſhall be ſaued. Bar.20.b. E.21.b.

4 Then anſwered I, and ſayd, Then ſwalowe vp the wit (O my ſoule) and deuoure the vnderſtanding.

5 For thou arte agreed to hearken, and to gyue care, and wylling to propheſie: for thou haſt no longer ſpace but this life gyuen thee.

6 O Lorde, if thou ſuffer not thy ſeruaunt to intreate thee, that thou mayeſt gyue ſeede vnto our heart, and buylde our vnderſtanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby eache man maye liue that is corrupt: then who ſhall ſteppe forth in the place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one woorkmanſhyp of thy handes, lyke as thou haſte ſayde. B

8 For when the bodie is faſhioned nowe in the mothers wombe, and thou gyueſt the members, thy creature is preſerued in fire and water, and nyne monethes doth thy woorke ſuffer thy creature which is faſhyoned in hir.

9 But the things that keepeth, and that is kept, ſhall both be preſerued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preſerued, deliuereth vp the things that grewe in it.

10 For thou haſt commaunded the parts of the body, euen the breaſtes, to giue mylke vnto the fruite of the breaſts:

11 That the thing which is created and faſhioned, maye be nouriſhed for a time, tyll thou diſpoſeſt & ordereſt it with thy mercy.

12 And then thou bringeſt it vp with thy righteouſneſſe, nurtureſt it in thy law, and reformeſt it with thy vnderſtanding, 13 "Mortifyeſt it as thy creature, and maketſt it lyuing as thy woorke. "Or, ſlayeſt.

14 Seeing then that thou deſtroyeſt hym whiche with ſo great labours is created and faſhyoned through thy commaundement, thou couldeſt lightly ordeyne alſo that the thing whiche is made myght be preſerued. C

15 Nowe therefore Lorde I will ſpeake (for concerning all men in generall thou ſhalte rather prouide) but touching thy people, for whoſe ſake I am ſory.

16 And thyne inheritaunce, for whoſe cauſe I mourne, and Iſraell, for whome I am wofull, and Iacob, for whoſe ſake I am grieued?

17 Therefore begin I to pray before thee for my my ſelf and from them: for I ſee the falles of vs that dwell in the lande.

" or, ſodayne communy. 18 But I haue heard the " ſwiftneſſe of the iudge which is to come.

19 Therefore heare my voyce, and vnderſtand my words, and I ſhall ſpeake before thee. This is the beginning of the wordes of Eldras, before he was taken vp.

20 O Lorde, thou that dwelleſt in euerlaſtingneſſe, whiche beholdeſt from aboue things in the heauen, and in the ayre:

D 21 Whoſe throne is ineſtimable, whoſe glorie (and maieſtie) may not be comprehended, before whome the hoſtes of angels ſtande with trembling,

22 Whoſe keeping is turned in winde and fire, whoſe word is true, whoſe ſayings are ſtedfaſt, whoſe commaundement is ſtrong, whoſe ordinance is fearefull,

23 Whoſe loke dryeth vp the deapthes, whoſe wrath maketh the mountaynes to melte awaye, " and whoſe trueth beareth witneſſe:

" or, as the effect it ſelfe beareth witneſſe.

24 O heare the prayer of thy ſeruant, and marke with thine eares the petition of thy creature.

25 For whyle I lyue, I wyll ſpeake, and ſo long as I haue vnderſtanding, I wyll anſwere.

26 O loke not vpon the ſinnes of thy people, rather than on them whiche ſerue thee in trueth.

Ꝛ 27 Haue no reſpect vnto the wicked ſtudies of the heathen: but to the deſire of thoſe that keepe thy teſtimonies with afflictiõs.

28 Thinke not vpon thoſe that haue walked faynedly before thee: but remember them whiche according to thy will haue knowne thy feare.

29 Let it not be thy will to deſtroye them whiche haue had beaſtly manners: but to loke vpon them that haue clearely taught thy lawe.

30 Take thou no indignation at thẽ which " are worſe than beaſtes: but loue thẽ that alway put their truſt in thy righteouſneſſe and glorie.

31 For we and our fathers haue al the ſame ſickneſſe (and diſeaſe:) but bycauſe of vs ſinners, thou ſhalt be called mercifull.

32 For if thou haſte mercie vpon vs, thou ſhalte be called mercyfull to vs that haue no workes of righteouſneſſe.

33 For the righteous whiche haue layde vp many good workes together, ſhall out of their deedes receyue rewarde.

34 But what is man, that thou ſhouldeſt take diſpleaſure at him? Or what is this corruptible and mortall generation, that thou ſhouldeſt be ſo rough towardes him?

35 For of a trueth, there is no man among them that be borne but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the " faithfull there is none which hath not done amiſſe.

" or, iuſt

36 For in this, O Lorde, thy righteouſneſſe and thy goodneſſe ſhall be prayſed (and declared) if thou be mercifull vnto thẽ which " are not ryche in good workes.

" or, that are good

37 Then anſwered he me, and ſayd, Some things haſt thou ſpoken aright: and according vnto thy wordes it ſhall be.

38 For I will not verily conſider the workes " of them whiche haue ſinned before death, before iudgement, before deſtruction:

" or, wicked

39 But I will reioyce ouer the worke and thought of the righteous, I will remember alſo the pilgrimage, the ſaluation and the reward that they ſhall haue.

40 Like as I haue ſpoken nowe, ſo ſhall it come to paſſe.

41 For as the huſbandman ſoweth much ſeede vpon the grounde, and planteth many trees, and yet alwaye the thing that is ſowen or planted, is not all kepte ſafe, neither doth it all take rote: euen ſo is it of them that are ſowen in the worlde, they ſhall not all be ſaued.

¶ 42 I anſwered then and ſayde, If I haue founde grace, then let me ſpeake.

43 Like as the huſbandmans ſeede periſheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not thy rayne in due ſeaſon, or if there come to much rayne vpon it, and corrupt it:

44 Euen ſo perysheth man alſo, whiche is created with thy handes, and is like vnto thine owne image, and to thy ſelf, for whoſe ſake thou haſt made all things, and likened him vnto the huſbandmans ſeede.

45 Be not wroth with vs (O Lorde) but ſpare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thine owne inheritance: for thou wylt be mercyfull vnto thy creature.

46 Then anſwered he me, & ſayd, Things preſent, are for the preſent, and things to come, for ſuch as be to come.

47 For thou lackeſt yet much, ſeeyng thou canſt loue my creature aboue me: but I haue ofte time drawne nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer vnto the vnrighteous.

48 In this alſo thou art maruellous before the highell, 49 In that thou haſte humbled thy ſelfe as it becommeth thee, and haſte not iudged thy ſelf worthy to be much glorified amõg the righteous.

50 For many and great miſeries remayne for for them that in the latter time shall dwell in the world, because they " haue walked in great pryde.

31 But vnderstande thou for thy selfe, and seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.

32 For vnto you is Paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, the citie is builded (for you) and rest is prepared, yea, perfect gwodnesse and wisedome.

33 The rote of euill is " marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hid from you, and into hell fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.

34 Sorowes are banished awaye, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortalitie.

35 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perishe.

36 For when they had taken libertie, they despysed the highest, thought skorne of his lawe, and forsoke his wayes.

37 Moreouer, they haue troden downe his righteous.

38 And sayde in their heart, that there is no God, " yea and that wittingly, for they dye.

39 For like as the thing that I haue spoken of, is made ready for you, euen so is thirst and payne prepared for them: for it was not " his will that man should "come to nought.

60 But they which be created, haue defyled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto him which prepared life for them.

61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hande.

62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to suche as be like thee. Then answered I, and sayde.

63 Beholde, O Lorde, nowe haste thou shewed me the multitude of the wonders which thou wilte beginne to doe in the last times: but at what time (and when) thou shalt not shewed me.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. All thinges in this worlde haue a beginning and an ende. 10 Tormentes for the wicked after this life. 15. The number of the wicked, is more than of the good. 29. The lewes ingratitude. 36. Therefore they perishe. 38. The vision of a woman lamenting.

1 HE answered me then, and sayd, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one parte of the tokens come to passe, which I haue tolde thee before, I

2 Then shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the very same time wherin the highest will beginne to visit the world which he made.

3 Therefore when there shall be seene an earthquake, and vprore of the people in the worlde.

4 Then shalt thou well vnderstande, that the most highest spake of those things from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.

5 For like as all that is made in the world, hath a beginning and ende, and the ende is manifest:

6 Euen so the times also of the highest haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and ende in "worcking and in tokens. "or, effect and myracles.

7 And euery one that shall be saued, & shall be able to escape by his workes, and by fayth wherein ye haue believed, B

8 Shall be preserued from the sayde perils, and shall see my "sauioure in my lande, and within my borders: for I haue halowed "me from the world. "or, saluatio. "or, my selfe.

9 Then shall they pitie them selues, which nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shall dwell in paynes.

10 For suche as in their life haue receyued benefites, and haue not knowne me:

11 And they that haue abhorred my lawe while they had yet "freedome, and when they had yet open leysure of amendment & conuersion, vnderstood not, but despised it: "or, libertie.

12 The same muste knowe it after death in payne.

13 And therefore be thou no more "carefull howe the vngodly shall be punished: but inquire howe the righteous shall be saued, and whose the worlde is, and for whome the world is, and when (it is.) "or, curious to knowe.

14 Then answered I, and sayd, C

15 I haue sayde before, and now I speake, and wil speake it also hereafter: that there be many moe of them which perishe, than of them which shall be saued: 4. Esd. 8. b.

16 Like as the floud is greater than a drop.

17 And he answered me, saying, Lyke as the fyelde is, so is also the seede: as the floures be, so are the coloures also: such as the workeman is, such is also the worke: and as the husbandman is him selfe, so is his husbandrie also: for it was the time of the worlde.

18 And when I prepared for them that are now, or euer the world was made, wherein they should dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.

19 For then euery one (obeyed) but now the maners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seede, and by a lawe whereout they can not rid them selues.

D 20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was peryll, because of the " thoughts that were come into it.

" or, deuices.

21 And I sawe, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a " wineberie of grapes, and a plant of a great people.

" or, grape of the cluster.

22 Let the multitude perysshe then whiche are growne vp in vaine, and let my grape (and wineberie) be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.

23 Neuertheleſſe, if thou wilt ceaſſe yet ſeuen dayes moe, but thou ſhalt not taſte in them:

24 Go thy way then into a field of floures, where no houſe is builded, and eate onely of the floures of the fielde, taſte no fleſhe, drinke no wine, but eate floures only.

25 And praye vnto the higheſt continually, ſo will I come and talke with thee.

26 So I went my way, and came into the fielde whiche is called Ardath, like as he commaunded me, and there I ſat among the floures, and did eate of the herbes of the fielde, and the meate of the ſame ſatiſfied me.

E 27 After ſeuen days, I ſat vpon the graſſe, and my hearte was vexed within me lyke as before.

28 And I opened my mouth, and beganne to talke with the moſt higheſt, and ſayde, Exod. 19. b. 4. 24. a. Deut. 4. b.

29 O Lord, thou that ſheweſt thy ſelfe vnto vs, thou haſt declared and opened thy ſelfe vnto our fathers in the wilderneſſe, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egipt.

30 And thou ſpakeſt, ſaying, Heare me, O Iſraell, and marke my wordes thou ſeede of Jacob.

31 For behold, I ſowe my lawe in you, and it ſhall bring fruite in you, and ye ſhall be honoured in it for euer.

32 But our fathers, whiche receyued the lawe, kept it not, and obſerued not thy ordinances and ſtatutes, and the fruit of thy lawe did not appeare, neither could: for why? it was thine.

Deut. 32. f.

33 For they that receiued it, periſhed, becauſe they kept not the thing that was ſowen in them.

34 And loe, it is a cuſtome when the ground receiueth ſeede, or the ſea a ſhippe, or a veſſell meate and drinke: that when it periſheth or is broken wherein a thing is lowen, or wherein any thing is put,

35 The things alſo periſhe and are broken which are lowen or put therein and receiued, and the things that are receiued, remayne not then with vs: but in vs it hath not hapned ſo.

36 For we that haue receiued the lawe, periſhe in ſinne, and our heart which alſo receiued lawe. ‡

37 Notwithſtanding, the lawe perycheth not, but remayneth in his force. Eſd. 2. Esa.

38 And when I ſpake theſe thinges in my hearte (after this manner) I looked about me with myne eyes, and vppon the right ſide I ſawe a woman whiche mourned ſore, made great lamentation, and wept with loude voyce, and was grieued in hart, and rent hir clothes, and ſhe had aſhes vpon hir heade. 4. Esa.

39 Then let I my thoughts go that I was in, and turned me vnto hir, 40 And ſayde, Wherefore weepeſt thou? why art thou ſo ſorie in mynde?

41 And ſhe ſaid vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I maye bewayle my ſelfe, and take yet more ſorrowe: for I am ſore vexed in my minde, and brought verie lowe.

42 And I ſayde vnto hir, What ayleth thee? (or who hath done any thing to thee:) tell me.

43 She ſayde vnto me, I thy ſeruant haue bin vnfruitefull and barren, and haue had no chylde, though I haue had an husbande thirtie yeeres.

44 And theſe thirtie yeeres I doe nothing elſe daye and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the higheſt.

45 After thirtie yeeres, God heard me thy handmayden, looked vppon my miſerie, conſydered my trouble, and gaue me a ſonne: and I was gladde of him, ſo was my husband alſo, and all my neighbours, and we gaue great honoure vnto the almightie.

46 And I nouryſhed hym with great trauell.

47 So when he grewe vp, and came to the time that he ſhould " haue a wife, I made a feaſt.

" or, marry.

The.x. Chapter.

Eſdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

1 And

1 AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe and dyed:
2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lightes, & all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me, thē toke I my rest vnto ỳ secōd day at night.
3 And when they had all left off to comfort me, that I shoulde be quiet: then I rose vp by night and fled, and am come hither into this fielde, as thou seest:
4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remayne here, and neyther to eate nor drynke, but continually to mourne, and to fast, vntill I dye.
5 Then let I my meditation and thoughts fall that I was in, and spake to hir in displeasure, saying,
6 Thou foolishe woman aboue all other, seest thou not oure heauinesse and mourning, and what happeneth vnto vs?
7 How Sion our mother is all wofull and sore, & how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?
8 Seeing we be all nowe in heauynesse, and make our mone, for we all be sorowfull: art thou so heauie for one sonne?
9 Demaunde the earth, and she shall tell thee, that it is she which ought (by reason) to mourne for the fall of so manye that growe vpon hir.
10 For from the beginning all menne are borne of hir, and other shall come: and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be voted out.
11 Who should then (by reason) make more mourning, than she that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which arte sory but for one?
12 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth, for I haue lost the fruite of my "body, which I brought forth with heauinesse, and bare with sorowes:
13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth, & the preſent multitude goeth again into hir, "as it is come to passe.
14 Then say I vnto thee, Like as thou hast borne with trauell and sorowe, euen so the earth also from the beginning, giueth hir fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboured hir.
15 And therefore withholde thy sorowe and heauinesse by thy self, and take what happeneth vnto thee, beare it strongly.
16 For if thou iudgest the marke and ende of God to be righteous and good, and receyuest his counsell in time, thou shalte be commended therein.
17 Goe thy waye then into the citie to thy husbande.
18 And she sayd vnto me, That will I not doe: I will not goe into the citie, but here will I dye.
19 So I communed more with hir, and sayde,
20 Do not so, but be counselled, and folow me: for howe manye falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort because of the sorowe of Ierusalem.
21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is laid waste, our aulter broken, our temple destroyed,
22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songes are put to silence, our myrth is vanyshed awaye, the lyght of our candlesticke is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, all our holy things are defyled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our priestes are brent, our Leuites are caried awaye into captiuitie, our virgins are defyled, and our wyues rauyshed, our righteous men spoyled, and our children destroyed, our yong men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake: D
23 And Siō our scale, which is the greatest of all, is losed vp from hir worshippe: for she is deliuered into the handes of them that hate vs.
24 And therefore shake off thy great heauinesse, and put awaye the multitude of sorowes, that the mightie may be mercifull vnto thee, & that the highest may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauell.
25 And when I was talking with hir, hir face and beautie shined sodaynely, and hir countenaunce glistered, so that I was afraid of hir, and mused what it might be.
26 And immediately she cast out a greate voyce, verie fearefull, so that the earthe shooke at the noyse of the woman.
27 And I loked, and beholde, the woman appeared vnto me no more: but there was a citie builded, and a place was shewed from the grounde and foundation: then was I afrayde, and cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, 28 Where is Uriel the angell, which came to me at the first? For he hath caused me to come in many considerations and hyghe thoughtes, and myne end is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke. 4. Esd. 4. a.
29 And as I was speaking these wordes, he came vnto me, and loked vpon me:

30 And loe, I lay as one that had bin dead, and myne vnderstanding was altered: and he toke me by the right hande, and comforted me, and set me vpon my feete, and sayde vnto me,
31 What ayleth thee? and why is thyne vnderstanding vexed, and the vnderstanding of thyne heart? and wherefore arte thou sory?
32 And I saide, Bicause thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy wordes, I went into the fielde, and there haue I seene thinges, and see that I am not able to expresse.
33 He sayd vnto me, Stand vp, and be manly, and I shall giue thee exhortation.
F 34 Then said I, Speake on to me my lord, forsake me not, least I dye through my rashnesse:
35 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I do not know.
36 Or is my vnderstanding deceyued, or doth my soule dreame?
37 Now therefore, I beseech thee, that thou wilt shewe thy seruant of this wonder.
38 He answered me then and sayde, Heare me, and I shall enfourme thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afrayd: for the highest hath opened many secret things vnto thee.
39 He hath seene that thy "way is right, for that thou takest sorowe continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.
40 And therefore vnderstande the vision whiche thou sawest a litle while agoe, after this manner.
41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort hir.
42 Neuertheless, nowe seest thou the likenesse of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded:
43 And where she tolde thee of the fall of hir sonne, so is this the solution of it.
44 This woman whome thou sawest, is Sion: and wheras she tolde thee, euen she whome thou seest now as a citie builded.
G 45 And as touching that she said vnto thee, that she hath beene thirtie yeeres vnfruitfull and barren: those are the thirtie yeeres wherin there was no offering made in hir.
46 But after thirtie yeres Solomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: and the bare the barren a sonne.
47 And where as she tolde thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Ierusalem.
48 And whereas thee tolde thee that hir sonne dyed, as his chaunce was, when she came into hir chamber: that is the fall that is come to Ierusalem.
49 And beholde, when thou sawest hir like one that mourned for hir sonne, and begannest to comforte hir of these thinges which haue chaunced: these are to be opened vnto thee.
50 For nowe the mosse hyghest seeth that thou arte sory in thy mynde, and suffrest from thy whole hearte for hir, and so hath he shewed thee hir clearenesse, & the fairnesse of hir beautie.
51 And therfore I bade thee remayne in the fielde, where no house was builded.
52 For I knewe that the highest woulde shewe this vnto thee:
53 Therfore I commaunded thee to go into the field, where no foundation nor building is.
54 For in the place where the highest beginneth to shewe his citie, there can no mans building be able to stand.
55 And therefore feare not, and let not thine heart be afraide: but goe thy way in, and see the beautie and greatnesse of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see:
56 And then shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehend.
57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest, as few.
58 But to morowe at night thou shalte remayne here.
59 And so shall the highest shew thee visions of the high things, which he will do vnto thē that dwell vpon earth in the last days.
So I slept the same night and another, like as he commaunded me.

The xi. Chapter.

1. The vision of an Eagle comming foorth of the sea, and of hir feathers. 37. Of a Lion comming out of the forrest.

1 THen sawe I a dreame, and beholde, there came vp from the sea an Eagle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heades:
2 And I sawe, and beholde, she spread hir wings ouer al the earth, and all the winds of the ayre blew on hir, and gathered them together.
3 And I beheld, and out of hir feathers there grewe other contrarie feathers, and they became litle feathers and small.
4 But hir heades remained still, the head in the middest was greater than the other, yet yet rested it with the residue.

" Or, purpose.

5 Moreouer, I saw that ẏ Egle flewe with hir wings, and raigned vppon earthe, and ouer all them that dwelt vpon the earth.

6 And I sawe that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnto hir, and no man spake agaynste hir, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I sawe also that the Eagle stode vp vpon hir clawes, and "gaue a sounde with hir feathers, and a voyce saying after this manner.

8 Watche not altogither, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watche by course.

9 But let ẏ heades be preserued for the last.

10 Neuertheless, I sawe that the voyce went not out of hir heades, but from the middest of hir body.

11 And I numbred hir contrarye feathers, and behold, there were eyght of them.

12 And I loked, and behold, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and raigned ouer all the earth.

13 And so it was, that when it raigned, the ende of it came, & the place thereof appeared no more: So the next folowing stode vp, and raigned, and had a great tyme.

14 And it happened, that when it raigned, the ende of it came also like as the firste, so that it appeared no more.

15 Then came there a voyce vnto it, and sayde,

16 Heare thou that haste kepte the earth so long, this I say vnto thee before thou beginnest to appeare no more:

17 There shal none after thee atteyne vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.

18 Then arose the third, and raigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.

19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one raigned, and then appeared no more.

20 Then I loked, and behold, in processe of time, the feathers that folowed stod vp on the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a while they appeared no more.

21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.

22 After this, I loked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings.

23 And there was no more vpon the Egles body, but two heades that rested, and fiue wings.

24 Then sawe I also that two wings diuided themselues from the fiue, and remayned vnder the heade that was vppon the righte syde: for the foure continued in their place.

25 So I loked, and beholde, the feathers that were vnder the wing, thoughte to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.

26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.

27 And the seconde was sooner away than the firste.

28 And I beholde, and loe, the two that remayned, thoughte also in themselues to raygne.

29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heades that were at reste, namely it that was in the myddest: for that was greater than the two other heades. E

30 And then I sawe that the two heades were ioyned with him:

31 And the heade was turned with them that were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wings that would haue raigned.

32 But this heade put the whole earthe in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth with muche labour: and he had the gouernaunce of the worlde ouer all the wings that had bene.

33 After this I loked, and behold, the head that was in the middest sodaynely appeared no more, like as the wings.

34 But there remayned the two heades, whiche ruled vppon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.

35 And I beheld, and loe, the heade vppon the right side, deuoured it that was vppon the left side.

36 Then I heard a voyce which sayde vnto mee, Loke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.

37 Then I sawe, and beholde, as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily oute of the wood: and I sawe that hee sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and sayde,

38 Heare thou, I wyll talke with thee, and the highest shall say vnto thee, 39 "Is it not thou that haste the victorie of the four beastes whome I made to raigne (vpon earth, and) in my worlde, that the ende of their tymes myghte come through them?

"or, art not thou he that remainest of the foure beastes.

40 And the fourth came, and ouerranne all the beastes that were paste, and had power ouer the worlde, with greate fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth, with moste wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he vpon the earth with deceyte.

41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with truethy.
42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable (and quiet,) thou hast loued lyers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought forth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of suche as did thee no harme.
43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing (and blasphemie) come vp vnto the hyghest, and thy pryde vnto the mightie.
44 The highest also hathe loked vpon the proude times, and beholde they are ended, and their abhominations are fulfilled.
45 And therefore appeare no more thou E-gle, and thy horrible wings, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngrations heads, & thy sinfull clawes, and all thy vaine body: 46 That the earth maye be refreshed, (and come againe to hir selfe) when she is deliue-red from thy violence, and that she maye hope for thy iudgement and mercie of him that made hir.

The. xij. Chapter.

The declaration of the former visions.

A 1 AND it hapned when the Lion spake these words vnto the Eagle, I sawe:
2 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hande, appeared no more: neyther did the foure wings appeare anye more that came to him, & were set vp to raigne, and their kingdome was small, and full of vprore.
3 And I sawe, and beholde, they appeared no more, and the whole body of the Eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare: Then awaked I out of ỹ trouble & traūce of my minde, and from great feare, and sayde vnto my spirite,
4 Loe, this hast thou giuen me, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the highest.
5 Loe, yet am I wearie in my mynde, and very weake in my spirit: and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.
6 Therefore will I nowe beseech the highest, that he will comfort me vnto the end.
B 7 And I sayde, Lorde, Lorde, if I haue founde grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer in deede be come vp before thy face:
8 Comfort me then, and shewe me, thy seruant, the interpretation and playne difference of this horrible sight, that thou mayest perfectly comfort my soule:
9 For thou hast iudged me worthy to shew me the last of times.
10 And he sayde vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight.
11 The Eagle whome thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the vision of thy brother Daniell:
12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore nowe I declare it vnto thee.
13 Beholde, the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shall be feared aboue all the kingdomes that were before it.
14 In " the same kingdome shall twelue kings raigne, one after another.
15 Whereof the second shal begin to raigne, and shall haue more time than the other twelue.
16 And this doe the twelue wings signifie, which thou sawest.
17 As for the voice that thou heardest speak, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heades, but from the middes of the body thereof, it betokeneth, 18 That after the time of that kyngdome, there shal arise great striuings, and it shal stande in peryll of falling: nevertheless it shall not then fall, but shall be restored a-gayne into his beginning.
19 And the eight feathers vnder the wings, which thou sawest hang vnto his wings, betoken.
20 That in him there shal arise eight kings, whose time shall be but small, and their yeeres swift, and two of them shall perish.
21 But when the middest time commeth, there shall be foure kept for a time, whyles
" his time beginneth to come that it maye be ended: but two shall be kepte vnto the ende.
22 And whereas thou sawest three heades resting, this is the interpretation:
23 In his last dayes shall the most hyghe rayse vp three kingdomes, and call many things againe into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth.
24 And of those that dwell therein, with much " labour aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heades of the Eagle.
25 For it is they that shall " bring forth his wickednesse againe, and that shall per-forme and finishe his last.
26 And whereas thou sawest, that the great heade appeared no more, it signifieth, that one of them shal dye vpon his bed, and yet with payne.
27 For the two that remaine, shal be slaine with with the swoꝛde.

28 Foꝛ the swoꝛde of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the laste shall he fall thoꝛowe the swoꝛde him selfe.
29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers vnder the wings, passing toward the head that is on the ryght side, 30 It signifieth, that it is they whome the hyghest hath kepte vnto their ende: this is the small kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou sawest.
31 And ỳ Lion, whome thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roꝛing, and speaking vnto the Egle, and rebuking hir foꝛ hir vnrighteousnesse, with all the woꝛdes which thou hast heaꝛde, 32 Is the winde, whiche the hyghest hathe kept foꝛ them, and foꝛ their wickednesse vnto the ende: he shall repꝛoue them, and calle befoꝛe them their owne spoylings:
33 Foꝛ he shal set them aliue in iudgement, and shall rebuke them, and coꝛrect them.
34 Foꝛ the reſidue of my people shall he deliuer by trouble, those that be pꝛeserued vpon my boꝛders, and hee shall make them ioyfull, vntyll the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.
35 This is the dꝛeame that thou sawest, & these are the interpꝛetations.
36 Thou only hast bene meete to know this secrete of the highest.
37 Therfoꝛe wꝛite al these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them, 38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose haꝛtes thou knowest may compꝛehende and keepe these secretes.
39 But wayte thou heere thy selfe yet seuen dayes moe, that it may bee shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the hyghest to declare vnto thee. And with that he went his way.
40 And when all the people pꝛeceyued that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come agayne into the citie, they gathered them altogither, from the leaste vnto the moste, and came vnto mee, and sayde, 41 What haue we offended thee? & what euill haue we done agaynste thee, that thou foꝛsakest vs, and sittest heere in this place?
42 Foꝛ of all the people thou onely art lefte vs, as a grape of the vine, & as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen oꝛ shippe pꝛeserued from the tempest.
43 Haue we not els aduersitie ynough?
44 If thou shalt foꝛsake vs, were it not bettꝛ foꝛ vs that we had bin burnt w̄ Sion?
45 Foꝛ wee are not better than they that dyed there. And they weapt with loude voyce. Then answered I them, and sayd, 46 Be of good comfoꝛt, O Israel, & be not heauy thou house of Jacob:
47 Foꝛ the hyghest hath you in remembꝛance, and the mightie hath not foꝛgotten you in temptation.
48 As foꝛ me I haue not foꝛsaken you neyther am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pꝛay, bicause of the miserie of Israel, that I might seeke mercie foꝛ the low estate of your sanctuarie.
49 And nowe goe your waye home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you, 50 So the people went their waye into the citie, like as I commaunded them.
51 But I remayned still in the fielde seuen dayes, as "the angel bad me, and did eate onely of the floures of the fielde, and had my meate of the herbes in those dayes. "oꝛ, he.

The. xiij. Chapter.

2. The vision of a winde comming forth of the sea. 3. whiche became a man. 5. His propertie and power against his enimies. 21. The declaration of this vision.

1 AND after the seuen dayes, I dꝛeamed a dꝛeame by night.
2 And behold, there aꝛose a winde from the sea, that it moued all the waues thereof.
3 And I loked, and beholde, there was a stꝛong man with the thousandes of heauen: & when hee turned his countenance to loke, all the things trembled that were seene vnder him.
4 And when the voyce went out of his mouthe, all they burnt that heaꝛde his voyce, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.
5 After these I sawe, and behold, there was gathered togither a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight againste the mā that came out of the sea.
6 And I loked, and behold, he graued him selfe a greate mountaine, and flew vp vpon it.
7 But I woulde haue seene the region oꝛ place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.
8 And I saw after these, that al they which came to fyght agaynste him, were soꝛe afrayde: and yet durst they fight.
9 Neuertheleſſe, when he sawe the fiercenesse & violence of the people that came, he neyther lyfte vp his hande, "noꝛ helde swoꝛde "oꝛ, foꝛ he helde no swoꝛd noꝛ any instrument of warre.

swoord or any weapon:

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had beene a blast of fire, and out of his lips the wind of the flame, & out of his tong he caste out sparkes & stormes.

11 And they were all mixte together: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, and the great storme: and fell with " a rush vpon the people which was prepared to fight, and burnt them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene, but only dust & smel of smoke: When I sawe this, I was afrayde.

" or, violence.

12 Afterwarde saw I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable " people.

" or multitude.

13 And there came much people vnto him, some were glad, some were sorie, some of the were bounde, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and sayde,

¶ 14 Thou hast shewed thy seruaunt these wonders from the beginnyng, and hast counted me worthie, that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shewe me nowe yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in myne vnderstanding: woe vnto them that shall be lefte in those dayes, and muche more woe vnto them that are not left behinde:

17 For they that were not lefte, were in heauinesse.

18 Nowe vnderstande I the thinges that are layde vp in the latter dayes, which shal happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde:

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, lyke as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he whiche is in danger fall (into these) and nowe to see that which shall chaunce hereafter, than to passe out of this worlde as a cloude. Then answered he me, and sayde, 21 The interpretation of the sight shall I shewe thee, and I will open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

D 22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behinde, this is the interpretation.

23 He that beareth the peryll in that time, hath kept him selfe: they that be falne into daunger, are suche as haue workes and faith vnto the most mightie.

24 Know this therfore, that they which be left behind, are more blessed than they that be deade.

25 " This is the meaning of the dreame: whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the " deepe of the sea,

" a. Chro.

26 The same is he whome God the highest hath kepte a great season, whiche by his owne selfe shall deliuer his creature, and he shall order them that are left behinde.

" a. 4.

27 And whereas thou sawest that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, fire, and storme:

28 And howe that he lift vp neither swoorde nor weapon, but ỳ the " rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight against him: it signifieth,

" a. Chro.

29 That the dayes come, when the most highest will beginne to deliuer them that are vpon earth.

30 And " in a trance of mynd shall he come vpon them that dwell in the earth.

" ab. stupore

31 And one shall vndertake to fight against another, one citie against another, one place against another, one people against another, one realme against another.

Mat.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shall the tokens come that I shewed thee before, and then shall my son be " declared whom thou sawest climbe vp as a man.

" a. 4.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne lande leaue the battell that they haue one against another:

34 And an innumerable multitude shal be gathered together, as they that be willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stande vpon the toppe of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill grauē forth without any handes.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are falne into the tempest, for their wickednesse and euill imaginations, 38 And into tormētes like to flame, wherewith they shall be punished: and without any labour shall he destroye them, euen by the law, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him:

40 These are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Oseas the king, whom Salmanasar the king of Assyria toke prisoners, and caried them " ouer the water, & so came they into another land.

4. Reg.

" a. ibi.

41 But they toke this counsell among themselues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to goe forth into a further countrey, where neuer mankinde dwelt:

42 That they myght there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne lande.

43 And so they entred in at the narrowe passages of the riuer Euphrates.

44 For the moste hyghest then shewed tokens for them, and held still the flowde tyll they were passed ouer.

45 For throughe the countrey there was a greate way, namely, of a yeere and a halfe iourney: and the same region is called Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The hyghest shall holde still the springs of the streame agayne, that they may go through: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be left behind of thy people, are those that are founde within my borders.

49 Nowe when her destroyeth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defende his people that remayne:

50 And then shall he shew them great wōders.

51 Then sayde I, O Lorde, Lord, shew me this, wherfore haue I seene the man comming vp from the "deepe of the sea.

52 And hee sayde vnto mee, Lyke as thou canst neyther seeke oute nor knowe these things that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so cā no man vpon earth see my sōne, or those that be with him, but in the tyme of the "day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and wherby thou only arte here lightened:

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applyed thy diligence vnto myne, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisedome, & hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the highest. After other three dayes I will shew thee more, & talke with thee more at large, yea heauy & wonderous things will I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the fielde, giuing prayse & thankes greately vnto God, bycause of his wonders whiche he dyd in tyme, 58 And bicause he gouerneth the same, and suche things as fall in their seasons, and there I sate three dayes.

The.iiij. Chapter.

3. Howe God appeared to Moses in the bushe. 10. Al things decline to age. 16. The latter age woorse than the former. 29. The ingratitude of Israel. 35. The resurrection and iudgement.

1 VPon the thirde day I sate vnder an Oke tree, then came there a voyce vnto me out of the bushe, and sayde, Esdras, Esdras. A

2 And I sayde, Heere am I Lorde: and stoode vp vpon my feete.

3 Then sayde he vnto mee, In the bushe did I appeare vnto Moses, & talked with him when the people serued in Egypt, Exo.3.d.

4 And I sente him, and led my people out of Egypt, & brought him vp to the mounte Sina, where I helde him by mee a long season:

5 And told him many wonderous workes and shewed him the secretes of the tymes, and the ende, & commaunded him, saying:

6 These wordes shalt thou declare, & these shalt thou hyde.

7 And nowe I say vnto thee, B

8 That thou lay vp in thine heart ẏ signes that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou haste seene, and the interpretations which thou hast hearde.

9 For thou shalt bee taken awaye from among all, and hencefoorth thou shalte remayne with my counsaile, and with suche as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

10 For the worlde hath loste his youth, and the times beginne to waxe olde.

11 For the worlde is diuided into twelue partes, and ten partes of it are gone alredy, and halfe a tenth part:

12 And there remayneth there, that whiche is after the halfe of "the tenth part. "or, that.

13 Therefore sette thine houle in order, and reformre thy people, comfort suche of them as be in trouble, and nowe renounce corruption.

14 Let go from thee mortall thoughts, cast away the burdens of men, put of ẏ weake nature: C

15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heauy vnto thee, and hast thee to flee from these tymes:

16 For as for suche euil (and wickednesse) as thou haste now seene happen, they shall do yet muche worse.

17 For the weaker that the worlde is, by reason of age, the more shall euils encreafe vpon them that dwell therein. Mat.24.a. 1.Joh.2.c.

18 For the trueth is fled far away, and leasing is harde at hande: for nowe hasteth the vision to come, that thou hast seene.

19 Then answered I before thee, & sayde,
20 Beholde Lorde, I will go as thou haste commaunded mee, and reformme the people which are presente: but they that shalbe borne afterwarde, who wyll admonishe them? thus the world is set in darknesse, & they that dwell therein, are without light.
D 21 For thy lawe is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the thinges that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.
22 But if I haue founde grace before thee, sende the holy ghost into mee, and I shall write all that hath ben done in the world since the beginning, whiche was written in thy lawe, that men may finde the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may lyue.
23 And he answered mee, saying, Go thy way, gather the people togyther, and saye vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fortie dayes.
24 But loke thou gather thee many bore trees, and take with ther Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fiue, whiche are ready to write swiftly:
25 And come hither, and I shal light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out till ỹ things be perfourmed, which thou shalt begin to write.
26 And then shalte thou desire some things openly vnto the perfecte, and some things shalt thou shewe secretely vnto the wyse: to morowe this houre shalt thou beginne to wryte.
E 27 Then went I forthe, as he commaunded mee, and gathered all the people togither, and sayde, 28 Heare these wordes, O Israel.
29 Oure fathers at the begynning were straungers in Egypte, from whence they were deliuered.
Deut.3.d. 30 And receyued the lawe of lyfe, whiche they kept not, whiche yee also haue transgressed after them.
31 Then was the lande, euen the lande of Sion parted among you by lotte (to possesse:) But your fathers, & ye your selues also haue done vnrightuousnes, and haue not kept the waies which the highest commaunded you.
32 And for so muche as hee is a ryghteous iudge, he toke from you in tyme, the thing that he had giuen you.
33 And nowe are ye here, and your brethren among you.
34 Therefore, if so be that yee wyll subdue your own vnderstanding, & reformme your heart, ye shalbe kept alyue, and after death shall ye obteyne mercie.
35 For after death shall ỹ iudgement come, when we shall liue agayne: and then shall the names of the righteous bee manifest, & the workes of ỹ vngodly shalbe declared.
36 Let no man therefore come nowe vnto me, nor seeke after me these fourtie dayes.
37 So I toke the fyue men, as hee commaunded mee, & went into the fielde, and remayned there.
38 The next day, a voyce called me, saying Esdras, open thy mouth, and drinke that I giue thee to drinke.
39 Then opened I my mouth, and beholde, he reached mee a full cup, whiche was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.
40 And I toke it, and dranke: and when I had dronken it, my hart had vnderstanding, and wisedome grewe in my breaste: for my spirit was strengthened in remembraunce.
41 And my mouth was opened, and shutte no more.
42 The hyghest gaue vnderstanding vnto the fiue menne, that they wrote the hyghe things of the night, which they vnderstode not.
43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for mee, I spake in the daye, and held not my tongue by nyght.
44 In fourtie dayes they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.
45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfylled, that the hyghest spake, saying, The firste that thou hast written, publishe openly, that the worthy and vnworthie may reade it:
46 But keepe the seuentie laste, that thou mayest delyuer them onely to suche as bee wise among thy people.
47 For in them is the spring of vnderstanding, the fountayne of wisedome, and the streame of knowledge.
48 And I did so.

The.xv. Chapter.

1. The prophecie of Esdras is certaine. 5. The euils that shall come on the world. 9. The Lord will auenge the innocent blood. 12. Egypt shal lament. 16. Sedition. 20. and punishment vpō the kings of the earth. 24. Curſed are they that sinne. 29. Troubles and wars vpon the whole earth. 53. God is the reuenger of his elect.

1 BEhold, speake thou in ỹ eares of my people the wordes of prophecie, which I

I will put in thy mouth, ſayth the Lorde.
2 And cauſe them to be written in a letter:
"for it is the truth.
3 Feare not the imaginations againſt thee:
Let not the vnfaythfulneſſe of them trouble thee, that ſpeake againſt thee.
4 For all the vnfaythfull ſhall dye in their vnfaythfulneſſe.
5 Beholde (ſayth the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpon the worlde, the ſworde, hunger, death, and deſtruction:
6 For wickednesſe hath the vpper hande in all the earth, and their ſhamefull workes are fulfilled.
ℬ 7 Therefore ſayth the Lorde,
8 I will holde my tongue no more of their wickednesſe whiche they do ſo vngodlie, neyther will I ſuffer them in the things that they deale withall ſo wickedly: Beholde, the innocent and righteous bloodde creyth vnto mee, and the ſoules of the iuſt complaine continually.
9 And therefore, ſayth the Lorde, I will ſurely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.
10 Beholde, my people is led as a flocke of ſheepe to be ſlayne, I will not ſuffer them nowe to dwell in the lande of Egypt:
11 But will bring them out with a mightie hande, and a ſtretched out arme, and ſmite it with plagues as afore, and will deſtroy all the lande of it.
12 Egypt ſhall mourne, and the fundations of it ſhall be ſmitten with the plague and punishment that God ſhal bring vpon it.
13 They that till the ground ſhall mourne, for their ſeedes ſhall bee deſtroyed through the blaſting and hayle, and by an horrible ſtarre.
ℭ 14 Wo worth the worlde, and them that dwell therein.
15 For the ſworde and their deſtruction draweth nygh, and one people ſhall ſtande vp to fight againſt another, and ſwordes in their handes.
16 "For men ſhall be vnſtedfaſte, and ſome ſhall do violence vnto other, they ſhall not regarde their king, and the Princes ſhall meaſure the way of their doings by their power.
17 A man ſhall deſire to go into a citie, and ſhall not be able.
18 For bicauſe of their pryde the cities ſhall be troubled, the houſes ſhall tremble, and men ſhall be afrayde.
19 A man ſhall haue no pyttie vppon his neyghbour, but ſhall deſtroy their houſes with the ſworde, and ſpoyle their goodes, bicauſe of the "hunger of breade, & bicauſe of the great trouble. "or, lacke.
20 Beholde, ſayth God, I call togither all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, whiche are from the "vprysing, from the South, from the Eaſte, and Libanus, to turne vppon them, and reſtore the things that they haue done to them: "or, weſt.
21 Like as they do yet this daye vnto my ℘ chosen, ſo will I do alſo, and recompence them in their boſome: Thus ſayeth the Lorde God.
22 My right hande ſhall not ſpare the ſinners, & my ſworde ſhal not ceaſe ouer them that ſhed the innocent blood vpon earth.
23 The fire is gone oute from his wrath, and hath conſumed the fundations of the earth, and the ſinners like the ſtrawe that is kindled.
24 Wo worth them that ſinne, & keepe not my commaundementes, ſayth the Lorde.
25 I will not ſpare them: go your way ye children from the power, defyle not my ſanctuarie:
26 For the Lorde knoweth all them that ſinne agaynſte him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and deſtruction.
27 For nowe are the plagues come vppon ℰ the worlde, and ye ſhall remaine in them: for God ſhall not deliuer you, bicauſe ye haue ſinned againſt him.
28 Beholde, an horrible billow commeth from the Eaſt,
29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia ſhal come out with many charets, and the multitude of them ſhall bee carryed as the winde vppon earth, that al they which heare them, may feare and tremble,
30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrathe, ſhal go forth as the wild Boares of the foreſt, & with great power ſhall they come & ſtande fighting with them, and ſhal waſte a portion of the lande of the Aſſyrians.
31 And then ſhall the dragons haue the vpper hande, and remembring their nature, ſhall turne aboute, conſpiring togither in great power, to perſecute them.
32 Then theſe ſhall be troubled, and keepe ſilence in their power, and ſhall flee.
33 And from the lande of the Aſſyrians ſhal the enimie beſiege them, & conſume some of them, and in their hoſt ſhall be feare and dread, and ſtrife among their kings.
34 Behold cloudes from the Eaſt, and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vppon, full of wrath and ſtorme:
35 They ſhall ſmite one vpon another, and they they shall smyte downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blodde shall bee from the swoorde vnto the belly,

36 And the dung of man vnto the Camels litter,

37 And there shalbe great fearefulnesse and trembling vppon earth: and they that see the wrath shalbe afraide, and a trembling shall come vpon them:

38 And then shall there come great raynes from the South, and from the Nozth, and part from the West.

39 And strong windes shall aryse from the East, and shall open it, & the cloude which he rayled vp in wrath, and the starre stirred to cause feare towarde the Ealle and West winde, shalbe destroyed:

40 The greate cloudes shalbe lyfte vp, and the mightie cloudes full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afrayde, and them that dwell therein, and that they may poure out ouer euery hyghe place, an horrible starre,

41 Fyre, and hayle, and fleeing swoordes, and many waters: that all fieldes may be full, and all ryuers with the abundance of greate waters.

42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaynes, and hilles, trees of the wood, & the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.

43 And they shall go stedfaste vnto Babylon, and make hir afrayde.

44 They shal come to hir, and besiege hir, the "starre and all wrath shall they poure out vpon hir, then shal the dust and smoke go vp into the heauen, and all they that be about hir, shall bewayle hir.

"or, constellation and tempest.

45 And they that remayne vnder hir, shall do seruice vnto them that haue put hir in feare.

46 And thou Asia that comfortest thy selfe also vppon the hope of Babylon, and arte the glory of hir person:

47 Wo be vnto thee thou wretche, bycause thou hast made thy selfe like vnto hir, and haste deckt thy daughters in whoredome, that they might "triumphe and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thee.

"or, please & glory in.

48 Thou hast followed the abominable city in all hir workes and inuentions: therefore sayth God,

49 I will send plagues vpon thee, widowhood, pouertie, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death,

50 And the glory of thy power shalbe dried vp as a floure, when the heate ryseth that is sent "ouer thee:

51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wyfe that is plagued and beaten of women: so that the mightie and louers shall not be able to receue thee.

52 Would I so hate thee, sayth the Lorde,

53 If thou hadst not alway slaine my chosen, exalting ý stroke of thy hands, & layd ouer their death when thou wast drunken,

54 Sette forthe the beautie of thy countenaunce?

55 The rewarde of thy whoredome shall be recompenced thee in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receyue rewarde.

56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, sayth the Lord: euen so shal God do vnto thee, & shall deliuer thee into the plague.

57 Thy children shall dye of hunger, & thou shalt fall throughe the swoorde: thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thine shall perishe with the swoorde in the fielde.

58 They that bee in the mountaynes shall dye of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.

59 Thou, as vnhappie, shalt come through the sea, and receyue plagues againe.

60 In the passage they shall call downe the slayne citie, and shall rote out one part of thy lande, and consume the portion of thy glorye, and shall returne to hir that was destroyed.

61 They shall treade thee downe like stubble, and they shalbe thy fire, 62 And shall consume thee, thy cities, and thy lande, and thy mountaynes: all thy woodes, and thy frutefull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.

63 Thy children shall they carry away captiue: and loke what thou haste, they shall spoyle it, and mar the beautie of thy face.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. Agaynst Babylon, Asia, Egypt, and Syria. 18. 38. Of the euyls that shall come vppon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne themselues in afflictions. 54. To acknowledge their sinnes, and to commit themselues to the Lord. 55. whose mightie prouidence and iustice is to be reuerenced.

1 WO bee vnto thee Babylon and Asia, I Wo be vnto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gyrde your selues with clothes of sacke and heare, and mourne your children, bee sorye: for your destruction is at hande.

I

3 A ſwoꝛd is ſent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?

4 A fyre is ſent among you, and who will quenche it?

5 Plagues are ſent vnto you, and what is he that will dꝛyue them away?

6 May any man dꝛyue awaye an hungrie Lion in ẏ wood? Oꝛ may any man quẽch ẏ fire in ſtubble whẽ it hath begun to burne?

7 May one turne agayne the aꝛowe that is ſhot of a ſtrong Archer?

8 The mighty Lord ſendeth the plagues, & what is he that will dꝛyue them awaye?

9 The fire is kindled and gone foꝛth in his wrath, & what is he that may quenche it?

10 He ſhall caſt lyghtnings, and who ſhall not feare? He ſhal thunder, & who ſhall not be afrayde?

11 The Lord ſhall threaten, & who ſhall not vtterly be beatẽ to pouder at his preſence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the fundations therof, ẏ ſea ariſeth vp with wanes from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fiſhes therof alſo, before ẏ Lorde, and before the glorie of his power:

13 For ſtrong is his right hande that bẽdeth the bowe, his arrowes that he ſhooteth are ſharpe, and ſhal not miſſe when they begin to be ſhot into the endes of the woꝛld.

14 Behold, the plagues are ſent, & ſhall not turne againe tyll they come vpon earth.

15 The fire is kindled, & ſhal not be put out till it cõſume the fundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrowe whiche is ſhotte of a mightie archer, returneth not backwarde: euen ſo, the plagues that ſhalbe ſent vpon the earth, ſhall not turne againe.

17 Wo is mee, wo is mee, who wil deliuer mee in thoſe dayes?

18 The beginning of ſoꝛrowes and greate mourning, the beginning of dearth, and greate death, the beginning of wars, & the powers ſhall ſtand in feare, the beginning of euils, and they ſhall tremble euery one.

19 What ſhall I do in theſe things, when the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger, and plague, trouble, and anguiſhe, are ſent as ſcourges foꝛ amendement:

21 But foꝛ all theſe things they ſhall not turne from their wyckednelle, noꝛ be alway mindfull of the ſcourges.

22 Behold, bittayles ſhalbe ſo good cheape, vpon earth, that they ſhall thinke themſelues to be in good caſe: and euen thẽ ſhall miſchiefe grow vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great diſquietnelle.

23 Foꝛ manye of them that dwell vpon earth, ſhall periſh of hũger, & the other that eſcape the hunger, ſhal the ſwoꝛd deſtroy.

24 And the deade ſhalbe caſt out as dung, and there ſhalbe no man to comfoꝛt them: foꝛ the earth ſhalbe waſted, and the cities ſhalbe caſt downe.

25 There ſhall bee no man lefte to tyll the earth, and to ſowe it.

26 The trees ſhall gyue fruite, and who ſhall plucke them off, and gather them?

27 The grapes ſhalbe ripe, & who ſhal tread thẽ? Foꝛ all places ſhalbe deſolate of men. E

28 So that one man ſhall deſire to ſee another, oꝛ to heare his voyce.

29 Foꝛ of one whole citie there ſhalbe ten left, and two of the fielde, which ſhall hide themſelues in the thicke "buſhes, and in the cliftes of ſtones, "oꝛ, woodes

30 Like as when there remayne three oꝛ foure Oliues in the place where Oliues grow, oꝛ among other trees.

31 Oꝛ as when a Vineyarde is gathered, there are left ſome grapes of them that diligently ſought through the vineyarde:

32 Euen ſo in thoſe dayes, there ſhalbe three oꝛ foure left by them that ſearch their houſes with the ſwoꝛde.

33 And the earth ſhalbe left waſte, and the fieldes therof ſhall ware olde, & hir wayes & all hir pathes ſhall grow full of thoꝛnes, bicauſe no mã ſhal trauaile there through.

34 The virgins ſhall mourne, hauing no bꝛidegromes, ẏ women ſhal make lamentation, hauing no huſbandes, their daughters ſhall mourne, hauing no helpers.

35 In the warres ſhall their bꝛidegromes be deſtroyed, and their huſbandes ſhal periſhe of hunger.

36 But yee ſeruantes of the Lorde, heare theſe things, and marke them.

37 Behold the woꝛde of the Lorde, O receyue it: beleeue not the goddes of whome the Lorde ſpake, F

38 Behold the plagues dꝛawe nygh, and are not ſlacke in tarrying.

39 Like as a trauayling woman whiche in the nynth moneth bꝛingeth foꝛth a ſonne, whẽ the houre of ẏ bꝛith is come, an houre two oꝛ three afoꝛe that, ẏ paines come vpõ hir body, & whẽ the child cõmeth to ẏ birth, they tary not the twinckling of an eye:

40 Euen ſo ſhall not the plagues be ſlacke to come vpon the earth, and the woꝛlde ſhal mourne, and ſoꝛowes ſhal come vpon it on euery ſide.

41 O my people, heare my woꝛde, make you ready to the battayle, and in all euyll be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

1.Cor.7.d. 42 He that selleth, let him be as he ẏ fleeth his way: & he ẏ buyeth, as one ẏ wil keepe.

43 Who so occupieth marchandise, as hee that winneth not: and he that buyldeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

44 He that soweth, as one that shall not reape, he that cutteth the vineyarde, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

45 They that marrie, as they that shall get no children: and they that marrie not, as the widowes.

Psal. 71.a. Pro.10.c. 46 And therefore they that labour, labour, in vayne.

Eccle.11.b. 47 For strãgers shall reape their fruites, & spoyle their goods, ouerthrow their houses, and take their children captiue: for in captiuitie & hunger shall they get children.

48 And they that occupy their marchandise with robbery, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons, 49 The more will I punish them for their sinnes, sayth the Lorde.

50 Like as an whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman.

51 So shall righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh hir selfe, & shal accuse hir to hir face, when he commeth that shal bridle the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not yee like therevnto, nor to the workes thereof:

53 For or euer it bee long, iniquitie shall be taken awaye out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall raigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say, that he hath not sinned: for coales of fire shall burne vpon his heade which sayth, Before the Lorde God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

55 Beholde, the Lorde knoweth all the workes of men, their imagination, their thoughtes, and their hearte.

Gen.1.a. 56 For he spake but the worde, Lette the earth be made: and it was made, Let the Psal.146.a. heauen be made: and it was created.

57 In his worde were the starres made, and he knoweth the number of them.

58 He searcheth the grounde of the deepe, and the treasures thereof, he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.

59 Hee hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his worde hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauen like a vaut, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In the deserte and drie wildernesse hath he made springs of water, and poles vpon the top of the mountaines, that ẏ floodes might powre down from the stony rocks, to water the earth.

62 He made man, and put his heart in the middes of the body, and gaue him breath, lyfe and vnderstanding.

63 Yea, and the spirit of the almightie God which made all things, and hath searched the grounde of all the secretes of the earth.

64 Hee knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what ye thinke when ye sinne, and woulde hyde your sinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde searched, and sought out all your workes, and he shall bewray you all.

66 And when your synnes are brought forth, ye shalbe ashamed before men, and your owne sinne shall be your accusers in that day.

67 What will ye do? Or how will ye hyde your sinnes before God and his angels?

68 Behold, God himselfe is the iudge, feare him: leaue off from your sins, and forget your vnrighteousnesse, & meddle no more with them: so shall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

69 For beholde, the heate of a greate multitude is kyndled ouer you, and they shal take away certaine of you, and shall slay for meate to the idolls:

70 And they that consent vnto them, shalbee had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shall be in euery place, and in the next cities, a greate insurrection vpon those that feare the Lorde.

72 They shall be like mad men, they shall spare no man, they shall spoyle and waste suche as yet feare the Lorde:

73 For their goodes shall they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 Then shall it bee knowen who are my chosen, and they shalbe tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, sayth the Lord: beholde, the dayes of trouble are at hande, but I will deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afrayd, despayre not: for God is your captayne.

77 Who so keepeth my commaundements and precepts, sayth the Lorde God, let not your sinnes waygh you down, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lyft vp.

78 Wo be vnto them that are bounde with their sinnes, & couered with their wickednesse, like as a fielde is hedged in with bushes, and the pathe thereof couered with thorns, that no mã may trauaile through: it is shutte vp, and is caste into the fire, for euer to be consumed therewith.

The ende of the fourth booke of Esdras.

¶ The booke of Tobias.

¶ The firste Chapter.

1. Tobias parentage. 3. His godlyneſſe. 6. His equitie. 8. His charitie and proſperitie. 23. He fleeth, and his goods are confiſcate. 25. and after reſtored.

1 Obias was of the tribe & citie of Nepthali, whiche lyeth in the hygh countreyes of Galilee aboue Naaſſon, beſide the waye that leadeth to ỹ weſt, hauing the citie of Sephet vppon the lefte ſide.

2 Though hee was taken pryſoner in the dayes of Salmanaſar king of the Aſſyrians, neuertheleſſe, beeing in captiuitie, he forſoke not the way of trueth:

3 In ſo muche, that whatſoeuer he myght gette, he parted it dayly with his felowe priſoners and brethren that were of his kinred.

4 And though hee were yonger than all in the tribe of Nepthali, yet dyd not he behaue him ſelfe childiſhly in his woorkes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden Calues, whiche Jeroboam the kyng of Iſrael had made, he alone fled all their companies,

6 And gate him to Hieruſalem vnto the temple of the Lord, and there woorſhipped the Lorde God of Iſrael, faithfully offering of all his firſt frutes and tithes.

7 So that in the thirde yeere hee miniſtred all the tithes vnto the ſtraungers and conuertes.

8 Theſe and ſuche like things, dyd he obſerue, according to the lawe of God, when he was yet but yong.

9 But when he was a man, he toke out of his owne tribe a wife, called Anna: and of hir he begate a ſonne, whome he called after his owne name,

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from all ſinne.

11 Now when he, with his wife, his ſonne, and with all his kynred, was come in captiuitie vnto the citie of Niniue, 12 What time as they did eate ofy meates of the heathen, he kept his ſoule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.

13 And for ſo muche as hee was mindefull of the Lorde in all his hart, God gaue him fauour in the ſighte of Salmanaſar the King.

14 Whiche gaue him power to goe where C he woulde, & ſo had he libertie to do whatſoeuer he woulde.

15 So wente Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuitie (and comforted them,) and gaue them wholſome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages, a citie of the Medes, hauing ten talentes of ſiluer, (of the things wherwith the king had honoured him)

17 And ſawe among a greate companie of people of his kinred, one Gabelus, whiche was of his owne tribe, being in neceſſitie, he gaue him the ſayde wayght of ſiluer, vnder an hande wryting.

18 After a long ſeaſon, when Salmanaſar the king was deade, and Sennacherib his ſonne raygned in his ſteede, whiche hated the children of Iſrael:

19 Tobias went dayly throughout all his kinred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goodes to euery one of them, as muche as he might.

20 He fedde the hungrie, clothed the naked, and buryed the deade and ſlayne, and that diligently.

21 And when Sennacherib the king came D agayne, and fledde out of Iurie (what tyme as God puniſhed hym for his blaſphemie) and in his wrath ſlewe many of the children of Iſrael, Tobias buried their bodyes.

22 But when it was tolde the Kyng, hee commaunded to ſlay him, and toke away all his goodes.

23 Neuertheleſſe, Tobias with his ſonne and with his wife, fledde away naked, and was hidde: for there were many that loued him.

24 But after fourtie and fyue dayes, the king was ſlayne of his owne ſonnes:

25 Then came Tobias againe to his houſe and all his goods were reſtored vnto him.

The

The.iij. Chapter.

1. Tobias calleth the faythfull to his table. 3. He leaueth the feast to bury the dead. 10. How he became blinde. 13. His wife laboureth for his liuing. 17. She reprocheth him bytterly.

1 AFter those things, vpon a solempne day of the Lord, Tobias made a good feast in his house,

2 And sayde vnto his sonne, Go thy way, & bring hither som of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came againe, and tolde his father, that one of the chyldren of Israel lay slayne vpon the streete.

4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, lefte the feaste, came sayling to the deade coarse, toke him, and bare him priuilye into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury him.

5 And when hee had hyd the coarse, he dyd eate his meate with mourning and feare,

6 Remembring the wordes that the Lorde sayde by the Prophete Amos: Your hygh feastes shall be turned to sorowe and heauinesse. Amos. 8. c.

7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way, and buryed him.

8 Then al his "neighbours reproued him, saying, It is not long since it was commaunded to slay thee, because of this matter, & hast scarse escaped ẏ danger of death: and buryest thou the deade agayne? "or, his nexte of kynne.

9 Neuertheless, Tobias fearing GOD more than the king, toke the bodies of the slayne, and hid them in his house, & buried them at mydnightes.

10 It hapned vpon a day, that he had buryed the dead, & was weery, came home, & layde him downe by the wall, and slept.

11 And whyle hee was asleepe, there fell downe vpon his eyes warme dung out of the swallowes nest, so that he was blinde.

12 This temptation did God suffer to happen vnto him, that they whiche came after, myghte haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.

13 For in so muche as hee euer feared God from his youth vp, & kept his commaundementes, he grudged not agaynste God, that the plague of blindnesse chaunced vnto him.

14 But remained stedfast in ẏ feare of god, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.

15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kings: euen so was he laughed to scorne of his elders and kinsefolks, which sayde vnto him, 16 Where is thy hope, for the whiche thou hast done almes, and buryed the dead?

17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:

18 For we are the chyldren of holy men, and loke for the life which God shal giue vnto them that neuer turne their beliefe from him.

19 And Anna his wyfe went dayly to the weauing worke:

20 And loke what lyuing she coulde gette with the labour of hir handes, she brought it. And it happened that she toke a kidde, and brought it home:

21 And when hir husbande heard it crye, he sayde, loke that it be not stolen: restore it agayne to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate, or to touche any thing of theft.

22 Then was his wyfe angrie, and sayde, Nowe is thy hope become vayne openly, and thy almes deedes are manifest.

23 With these and suche like wordes, dyd she cast him in the teeth.

The.iiij. Chapter.

3. The prayer of Tobias. 7. Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto hir. 12. Hir prayer heard. 19. The Angel Raphael sent.

1 THen Tobias "toke it heauily, & with teares began to make his prayer, "or, sighed

2 Saying, O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy iudgementes are true: yea all thy wayes are mercie, faythfulnesse, & iudgment.

3 And nowe, O Lorde, be mindfull of me, and take no vengeance of my sinnes, neyther remember my mysdeedes, neyther the mysdeedes of my forefathers.

4 For we haue not bene obedient vnto thy commaundements: therfore are we spoyled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whome thou hast scattered vs.

5 And nowe, O Lorde, thy iudgements are great, for we haue not done according to thy commaundementes, neyther haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And now, O Lord, deale with me according to thy will, & commaunde my spirite to be receyued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to dye, than to lyue.

7 At the same time it happened, that Sara the daughter of Raguel at Rages, a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of hir fathers handmaydes,

8 That

8 That she had had seuen husbandes, which as sone as they were gone in vnto hir, were slaine of the diuell, called Asmodeus.
9 Therefore, when she reproued the mayden for hir fault, she answered hir, saying, God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou kyller of thy husbandes.
10 Wilt thou slaye me also, as thou hast slayne seuen men? At this voyce went Sara into an highe chamber of hir house, and three dayes and three nightes she neither ate nor dranke.
11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer hir from this rebuke.
12 Upon the thirde daye it came to passe, that when she had made an end of prayer, she prayed the Lorde, 13 Saying, Blessed be thy name, O God of our fathers, whiche when thou arte wroth, shewest mercie, and in time of trouble, thou forgiuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.
14 Unto thee, O Lorde, turne I my face, vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes.
15 I beseeche thee, O Lorde, lose me out of the bondes of this rebuke, or else take me vtterly away from off the earth.
16 Thou knowest Lorde, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncleanly lust:
17 I haue not kepte companie with those that passe their time in sport, neyther haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behauiour.
18 In husbande haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.
19 Now peraduenture, eyther I haue bene vnworthy of them, or else were they vnmeete for me: for thou happyly hast kepte me to another husbande.
20 For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man.
21 But euerie one that serueth thee, is sure of this, that if his life be in trying, it shall be crowned: and if he be in trouble, that God (no doubt) shall deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shall haue leaue to come vnto thy mercy.
22 For thou hast no pleasure in our "damnation: and why? after a stormе, thou makest the weather fayre and styll, after weeping & heauinesse, thou giuest great ioy.
23 Thy name, O God of Israell, be prayed for euer.
24 At the same time, were both their prayers heard, in the sight of the maiestie of the highest God.
25 And Raphael the holye Angell of the Lorde, was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers " came at one time together before God.

" or, were recited at one time together

The. iiij. Chapter.

Preceptes and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

1 SO when Tobias thought his prayer to be heard, that he might die, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias, A 2 And sayde vnto him, My sonne, heare the wordes of my mouth, and laye them in thyne heart as a foundation.
3 When God taketh away my soule, burie thou my bodye: and holde thy mother in honour, all the dayes of hir life.
4 For thou oughtest to remember what, and howe great perils she suffered for thee in hir wombe.
5 And when she also hath fulfilled the time of hir life, burie hir "beside me.
6 Haue God in thy thought, all the dayes of thy life, and beware least at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and least thou let slippe the commaundements of the Lorde our God.
7 Giue almes of thy goods, and turne neuer thy face from the poore: and so shall it come to passe, that the face of the Lorde shall not be turned away from thee. B
8 Be mercifull after thy power.
9 If thou haue muche, gyue plentifully: if thou hast litle, doe thy diligence gladly to giue of that litle:
10 For so gatherest thou thy selfe a good reward in the day of necessitie.
11 For mercy deliuereth from all sinne, and from death, and suffereth not the soule to come into darkenesse.
12 A great cofort is mercy before the highe God, vnto all them that shew it.
13 My son, keepe thee wel from all whoredome: and beside thy wife, suffer not thy selfe to knowe of sinne.
14 Let neuer pryde haue rule in thy mynd, nor in thy worde: for in pryde beganne al destruction. C
15 Whosoeuer worketh any thing for thee, immediately giue him his hire, and loke that thy hyred seruantes wages remayne not at all with thee.
16 Loke that thou neuer doe vnto another man, the thing that thou wouldest not another man should do vnto thee.
17 Eate thy breade with the hungrie and

" or, about.

powre, & couer the naked with thy cloathes.
18 Set thy breade and wyne vpon the burial of the righteous, and do not thou eate and drinke thereof with the sinners.
19 Aske euer counsell at the wise.
20 Be alway praying of God, and beseech him, that he will "order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest, or takest in hand, it may remaine in him.

"or, direct.

D 21 I certifie thee also, my son, that whē thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered ten talēts of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages, a citie of ỳ Medes, & his hād writing haue I by me.
22 And therefore, seeke some meanes howe thou mayest come by him, and receyue of him the sayde waight of siluer, and gyue him his hande writing againe.
23 My sonne, be not afrayde: trueth it is we leade heere a powre lyfe, but great good shall we haue, if we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and doe well.

The.v. Chapter.

2. Tobias is sent to Rages. 5. He meeteth with the Angell Raphaell, which did conduct him.

A 1 THen answerd Tobias his father, and saide, Father, all that thou hast commaūded me will I do, and that diligētly.
2 But howe I shall require this money, I can not tell, neither doth he know me, nor I him: What tokē shal I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knew it.
3 Then his father answered him, & sayde, I haue his hand writyng by me, which whē ỳ shewst him, immediatly he wil pay thee.
4 But goe thy waye nowe, and get thee some faythfull man to go with thee for an hyre, that thou mayest receiue the money while I am yet liuing.
5 Thē went Tobias out, & vpō ỳ streete he found a fayre yong mā stāding, girded vp, & as it were one ready to take his iourney.
6 And he knewe not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayde, From whence art thou, thou good yong man?

B 7 He answered, Of ỳ childrē of Israell, And Tobias said vnto him, Knowest ỹ ỳ way ỳ leadeth vnto the countrey of the Medes?
8 He answered, I knowe it well, and all those "streetes haue I gone oft times, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus, ỳ dwelleth in Rages, a citie of the Medes, which lyeth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

"or, wayes.

9 Tobias said vnto him, I pray thee tary for me, til I haue told my father these things.
10 Then went Tobias in, and told his father al: At the which his father maruelled, & prayed that he wold come in vnto him.
11 Nowe when he came in, he saluted him, and sayde, Joy be with thee for euermore.
12 And olde Tobias said, What ioy can I haue that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?
13 The yong man sayde vnto him, Be of good cheare, God shall helpe thee shortly.
14 And Tobias said vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus, vnto the citie of Rages in Medea? and when thou commest againe, I shall pay thee thy hyre. C
15 And the Angell sayde vnto him, I shall leade thy son, & bryng him to thee agayne.
16 Thē Tobias ānswered him, Tel me, I prai thee, of what house, or of what tribe art ỹ?
17 The Angell Raphaell sayde vnto hym, Seekest thou after the kinred of an hireling, or an hyred man him selfe, for thy sonne to go with him?
18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias the sonne of great Hananias.
19 And Tobias answered, Thou arte come of a great kinred: but, I pray thee, be not displeased ỳ I desire to know thy kinred.
20 The Angel sayde vnto him, Thy sonne shall I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sounde to thee agayne.
21 Then answered Tobias, and said, Wel, go on your way, & God be in your iourney, and his Angell beare you company. D
22 So when they had prepared all thing that they would take with thē in their iourney, Tobias had his father & mother farewel: & they went on their way both together.
23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and said, The staffe of our age hast ỹ taken away, & sent him from vs.
24 Would God that money had neuer bin, for the which thou hast sent him away.
25 For our pouertie was sufficient for vs, why we shoulde haue counted it riches, that we saw our sonne here.
26 Then said Tobias vnto hir, Weepe not, our sonne shal go safely, and come to vs againe sound, and thine eyes shall see him.
27 For I trust that the good Angell of God shall beare him company, and order well al the things that he doeth, so that yee shall come to vs againe with ioy. E
28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and held hir peace.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. Tobias deliuered from the fishe. 8. Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19. He conducteth him toward Sara.

1 SO Tobias went on his way, & a dog followed him: and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.

2 Then went he out to washe his feete, and beholde, there came forth an horrible fishe to deuoure him.

3 Of whome Tobias was afrayde, & cried with a loude voyce, saying, Lord, he commeth vpon mee.

4 And the angel sayd vnto him, Take him by the gille, and draw him to thee. And he did so, and drewe him vpon the lande: and the fishe began to leape at his feete.

5 Then sayde the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for the hart, the gall, and the lyuer, keepe them by thee: for these things are necessarie & good for medicines.

6 Tobias did so, and rosted the flesshe, and they toke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as muche as was sufficient for them, til they came to Rages a citie of the Medes.

B 7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and sayd vnto him, I pray thee brother Azaria, tell mee whereto are these things good of the fishe that thou hast bidden me keepe.

8 The Angel answered him, and sayde, If thou layest a peece of the hart vpon the coales, the smoke thereof driueth away all manner of euyll spirites, whyther it bee from man or from woman, so that from henceforth, the same shall come no more vnto them.

9 The gall is good to annoynt or to strike the eyes withal, where as there is any blemishe in them, so that they shalbe whole.

10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, Where wilt thou that wee remayne? The Angel answered, 11 And sayde, Here is a nygh kinseman of thine, & of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, & hath neyther sonne nor daughter but hir.

12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, & thou must marry hir.

13 And therefore desire hir of hir father, and he shall giue hir thee to wife.

C 14 Then answered Tobias, and sayde, As I vnderstande, shee hath beene maryed vnto seuen husbandes, & they all are dead: and I haue hearde saye, that the deuyll slue them.

15 I am afrayde therfore, least suche things happen vnto me also: which if it came to passe, seing I am the only sonne of my father and my mother, I shoulde bring them in their age with sorow to their graues.

16 Then said the angel Raphael vnto him, Heare mee, and I will tell thee what they be, of whome the deuill hath power.

17 Namely, they that receiue marriage after suche a fashion, that they shut God out from them, and from their heart, and giue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were an Horse and Mule, whiche haue no vnderstanding: vppon suche hath the deuill power.

18 But when thou takest hir, and art come into the chamber, withholde thy selfe from hir three dayes, & gyue thy diligence vnto nothing, but vnto prayer with hir.

19 And in the first night, roste the lyuer of the fishe, & the deuill shalbe driuen awaye.

20 The second night shalt thou be receyued D into the companie of the holy patriarches.

21 The thirde night shalt thou obteyne the blessing of God, so that whole chyldren or, sounde.
shalbe borne of you.

22 After the thirde night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, than for any fleshly lust, that in the seede of Abraham, thou mayest obteine the blessing in children.

The. vii. Chapter.

Tobias marrieth Sara, Raguels daughter.

1 THen went they in to Raguel, whiche I receyued them ioyfully.

2 And when Raguel loked vpon Tobias, he sayde vnto Anna his wife, How like is this yong man vnto my fathers sonne?

3 And when he had spoken this, he sayde, Whence be ye, ye yong men and our brethren? They sayde, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Niniue.

4 Then sayde Raguel vnto them, Knowe ye my brother Tobias? They sayde, Yea, we knowe him well.

5 And whē he had spokē much good of him, the angel sayde vnto Raguel, Tobias of whome ỹ askest, is this yong mans father.

6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, and weapt, and toke him about the necke, and kissed him,

7 And sayde, Gods blessing haue thou my B sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.

8 And Anna his wife, & Sara his daughter wept also.

9 Nowe when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a weather, and to make a feaste: and when he had exhorted them to sit downe to dinner,

10 Tobias sayde, I will neyther eate nor drinke here this day, except thou first graūt me my petition, and promise me to giue me thy daughter Sara.

21 When Raguell heard this, he was astonied, for he knewe what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto hir: and he beganne to feare that it should chaunce vnto him also in like maner. And while he stode so in doubt, and gaue the yong man no answere, 22 The Angell sayd vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue hir.

23 Then sayde Raguell, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers and teares in his sight:

℣ 24 And I beleue he caused you to come vnto me for the same intent, that this daughter of myne myght bee marryed in hir owne kinred, according to the lawe of Num.36.c. Moses: and nowe doubt thou not but I will giue hir vnto thee.

25 So he toke the right hand of his daughter, and gaue hir into the right hande of Tobias, and sayd, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blissing in you.

26 And they toke a letter, and made a writing of the maryage.

27 And then made they merry, and prayed God.

28 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade hir prepare another chāber.

29 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.

30 Then sayde he vnto hir, Be of good cheare my daughter: the Lorde of heauen giue thee ioye, for the heauinesse that thou hast suffered.

The.viij. Chapter.

2. Tobias driueth away the euill spirite. 4. He prayeth to God with his wife. 11. Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in lawe. 16. Raguell blisseth the Lorde.

1 NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the yong man in to hir.

2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the Angell, and toke out of his bagge a peece of the liuer of the fishe, and layde it vpon the hote coales.

3 So the Angell Raphaell toke holde of the diuell, and sent him away, and bounde him in ỹ wildernesse of the higher Egipt.

4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgin, and sayde, Up Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and "ouermorowe: for these three nights will we "reconcile our selues with God, and when the thirde holy night is past, we shal ioyne together in the duetie of maryage.

5 For we are the children of holy men, and we maye not come together as the heathen that knowe not God.

6 Then stode they vp both together, and besought God earnestly " that he would preserue them.

7 And Tobias sayde, O Lord God of our fathers, prayed be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floudes, and of all thy creatures that be therein.

8 Thou madest Adam of the moulde of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.

9 And nowe Lorde, thou knowest that it is not bycause of voluptuousnesse that I take this sister of myne to wife, but only for the loue of children, in whom thy name may be blessed for euer.

10 And Sara sayde, Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lorde, haue mercie vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sounde together to a good age.

11 And about the cocke crowing, it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:

12 And they wēt with him to make a graue.

13 For he sayde, It is chaunced nowe vnto him peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto hir.

14 Nowe when they had made the graue, ℭ Raguel came again to his wife, and said vnto hir, Sende one of thy maydens to loke if he be deade, that I may burie him afore it be light day.

15 So she sent a mayden to see: whiche when she came into the chamber, founde them whole and sound, sleeping together.

16 And so she came agayne, and brought good tydings: Then Raguell and Anna his wife prayed the Lorde, 17 And sayde, Prayed be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs, as we thought.

18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put awaye from vs the enimie that persecuted vs, 19 And haste shewed mercie vnto yonder two, the onely borne children of their parentes: O Lorde, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy prayse, and of their health: that all people may knowe, that thou onlye art God in all the earth.

20 And

10 And immediatly Raguel commaunded his ſeruants to fill the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light, 11 And bade his wyfe prepare a feaſte, and to make ready all things that were neceſſarie for meate, to ſuch as went by ẏ way.

12 He cauſed two fat kine alſo, & four weathers to be ſlayne, and meates to be prepared for all his neyghbours and freendes.

13 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.

14 As for all the good that he had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writing, that ẏ halfe which remayned, ſhould fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The.ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus, at the deſire of Tobias, whiche delyuereth the letter, and receyueth the money.

1 Then Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whome he thought to haue bene a man, and ſayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee harken vnto my wordes,

2 If I ſhoulde giue my ſelfe to be thy ſeruant, I ſhall not deſerue thy prouidence.

3 Neuertheleſſe, I beſeeche thee that thou wilt take the beaſtes and the ſeruantes, & go vnto Gabelus in Rages the citie of ẏ Medes, and deliuer him his hand writing, and receyue the money of him, and praye him to come to my mariage.

4 For thou knoweſt thy ſelfe, that my father doth number the dayes: and if I tarie one daye to long, he wyll be ſory in his minde.

5 Nowe ſeeſt thou how earneſtly Raguel hath required mee, ſo that I can not ſaye him nay.

6 Then toke Raphael foure of Raguels ſeruauntes, and two Camels, and went vnto Rages the citie of the Medes: and when he had found Gabelus, he gaue him his hande writing, and receyued all the money.

7 He tolde him alſo of Tobias, the ſonne of Tobi, howe all things had happened: and cauſed him to come with him to the marryage.

8 Nowe when he came into the houſe of Raguel, he founde Tobias ſitting at the table: & he leaped vp, and they kiſſed one another, and Gabelus weapt, and prayſed God,

9 And ſayde, The bleſſing of the God of Iſrael haue thou, for thou arte the ſonne of a right vertuous and iuſte man, and of one that feareth God, and gyueth greate almes:

10 And bleſſing haue thy wyfe, and your elders,

11 That ye may ſee your children, and your childers children, vnto the third and fourth generation: and your ſeede be bleſſed of ẏ God of Iſrael, whiche raygneth worlde without ende.

12 And when they all had ſayd, Amen, they went to the feaſte: but with the feare of the Lorde held they the feaſt of the marryage.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Tobias and his wyfe thinke long for theyr ſonne. 10. Raguel ſendeth away Tobias and Sara.

1 NOwe while yong Tobias made long tarying, by reaſon of the marryage, his father was full of care and heauineſſe, ſaying, Canſt thou thinke what ſhould be the cauſe that my ſonne taryeth ſo long? or why he ſhould be kept ſo long there? A

2 Thinkeſt thou Gabelus is deade, and no man will gyue him the money?

3 Thus beganne he to be very ſorowfull, he and Anna his wyfe with him: and began to weep both togither, becauſe their ſonne was not come agayne vnto them at the day appoynted.

4 As for his mother, ſhee weapt with diſcomfortable teares, and ſayde, Wo is mee my ſonne. Oh what ayled vs to ſend thee away into a ſtrange countrey, thou lyght of our eyes, thou ſtaffe of our age, thou comforte of our lyfe, thou hope of our generation?

5 Seeing all the things that wee haue are onely in thee, we ſhould not haue ſent thee away from vs.

6 Then Tobias (comforted hir, and) ſayde, Hold thy peace, & be not diſcomforted, our ſonne is whole & ſounde: the man that we ſent him withall, is faythfull ynough.

7 Neuertheleſſe, ſhee myght in no wyſe be comforted: but dayly went out, looked about, & went about all the ſtreetes, whereby ſhee thought he ſhoulde come agayne: that if it were poſſible, ſhe myght ſee him comming a farre off. B

8 But Raguel ſayde vnto his ſonne in lawe, Tarrie here, & I ſhall ſende a meſſenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.

9 Tobias ſayde vnto him, I am ſure that my father & my mother count euery daye, and that their hearts are ſory.

10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and he wouldē in no wyse heare him, hee delyuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe parte of all his good, in seruantes and handmaydens, in sheepe, in cammelles, and in kine, and much money: and so sent him away frō him with healthy and ioy.

11 And sayde, The holy Angel of the Lord bee with you in your iourney, and bryng you forth safe and sounde, that yee may finde all things in good case with your elders, & that mine eyes may see your children afore I dye.

12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed hir, and let hir go.

13 Exhorting hir to hon our hir father and mother in lawe, to loue hir husbande, to rule well hir housholde, to keepe hir house in good order, & to shew hir self faultlesse.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The returne of Tobias to his father. 11. Howe he was receyued. 15. His father hath his sight restored, and prayseth the Lorde.

A 1 SO they nowe were going homeward ward agayne, vppon the eleuenth daye they came to Charran, which lyeth in the halfe way toward Ninive.

2 And the Angel sayde, Brother Tobias, thou knowest howe thou hast left thy father.

3 Therfore, if it please thee, we two will go before, and let the household with thy wyfe and the cattell come faire & softly after vs.

4 And when Tobias was content, that they should go before, Raphael sayde vnto him, Take of the gall of ỳ fishe with thee, for it shall be necessarie. So Tobias toke of the gall, and they went their way.

5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate dayly by the way syde vppon the toppe of an hill, from whence she might see farre about hir.

6 And whyle she was wayting ther for his comming, she loked a farre off, and anone she perceyued hir sonne comming, & ranne and tolde hir husbande, saying; Beholde, thy sonne commeth.

B 7 And Raphael sayde vnto Tobias, As soone as thou commest into the house, immediatly worshippe the Lorde thy God, and giue thankes vnto him: then go to thy father, and kisse him,

8 And straight wayes strike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fishe that thou hast brought with thee: For bee sure that his eyes shall straight way be opened, and thy father shall see the lyght of heauen, & shall reioyce at the sight of thee.

9 Then the dogge that had ben with them in their iourney, ranne before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his tayle for gladnesse.

10 So the blinde father arose, and beganne to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruaunte his hande, and ranne to meete his sonne, 11 Received him, and kissed him, he and his wife, & they both began to weepe for ioy.

12 Nowe when they had worshipped and thanked God, they sate downe.

13 Then toke Tobias of the fishes gal, and annoynted his fathers eyes:

14 And taryed halfe an houre, and then began the blemishe to go out of his eyes, like as it had bin the white skinne of an egge. C

15 Which Tobias toke, and drew from his eyes, & immediately he receyued his sight.

16 Then they praysed God, he & his wyfe, and all they that knewe him.

17 And Tobias sayd, O Lord God of Israel, I giue thee prayse & thankes, for thou hast chastened mee, and made me whole: and lo, nowe do I see my sonne Tobias.

18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sones wyfe also whole and sounde, with all the householde and cattell, with Cammelles, and muche money of his wyues, and with the money that hee had receyued of Gabelus.

19 And he told his father and his mother al the benefites which God had done for him by the man that led him.

20 Achior also, and Nabath Tobias sisters sonnes came, and were glad and reioyced with him, by reason of all the good things that God had shewed vnto him: And so for the space of seuen dayes they made merry, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The.xij. Chapter.

2. Tobias declareth to his father the pleasures that Raphael had done him. 5. The which he woulde recompence. 11. Raphael declareth that he is an Angel sent of God.

1 THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and sayde, What may we giue this holy man, that went with thee?

2 Tobias answered his father, and sayde, Father, what rewarde shall wee giue him? Or what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath beene my guyde, and brought mee

mee safe agayne: he receyued the money from Gabelus, he caused mee to gette my wyfe, he dyone the euill spirite from hir, he hath beene an occasion of gladnesse to hir father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of ỳ fishe, he hath made thee to see the lyght of heauen: yea, we all haue receyued great good of him.

4 Howe should we worthily deserue these things vnto him? But, I pray thee my father that thou wilt desire him, if happely he will vouchsafe to take with him, the halfe of all that we haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called him, toke him aside, and beganne to praye him that he woulde bee content to take in good worth, the halfe parte of all that they had brought.

6 Then sayd he secretly vnto them, Prayse ye the God of heauen, and giue thankes vnto him before all men lyuing: for hee hath shewed his mercie vnto you.

B 7 It is good to hyde the kings secrete: but to shew and to prayse the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, & mercye is better than to hoord vp treasures of golde.

9 For mercie deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercie, and lyfe euerlasting.

10 But they that do synne, and vnryghteousnesse, are the enimies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the truth, and will hyde no secrete saying from you.

12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buryedst the deade, and lefte thy dinner, and hyddest the deade in thine house vpon the daye tyme, that thou myghtest burye them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lorde.

13 And bicause thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessarie that temptation shoulde trye thee.

C 14 And nowe hath the Lorde sente mee to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wife from the euill spirite.

15 For I am Raphael an Angel, one of the seuen that stande before the Lorde.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afraide, and trembled, and fell downe vpon their faces vnto the grounde.

17 Then sayde the Angel, Peace bee with you, feare not.

18 For where as I haue bene with you, it is the will of God: giue prayse & thankes vnto him.

19 You thought that I did eate and drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, & drinke that cannot be seene of men. Gen. 18. a. Judi. 13. c.

20 Nowe therefore is the time that I must turne agayne vnto him that sent mee: but be ye thankfull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had spoken these wordes, he was taken awaye out of their sight, so that they coulde see him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flatte vpon their faces, by the space of three houres, & praysed God: and when they rose vp, they told all his wondrous workes.

The. xiij. Chapter.

A thankesgiuing of Tobias, who exhorteth al to prayse the Lorde.

1 THen olde Tobias opened his mouth, A and praysed the Lorde, & sayd, Great art thou, O Lorde for euermore, and thy kingdome worlde without ende.

2 For thou scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hell, & bringest out agayne: and there is none that may escape thyne hand.

3 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, ye children of Israel, and praise him in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen whiche knowe him not, he hath scattered you, to the intent that ye shoulde shewe forth his marueylous workes, and cause them for to knowe that there is none other God almightie but he.

5 He hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, & for his owne mercie sake shall he saue vs.

6 Consider then howe he hath dealte with you, and praise him with feare and dreade: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your workes.

7 I will prayse him euen in the land of my B captiuitie: for hee hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinfull people.

8 Turne you therfore, O ye sinners, & doe righteousnesse before God, and be ye sure that he will shewe his mercie vppon you.

9 As for mee and my soule, we will reioyce in God.

10 O prayse the Lord al ye his chosen: hold the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankefull vnto him.

11 O Ierusalem thou city of God, the Lord hath punished thee for the workes of thyne owne handes.

12 O prayse the Lorde in thy good things, and giue thankes to the euerlasting God, that hee may buylde vp his tabernacle agayne in thee, that hee may call agayne vnto thee all suche as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a fayre light shalt thou shine, & all the endes of the world shall honour thee.

C 14 The people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shall bring giftes, and worship the Lorde in thee, and thy land shall they haue for a sanctuarie: for they shall call vpon the great name in thee.

15 Cursed shall they bee that despise thee, & all that blaspheme thee shall be condempned: but blessed shall they bee that buylde thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they al shalbe blessed, and gathered togither vnto the Lord.

17 Blessed are all they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.

18 Prayse thou the Lorde, O my soule: for the Lord our God hath deliuered his citie Ierusalem from all hir troubles.

19 I will count my selfe happy, if my seede remaine to see ỹ clearnesse of Ierusalem.

20 The gates of Ierusalem shalbe builded with Saphir and Smaragde, and all the cõpasse of hir walls with precious stones.

D 21 All hir streetes shalbe paued with whyte and fayre stone, & in all streetes shall Halleluia be song.

22 Praysed be the Lord which hath exalted hir, that his kingdome may be vppon hir for euermore. Amen.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

5. Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6. He prophesieth the destruction of Niniue. 7. And the restoring of Ierusalem and the temple. 13. The death of Tobias and his wyfe. 16. Tobias the yonger, his age and death.

A 1 AND so Tobias made an ende of speaking: And after that Tobias had gotten his sighte againe, he lyued fourtie and two yeeres and saw his childers children.

2 Nowe when he was an hundred & two yeeres olde (he dyed, and) was buried honourably in Niniue.

3 For when he was fyre and fiftie yeeres of age, he lost the sight of his eyes: and when he was threescore yeeres olde, he gate his sight agayne.

4 The residue of his life led he in ioy, and increased wel in the feare of God, and departed in peace.

5 But in the houre of his deathe, hee called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen yong " syrysngaldes his sonnes children, and sayde vnto them,

6 The destruction of Niniue is at hande, (for the worde of the Lord cannot fayle) and our brethren that are scattered out of the lande of Israel, shall come thither agayne.

7 And the whole lande of it that hath bene waste, shalbe filled, and the house of God that was brent in it, shalbe buylded againe: and all suche as feare God, shall returne thither.

8 The heathen then also shall forsake their idols, and come to Ierusalem, and dwell there:

9 And all the Kings of the earth shall bee glad in hir, and worshippe the Lord God of Israel.

10 And therefore my children, heare your father, serue the Lorde in the truth, seeke after his will, to do the thing that pleaseth him:

11 Commaunde your children that they do right, giue almes, be mindfull of God, and euer be thankefull vnto him in truth, and with all their power.

12 Heare mee nowe therefore my children, and abyde not heere: but in what day ouer ye haue buryed your mother by mee in one sepulchre, get you from hence.

13 For I see that the wickednesse of it shall bring it to (destruction and) ende.

C 14 After the deathe of his mother, Tobias departed awaye from Niniue, with his wyfe, and children, and with his childers children, and came agayne to his father and mother in lawe, 15 And founde them whole and in a good age, and toke the care of them: and he closed their eyes, and was heyre vnto al Raguels goods, and saw the fifth generation, and his childers childrens.

16 And ninetie and nyne yeeres beeing ended in the feare of God, they buryed hym with ioy.

17 And all his kinrede and posteritie continued in a good lyfe and holye conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the lande.

The ende of the booke of Tobias.

1. The building of Ecbatanis. 5. Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12. He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

1 Rphaxad the king of the Medes subdued many people vnto his dominiō, and builded a noble strong citie, which he called Ecbatanis.

2 The walles of it made he of free stone foure square, seuentie cubites hyghe, and thirtie cubites broade: He made towers there vpon, an hundred cubites high.

3 But along the foure corners, euerie syde was twentie sote broade: he made the portes in the heigth, like as the towers.

4 (This king) trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his glorious charets.

5 So in the twelfth yeere of his raigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the kyng of the Assyrians, whiche raigned in the great citie of Niniue, fought against Arphaxad:

6 And ouercame him in the great field called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadason, in the fielde of Erioth the king of the Elikes.

7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelte in Cilicia, in Damascus, and Libanus:

8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel, and Cedar, and to suche as dwelte in Galilee, in the great fielde of Esdrelon:

9 To all them that dwelte in Samaria, and beyonde the water of Jordane, vnto Jerusalem, and the whole lande of Jesse, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto all these, did Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, send messengers.

11 But they al with one consent would not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the king toke indignation at all those landes, and sware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those cōtries.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Nabuchodonosor commaunded presumptuously, that all people shoulde be brought in subiection, 7. and to destroy those that disobeyed him. 8. The preparation of Holophernes armie. 12. The conquest of his enimies.

1 IN the thirteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vpon the two & twentith day of the firste moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge him selfe. A

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines, and men of warre, and shewed them his secret counsell.

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominiō.

4 Nowe when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the kyng called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres.

5 And sayde vnto him, Goe thy way forth againste all the kingdomes of the Weast, and specially against those that haue despised my commaundement.

6 Thou shalte spare no realme, all strong cities shalte thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holophernes called together all the captaines and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustred the souldiers vnto the host, like as the king commaūded him, (namely) an hundred and twentie thousand fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousand archers vpon horsebacke. B

8 All his ordinance sent he before, with an innumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was well prouided for, with oxen and small cattell, and that without number.

9 He appoynted to prepare corne out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Muche golde and siluer also toke he out of the kings house.

11 So he toke his iourney, and all his host, with charets, horsemen, and archers: of whome there were so many, that they couered the grounde of the lande lyke the Grashoppers.

12 And when he was gone past the borders of the Assyrians, he came toward the great mountaines of Ange, which lye vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into al their caſtels, & won euery ſtrong holde.

13 As for the wealthy citie of Melothus, he brake it downe, and ſpoyled all the childre of Tharſis, and the Iſmaelites, whiche lay toward the wildernelle, and vpon the ſouth ſide of the land of Chellon.

C 14 He went ouer Euphrates alſo, and came into Meſopotamia, and brake downe all the hygh cities y were there, frō the broke of Mambre, till a man come to the ſea:

15 And he toke the borders in, from Cilicia, vnto the coaſtes of Japhet, towarde the South.

16 He caried away all the Madianites, and ſpoyled all their goods, & whoſoeuer withſtode him, he ſlewe them with the ſworde.

17 After this, he went downe into the field of Damaſcus, in the time of haruell, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines he cauſed to be cut downe.

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The.iii. Chapter.

1. The people ſubiect to Holophernes. 12. He deſtroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonoſor might only be worſhipped.

A 1 SO the kings and princes of all the cities and landes, ſent their embaſſadours, namely they of Syria and Meſopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Lybia, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and ſayde.

2 Let thy wrath ceaſe towardes vs: it is better for vs to ſerue the great kyng Nabuchodonoſor with our lyues, and to be ſubiecte vnto thee, than that we ſhoulde dye, & with our ſlaughters ſuffer the euils of our bondage.

3 All our cities and poſſeſſions, all mountaines and hylles, all fieldes, greate and ſmall cattell, ſhepe, goats, horſes, and cammelles, all our goods and houſholdes be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy ſubiection be all that we haue.

5 We our ſelues and alſo our children will be thy ſeruantes.

6 Come vnto vs peaceably, Lorde, and vſe our ſeruice at thy pleaſure.

B 7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaines, with horſemen, and great power, and conquered all ſtrong fenced cities, and all that dwelt in the lande.

8 And out of all cities he toke ſtrong men, and ſuche as were meete for the warre (to helpe him.)

9 And there came ſuche a feare vpon thoſe countreyes, that the inhabiters of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forthe to meete him as he came:

10 And receyued him (honourably) with garlandes, and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pypes.

11 Neuertheleſſe, though they did this, yet might they not aſſwage his rigorous ſtomacke.

12 But he deſtroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonoſor the king had commaunded him that he ſhoulde rote out all the goddes of the "land, to the intent that he only might be called (and take) for God, of the nations, whiche Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

14 So went he through Syria Sobal, and through all Appamea, and all Meſopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the lande of Gabaa.

15 And toke their cities, and remayned there thirtie dayes, in which ſpace he cauſed all the whole multitude of his hoſte to be gathered together.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. The Iſraelites were afrayde, and defended 3 their countrey. 5. Eliacim the prieſt writeth to Bethulia, that they ſhoulde fortifie themſelues. 8. They cryed to the Lorde, and humbled themſelues before him.

1 WHen the children of Iſrael that dwelt in Iurie heard this, they were ſore afrayde of him. 1

2 There came ſuch trembling alſo & feare vpon them, leaſt he ſhould doe vnto the citie of Ieruſalem, and the temple of the Lorde, as he had done to other cities and their temples.

3 So they ſent into all Samaria rounde about vnto Jericho, (tooke in) and occupied all the toppes of the mountaines:

4 And made faſt the townes with walles, and prepared corne for them againſte the battell.

5 Eliacim alſo the prieſt wrote vnto al them that dwelt towarde Eſdrelon, which lyeth ouer againſt the great fielde by Dothain, and vnto all thoſe by whome men might haue paſſage vnto them,

6 That they ſhould take in the ways of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way and paſſage to Ieruſalem, and that they ſhould hold diligent watch where any ſtraight was betwixt the mountaines.

7 And

7 And the childꝛē of Iſraell did as Eliacim the prieſte of the Lorde had commaunded them.

8 And all the people cryed vnto the Lorde earneſtly, and humbled their ſoules with faſting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The prieſtes put on hairie clothes, and layde the yong babes before the temple of the Lorde, and couered the aulter of the Lord with an hairie cloth:

10 And with one accorde they cryed vnto the Lorde God of Iſraell, that their children ſhould not be giuen into a praye, and their wiues into a ſpoyle, that their citie ſhoulde not be layd waſte, and that their sanctuarie ſhoulde not be vnhalowed, and ſo they to be a ſhame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

11 Then Eliacim the hyghe prieſte of the Lorde went rounde about all Iſraell, and ſpake vnto them, 12 Saying, Be ye ſure that the Lorde will heare your petitions, if ye continue ſtedfaſt in faſtings and prayers in the ſight of the Lorde.

13 Remember Moſes the ſeruaunt of the Lorde, which ouerthrewe the Amalechites that truſted in their might and power, in their hoſt, in their ſhieldes, in their charets and horſemen, not with wepons, but with holy prayers.

14 Euen ſo ſhall the enimies of Iſraell be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begonne.

15 So vpon this exhortation they continued in prayer before the Lord:

16 In ſo much, that they which offred burnt ſacrifices vnto the Lorde, offred ẏ offrings vnto the Lorde, being arayed in hayrie clothes, and had aſhes vpon their heades.

17 And they all beſought God from their whole heart, that he would viſite his people of Iſraell.

The.v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doth declare to Holophernes the maner of the Iſraelites.

1 NOw worde came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Aſſyrians, that the childꝛen of Iſraell prepared themſelues to make reſiſtance, and howe they had ſtopped ẏ ways betwixt ẏ moũtains.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon,

3 And ſayde vnto them, Tell me what people is this that keepeth in the mountains? or what manner, and howe great cities theirs are? What is their power? Or what maner of hoſte haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why doe they deſpyſe vs more than all thoſe that dwell in the Eaſt, and come not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

5 Then Achior the captaine of the Ammonites, anſwered, and ſayd, Syr, if it pleaſe thee to heare, I will tell the trueth before thee, concerning this people that dwell in the mountaynes, and there ſhall no vntrueth go out of my mouth.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwelt firſte in Meſopotamia, for they would not folowe the gods of their fathers that were in the land of the Chaldees, B

8 And ſo forſoke they the cuſtome of their forefathers, whiche had many goddes, and worſhipped one God that made heauen and earth: which alſo commaunded them that they ſhould go from thence, and dwel at Charran. Gen.12.a.

9 Now when there came a dearth into the whole lande, they went downe to Egypt, and there they dwelt foure hundred yeres, in the which they multiplyed greatly, that their hoſt might not be numbred. Gen.15.c. Acts.7.a. Exod.12.f. Gala.3.c.

10 And when the king of Egypt oppreſſed them, and yoked them in building of his cities, with making of clay and brick, they cryed vnto God their Lorde, which puniſhed the whole lande of Egypt with diuers plagues.

11 And when the Egyptians had caſt them out, and the plague ceaſed from them, and they followyng after them, to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage:

12 While they were fleeing away, the God of heauen opened the ſea, ſo that the waters ſtode faſte vpon both the ſides as a wall, and theſe went through the bottome of the ſea drye ſhod.

13 In the whiche place, when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vppon them, they were ſo ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remayned not one to tell them that came after howe it happened.

14 So when this people was paſſed thorowe the red ſea, they came into the wilderneſſe of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the ſonne of man had neuer reſted. C

15 There were the bitter waters made ſweet for them, that they might drinke, and forty yeeres had they meate from heauen.

16 Wherſoeuer they went, without bowe & arrowe, without buckler or ſworde, their God fought for them, and cauſed them to haue the victorie.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people except it were whē they departed vnfaithfully from the worſhipping of the Lorde their God.

18 But as oft as they worſhipped any other beſide their God, he gaue them ouer to be ſpoyled, to be ſlayne, & to be put to cōfuſiō.

19 Neuertheleſſe, as often as they were ſorie for their departing frō the worſhip of their God: the ſame God of heauen gaue them power & ſtrength to withſtand (their enimies.)

Joſu. 12. c. 20 Moreouer, they ſlue the king of ỳ Chanaanites, Iebuſites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, & Amorites, and al the mighty in Heſebon, and toke their landes and cities in poſſeſſion:

D 21 And ſo long as they ſinned not in the ſight of their God, it went wel with them: for their God hateth vnrighteouſneſſe.

Jud. 2. b. 4. Re. 25. a. 22 For in times paſte when they went out of the waye which God had giuen them, that they ſhould walke in it, they were deſtroted in diuers battels of many nations, and many of them were caried away priſoners vnto a ſtrange countrey.

1. Eſd. 1. a. 23 But nowe lately they haue turned themſelues againe vnto the Lorde their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were ſcattered abroade: and thus they conquered theſe mountaynes, and dwell therein: and as for Jeruſalem, where their ſanctuarie is, they haue it againe in poſſeſſion.

24 And therefore my Lorde, make diligent inquiſition, if this people haue done wickednelle in the ſight of their God, then let vs go vp againſt them: for doubtles their God ſhall deliuer them into thy handes, and ſubdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not diſpleaſed their God, we ſhall not be able to withſtand them: for their God ſhal defēd them, and ſo ſhal we be a ſhame to al the worlde.

E 26 Now when Achior had ſpoken out theſe wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to ſlay him, and ſayde one to another, 27 What is he this, which dare ſaye that the children of Iſraell are able to withſtande Nabuchodonoſor the king, and his hoſtes? whereas they are an vnweaponed people, without ſtrength or vnderſtanding of the feates of warre?

28 That Achior therefore may knowe that he hath deceiued vs, we will go vp into the mountaines: and when the mightie men of them are taken, he with them ſhall be ſtickt with the ſworde:

29 That al the people may know that Nabuchodonoſor is the God of the earth, and that there is none other beſide him.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. Holophernes blaſphemeth God, whome Achior confeſſed. 14. Achior is deliuered into the handes of them of Bethulia. 18. The Bethulians crie vnto the Lorde.

1 GOD when they had left off ſpeaking, Holophernes toke ſore indignation, and ſayde vnto Achior. I

2 For ſo much as thou haſt prophecied vnto vs, ſaying, That the people of Iſraell ſhall be defended of their God: I will ſhew thee that ther is no God but Nabuchodonoſor,

3 Yea, when we ſlaye them all as one man, thou alſo ſhalt periſhe with them through the ſworde of the Aſſyrians, and all Iſrael ſhall be deſtroyed with thee:

4 And then ſhalt thou feele that Nabuchodonoſor is the Lorde of the whole earth: then ſhall the ſworde of my knyghthod go through thy ſides, and thou ſhalt fal down ſtickt among the wounded of Iſraell, and "ſhalt not come to thy ſelfe againe, but be "a. he bitterly deſtroyed with them. ſhal not

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkeſt thy prophecie to be true, why doeſt thou then chaunge thy colour? why art thou afraid? Thinkeſt thou that my wordes are not able to be perfourmed?

6 But that thou mayeſt knowe that thou ſhalt feele theſe things with them, behold, from this houre forth will I ſend ther vnto yonder people, that when the puniſhement of my ſworde (which they haue worthyly deſerued) falleth vpon them, thou mayeſt be puniſhed with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his ſeruauntes to take Achior, and to carie him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the handes of the children of Iſraell. S

8 Then Holophernes ſeruantes toke him, and went through the playne fielde: but when they drew nigh vnto the mountaines, the ſling caſters came out againſt them.

9 Neuertheleſſe they gat them away by the ſide of the mountaine, and bounde Achior hande and foote to a tree, and ſo left him

bounde withes, and turned againe vnto their Lorde.

10 After that, the children of Israell went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, losed him, brought him into Bethulia, set him in the middest of the people, and asked him what the matter was, that the Assyrians had left him bound?

11 Ozias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is also called Gothoniell, were the principall rulers at the same time.

12 Now when Achior stode in the middest of the Senatours, and before them all, he tolde them what answere he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he asked him, and howe Holophernes people woulde haue slaine him for so saying:

13 And howe Holophernes him selfe was wroth, and commaunded him for the same cause to be deliuered vnto the Israelites: that when he ouercame the children of Israell, he might commaunde Achior also to be put to death with diuers tormentes, bicause he said, The God of heauē is their defender.

¶ 14 And when Achior had playnely tolde out all these thinges, all the people fell down vpon their faces, praysing the Lord, and powred out their prayers together vnto the Lord, with a generall complaint and weeping,

15 And sayd, O Lorde God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pryde, and loke vpon our lowlynesse, and consider howe it standeth with thy sainctes, and make it to be knowne that thou forsakest not those which hold them fast by thee: and how that thou bringest them lowe that presume of them selues, and make their boast in their owne strength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (which they had made ỹ whole day long) was ended, they comforted Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whose power and strength thou hast praysed, shal reward thee, that thou shalte rather see their destruction.

18 When the Lord our God then shall giue his seruauntes this libertie, God be also with thee among vs: so that as it shall please thee, so thou, with all thine, mayest dwell with vs:

19 Now when Ozias had ended the counsell, he toke him into his house, and made a great supper, 20 Called the elders to it: and so they refreshed them selues after the fasting.

21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their prayers all the night long "in the congregation, and besought the God of Israell for helpe.

"or, within the Church.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. Holophernes doth besiege Bethulia. 8. The counsell of the Idumeans and other against the Israelites. 23. The Bethulians murmure against the gouernours for lacke of water.

1 The next day Holophernes cōmaūded his host to go vp against Bethulia. A

2 There were an hundred & twentie thousande fighting men on foote, and two and twentie thousand horsemen, beside the preparing of them that were wonne, and came to them on euery side out of the coūtreys and cities which he had taken.

3 All these prepared them selues vnto the battell against the Israelites, and came on by the hill side, vnto the toppe that loketh ouer against Dothain, from the place whiche is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lieth toward Esdrelon.

4 Now when the children of Israell sawe so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, strawed ashes vpon their heades, and prayed with one accord, that the God of Israell would shew his mercy vpon his people.

5 And so they toke their weapons, and sate betwixte the mountaines in the narowe place, and kept the way day and night.

6 But while Holophernes was going rounde about, he found the water spring, whiche from the South syde was conueyed into the citie by a conduite, and hee commaunded their conduyte to be cut in sunder.

7 There were welles also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretely, more for pleasure "than for necessitie. B "or, they vsed drinke thē.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and sayde, The children of Israell trust neyther in speare nor arrowe, but haue taken in, and keepe the mountaynes, and steepe hilles defende them.

9 That thou mayest ouercome them therefore without the stryking of any battell, set men to keepe the welles, that they drawe no water out of them, so shalte thou destroye them without sworde, or at the least they shall be so feeble, that they muste be fayne to giue ouer the citie, whiche they thinke not able to be wonne, for so muche as it lieth in the mountaines.

10 These words pleased Holophernes well, and all his men of warre, and he set an hūdred at euery well rounde about.

11 And whē this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cesterns, and al that had water, fayled them that dwelte in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drinke inough for one day, for the people had water giuen them dayly in a measure.

12 Then came the men and women, yong persons and children, all vnto Ozias, and sayde all with one voyce, 13 God be iudge betwixte vs and thee, for thou hast dealt euill with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the king of the Assyrians, therefore hath God solde vs into their handes.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas we are brought downe before their eyes, in thirst, and great destruction. ℂ

15 Therefore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that we may all yeelde our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes.

16 For better it is that we be captiue, and prayse the Lorde with our lyues, than to be slaine and perishe, and to be laughed to skorne, and shamed of euery man, when we see our wiues & children die before our eyes.

17 We take heauen and earth this daye to record, & the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to (the deseruing of) our sinnes, (and giue you warning,) that ye giue vp the citie nowe into the power of Holophernes hoste, that our ende may be short with the sworde, which else shall endure long for want of water, & for thirst.

18 When they had spoken out these words, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole congregation (and that of euerie man,) and they cried a whole hourt long vnto God with one voyce, "or, many hourrs.

19 Saying, We haue sinned with our fathers, we haue done amisse, we haue dealt wickedly.

20 Thou that art gratious, haue mercy vpon vs, or punish our vnrighteousnesse with thine own scourge, and giue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people which know thee not: D

21 That they may not say among the heathen, Where is their God?

22 And when they were so wearie with this crying & weeping, they held their peace,

23 Ozias stode vp with watrie eyes, & said, O take good harts vnto you, deare brethrē, (and be of good cheare,) and let vs wayte yet these fiue dayes for mercy of the Lord:

24 Peraduenture he shall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his name.

25 But if he helpe vs not when the fiue days are past, we shall do as ye haue sayd.

The. viii. Chapter.

1. The parentage, life, and conuersation of Iudith. 11. She rebuketh the faintnesse of the gouernours. 12. She sheweth that they shoulde not tempt God, but waite vpon him for succour. 33. Hir enterprise against the enimies.

1 AND it happened, when these wordes came to the eares of Judith a widow, which was the daughter of Merari, ỹ son of Idox, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sone of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sone of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben: J

2 And hir husbande was called Manasses, which dyed in ỹ days of the barlyharuest.

3 For while he was binding the sheaues together in the field, the heate came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.

4 Now was Judith his desolate widowe, three yeres and fiue monethes.

5 And in the higher partes of hir house she made hir selfe a priuie chamber, where she dwelt, being closed in with hir maidens.

6 She ware a sinocke of haire, and fasted all the dayes of hir life, except the Sabbothes, and new Mones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israell kept.

7 She was a verie fayre and beautiful person, hir husband also had left hir great ryches, a plenteous household, great inmouueable possessions, and many cattell. 5

8 This Judith was a woman of verie good reporte with euery one, for she feared the Lord greatly: and there was no body that spake an euill word of hir.

9 When this Judith heard how Ozias had promised the people, that after the fifth day he would giue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, she sent for the elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to hir, she sayde, What thing is this, wherein Ozias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lorde.

12 This deuise obteineth no mercy of god: but but prouoketh him vnto wrath & displesure

13 Will ye let the mercy of the Lord a time, and appoint him a day after your will?
14 Neuertheles, for so much as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beseeching him of grace.
15 For God threatneth not as a man, neyther will he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.
16 And therefore let vs heartily fall downe before him, & serue him with a meke spirit.
17 And with weeping eyes saye vnto the Lorde, that he deale with vs according to his owne will speedily in mercy: that like as our heart is nowe vexed and brought lowe through the pryde of them, it "maye so be comforted through his grace:
18 In so much as we folowe not the sinnes of our fathers, which forsoke their God, and worshipped other goddes:
19 For the whiche sinne they perysshed with the swoorde, were spoyled, and brought to shame, of all their enimies: as for vs we know none other God but only him.
20 For whose comforte let vs tarie with meekenesse, and he shall require and make inquisition for our bloud from the vexations of our enimies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise vp against vs, and put them to dishonor, euen the Lord our god.
21 Therefore deare brethren, seeing ye are the (honourable and) elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth all vpon you, lift vp their hearts with your exhortation, that they maye call to remembrance howe our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might be proued, if they worshipped their God aright.
22 They ought to remember, howe our father Abraham being tempted, and tryed through many tribulations, "was founde a louer and friend of God.
23 So was Isahac, so was Jacob, so was Moses: and all they that pleased God, passed stedfast in fayth through manyfold troubles.
24 Agayne, they that receyued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put them selues forth with vnpatience and murmuring against God, 25 Perished of the destroyer, and were slain of serpents.
26 And therefore shoulde not we vndertake to be auenged for the things that are done vnto vs:
27 But to consider that all these punyshementes are farre lesse than our sinnes and mysdeedes, and beleeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the seruantes of God, for amendment, and not for our destruction.
28 Then sayde Ozias and the elders vnto Judith, All that thou speakest is true, and no man can reproue thy words.
29 Praye thou for vs nowe therefore (vnto God,) for thou arte an holy woman, and fearest God.
30 And Judith sayde vnto them, Seeing ye knowe that my wordes are of God, 31 Then proue my counsell and deuise: if it be of God: and beseeche God that he will bring my counsell to good ende.
32 (Thus haue I deuised,) Ye shall stande this night before the porte, and I will goe forth with Abra my mayden: and praye ye therefore vnto God, that he wyll graciously remember his people of Israel within fiue dayes, as ye haue sayde.
33 As for the thing that I goe in hande withall, aske ye no questions of it: and tyll I bring you worde agayne of it, doe ye nothing else but praye vnto the Lorde our God for me.
34 Then Ozias the prince of the people of Juda, sayde vnto hir, Goe thy waye in peace, the Lord be with thee, that we may be auenged of our enimies. And so they went from hir againe.

The. ix. Chapter.

1. Iudith humbleth hir selfe before the Lorde, and maketh hir prayers for the delyuerance of hir people. 7. Agaynst the pryde of the Assyrians, 11. God is the helpe of the humble.

1 NOw when they were "gone their way, Judith went into hir closet, put on a hairie smock, strawed ashes vpon hir head, fell downe before the Lord, and cryed vnto him, saying,
2 O Lorde God of my father Simeon, which gauest him a swoorde for "a defence agaynste the enimies that vsed violence in their vncleanneste, and that rauished the virgin, (and) put hir to shame and confusion:
3 Thou that gauest their wyues into a praye, and their daughters into captiuitie, and all the praye for a spoyle vnto thy seruantes, which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me wydowe, O Lorde my God, I beseeche thee.
4 For thou haste made the first things: and after that, lyke what thou haste taken in hande hand and deuised, it came euer to passe.

5 For all thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgementes are put in thy euerlasting foreknowledge.

"or, tentes. 6 O looke nowe vpon the "armies of the Assyrians, like as it was thy pleasure sometimes to looke vppon the hoste of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed, persecuted thy seruants, and put their trust in their charets, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

B 7 But thou lokedst vpon their host, casting a thicke darkenesse before them.

8 And when they came into the deepe, the waters ouerwhelmed them.

9 Euen so Lorde, let it goe with these that trust in the power & multitude of their mē of war, in their charets, arrowes, & speares.

10 And know not that thou onely arte our God, which destroyest warres from the beginning, "and that thou arte the Lorde.

"or, and that it appertayneth to thee, to be called Lord.

11 O lifte vp thine arme (nowe,) like as euer from the beginning, & in thy power bring their power to nought: cause their might to fall in thy wrath, whiche make their boast, that they will vnhalowe and defile thy sanctuarie, and to waste the tabernacle of thy name, and to cast downe the horne of thyne aulter with their sword.

12 Bring to passe, O Lorde, that the pride of "the enimie may be cut downe with his owne sword:

"or, of this mā

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smyte him with the lippes of my loue.

C 14 O giue me a stedfast mynd, that I may despise him and his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shall bring thy name an euerlasting remembrance, if the hande of a woman ouerthrow him.

16 For thy power, O Lord, standeth not in the multitude (of men,) neyther haste thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neyther was there frō ỹ beginning any proud persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke, hath thy pleasure bene euermore.

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Lorde of all creatures, heare me poore woman calling vpon thee, and putting my trust in thy mercy.

18 Remember thy couenant, O Lorde, and minister wordes in my mouth, and stablish this deuice in my heart, that thy house may continue still in holynesse:

19 And that all the heathen may know that ỹ art God, & ỹ there is none other but ỹ.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Iudith decketh hir selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie. 11. She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

1 AND when she had left off crying vnto the Lord, she rose vp from the place where she had lyen flat before the Lord, I

2 And called hir mayden Abra, went downe into hir house, layde the hairie cloth from hir, put off ỹ garments of hir widowhood.

3 Washed hir bodye, annoynted hir selfe with precious thinges of sweete sauour, brayded and platted hir haire, set a coyfe vpon hir heade, and put on suche apparell as belonged vnto gladnesse, slippers vpon hir feete, bracelets, spangs, earings, finger rings, and decked hir selfe with all hir best araye.

4 The Lorde gaue hir also a speciall beautie and faireneſſe: for all this decking of hir selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue, therefore did the Lorde encrease hir beautie, so that she was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue hir mayden Abra also a bottell of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cake, bread and cheese: and went hir way.

6 Nowe when they came to the port of the citie, they founde Ozias and the elders of the citie wayting there:

7 Which whē they saw hir, they were astonied, & maruelled greatly at hir beautie. B

8 Neuertheless, they asked no question at hir, but let hir go, saying, The God of our fathers giue thee grace, and with his power perfourme all the deuise of thy heart, that Jerusalem may reioyce ouer thee, and that thy name maye be in the number of the holy and righteous.

9 And all they that were there, sayde with one voyce, So be it, so be it.

10 Judith made hir prayers vnto the Lord, and went out at the port, she and hir maid Abra.

11 And as she was going downe the mountaine, it happened that about the dying of the day, the spies of the Assyrians met with hir, and toke hir, saying, Whence commest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 She answered, I am a daughter of the Hebrues, and am fledde from them: for I knowe that they shall be giuen vnto you to be spoyled, because they thought skorne to yeelde them selues vnto you, that they might finde mercie in your sight.

13 There-

13 Therefore haue I deuised by my self after this maner: I will go before the prince Holophernes, and tell him all their secrets, and will shewe him howe he may come by them, and winne them: so that not one man of his hoste shall perishe.

14 And when these men hadde hearde hir wordes, and considered hir fayre face, they were astonied (for they wondred at hir excellent beautie,)

15 And sayde vnto hir, Thou hast saued thy life, by finding out this deuise, that thou wouldest come downe to our Lorde.

16 And be thou sure, that when thou commest vnto him, he shall entreate thee well, and thou shalt please him at the heart. So they brought hir in to Holophernes pauilion, and tolde him of hir.

17 Now when she came in before him, immediately hee was ouercome and taken with hir beautie.

18 Then sayde his seruantes, Who would despise the people of the Iewes that haue so fayre women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?

19 So when Judith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canapie ỹ was wrought of purple silke, gold, smaradge, & precious stones.

20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed hir self, and fell downe vpon the earthe: and Holophernes seruantes toke hir vp agayne, at their lordes commaundement.

The. xi. Chapter.

i. Holophernes comforteth Iudith. 3. and asketh the cause of hir comming. 5. She deceiueth him by hir fayre wordes.

1 Then sayde Holophernes vnto hir, Be of good cheare, and feare not in thyne heart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.

2 As for thy people, if they had not despysed me, I should not haue lyfte vp my speare against them.

3 But tell me nowe what is the cause that thou arte departed from them, and wherefore art thou come vnto vs?

4 And Judith sayde vnto him, Syr, vnderstande the wordes of thy handmayden: for if thou wilt do after the wordes of thy handmayden, the Lorde shall bring thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth lyueth, and as his power lyueth whiche is in thee, to the punishment of all men that goe wrong, all men shall not only be subdued vnto him through thee, but all the beastes also of the fielde.

6 For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer bene reported, howe thou onely art good and mightie in all his kingdome, and thy " discretion is commended in all landes. " or, discipline

7 The thing is manifest also that Achior spake, and it is well knowne what thou commaundest to do vnto him. B

8 For this is playne, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs, by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his prophetes vnto the people, howe that for their sinnes hee will deliuer them ouer (vnto the enimie.)

9 And for so much as the children of Israell knowe, that they haue so displeased their God, they are sore afrayde of thee.

10 They suffer greate hunger also, and for want of water they are deade nowe in a manner.

11 Moreouer, they are appointed to slay all their cattel, that they may drinke the bloud of them:

12 And are purposed to spende the holye thinges of their God, which hee hath forbidden them to touch, (as) of corne, wyne, and oyle, & they will consume those things which they ought not to touche with their handes: seeing nowe that they doe these things, it is a playne case that they muste needes be destroyed.

13 Whiche when I thy handmayden perceiued, I fled from them: and the Lorde hath sent mee to shewe thee these things.

14 For I thy handmayden worship God, C euen here nowe beside thee, and thy handmayden shall goe forth, and I will make my prayer vnto God:

15 And he shal tell me when he will reward them their sinne, then shall I come and shewe thee, and bring thee through the middest of Jerusalem, so that thou shalte haue all people of Israell, as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shall not so much as one dogge barke against thee.

16 For these things are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And for so much as God is displeased w̄ them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.

18 These wordes pleased Holophernes, and al his seruantes: which maruelled at the wisdome of hir, and sayde one to another.

19 There is not such a womā vpon earth, in fauor, in beautie, and discretion of wordes.

20 And Holophernes sayde vnto hir, God hath done well, that he hath sent thee hyther before thy people, that thou mayest giue them into our handes.

21 And for so much as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shall be my God also, & thou shalt be excellent & great in the courte of Nabuchodonosor, & thy name shall be spoken of in al the land.

The.xij.Chapter.

1. Iudith woulde not pollute hir selfe with the meate of the Gentiles. 5. Shee maketh hir request that shee might goe out by night to pray. 11. Holophernes causeth hir to come to the banquet.

A 1 Then commaunded hee hir to goe in where his treasure lay, and charged that she shoulde haue hir dwelling there, and appoynted what should be giuen hir from his table.

2 Iudith answered him, and sayde, As for the meate that thou hast commaunded to giue me, I may not eate of it as now, lest I displease my God: but will eate of such as I haue brought with me.

3 Then sayde Holophernes vnto hir, If these things that thou hast brought with thee fayle, what shall we do vnto thee?

4 And Iudith sayde, As thy soule liueth, my Lord, thy handmayden shall not spend all this, till God hath brought to passe in my hande, the things that I haue deuised. So his seruants brought hir into the tent, whereas he had appoynted.

5 And as she was going in, she desired that she might haue leaue to goe forth by night and before day to hir prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lorde.

6 Then commaunded Holophernes his chamberlaynes, that she shoulde goe out and in at hir pleasure, to praye vnto God those three dayes.

B 7 And so in the night season, she went forth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed hir selfe in the well water.

8 And comming vp, she besought the Lorde God of Israell, that he would prosper hir way for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in hir tente, till she toke hir meate in the euening.

10 Upon the fourth daye it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruantes, and sayde vnto Vagao his chãberlayne, Goe thy way, and counsell this Hebrueſſe, that she may be willing to cõsent to keepe company with me:

11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a woman should so laugh a man to skorne, that she were come from him vnmedled withall.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and sayd, Let not the good daughter be afrayde to come in to my Lorde, that she may be honoured before him, that she may eate and drinke wine, and be merry with him.

13 Unto whome Judith answered, Who am I, that I should say my Lord nay?

14 Whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shall doe it: and loke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I liue.

15 So she stoode vp, and deckt hir selfe with hir apparell, and wente in, and stoode before him.

16 And Holophernes hart was whole moued: for he brent in desire toward hir.

17 And Holophernes sayd vnto hir, drinke now, and sit down, and be merry, for thou hast found fauour before me.

18 Then sayde Judith, Syr, I will drinke, for my mynde is merrier to day, than euer it was in all my life.

19 And she toke, and did eate, and dranke before him, the things that hir mayden had prepared for hir.

20 And Holophernes was merrie with hir, and dranke more wine, than euer he did afore in his life.

The.xiij.Chapter.

7. Iudith prayeth for strength. 10. She smiteth off Holophernes head. 12. She returneth to Bethulia, and reioyceth hir people.

1 NOwe when it was late in the night, his seruantes made haste euery man to his lodging: and Vagao shut the chãber dores, and went his way: 1

2 For they were all ouerladen with wine.

3 So was Judith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, he laye vpon the bed (all drunken) and of verie drunkennesse fell asleepe.

5 Then commaunded Judith hir mayden to stand wout before the doore, & to waite.

6 And Judith stood before the bed, making hir prayer with teares, and moued hir lips secretly.

7 And sayde, Strengthen me, O Lorde God of Israell, and haue respect vnto the workes of myne handes in this hour, that thou mayest set vp thy citie of Jerusalem, like as thou hast promised: and graunt that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may be done by thee, I haue deuised. 2

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the piller that was at Holophernes beds heade, and losed his swoorde that hanged vpon it, and drewe it out:

9 And when she had take it out of the scabberd, she toke holde of the hairy lockes of his heade, and sayde, Strengthen me, O Lorde God, in this houre.

10 And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote off his heade: Then toke she the canapie away from the pillers, and rolled the dead body aside.

11 Immediatly she gat hir forth, and deliuered the heade of Holophernes vnto hir mayden, and bade hir put it in hir wallet.

12 And so these two went forth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoste, and came about through the valley, vnto the porte of the citie.

13 And Iudith cryed a farre off vnto the watchmen vppon the walles, Open the gates (sayd she,) for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israell.

14 And when they hearde hir voyce, they called the elders of the citie (together.)

15 And they came all to meete hir, little and greate, yong and olde: for they thought not that she should haue come so sone.

16 So they lighted candles, and gathered about hir euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and cayled silence to be proclaymed.

17 And when euery man nowe helde his peace, Iudith sayde, O prayse the Lorde our God, for he hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmayden he hath performed his mercy, which he promised vnto the house of Israell: Yea, in my hande this same nyght hath he slayne the enimie of his people.

19 And with that she toke forth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Behold the head of Holophernes the captaine of the armie of the Assyrians, & this is his canapie wherin he lay in his drunkennesse, where the Lorde our God hath slaine him by the hande of a woman.

20 But as the Lord lyueth, his angell hath kept me going thyther, remayning there, and comming hither againe from thence: And the Lord hath not suffred me his handmayden to be defiled, but without any defiling of blame, hath he brought me againe vnto you: and that with great victorie, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.

21 O giue thankes vnto him euery one, for he is gratious, and his mercy endureth for euer.

22 So they praysed the Lorde altogether, D (and gaue thanks vnto him,) and to hir they sayde, The Lorde hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee he hath brought our enimies to nought.

23 And Ozias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israell saide vnto hir, Blessed art thou of the Lorde the highe God, aboue all women vpon earth.

24 Blessed be the Lorde, the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aright, to wounde and to smite off the heade of the captaine of our enimies.

25 For this day he hath made thy name so honorable, that thy prayse shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall alway remember the power of the Lorde, seeing thou hast not spared thine owne selfe, (but put thee in ieopardie) considering the anguishe and trouble of thy people: and so hast helped their fall before God our Lorde.

26 And all the people sayde, Amen, Amen. E

27 Achior also was called, and hee came: Then sayde Iudith vnto him, The God of Israell, vnto whome thou gauest witnesse, that he wold be aurnged of his enimies, euen her hath this night through my hand, smitten off ỹ hed of al ỹ vnfaithful.

28 And that thou mayst see that it so is, beholde, this is the heade of Holophernes, which in his presumptuous pryde, despysed the God of the people of Israell, and threatned thee with destruction, saying, When the people of Israell is take, I shal cause thee also to be stickt with the swoord.

29 When Achior sawe Holophernes head, he fell downe vpon his face to the ground for verie anguishe and feare, so that her sowned withall.

30 But after that he was come againe to him selfe, he fell downe before hir, & praysed hir, saying, 31 Blessed art thou of thy God, in al the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare thy name, shall prayse the God of Israell, bycause of thee.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

1. Iudith causeth to hang vp the heade of Holophernes. 6. Achior ioyneth him selfe to the people of God. 7. The Israelites go out against the Assyrians.

A 1 IUdith sayd vnto all the people, Bretheren heare me: Sticke vp this heade vpon our walles,

2.Mac.15. 2 And when the sunne aryseth, take euery man his weapon, and fall out violently: not as though ye would goe beside them, but to runne vpon them with violence.

3 When the spyes see this, they shall of necessitie be compelled to flee backward, and to rayse vp their captaine to the battell.

4 So when their captaines come into Holophernes paullion, and finde ỳ deade bodye wrapped in the bloude, fearefulnesse shall fall vpon them:

5 And when ye perceyue that they flee, followe them without all care, for God shall "deliuer them vnto you to be destroyed.

"or, the Lord shall breake them vnder your feete.

6 Then Achior seeing the power of God, whiche hee had shewed vnto the people of Israell, fell off from his heathenish beliefe, and put his trust in God, and let him selfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israell, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.

B 7 Nowe as sone as it was day, they flickt vp Holophernes heade vppon the walles, and euery man toke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible crye.

8 When the spies saw that, they ranne vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a greate rushing by arte, that Holofernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by their noyse:

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knocke, goe in, nor open.

11 But when the captaynes and princes, and all the chiefe in the king of the Assyrians hoste came together, they sayde vnto the chamberlaynes, 12 Goe your way in, and wake him vp: for the myce are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battell.

13 Then went Vagao into his chamber, stoode before the "bedde, and clapped with his hands: for he thought he had bene sleeping with Judith.

"or, curtaine.

C 14 But when hee hearkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceiue no stirring, he went nigher to the "bedde, and lyfte it vp, and when hee sawe the deade bodye of Holophernes, lying there without a head, weltered in his bloude vpon the earth, hee cryed with a loude voyce, and with weeping rent his clothes.

"or, curtaine.

15 And went into Judiths tent, and found hir not.

16 And so he leapt out vnto the people, and sayde, One woman of the Iewes, hathe brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lyeth vppon the grounde, and hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of the Assyrians hoste hearde that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembling vppon them, so that their myndes were sore afrayde.

18 And there was an exceeding great crye in "the whole hoste.

The.xv. Chapter.

1. The Assyrians are afrayde and flee. 6. The Israelites pursue them. 9. Ioachim the highe priest commeth to Bethulia to see Iudith, and to prayse God for hir.

1 NOwe when all the hoste hearde that Holophernes was beheaded, their mynde and counsell fell from them: and being amased with feare onely and trembling, they saued them selues by flieing away. 1

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe their heades, left all behynde them, and made hast to escape frō the handes: for they heard that they were hasting to come after with their wepons, and so they fled by the ways of the fields, and through all the fowle pathes of the "dales.

3 And when the children of Israell knewe that they fled, they followed vpō them, and went downe with trumpets, blowing and making a great crye after them.

4 As for the Assyrians they had no ordre, and kept not them selues together but fled their way: Neuertheles, the children of Israell fell vpon them with one company and ordre, and discomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto all the cities and countreys of Israell.

6 So all the regions, and euery citie sent out their best men after them in armure, and smote them with the swoorde, till they came to the vttermost part of their borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia came into the tentes of the Assyrians, and toke all that they which were fled left behinde them, so they sawe great good. 2

8 And they that came again to Bethulia from the battell, toke with them such things as had bene theirs: that was no number of the cattell, and of all sortes of iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were all made rich of the goodes of them.

9 And

9 And Joachim the high prieſt, came from Ieruſalem to Bethulia, with al the elders, that they might ſee Judith.

10 Now when ſhe came out vnto them, they beganne all to prayſe hir with one voyce, ſaying: Thou worſhip of the citie of Ieruſalem, thou ioye of Iſraell, thou honour of our people.

11 Becauſe thou haſt done manly, and thy heart hath comforted, and for that thou haſte loued chaſtitie, and haſte knowne no man, but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hande of the Lorde comforted thee, and bleſſed ſhalt thou be for euer.

12 And al the people ſayd, So be it, So be it.

13 In thirtie dayes could the people of Iſraell ſcarce gather vp the ſpoyles of the Aſſyrians.

¶ 14 But all that belonged vnto Holopherne, and had beene his ſpecially (whether it were golde, ſiluer, precious ſtone, clothing, and al ornaments) they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto hir of the people.

15 And all the people reioyced, both wome, maydens, and yong people, with pypes, and harpes.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. Iudith prayſeth God with a ſong. 23. She offereth to the Lorde Holophernes ſtuffe. 26. Hir continencie, life, and death. 29. All Iſraell lamenteth hir.

1 Then ſang Judith this ſong vnto the Lorde, ſaying,

2 Beginne vnto the Lorde vpon the tabrets, ſing vnto the Lorde vpon the Cymbales, O ſing vnto him a newe ſong of thankſgiuing, be ioyfull, and call vpon his name.

3 It is the Lorde that deſtroyeth warres, euen the Lorde is his name.

4 Whiche hath pitched his tentes in the middeſt of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hande of all our enimies.

5 Aſſur came out of the mountaines of the North, in the multitude of his ſtrength: his people ſtopped the water brookes, and their horſes couered the valleys.

Ieremi. 6 He purpoſed to haue brent vp my "lande and to ſlay my yong men with the ſword.

7 He would haue caried away my children and virgins into captiuitie, but the almightie Lorde hindred him, and deliuered him into the handes of a woman, "whiche brought him to confuſion.

8 For their mightie was not deſtroyed of the yong mē, it was not the ſonnes of Titan that ſlue him, neyther haue the great giants ſet thē ſelues againſt him: but Judith the daughter of Merari, with hir faire beautie hath diſcomfited him, (and brought him to nought.)

9 For ſhe layde awaye hir widowes garment, and put on the apparel of gladneſſe, to the reioycing of the children of Iſraell.

10 She annoynted hir face with oyntment, and bounde vp hir haire in a coyffe, and toke a newe ſtole to beguile him.

11 Hir ſlippers raviſhed his eyes, hir beautie captiuated his mynde, with the ſworde ſmote ſhe off his necke.

12 The Perſians were aſtonied at hir ſtedfaſtneſſe, and the Medes at hir boldneſſe.

13 Thē howled the armies of the Aſſyrians, when my ſimples appeared, drie of thirſt.

14 The ſonnes of the daughters haue pearſed them through, and ſlayne them as fugitiue children: they periſhed in the battel, "for the verie feare of the Lord my God. ¶

15 Let vs ſing a ſong of thankeſgiuing vnto the Lorde, a newe ſong of prayſe wyll we ſing vnto our God.

16 Lorde, Lorde, thou arte a great God, mightie in power, whome no man maye ouercome.

17 All thy creatures muſt ſerue thee: for thou ſpakeſt but the worde, and they were made, thou ſenteſt thy ſpirit, and they were created, and no mā can withſtand thy voice. Gen.1. Pſal.32.b.

18 The mountaines ſhall mouē from the foundations with the waters, the ſtony rockes ſhall melt before thee like ware.

19 But they that feare thee, ſhall be great with thee in all things.

20 Wo vnto the people that riſe vp againſt my generation: for the almightie Lorde will auenge him ſelfe of them, and in the day of iudgement wyll he viſite them.

21 For hee ſhall giue fire and wormes in their fleſhe, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.

22 After this it happened, that after the victory, all the people came to Ieruſalem, to giue praiſe and thankes vnto the Lord: and when they were purified, they offered all their burnt ſacrifices, and their vowes, and their promiſed offerings. ¶

23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons (and all the iewels) that the people had giuen hir, and the canapie that ſhee toke from his bed, and hanged them vp "vnto the Lord.

24 The people were ioyfull, as the vſe is:

"or, from the face.

"the olde interpretation hath In anathema obliuionis.

and this ioy with Judith, by reason of the victorie, endured three monethes.

25 So after these dayes euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in all the lande of Israell.

26 Unto hir vertue also was chastitie ioyned, so that after hir husbande Manasses dyed, she neuer knew man all the dayes of hir life.

27 Upon the high solemne dayes, she went out with great worship.

E 28 She dwelte in hir husbandes house an hundred and fiue yeares, and bought hir mayden Ida free.

29 And dyed, and was buryed beside hir husbande in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for hir seuen dayes.

30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israell, and many yeares also after hir death.

31 The day wherein this victorie was gotten, was solemnly holden, and receiued of the Jewes, in the nũber of the holy dayes, and it is yet greatly holden of the Jewes euer since, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

A 1 MArdocheus the sonne of Jari, the sõne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin,

2 A Jew which had hys dwelling in the citie of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kings court.

4.Re.24.d. Jere.24.a. 3 Neuertheless, he was one of the prisoners whome Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had caryed away frõ Jerusalẽ vnto Babylõ, with Jechonias ỹ king of Juda.

4 In the second yeere of the raigne of great Artaxerres, in the firste day of the moneth Nisã, had this Mardocheus such a dream.

5 He thought he heard a great tempest, horrible thunderclaps, earthquakes, and great vproze in the lande,

6 And that he saw two great dragons ready to fight one against another.

B 7 Their cry was great: at the which roaring and crye, all the heathen were vp to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darkenesse, and derie vncleare, full of trouble and anguish, yea, a great fearefulnesse was there in the lande.

9 The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and euill that was deuised ouer them, and were at a point with themselues to dye: So they cryed vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle well grewe into a great ryuer, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the sunne rose vp againe: & the lowely were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proude.

12 Now when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, he awoke, and mused stedfastly in his heart what God woulde doe, and so he desired to knowe all the matter, and his minde was there vpon vntill night.

The.xij. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttreth the treason deuised against the king, and is therfore rewarded of him.

1 AT the same time dwelte Mardocheus with Bagatha & Thara, in the kings court, the kings chamberlaynes and porters of the palace.

2 But when hee hearde their deuise, and had diligently considered their imaginations, he perceyued that they went about to lay their (cruell) handes vpon the kyng Artaxerres, and so hee certified the kyng thereof.

3 Then

3 Then cauſed the king to examine the two " gelded with tormentes: and when they had graunted it, they were put to death.
4 This the king cauſed to be put in the Chronicles, for an euerlaſting remembraunce, and Mardothrus wrote vp the ſame matter.
5 So the king commaunded that Mardocheus ſhoulde remayne in the courte, and for this faithfulneſſe of his, hee gaue him a reward.
6 But Aman the ſonne of Amadathu, the Agagite, whiche was holden in great honour and reputation in the kings courte, vndertooke to hurte Mardocheus, and his people, becauſe of the two chamberlaynes, that were put to death.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes againſt the Iewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

1 THe great king Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India, and Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and ſeuen lands, ſendeth his friendly ſalutation vnto all the princes and deputies of the countrey, whiche be ſubiecte vnto his dominion.
2 When I was made Lorde ouer many people, and had ſubdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my mynde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt my ſelfe by the reaſon of my power: but purpoſed with equitie alway and gentleneſſe to gouerne thoſe that be vnder my iuriſdiction, and wholly to ſet them in a peaceable life,
and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquilitie, that men might ſafely goe throughout euery ſide, and to renue peace againe, which all men deſire.
3 Nowe when I aſked my counſellours howe theſe thinges might be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wiſdome, whoſe good wil, truth and faith-fulneſſe, hath oft bene ſhewed and proued, (which was alſo the principall and nexte to the king) Aman by name.
4 Which certified vs, how that in all lands there was ſcattered abroade a rebellious folke, that made ſtatutes and lawes a-gainſt all other people, and haue alwaye deſpyſed the proclaymed cõmaundements of kinges, and howe that for this cauſe, it were not to be ſuffered, that ſuche rule ſhoulde continue by you, and not to be put downe.
5 Seeing nowe we perceyue the ſame, that this people alone, are contrary vnto euery man, vſing ſtrange and other manner of lawes, and withſtand our ſtatutes and doings, and goe about to ſtabliſhe ſhrewde matters, that our kingdome ſhould neuer come to good eſtate (and ſtedfaſtneſſe:)
6 Therefore haue we commaunded, that all they that are appoynted in writing, € ſhewed vnto you by Aman, whiche is or-deyned and ſet ouer all our lands, and the moſt principall next vnto the king, and in maner as a father: ſhall with their wiues and children be deſtroyed and rooted out with the ſworde of their enimies and ad-uerſaries, and that there ſhall be no mercie ſhewed, and no man ſpared: and this ſhall be done the fourteenth daye of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere.
7 That they which of olde, and nowe alſo, € haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thruſt downe into the hell, to the intẽt that after this maner, our empire may haue peace and tranquilitie.
8 But Mardocheus thought vpon all the workes and noble actes of the Lorde, and made his prayer vnto him, 9 Saying, O Lorde, Lorde, thou valiant and almightie king, for all things are in thy power: and if thou wilt help and de-liuer Iſrael, there is no mã that can withſtand, nor let thee.
10 For thou haſte made heauen and earth, and what wonderous thing ſoeuer is vnder the heauen.
11 Thou arte Lorde of all things, and there is no man that can reſiſt thy maieſtie, O Lorde.
12 Thou knoweſt all things, thou woteſt Lorde, that it was neyther of malice nor preſumption, nor for any deſire of glorie, that I woulde not bowe downe my ſelfe, nor worſhippe yonder proude preſumptuous Aman:
13 For I woulde haue bene content, and that with good will, if it myght haue done Iſraell any good, to haue kiſſ euen his fotteſteppes.
14 But that I did it, bycauſe I would not € ſet the honoure of a man, in the ſteade of the glorie of God, and bycauſe I woulde worſhippe none, but only thee my Lorde:
and this haue I done in no pryde nor preſumption.
15 And therefore, O Lorde, thou God and King, haue mercie vppon thy people, for they imagine howe they may bring vs to nought, yea their mynde and deſire is to deſtroy and to ouerthrowe thy people that hath euer bene thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion whiche thou hast deliuered, and brought out of Egipte for thine own selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy people, whome thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe: Turne our complaint and sorowe into ioye, that we may liue, O Lorde, and prayse thy name: O Lorde suffer not the mouthes of them that prayse thee, to be destroyed.

18 All the people of Israell in like manner cryed as earnestly as they coulde vnto the Lorde: for their death and destruction stode before their eyes.

The.xiiij.Chapter.

The prayer of Esther, for the deliuerance of hir and hir people.

A 1 QVeene Esther also being in the "battell of death, resorted vnto the Lord, "or, perill.

2 Layde away hir glorious apparell, and put on the garmentes that serued for sighing, and mourning: in ỹ stead of precious oyntment, she scattered ashes and dung vpon hir heade: and as for hir bodye, she humbled it with fasting, & brought it very lowe: All the places where she was wont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with hir owne haire that she pluckt off.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lorde God of Israell, with these wordes: O my Lorde, thou onely art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee.

4 For my miserie and destruction is harde at my hande.

5 Fro my youth vp I haue heard out of the kinred of my father, that thou tokest Israell from among al people, and so haue our fathers of their fore elders, that they shuld be thy perpetuall inheritance, and loke what thou diddest promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Nowe Lord we haue sinned before thee, therfore hast thou giuen vs into the hands of our enimies,

B 7 Because we worshipped their goddes, Lorde thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheless, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter and heauie captiuitie, and oppressed among them, but thou hast layde their hands vpon the hands of their gods.

9 So that they beginne to take awaye the thing, that thou with thy mouth hast ordeyned and appoynted, to destroye their inheritance, to shut and to stop the mouths of them that prayse thee, to quench the glory and worship of thy house & thine aulter.

10 And to open the mouthes of the heathen, that they maye prayse the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshly king for euer.

11 O Lord giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, least they laughe vs to skorne in our miserie and fall: but turne their deuise vpon them selues, and punishe him that hath begunne the same ouer vs, and set him to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and of our trouble: strengthe me, O thou king of goddes, thou Lord of all power.

13 Giue me an eloquent and pleasant speach in my mouth before the Lion: turne his hart into the hate of our enimies, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hand, and help me thy handmayd, which haue no defence nor helper, but only the Lord. C

15 Thou knowest all thinges, thou wottest that I loue not the glorie and worship of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bed of the vncircumcised, and of all heathen:

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preheminence & worship, which I beare vpon my head, what time as I must shew my selfe and be seene, and that I abhor it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet, and alone by my selfe.

17 Thou knowest also, that I thy handmayden, haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kings feaste, that I haue not dronke the wine of the drinke offerings.

18 And that I thy handmayden haue no ioy since the day that I was brought hyther vnto this day, but onely in thee, O Lorde, O thou God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue al, heare the voice of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hande of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The.xv.Chapter.

1. Mardocheus moueth Esther to goe in vnto the king, and make intercession for hir people. 9. And she performed his request.

1 MArdocheus also bade Esther goe in vnto the king, and praye for hir people, and for hir countrey.

2 Remember (sayth he) the dayes of thy low estate, how thou wast nourished vnder my I hande:

hande: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath giue sentẽce of death against vs.
3 Cal ỹ therefore vpon the Lord, & speak for vs vnto the king, & deliuer vs from death.
4 And vpon the thirde day it hapned, that Esther laid away the mourning garmẽts, and put on hir glorious apparell,
5 And deckte hir selfe goodly (after that she had called vpon God, whiche is the beholder and sauiour of all things) (and) toke two maydens with hir:
6 Vpon the one she leaned hir selfe, as one that was tender:
7 The other folowed hir, and bare the train of hir vesture.
8 The shine of hir beautie made hir face rose coloured, the similitude of hir face was chearefull and amiable: but hir heart was sorowfull for great feare.
9 She went in through all the dores, and stode before the king: the king sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, & was clothed in his goodly aray, all shining with gold, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.
10 He lift vp his face that shone in the clearnesse, and loked grimly vpon hir: then fell the queene downe, was pale and faint, leaned hir selfe vpon the head of the mayd that went with hir.
11 Neuertheles, God turned the kinges mynde that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seate for feare, and gat hir in his armes, and helde hir vp till she came to hir selfe againe, he gaue hir louing words also, and sayde vnto hir, 12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:
13 Thou shalt not dye, for our commaundement toucheth the commons, and not thee: Come nygh.
14 And with that hee helde vp his golden rod, and layd it vpon hir necke, 15 And imbraced hir friendly, and sayde, Talke with me.
16 Then sayde she, I sawe thee (O Lorde) as an Angel of God, & my hart was troubled for feare of thy maiestie & clearnesse.
17 For excellent and wonderfull arte thou, O Lord, and thy face is full of amitie, 18 But as she was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnesse:
19 For the which cause the king was afraid, and all his seruantes comforted hir.

The xvi. Chapter.

The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes, wherby he reuoketh those which he first sent forth

1 THe greate king Artaxerxes, whiche raigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen landes, sendeth vnto the princes and rulers of the same landes, suche as loue him, his friendly salutation. A
2 There be many that for the sundry frendships and benefits which are diuersly done vnto them for their worshippe, be euer the more proude and high mynded:
3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subiectes, (for plenteous benefites may they not suffer, and beginne to imagine something against those that do them good,
4 And take not onely all thankfulnesse away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmyndfull and vnthankfull for the good deeds, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all things, whiche iudgement hateth and punisheth all wickednesse.
5 It happeneth oft also, that they which be set in office by the higher power, and vnto whome the businesse and causes of the subiectes are committed to be handled, ware proude, and defile them selues with shedding of innocent bloude, which bringeth them to intollerable hurt.
6 Whiche also with false and deceitfull wordes, and with lying tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.
7 Nowe is it profitable and good that we take heede, make searche thereafter, and consider not onely what hath hapned vnto vs of olde, but the shamefull, vnhonest, and noysome things, that the deputies haue nowe taken in hande before our eyes: B
8 And thereby to beware in time to come, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for all men, and that we might sometime drawe it to a change.
9 And as for the thing that nowe is present before our eyes, to withstande it, & to put it downe after the most friendly maner.
10 What time nowe as Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a straunger verily of the Persians bloude, and farre from our goodnesse, was come in among vs as an aliant,
11 And had obteined the friendship that we beare towarde all people, so that hee was called our father, and had in high honour of euery man, as the nexte and principall vnto the king:
12 He could not forbeare him selfe from his pryde, hath vndertaken not only to robbe vs of the kingdome, but of our life:
13 With manifolde deceyte also hath he defyred to destroye Mardocheus our helper and preseruer, whiche hathe done vs good, in all thinges, and innocente Esther, the like partaker of oure kyngdome, with all hir people.

¶ 14 For his minde was (when he had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of the) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we finde that the Iewes (whiche were accused of ẏ wicked, that they might be destroyed) are no euill doers, but vse reasonable and right lawes:

16 And that they be the children of the most high liuing God, by whome the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath beene well ordered hytherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters and commaundementes that were put forthe by Aman the sonne of Amadathu, ye shall doe well if ye hold them of none effect:

18 For hee that set them vp, and inuented them, hangeth at Suls, before the porte, with all his kinred: and God which hath all thinges in his power, hath rewarded him after his deseruing.

19 And vpon this, ye shall publiche and set vp the copie of this letter in all places, that the Iewes may freely and without hynderance holde them selues after their own statutes:

20 And that they maye be helped, and that vpon the thirtenth daye of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their anguish & trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For the God that gouerneth all things, D hath turned to ioy, the day wherin the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among the high solemne days that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse:

23 That nowe, and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of good, for all such as loue the prosperitie of the Perſiãs: but a remembrance of destruction, to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and landes that doe not this, shal horribly perish, and be destroyed with the swoorde and fire, and shall not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beastes and foules.

The end of the rest of the booke of Esther.

1. Howe we ought to search and enquire after God. 2. VVho be those that finde him. 5. The holy ghost. 8. 11. VVe ought to flee from backbyting and murmuring. 12. VVhereof death commeth. 15. Righteousnesse, and vnrighteousnesse.

A 1 LOue righteousnesse, ye that be iudges of the earth, consider deepely of the Lorde in goodnesse, and seeke hym in singlenesse of heart.

2 For he will be founde of them that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto suche as put no distrust in him,

3 For wicked thoughts separat from God, and (his) power when it is "tryed, reproueth the vnwise.

"or, tempted.

4 For why? wisedome shall not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

5 For the holy spirit of discipline fleeth frō deceite, and withdraweth him selfe from thoughtes that are without vnderstãding, & is declared when wickednesse commeth.

6 For the spirit of wisdome is loving, and will not absolue him that blaspheneth with his lippes, for God is witnesse of his reynes, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of his tong.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth the round B cõpasse of the world, & ẏ same ẏ vpholdeth al things hath knowledge also of ẏ voice.

8 Therefore he that speaketh vnrighteous things can not be hid, neyther shall the iudgement of reproofe let him escape.

9 And why? inquisition shall be made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sounde of his words shall come vnto God, so that his wickednesse shall be punished.

10 For the care of zelousie heareth al things, & the noyse of ẏ grudgings shal not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is is nothing worth, and refrayne your tong from ſlaunder: for there is no worde ſo ſecrete that it ſhall goe for nought, and the mouth that ſpeaketh lyes, ſlayeth the ſoule.

11 Seeke not your owne death in the error of your life, deſtroy not your ſelues through the workes of your owne hands:

12 For God hath not made death, neyther hath hee pleaſure in the deſtruction of the lyuing.

13 For hee created all thinges, that they might haue their being, and "the generations of the world were helthfull, and there is no poyſon of deſtruction in them, nor the kingdome of hell vpon the earth.

14 For righteouſneſſe is (euerlaſting and) immortal: but vnrighteouſnes bringeth death.

15 Neuertheleſſe, the vngodly call "it vnto them both with workes and wordes, and while they thinke to haue it their friende, they come to nought, and they haue made an agrement with it, for they are worthy to be of hir part.

The. ij. Chapter.

The imaginations and deſires of the wicked, and their counſell againſt the faithfull.

1 FOr the vngodly ſay, reaſoning with themſelues, but not aright, Our life is ſhort and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedie, neyther is there any man knowne to haue returned from the graue.

2 For we are borne at all aduenture, and we ſhall be heere by more fortune after, as though we had neuer bene: for our breath is as a ſmoake in our noſthrils, and words as a ſparke rayſed out of our hearts:

3 Which being extinguiſhed, our bodye ſhall be turned into aſhes, and our ſpirite ſhall vaniſh as the ſoft ayre.

4 Our life ſhall paſſe away as the trace of a cloude, and come to nought as the myſt that is driuen away with the beames of the ſunne, and put downe with the heate therof: our name alſo ſhall be forgotten by litle and litle, and no man ſhall haue our workes in remembrance.

5 For our time is a very ſhadowe that paſſeth away, and after our ende there is no returning: for it is faſt ſealed, ſo that no man commeth agayne.

6 Come on therefore, let vs enioy the pleaſures that are preſent, and let vs chearfully vſe the creatures, like as in youth:

7 Let vs fill ourſelues with good wine and oyntment, and let there no floure of the time eſcape vs:

8 Let vs crowne our ſelues with roſe buds, afore they be withered:

9 (a) Let there be no fayre medowe, but our luſt goe through it. Let euery one of vs be partakers of our voluptuouſneſſe, let vs leaue ſome token of our pleaſure in euery place: for that is our portion, and this (onely) out lot. a. This ſentence of the medow is not in the greeke.

10 Let vs oppreſſe the poore righteous, let vs not ſpare the wydow nor olde man, let vs not regard ỹ heades that are grey for age.

11 Let the lawe of vnrighteouſneſſe be our ſtrength: for the thing that is feeble, is nothing worth.

12 Therefore let vs defraude the righteous, and why? he is not for our profite, yea, he is cleane contrarie to our doings, hee checketh vs for offending againſt the law, and ſlandereth the faultes of our manner of lyuing.

13 Hee maketh his boaſt to haue the knowledge of God, yea, he calleth himſelf Gods ſonne.

14 Hee is made vnto vs for reproofe of our thoughtes. ℭ

15 It grieueth vs alſo to looke vpon him, for his life is not like other mens, his ways are of an other faſhion.

16 Hee counteth vs but "bayne perſons, hee withdraweth him ſelfe from our wayes as from filthyneſſe, he commendeth greatly the latter ende of the iuſt, and maketh his boaſt that God is his father. "or, counterfet coyne.

17 Let vs ſee then if his words be true, let vs proue what ſhal happē in ỹ end of him.

18 For if the iuſt man be the ſonne of God, he will receyue him, and deliuer him from the handes of his enimies.

19 Let vs examine him with diſpitefull rebuke and tormenting, that we may know his meekeneſſe, and proue his patience.

20 Let vs condemne him with the moſte ſhamefull death: for as him ſelfe ſayth, He ſhall be rewarded (of God.)

21 Such things doe they imagine, and goe aſtraye, for their owne wickedneſſe hath blinded them. ℑ

22 As for the myſteries of God, they vnderſtande them not, they neyther hope for the rewarde of righteouſneſſe, nor regarde the worſhip that holy ſoules ſhall haue.

23 For God created man to be vndeſtroied, yea, after the image of his owne likeneſſe made he him. Gen. 4. b.

24 Neuertheleſſe, through enuie of the deuill, came death into the world, and they that helde of his ſide, do finde it.

The.iij.Chapter.

1. The conseruation and assurance of the righteous. 7. The rewarde of the faithfull. 11. VVho are miserable.

1 ℟ BVt the soules of the righteous are in the hande of God, and there shall no torment touch them.

2 In the sight of the vnwise they appeared to die, & their end is taken for miserie,

3 And their departing from vs to be vtter destruction: but they are in rest.

4 For though they suffer payne before men, yet is their hope full of immortalitie.

5 They are punished but in fewe thinges, neuertheless, in many things shall they be well rewarded: for God proueth them, and findeth them meete for him selfe.

6 As golde in the furnace doth he trie them, and receyueth them as a burnt offering: and when the time commeth, they shall be loked vpon.

℟ 7 They shall shine and runne through, as the sparkles among the stuble.

8 They shall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their Lord shall raigne for euer.

9 They that put their truste in him, shall vnderstand the truth, and such as be faithfull shall persteuer with him in loue: for his saintes haue grace and mercie, and he hath care for his elected.

10 But the vngodly shall be punished according to their owne imaginations, for they haue despysed the righteous, and forsaken the Lorde.

11 For who so despyseth wisedome and " nurture, hee is " vnhappie, and as for the hope of such, it is but vayne, their labours vnfruitfull, and their workes vnprofitable.

" or, discipline " or, he is miserable.

12 Their wiues are vndiscrete, and theyr children most vngodly.

13 Their offspring (or progenie) is cursed: wherefore blessed is the barren that is vndefiled, which hath not knowne the sinfull bed, she shall haue fruite in the visitation of soules,

ℭ 14 And the gelded which with his handes hath wrought no vnrighteousnesse, nor imagined wicked things against God: for vnto him shall be giuen the special gift of fayth, and the moste acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruit of good labour, & ỹ rot of wisdome shal neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to a perfect ende, & the seede of an vnrighteous bed shall be rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet shal they be nothing regarded, and their laste age shall be without honour.

18 If they dye quickly, they haue no hope, neyther comfort in the day of inquirie.

19 For horrible is the ende of the vnrighteous generation.

The.iiij.Chapter.

Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof. 10. The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

1 ℟ HOw fayre is a chaste generation with vertue? the memorial thereof is immortall: for it is knowne with God and with men. ℟ 1

2 When it is present, men take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they desire: it is crowned, and euer triumpheth, when it hath wonne the rewarde of the vndefyled battels.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in children, shall profite nothing, nor giue deepe roote by the seede of adulterie, nor lay any fast foundation.

4 For though they budde forth in the branches for a time, yet shall they be shaken with the wynde, for they stande not fast: and through the vehemencie of the wynde they shall be rooted out.

5 The vnperfecte branches shall be broken, their fruite shall be vnprofitable, and soure to eate, yea, meete for nothing.

6 And why? all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, must beare record of the wickednesse against their fathers and mothers when they be asked:

7 But though the righteous be ouertaken ℟ 5 with death, yet shall he be in rest.

8 For honourable age is not that whiche standeth in length of time, nor that that is measured by number of yeeres:

9 But a mans wisedome is the grey haire, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.

10 Hee pleased God, and was beloued of him, so that whereas he lyued among sinners, he translated him.

11 Yea, speedyly was he taken away, to the intent that wickednesse shoulde not alter his vnderstanding, and that deceyt should not beguile his soule. Gal.

12 For wickednesse with bewitching doth darken the honest things: and the lightnesse of " voluptuous desire " turneth aside the single minde. " or, inticement. " or, is ouerturned.

13 Though he was sone deade, yet fulfilled he much time:

41 For

14 For his soule pleased God, therefore hasted he to take him away " from among the wicked.

15 This the people see, and vnderstande it not, they lay not vp suche things in their heartes, howe that the louing fauour and mercy (of God) is vpon his saintes, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is deade, condemneth the vngodly whiche are lyuing: and the youth that is sone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the end of the wise: but they vnderstande not what God hath deuised for him, and wherfore the Lord hath taken him away to be in safetie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise him, therfore shal God also laugh thē to skorne.

19 So that they them selues shall dye hereafter without honor, yea, in shame among the deade for euermore: for without any voyce shall he burst those that be pufte vp, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be layde as vtterly wasted: they shall be in sorrowe, and their memoriall perysshe.

20 So they shall come afrayde in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shal conuince thē.

The.v. Chapter.

1 The constantnesse of the righteous before their persecutours. 14. The hope of the vnfaithfull is vayne. 15. The blessednesse of the saincts and godly.

1 Then shal the righteous stand in great boldenesse before the face of suche as haue dealt extreamely with them, and taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shalbe vexed with horrible feare, & shal wonder at his health, so farre beyonde all that they loked for.

3 And chaunging their opinion with groning for the redresse of mynde, they shall say, This is he whome we sometime had in derision, and iested vpon.

4 We fooles thought his life very madnes, and his end to be without honour:

5 But loe howe he is counted among the children of God, and his portion is among the saintes.

6 Therefore haue I erred from the way of truth, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sunne of vnderstanding rose not vp vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, yea we haue gone through desolous deserres: but as for the way of the Lorde, we haue not knowne it.

8 What good hath pryde done vnto vs? or what profite hathe the pompe of ryches brought vs?

9 All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that hasteth by:

10 As a ship that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neyther the path of it in the floudes:

11 Or as a byrde that fleeth through in the ayre, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but onely heareth the noyse of hir wings beating the light winde, parting the ayre through the vehemencie of hir going, & fleeth on shaking hir wings, whereas afterwarde no token of hir way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrowe is shot at a marke, it parteth the ayre, which immediately commeth together againe, so that a mā can not know where it went through:

13 Euen so we in like maner assone as we were borne, began immediatly to draw to our end, & haue shewed no tokē of vertue, but are consumed in our own wickednes.

14 Suche wordes they that haue sinned, speake in the hell: This verse is only in the olde interpreter.

15 For the hope of the vngodly, is like a " dyre thistle floure that is blowen awaye with the wind, like a thin " skumme that is scattered abroade with the storme, like as the smoake which is dispersed here and there with the winde, and as the remembraunce of a stranger that taryeth but a day, and then departeth. " or, dust. " or, some.

16 But the ryghteous shall liue for euermore, their rewarde also is with the Lord, and the care for them is with the highest.

17 Therefore shall they receyue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lordes hande: for with his right hande shall hee couer them, and with his arme shall he defende them.

18 His iealousie also shall take on harnesse, and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enimies.

19 He shal put on righteousnesse for a brestplate, and take vnfayned iudgement in steede of an helmet.

20 The inuincible shield of equitie shall he take.

21 His fierce wrath shall hee sharpen for a sworde, & the whole compasse of the world shall fight with him against the vnwise.

22 Then shall the thunder boltes go " right out of the lightnings, and come as out of " or, straight.

the

the well bent bowe of the cloudes to the place appoynted,

23 And as from an angrie caster of stones, there shall fall thicke hayles, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the flondes shall runne roughly together.

24 Yea, a mightie winde shall stande vp against them, and a storme shall scatter the abroade: thus vnrighteous dealing shall bring all the lande to a wyldernesse, and wickednesse shall ouerthrowe the royall " seates of the mightie.

" or, thrones.

The.vi. Chapter.

2. The calling of kings, princes, and iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisdome.

A 1 WYsdome is better than strength, and a man of vnderstanding is more worth than one strong.

This verse is only in the old interpreter.

2 Heare therefore, (O ye kings) and vnderstande, O learne ye that be iudges of the endes of the earth.

3 Giue eare ye that rule the multitudes, and glorie in the number of peoples.

4 For the power is giuen you of the Lord, and the strength from the highest, whiche shal trie your workes, and search out your imaginations:

5 Howe that ye being officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawe of ryghteousnesse, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right sone, shal he appeare vnto you: for an harde iudgement shall they haue that beare rule.

B 7 Mercy is graunted vnto the lowest: but they that be in authoritie shall be sore punished.

8 For he which is Lord ouer all, shall " except no mans person, neyther shal he stand in awe of any mans greatnesse: for hee hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.

" or, feare, or, spare.

9 But the mightie shall haue the sorer trial.

10 Vnto you therefore (O ye kings) doe I speake, that ye may learne wisedome, and not go amisse.

11 For they that keepe holynesse " holyly, shall be iudged holy: and they that haue learned such things, shall finde defence.

" or, holy thigs

12 Wherefore, " set your delight vpon my wordes, and desire them, so shall ye " come by nurture.

" or, couet my wordes. " or, be instructed ye shal be ruled.

13 Wisedome is a noble thing, and neuer fadeth awaye: yea she is easily seene of them that loue hir, and founde of suche as seeke hir.

14 She preuenteth them that desire hir, that she may shew hir selfe vnto them.

15 Who so awaketh vnto hir betimes, shall haue no great trauell: for he shall finde hir sitting ready at his dores.

16 To thinke therefore vpon hir, is perfect vnderstanding: and who so watcheth for hir, shall quickly be dispatched of care.

17 For she goeth about seeking suche as are meete for hir, sheweth hir selfe cheerefully vnto them in " their goings, and meeteth them with" all diligence.

18 For the vnfayned desire of " reformation is hir beginning: to care for nurture is loue

19 And loue is the keping of hir lawes, and the keeping of hir lawes is the assurance of immortalitie:

20 And immortalitie maketh a man familiar with God.

21 And so the desire of wisedome leadeth to the kingdome (euerlasting.)

22 If your delight be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kings of the people) set your " lust vpon wisedome, that ye maye raigne for euermore.

23 O loue the light of wisedome all ye that be rulers of the people.

24 As for wisedome, what she is, and how she came vp, I will tell you, and will not hyde the mysteries of (God) from you: but will seeke hir out from the beginning of hir natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of hir into light, and will not keepe backe the trueth.

25 Neyther will I haue to do with consuming enuie: for suche a man shall not be partaker of wisedome.

26 But the multitude of the wise, is the welfare of the worlde: and a wise kyng is the " vpholding of the people.

27 O receyue nurture then through my wordes, and it shall do you good.

The.vij. Chapter.

VVisedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

1 MY selfe also am a mortall man, like as all other, and am come of the earthy generatiō of him that was first made,

2 And in my mothers wombe was fashioned to be flesh in the time of tenne monthes, being brought together in blood, through the seede of man, and the pleasure that came with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receyued like ayre as other men, and fell vpon the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping ping at the first as all other do.

4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, & brought up with cares.
5 For there is no king that hath had any other beginning of byrth.
6 All men then haue one entrance vnto lyfe, and one going out in like manner.
7 Wherfore I desired, and vnderstanding was giuen mee: I called, and the spirit of wisdome came into mee.
8 I set more by hir than by kingdomes & royall seates, and counted riches nothing in comparison of hir.
9 As for pretious stone, I compared it not vnto hir: for all gold is but a litle grauel vnto hir, and siluer shall be counted but clay before hir syght.
10 I loued hir aboue "welfare and beautie, and purposed to take hir for my syght: for hir syght cannot be quenched.
11 All good things togyther came to mee with hir, and innumerable ryches through hir handes.
12 And I was glad in all things, because wisdome went before them: and I knewe not that she was the mother of them.
13 And I my selfe learned vnfaynedly, and make other men partakers of hir without enuie, and hyde hir ryches from no man.
14 For she is an infinite treasure vnto men: which who so vse, become partakers of the loue (and friendship) of God, and are accepted vnto him for the gifts of "wisdom.
15 God hath graunted me to speake what my minde conceyueth, and to thinke as is meete for the things that are giuen mee: for it is he that leadeth vnto wisdome, and teacheth to vse wisdome aryght.
16 For in his hande are bothe wee and our wordes, yea all our wisdome and knowledge of (his) workes.
17 For he hath giuen mee the true science of the things that are, so that I knowe howe the world was made, and the powers of the elementes.
18 The beginning, ending, and middest of the times, howe the times alter, howe one goeth after another, and howe they are fulfilled,
19 The course of the yeere, the ordinaunces of the starres, 20 The natures of lyuing things, the furiousnes of beastes, the power of ỳ windes, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of yong plantes, the vertues of rootes:
21 And all suche things as are either secret or manifest, them haue I learned.
22 For wisdome, whiche is the worker of all things, hath taught mee: for in hir is the spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, one onely, manifolde, subtile, "quicke moouing, cleare, vndefyled, playne, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, whiche cannot be letted, doing good, "or, liuely.
23 Kinde to man, stedfaste, sure, free from care, hauing all "vertues, "circumspect in all things, and passing through all vnderstanding, cleane and subtile spirites. "or, power. "or, hauing regarde of.
24 For wisdome is nimbler than al nimble things, she goeth through, and attayneth to all things, bicause of hir cleannesse.
25 For she is the breath of ỳ power of God, and a pure influence flowing from ỳ glorie of the almightie (God:) therefore can no defiled thing come vnto hir.
26 For she is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirrour of ỳ maiestie of God, & the image of his goodnesse.
27 And beeing (but) one, shee can do all things: and remayning in hir selfe, shee renueth all, and in all ages of tymes entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friendes, and prophetes:
28 For God loueth none, if hee dwell not with wisdome. E
29 For she is more beautifull than ỳ sunne, "and giueth more syght than the starres, & the day is not to be compared vnto hir. "or, aboue all the order of starres.
30 For vpon "the day, commeth night: but wickednesse cannot ouercome wisdome. "or, it.

The.viij.Chapter.

The effectes of VVisdome.

1 "WIsdome reacheth from one ende to another mightily, and "louingly doth she order all things. A "or, she. "or, profitably.
2 I haue loued hir, and "laboured for hir, euen from my youth vp: I did my diligence to mary my selfe with hir, such loue had I vnto hir beautie. "or, sought.
3 That shee hath the company of God, it commendeth hir nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himselfe loueth hir.
4 For she is the scholemaistres of the nurture of God, and the chooser oute of his workes.
5 If "a mã would desire riches in this life, what is rycher than wisedome that worketh all things? "or, if riches be a possession that a man would desire.
6 For if prudencie worke: what is it among all things that worketh better?
7 And if a man loue ryghtuousnesse, hir labours are but vertues: for why? she teacheth sobernesse and prudence, "ryghteousnesse and strength, whiche are suche things, B "or, iustice, & manhood.

things, as men can haue nothing more profitable in their lyfe.

" or, muche experience.

8 If a man desire muche "knowledge, she can tell the things that are passe, and discerne things for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of wordes, and can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders yer euer they come to passe, and the " endes of all tymes and ages.

" or, successe of tymes.

9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I will take hir into my company, that she may lyue with me, knowing for certayntie she shall gyue mee good counsaile, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.

10 For hir sake shal I be wel (and honestly) taken among the cõmons, & with honour among the elders, though I be yong.

11 I shall be founde to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shalbe marueylous in the syght of greate men: (a) and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.

a. This parte of the eleuẽth verse is onely in the olde translation.

12 When I hold my tongue, they shal bide my leysure, and when I speake, they shall gyue good eare vnto mee, and if I talke muche, they shall laye their handes vppon their mouth.

13 Moreouer, by the meanes of hir, I shall obteyne immortalitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memorial among them that come after me.

" or, I shall gouerne the people.

14 I "shall set the people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

℣ 15 Horrible tyrantes shalbe afrayde when they dow but heare of me, among the multitude I shalbe counted good, and mighty in battaile.

16 When I come home, I shall finde reste with hir: for hir company hath no bytternesse, and hir felowship hath no tediousnesse, but myrth and ioy.

17 Nowe when I considered these things by my selfe, & pondered them in my heart, howe that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie, 18 And greate pleasure to haue hir friendship, and that in the workes of hir handes are infinite riches, and that who so "keepeth companie with hir shalbe wise, and that he which talketh with hir, shall come to honour: I went about seeking how to get hir vnto me.

" or, exerciseth talke with hir.

19 For I was a ladde of rype wit, and had a good "understanding.

" or, spirite with me.

20 "But when I grewe to more vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body.

" or, yea rather beyng good.

21 Neuertheless when I perceyued that I could not enioy it, except god gaue it (me) and that was a poynt of wisdome also to know whose gift it was, I stepped vnto ỹ Lorde, and besoughte him, and with my whole hart I sayde after this manner.

The. ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obteyne wisdome.

1 O God of" (my) fathers, and Lorde of mercie, thou hast made all things with thy worde.

" or, the.

2 And ordeyned man thorowe thy wisedome, that he should haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

Gen. 1. d.

3 That he should "order the worlde according to equitie and rightuousnesse, and execute iudgement with a "true hert.

" or, gouerne. " or, in vprightnes.

4 Giue me wisedome, which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put me not out from among thy children.

5 For I thy seruaunt & sonne of thy handmayden, am a feeble person, and of a short time, "and to yong to the vnderstanding of iudgement and lawes.

6 And though a man be neuer so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisedome be not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters. ℣

8 Thou hast commaunded me to buylde a temple vpon thy holie mount, and an aulter in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a likenesse of thy holy tabernacle, whiche thou hast prepared from the beginning.

9 And thy wisdom with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was with thee when thou madest the worlde, and knewe what was acceptable in thy sight, & right in thy commaundementes.

10 O sende hir out of thy holye heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that she may be with me, and labour (with me) that I may knowe what is acceptable in thy sight.

11 For she knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, & she shall leade me soberly in my workes, & preserue me "in hir power.

" or, by.

12 So shall my workes be acceptable, and thẽ shall I gouern thy people rightuously, and be worthy to sit in my fathers seate.

13 For what man is he that can knowe the cõsaile of God? or who can thinke what the will of God is?

14 For the thoughtes of mortall men are "miserable, and our forecastes are but vncertaine, ℂ " or, dyeng.

15 For

15 For why? a corruptible body is heauie vnto the soule, and the earthie mansion keepeth downe "that vnderstanding that museth vpon many things.

16 Very hardly can we discerne the things that are vpon earth, "and greate laboure haue we or we can finde the things which are before our eyes: and who hath then sought out the grounde of the things that are done in heauen?

17 (Oh Lorde,) who can haue knowledge of thy "(vnderstanding and) meaning, except thou giue wisdome, and send thy holy ghost from aboue?

18 For so the wayes of them whiche lyued in the earthe were reformed, and men haue learned the things that are pleasant vnto thee, and were preserued thorowe wisedome.

The.x. Chapter.

The delyueraunce of the ryghteous, and destruction of the enimies, commeth through wisedome.

1 SHe preserred the firste fourmed father of the world that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall:

2 And gaue him power to rule all things.

3 But when the vnrighteous went away in his wrath from hir, he perished by ẏ furious desire to murther his brother.

4 For whom when the water destroyed the whole worlde, wisdome agayne preserued it, hir selfe gouerning the iuste man by no costly worke of wood.

5 Moreouer, when the nations were confounded (or ioyned togyther) in their malicious confederacie, she founde oute the ryghteous, and preserued him faultlesse vnto God, and kept him strong agaynste the loue of his sonne.

6 Shee preserued the ryghteous when hee fled from the vngodly that perished, what tyme as the fire fell downe vppon the fyue cities.

7 Like as yet this day the (vnfruitful) waste (and) smoking lande giueth testimonie of their wickednesse: yea the "vnripe & vntimely fruites that grow vpon the trees, & for a token of a remẽbrance of the vnfaithfull soule, there standeth a piller of salt.

8 For all suche as regarded not wisedome, gate not onely this hurte, that they knewe not the things whiche were good: but also left behind them vnto men, a memorial of their folishnes, so that in ẏ things wherein they sinned, they could not be hid.

9 But as for suche as toke heede vnto wisedome, she hath delyuered them from sorowe.

10 When the ryghteous fled bycause of his brothers wrath, "wisedome ledde him the right waye, shewed him the kingdome of god, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him riche in his labours, & brought to passe the things that he went about. Gen.28.a. "or, she.

11 In the "deceyptfulnesse of suche as defrauded him, she stode by him, and made him riche. "or, couetousnesse.

12 She saued him from the enimies, and defended him from the "deceyuers: in a strong battaile shee gaue him the victorie, that he might knowe howe that the feare of God is stronger than all things. "or, lyers in wayte.

13 When the righteous was solde, she forsoke him not, but delyuered him from synne: She went downe with him into the "dungeon. Gen.37.k. Actes. 7.b. "or, prison.

14 And sayled him not in the bands, tyl she had brought him ẏ scepter of the Realme, and power agaynste those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she declared them to be lyers, & brought him to perpetuall "worship. Gen.41.k. C "or, glory.

15 She deliuered the ryghteous people and faultlesse seede, from the nations that oppressed them. Exod.1.b.

16 She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stode by him in wonders & tokens against the dreadfull kings. Exod.3.c.

17 She gaue the "ryghteous the rewarde of their labours, & led them forth a marueylous way: on the day tyme she was a shadowe vnto them, and a light of starres in the nyght season. "or, the saintes.

18 She brought them through the red sea, & caryed them through the great water. Exo.14.c.

19 But she drowned their enimies (in the sea) but brought them out of the botome of the deepe.

20 So the righteous toke the spoyles of the vngodly, and praysed thy holie name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious hand with one accorde. Exo.12.e. Exo.15.a.

21 For wisdome openeth the mouthe of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent. Psal.18.a. Matth.2.c.

The.xi. Chapter.

1 The myracles done for Israel. 13. The vengeance of synners. 28. The greate power and mercie of God.

1 SHe "ordred their workes in the hands of the holy prophete: A "or, directed, or, prospered, Exod.16.a. 2 (So that) they went thorowe the wildernesse that was not inhabited, and pitched their tentes in the waste desert.

3 They stoode agaynst their enimies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

Exod.17.c. Num.20.b 4 When they were thirstie, they called vpō thee, and water was giuen them out of ỹ (most) hyghe rocke, and their thyrste was quenched out of the harde stone.

5 For by the things where through their enimies were punished, were the " childzen of Israel helped in their neede.

"or, they, that is, the Israelites.

6 For in steede of a fountayne of the perpetuall running stoodde al troubled with gorie blodde,

B 7 In reproche of the commaundement published to murder the infants, thou gauest vnto them abundance of water, and that not loked for neyther.

8 Declaring by that thirst then, howe thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

Deut.8.a. 9 For when they were tryed, and nurtured with (fatherly) mercie, they knew how the vngodly were iudged, and punished in the wrath (of God.)

10 For these hast thou exhorted as a father, & prowed them: but vnto the other thou hast bene a boysterous king, " layed harde to their charge, and condemned them.

"or, examined them straitly

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike.

12 For their griefe was double, & mourning for the remembrance of things past.

13 For when they perceyued that their pu- nishmentes did them good, they " thought vpon the Lorde.

"or, they felte

C 14 For whome, in his calling out before, as an abiect they had denyed with derision, him in the ende, when they saw what happened, they wondered at: for they were of another thirst than was the iust.

15 But for the foolishe deuises of their wickednesse, wherewith being deceyued, they worshipped serpentes that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vppon them for reuengeance:

16 That they might know, that loke wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.

Leui.26.d. Sap.16.a. Ier.8.f. 17 For vnto thy almightie hand that made the world of nought, it was not vnpossible to sende among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions.

18 Or cruell beastes of a strange kind, such as are vnknowen, or spout fire, or cast out a smoking breath, or showe horrible sparks out of their eyes:

19 Whiche myght not onely destroye them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.

20 Yea without these (beastes) myght they haue bene slayne with one winde, being persecuted by the reuengeance, & scattered abroade through the breathe of thy power: Neuertheless, thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and wayght. D

21 For thou hast euer had greate strength and myght, and who may withstande the power of thyne arme?

22 For why? like as the small thing that the ballaunce wayeth, so is the worlde before thee: yea as a droppe of the morning dewe that falleth downe vpon the earth.

23 But thou hast mercie vpon all, for thou hast power of all things, and makest thee as though thou sawest not the sins of men, bycause they should amende. Rom.

24 For thou louest all the things that are, and hatest none of them whome thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thing if thou hadst hated it.

25 Yea howe myght any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could anything be preserued, except it were called of thee? E

26 But thou sparest all: for they are thyne (O Lorde) thou louer of soules.

The.xij.Chapter.

1. The mercie of God toward sinners. 14. The woorkes of God are vnreprouable. 19. God giueth leasure to repent.

1 O Thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lord, is in all things. I

2 Therfore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance in what things they haue offended, that leaning their wickednes, they may beleeue on thee, O Lorde.

3 As for those olde inhabitours of thy holy land, thou mightest not away with them. Deut. 12.d.

4 For they cōmitted abhominable workes (agaynst thee) as witchcraft, sorcerie, and wicked sacrifices.

5 They slue their owne childzen without mercie, they dyd eate vp the bowels of mens flesche, and deuoured the blodde in abhominable bankettes, and had their mad fanaticall priestes:

6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, (these dooers) thou wouldest destroy by the hāds of our fathers:

7 That the lande whiche thou louest aboue all other, might be a meete dwelling for the children of God.

8 Neuertheleſſe, thou ſparedſt them alſo as men, and ſendeſt the forerunners of thine hoſte, euen hornets to deſtroy them out by little and little.

9 Not that thou waſt vnable to ſubdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battayle, or with cruell beaſtes, or with one roughe worde to deſtroy them togither.

10 But thy minde was in puniſhing them by little and little, to giue them place for amendement, knowing well that it was an vnryghteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might neuer be altered.

11 For it was a curſed ſeede from the beginning: yet haſt thou not pardoned their ſinnes wherin they offended, for that thou feareſt any man.

12 For who will ſtande againſt thy iudgement? or who will blame thee for the nations that periſhe, whom thou haſt made? or who will come before thy face to be reuenged for the vnrighteous men?

13 For there is none other God but thou, that careſt for all things: that thou mayſt declare howe that thy iudgemente is not vnright.

14 There dare neyther king nor tyrante in thy ſight, require accompts of them whom thou haſt deſtroyed.

15 Forſomuche then as thou art righteous thy ſelfe, thou ordereſt all things righteouſly, thinking it vnſeemely for thy power to condemne him that hath not deſerued to be puniſhed.

16 For thy power is the beginning of righteouſneſſe, and bycauſe thou art Lorde of all things, it maketh thee to be gratious vnto all.

17 For when men thinke thee not to be of a full ſtrength, thou declareſt thy power, and reproueſt the boldneſſe of the wiſe.

18 But thou "maiſtring thy power, doeſt iudge with equitie, and ordereſt vs with great fauour: for thou mayeſt vſe power when thou wilt.

19 By ſuche workes now haſt thou taught thy people, that the iuſt man ſhould be louing, and haſt made thy children to bee of a good hope, becauſe thou giueſt repentance for ſinnes.

20 For in ſomuche as thou haſte puniſhed, and with ſuche deliberation and obteſtation, the enimies of thy ſeruantes, whiche were worthy to dye, wherethrough thou gaueſt them tyme and place of amendemente, that they myght turne from their wickednelle:

21 With howe greate circumſpection then puniſheſt thou thyne owne children, vnto whoſe fathers thou haſt ſworne, and made couenantes of good promiſes?

22 So whyr as thou doeſt chaſten vs, thou "puniſheſt our enimies a thouſand times more: to the intent that when we puniſhe, we ſhoulde diligently thinke of thy goodneſſe, and when we our ſelues are "puniſhed, we ſhould hope for mercie. D "or ſcourgeſt "or, iudged.

23 Wherefore, where as men haue lyued diſſolutely and vnrighteouſly, thou haſte puniſhed them for with their owne abominations.

24 For they went aſtray very "long in the wayes of erroꝛ, & helde the beaſtes (whiche euen their enimies deſpiſed) for gods, deceiued as children of no vnderſtanding. "or, farre. Sap. 11. c. Rom. 1. c.

25 Therfore haſt thou ſent them thy iudgement in ſcorne, as to thyldren voyde of reaſon.

26 As for ſuche as wil not be reformed by thoſe ſcornes (and rebukes,) they ſhall feele the worthie "puniſhment of God. "or, iudgmẽt

27 For loke in what things they "diſdayned when they "ſuffered for their ſakes, whome they counted goddes, ſeeing them ſelues puniſhed in the "ſame; they perceiued that he was in deede the true God, whome before they had denyed to knowe, and therefore came extreme dampnation vpon them. "or, murmuring & grudging. "or, were chaſtened. "or, murmuring.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1. All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God. 10. Idolaters and idols are mocked.

1 SVrely vayne are all men by nature, whiche were ignorant of God, and couldē not oute of the good things that are ſeene, knowe him that of him ſelfe is (euerlaſting,) neyther toke ſo muche regarde of the workes that are made, as therby to knowe who was the craftesman of them: A

2 But ſome toke the fire, ſome the winde or ſwift ayre, ſome the courſe of the ſtarres, ſome the running water, (ſome toke ſunne and moone) or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the worlde.

3 But though they had ſuche pleaſure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue bene goddes, yet ſhoulde they haue knowen howe muche more "fayer he is that made them: for the "maker of beautie "or, excelle "or, the fir author thereof, hath hath ordeyned all these things.

4 Or if they marueyled at the power and worke of them, they shoulde haue perceyued thereby, howe muche he whiche made these things is mightier than they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie, and of the creatures, the maker thereof compared with them, may plainely be "knowen.

"or, seene.

6 Notwithstanding, they are thelesse to be blamed that seeke God, and woulde finde him, and yet peraduenture "misse.

"or, erre.

B 7 For they being occupyed in his workes, dow seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the syght, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

8 Howe be it, yet neyther are they to be excused.

"or, collecture

9 For if their vnderstãding (and knowledge) be so greate, that they can "discerne the worlde (and the creatures) why do they not rather finde out the Lord thereof?

"or, in deade things.

10 But miserable are they, and "among the deade is their hope, that call them goddes, which are but the workes of mens hands, golde, siluer, and the thing that is founde out by "cunning, the similitude of beastes, or any vayne stone that hath bene made by hande of olde.

11 Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meete for the purpose, & pareth off all the barke cunningly, and so by art comely maketh a vessel profitable to ye vse of lyfe:

12 And with that which is cut off from his worke, doth dresse his meate to fyll his belly:

13 And as for the other parte that is lefte, whiche is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked peece of wood, and full of knobs) he carueth it diligently by leasure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, he giueth it some proporcion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man.

C 14 Or maketh it like some vyle beaste, streaketh it ouer with redde, and paynteth it, and loke what foule spotte is in it, he casteth some colour vpon it.

"or, an house worthy of it.

15 Then maketh he a "conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in the wall, and maketh it fast with yron.

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it happen to fall, "for it is wel knowen, that it cannot helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

"or, for he knoweth wel

17 Then making prayer for his goodes, for his mariage, & for children, he is not ashamed to speake to that whiche hath no soule.

18 For health, he maketh his petition vnto him that is "sicke: for life he hũbly praieth "or, weake.

vnto him that is dead: he "calleth vppon him for help, that hath no experience at all: and to send him a good iourney, he prayeth him that may not go.

"or, make supplication vnto him

19 And for gaine, for worke, & for successe of his affaires, he asketh power of him, which is without all manner of power.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. The detestation & abhomination of images. 8. A curse of them, and of him that maketh them. 14. Whereof idolatrie proceeded. 23. What euils come of Idolatrie.

1 AGayne, another man purposing to sayle, & "beginning to take his iourney through the raging "sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker than the vessell that beareth him.

"or, preparing and making ready.
"or, when he cryeth for helpe.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of mony hath founde it out, and the craftesman made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast made a way euen in the sea, and a sure pathe in the middest of the waues,

4 Declaring thereby, that thou hast power to helpe "in all things, yea though a man went to the sea without "shippe.

"or, any way.
"or, ship.

5 Neuertheless, thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisdom should be in vaine: and therefore do men commit their lyues to a small peece of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

6 For in the old time also when the proude giantes perished, he in whome "the hope was left to increase the worlde, went into the shippe whiche was gouerned through thy hande, and so lefte seede behinde him vnto the worlde.

Gen. 7.
"or, the hope of the world

7 For "happye is the tree, wherethrough righteousnesse commeth:

B "or, blessed

8 But cursed is "(the idol) that is made with handes, yea both it, and he that made it: he, because he made it: and it, because it was called God, where as it is but a "fraile thing.

"or, the idol.
Plal. 11.
Barue. 6.
"or, corruptible.
Plal. 7.

9 For the vngodly, and his vngodlinesse, are both like abhominable vnto God.

10 (Euen so) the worke, and he that made it also, shalbe punished togither.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idols of the heathen: for out of ye creature of God, they are become an abhomination, & "teptation vnto ye soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

"or, a stumbling offence, & stumbling blocke.
"or, deuill.
"or, instrument.

12 For why? the "seeking out of idols, is the beginning of whoredome, & the "bringing vp typ of them, is the " destruction of lyke.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neyther shall they continue for euer.

14 The vayne glorye of men, hath founde them out vppon earth, therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

15 For whe a father mourned heuily for his sonne, " sodaynely taken away from him, he made him an image: and him whiche then was but a deade man, he nowe began to worship as a god, and ordeyned for his " seruantes ceremonies and sacrifices.

16 Thus by processe of tyme, this " vngracious custome being waxen strong, was kept as a lawe, & images were worshipped by commaundement of tyrants.

17 As for those that were so farre off, that men myght not worshippe them present, their visage being drawen out from farre off, was made as the " cleare image of an honorable king, that they might with " affection flatter as well the absent as the present.

18 Agayne, the singular ambition of the craftes man, gaue ỹ ignorant also a great occasion to increase the superstition.

19 For he willing to please one, peraduenture that " bare rule, laboured with all his cunning, to make the image of the beste fashion.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the " common people being therto allured, toke him nowe for a god, whiche a little before was but honoured as a man.

21 And this was to the deceyuing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or tyrannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that name (of God) whiche ought not to be giuen vnto any thing (else.)

22 Moreouer, this was not ynough for thē, that they erred in the knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so (many and) greate " plagues called they peace.

23 For eyther they slue their owne children, and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secret ceremonies, or followed madde drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice:

24 So that they kept neyther life nor mariage cleane: but eyther one slew another traiterously, or greeued him by adultery.

25 So that there raygned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, " dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulnes, sedition, periurie, 26 Disquieting of good men, vnthākfulnes, defiling of soules, chāging of birth, disordering of mariages, adulterie, & vncleanesse.

27 For why? the honouring of " abominable images, is the beginning, the cause, and ende of all euill. " or, of idols that ought not once to be named of vs.

28 For (they that worship idols,) either they are madde when they be merry, or prophesie lyes, or liue " vngodly, or els lightly forsweare themselues. E " or, vniustly.

29 For insomuche as their truste is in the idols whiche haue no " soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them. " or, lyke.

30 Therfore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthily, for both causes: for they haue an euill opinion of God, that giue hede vnto idols, and they sweare vniustly in deceite, despising holinesse.

31 For it is not the power of thē, by whome they sweare: but it is the iuste " vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers. " or, iudgemēt

The. xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faithfull, praysing the mercy of God, by whose grace they serue not idols.

1 BUt thou, O our God, art gracious, true, and long suffering, and in mercie ordrest thou all things. A

2 Though we sinne, yet are we thine, for we knowe thy strength: but we will not sinne, bicause we knowe we are counted thyne.

3 For to knowe thee, is perfect righteousnesse: yea, to knowe thy power, is the rote of immortalitie.

4 As " for the thing that men haue founde out through their euill science, it hath not deceyued vs, nor the paynters vnprofitable labour, (to wit) an image " spotted with diuers coloures. " or, for neyther the malicious deuise of men deceiued vs. " or, stayned.

5 Whose sight entiseth the ignorant to lust after it, and hee desireth the " picture of a dead image that hath no breath. " or, fourme.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worshippe them, loue euills, and are worthy to haue suche things to trust vpon.

7 For the potter tempereth softe earth, labourcth it, and gyueth it the fashion of whatsoeuer vessell serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same claye he maketh bothe the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also suche as serue to the contrary: Whereunto euery vessel serueth, the potter him selfe being the iudge.

8 So by his wicked labour, he maketh a vayne god of the same claye: this doth euen he which a little before was made of earth him selfe, and within a little whyle after, returneth to the same out of whiche he was taken, when the lone of his lyfe shalbe demaunded from him agayne.

9 Notwithstanding, he careth not ẏ more for this, that he muste labour, nor that his lyfe is shorte: but stryueth to excell goldsmithes and syluersmithes, and endeuoureth to dow like the coppersmithes, and taketh it for an honour to make "deceyuable things.

10 His heart is but asshes, his hope is more vayne than earth, and his life of "lesse honour than claye, 11 Forsomuch as he knoweth not his owne maker that gaue him his soule of power to worke, & breathed in him ẏ breath of lyfe.

12 But they counted our life but a pastime, & (our) conuersation to be but a market for gaine, & that mē should euery way be getting, yea, though it were by euill meanes.

13 Now he that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth him selfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enimies of thy people that holde them in subiection, are moste vnwise, and are more miserable than very "fooles.

15 For they iudge al the idols of the heathē to be gods, which neither haue eye sight to see, nor nosts "to smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers or handes to grope, and as for their feete, they are (to) slowe to go.

16 For man made them, and hee that borowed his owne spirite fashioned them: but no man can make a god lyke vnto him selfe.

17 For seeing hee is but mortall, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous handes: He him selfe is better than they whome he worshippeth, for hee lyued as they did neuer.

18 Yea, they worshipped (suche) beastes also as are "most hatefull: for if they were compared for "madnesse, they are worse than others.

19 Neyther haue they any beautie why to be desired in respecte of other beastes: but are all voyde of the prayse of God, and his blessing.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. The punishment of idolaters. 20. The benefites done vnto the faythfull.

1 Therfore, by such things are they worthyly punished, and through the multitude of beastes are they "rooted out.

2 In steede of the whiche punishmentes thou hast gratiously ordered thine owne people, preparing for the desire of their appetite a strange taste, euen quayles to dre their meate:

3 To the intent, that by the things whiche were shewed and sent vnto them, they that were so greedy of meate, myght beginne to lothe euen their necessarie appetite, and they whiche had suffered penurie for a short space, might be partakers of the newe taste.

4 For it was requisite that without any excuse, powertie should come vpō those which vsed tyranny, & to shewe only vnto the other, howe their enimies were "destroyed.

5 For when the cruell "woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished through the stings of the cruell serpentes, (Notwithstanding,) thy wrath endured not perpetually.

6 But they were "put in feare for a little season, that they might be reformed, hauing a "token to remember the commandement of thy lawe.

7 For he that looked backe (to it,) was not healed by the thing that hee sawe, but by thee, O sauiour of all.

8 So in this thou shewedst our enimies, ẏ it is thou which deliuerest from all euill.

9 For then when they were bytten with grashoppers and flyes, they dyed, neyther was there any remedye founde for their lyfe, for they were worthy to be punished by suche.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons did ouercom thy children: for thy mercie was ever by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, bicause they shoulde remember thy wordes, but speedely were they healed againe, leaste they shoulde fall into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they myght not be called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neyther herbe nor playster that restored them to healthe: but thy worde, O Lorde, whiche healeth all things.

13 It is thou, O Lorde, that hast the power of lyfe and death, thou leadest "vnto deathes dore, and bringest vp agayne.

14 A man in deede through his wickednesse, may slaye (another,) but when his spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neyther may he call agayne the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hande.

16 For the vngodly that would not knowe thee,

"or, false and counterfaite.

"or, more base

"or, more vayne

"or, very babes.

"or, to drawe the ayre of breath.

"or, token

thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme: with strange raynes, hayles, and showres, were they persecuted, that they coulde not auoyde, and through fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might do more than water, whiche quencheth all things: but the worlde is the auenger of the ryghteous.

18 For sometimes was the fire so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punishe the vngodly, brent not, and that because they shoulde see, and know that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime brent the fire in the middest of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust lande.

20 In stede wherof, thou hast fed thine owne people with angels foode, & sent the breade ready from heauen, without their labour, "being very pleasant, and of good taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children, declared thy sweetenesse, and seruing to his appetite that toke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 But the snowe and yse abode the violence of the fire, and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the hayle, and sparkling in the rayne, destroyed the fruite of the enimies.

23 The fire also forgate his owne strength agayne, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee, which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie (and gentle) to do good vnto suche as put their truste in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same tyme into all fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is the nurse of all things, according to the desire of them that haddе neede thereof.

26 That thy children O Lord, whom thou louest, might know that it is not ỳ "growing of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy worde which preserueth them that put their trust in thee.

27 For loke what "might not be destroyed at al with the fire, as soone as it was warmed with a litle sunne beame, it melted:

28 That all men might know that thanks ought to be giuen vnto thee before ỳ sunne yse, and that thou ought est to be "worshipped before the day spring.

29 For the hope of the vnthankful, shal melt away as the winter yse, and flowe away as vnprofitable water.

The.xvij. Chapter.

The iudgementes of God agaynste the wicked.

1 GReate are thy iudgementes, (O Lorde,) and cannot be expressed: therfore men do erre that will not be reformed (by thy wisedome.)

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holye people in subiection, they were bounde with the bandes of darknesse & long nyght, shut vp vnder roofes, and lay there to escape the eternall prouidence.

3 And whyle they thought to be hyd in the darknesse of their sinnes, they were "scattered abroade in the very middest of the darke couering of forgetfulnes, put to horrible feare, and wonderfully vexed.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not keepe the from feare, because ỳ soundes came round about them, and vexed them, yea, many terrible and "straunge visions appeared vnto them.

5 No power of the fire myght giue them light, neither might the clearе flames of the starres lighten the horrible nyght.

6 But there appeared vnto them a suddaine fire only, very dreadfull: at ỳ whiche sight, wherein they saw nothing throughly, they were so afrayde, that they thought the thing which they sawe, to be the more "fearefull.

7 As for the illusions of the magicall arte, they came to nought: and it was a moste shamefull reproche of the pryde that they had of their owne wisdome.

8 For they that promised to driue awaye the feares & troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke themselues with feare, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing dyd feare them, yet were they afrayde at the beastes whiche passed by them, and at the hissing of the serpentes.

10 Insomuche, that with trembling they "sowned, and "sayde they sawe not the ayre, which no man yet may escape.

11 For malice is a dreadfull thing, that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer "surmiseth cruell things.

12 For feare is nothing els but a "betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

13 And loke howe much the lesse his hope is within, the greater doth he recount his ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

"Or, Astonished with sightes of straūge apparitions.

"Or, phātasies with woefull countenāces.

"Or, the worse. B

"Or, dyed. "Or, and desyred euen to see the ayre.

"Or, forecasteth.

"Or, a forsaking & reuolting of the helpes which reason suggesteth.

14 But they (that did endure) the nyght that in deede was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, sleeping the same sleepe, 15 Were sometymes chased with monsterous apparitions, & sometimes they sowned; as their owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastie feare, and that was not loked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus, whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaynes:

17 For whether a man had occupyed husbandrie, or had bene an husbandman, or labourer in the "woodes, if he were taken, he suffered intollerable necessitie.

" or, alone, or in the deserts.

" or, that could not be escaped

18 For they were all bound with one chaine of darkenesse: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the birds amog the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hastie running water.

19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the running of playing beastes, which they sawe not, or the mightie noyse of roring wilde beasts, or "the sounde that answered againe in ỹ holownes of mountaynes: these terrible things made them sowne (for very feare.)

" or, eccō.

" or, world.

20 For al ỹ "earth shined with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

21 Only vpō them there fel a heauy night, an image of darknesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto thēselues more heauy than darknesse.

The. xviij. Chapter.

3. The firie pyller that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8. The deliuerance of the faythfull. 10. The Lorde smote the Egyptians. 20. The sinne of the people in the wildernesse. 21. Aaron stoode betwene the liuing and the deade with his censure.

1 NEuertheles, thy saintes had a very greate lyght, whose voyce they hearing, and not seeing their figure, for that they suffered not the same things, they thought them blessed.

2 And for that they did not hurt them now, of whome they had bene wronged before, they thanked them, and besought the pardon of that they had bene enimies.

3 Therefore thou gauest them a burning pyller of fyre, to leade thē in the vnknowen waye, and the sunne not to hurte them in their honorable iourney.

4 But reason it was that they should leese the light, and be put in the prison of darknesse, which had kept thy children "shut vp, by whome the incorrupt light of the lawe was to be giuen vnto the worlde.

" or, in bōdage

5 After, when they thought to slaye the babes of the saintes, one childe beyng cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogither in a mightie water.

Exod. 1. 22.

6 Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credence, myght be of good cheare.

and. 2.

7 Thus thy people receyued ỹ health of the righteous, but ỹ vngodly were destroyed.

B

8 For like as thou hast "reuenged our enimies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called.

" or, punished

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, & made a godly lawe with one consent, that the saintes shoulde in like manner receyue togyther both good and euill, and that the fathers now should firste sing prayses.

10 But ther was heard a disagreeing voice of the enimyes, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were bewayled.

11 The maister and the seruaunt were punished after one manner: and like as the king, so suffered the common people.

12 So they hadde innumerable that dyed with one kind of death altogither: neyther were the lyuing sufficient to burye "the deade, for in the twinckling of an eye, the noblest ofspring of them was destroyed.

Exod.

" or, them

13 For whereas they woulde discredite all things, by reason of the inchauntmentes, in the destruction of the firste borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For while al things were still in silence, and when the nyght was in the myddest of hir course, thy almightie worde, O Lorde, lept downe from heauen out of thy royall throne,

C

15 As a "rough man of warre in the myddest of the lande that was destroyed,

" or, fierce

16 And broughte thyne vnfayned commandement as a sharp swoorde, and standing vp, fylled all things with death, yea, it stoode vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the syghtes of the euyll dreames vexed them sodainely, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnwares.

18 Then lay there one heere, another there, halfe deade (halfe quicke,) and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For

19 For the vilions that vexed them, shewed them these things afore, that they might not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea the temptation of death touched the righteous also, and "among the multitude in the wildernesse there was " insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

21 For the blamelesse man went in all the hast, and toke the battel vpon him, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euē prayer, & the reconciliation of incense, set him selfe against the wrath, and so brought the miserie to an ende, declaring (thereby) that he was thy seruant.

22 For hee ouercame not the "multitude with bodyly power, or force of weapons: but with the worde hee subdued him that "vexed, alledging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

23 For when the deade were fallen downe by heapes one vpon another, hee stode in the middest, "patified the wrath, and "parted the way, that it might not come to the lyuing.

24 And why? in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones, was the glorie of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was written in the "crowne of his head.

25 Unto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afrayde of them: for it was ynough that they only tasted of the wrath.

The.xix. Chapter.

1. The death of the Egiptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrues. 11. The meate that was giuen at the desire of the people. 17. All the elements serue to the will of God.

1 BVt for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercy vnto the end: for he knewe before what shoulde happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they woulde repent, and followe vpon them.

3 For whiles they were yet mourning, and making lamentation by the graues of the deade, they deuised another folishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their in fleeing, whom they had (a) cast out afore with prayer.

4 For the "necessitie which they had deserued, brought them vnto this end, and made them forget the things that had alreadie hapned, that they might by tormentes fulfill their punishment which remayned:

5 And that thy people might try a maruellous passage: and these myght finde a straunge death.

6 For euery creature in his kynde, was fashioned againe of newe, seruing the peculiar offices, as was commaunded them, that thy children might be kept wout hurt:

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, B and the drye earth appeared, where afore was water: so that in the redde sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene fielde:

8 Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hande, seeing thy maruellous straunge wonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neyed, and leaped like lambs, praysing thee, (O Lord) which hadst deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet mindefull of the thinges that were done whyle they dwelt in the strange land, how the ground brought forth flyes in stede of cattell, and how the ryuer scrawled with ỹ multitude of frogges in stede of fysshes.

11 But at the last they sawe a newe generation of byrdes, what time as they were stirred with lust, & desired delicate meates. Exo.16.c. Num.11.g.

12 For why? the quayles came vp to them from the sea, for their comfort: but punishmentes came vpō the sinners, not without the signes whiche came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightnings: for they suffered worthyly, according to their wickednesse, bicause they dealt so churlishly, and with an hate of strangers.

13 For some woulde not receiue "men that came vnto them, and were vnknown: and some brought the strangers into bondage that did them good. "or, ghestes vnknowne.

14 Nor onely so, but if they had beene any where regarded, they coulde not suffer it: C for they intreated strangers very dispytefully.

15 Others that hadde receiued them with great solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their "societie, they afflicted them with greeuous labours. "or, right.

16 Therfore were they stricken with blindnesse, like as when they that were couered with sodayne darknesse at the dores of the righteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his dores. Gen.19.c.

17 Thus the elementes being chaunged, agreed among them selues, like as when tunes are chaunged vppon an instrument of musike, and yet keepe still a melodie: which may easily be perceyued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the earthy things were turned vnto watrie: and the thing that before swam in the water, now went vpon the ground.
19 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgat his owne kinde to quench (the fire.)
D 20 Againe, the flames hurted not the flesh of the corruptible liuing things, though they walked therein, neyther melted they that yll kynde of immortall meate, that was of nature apt to melt.
21 For in all things hast thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honoure, thou hast not despyled them, but alway and in all places, hast thou "or, & thou stande by them.

The ende of the booke of VVisdome.

Many and great men haue declared wisedome vnto vs out of the lawe, out of the prophets, and out of other that followed them: in the which things Israell ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisedome: Therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not only them selues be wise thereby, but serue other also with teaching and writing. After that my Grandfather Iesus had giuen diligent labour to reade the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exercised him selfe therein: he purposed also to write something of wisedome and good manners, to the intent that they which were willing to learne, and to be wise, might haue the more vnderstanding, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore I exhort you to reuerence it louingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our wordes be not so eloquent as the famous Orators. For the thing that is written in the Hebrue tong, soundeth not so well when it is translated into another speache: not only this booke of myne, but also the lawe, the prophetes, and other bookes sounde farre otherwise, than they do when they are spoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the eight and thirtieth yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the time of Ptolomie Euergetes, and continued there a long season, I founde bookes there left, full of great and profounde learning: wherefore I thought it good and necessarie to bestowe my diligence and trauell to interpret this booke: and considering that I had time, I laboured and did my best to perfourme this booke, and to bring it vnto light, that the strangers also which are disposed to learne, myght apply them selues vnto good maners, and liue according to the lawe of the Lorde.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. VVisedome commeth of God. 11. A prayse of the feare of God. 29. The meanes to come by wisedome.

All wisedome (cōmeth) of God the Lorde, and hath beene euer with him, and is "before all time.

3. Reg. 3. b. Job. 28. c. Iacob. 1. a. "or, and is with him for euer.

"or, the world

3 Who hathe sought out the grounde of Gods wisedome, which hath beene before all things?

4 Wisedome hath beene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerlasting.

Rom. 11. c.

5 (Gods worde in the heigth, is the well of wisedome, and the euerlasting commaundements, are the entrance of hir.

6 Unto whome hath the roote of wisedome beene declared? or who hath knowne hir witte?

Rom.

7 Unto whome hath the doctrine of wisedome beene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstande the manyfolde entrance of hir?

8 There is one, euen the highest, the maker of all things, the almightie, the king of power, of whome men ought to stande greatly in awe, which sitteth vppon his throne, being a God of dominion.

9 He

9 Hee hath created hir through the holy Ghoſt, he hath ſeene hir, numbred hir, and meaſured hir.
10 Hee hath powred hir out vpon all his workes, and vpon all fleſhe, according to his gifte, he giueth hir richely vnto them that loue him.
11 The feare of the Lorde is worſhip and triumph, gladneſſe, and a ioyefull crowne.
12 The feare of the Lorde maketh a merry heart, giueth gladneſſe, ioy, and long life.
13 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, it ſhall goe well with him at the laſt, and in the day of his death, he ſhall be bleſſed.
14 The loue of God is honourable wyſedome: loke vnto whom it appeareth they loue it, for they ſee what wonderous thinges it doth.
15 The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wiſedome, and was made with the faythfull in the mothers wombe, it ſhall goe with the choſen women, and ſhall be knowne of the righteous and faythfull.
16 The feare of the Lord, is the right Gods ſeruice, 17 That preſerueth and iuſtifieth the heart, and giueth myrth and gladneſſe.
18 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, ſhall be happie, and when he hath neede of comfort, he ſhall be bleſſed.
19 She hath built hir euerlaſting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their ſeede.
20 To feare God, is the wyſedome that maketh rich, & bringeth all good with hir.
21 She filleth the whole houſe wyth hir gifts, and the garners with hir treaſure.
22 The feare of the Lorde, is the crowne of wiſedome, and giueth plenteous peace, and health: hee hath ſeene hir, and numbred hir: both theſe are the gifte of God.
23 Knowledge and vnderſtanding of wiſdome hath he powred out as rayne, and them that helde hir faſte, hath he brought vnto honour.
24 The feare of the Lorde, is the rote of wiſdome, and hir branches are long life.
25 In the treaſures of wiſedome is vnderſtanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wiſedome is abhorred of ſinners.
26 The feare of the Lord driueth out ſinne, and when ſhe is preſent, ſhe driueth away anger.
27 For he that is without feare, can not be made righteous, and his wilfull boldneſſe is his owne deſtruction.
28 A patient man will ſuffer vnto the time, and then ſhall he haue the rewarde of ioy.
29 A good vnderſtanding will hyde his worde for a time, and many mens lippes ſhall ſpeake of his wiſdome.
30 In the treaſures of wiſedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the ſinner abhorreth the worſhip of God.
31 My ſonne, if thou deſire wiſedome, keepe the commaundement, and God ſhall giue hir vnto thee:
32 For the feare of the Lorde, is wyſedome and nurture: he hath pleaſure in faith and louing meekeneſſe, and he ſhal fill the treaſures thereof.
33 Be not obſtinate and vnfaythfull to the feare of the Lorde, and come not vnto him with a double heart.
34 Be not an hypocrit in the ſight of men, and take good heede what thou ſpeakeſt.
35 Exalte not thy ſelfe, leaſte thou happen to fall, and bring thy ſoule to diſhonour, and ſo diſcouer thy ſecretes, and caſt thee downe in the myddeſt of the congregation: becauſe thou wouldeſt not receiue the feare of God, and becauſe thy heart is full of fayneneſſe and deceyt.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth the ſeruantes of God to righteouſneſſe, loue, vnderſtanding, and patience. 11. To truſt in the Lord. 13. A curſe vpon them that are faint hearted, and impatient.

1 My ſonne, if thou wilte come into the ſeruice of God, Stande faſt in righteouſneſſe and feare, and arme thy ſoule to temptation. A Mat. 4. a. 2. Tim. 3. c
2 Settle thyne heart, and be patient, bowe downe thyne eare, receyue the wordes of vnderſtanding, and ſhrinke not away whē thou arte aſſaulted.
3 Holde thee faſt vpon God, ioyne thy ſelfe vnto him, and ſuffer that thy life may encreaſe at the laſt.
4 Whatſoeuer happeth vnto thee, receiue it: ſuffer in heauineſſe, and be patient in thy trouble.
5 For like as golde and ſiluer are tryed in the fire, euen ſo are acceptable men in the furnace of aduerſitie. Sapi. 3. a. Pro. 17. a.
6 Beleeue in God, and he ſhall helpe thee: order thy waye aright, and put thy truſte in him: holde faſte his feare, and growe therein.
7 O ye that feare the Lord, take ſure holde of his mercy, ſhrinke not away from him, that ye fall not. B
8 O ye that feare the Lorde, beleeue hym, and your reward ſhall not be emptie, 9 O ye that feare the Lorde, (a) truſte in good things, and mercy ſhall come vnto you for pleaſure.

10 O ye that feare the Lorde, ſet your loue vpon him, & your hearts ſhal be lightened.

11 Conſider the olde generations of men, (O ye children) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his truſt in the Lord? Who euer continued in his feare, and was forſaken? Or whome did he euer deſpiſe, that called faythfully vpon him?

12 For God is gratious and mercyfull, he forgiueth ſinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that ſeeke him in the trueth.

13 Wo be vnto them that haue a " fearefull heart, wicked lippes, and euill occupyed handes, and to the ſinner that goeth two maner of wayes.

14 Wo be vnto them that are faint harted, which put not their truſt in God, and therfore ſhall they not be defended of him.

15 Wo be vnto you that haue loſt patience, forſaken the right wayes, and are turned back into froward ways: what will ye do when the Lorde ſhall begin to viſite you?

16 They that feare the Lord, will not diſobey his worde, and they that loue him, will keepe his commaundements.

17 They that feare the Lord, will ſeeke out the things that are pleaſant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his lawe.

18 They that feare the Lorde, will prepare their hearts, and humble their ſoules in his ſight.

19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commaundements, and will be patient till they ſee him ſelfe, 20 Saying, If we doe not repent, we ſhall fall into the handes of the Lorde, and not into the handes of men.

21 For his mercy is as great as him ſelfe.

2. To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10. Of the bleſsing and curſe of the father and mother. 22. No man ought ouercurioufly to ſearche out the ſecretes of God.

1 THe children of wiſdome are a congregation of the righteous, and their ofſpring is obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement (O my deare children) and doe thereafter, that ye may be ſafe.

3 For the Lord will haue the father honoured of the children: and loke what a mother commaundeth hir children to doe, he will haue it kept. Exo. Deu.

4 Who ſo honoureth his father, his ſinnes ſhall be forgiuen him: and he ſhal abſtaine from the, and ſhall haue his dayly deſires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treaſure together. Exo.

6 Who ſo honoureth his father ſhall haue ioy of his own children, and when he maketh his prayer, he ſhall be heard.

7 He that honoureth his father ſhall haue a long life: and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, ſhall comfort his mother. B

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doeth them ſeruice as it were vnto Lordes.

9 Honour thy father and mother, in deede, in worde, and in all patience, that thou mayeſt haue Gods bleſſing: and his bleſſing ſhall abyde with thee at the laſt. Exo. Deu.

10 The bleſſing of the father ſtabliſheth the houſes of the children: but the mothers curſe roteth out the foundations. Ecc. Deu.

11 Reioyce not whē thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a ſhame.

12 For the worſhip of a mans father, is his owne worſhip: and the reproch of the mother, is the diſhoneſtie of the ſonne.

13 My ſonne, make much of thy father in his age, & greeue him not as long as he liueth.

14 And if his vnderſtanding fayle, haue C patience with him, and deſpiſe not him in thy ſtrength.

15 For the good deed that thou ſhewest vnto thy father, ſhall not be forgotten: and when thou thy ſelfe wanteſt, it ſhall be rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence, thou ſhalt be recompenced with good, yea, it ſhalbe founded for thee in righteouſnes.

16 And in the day of trouble, thou ſhalt be remembred: thy ſinnes alſo ſhall melt awaye, like as the yſe in the fayre warme weather.

17 He that forſaketh his father, ſhall come to ſhame, and he that defieth his mother, is curſed of God.

18 My ſonne, perfourme thy workes with louing meekeneſſe, ſo ſhalt thou be loued aboue other men.

19 The greater thou arte, the more humble thy ſelfe in all things, and thou ſhalt finde fauour in the ſight of God. Phil.

20 Many are excellent and of renowne: but the ſecretes are reuealed vnto the meeke.

21 For great power belongeth onely vnto God, and he is honoured of the lowly.

22 Seeke

3 Seeke not out the things that are aboue thy capacitie, and searche not the ground of such things as are too mightie for thee:
3 But loke what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needfull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secrete.
4 Make not too muche search in superfluous things, and be not curious in many of his workes: for many things are shewed vnto thee aboue the, which be aboue the ca-pacitie of men.
5 The medling with suche, hath beguyled many a man, and tangled their wittes in vanitie.
6 Thou canst not see with thyne eyes, therefore professe not the thing that thou hast not.
7 An hard hart shal feare euill at the last:
and hee that loueth danger, shall perysshe therein.
8 An hart that goeth two wayes, shal not prosper: and he that is frowarde of heart, will euer be worse and worse.
9 An obstinate hart shal be lade with sorowes, and the vngodly sinner will heape one sinne vpon another.
10 The counsell of the proude hathe no healthe, and his forefaythers shall be plucked vp: for the plante of synne hath taken roote in him.
11 The heart of him that hathe vnderstanding, shall perceyue hyghe things: and a good eare will gladly hearken vnto wysedome.
12 An heart that is wise and hath vnder-standing, will absteyne from sinnes, and continue in the workes of righteousnesse.
13 Water quencheth burning fire, and mercie reconcileth sinnes.
14 God hathe respecte vnto him that is thankefull: he thinketh vpon him againste the time to come, so that when he falleth, he shall finde a strong holde.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentlenesse. 12 The profite of wisdome, and hir fruite. 20 An exhortation to eschue euill, and to do good.

MY sonne, defraude not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thine eyes from him that hath neede.
2 Despise not an hungrie soule, and defile not the poore in his necessitie.
3 Greeue not the hart of him that is helpe-lesse, and withdrawe not the gift from the needefull.
4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.
5 Caste not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill will, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euyll of thee.
6 For if he complayne of thee in the bitter-nesse of his soule, his prayer shall be heard:
euen he that made him, shall heare him.
7 Be curteous vnto the company of the B poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bowe downe thy heade to a man of worshyp.
8 Let it not greeue thee to bowe downe thyne eare vnto the poore, (a) but paye thy debt, and giue him a friendly answere, and that with meekenesse.
9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hande of the oppressour: & be not faynt harted when thou sittest in iudgement.
10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and be in steede of an husbande vnto their mother: so shalt thou be as an obedient sonne of the highest, and he shal loue thee more than thy mother doth.
11 Wisedome exalteth hir children, receyueth them that seeke hir, and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.
12 He that loueth hir, loueth lyfe: and they that seeke hir diligently, shall haue great ioye.
13 They that keepe hir, shall inherite glory:
for where she entreth in, there is the blessing of God.
14 They that honour hir, shall be the ser- C uantes of the holy one: and they that loue hir, are beloued of God.
15 Who so giueth eare vnto hir, shall iudge the heathen: and hee that " hath respecte "or, goeth.
vnto hir shall dwell safely.
16 Hee that beleeueth hir, shall haue hir in possession, and his generation shal endure.
17 For when he "falleth, she doth goe with "or, swalloweth him, and chooseth him among the best:
feare, dread, and temptation shal she bring vpon him, and trye him in hir doctrine, till she haue so proued him in his thoughtes, that he commit his soule vnto hir.
18 Then shall she stablishe him, bring the right waye vnto him, make him a glad man, shewe him hir secrets, and heape vp-on him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.
19 But if hee goe wrong, she shall forsake

21 And

21 And for thy life, shame not to saye the trueth : (b) for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, and there is a shame that bringeth worshipp and fauour.

b. To be ashamed to confesse thy God, thy fayth, to testifie the trueth, and to reproue syn, doth bring syn vnto thee : the cõtrary, shame bringeth worshippe.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou be not confounded to thine own decaye : be not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsell when it may do good, neyther hyde thy wisdome in hir beautie.

24 For in the tong is wisdome knowne, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, and learning in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnesse.

25 In no wise speake against the worde of truth : but be ashamed of the lyes of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the ryuer.

E 27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolishe man, neyther accepte the person of the myghtie.

28 And striue thou not against the streame: but for righteousnesse take paynes with all thy soule, and for the trueth, striue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee against thine enimies.

29 Be not hastie in thy tong, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a Lion in thine owne house, destroying thy housholde folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

Rom.7.a. 5 Because thy sinne is forgiuen thee, be not therefore without feare, neyther heape one sinne vpon another.

Eccle.21.a. 6 And saye not, Tush, the mercy of the lord is great, he shall forgiue me my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from him also, & his indignation cõmeth downe vpon sinners. Eccle.

15 Be not a priuie accuser as long as thou lyuest, and vse no slaunder with thy tong: for shame and sorrow goeth ouer the theefe, and an euill name ouer him that is double tonged : but he that is a priuie accuser of other men, shall be hated, enuyed, and confounded. Leui.

29 Bring not euery man into thyne house: for the deceitfull layeth wayte diuersly, (a) and are like stomackes that belche filthily.

30 Like as a Partrich in a maund, so is the heart of the proude: and like as a spy that loketh vpon the fall of his neighbour.

31 For he turneth good vnto euill, and slandreth the chosen.

32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, and of one deceitfull man is bloude increased: and an vngodly mā laieth wait for bloud.

33 Beware of the deceitfull, for he imagyneth wicked things, to bring thee into a perpetuall shame.

34 If thou takest an aliant vnto thee, he shal destroy thee in vnquietnesse, and driue thee from thine owne wayes.

a. That is, after they know thy secretes, vtter the same with filthy railings.

The.xij. Chapter.

1. Vnto whome we ought to doe good. 10. Enimies ought not to be trusted.

A 1 WHen thou wilte doe good, knowe to whome thou doest it, and so shalt thou be greatly thanked for thy benefites.

Gala.6.a. 1.Tim.5.a. 2 Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde great rewarde, though not of him, yet (no doubt) the Lord him selfe shall rewarde thee.

3 He standeth not in a good case, that is alway occupied in euill, & giueth no almes: for the highest hateth the sinners, and hath mercy vpon them that shewe the workes of repentance.

4 Giue thou vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 As for the vngodly and sinners, he shall recompence vengeance vnto them, and keepe them to the day of wrath.

6 Giue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner, do well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: Let not the breade be giuen him, that he be not mightier than thy selfe therein: for so shalt thou receiue twice as much euil, in all that good that thou dost vnto him.

B 7 And why? the highest hateth sinners, and shall reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In prosperitie a friend shall be knowne, & in aduersitie an enimie shall not be hid.

9 For when a man is in welth, it grieueth his enimies: but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enimie: for as like an yron rusteth, so doth his wickednesse.

11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet keepe well thy mynde, and beware of him: and thou shalt be to him as he that wypeth a glasse, and thou shalte knowe that all his rust hath not bene well wyped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neyther let him syt at thy right hande: least he turne him, get into thy place, take thy rowme, and seeke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my wordes, and be pricked at my sayings.

Eccle.7.a. 13 Binde not two sinnes together: for there

C 14 Who will haue pitie of the charmer that is stinged of the serpent, or of all suche as come nygh the beastes?

15 Euen so is it with him that keepeth company with a wicked man, and lappeth him selfe in his sinnes.

16 For a season will he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he taketh not.

17 An enimie is sweete in his lippes, he can Iere. 9 make many wordes, and speake many good things: yea he can weepe with his eyes, but in his hart he imagineth how to throw thee into the pit: and if he may find opportunitie, he will not be satisfied with bloud.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalte finde him there first, and though he pretend to doe thee helpe, yet shall he vndermyne thee.

19 He shall shake his heade, and clappe his handes ouer thee for verie gladnesse: and whyle he maketh many wordes, her shall disguise his countenance.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. The companyes of the proude and of the riche, are to be eschued. 15. The loue of God. 17. Like do company with their like.

1 WHo so toucheth pitche, shall be defiled I withall: and he that is familiar with the proud, shall clothe him selfe with pride.

2 He taketh a burthen vpon him that accompanyeth a more honourable man than him selfe, therefore keepe no familiaritie with one that is richer than thy selfe: howe agree the kettle and the pot together? for if one be smytten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The ryche dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withall: but the poore being oppressed and wrongfully dealt withall, intreateth fearefully, and giueth faire wordes. If the riche haue done wrong, yet must he be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight wayes be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profite, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thyne owne, he shall be a good felowe with thee: yea, he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sorie for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he shall defraud thee, and with a priuie mocke shall he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good wordes, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meate, vntill he haue serued thee cleane by twyce B or thrice, and at the laste shall he laughe thee to scorne: afterwarde, when he seeth that thou hast nothing, he shal forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and wayte vpon his hande.

9 Beware that thou be not deceyued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: be not humble in thy wiſdom, leaſt when thou art brought low, thou be deceiued through fooliſhneſſe.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, abſent thy ſelfe, ſo ſhall he call thee to him the more oft.

11 Preaſſe not thou vnto him, that thou be not ſhut out: but goe not thou farre off, leaſt he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy ſelf from his ſpeach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with much communication ſhall he tempt thee, and with a pleaſant mocke ſhall he queſtion with thee of thy ſecretes.

13 The vnmercyfull mynde of his, ſhall marke thy wordes, he ſhall not ſpare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in priſon.

14 Beware and take good heede to thy ſelf, for thou walkeſt in peril of thy ouerthrowing: Now when thou heareſt his words, make thee as thoughe thou waſte in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpō him in thy neede.

16 Euery beaſt loueth his like: euen ſo let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All fleſh will reſort to their like, and euery man will keepe company with ſuch as he is him ſelfe.

18 But as the woolfe agreeth with the lambe: ſo dothe the vngodly with the righteous.

19 (a) What peace is there betwene Hyena and a dogge? Howe can the riche and the poore agree together?

20 The wilde Aſſe is the Lions pray in the wilderneſſe: euen ſo are the poore men the meate of the riche.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlyneſſe: euen ſo doth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a riche man fall, his friendes ſet him vp agayne: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forſake him.

23 If a ryche man fall into an errour, hee hath many helpers, hee ſpeaketh proude wordes, and yet men iuſtifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, hee is puniſhed, yea, though hee ſpeake wyſely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man ſpeaketh, euery bodye holdeth his tong, and loke what he ſayth, they praiſe it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man ſpeake, they ſaye, What felowe is this? and if he doe amiſſe, they ſhall deſtroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no ſinne in his conſcience: & pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be good or euill.

27 A chearefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for elſe it is an harde thing to knowe the thought.

4 He that with all his carefulneſſe heapeth together vnrighteouſly, gathereth for other folkes, and another man ſhall make good cheare with his goods.

5 He that is wicked vnto him ſelfe, howe ſhould he be good vnto other men? howe can ſuche a one haue any pleaſure of his goodes.

6 There is nothing worſe than when one diſfauoureth him ſelfe: and this is a reward of his wickedneſſe.

7 If he doe any good, he doth it not knowing thereof, and againſt his will, and at the laſt he declareth his vngratiouſneſſe. B

20 Euerie chosen worke shall be iustifyed, and he that medled withall, shall haue honour therein.

D 21 Blessed is the man that keepeth him in wysedome, and exercyseth him selfe in vnderstanding, & with discretion shall thinke vpon the foreknowledge of God.

The.xv. Chapter.

2. The goodnesse that foloweth him which feareth God. 8. God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11. God is not the author of euill.

I 1 HE that feareth God, will do good: and who so keepeth the law, shall obteyne wisedome.

a. As a pure virgin newely married, doth friendly entreate hir husband: so shall iustice pure & vndefiled, gently entertaine hir louers.

2 As an honourable mother shall she meete him, and (a) she as his wife married of a virgin, shall receiue him.

Mat.4.a. 3 With the breade of life and vnderstanding shall she feede him, and giue him the water of wholesome wisedome to drinke.

Iohn.4.a. 4 If hee be constant in hir, hee shall not be moued, and if hee holde him fast by hir, he shall not come to confusion.

5 She shall bring him to honour among his neyghbours, and in the middest of the congregation shall she open his mouth: with the spirite of wisedome and vnderstanding shall she fill him, and clothe him with the garment of glory.

6 She shall heape ỹ treasure of myrth and ioy vpon him, and giue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolishe men will not take holde vppon hir, but such as haue vnderstanding wyll meete hir: foolishe men shall not see hir, for she is farre from pryde and deceit. B

8 Men that goe about with lyes, will not remember hir: but men of trueth shall be founde in hir, and shall prosper, euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Prayse is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sent of ỹ Lorde.

10 But if prayse come of wisedome, and be plenteous in a faithfull mouth, then the Lorde will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lordes fault that I am gone by: for thou shalt not doe the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, he hath caused me to doe wrong: for he hath no need of the vngodly.

18 For the wisedome of God is great, and mightie in power, and beholdeth al things continually:

19 The eyes of the Lorde are vppon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commaunded no man to do vngodly, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of infidels, and vnprofitable children.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. Of vnhappie and wicked children. 19. No man can hide him selfe from God. 24. An exhortation to the receiuing of instruction.

1 DElite not thou in ỹ multitude of vn- I godly children, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their life, and regarde not their labours.

3 for

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better than a thousande vngodly: and better it is for a man to dye without children, than to leaue behinde him suche children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden; but though the vngodly be many, yet shall it be wasted though them.

5 Many such things hath myne eye seene, and greater things thã these haue I heard with myne eares.

6 In the congregation of the vngodly shal a fire burne, and among vnfaythfull people shall the wrath be kindled.

7 The olde giantes obteyned no grace for their sinnes, which were destroied, trusting to their owne strength:

8 Neyther spared he them among whome Lot was a stranger: but smote them, and abhorred them, because of the pryde of their wordes.

9 He had no pitie vpon thẽ: but destroyed all the people that were so stout in sinne.

10 And for so much as he ouersawe the fyre hundred thousand that gathered them selues together in the hardnesse of their hart, in afflicting them, in pytying them, in smyting thẽ, and healing thẽ with mercie and chastisement: it were maruell if one being hardnecked, should be free.

11 For mercy and wrath is with him, he is both mightie to forgiue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Like as his mercie is great, euen so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shal not escape in his spoile, and the long patience of him that sheweth mercie, shall not byde behinde.

14 He will make a place for euery merciful deede, and euery man shal finde according to his workes.

15 The Lorde hardened Pharao that hee should not know him, and that his works might be knowne vpon the earth vnder the heauen.

16 His mercie is knowne to all creatures, he hath separated his light from the darknesse with an Adamant.

17 Say not thou, I will hyde my self from God: for who will thinke vpon me from aboue? I shall not be knowne in so great an heape of people: for what is my soule among so many creatures?

18 Beholde, the heauen, yea, the heauen of heauens of God, the depe, the earth, and all that therin is, shal be moued at his presence.

19 The mountaines, the hilles, and the foundations of the earth, shall shake for feare, when God visiteth them.

20 These things doth no heart vnderstand worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery hart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? No man seeth his storyes, and the most parte of his workes are secrete.

22 Who wil declare the works of his righ- D teousnesse? or who shall be able to abide them? for the couenant is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the end.

23 He that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vnwise and erroneous man, casteth his mynde vnto foolishe things.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, and learne vnderstanding, & marke my words with thine heart: I will giue thee a sure doctrine, and playnly shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my wordes then in thyne heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirite doe I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the truethe doe I shewe the knowledge of him.

26 God hathe set his workes in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundered from the other.

27 Hee hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry, nor wearied in their labours, nor ceasse from their offices.

28 None of them hyndered another, neither E was any of them disobedient vnto his wordes.

29 After this, God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all manner of lyuing beastes hath he couered the grounde, and they all shall be turned vnto earth agayne.

26 Goe in the poztion of the holy wozlde, with ſuche as be liuing, and gyue thankes vnto God.

27 Who will prayſe the Lozd in the hell? C abide not thou in the errour of the vngodly, but giue him thankes befoze death, Pſal.

28 As foz the deade, thankfulneſſe periſheth from him as nothing: giue thou thankes in thy lyfe, yea, whyle thou art liuing and whole ſhalt thou giue thankes, and prayſe God, and reioyce in his mercy.

5 Is for the wonderous workes of the Lorde, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neither may ẏ ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he will beginne againe: and when he thinketh to be come to an ende, he muste go agayne to his labour.

57 What is man? whereto is hee worthy: what good or euill can he do?

8 If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeeres, it is muche: and no mã hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 Like as the droppes of rayne are vnto the sea, & as a gravell stone is in comparison of the sande: so are these few yeeres to the dayes of euerlasting.

10 Therfore is the Lord patient with them, and powreth out his mercie vpon them.

11 He sawe and perceyued the thoughtes & imaginations of their hart, that they were euill, therefore heaped he vp his mercifull goodnesse vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercie that a man hath, reacheth to his neyghbour, but the mercie of God is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, he teacheth, & nurtureth, yea, euen as a shepheard turneth againe his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastening, nurture, & doctrine.

13 Merciful is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgementes.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, speake no discomfortable wordes.

15 Shall not the dewe coole the heate? euen so is a worde better than a gifte.

16 Is not a frendly worde a good honest gifte? but a gratious man giueth the both.

17 A fole shall call a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gyfte of the nigarde putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou speake, & go to phisicke or euer thou be sicke.

19 Examine and iudge thy selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou finde grace in the sight of God.

20 Humble thy selfe afore thou be sicke: and whilest thou mayest (a) sinne, shewe thy conuersation.

21 Be not let to pay thy vow in good time, and tary not to be iustified vnto thy death: for the rewarde of God endureth for euer.

22 Before thou prayest, prepare thy soule, and be not as one that tempteth God.

minded, and doth againſt him ſelfe.

5 Who ſo reioyceth in wickednelle, ſhal be punished: but he that reſiſteth pleaſures, crowneth his owne ſoule: he that refrayneth his toung, may lyue with a troublesome man: he that hateth to bee rekoumed, his life ſhal be ſhortened: and he that abhorreth babling of wordes, quencheth wickednelle.

6 Hee that offendeth agaynſte his owne ſoule, ſhall repent it, and he that reioyceth in wickednelle, ſhall be punished.

B 7 Rehearſe not a wycked and churliſhe word twiſe, & thou ſhalt not be hindered.

8 Shewe thy ſecretes neither to friende nor foe: & if thou haſt offended, tell it not out.

9 For he ſhall hearken vnto thee, and marke thee: and when he fyndeth opportunitie, he ſhall hate thee, and ſo ſhall he be alway about thee.

Eccle. 22.c. 10 If thou haſt hearde a worde againſt thy neyghbour, let it be dead within thee: & be ſure thou ſhalt haue no harme thereby.

11 A fole trauayleth with a worde, like as a woman that is payned with bearing of a childe.

12 Like as an arrowe ſhotte in a thygh of fleſhe, ſo is a worde in a foles heart.

Leui. 19.d. 13 Tell thy friend his fault: leſt he be ignorant, and ſay, I haue not done it: or if he haue ſpoken, that he doe it no more.

C 14 Reproue thy neyghbour, that he keepe his tongue: and if he haue ſpoken, that he ſay it no more.

15 Tell thy neyghbour his faulte, for ofte times an offence is made: and geue not credence to euery worde.

Eccl. 14.a. 16 A man falleth ſomtime with his tongue, but not with his will: for what is he that hath not offended in his tongue?

17 Geue thy neyghbour warning before thou threaten him: and giue place vnto the lawe of the Lorde.

18 The feare of the Lord is the firſt degree to be receiued of him: and wiſedome obteyneth his loue.

19 The knowledge of the commandementes of the Lorde, is the doctrine of lyfe: and they that obey him, ſhall receyue the fruite of immortalitie.

20 The feare of God is al wiſdome: and he that is a righteous man, keepeth the lawe.

D 21 If a ſeruant ſay vnto his maiſter, I wil not doe as it pleaſeth thee: though afterwarde he doe it, he ſhall diſpleaſe him that nouriſheth him.

22 Is for the doctrine of wickednelle, it is no wiſedome, and the prudence of ſinners is no good vnderſtanding: it is but wickednelle and abhomination, and a blaſpheming of wiſedome.

23 A ſimple man of ſmall vnderſtanding, that feareth God, is better than one that hath muche wiſedome, and tranſgreſſeth the lawe of the highest.

24 A craftie ſubtill man can be wiſe, but he is vnrighteous, and with gittes wreſteth the open and manifeſt lawe: againe, there is that is wiſe, and iudgeth righteouſly.

25 A wicked man can behaue himſelf humbly, and can ducke with his head, and yet Prou. 26.c. is he but a deceiuer within: he hydeth his face, and diſguiſeth it, & bicauſe he ſhould not be knowen, he preuenteth thee.

26 And though hee be ſo weake that he can doe thee no harme, yet when hee may finde opportunitie, he ſhall doe ſome euill.

27 A man may be knowen by his face, and Eccle. one that hath vnderſtanding, may be perceyued by the loke of his countenance.

28 A mans garment, laughter, and going, declare what he is.

The.xx. Chapter.

1. Of correction and repentance. 6. Of the gift of the wyſe man, and of the foole. 23. Of lying.

1 SOme man reproueth his neyghbour ✝ ſoft tymes, but not in due ſeaſon: a- Eccle. gayne, ſome man holdeth his tongue, and he is wiſe and diſcrete.

2 It is muche better to giue warning and to reproue, than to beare euill wyll: for he that knowledgeth him ſelfe openly, ſhal be preſerued from hurt and deſtruction.

3 Like as when a gelded man through deſire and luſt deſileth a mayden: euen ſo is it with him that vſeth violence & vnrighteouſneſſe in the lawe.

4 O howe good a thing is it, a man that is reproued to ſhewe openly his repentance: for ſo ſhalt thou eſcape wilfull ſinne.

5 Some man keepeth ſilence, and is founde wiſe: but he that is not aſhamed what he ſayeth, is hatefull.

6 Some man holdeth his tongue, bicauſe he hath not vnderſtanding of ỹ language: and ſome man keepeth ſilence, wayting a conuenient tyme.

7 A wiſe man wyl holde his tongue till he B ſee opportunitie: but a wanton and vndiſcrete body ſhall regard no tyme.

8 He that vſeth many wordes, ſhal hurt his Eccle. owne ſoule, and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteouſly, ſhall be hated.

9 Some

9 Some man hath oft times proſperitie in wicked things: againe, ſome man getteth nought, and hath harme and loſſe.

10 Ther is ſome gift that is nothing worth: agayne, there is ſome gyft whoſe reward is double.

11 There is an humilitie for glories ſake, & ſome cõmeth to worſhip from low eſtate.

12 Some mã buyeth much for a little price, and muſt pay for it ſeuen folde.

13 A wiſe man with his wordes maketh himſelfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles ſhalbe powred out.

14 The gyft of the vnwiſe ſhall do thee no good, nor yet of the enuious, for his importunitie is ſeuen folde: for he looketh to receyue many things for one.

15 He ſhal giue litle, and ſay he gaue much: he openeth his mouth, and cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wyde.

16 To day he lendeth, to morrow aſketh he agayne: and ſuche a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The fole ſayeth, I haue no friende, I haue no thãke for all my good deedes: yea, euen they that eate my breade, ſpeake no good of me: O how oft, and of how many ſhall he be laughed to ſcorne?

18 He taketh a more perillous fall by ſuche wordes, than if he fell vpon the grounde: euen ſo ſhall the fall of wicked men come haſtily.

19 In the mouthe of him that is vntaught, are manye vnconuenient and vnmeete wordes.

20 A wyſe ſentence ſhall not be allowed at the mouth of the fole: for he ſpeaketh it not in due ſeaſon.

21 Some man ſinneth not, becauſe he hath not wherewithall, and in his reſte he ſhall be ſtinged.

22 Some man there is that deſtroyeth his owne ſoule with ſhame, and for an vnwyſe bodyes ſake deſtroyeth hee it, and with accepting of perſons ſhall hee vndo himſelfe.

23 Some man promiſeth his friende a gyft for very ſhame: and getteth an enimie of him for nought.

24 A lye is a wicked ſhame in a man: yet ſhall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwiſe.

25 A theefe is better than a man that is accuſtomed to lye: but they bothe ſhall haue deſtruction to heritage.

26 The conditions of lyers are vnhoneſt: and their ſhame is euer with them.

27 A wiſe man ſhal bring himſelf to honor with his wordes: and he that hath vnderſtanding, ſhalbe ſet by among great men.

28 He that tylleth his lande, ſhall encreaſe his heape of corne: he that worketh righteouſneſſe ſhalbe exalted, and he that pleaſeth great men, ſhal eſcape muche euyll. Pro.12.b.

29 Rewardes and gyftes blind the eyes of the wyſe, and make him dumbe, that he cãnot tell men their faultes. Eccle.23.a.

30 Myſedome that is hydde, and treaſure that is howded vp, what profite is in them both?

31 Better is he ẏ kepeth his ignorance ſecrete, than a man that hideth his wiſdom. Eccle.41.b.

32 The neceſſary patience of him that followeth the Lorde, is better than he that gouerneth his lyfe without the Lord.

The.xxi. Chapter.

1. Not to continue in ſinne. 5. The prayer of the afflicted. 6. To hate to bee reproued. 17. The mouthe of the wyſe man. 26. The thought of the foole.

1 MY ſonne, if thou haſt ſinned, do it no more: but pray for thy foreſinnes that they may be forgyuen thee. A Eccle.5.a.

2 Flee from ſinne, euen as from a ſerpent: for if thou cõmeſt to nygh hir, ſhe wil byte thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lion, to ſlay the ſoules of men.

3 The wickednelle of man, is as a ſharpe two edged ſworde, whiche maketh ſuche woundes, that they cannot be healed.

4 Stryfe and wrongfull dealing ſhall waſte away a mans goodes, and through pryde, a ryche houſe ſhall be brought to nought: ſo the riches of the proude ſhall be rooted out.

5 The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance (or defence) ſhall come haſtily. Exod.3.b.

6 Who ſo hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly perſon: but he that feareth God, will remember him ſelfe.

7 A mightie man is knowen a farre off by his tongue: but hee that hath vnderſtanding, perceyueth that he ſhall haue a fall. B

8 Who ſo buyldeth his houſe with other mens coſte, (a) is like one that gathereth ſtones to make his graue.

a. With goods borowed and not payed againe, robbed, ſtolne or craftily cõueyed, gathereth ſtones in wynter, to buylde when the froſt doth ſo cõgeale the morter, that it cannot holde the ſtones together.

9 The congregation of the vngodly, is like ſtubble gathered togither, their ende is a flambe of fire.

10 The waye of the vngodly is ſetts with ſtones: but in their ende is hell, darkeneſſe, and paynes.

11 He that keepeth the lawe, will holde faſte the vnderſtanding thereof: and the ende of the feare of God, is wiſedome and vnderſtanding.

Eccle.16.a.

12 He that is not wiſe, will not be taught in good, but the vnwiſe man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternes is, there is no vnderſtanding.

13 The knowledge of the wiſe ſhall flowe like water that runneth ouer, & his counſell is like a pure fountayne of life.

¶ 14 The heart of a fole is like a broken veſſell, he can kepe no wiſedome.

15 When a man of vnderſtanding heareth a wiſe worde, he ſhall commende it, and make muche of it: but if a voluptuous mã heare it, he ſhall haue no pleaſure therein, but caſt it behinde his backe.

16 The talking of a fole, is like an heauy burden by the waye: but to heare a wiſe man ſpeake, it is pleaſure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is aſked at the mouth of the wiſe, & they ſhall ponder his wordes in their hearts.

18 Like as is a houſe that is deſtroyed, euen ſo is wiſdome vnto a fole: as for the knowledge of the vnwiſe, it is but darke wordes.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderſtãding, euen as fetters about his feete, and like manicles vpon his right hande.

Eccle.19.a. 20 A fole lyfteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wiſe man ſhall ſcarſe laughe ſecretely.

D 21 Learning is vnto a wiſe man a iewell of golde, and like an armelet vppon his right arme.

22 A foliſh mãs foote is ſoone in his neighbours houſe: but one that hath experience, ſhalbe aſhamed at ẏ perſon of ẏ mightie.

23 A fole will peepe in at the window into the houſe: but hee that is well nurtured, will ſtande without.

24 A foliſhe man ſtandeth hearkening at the dore: but he that is wiſe, wyll bee aſhamed.

25 The lyppes of the vnwyſe, wyll be telling foliſhe things: but the wordes of ſuche as haue vnderſtanding, ſhal be wayed in the balance.

26 The hearte of foles is in their mouthe: but the mouth of the wiſe is in their heart.

1. For whyle he curſeth another, he doth the ſame thing, and ſo curſeth him ſelfe.

27 When the vngodly curſeth the (b) blaſphemer, he curſeth his owne ſoule.

28 A priuie accuſer of other men, ſhall defile his owne ſoule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is diſcrete, ſhall come to honour.

Leui.19.d.

The.xxij.Chapter.

1. Of the ſluggard. 12. Not to ſpeake much to a foole. 16. A good conſcience feareth not.

1 A Slouthfull bodye is moulded (a) of a ſtone of claye, & euery man wil ſpeake to his diſpraiſe.

2 A ſlouthfull body is made of the dong of Oxen, and euery one that toucheth him, muſt waſche his hands againe.

3 A miſnurtured ſonne, is the diſhonoure of the father: a foliſhe daughter ſhall bee little regarded.

4 A wiſe daughter is an heritage vnto hir huſbande: but ſhe that commeth to diſhoneſtie, bringeth hir father in beaunesſe.

5 A daughter that is paſt ſhame, diſhonoureth bothe hir father and hir huſbande: the vngodly ſhall regarde hir, but they bothe ſhall deſpiſe hir.

6 A tale out of time, is as muſike in mourning: but wiſedome knoweth the ſeaſons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honeſtly, & haue wherewithall, they ſhall put awaye the ſhame of their parentes.

8 But if children be proude, with hawtyneſſe and foliſhneſſe, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Who ſo teacheth a fole, is euen as one that gleweth a potſharde togither, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that rayſeth a man out of an heauy ſleepe.

10 Who ſo telleth a fole of wiſedome, is euen as a man whiche ſpeaketh to one that is a ſleepe: when he hath tolde his tale, he ſayeth, What is the matter?

11 When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, becauſe the lyght fayleth him: euen ſo, let men mourne ouer a fole, for he wanteth vnderſtanding. Make but little weeping becauſe of the deade, for he is come to reſte: but the lyfe of the fole is worſe than the death.

12 Seuen dayes do men mourne for him that is dead: but the lamentation ouer the vnwiſe and vngodly, ſhould endure al the dayes of their lyfe.

13 Talke not much with a fole, and go not with him that hath no vnderſtanding: beware of him, leaſt it turne thee to trauaile, & thou ſhalt not be defiled wt his ſinne. Departe frõ him, & thou ſhalt finde reſt, & ſhalt not be drawen backe into his foliſhneſſe.

14 (b) What is heauier than lead? and what ſhoulde a fole be called elſe but lead?

15 Sande, ſalt, and a lumpe of yron, is eaſier ter to beare, than an vnwise, foolishe, and vngodly man.

16 Like as the bande of wood, bounde together in the fundation of the house, cannot be losed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsel. The thought of the wise shall neuer feare, nor be offended at any time.

17 Like as a fayre plastered wal in a winter house, and a high buylding may not abyde the winde and storme: euen so is a fooles hart afrayde in his imagination, he fraeth at euery thing, & cannot endure.

18 I wauering hart in the imagination of a fole, will not euer stande in awe: but he that abydeth in the commandementes of God, will alway feare.

19 He that nippeth a mās eye, bringeth forth teares: and he that pricketh the hart, bringeth forth the meaning and thought.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the byrdes, frayeth them away: and he that blaspheameth his friende, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drawest a swoorde at thy friende, yet dispayre not: for thou mayest come agayne to thy friende.

22 If he speake sourely, feare not: for ye may be agreed together agayne, except it be þ thou blaspheme him, disdeyne him, opē his secrets, & wounde him traytorously: for all suche things shall dryue away a friende.

23 Be faythfull vnto thy neyghbour in his powertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abyde stedfast vnto him in the tyme of his trouble, that thou mayest be heyre with him in his heritage: for powertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the ryche that is foolishe to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour & smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euyll woordes, rebukes, and threatnings go before blodshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defende thy friende, as for me, I will not hyde my face from him, though he should do me harme: who soeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 Who shal set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lyppes, that I fal not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

The.xxiij. Chapter.

1 Prayer against pryde, lechery, and gluttonie. 10. Of othes, blasphemie and vnwise communication. 16. Of the three kindes of sinnes. 23. Many sinnes procede of adulterie. 27. Of the feare of God.

1 O Lorde, father & gouernour of my life, leaue mee not in their imagination & counsell: oh let me not fall in such trespasse.

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that mine offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: leaste I fall before mine enimies, & so my aduersarie reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

5 Take frō me the lusts of the body, let not þ desires of vncleannes take hold vpō me.

6 And giue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate minde.

7 Heare me, O yee children, I wil giue you a doctrine how ye shal order your mouth: who so kepeth it, shall not perishe through his lips, nor be hurt through wicked works

8 As for the sinner, he shall be taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proude and cursed, shall fall therein.

9 Let not thy mouthe be accustomed with swearing, for in it there are many falles: let not the naming of God be continually in thy mouthe, and meddle not with the names of saintes, for thou shalt not be excused of them. Exo. 20. b.

10 For like as a seruant whiche is ofte punished, can not be without some sore: euen so whatsoeuer he be that sweareth and nameth God, shal not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth muche swearing, shall be filled with wickednesse, and the plague shal neuer go from his house: if he beguyle his brother, his fault shall be vpon him, if he knowlodge not his sinne, hee maketh a double offence, and if he sweare in vayne, he shall not be founde rightrous: for his house shall be full of plagues.

19 He vnderſtandeth not that his eyes ſee all things, for all ſuche feare of men, dryueth away the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and conſidereth not that the eyes of the Lorde are clearer than the ſunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the grounde of the deepe, and loking euen to mens heartes in ſecrete places.

The. xxiiij. Chapter.

1. A prayſe of wiſedome proceeding forth of the mouth of God. 6. Of hir woorkes, and place where ſhe reſteth.

1 WYſedome ſhall prayſe hir ſelfe, and be honoured in God, and triumph in the middeſt of the people. I

2 In the congregation of the hyghell, ſhall ſhe open hir mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.

3 In the middeſt of hir people ſhal ſhe be exalted, & wondred at in the holy fulneſſe.

4 In the multitude of the choſen ſhe ſhal be commended, and among ſuch as be bleſſed ſhe ſhall be prayſed, and ſhall ſay,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the highell, firſte borne before all creatures.

6 I cauſed the lyght that fayleth not to ryſe in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloude.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the heygth, and my ſeate is in the piller of the cloude. I

8 I my ſelfe alone haue gone round about the compaſſe of heauen, and pearſed the grounde of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the flooddes of the ſea, and haue ſtand in all landes, my dominion is in euery people and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the heartes of all, both hye and lowe.

10 In all theſe things alſo I ſought reſt, and a dwelling in ſome inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue mee a commaundement, and he that made mee, appoynted me a tabernacle, and ſayd vnto mee, Lette thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thyne inheritance in Iſrael, and rote thy ſelfe among my choſen.

12 I was created from the beginning, and Ps.
before the worlde, and ſhall not leaue off vnto the worlde to come: in the holy habitation haue I ſerued before him, and ſo Ex.
was I ſtabliſhed in Sion.

13 In the holy citie reſted I in like maner, Pſa.
and in Hieruſalem was my power.

14 I toke rote in an honorable people, euC in the portion of the Lord, and in his heritage, & kept me in the fulneſſe of ỳ ſaintes.

15 I am ſet vp an hygh, like a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cipres tree vpon the mount Hermon.

16 I am exalted like a Palme tree in Cades, and as a Roſe plant in Jericho, as a fayre Oliue tree in the feeld, & am exalted like as a Plantane tree by the water ſide.

17 I haue giuen a ſmell in the ſtreates, as the Cynamom and Balme that hath ſo good

good a ſauour, yea a ſweete odour haue I giuen, as it were myrre of the beſt: I haue made my dwellings to ſmell as it were of Roſin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incenſe, & as Libanus when it is not hewen down, and mine odour is as the pure Palme.

18 As the (a) Terebint haue I ſtretched out my branches, & my branches are the branches of honour and louing fauour.

19 As the vine haue I brought forth fruite of a ſweete ſauour, and my floures are the fruite of honour and rychelle.

20 I am the mother of beautie, of loue, of feare, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my children to whome God hath commaunded.

21 In me is all grace of lyfe and trueth, in me is all hope of lyfe and vertue.

22 O come vnto me all ye that be deſyrous of me, & fyll your ſelues with my fruites.

23 For my ſpirit is ſweeter than hony, and ſo is myne inheritance more than the hony combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.

24 They that eate mee, ſhall haue the more hunger: and they that drynke mee, ſhall thyrſt the more.

25 Who ſo hearkeneth vnto mee, ſhall not come to confuſion, and they that worke in me, ſhall not offende: they that take me to be knowen, ſhall haue euerlaſting lyfe.

26 All theſe things are the booke of lyfe, the couenant of the hyghеſt, & the knowledge of the truth: Moſes commanded the lawe in the preceptes of ryghteouſneſſe, for an heritage vnto the houſe of Jacob, & committed the promiſe vnto Iſrael.

27 Be not weery to behaue your ſelues valiantly with the Lorde, that he may alſo confirme you: cleaue vnto him, for the Lorde almyghtie is but one God, and beſides him there is none other ſauiour.

28 (Out of Dauid his ſeruant, he ordeyned to raiſe vp a moſt mightie king, ſitting in the ſeate of honour for euermore.)

29 This filleth with wiſedome, like as the floode of Phiſon, & as the flod of Tigris when the newe fruites are a growing.

30 This bringeth a pleenteous vnderſtãding like Euphrates, & filleth it vp as Jordane in the tyme of harueſt.

31 This maketh nurture to breake forth as the lyght, and as the water Gehon in the haruеſt.

32 The firſt hath not knowen hir perfectly: no more ſhall the laſt ſeeke out the ground of hir.

33 For hir thoughte is fuller than the ſea, and hir counſell is profounder than the great deepe.

34 I wiſedome haue caſte out floodes, I am as a greate water broke out of the ryuer, I am as the ryuer Dozir, and as a water conduit am I come out of the garden of pleaſure.

35 I ſayde, I will water the garden of my yong plants, & fil the fruite of my byrth: ſo my water broke became exceeding greate, and my ryuer approched vnto the ſea.

36 For I make doctrine to be vnto all men as light as the fayre morning, and I ſhall make it to be euer the clearer.

37 I will pearſe through al the lower parties of the earth, I will looke vpon all ſuch as be aſleepe, and lyghten all them that put their truſt in the Lorde.

38 I ſhal yet powre out doctrine like as prophecie, & leaue it vnto ſuche as ſeeke after wiſedome, & their generations ſhall I neuer fayle vnto the holy euerlaſting world.

39 Beholde howe that I haue not laboured for my ſelfe only: but for all them that ſeeke after the trueth. Eccle.33.b.

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. Of three things whiche pleaſe God; and of three whiche he hateth. 7. Of nyne things that be not to be ſuſpect, and of the tenth. 15. Chiefely of the malice of a woman.

1 Three things there are that my ſpirite fauoureth, which be alſo allowed before God and men: the vnitie of brethren, the loue of neyghbours, a man and wyfe that agree well togither. A Gen.13.d. Rom.12.b. Eccle.40.d.

2 Three things there bee whiche my ſoule hateth, and I vtterly abhorre the lyfe of them: a poore man that is proude, a ryche man that is a lyer, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaſte.

3 If thou haſte gathered nothing in thy youth, what wylt thou finde then in thine age? Gen.18.b. B

4 O how pleaſant a thing is it, when gray headed men are diſcrete, and when the elders can giue good counſell?

5 O how comely a thing is wiſedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderſtanding and counſel to men of honour is a glorious thing.

6 The crowne of old men, is to haue much experience: and the feare of God, is their worſhip.

7 There bee nyne things whiche I haue iudged in my heart to be happie, and the tenth will I tell forth vnto men with my tongue: a man that whyle he lyueth hath ioy ioy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enimies.

Eccle. 19.c. and. 24.a. Iames. 3.c. 8 Well is him that dwelleth with an housewife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, & that hath not bin payne to serue such as are vnmeet for him.

or, prudent. 9 Well is him that findeth a faythfull friende: and well is him whiche talketh of wisedome to an eare that heareth him.

10 O how great is he that findeth wisdome and knowledge? Yet is he not aboue him that feareth the Lorde.

11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue all things.

12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is graunted to haue the feare of God: vnto whome shall he be likened that keepeth it fast?

13 The feare of God, is the beginning of his loue: and the beginning of fayth, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

¶ 14 The brainesselle of the hart is all the punishment, and the wickednesse of a woman goeth aboue all.

15 All punishmente and plague is nothing in comparison of the plague of the heart: euen so, all wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 What soeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his enyll willers do vnto him: and all vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the enimie.

17 There is not a more wicked heade than the heade of the serpent: and there is no wrath aboue the wrath of a woman.

Pro. 21.a. 18 I will rather dwell with a Lion & Dragon, than to kepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednesse of a woman changeth hir face, she shall muffle hir countenance as it were a Beare, and as a sacke shal she hewe it among the neyghbours:

20 Hir husband is brought to shame amõg his neyghbours because of hir: and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sighe.

D 21 All wickednesse is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: the portion of the vngodly shall fall vpon hir.

22 Like as the clymming vp a sandy ways is to the feete of the aged, euen so is a wyfe full of wordes to a still quiet man.

Eccle. 42.a. 23 Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, least thou be prouoked in desire towarde hir.

2. Re. 11.a. and. 13.a. 24 The wrath of a woman is dishonor and great confusion: if a woman get the maistrie, then is she contrary to hir husband.

Gen. 3.c. 8. Tim. 2.b. 25 A wicked wyfe maketh a sory heart, an heauy countenaunce, and a dead wounde: weake handes and feeble knees, is a woman that hir husbande is not ỹ better for.

26 Of the woman came the (a) beginning of sinne, and through hir we all are dead.

27 Giue thy water no passage, no not a little, neither giue a wicked woman hir wil.

28 If she walke not after thy hand, she shal confounde thee in the syght of thyne enimies: cut hir off then from thy flesche, that she do not alway abuse thee.

The. xxvi. Chapter.

1. The prayse of a good woman. 5. Of the feare of three things, and of the fourth. 6. Of the ielousie and drunkennesse of a woman. 28. Of two things that cause sorowe, of the thirde which moueth wrath.

1 Happie is the man that hath a vertuous wife: for the number of his yeeres shal be double. I

2 An honest woman maketh hir husband a ioyfull man, and she shall fill the yeeres of his lyfe in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shall be giuen for a good portion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a man be ryche or poore, he may haue euer a merry hearte, and a cheareful countenance.

5 There be three things that my harte feareth, and my face is afrayde of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, and noysome tongues: all these are heauyer than the death.

6 Whe one womã is iealous ouer another, it bryngeth payne & sorowe vnto the hart: and a woman that telleth out all things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euyll wyfe, it is euen as when an vnlyke payre of Oxen muste drawe togyther: he that getteth hir, getteth a scorpion. B Iud.

8 A drunken woman is a greate plague: for she cannot couer hir owne shame.

9 The whoredome of a woman may be knowen in the pride of hir eyes & eyelyds.

10 If thy daughter be not shamefast, kepe hir straytely, lest eyther she abuse hir selfe thorowe ouermuche libertie.

11 Beware of all the dishonestie of hir eyes, and marueyle not if she do agaynst thee.

12 As a wayfayring man that is thyrstie, when he hath found a well, drinketh of euery water: so wil she sit down by euery hedge, and make hir selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioyceth hir husband, and feedeth his bones with hir wisedom.

14 A woman of fewe wordes is a gyfte of God: to al nurtured mindes may nothing be compared.

15 An honest and mannerlye woman is a gyfte above other gyftes: and there is no wayght to be compared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the sunne when it aryseth, is an ornament in the hyghe heauen of the Lord: so is a vertuous wife the beautie of all hir house.

17 Like as the cleare lyght is vpon the holy candelsticke: so is the beautie of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pillers are vppon the sockets of siluer: so are the faire feete vpon a woman that hath a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that bee layde vpon a whole stony rocke: so are the commandementes of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

D 20 There bee two things that greeue my heart, and in the third is displeasure come vpon mee: when an expert man of warre suffereth scarsenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisedome are not set by, and when one departeth from ryghteousnesse vnto synne: who so doeth suche, the Lorde hath prepared him vnto the swoorde.

21 There be two manner of things whiche mee thinke to be harde & perillous: a marchant cannot lyghtly kepe him frō wrong, neither a tauerner him selfe from sinne.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

1. Of the poore that woulde be ryche. 5. The probation of the man that feareth God. 13. The vnconstantnesse of a foole. 16. The secretes of a friende, are not to be vttered. 20. The wicked imagineth euill, whiche returneth vpon him selfe.

1 BEcause of pouertie, haue manye one offended: and he that seeketh to bee riche, turneth his eyes aside.

2 Like as a nayle in the wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones: euen so doeth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If he hold him not diligently in the feare of the Lorde, his house shall soone be ouerthrowen.

4 Like as whē one sifteth, the filthinesse remayneth in the siue: so remayneth there some vncleane thing in ỹ thought of man.

5 The ouen proueth the Potters vessell: so doeth temptation of trouble trye ryghteous men.

6 The tree of the feelde, is knowen by his fruite: so is the thought of mans heart knowen by his wordes. Mat.7.b.

7 Prayse no man, except thou haue hearde him: for a man is knowen by his wordes. B

8 If thou folowest ryghteousnesse, thou shalt get hir, and put hir vppon thee as a fayre garment: and thou shalt dwell with hir, and she shall defende thee for euer, and in the daye of knowledge thou shalt finde stedfastnesse.

9 The byrdes resorte vnto their lyke: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them that bee occupyed withall.

10 The Lion wayteth the praye: so doeth synne vppon them that worke vnryghteousnesse.

11 The talking of him that feareth God, is nothing but wisedome: as for a fole, he changeth as the moone.

12 If thou be among the vndiscrete, keepe thy wordes to a conuenient time: but among suche as be wise, speake on hardily.

13 The talking of fooles is abhomination, and their sporte is voluptuousnesse and misnurture.

14 Muche swearing, maketh the heare to stande vp: and to striue with suche, stoppeth the eares. C Eccle.22.b.

15 The strife of the proude is bloodshedding, and their blaspheming is heauy to heare.

16 Who so discouereth secretes, leeseth his credence, & findeth no friend after his wil. Eccle.19.b. and.22.d.

17 Loue thy friende, and bynde thy selfe in faythfulnesse with him: but if thou bewrayest his secrets, thou shalt not get him agayne.

18 For like as the mā is that destroyeth his enimie: so is hee also that dealeth falsely in the friendship of his neyghbour.

19 Like as one that letteth a byrde go out of his hande, can not take hir agayne: euen so thou, if thou giue ouer thy friende, thou canst not get him agayne.

20 Yea, thou cāst not come by him, for he is to far off: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.

21 As for woundes, they may be bounde vp agayne, and an euyll worde may be reconcyled: but who so bewrayeth the secretes of a friende, there is no more hope to be had vnto him. D

22 He that wynketh with the eyes, imagineth some euil: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone. Pro.9.b.

23 When thou art present, he shall highly commende and prayse thy wordes: but at the laste hee shall turne his tayle, and slaunder thy saying.

24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill: for the Lorde him selfe also abhorreth such a one.

Exod.21.b. 25 Who so casteth a stone on hygh, it shall fall vpon his owne head: and he that smiteth with guile, woundeth him selfe.

26 Who so diggeth a pit shall fall therein, and he that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, and he that layeth a snare for another, shall be taken in it him selfe.

Deut.7.d. Psal.7.d. Pro.26.c. 27 Who so giueth a wicked noysome counsell, it shall come vpon him selfe, and he shall not knowe from whence.

Eccle.10.a. 28 The proude blaspheme, and are skorneful: but vengeance lurketh for thē as a lio.

29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare: anguishe of heart shall consume thē before they die.

30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abhominable things, and the vngodly hath thē both vpon him.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

1. We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13. Of the vices of the tong, and of the dangers thereof.

A 1 HE that seeketh vengeance, shall finde
Deut.32.a. Rom.12.c. vengeance of the Lorde, which shall surely keepe him his sinnes.

Mat.5.b. 6.b.18.b. 2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurte that he hath done thee, and so shall thy sinnes be forgiuen thee also when thou prayest.

3 A man that beareth hatred against another, howe dare he desire forgiuenesse of God?

4 Hee that sheweth no mercye to a man which is like vnto him selfe, howe dare hee aske forgiuenesse of his sinnes?

5 If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred, and keepeth it, who will intreate for his sinnes?

6 Remember the end, and let enmitie passe, which seeketh death and destruction, and abyde thou in the commaundements.

B 7 Remember the commaundementes, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neighboure: thinke vpon the couenant of the highest, and forgiue thy neighbours ignorance.

Eccle.28.a. 8 Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer.

9 For an angry man kyndleth variance: & the vngodly disquieteth friendes, and putteth discord among them that be at peace.

Pro.26.c. 10 The more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches his anger encreaseth, & the loger the strife endureth, the more it burneth.

11 An hastie brawling kindleth a fire, & an hastie strife, sheddeth bloude: a tong also that beareth false witnesse, bringeth death.

12 If thou blowe the sparke, it shall burne, if thou spyt vpon it, it shall goe forth, and both these come out of the mouth.

13 The slaunderer and double tonged, is cursed: for many one that be friendes, setteth he at variance. Eccle.

14 The "thyrde tong hath disquieted many one, and dryuen them from one lande to another: strong cities of the riche hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowne the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and bin the decay of mightie nations. "or, a 15 The thirde tong hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.

16 Who so hearkeneth vnto such, shall neuer finde rest, and neuer dwell safely.

17 The stroke of the rodde, maketh printes in the skynne: but the stroake of the tong smyteth the bones in sunder. C 18 There be many that haue perished with the swoorde: but many moe through the tong.

19 Well is him that is kept from an euyll tong, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which draweth not the yoke of such, and is not bound in the bandes of it.

20 For the yoke thereof is yron, and the bande of it of "steele. "or, brasse

21 The death thereof is a verie euill death: hell were better for one than such a tong. D

22 But the fire of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame thereof may not burne them.

23 Suche as forsake the Lorde, shall fall therein, and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuoure them as a Leoparde.

24 Thou hedgest thy gardes with thornes: why dost thou not rather make doores and barres for thy mouth?

25 Thou wayest thy golde and siluer: why dost thou not waigh thy woordes also vpon the balance, and make a doore, and barre, and a sure bridle for thy mouth?

26 Beware that thou slide not thy tong, and so fall before thine enimies that lay wayte for thee, and thy fall be incurable, euen vnto death.

The.xxix.Chapter.

1. Howe we ought to lende our mony, and doo almes. 15. Of a faythfull man anſwering for his friende. 22. Of liberalitie and hoſpitalitie.

1 WHo ſo will ſhewe mercie, let him lend vnto his neyghbour: and he that is able, let him keepe the commandements.

2 Lende vnto thy neighbour in time of his nede, and pay thou thy neyghbour againe in due ſeaſon.

3 Keepe thy woꝛde, and deale faythfully with him: and thou ſhalt alway finde the thing that is neceſſarie foꝛ thee.

4 There haue beene many, that when a thing was lente them, reckened it to bee founde, and made them trauayle and labour that had helped them.

5 Whyle they receyue any thing, they kiſſe the handes of ſuche as gyue them, and foꝛ their neyghbours good they humble their voyce: but when they ſhoulde pay againe, they keepe it backe, and giue euill woꝛdes, and make many excuſes by reaſon of the tyme.

6 And though he be able, yet gyueth hee ſcarſe the halfe againe, and reckeneth the other to be founde: and if he withhold not his money, yet hath he an enimie of him, and that vndeſerued: he payeth him with curſing and rebuke, and gyueth him euyll woꝛdes foꝛ his good deede.

7 There be many one which are not gladde foꝛ to lende, not becauſe of euyll: but they feare to loſe the thing that they lende.

8 Yet haue thou patience with the ſimple, and withholde not mercie from him.

9 Helpe the poꝛe foꝛ the commandementes ſake, and let him not go emptie from thee, becauſe of his neceſſitie.

10 Loſe thy mony foꝛ thy bꝛother & neyghbours ſake, and burie it not vnder a ſtone, where it ruſteth and coꝛrupteth.

11 Gather thy treaſure after the commaundement of the higheſt, and ſo ſhall it bꝛing thee moꝛe profite than golde.

12 Lay vp thine almes in the hand of the poꝛe, and it ſhall keepe thee from all euyll.

13 A mans almes is as a purſſe with him, and ſhall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterwarde ſhall it ariſe and pay euery man his rewarde vpon his head.

14 It ſhall fight foꝛ thee againſt thine enimies, better than the ſhielde of a giant, oꝛ ſpeare of the mightie.

15 A good honeſt man is a ſuertie foꝛ his neyghboure: but a wicked perſon letteth him come to ſhame.

16 Foꝛget not the friendſhip of thy ſuertie: foꝛ he hath giuen his ſoule foꝛ thee.

17 The vngodly deſpiſeth the good deede of his ſuertie.

18 (a) The wicked will not become ſuertie, and the vnthankefull & ignoꝛant, leaueth his ſuertie in danger.

19 Some man pꝛomiſeth foꝛ his neygbour: and when he hath loſt his honeſtie, he ſhall foꝛſake him.

20 Suertiſhyppe hath deſtroyed manye a ryche man, and remoued them as the waues in the ſea: mightie people hath it dꝛiuen away, and cauſed them to wander in ſtrange countries.

21 An vngodly man tranſgreſſing the cõmaundement of the Loꝛde, ſhall fall into an euill ſuertiſhippe: and though he foꝛce him ſelfe to get out, yet ſhall he fall into iudgement.

22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy poꝛwer, and beware that thou thy ſelfe fall not in ſuche debte.

23 The chiefe thing that keepeth in the life, is water, and bꝛead, clothing, and lodging to couer the ſhame.

24 Better is it to haue a poꝛe lyuing in a mans owne houſe, than delicate fare among the ſtrange.

25 Be it little oꝛ muche that thou haſt, hold thee content withall: and thou ſhalt not be blamed as a bagabonde.

26 Foꝛ a miſerable life is it to go frõ houſe to houſe, and where a man is (b) fremde, he dare not open his mouth.

27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and dꝛinke, yet ſhall hee be taken as vnwoꝛthie, and heare many bytter roughe woꝛdes (namely thus:)

28 Go thy way thou ſtranger, and pꝛepare a table foꝛ thy ſelfe, and feede mee alſo of that thou haſt.

29 Giue place thou ſtranger to an honoꝛable man, my bꝛother commeth into my houſe: and ſo telleth him the neceſſitie of his houſe.

30 Theſe things are heauye to a man that hath vnderſtanding: (namely) the foꝛbidding of the houſe, and that the lender caſteth him in the teeth.

The.xxx.Chapter.

1. Of the correction of children. 14. Of the cõmoditie of health. 17. Death is better than a ſoꝛowfull lyfe. 18. Of hyd wiſedome. 22. Of the ioy and ſoꝛowe of the heart.

a. As he is a foole that is ſuertie for euery man: ſo is he vngodly that in no caſe wil be ſuertie for one man.

1 WHo so loueth his childe, holdeth him still vnder correctiō, that he may haue ioy of him afterwarde, and that he grope not after his neyghboures dores.

Deut.6.a.

2 He that teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and nede not to be ashamed of him among his acquaintance.

3 Who so enfourmeth & teacheth his sōne, greeueth the enimie: & before his friendes he may haue ioy of him.

4 Thoughe his father dye, yet is he as though he were not deade: for he hath left one behinde him that is like him.

5 In his lyfe he sawe him, and had ioye in him, and was not sory in his death, neyther was he ashamed before the enimies.

6 For he lefte behinde him an auenger agaynst his enimies, and a good doer vnto the friendes.

B 7 For the lyfe of childzen, he shall binde the woundes togither, and his hart is grieued at euery crye.

8 An vntamed horse wyll be harde, and a wanton childe will be wilfull.

9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, hee shal make thee afrayde: and if thou playe with him, he shal bring thee to heauinesse.

Eccle.7.c.

12 Bow downe his necke while he is yong, hit him vpon the sides whyle he is yet but a childe, least he ware stubborne, and gyue no more force of thee, & so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.

13 Teache thy childe, and be diligent therein, least it be to thy shame.

C 14 Better is the poore beeing whole and strong, than a man to be riche, and not to haue his health.

15 Health and welfare is aboue all golde, and a whole body aboue all treasure.

16 There is no riches aboue a sound body, and no ioy, aboue the ioye of the hart.

17 Death is better than a bitter lyfe, and eternal rest, better than continuall sickneste.

18 (a) The good things that are put in a close mouthe, are like as when meate is layde vpon the graue.

19 What good doth the offering vnto an idol? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smel: euen so is he that is chased of the Lord, and beareth the rewardes of iniquitie.

20 He seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man, that lyeth with a virgine, and sygheth.

21 Gyue not ouer thy minde into heauinesse, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell. Pro.25.b.

4 But who so laboureth, and prospereth not, he is poore: and though he leaue off, yet is he a begger.

19 A ſweete wholeſome ſleepe ſhall ſuche a one haue, and feele no inwarde greefe, he ryſeth vp betymes in the morning, and is well at eaſe in himſelfe: but an vnſatiable eater ſleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and payne of the body.

20 If thou feeleſt that thou haſte eaten too muche, aryſe, go thy way, caſt it out of thy ſtomacke, and take thy reſte, and it ſhall eaſe thee, ſo that thou ſhalt bring no ſickeneſſe vnto thy body.

22 Who ſo is liberall in dealyng oute his meate, many men ſhall bleſſe him, & prayſe him with their lyppes: and the ſame is a ſure token of his loue and faythfulneſſe.

26 Wine ſoberly dronken, quyckeneth the lyfe of man: if thou drynkeſt it meaſurably, thou ſhalt be temperate: what is the lyfe of him that is ouercome with wyne? what taketh away the lyfe? euen death.

28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for dronkennеſſe: wine meaſurably dronken, is a reioycing of the ſoule and body: a meaſurable drinking, is health to ſoule and body. E

29 But if it be dronken with exceſſe, it maketh bitternеſſe & ſorowe vnto the minde.

30 Dronkenneſſe filleth the mind of the foliſhe with ſhame, and ruine, miniſheth the ſtrength, and maketh woundes.

31 Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and deſpiſe him not in his mirth: giue him no deſpiteful wordes, and preaſſe not vpon him with contrary ſayings. Eccle. 20. a.

The. xxxij. Chapter.

1. Of the diſcretion and prayſe of the preacher and of the hearer. 15. of the feare, faith, and confidence in God.

1 If thou be made a ruler, pryde not thy ſelfe therein, but be thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, & loke well thereto. A Deuk. 17. d. Rom. 12. b.

2 And when thou haſte done all thy duetie, ſit thee downe, that thou mayeſt be merrye with them, & receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with ſure knowledge: hinder not muſicke.

4 Speake not where there is no audience: & powre not forth wiſedome out of tyme, at an importunitie. Eccle. 3. d.

5 Like as the Carbuncle ſtone ſhineth that is ſet in golde: ſo doth a ſong garniſh the wine feaſte.

6 And as the Smaradge that is ſet in golde: ſo is the ſweetenеſſe of muſicke, by the myxth of wine.

7 Giue care and be ſtyll, and for thy good behauiour thou ſhalt be loued. B

8 Thou yong man, ſpeake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable, and yet ſcarſe when thou art twiſe aſked.

9 Comprehend much with fewe wordes, in many things be as one that is ignorant: giue care, and hold thy tongue withall.

10 If thou be among men of high authoritie, deſire not to compare thy ſelfe vnto them: and when an elder ſpeaketh, make not thou many wordes therein.

11 Before the thunder, goeth lyghtning: and before nurture and ſhamefaſtnes, goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stande vp betimes, and be not the laſt: but get thee home ſone.

13 And there take thy paſtyme, and do what thou wilt: ſo that thou do no euyll, and deſie no man.

C 14 But for al things giue thanks vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodes.

15 Who ſo feareth the Lorde, will receyue his doctrine: and they that gette them to him betimes, ſhall finde grace.

16 He that ſeeketh the lawe, ſhall be fylled withall: as for him that is but faigned, he will be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lord, ſhall finde the iudgement, and their ryghteouſneſſe ſhall be kindled as a lyght.

18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but can helpe him ſelfe with the example of other in his purpoſe.

19 A man of vnderſtanding deſpyſeth no good counſayle: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare, yea, euen when he hath dealte raſhly with another man: but his owne doings ſhall be his rebuke.

20 My ſonne, do nothyng without aduiſement: ſo ſhall it not repent thee after the deede.

D 21 Go not in the waye where thou mayeſt fall, nor where thou mayſt ſtumble againſt the ſtone: agayne, neither truſt thou to the way that is playne.

22 And beware of thyne owne chyldren: and take heede of them that bee of thyne owne houſholde.

23 In all thy workes put thy truſt in God, from thy whole hart: for that is the keeping of the commaundementes.

24 Who ſo beleeueth Gods worde, taketh heede to the commaundements: and hee that putteth his truſte in the Lorde, ſhall want nothing.

The.xxxiij. Chapter.

1. The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 4. The anſwere of the wiſe. 5. The little diſcretion of a foole. 12. Man is in the hande of God, as the earth is in the hande of the Potter. 25. VVe ought not to diſpoſe our ſelues to become ſubiect to other.

a, As a ſhip in the ſurging waues without a guyde, daſheth agaynſte the rockes, or rūneth on the ſandes: ſo the hipocrite that is not ſtayde vppon Gods word, is ouerthrowen with euery blaſt of trouble and temptation.

THere ſhall no euyll happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation, the Lorde ſhall delyuer him, & keepe him from euill.

2 A wiſe man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite (a) is as a ſhip in raging water.

3 A man of vnderſtanding giueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faithfull vnto him.

4 Be ſure of the matter, then talke therof: be firſt wel inſtruct, then mayeſt thou giue anſwere.

5 The hearte of the foliſhe is like a Carte wheele, and his thoughtes runne about like the axeltree.

6 (b) Like as a wylde horſe that neyeth vnder euery one that ſitteth vpon him, ſo is it with a ſcornefull friende.

7 Why doth one day excel another, ſeing al the dayes of the yeere come of the ſunne?

8 The wiſedome of the Lord hath ſo parted them aſunder, and ſo hath he ordeyned the times and ſolempne feaſtes.

9 Some of them hath he choſen and halowed before other dayes.

10 And all men are made of the grounde, & out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of ſcience hath the Lorde ſundered them, & made their wayes of diuers faſhions.

11 Some of them hath hee bleſſed, made muche of them, halowed them, and claymed them to himſelfe: but ſome of them hath he curſed, brought them low, and put them out of their eſtate.

12 Like as the clay is in the Potters hand, and al the ordering therof at his pleaſure: ſo are men alſo in the hande of him that made them, ſo that he may giue them as liketh him beſt.

13 Againſt euill is good, and againſt death is lyfe: ſo is the vngodly againſt ſuche as feare God.

14 Beholde, thele are the workes of the highеſt, and (c) there are euen two againſt two, and one ſet againſt another.

15 I am awaked vp laſte of all, as one that gathereth after in harueſt: in the gyftes of God, and in his bleſſing I am increaſed, and haue filled my wine preſſe like a grape gatherer.

16 Beholde howe I haue not laboured only for my ſelfe, but for all ſuch as loue nurture and wiſdome.

17 Heare me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your eares, ye rulers of the congregation.

18 Geue not thy ſonne, & wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee whyle thou liueſt: and giue not away thy ſubſtance and good to another, leaſt it repent thee, & thou be fayne to aſke of them agayne.

19 As long as thou liueſt and haſt (d) breath, let no man change thee.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, than that thou ſhouldeſt bee fayne to looke in their handes.

21 In all thy workes, be excellent, that thy honour be neuer ſtayned.

22 At the tyme when thou shalt ende thy dayes, and finiche thy lyfe, distribute thine inheritances.

23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burden, belongeth vnto the Asse: meate, correction, and worke, vnto the seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whyppe bowe downe the harde necke: but tame thou thy euyll seruant, with bondes and correction.

26 Sende him to labour, that he go not ydle: for idlenesse bringeth much euyll.

27 Sette him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him well.

28 If he be not obedient, bynde his feete:
but do not to much vnto him in any wise, and without discretion doo nothing.

C 29 If thou haue a (faythfull) seruant, lette him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: entreate him as a brother, for in bloodde hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruant, holde him as thy selfe, for thou hast neede of him, as of thy selfe:

30 If thou intreatest him euyll, and keepest him harde, and makest him to bee proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

The .xxxiij. Chapter.

1. Of dreames, diuinations, and enchantments. 6. We ought to confute vayne hope, and lying. 13. The prayse of them that feare God. 22. Of diuers workes of men. 27. God doth not allowe the workes of an vnfaithful man.

1 VNwyse people beguyle them selues with vayne and deceytfull hope, and fooles truste in dreames.

2 Who so regardeth dreames, is like him that will take holde of a shadowe, and fo-lowe after the winde.

3 Euen so is it with the appearinges of dreames: before the face, is the likenesse of a face.

4 Who can be cleansed of the vncleane? Or what trueth can be spoken of a lyer?

5 Sothsaying, witchcraft, sorcerie, & dreaming is but vayne: like as when a woman trauayleth with childe, and hath many fantasies in hir hart.

6 Where as such visions come not of God, set not thine heart vpon them:

D 7 For dreames haue deceyued many a mã,
& they fayled that put their trust therein.

8 The law shal be fulfilled without lyes, & wisdome is sufficient to a faithful mouth:
what knowledge hath he that is not tried?

9 A wise man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth muche: and he that hath good experience, can talke of wisedome.

10 He that hath no experience, knoweth little, and he that erreth, causeth muche wickednesse: he that is not tryed, what things knoweth he? he that hath bene deceyued, is full of subtiltie.

11 When I was yet in errour, I learned muche also: yea, I was so learned, that I coulde not expresse it all.

12 And came oft in perill of death therfore, tyll I was deliuered from it throughe the grace of God.

13 Nowe I see that they which feare God, haue the right spirite, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lorde are on them that loue him.

14 Who so feareth the Lorde, standeth in C awe of no man, and is not afraide: for the Lorde is his hope and comfort.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth
the Lorde: in whome putteth he his trust?
who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lorde haue respecte vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection and strong grounde: a defence for the heate, a refuge for y hot noone day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lyghteneth the eyes: he giueth lyfe and blessing.

18 He that giueth an offering of vnryghteous good, his offering is refused: and the scornefull dealings of the vnryghteous, please not God.

19 The Lord is theirs onely that patiently abyde him in the way of the trueth, and of tyghteousnesse.

20 The highest doth not allow the giftes of D the wicked: and God hath no delyght in the offerings of the vngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations.

21 Who so bryngeth an offering out of the goodes of the poore, doth euen as one that killeth the sonne before the fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needefull, is the lyfe of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of bloodde.

23 Who so robbeth his neighbour of his liuing, doth as greate sinne as though hee slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hyre, is a blood shedder.

24 When one buyldeth, and another breaketh downe: what profite haue they then but labour?

a. When a riche man, hauing gotten his goodes by robberie, extortiō, briberie, or craft, & ſubtiltie, vſurie, or ſimonie, or withholding ſeruantes or labourers wages, & of that wil offer a gift vnto God, that he may heare his prayer: on the other part the poore whiche is oppreſſed or defrauded, prayeth to God to ſee and iudge his cauſe: whoſe prayer thinke you, wil God moſt chiefly heare?

Jerem. 7. c
Heb. 13. c.

25 (a) When one prayeth, and another curſeth, whoſe prayer will the Lorde heare?
26 He that waſheth him ſelfe becauſe of a dead bodie, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doth his waſhing?
27 So is it with a man that faſteth for his ſinnes, and doth them agayne: who wyll heare his prayer? or what doth his faſting helpe him?

The. xxxv. Chapter.

1. It is well done to praye and to doo ſacrifice. 14. The prayer of the fatherleſſe, and of the widowe, and of him that humbleth himſelfe.

1 Who ſo keepeth the lawe, bringeth offerings ynough: he that holdeth faſt the commaundement, offereth the right healthy offering.
2 He that is thankful, & recompenceth, offereth fine floure: who ſo is mercifull, & giueth almes, ẏ is the right thanke offering.
3 God hath pleaſure when one departeth from ſinne: and to forſake vnryghteouſneſſe, reconcyleth vs with him.

Exo. 33. a.

4 Thou ſhalt not appeare empty before the Lorde:
5 For all ſuche is done becauſe of the commaundement of God.

Gen. 4. a.

6 The offering of the righteous maketh the aulter fatte, and a ſweete ſmell is it before the hyghеſt.

B

7 The offering of ẏ righteous is acceptable vnto God, and ſhall neuer be forgotten.
8 Gyue god his honour with a chearefull hart: and keepe not backe the firſtlings of thyne handes.

2. Cor 9. b.

9 In all thy gyfts ſhew a chearefull countenance, and halowe thy tythes vnto God with gladneſſe.

Tobi. 4. b.

10 Gyue vnto God according as he hathe enryched and proſpered thee: and loke what thyne hande is able, gyue with a chearefull eye.
11 For the Lorde recompenceth, and giueth thee ſeuen tymes as muche agayne.
12 Gyue no vnryghteous gyftes, for ſuche will he not receyue: beware of wrong offerings, for the Lord is a righteous iudge, and regardeth no mans perſon.
13 He accepteth not the perſon of the powre: but he heareth the prayer of the oppreſſed.

C

Judith. 4. b

14 He deſpiſeth not the deſire of the fatherleſſe, nor the widowe when ſhee powreth out hir prayer before him.
15 Doth not God ſee ẏ teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widdowe? Or heareth he not the complaynte ouer ſuche as make hir to weepe? for from hir cheekes dow the tearrs go vp into heauen, and the Lorde whiche heareth them, doth accept them.
16 Who ſo ſerueth God after his pleaſure, ſhall be accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the cloudes.
17 The prayer of him that humbleth him Tit. 3.
ſelfe, goeth through the cloudes: tyll ſhee come nygh, ſhe will not be comforted, nor go hir waye till the hyghеſt God haue reſpect vnto hir, gyue true ſentence, and performe the iudgement.
18 And the Lord will not be ſlacke in coming, nor tarrie long, till he haue ſmitten in ſunder the backes of the vnmercifull, and auenged himſelfe of the heathen, tyll he haue taken away the multitude of the cruell, and broken the ſcepter of the vnryghteous, tyll he gyue euery man after his workes, and rewarde them after their dowings, tyll he haue deliuered his people, maintained their cauſe, and reioyced them in his mercie.
19 O how fayre a thing is mercy in ẏ time of anguiſh & trouble? It is like a cloude of rayne that commeth in the time of drouth.

The. xxxvi. Chapter.

1. A prayer to God, in the perſon of all faythful men. 22. The prayſe of a good woman.

1 HAue mercie vppon vs, O Lorde, thou A
God of all things, haue reſpecte vnto vs: ſhew vs the lyght of thy mercies.
2 And ſende thy feare among the heathen, & ſtrangers whiche ſeeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may ſhewe thy wonderous workes.
3 Lyft vp thine hande ouer the outlandiſhe heathen, that they may learne to know thy myght and power.
4 Like as thou arte halowed in vs before them: ſo bryng to paſſe that thou mayeſt be magnified alſo in them before vs.
5 That they may knowe thee, like as wee knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lorde.
6 Renue the tokens, and change the wonderous workes: ſhewe thyne hande and thy ryght arme gloriouſly.
7 Rayſe vp thine indignation, & powre out B thy wrath: take away the aduerſarie, and ſmite the enimie.
8 Make the time ſhort, remember thy couenaunt, that thy wonderous workes may be prayſed.

9 Let the wrath of the fire conſume them that liue ſo careleſſe: and let them perysshe that do thy people hurt.

10 Smite in ſunder the heade of the Princes that be our enimies, and ſay, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together agayne, that they may knowe howe that there is none other God but onely thou, that they may shewe thy wonderous workes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, like as from the beginning.

12 O Lorde haue mercie vppon the people that hath thy name, and vpon Iſraell whō thou haſt likened to a firſt borne ſonne.

13 O be mercyfull vnto Jeruſalem the citie of thy ſanctuarie, the citie of thy reſt.

14 Fill Sion with thyne vnſpeakeable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witneſſe vnto thy creature whome thou madeſt from the beginning, and raiſe vp the prophecies that haue bene ſhewed in thy name.

16 Reward them that waite for thee, that thy prophetes may be founde faithfull.

17 O Lord heare the prayer of thy ſeruants, according to the bleſſing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guyde thou vs in the way of righteouſneſſe: that all they which dwel vpon the earth, may knowe that thou arte the Lorde the eternall God, which is from euerlaſting.

18 The belly deuoureth all meates: yet is one meate better than another.

19 Like as the tong taſteth veniſon, ſo doth an hearte of vnderſtanding marke falſe wordes.

20 A frowarde heart grieueth heauineſſe: but a man of experience lifteth him vp againe.

21 The woman receiueth euerie man: yet is one daughter better than another.

22 A kayre wife reioyceth hir huſband: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there be in hir tong, gentleneſſe, meekeneſſe, and wholſome talke: then is not hir huſbande like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous wom̄, hath a goodly poſſeſſion: ſhe is vnto him a helpe and piller whereupon he reſteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are ſpoyled: and where no huſwife is, there the friendleſſe mourneth.

26 Like as there is no credence giuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: ſo is not the man beleeued that hath no neſt, and muſt turne in where he maye abyde in the night.

The.xxxvij. Chapter.

1. Howe a man ſhoulde knowe friendes and counſellers. 12. and ſearch the companie of an holy man.

1 EVery friende ſayth, I will be friendly vnto him alſo: but there is ſome friende which is only a friend in name. A

2 Remayneth not there heauineſſe vnto death, when a companion and friende is turned to an enimie?

3 O moſt wicked preſumption: from whēce art thou ſprong vp to couer the earth with falſhode and deceit?

4 There is ſome cōpanion, which in proſperitie reioyceth with his friende: but in the time of trouble, he taketh part agaynſt hym. Eccle. 7. b.

5 "There is ſome companion that mourneth with his friende for the bellyes ſake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh hold of the ſhielde. "or, there is ſome cōpanion that helpeth his friend for the bellies ſake, & taketh vp the buckler againſt the enimie.

6 Forget not thy friende in thy mynde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counſell at thy kinſemen, and hyde thy counſell from ſuch as beare thee no good wyll.

8 Euery counſeller prayſeth his counſell: neuertheleſſe, there is ſome that counſelleth but for his owne profite. B Eccle. 8. k.

9 Beware of the counſeller, and be aduiſed afore whereto thou wilt vſe him (for he will counſell for him ſelfe) leaſt he caſt the lot vpon thee,

10 And ſay vnto thee, Thy way and purpoſe is good: and afterwarde he ſtande againſt thee, and loke what ſhall become of thee.

11 Aſke no counſell at him that ſuſpecteth thee for an enimie, and hyde thy counſell from ſuche as hate thee: aſke no counſell for religion, of him that is without religion, nor for iuſtice, of him that hath no iuſtice: aſke no counſell at a woman, touching hir of whome ſhe is ielous, nor at a fearefull and faint hearted body in matters of warre: or at a Marchant howe deare he will cheape thy wares towarde his: or at a buyer, of ſelling: or at an enuious man, of thankeſgiuing: or at the vnmercifull, of louing kindneſſe: or at an vnhoneſt man, of honeſtie: or at the ſlouthfull, of working: or at an hyreling which hath no houſe, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of muche labours: take no ſuch folkes to counſell.

12 But be diligent to ſeeke counſell at a vertuous man that feareth God, ſuch a one as thou knoweſt to be a keeper of the commaundements, which hath a mynde after thyne owne mynde, and is ſorye for thee when thou ſtumbleſt.

13 And holde thy counſell faſt in thine hart: for there is no man more faythful to keepe it than thou thy ſelfe.

¶ 14 For a mans mynd is ſomtime diſpoſed to tell out more, than ſeuen watchmen that ſit aboue in an highe place loking about them.

15 And aboue all this, pray the higheſt that he will leade thy way in faythfulneſſe and trueth.

16 Before al thy workes aſke counſell firſt: and or euer thou doeſt any thing, be well aduiſed.

17 There be foure things that declare a changed heart, whereout there ſpringeth euyll and good, death and lyfe, and a maiſterfull tong that babbleth much.

18 Some man is apte and well inſtructed in many things, and yet very vnprofitable vnto him ſelfe.

19 Some man there is that can giue wyſe and prudent counſell, and yet is he hated, and continueth a begger.

20 For that grace is not giuen him of God to be accepted.

D 21 Another is robbed of all wiſedome: yet is he wiſe vnto him ſelfe, and the fruite of vnderſtãding is cõmendable in his mouth

22 A wiſe man maketh his people wiſe, and the fruites of his wiſedome faile not.

23 A wiſe man ſhall be plentrouſly bleſſed of God: and all they that ſee him, ſhall ſpeake good of him.

24 The lyfe of man ſtandeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Iſraell are innumerable.

25 A wiſe man ſhall obteyne faythfulneſſe and credence among his people, and hys name ſhall be perpetuall.

26 My ſonne, proue thy ſoule in thy ſelfe, and if thou ſee any euill thing, giue it not vnto hir:

1.Cor.6.c. 27 For all things are not profitable for all men, neyther hath euery ſoule pleaſure in euery thing.

28 Be not greedie in euery eating, and be not to haſtie vpon all meates.

Eccle.30.b. 29 For exceſſe of meates bringeth ſickneſſe, and gluttonie commeth at the laſte to an vnmeaſurable heate.

30 Through ſurfet haue many one peryſhed: but he that dyeteth him ſelfe temperately, prolongeth his life.

The.xxxviij. Chapter.

1. A Phiſition is commendable. 16. To burie the dead. 24. The wiſdome of him that is learned.

1 HOnour the Phiſition, honor him with A that honor ỹ is due vnto him, by cauſe of neceſſitie: for God hath created him.

2 For of the higheſt commeth medicine, and he ſhall receiue giftes of the king.

3 The wiſdome of the Phiſition bringeth him to great worſhip, and in the ſight of the great men of this world, he ſhall be honourably taken.

4 The Lorde hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wiſe wyll not abhorre it.

5 Was not the bitter water made ſweete Exod.
with a tree, that men might learn to know the vertue thereof.

6 The Lorde hath giuen men wyſedome and vnderſtanding, that he might be honoured in his wonderous workes.

7 With ſuch doth he heale men, and taketh B away their paynes:

8 Of ſuch doth the PotheCarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme all his workes: for of the Lorde commeth proſperous wealth ouer all the earth. C 27

9 My ſonne, deſpiſe not this in thy ſick- 2.Chr.
neſſe: but pray vnto the Lord, and he ſhal make thee whole.

10 Leaue off from ſinne, & order thy hands aright, cleanſe thyne heart from all wyckednelle.

11 Giue a ſweete ſauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offering fat, as one that giueth the firſt fruites, 12 And giue rome to the Phiſition, for the Lorde hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou haſt neede of him.

13 The houre may come, that the ſicke may be helped through them.

14 When they pray vnto the Lord, that he C may recouer and get health to liue longer.

15 He that ſinneth before his maker, ſhall fall into the handes of the Phiſition.

16 My ſonne, bring forth thy teares ouer Eccle.
the deade, and begin to mourne, as if thou haddeſt ſuffered great harme thy ſelf: and then couer his bodye after a conuenient maner, and deſpiſe not his burial.

17 Enforce thy ſelfe to weepe, and prouoke 2.Theſ.
thy ſelf to mourne and make lamentation expedientlye, and be earneſt in mourning, and vſe lamentation as he is worthy, and that a day or two, leaſt thou be euill ſpoke of:

of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of the heauinesse.

16 For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauinesse of the heart, breaketh strength.

19 Heauinesse and pouertie, greeueth the hart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauinesse to heart, driue it away, and remember the last things.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning agayne, thou shalt do him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thyne also shall be likewise: vnto me yesterday, vnto thee to day.

23 Let the remembrance of the deade ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee agayne ouer him, seing his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisedome of the scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth frō exercises and labour, shall be wise.

25 How can he get wisedome that holdeth the Plough, and he that hath pleasure in the goade, and in dryuing the oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and his talke is but of the breeding of bullockes?

26 He setteth his heart to make forrowes, and is diligent to giue the kyne fodder.

27 So is euery Carpenter also, and workmaister, that laboureth still night and day: he carueth, grauеth, cutteth out, and his desire is in syndrie cunning things, his heart imagineth how he may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also and watching performeth the worke.

28 The yron Smyth in lyke manner bydeth by his stithie, and doth his diligence to labour the yron: the vapour of the fyre burneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the furnace: the noyse of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, and his eyes loke still vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his mynde thereupon, that he will make out his worke, and therfore he watcheth howe he may set it out, and bring it to an end.

29 So doth the Potter set by his worke, he turneth the wheele about with his feete, he is diligent and carefull in all doings, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the claye with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it: his heart imagineth howe he maye make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their handes, and euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the cities be maynteyned, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not hyghe in the congregation, neyther sit they vpon the iudgement seates: they vnderstande not the couenant of the lawe, they can not declare equitie and iudgement, they can not synde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shall the creature of the worlde be maynteyned, their desyre concerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The. xxxix. Chapter.

1. A wise man. 16. The workes of God. 24. Vnto the good, things do profit: but vnto the euil, euen good things are euill.

1 HE that applyeth his mynde to vnderstande the lawe of God, doth diligently seeke out the wisedome of them of the olde time, and exerciseth him selfe in the prophetes. A

2 He keepeth the sayings of famous men, and preasseth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wisedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secret sayings, and exercyseth him selfe therein continually.

4 He doth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince: he goeth into a strange countrie, and trauelleth through it: loke what good or euill is among men, he proueth, and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his heart to resorte early vnto the Lorde that made him, and to praye before the highest God: he openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lord will, he shal be filled with the spirit of vnderstanding, that he may then poure out wise sentences, and giue thankes vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 He shall order his counsile, and leade his knowledge aryght, and giue him vnderstanding of secrete things. B

8 Hee shall shewe forth the science of his learning, and reioyce in the couenant of the lawe of the Lorde.

9 The whole congregation shall commend his wisedome, and it shall neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer be forgotten, and his name shall continue from one generation to another.

10 His wisedome shall be spoken of among the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his prayse. Eccle. 44. b 11 While he liueth, he hath a greater name than a thousande beside: and after death, the same name remayneth vnto him.

12 Yet

12 Yet will I speake of moe men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the moone.

13 Hearken vnto me ye holy vertuous children, bring forth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the fielde,

C 14 And gyue ye a sweete smell as incense, flourishe as the rose garden, sing a song of prayse, O gyue thankes vnto God ouer all his workes.

15 Giue magnificence vnto his name, and set him forth in his prayse with your lips, and with musicke and harmonie: yea euen with the song of your lippes, with harpes and playing, and in giuing thankes vnto him, say after this manner:

Gene.1.d. 16 All the workes of the Lorde are exceeding good, and all his commaundementes are meete and conuenient in due season.

17 A man neede not to say, what is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: at his commaundement the water was as a wall, at the worde of his mouth, the water stode still.

Gen.7.b. 18 In his commaundement is euerie thing acceptable and reconciled, and his healthy can not be minished.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hyd from his eyes.

20 He seeth frō euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing to wonderfull or high vnto him.

D 21 A man neede not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made al things to doe good vnto man.

Dlee.14.b. Rom.8.D. 22 His blessing shall runne ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like as a floude of water.

a. The creatures of God, are good by creation. But as good men vse thē to the glory of God, the profite of others, & their owne necessitie: so the vngodly doe not acknowledge them as the good giftes of god, but abuse them either in ryot and excesse, or els in miserable keping of them, take them for their Gods. Mat.25.D.

23 Lyke as he maketh the drouth: so shall his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are playne and ryght vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

25 (a) For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euill things for the vngodly.

26 All things necessarie for the life of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, yron, and salte, meale, wheate, and hony, mylke, and wyne, oyle, and clothing:

27 All these things are created for the best to the faythfull: but to the vngodly, shall all these things be turned to hurt & harme.

28 There be spirites that are created for vengeance, and in their rigorousnesse haue they fastned their tormentes: in the tyme of ỹ end, they shal poure out their strength & pacifie the wrath of him that made them.

Eccle.40.b 29 Fyre, hayle, hunger, and death: all these things are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wylde noysome beastes, the scorpions, serpentes, and the sworde, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shall be glad to do his commaundements, and when neede is, they shall be readie vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the commaundement of the Lorde.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these thinges in writing, and to leaue them behinde me:

33 All the workes of the Lord are good, and he giueth euery one in due season, and when neede is. Gen.

34 So that no man neede not to say, This is worse than that: for in due season they are all pleasant and good.

35 And therefore prayse the Lorde with whole heart and mouth, and gyue thankes vnto his name.

The.xl.Chapter.

1. Many miseries light in a mans life. 11. All things passe away, but a firme and stable faith remayneth. 14. Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

1 GReat trauell is created for all men, I and an heaule yoke vpon all the sōes of Adam, from the daye that they goe out of their mothers womb, tyll they be buryed in (the earth) the mother of all thing.

2 (Namely) their thoughtes and imaginations, feare of the heart, counsell, meditations, longing and desire, the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glorious seate, vnto the lowest and moste simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloriously arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely, and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger, and strife: and in the nyght when one shoulde rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the sleepe chaungeth his understanding and knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, as well as in the day of labour: he feareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his hart, as one that runneth out of a battel.

7 And in the time of helth he awaketh, and marueleth that the feare was nothing. B

8 Such things happen vnto all flesh, both man and beast: but seuen folde to the vngodly.

9 More-

9 Moreouer, death, bloudſhedding, ſtrife, and ſwoorde, oppreſſion, hunger, deſtruction, and puniſhment:
10 Theſe things are all created againſte the vngodly, and for their ſakes came the floude alſo.
11 All that is of the earth, ſhall turne to earth againe, and all waters ebbe againe into the ſea.
12 All bribes and vnrighteouſneſſe ſhall be put away: but faythfulneſſe and truethe ſhall endure for euer.
13 The ſubſtance and goodes of the vngodly ſhall be dryed vp, and ſincke away as a water floud, (a) and they ſhal make a ſound like a great thunder in the rayne.
14 Like as the ryghteous reioyceth when he openeth his hande: ſo ſhall the tranſgreſſours be faint when their goods vaniſh and conſume away.
15 The childrē of the vngodly ſhall not obteyne many branches:
16 And the vncleane rootes vpon the byghe rockes, ſhall be rooted out before the graſſe by the water ſyde, & vpon the riuer bankes.
17 Friendlyneſſe and liberalitie in the increaſe and bleſſing of God, is lyke a paradiſe and garden of pleaſure: ſuch mercie alſo and kyndneſſe endureth for euer.
18 To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a ſweete pleaſant life: and that is, to finde a treaſure of all treaſures.
19 To beget childrē, and to repayre the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honeſt womā, is more worth than they both.
20 Wine and minſtrelſy reioyceth the hart: but the loue of wiſdome is aboue thē both.
21 Pyping & harping make a ſwete noyſe: but a friendly tong goeth beyonde them both.
22 Thyne eye deſireth fauour and beautie: but a greene ſeede time, rather than they both.
23 A friende and companion, come together at opportunitie: but aboue them bothe, is a wyfe that agreeth with hir huſbande.
24 Brethren and helpes are profytable in tyme of trouble: but almes ſhall delyuer more than they both.
25 Golde and ſyluer faſten the feete: but a good counſell is more pleaſant than they both.
26 Temporall ſubſtance and ſtrength lyft vp the mynde: but the feare of the Lorde, more than they bothe: the feare of the Lorde wanteth nothing, and needeth no helpe.
27 The feare of the Lord is a pleaſant garden of bleſſing, and nothing ſo beautifull as it is. E
28 My ſonne, leade not a beggers lyfe: for better it were to dye than to begge.
29 The lyfe of him that loketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a lyfe, for he defyleth his ſoule in other mens meate: but a wyſe and well nurtured mā will beware therof.
30 Begging is ſweete in the mouth of the vnſhamefaſt: but in his bellye there burneth a fire.

The.xli. Chapter.

1. Of the remembrance of death. 3. Death is not to be feared. 8. A curſe vpon them that forſake the lawe of God. 12. Good name and fame. 14. An exhortation to giue heede vnto wiſedome. 17. Of what things a man ought to be aſhamed.

1 O Death (a) howe bitter is the remembrance of thee, to a man that ſeeketh reſt and comforte in his ſubſtance and ryches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath proſperitie in all things, yea vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate? A
2 O death, howe acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whoſe ſtrength fayleth, and that is nowe in his laſt age, and that in al things is full of care and carefulneſſe, vnto him alſo that is in diſpayre, and hath no hope nor patience?
3 Be not thou afrayde of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lorde ouer all fleſhe.
4 And why wouldeſt thou be againſte this pleaſure of the higheſt? whether it be tenne, an hundred, or a thouſande yeres, " death aſketh not howe long one hath lyued.
5 The childrē of the vngodly are abhominable childrē, and ſo are they that keepe companie with the vngodly.
6 The inheritance of the vngodly childrē ſhall come to naught, and their poſteritie ſhall haue perpetual ſhame and confuſion. Eccle.11.f.
7 The childrē complayne of an vngodly father: and why? for his ſake they are rebuked and deſpiſed. B
8 Wo be vnto you, O ye vngodly, which haue forſakē the law of ỹ higheſt God: for though ye do increaſe, yet ſhal you periſh.
9 If ye doe liue, ye ſhall be accurſed: if ye dye, the curſe ſhall be your portion.

a. Temporall death is bytter to foure ſortes of men: one, to infidels that loke for no life after this: ſeconde, to them that ſet their pleſure in their riches, from whence they now muſt needs depart: third, to thē that neuer taſted of the croſſe: fourth, to them that be ſtrong & luſtie in bodie, for that they ſtrōgly ſtruggle with death: but ſweete vnto the contrarie.

Gene.3.d. "or, there is no defence for life againſte the graue.

10 All

Eccle.11.b. 10 All that is of the earth, ſhall turne to earth agayne: ſo goe the vngodly alſo out of the curſe into deſtruction.

11 Though men mourne for their bodye: yet the name of the vngodly ſhall be put out, for it is nothing worthy.

Eccle.22.a. 12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that ſhall continue ſurer by thee, than a thouſand great treaſures of golde.

13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth euer.

¶ 14 My children, keepe wyſedome in peace: for wiſdom that is hid, and a treaſure that is not ſeene, what profit is in them both?

Eccle.20.b. 15 A man that hydeth his folyſhneſſe, is better, thā a man that hideth his wiſdome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my wordes: for it is not good in all things and alway to be aſhamed: (a) True fayth muſt proue and meaſure it.

17 Be aſhamed of whoredome before father and mother: be aſhamed of leaſing before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of ſinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrighteouſneſſe, before a companion and friende:

19 Of theft, before thy neighbours: as for the trueth of God and his couenant, be not aſhamed thereof: (b) be aſhamed to lie with thyne elbowes vpon the breade, or to be reproued for giuing or taking:

20 And of ſilence, vnto them that ſalute thee: be aſhamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Be aſhamed to turne away thy face from thy kinſman, be aſhamed " to take and not to giue:

22 Be aſhamed alſo to looke vpon an other mans wife, and to make many trifling wordes with hir mayden, or to ſtande by hir bed ſyde.

23 Be aſhamed to vpbrayde thy friende: when thou gyueſt any thing, caſt him not in the teeth withall, 24 Or to reporte the matter that thou haſt heard, or to diſcloſe the ſecrete wordes: ſo ſhalt thou well be ſhamefaſt, and ſhalt find fauour with all men.

a. True fayth doth all things in ſeaſon and oportunitie, when and how euery one ought to be ordered. For ſtrong meate and hard bread nouriſheth ſome, & ſtrāgleth other: ſom one herbe healeth ſome mās diſeaſe, & encreaſeth ſome againe.

b. Being bydden to another mans table, preſume not to the higheſt place, be not ſo homely that thou lye with thyne elbowes vpon the table ouer thy bread for that is vnmanerly, Luke.14.

" or, to take away a gifte from any mā.

The.xlij.Chapter.

1. The lawe of God muſt be taught. 9. A daughter. 14. A woman. 18. God knoweth all things, yea, euen the ſecretes of the heart.

I 1 Of theſe things be not aſhamed, and accept no perſon to offende, (Namely, of theſe things be not aſhamed:)

2 Of the lawe of God, of the couenant, of iudgement, to bring the vngodly from his vngodlyneſſe vnto righteouſneſſe, and to make him a good man.

3 To deale faythfully with thy neyghbour and companion, to diſtribute the heritage vnto the friendes:

4 To be diligent to kepe true meaſure and waight: to be content whether thou get leſſe much or little.

5 To deale truely with temporall goods in buying and ſelling, to bring vp children with diligence, to correct an euill ſeruant:

6 To kepe that thyne is from an euill wife, to ſet a locke where many handes are:

7 What thou deliuereſt and giueſt out to be kept, to tell it, and to wey it, to write vp all thy outgiuing and receiuing:

8 To enfourme the vnlearned and vnwiſe of the aged that are iudged of the yong: if thou be diligent in theſe things, truely thou ſhalt be learned and wiſe, and accepted of all men.

9 The daughter maketh the father to watch ſecretely, and the carefulneſſe that he hath for hir, taketh away his ſleepe, yea in hir youth, leaſt ſhe ſhould ouergrowe him, and when ſhe hath an husband, leaſt ſhe ſhould be hated:

10 Leaſt ſhe ſhoulde be defiled, or rauiſhed in hir virginitie, or gotten with childe in hir fathers houſe: or when ſhe commeth to the man, leaſt ſhe behaue hir ſelfe not ryght, or continue vnfruitfull.

11 If thy daughter be wanton, kepe hir ſtraightly, leaſt ſhe cauſe thyne enimies to langh thee to ſkorne, and the whole citie to giue thee an euill reporte: and ſo thou be layne to beare thy ſhame of euery man, and be confounded before all the people.

12 Beholde not euery bodyes beautie, and haue not much dwelling among women. Eccle.

13 For like as the worme and mothe commeth out of clothing: ſo doth wickednelle come of women. Ecc.

14 It is better to be with an euill man, thā ¶ with a friendly wife that putteth one to ſhame and rebuke.

15 I will remember the wordes of the Lord, and declare the thing that I haue ſeene: in the wordes of the Lorde are his workes.

16 The ſunne ouerlooketh all things with his ſhyne, " and all his workes are full of the clearenelle thereof. " or, Ecclus. is full of the glory of the Lord.

17 Hathe not the Lorde brought to paſſe, that his ſaintes ſhoulde tell out all his wonderous workes, which the almightie Lorde hath ſtabliſhed? All things endure in his glory.

18 He

18 He ſeeketh out the grounde of the deepe, and the heart of men, and he knoweth all their imaginations and wiſedome: for the Lorde knoweth all ſcience, and he loketh into the token of the tyme.

19 He declareth the things that are paſt, and for to come, and diſcloſeth things that are ſecrete.

20 No thought may eſcape him, neyther may any worde be hyd from him.

21 He hath garniſhed the hyghe excellent workes of his wiſedome, and he is from euerlaſting to euerlaſting: vnto him may nothing be added, neither can he be miniſhed, he hath no neede alſo of any mans counſell.

22 O howe amiable are his workes, and as a ſparke to loke vpon?

23 They liue all, and endure for euer: and whenſoeuer neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.

24 They are all double, one againſte another: hee hath made nothing that hathe fault or blemiſhe.

25 He hath ſtabliſhed the goodes of euerie one: (a) and who may be ſatiſfied with his glory when he ſeeth it?

The.xliij. Chapter.

The ſumme of the creatiō of the works of God.

1 THe glory of the heigth is the faire and cleare fyrmament, the beautie of the heauen is his glorious clearneſſe.

2 The ſunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous worke of the higheſt:

3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abyde for the heate there of?

4 Who ſo keepeth an ouen when it is hot, three times more doth the ſunne burne vpon the mountaines: when it breatheth out the fire beames & ſhyneth, with the brightneſſe of it, it blyndeth the eyes.

5 Great is the Lorde that made it, and in his commaundement he cauſeth it to run haſtyly.

6 The moone alſo in all things accordyng to hir ſeaſon is a declaration of the tyme, and a ſigne for the worlde.

7 The token of the ſolemne feaſte is taken of the moone, a lyght that miniſheth and encreaſeth againe.

8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth wonderouſly in hir changing.

9 The armie of heauē alſo is in the heigth: in the firmament of heauen it giueth a cleare and a glorious ſhyne: this is the clearneſſe of the ſtarres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparel that the Lord lightneth in the heigth.

10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them fayleth in his watche.

11 Loke vpon the raynebowe, and prayſe him that made it: verie beautifull is it in his ſhyne. Gene.9.d.

12 He compaſſeth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the handes of the higheſt haue bended it.

13 Through his commaundement he maketh the ſnowe to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to ſmyte haſtyly.

14 Throughe hys commaundement the treaſures are opened, and the clowdes flee as the foules. ℂ

15 In his power hath he ſtrengthened the cloudes, and broken the hayleſtones.

16 The mountaynes " leape at the ſight of him, the wynde bloweth according to his will. " or, mons.

17 The ſounde of his thunder beateth the earth, and ſo doth the ſtorme of the North: the whyrle wynde alſo lyghteth downe as a feathered foule, caſteth out and ſpreadeth the ſnowe abroade, and as the Graſſehoppers that deſtroy all, ſo falleth it downe.

18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whiteneſſe thereof, and the heart is afrayd at the rayne of it.

19 He powreth out the froſt vpon earth like ſalte, and when it is froſen, it is as ſharpe as the pricke of a thiſtle.

20 When the colde North wind bloweth, harde chryſtall commeth of the water: he lighteth downe vpon all the gatherings together of water, and putteth on the water as a breſtplate.

21 He deuoureth the mountaynes, and burneth the wilderneſſes: and loke what is greene, he putteth it out like fire. D

22 The medicine of all theſe is when a cloude commeth haſtily, and when a dewe commeth vpon the heate, it ſhall be refreſhed agayne.

23 In his worde he ſtilleth the wynde, in his counſell hee appeaſeth the deepe, and hath planted Ilandes in it.

24 They that ſayle ouer the ſea, tell of the perylles and harmes thereof, and when we heare it with our eares, we marueil thereat.

25 For there be ſtrange wonderous workes, diuers maners of ryce beaſtes, and whale fyſhes.

26 Through

26 Through him are all things ſet in good order and perfourmed, and in his worde al things endure.

E 27 I ſpeake much, but I can not ſufficiently attayne vnto it: for he him ſelfe onely is the perfection of all wordes.

28 We ſhould prayſe the Lord after all our power, for he is great in all his workes.

Pſal.116.a. 29 The Lord is to be feared, yea very great is he, and maruellous is his power.

Pſal.106.a. 30 Prayſe the Lorde, and magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doth he farre exceede all prayſe: O magnifie him with all your power, and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wiſe able ſufficiently to prayſe him.

Deut.5.c. 31 Who hath ſeene him, that he might tell vs? Who can magnifie him ſo greatly as he is?

Iohn.1.b. 32 For there are hyd yet greater things thā theſe be: as for vs, we haue ſeene but few of his workes.

33 For the Lorde hath made all things, and giuen wiſdome to ſuch as feare God.

The.xliij. Chapter.

1. The prayſe of certaine holy men. 16. Enoch 17. Noe. 18. Abraham. 22. Iſahac, and Iacob.

A 1 LEt vs commende the noble famous men, and the generation of our fore elders and fathers.

2 Many more glorious acts hath the Lord done in them, and ſhewed his great power euer ſince the beginning.

3 The noble famous men raygned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wiſdome and vnderſtanding, they folowed the counſell ſhewed in the prophecies.

Exod.18.c. 4 They led the folke through the counſell and wiſedome of the ſcribes of the people, wyſe ſentences are founde in their inſtruction:

5 They ſought the ſweeteneſſe and melodie of muſicke, and brought forth the pleaſant ſongs in ſcripture.

6 They were ryche alſo, and could comfort and pacifie thoſe that dwelt with them.

B 7 All theſe were verie noble and honorable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 Theſe haue left a name behinde them, ſo that their praiſe ſhall alway be ſpoken of.

Gene.7.b. 9 Afterwarde, there were ſome whoſe remembrance is gone, they came to nought and periſhed as though they had neuer beene, and became as though they had neuer beene borne, yea, and their children alſo with them.

10 Neuertheleſſe theſe are louing menne, whoſe righteouſneſſe ſhal neuer be forgotten, but continue by their poſteritie.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their ſeede endured faſt in the couenant.

12 For their ſakes ſhall their children and ſeede continue for euer, and their prayſe ſhall neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodyes are buried in peace, but C their name lyueth for euermore.

14 The people can ſpeake of their wiſedome, and the congregation can talke of their prayſe.

15 Enoch walked right and acceptable before the Lorde, therefore was he tranſlated, for an example of amendment to the generations.

16 Noe was a ſtedfaſt and righteous man, and in the time of wrath, he became a reconciling: therefore was he left a remnant vnto the earth when the floude came.

17 An euerlaſting couenant was made with him, that all fleſhe ſhoulde perych no more with the water.

18 Abraham was a great father of many people, in glorie was there none lyke vnto him.

19 He kept the law of the higheſt, and came into a couenant with him.

20 Hee ſet the couenant in his fleſhe, and when hee was proued, hee was founde faithfull.

21 Therefore ſwore God vnto him with an D othe, that he woulde bleſſe all people in his ſeede, that he woulde multiply and increaſe him as the duſte of the earth, and to exalte his ſeede as the ſtarres: yea, and that his ſeede ſhoulde haue the poſſeſſion and inheritance of the lande from ſea to ſea, and from the ryuer vnto the borders of the worlde.

22 With Iſahac dyd hee ſtablyche the ſame couenant for Abraham his fathers ſake: yea, that gratious bleſſing and health of all menne, and couenant did he ſtablyche with Iſahac, and made it reſt vppon the head of Iacob.

23 (a) He knewe him in that he proſpered him ſo well and rychly, and gaue him an heritage, and ſundred his portion by it ſelfe, and parted among the twelue trybes.

24 Mercyfull men brought he out of hym, whiche founde fauour in the ſyght of all fleſhe.

The

The.xlv. Chapter.

1. The prayse of Moyses. 6. Aaron, and Phinehes.

1 MOyses beloued of God and menne, whose remembrance is in high praise:
2 Him that the Lorde made like in the glory of the saints, and magnified him, so that the enimies stode in awe of him.
3 Through his wordes he did great wonders: he made him glorious in the syght of kings, gaue him commaundement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.
4 Hee stablyshed him with faythfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose hym out of all men.
5 For he hearde his voyce, and he led hym in the darke cloude, and there hee gaue him the commaundementes, yea the lawe of lyfe and wysedom: that he might teache Jacob the couenaunt, and Israell hys lawes.
6 He chose Aaron hys brother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted him, and made him such like.
7 An euerlasting couenant made he wyth him, and gaue him the priesthode in the people: he made him glorious in beautifull araye, and clothed him with the garment of honour.
8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and gyrded him with strength, he deckt him with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbody coate also, and a gyrdle.
9 Rounde about made hee him belles of golde, and that many: that when he went in, the sounde might be hearde, that they might make a noyse in the sanctuarie, and giue the people warning.
10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, yellowe sylke, and purple: and in the brestlappe there was a godly worke, wherein was fastened light and perfectnesse.
11 Upon the same also, there was a worke fastened & set with costly pretious stones, all bound with golde, and this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastened for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israell.
12 Upon his miter, there was a plate of pure golde, a grauen image of holynesse, a famous and noble worke, garnished and pleasant to loke vpon.
13 Before him, were there seene no suche fayre ornaments, and therefore it behoued him alway to vse: there might none other put them on, but only his children, and his childers children perpetually.
14 Dayly perfourmed hee his burnt offerings two times. C
15 Moyses filled (a) his handes, and annoynted him with holy oyle: this was nowe confyrmed him with an euerlasting couenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen: namely, that his children shoulde alway minister before him, and perfourme the office of the priesthode, and wyshe the people good in his name. Leuit.8.a.
16 Before all men lyuing chose hee hym that hee shoulde offer incense before the Lorde, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembrance, that hee shoulde reconcile the people of the Lorde with him agayne.
17 Hee gaue him authoritie also in his commaundements, and in the couenaunt, that he shoulde teache Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and to enfourme Israell in the lawe. Deut.17.c. e.19.a. Mal.2.a.
18 Therefore there stode vp certayne against him, and had enuie at him in the wyldernesse: namely, they that were of Dathan and Abirons side, and the furious congregation of Core. Num.16.a.
19 This the Lorde sawe, and it displeased hym, and in his wrathfull indignation were they consumed: a great wonder did he vpon them, and consumed them with the fyre.
20 Besides this, he made Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, hee gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruites vnto him: vnto him specially he appoynted the breade of sustenance. Exo.25.k. Leui.24.b. Deut.12.b. e.18.
21 For the priestes did eate of the offerings of the Lorde: this gaue he vnto him, and his seede. D
22 Else had he no heritage nor portion in the land, and with the people: for the Lord him selfe is his portion, and inheritance. Eze.14.b.
23 The thirde noble and excellent man, is Phinehes the sonne of Eleazer, whiche pleased the God of Israell, bycause he had the zeale and feare of the Lorde: for when the people were turned backe, he put him selfe forth right sone, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord towarde Israell. Num.25.b.
24 Therefore was there a couenaunt of peace made with him, that he shoulde be the principall among the righteous in the people, that he and his posteritie shoulde haue the office of the priesthode for euer.

25 Like as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his sonnes only there should be a king: and that Aaron also and his seede shoulde be an heritage, to gyue vs wisedome in our hart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goodes shoulde not come into forgetfulnesse, and that their honour might endure for euer.

The.xlvi. Chapter.

1. The praise of Iosua.9.Caleb.13.Samuel.

A 1 MAnly and strong in battell was Iesus the sonne of Naue, and was the Nu.27.d. Deut.34.b. Iosua.12.c. Iosua.1.a. successour of Moyses in prophesies, and was giuen to be captayne of the people, whiche according vnto his name, was a great sauiour vnto the elect of God, to punishe the enimies that rose vp against Israell, that Israell myght obteyne their inheritance.

2 O howe great, noble, and excellent was he, when he lyfte vp his hande, and drewe out his swoorde against the cities?

3 Who stoode so manly before him? for the Lorde him selfe brought in the enimies?

Iosu.10.c. 4 Stoode not the sunne styll at his commaundement, and one daye was as long as two?

5 Hee called vppon the hyghest and mosse mightie, when the enimies prealled vpon him on euery side, and the mightie Lorde heard him with the haylestones.

6 They smote the heathenish people mightily, and in falling downe they slue all the aduersaries: so that the heathen knewe his host, and all his defence, that the Lord him selfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them.

B 7 In the time of Moses also, he and Caleb Nu.24.a. the sonne of Iephune did a great worke, which stoode agaynst the enimies, withheld the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuring.

8 And of fyre hundred thousande people on foote, they two were preserued to bring the Nu.26.g. into the heritage, namely, a lande that floweth milke and honny.

Iosua.13.c. 9 The Lorde gaue strength also vnto Caleb, whiche remayned with him vnto his age: so that he went vp into the high places of the lande, and his seede conquered the same for an heritage:

10 That all the children of Israell myght see, howe good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lorde.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euerie one after his name, whose hearte went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lorde, and that forsoke not the Lorde vnfaythfully, whose remembrance hath a good report:

12 Yea their bones flourishe out of their place, and their names shal neuer be changed: but honour remayneth still with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuell the prophete, beloued of the 1.Re.10. Lorde his God, ordeyned a king, and annoynted the princes ouer the people.

14 In the lawe of the Lorde ruled he, and C iudged the congregation, and the Lorde had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The prophete was founde diligent in his faythfulnesse: yea and hee is knowne faythfull in his workes, because he sawe the God of light.

16 He called vppon the Lorde almyghtie, 1.Re. when the enimies prealled vpon him on euery side, what time as he offred the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lorde thundred from heauen, and made his voyce to be hearde with a great noyse:

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

19 Before his last ende, he made protestation in the sight of the Lorde, and his annoynted, that he toke neyther substance nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoe: and no man might accuse him. 1.Re.

20 After this he tolde that his ende was at hande, and shewed the king also his ende, and death: and from the earth lifte he vp his voyce in the prophesie, that the vngodly people should perishe.

The.xlvij. Chapter.

1. The prayse of Nathan. 2. Dauid. 11. and Solomon.

1 AFterward in the time of king Dauid, I there rose vp a prophet called Nathan.

2 For like as the fat is taken awaye from the offering: so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israell.

3 He played with the Lions, as with kids, and with Beares, like as with lambes of sheepe.

4 Slue hee not a gyant when hee was yet 1.Re. but yong, and toke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he toke the stone in his hande, and smote downe proude Goliath with the sling?

5 For hee called vppon the highest Lorde, whiche gaue him strength in his right hande, so that he ouerthrewe the mightie giant giant in the battell, that hee might set vp the horne of his people againe.

6 So he glorified him in tenne thousande, and made him to haue a good report in the prayse of the Lorde, that he should weare a crowne of glorie.

7 For hee destroyed the enimies on euerie side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, like as it is broken yet this day.

8 In all his workes he praysed the hyghest and holyest, and ascribed the honour vnto him, with his whole heart did he prayse the Lord, and loued God that made him.

9 He set syngers also before the aulter, and in their time hee made sweete songs, that they might giue praises euery day to God with songs.

10 Hee ordeyned to keepe the holy dayes worshipfully, and that the solemne feastes through the whole yeere should be honorably holden, with praysing the name of the Lord, and with singing betimes in the morning in the sanctuarie.

11 The Lorde take awaye his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: hee gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of worship in Israell, 12 After him there rose vp the wise sonne (called Solomon) who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake he droue the enimies away farre off.

13 This Solomon raigned with peace in his time, and he obteyned glory: for God gaue him rest from his enimies on euerie side, that he might builde him an house in his name, and prepare the sanctuarie for euer.

14 Howe wise wast thou in thy youth, and filled with wisedome and vnderstanding, as it were with a water floude?

15 Thou coueredst and fylledst the whole lande with similitudes, and wyse prudent sentences.

16 Thy name went abroad in the Iles, because of thy peace thou wast beloued.

17 All landes maruelled at thy songs, prouerbs, similitudes, & at thy interpretatiõs.

18 And in the name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israell, thou gatheredst golde as tinne, and thou hadst as much siluer as leade.

19 Thou wast moued in inordinate loue towarde women, and wast ouercome in affection.

20 Thou staynedst thy honour and worship, yea thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lorde vpon thy children, & hast felt sorow for thy folly.

21 So that thy kingdome was diuided, and Ephraim became an vnfaithfull and a rebellious kingdome. 3.Re.12.f.

22 Neuertheless, God forsoke not his mercy, neither was he vtterly destroyed because of his workes, that he should leaue him no posteritie: as for the seede that came vpon him, which he loued, he brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a rote vnto Dauid out of him. 2.Re.7.a.

23 Thus rested Solomon with hys fathers, and out of his seede he left behynde him a verie foolishnesse of the people, and suche one as had no vnderstanding: euen Roboam, which turned away the people through his counsell, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which caused Israell to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the waye of vngodlynesse: 3.Re.12.b. 3.Re.12.d.

24 In so muche that their sinnes and mysdeedes had the vpper hande so sore, that at the last, they were driuen out of the lande for the same:

25 Yea, hee sought out and brought vp all wickednesse, tyll the vengeance came vpon them.

The.xlviij.Chapter.

The prayse of Elias, Elizeus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

1 Then stode vp Elias the prophete, as a fire, and his worde brent like a creuset. 2.Re.17.a.

2 He brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale he made them fewe in number: for they might not away with the commaundements of the Lorde.

3 Through the worde of the Lorde he shut the heauen, and three times brought he the fire downe. 3.Re.18.c.

4 O Elias, howe honourable arte thou in thy wonderous deedes? who may make his host to be like thee?

5 One that was deade, thou raysedst vp frõ death, and in the word of the highest, thou broughtest him out of the graue againe: 3.Re.17.c.

6 Thou hast cast down kings, and destroyed them, and the honourable from their seate.

7 Upon the mount Sinai thou heardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance.

8 Which dyddest annoynte kynges to recompence, and ordeynedst prophetes after thee. 3.Re.19.c. 4.Re.2.c.

9 Thou waſt taken vp in the ſtorme of fire, in a charret of fiery horſes.

Luke.1.a. 10 Thou waſte ordeined in the reprouings in time to pacifie the wrath of the Lorde before it raged, to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, and to ſet vp the tribes of Jacob agayne.

11 Bleſſed were they that ſawe thee, and were garniſhed in loue, for we liue in life, but after deth, we ſhal haue no ſuch name.

12 Elias was couered in the ſtorme, but E-4.Reg.2.c. liszeus was filled with his ſpirite: whyle he liued, he was afrayde of no prince, and no man might ouercome him.

4.Reg.13.d 13 There coulde no worde deceiue him, and after his death, his body prophecied.

C 14 He did wonders in his life, and in death were his workes maruellous.

4 Reg.18. 15 For al this, the people amended not, neither departed they from their ſinnes, tyll they were carryed awaye priſoners out of the lande, and were ſcattered abroade in all countreys, ſo that of them there remained but a very little people, and a prince vnto the houſe of Dauid.

16 Howbeit, ſome of them did right, and ſome heaped vp vngodlyneſſe.

2.Par.32.a. 17 Ezechias made his citie ſtrong, conueyed water into it, digged through the ſtonie rocke with yron, and made vp a wall by the water ſide.

4.Reg.18.a 18 In his time came Sennacherib vp, and ſent Rabſakes, lifte vp his hand againſte
Sion, and defied them with great pryde.

19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, ſo that they ſorrowed like a woman tra-uelling with childe:

20 So they called vpon the Lorde whiche is mercifull, and lift vp their hands before him, immediatly the Lord heard them out of heauen.

D 21 He thought no more vppon their ſinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enimies: but deliuered them by the hand of Eſaias.

22 He ſmote the hoſte of the Aſſyrians, and 4.Re.19.g. his Angell deſtroyed them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleaſed the Lorde, and remayned ſtedfaſt-ly in the way of Dauid his father, as Eſaias the great and faythful prophet in the ſight of God had commaunded him.

24 In his time the ſunne went backward,
4.Re.20.b. and he lengthened the kings life.

25 With a right ſpirite prophecied he what ſhould come to paſſe at the laſt: and to ſuch as were ſorrowfull in Sion, he gaue co-ſolation, wherewith they might comfort themſelues for euer more.

29 He ſhewed things that were for to come and ſecrete, or euer they came to paſſe.

The.xlix. Chapter.

Of Ioſias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiell, Zorobabel, Ieſus, Nehemias, Enoch, & Ioſeph.

1 THe remembrance of Ioſias, is like as I 4.Re. when the Apothecarie maketh many precious ſweete ſmelling things together:
his remembrance ſhall be ſweete as honny in all mouthes, & as the playing of muſick at a banquet of wyne.

2 He was appointed to turne the people a-gayne, and to take away all abhominations of the vngodly.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lorde, and in the time of the vngodly, hee ſet vp the worſhip of God againe.

4 All kynges, except (a) Dauid, Ezechias, and Ioſias, committed wickednelle: for euen the kings of Juda alſo forſoke the lawe of God.

5 For they gaue their honour vnto other, their honour and worſhip alſo to a ſtrange people.

6 Therefore was the elect citie of the ſanctuarie brent with fire, and the ſtreetes ther-of layde deſolate and waſte in the hande of Jeremie.

7 For they entreated him euill, (b) whiche neuertheleſſe was a prophete, ordeyned from his mothers wombe, that he might roote out, breake off, and deſtroy: and that he might buylde vp, and plant agayne.

8 Ezechiell ſawe the glorie of the Lorde in a viſion, which was ſhewed him vpon the charret of the Cherubins.

9 For hee thought vpon the enimies in the rayne, to doe good vnto ſuche as had ordre-red their wayes aright.

10 And the bones of the twelue prophetes flouriſhed from out of their place: for they gaue comforte and conſolation vnto Jacob, and deliuered them faythfully.

11 Howe ſhall we prayſe Zorobabell, which Iggr.
was a ring on the right hande?

12 So was Ieſus alſo the ſonne of Ioſe- Iggr.
dec: theſe men in their times buylded the houſe, and ſet vp the ſanctuarie of the Lord againe, whiche was prepared for an euerla-ſting worſhip.

13 And among the electe was Nehemias, whoſe renowme was great, whiche ſet vp for vs the walles that were broken down, made the portes and barres agayne, and buylded our houſes anewe.

14 But vppon the earth there is no man Gene.5. created like Enoch: for hee was taken vp from

from the earth.

15 Neyther was there a like man vnto Ioseph, which was Lord of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: (c) his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboue all the beastes, when he was created.

The. L. Chapter.

1. Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22. An exhortation to the prayse of the Lorde.

1 SImon the sonne of Onias the hyghe Priestе, whiche in his life set vp the house agayne, and in his dayes made faste the temple:

2 The heigth of the temple also was foũded of him, the double buylding, and the hygh walles of the temple.

3 In his dayes, the welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the sea.

4 He toke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his citie, and made it strong, that it shoulde not be besieged.

5 Howe honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vayle?

6 He gaue light as the morning starre in the midst of the cloudes, and as the Mone when it is full:

7 He shyned as the sunne in the temple of God, he is as bright as the raynebowe in the fayre cloudes.

8 And flourisheth as the floures and roses in the spring of the yeare, and as Lylies by the riuers of water, like as the branches vpon the mount Libanus in the time of sommer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde, set with all manner of precious stones,

10 And as an Olyue tree that is fruitfull, and as a Cypres tree which groweth vp an hygh.

11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beautie, when hee went to the holy aulter, hee made the garment of holynesse honourable.

12 When hee toke the portions out of the priestes hande, hee him selfe stode by the hearth of the aulter, and his brethren round about in order: as the branches of a Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, so stode they rounde about him:

13 And as the branches of the Olyue tree, so stode all the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lorde in their handes, before all the congregation of Israell.

14 And that he might sufficiently performe his seruice vpon the aulter, and garnysshe the offering of the highest God, C

15 He stretched out his hande, and toke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: so he powred vpon the bottome of ỹ aulter, a good smel, vnto ỹ highest prince.

16 Then beganne the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noyse, for a remẽbrance and prayse vnto the Lorde.

17 Then all the people together were hasted, and fell down to the earth vpon their faces, to worshippe the Lorde their God, and to giue thanks to the almightie God.

18 They song godly with their voyces, so that there was a pleasaunt noyse in the great house of the Lorde.

19 And the people in their prayer, besought the Lorde the highest, that he woulde be mercifull, till the honour of the Lord were perfourmed, and they had ended their ministration and seruice.

20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his handes ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israell, that they should giue prayse and thankes out of their lippes vnto the Lorde, and to reioyce in his name.

21 He beganne yet once also to praye, that he might openly shewe the thankesgiuing before the highest. D

22 (Namely thus) O giue praise and thanks all ye vnto the Lorde our God, which hath euer done noble and great things, which hath encreased our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy,

23 That hee will giue vs the ioyfulnesse of heart, and peace for our time in Israell:

24 Which faythfully keepeth his mercy for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.

25 There be two manner of people that I abhorre from my hearte, as for the thyrde whome I hate, it is no people:

26 They that syt vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolishe people that dwelt in Sichimis.

27 I Iesus the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus of Jerusalem, haue tokened vp these informations, and documentes of wysedome and vnderstãding, in this booke, and powred out the wisedome of my hart. E

28 Blessed is hee that exercyseth him selfe therein: and who so taketh such to heart, shall be wise for euer.

29 If he doe these things, he shall be strong in all: for the light of the Lorde leadeth him which giueth wisedome to the godly: the Lorde be prayed for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The.li. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

A 1 I Will thanke thee, O Lorde and king, and prayse thee O God my sauiour: I will yeelde prayse vnto thy name.

2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my bodye from destruction, from the snares of trayterous tongs, and from the lips that are occupied with lyes.

3 Thou hast beene my helper from suche as stoode vp against me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaring of them that prepared them selues to deuour me, out of the handes of such as sought after my life, from the multitude of them that troubled me,

4 And from them that went about to set fyre vpon me on euery side, so that I am not brent in the middest of the fire:

5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tong, from lying wordes, from false accusation to the king, and from an vnrighteous tong.

6 My soule shall prayse the Lorde vnto death: for my lyfe drewe nyghe vnto hell downeward.

B 7 They compalled me rounde about on euerie side, and there was no man to helpe me: I loked about me if there were any man that woulde succoure me, but there was none.

8 Then thought I vppon thy mercye, O Lorde, and vpon thy actes that thou hadst done euer of olde: (namely,) that thou deliuerest suche as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the hands of the heathē.

9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.

10 I called vpon the Lord, the father of my Lorde, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proude.

11 I will prayse thy name continually, yelding honour and thankes vnto it: and so my prayer was hearde.

12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me frō the vnrighteous time: therefore will I acknowledge and prayse thee, and magnifie the name of the Lord.

13 When I was yet but yong, or euer I went astray, I desired (a) wisedome openly in my prayer.

14 I came therefore before the temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flourished she vnto me, as a grape that is sone ripe.

15 My heart reioyced in her, then went my foote the right way: yea, from my youth vp sought I after her.

16 I bowed down mine eare, and receiued her: I found me muche wisedome, and prospered greatly in her.

17 Therefore will I ascribe the glory vnto him that giueth me wisdome.

18 For I am aduised to doe thereafter, I will be iealous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shall I not be confounded.

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue beene diligent to be occupied in her: I lyft vp myne handes on high, then was my soule lightened through wisdome, that I knowledged my foolishnesse.

20 I ordered my soule after her, she and I were one heart from the beginning, and I founde her in cleannesse, and therfore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My heart longed after her, and I gat a good treasure.

22 Through her, the Lorde hath giuen me a new tong, wherewith I will praise him.

23 O come vnto me ye vnlearned, and dwel in the house of wisedome.

24 Withdrawe not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these things: for your soules are verie thirstie.

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, O come and buye wisdome without money.

26 Bow down your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shall receiue wisedome: she is hard at hande, & is content to be found.

27 Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but little labour, and yet haue founde much rest.

28 O receiue wisedome, and ye shall haue plenteousnesse of syluer and golde in possession.

29 Let your mynde reioyce in his mercie, and be not ashamed of his prayse.

30 Worke his worke betimes, and he shall giue you your rewarde in due season.

The ende of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, whiche is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

¶ The booke of the prophete Baruch.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. Baruch wrote a boke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he red before Iechonias and all the people. 10. The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Ierusalem, to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

1 AND these are the wordes of ỹ boke whiche were (a) written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the sone of Sedechias, the sonne of Helchias, at Babylon.

2 In the fifth yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees toke Ierusalem, and brent it vp with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the wordes of this boke, that Iechonias the sonne of Joachin king of Juda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the boke,

4 And before al the nobles, the kings sons, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest: before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of " Sody,

5 Which when they heard it, weapt, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made also a collection of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Ierusalem vnto Joachin the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with the other priests, and to all the people which were with him at Ierusalē,

8 (What time as they had gotte the " vessels of the temple of the Lorde that were taken away out of the temple, that they myght bring them agayne into the lande of Juda, the tenth day of the moneth (b) Siuan (namely,) syluer vessels, which Sedechias the sonne of Josias the king of Juda had made,

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, had taken Iechonias with all his princes, lordes, and all the people, and led the captiue from Ierusalē vnto Babylō:)

10 And they sayde, Beholde, we haue sent you money to buye you burnt offerings and incense withall, prepare a meate offering, and offer for sinne vpon the aulter of the Lorde our God:

11 And (c) pray for the prosperitie of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his son, ỹ their days may be vpō earth, as the days of heauen: 1. Tim. 2. b

12 That God also maye giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we maye liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we maye long doe them seruice, and fynde fauour in their sight. c. By this example we are taught to pray for kings and princes, as 1. Tim. 1.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God: for we haue sinned against the Lorde our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this boke whiche we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the temple of the Lorde, vppon the highe dayes, and at time conuenient. C

15 Thus shall ye say, the Lorde our God is righteous, but we are worthy of confusion and shame, like as it is come to passe this daye vnto all Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Ierusalem. Baruc. 2. d.

16 To our kings, princes, priestes, prophets, and to our fathers.

17 We haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor giuen him credence, 18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord our God, to walke in the commaundementes that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the lande of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue bene euer a misbeleeuing, and an vnfaythfull people vnto the Lorde our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrinking backe, that we shuld not heare his voyce.

20 Wherfore, there are come vpon vs great plagues and dyuers curses, like as the Lorde deuised by Moyses his seruaunt, which brought our fathers out of the land of Egypte, to giue vs a lande that floweth with mylke and honny, like as it is to see this day. Leuit. 26. Exod. 12.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lorde our God, according to all the wordes of the prophets, whome he sent vnto vs, (and to our rulers:)

22 But euerie man followed his owne mind and wycked imagination, to offer vnto strange gods, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lorde our God.

The.ij.Chapter.

1. The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 2. The true confession of the Christian. 11. The Iewes desire to haue the wrath of God turned from them. 21. The lord will that we obey vnto princes, although they be euill. 32. He promiseth that he will call againe the people from captiuitie, and giue them a newe and an euerlasting testament.

A 1 FOr the which cause, the Lorde our Dani.9.b. God hath performed his deuise, wherof he certified vs, and our heads that ruled in Ierusalem, yea, & our kings, our princes, with all Israell and Iuda:

Deut.28,f. 2 And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, like as it is fulfilled in Ierusalem, according as it is written in the lawe of Moses,

3 That a man shoulde eate the flesshe of his owne sonne, and the flesshe of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, he hath deliuered them into the handes of all the kings that are round about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abroade in all landes and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, bycause we haue synned agaynste the Lorde our God, and haue not beene obedient vnto his voyce.

Baruc.1,d. 6 Therefore the Lorde our God is ryghteous, and we with our fathers (as reason is) are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day.

B 7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs alreadie, the Lorde hath deuised them for vs:

8 Yet woulde we not pray vnto the Lorde our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lorde hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for he is righteous in al his workes whiche hee hath commaunded vs:

10 Which we also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voyce, for to walke in the commaundementes of the Lorde, that he hath giuen vnto vs.

11 And nowe, O Lorde God of Israell, Dani.
thou that hast brought thy people out of Exo.
the lande of Egypt with a mightie hand, with tokens and wonders, wyth thy great power and outstretched arme, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day:

12 O Lorde our God, we haue synned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesses.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs, (we beseeche thee,) for we are but a fewe lefte among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lorde, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuitie for thyne owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight C of them which haue led vs away: 2. Esd.

15 That all landes may knowe that thou arte the Lorde our God, and that Israell and his generation calleth vpō thy name.

16 O Lorde, looke downe from thy holye Dani.
house vpon vs, enclyne thyne eare, and heare vs.

17 Open thine eies, and behold, for the dead Psal.
that be gone downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodyes, ascribe vnto the Lorde neyther prayse nor righteousnesse:

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude (of hir synnes,) which goeth on beauply and weakely, whose eyes beginne to fayle, yea, suche a soule ascribeth prayse and righteousnesse vnto the Lorde.

19 For we powre out our prayers before thee, and require mercie in thy syght, O Lorde our God, not for any godlynesse of our fathers:

20 But bycause thou hast sente out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou diddest threaten vs by thy seruantes the prophetes, saying,

21 Thus sayth the Lorde, Bowe downe Ier.
your shoulders and neckes, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remayne still in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 But if you will not heare the voyce of D
the Lorde your God, to serue the king of Babylon,

23 I will destroy you in the cities of Iuda, within Ierusalem and without: I will also take from you the voyce of mirth, and the voyce of ioye, the voyce of the bryde-grome, and the voyce of the bryde, and there shal no man dwel more in the land.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voyce to do the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the wordes that thou spakest by thy seruantes

the

the prophetes: (namely,) that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be translated out of their places:

27 And lo, nowe are they layde out in the heate of the sunne, and in the colde of the nyght, and deade in great miserie, with hunger, with swoorde, (with pestilence,) and are cleane cast forth.

28 As for the temple wherein thy name was called vpon, thou hast layde it waste, as it is to see this day, & that for the wickednesse of the house of Israell, and the house of Juda.

29 O Lorde our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great louing mercy of thyne.

30 Like as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest cõmaund him to write thy lawe before the children of Israell, saying.

31 If ye will not hearken vnto my voyce, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very small people among the nations, for I will scatter them abroade.

32 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke will not heare me, for it is an harde neckey people: but in the lande of their captiuitie, they shall remember themselues.

33 And learne to know that I am the Lord their God, when I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares to heare:

34 Then shall they prayse me in the lande of their captiuitie, and thinke vppon my name:

35 Then shall they turne them from their harde backes, and from their vngodlynesse: then shall they remember the thynges that happened vnto their fathers, whiche sinned against me.

36 So will I bring them againe into the lande which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, and they shall be Lordes of it, yea, I will encrease them, and not minish thē.

37 And I will make another couenaunt with them, suche one as shall endure for euer: (namely,) that I will be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people the chyldren of Israell out of the lande that I haue gyuen them.

The.iij. Chapter.

1 The people continueth in their prayer begunne for their deliuerance. 9. He prayseth wysedome vnto the people, shewing that so great aduersities came vnto them for the despising thereof. 36. Onely God was the fynder of wisedome. 37. Of the incarnation of Christe.

1 AND nowe, O Lorde almightie, thou God of Israell, our soule that is in trouble, and our spirite that is vexed, cryeth vnto thee: ℵ

2 Heare vs, O Lorde, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercifull God, be gratious vnto vs, for we haue sinned before thee.

3 Thou endurest for euer: shoulde we then vtterly perishe?

4 O Lord almightie, thou God of Israel, heare nowe the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord their God, for the which cause, these plagues hang nowe vpon vs. Ephes.2.a. Dani.3.c. Jere.2.c. 3.c.&.5.c.

5 O Lorde remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vppon thy power and name nowe at this time:

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, where as thou hast scattered vs to be an abhomination, curse, and subiecte to exactions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, bycause of all their wickednesse, and departing from thee. Psal.79.a.

9 O Israell, heare the commaundementes of life, ponder them wel with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wisedome.

10 But howe happeneth it Israell, that thou art in thyne enimies lande? thou art waxen olde in a strange countrey, and defiled with the deade.

11 Why art thou become like them that go downe to their graues?

6 Nowe are ye solde among the heathen, howebeit, not for your vtter destruction: but bycause ye prouoked God the Lord to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enimies. 4.Re. and.25

7 For ye displeased the euerlasting GOD B that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp, and ye haue greeued Ieruſalem that nursed you.

9 When she sawe that the wrathe of God was comming vpon you, she sayde, Hearken O ye that dwell about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuitie of my people, of my sonnes and daughters, which the euerlasting God wil bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them, but nowe must I leaue them with weping & sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me wydowe, and forsaken, which for the synnes of my children

childzen am desolate of euery man: for why? they departed from the law of God.

13 They would not knowe his righteousnesse, nor walke in the way of his cõmandementes: and as for the pathes of truth & godlynesse, they had no lust to go in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and let vs call to remembrance the captiuitie that the euerlasting God hath brought vpon my sonnes and my daughters.

15 He hathe brought a people vppon them from farre, an vncurteous people, and of a strange language: which neither regarde the olde, nor pitie the yong.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of my widowes, leauing me alone, both desolate and childlesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the hands of your enimies.

19 Goe your way, O my childzen, goe your way, for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackcloth of prayer, and for my time, I wil cal vpõ ẏ most highest.

21 Be of good cheere, O my childzen, crye vnto the Lord, and he shall deliuer you frõ the power of the princes, your enimies.

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea, a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, bycause of the mercy that he shall haue of our euerlasting sauiour.

23 With mourning and weeping did I let you goe fro me: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse shall the Lord bring you agayne vnto me.

24 Like as the neyghbours of Sion sawe your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honor and euerlasting worship.

25 O my childzẽ, suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enimie hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt treade vpon his necke.

26 My dearlings haue gone rough harde wayes, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abroad with the enimies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my childzen, and crye vnto the Lorde: for he that led you away, hath you yet in remembrance.

28 And like as ye haue beene mynded to swarue from your God: so shall ye now endeuour your selues tenne times more to turne agayne, and to seeke him.

29 For he that hath brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioye agayne, with your health.

30 Take a good heart vnto thee, O Jerusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, exhorteth thee so to doe.

31 The wicked doers that nowe put thee to trouble, shall perishe: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shall be punished. Jere. 50. & b. c.

32 The cities whom thy childzen serue, and that haue caryed away thy sonnes, shal be corrected.

33 For like as they be nowe glad of thy decaye, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shalbe taken away, and their cheere shall be turned to sorrowe.

35 For a fire shall fall vppon them from the euerlasting God long to endure, and it shall be inhabited of diuels for a greate season.

36 O Jerusalem, loke about thee towarde the East, and behold the ioy that commeth vnto thee from God.

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abroade, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the worde of the holy one, vnto the honour of God.

The. v. Chapter.

1. Jerusalem is moued vnto gladnesse for the returne of hir people, and vnder the figure therof, the Church.

1 PVT of thy mourning clothes, O Jerusalem, and thy sorrowe, and decke thee with the worshippe and honour that commeth vnto thee from God, with euerlasting glory. A

2 God shall put the garment of righteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worship vpon thyne head:

3 For vpõ thee wil God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea an euerlasting name shall be gyuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnesse, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Aryse O Jerusalem, stande vp on hyghe, loke about thee towarde the East, and beholde thy childzen gathered from the East vnto the West, which reioyce in the holy word, hauing God in remembrance.

6 They departed from thee on foote, and were led away of their enimies: but nowe shall the Lord bring them caryed with honour, as childzen of the kingdome.

7 For

7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stoute mountaines, yea, and al high rocks, to fill the valleys, and so to make them euē with the grounde, that Israell may be diligent to liue, vnto the honour of God.

8 The woodes and all pleasant trees, shall ouershadowe Israell at the commaundement of God.

9 For hither shall God bring Israell with ioyfull myrth, and in the light of his maiestie, with the mercie and righteousnesse that commeth of him selfe.

The.vi. Chapter.

A copie of the Epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were led away prisoners by the king of Babylon: wherein he certifieth thē of the thing that was commaunded him of God.

A 1 BEcause of the synnes that ye haue done against God, ye shall be led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

In this Chapter are the makers & mainteiners of images mightily confuted. Jere.25.a.

2 So when ye be come into Babylon, ye shall remayne there many yeeres, and for a long season, (namely) (a) seuen generations: and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

a. That is, seuentie yeres.

3 Nowe shall ye see in Babylon, gods of golde, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to cast out a fearefulnesse before the heathen.

4 But loke that ye do not as the other: be not ye afraid, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therefore when ye see the multitude of people worshipping them behinde and before, say ye in your hearts: O Lorde, it is thou that oughtest only to be worshipped. Deut.6.c.

6 Mine Angell also shall be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

B 7 As for the "timber of those gods, the carpenter hath pulliſhed them: yea gilted be they, and layde ouer with siluer, yet are they but vaine things, and can not speake. "or, tong.

8 Like as a wench that loueth paramours is trimly deckt: euen so are these made and hanged with golde.

9 Crownes of gold verily haue their gods vpon their heades: so the priests themselues take golde and siluer from them, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea they giue of the same vnto harlots, and trimme their whores withal: againe, they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therewith:

Jere.10.a. 11 Yet cān not these gods deliuer them selues from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wype their faces for the dusse of the temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hand, as though he were iudge of the countrey, yet can he not slay such as offende him.

14 An other hath a swoorde or an axe in his hand: for al ỳ, he is neither able to defende him selfe from battel, nor from murderers. C

15 By this ye may vnderstand, that they be no gods: therefore see that ye neither worship them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods: when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be full of dusse through the feete of those that come in.

17 And like as the doores are shut in round about, vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: euen so, the priestes keepe the doores with barres and lockes, least their gods be spoyled with robbers.

18 They set vp candles before them, yea verily and that many, whereof they can not see one: but euen as blockes, so stande they in the temple.

19 It is said, that the serpents and wormes which come of the earth, gnawe out their heartes, eating them and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through the smoake that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swalowes, and birdes flee vpon them, yea and the cattes runne ouer their heades. D

22 By this ye may be sure that they are not gods, therefore feare them not.

23 The golde that they haue, is to make them beautifull: for all that, except some body dight off their rust, they will gine no shyne, and when they were caste into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 They are bought for money, and haue no breath of life within them.

25 They muste be borne vpon mens shoulders, as those that haue no feete, whereby they declare vnto menne, that they be nothing worth: confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the grounde, they can not ryse vp agayne of them selues: yea, though one helpe them vp, and set them right, yet are they not able to stand alone, but must haue proppes set vnder them like deade men. Supl. Psal.

27 Is

17 Is for the thing that is offered vnto thē, their priestes sell it, and sdule it, yea the priestes wiues take thereof: but vnto the sicke they giue nothing of it.

18 The women with childe, and the menstruous lay handes of their offerings: by this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not ye afrayde of them.

19 From whence commeth it then that they be called gods? the women sit before the gods of siluer, golde, and wood, 20 And the priestes sit in their temples, hauing open clothes, whose heds and beards are shaue, and haue nothing vpon their heads.

21 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

22 The priests also take away the garments of the images, and decke their wiues and children withall.

23 Whether it be good or euill that any mā do vnto them, they are not able to recompence it: they can neyther set vp a king, nor put him downe.

24 In like manner, they may neyther giue riches, nor rewarde euill: though a man make a bowe vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

25 They can saue no man from death, neyther deliuer the weake from the mightie.

26 They can not restore a blynd man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his neede.

27 They can shewe no mercy to the wydowe, nor do good to the fatherlesse.

28 Their goddes of wood, stone, golde, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that be hewen off the mountayne: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

29 How should they then be taken for gods? yea, how dare men call them gods?

30 And though the Chaldees worshipped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and could not speake:

31 Yet they them selues offer vnto Bel, and would fayne haue him to speake: as who say, they could feele, that may not moue.

32 But when these men come to vnderstāding, they shal forsake them, for their gods haue no feeling.

33 A great sort of womē girt with cords, sit in the streetes, and burne "Oliue berries: now if one of them be conueyed away, and lye with suche as come by, she casteth the neyghbours in the teeth, because she was not worthyly reputed, nor her corde broken.

34 What soeuer is done for them, it is but in vayne and lost: howe may it then be thought or sayde, that they are goddes?

35 Carpenters and goldsmithes make thē: neyther be they any other thing, but euen what the workemen will make of them.

36 Yea the Goldsmythes them selues that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them, be gods?

37 Vayne therefore are the things, yea verie shame is it that they leaue behynde thē for their posteritie.

38 For as sone as there commeth any war or plague vpon them, then the priestes imagine where they may hyde them selues with them.

39 Howe can men thinke then that they be goddes, which neyther may defende them selues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune?

40 For seeing they be but of wood, of stone, of siluer, and of gold, all people and kings shall knowe hereafter, that they be but vayne things: yea it shall be openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very workes of mens handes, and that God hath nothing to do with them.

41 It is manifest then that they are no goddes, but the workes of mens handes, and no worke of God in them.

42 They can set no king in the lande, nor giue rayne vnto men.

43 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neyther defende the lande from wrong: for they are not able to doe so muche as a Crow that fleeth betwixt heauen & earth.

44 When there happeneth a fyre into the house of those goddes of woode, and siluer, and of golde, the priestes will escape and saue them selues, but the goddes burne as the balkes therein.

45 They can not withstande any king or battell: howe may it then be thought or graunted that they be goddes?

46 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of golde and siluer, may neyther defende them selues from theeues nor robbers:

47 Yea the verie wicked are stronger than they: these strippe them out of their apparell that they be clothed withall, these take their gold and siluer from them, and so get them away, yet cā they not help thē selues.

48 Therefore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shewe his power, or else a profitable vessell in a house, wherein he that oweth it, might haue pleasure, yea or to be a dore in a house, to keepe suche things safe as be therein, than to be suche a vayne god.

59 The sunne, the moone, and all the starrs, seeing they giue their shine and light, are obedient, and do men good.

60 When the lightning glistereth, all is cleare.

61 The winde bloweth in euerie countrey: and when God commaundeth the clouds to goe rounde about the whole worlde, they do as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commaunded, it burneth vp hylles and woodes: but as for those goddes, they are not like one of these things, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore men shoulde not thinke nor say that they be goddes, seeing they can neyther giue sentence in iudgement, nor doe men good.

64 For so muche nowe as ye are sure that they be no goddes, then feare them not:

65 For they can neither speake euyll nor good of kings.

66 They can shewe no tokens in heauens for the heathē, neither shine as the sunne, nor giue light as the moone:

67 Yea the vnreasonable beasts are better than they: for they can get them vnder the roofe, and do them selues good.

68 So can ye be certified by no manner of meanes that they be gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrowe in a garden of herbes keepeth nothing: euen so are their gods of wood, of siluer, and golde.

70 And like as a white thorne in an Orcharde, that euerie byrde sitteth vpon, yea like as a deade bodye that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with those goddes of wood, siluer, and golde.

71 By the purple and scarlet, whiche they haue vpon them, and soone fadeth away, ye may vnderstande that they be no gods: yea they them selues shall be consumed at the last, whiche shall be a great confusion of the lande.

72 Blessed is the godly man that hath no images, and worshippeth none: for he shall be farre from reproofe.

¶ The song of the three children, which *were put into the hot burning ouen. The cōmon tran-*slation readeth this song in the third Chapter of Daniel.

25. The prayer of Azarias. 46. The crueltie of the king. 48. The flame deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49. The Angell of the Lorde was in the furnace. 51. The three children prayse the Lord, and prouoke all creatures to the same.

24 AND they walked in the midst of ỹ flame, praising God, and magnifying the Lorde.

2 Then Azarias stood vp, & prayed on this manner: euen in the midst of the fire opened he his mouth, and sayde,

5 26 Blessed be thou, O Lorde God of our fathers, right worthy to be praysed & honored is that name of thine for euermore:

27 For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to vs, yea, faythfull are all thy workes, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements true.

28 In al the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Jrusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement: yea according to right and equitie haste thou brought all these things vpō vs, bicause of our sinnes.

29 For why? we haue offended, and done wickedly, departing from thee.

30 In all things haue we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commaundementes, nor kept them, neyther done as thou hast bidden vs, that we may prosper.

31 Wherefore all that thou haste brought vpon vs, and euerie thing that thou haste done to vs, thou haste done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the handes of our enimies, among vngodly and wicked abhominations, and to an vnrighteous king, yea the most frowarde vpon earth.

33 And nowe we may not opē our mouthes, we are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruantes, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet

34 Yet for thy names sake (we beseche thee) geue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant.

35 And take not awaye thy mercie from vs for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruant Isahacks sake, and for thy holy Israels sake:

36 To whom thou hast spoken, and promised, that thou wouldest multiplie their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sande that lyeth vpon the sea shoare.

37 For we, O Lorde, are become lesse than any people, and be kept vnder this day in all the worlde, because of our sinnes.

38 So that nowe, we haue neither prince, duke, prophete, burnt offering, sacrifice, oblations, incense, nor sanctuarie before thee.

39 Neuertheless, in a contrite hart, and an humble spirite, let vs be receyued, that we may obteyne thy mercie.

40 Like as in the burnt offering of rãmes, and bullockes, and like as in thousandes of fat lambes: so let our offering be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And nowe we folowe thee with all our hart, we feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles, O Lorde, and get thy name an honour: that all they whiche dw thy seruants euill, may be confounded.

44 Let them be ashamed through thy almightie power, and let their strength bee broken:

45 That they may knowe, howe that thou only art the Lord God, and honour worthie throughout all the worlde.

46 And the kings seruantes that put them in, ceassed not to make the ouen hot with (a) wylde fire, drye strawe, pitch, towe, and fagottes:

47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:

48 Yea, it broke awaye, and brent vp those Chaldees that it gate hold vpon beside the ouen.

49 But the angel of the Lord came down into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, & smote the flame of the fire out of the ouen, 50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had bene a colde winde blowing: so the fire neyther touched them, greeued them, nor did them hurt.

51 Then these three, as out of one mouthe, praysed, honoured, and blessed God in the furnace, saying,

52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art prayse and honour worthie, yea, & to be magnified for euermore. 1. Mac. 4. d

53 Blessed be the holy name of thy glorie: for it is worthy to be praysed and magnified in all worldes. Psal. 72. c.

54 Blessed be thou in the holy temple of thy glory: for aboue all things thou art to be praysed, yea and more than worthie to be magnified for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the throne of thy kingdome: for aboue all thou art worthie to be well spoken of, and to be more thã magnified for euer.

56 Blessed be thou that lookest through the deepe, and sittest vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthie to be praysed, and aboue all to be magnified for euer.

57 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art prayse and honour worthie for euer.

58 O all yee workes of the Lorde, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him and set him vp for euer.

59 O ye angels of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: prayse him, & lift him vp for euer. Psal. 102. f. and. 149. b.

60 O ye heauens speake good of the Lord: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

61 O all ye waters that bee aboue the firmament, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, and set him vp for euer.

70 O ye frost and colde, speake good of the Lorde: prayse him, & set him vp for euer.

The ſtory of Suſanna, whiche is the thirteenth Chapiter of Daniel, after the Latine.

8. The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Suſanna. 19. They take hir alone in the garden. 20. They ſolicite hir to wickedneſſe. 23. She chooſeth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of hir lyfe. 34. She is accuſed. 45. Daniel doeth deliuer hir. 62. The gouernours are put to death.

A 1 THere dwelte a man in Babylon, called Joacim,
2 That toke a wyfe whoſe name was Suſanna, ý daughter of Helcia, a very fair womã, & ſuch one as feared god.
3 Hir father and hir mother alſo were good people, and taught their daughter according to the lawe of Moſes.
4 Nowe Joacim (hir husband) was a great riche man, and had a fayre Orcharde ioyning vnto his houſe: and to him reſorted the Iewes commonly, bicauſe hee was a man of reputation among them.
5 The ſame yeere was there made two Iudges, ſuche as the Lorde ſpeaketh of, The wyckednelle of Babylon commeth from the elders (that is,) from the Iudges whiche ſeeme to rule the people.
6 Theſe came oft to Joacims houſe: and al ſuche as had any thing to do in the lawe, came thyther vnto them.
7 Nowe when the people departed awaye at noone, Suſanna went into hir husbãds Orcharde to walke. B
8 The two elders ſeeing this, that ſhe went in dayly and walked, they burned for luſte to hir.
9 Yea, they were almoſt out of their wits, and caſt downe their eyes, that they ſhould not not ſee heauen, nor remember that God is a ryghteous iudge.

10 For they were both wounded with the loue of hir, neyther durſt one ſhewe another his grieke.

11 And for ſhame they durſt not tell hir their inordinate luſte, that they woulde fayne haue had to do with hir.

12 Yet they layde wayte for hir earneſtly from day to day, that they myght (at the leaſt) haue a ſight of hir.

13 And the one ſayde to the other, Up, let vs go home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way one from another.

C 14 When they returned againe, they came togyther, enquiring out the matter betwixte them ſelues, yea, the one tolde the other of his wicked luſt: then appoynted they a tyme when they myght take Suſanna alone.

15 It happened alſo, that they ſpyed out a conuenient time, when ſhe went forth to walke, as hir manner was, and no bodie with hir, but two maidens, and thought to waſh hir ſelfe in the garden: for it was an hot ſeaſon.

16 And there was not one perſon there, except the two elders that had hid theſelues to beholde hir.

17 So ſhe ſayd to hir maydens, Go fetche me oyle and ſope, and ſhut the Orcharde dore, that I may waſhe me.

18 And they dyd as ſhe bad them, and ſhut the Orcharde dore, and went out themſelues at a backe dore, to fetche the thing that ſhe hadde commaunded: but Suſanna knewe not that the elders lay there hyd within.

19 Nowe when the maydens were gonne forthe, the two elders gate them vp, and ranne vpon hir, ſaying,

20 Nowe the Orcharde dores are ſhutte, that no man can ſee vs, wee haue a luſte vnto thee, therefore conſent vnto vs, and lye with vs:

21 If thou wylt not, we ſhall bring a teſtimoniall agaynſte thee, that there was a yong felowe with thee, and that thou haſt ſent away thy maydens from thee for the ſame cauſe.

22 Suſanna ſighed, and ſayde, Alas, I am in trouble one euery ſide: though I folow your minde, it will be my death: and if I conſent not vnto you, I can not eſcape your handes.

23 Well, it is better for me to fal into your handes, without the deede doing, than to ſinne in the ſight of the Lorde.

24 And with that ſhe cried out with a loud voyce: the elders alſo cried out againſt hir.

25 Then ranne there one to the Orcharde dore, and ſmote it open.

26 Nowe when ẏ ſeruãts of the houſe heard the cry in ẏ Orchard, they ruſhed in at the backe dore, to ſee what the matter was.

27 So whẽ the elders told them, ẏ ſeruants were greatly aſhamed: for why? ther was neuer ſuche a report made of Suſanna. E

28 On the morow after came the people to Joacim hir huſbande, and the two elders came alſo, ful of miſchieuous imaginatiõs againſt Suſãna, to bring hir vnto death, 29 And ſpake thus before the people: Send for Suſanna ẏ daughter of Helchias, Joacims wife, & immediatly they ſent for hir.

30 So ſhe came, with hir father, and mother, hir children, and all hir kynred.

31 Nowe Suſanna was a tender perſon, and marueylous fayre of face.

32 Therefore the wycked men commaunded to take hir clothes from hir face (for ſhee was couered) that at the leaſte they myght ſo be ſatiſfied in hir beautie.

33 Then hir friendes, yea, and all they that knewe hir, beganne to weepe.

34 Theſe two elders ſtode vp in the midſt of the people, and layde their hands vpon the head of Suſanna. F Leuit. 24. c.

35 Whiche wepte, and loked vp towarde heauen: for hir heart had a ſure truſte in the Lorde.

36 And the elders ſayd, As wee were walking in the Orcharde alone, this woman came in with hir two maydens, whome ſhe ſent awaye from hir, and ſparred the Orcharde dores:

37 With that a yong felowe whiche there was hid, came vnto hir, and lay with hir.

38 As for vs, wee ſtode in a corner of the Orcharde: and when we ſawe this wyckednelle, we ranne to them, and we ſawe them as they were togither.

39 But we coulde not hold him, for he was ſtronger than wee. Thus hee opened the dore, and gate him away.

40 Nowe when we had taken this womã, we aſked hir what yong felowe this was, but ſhee woulde not tell vs. This is the matter, and we be witneſſes of the ſame.

41 The cõmon ſort beleeued them, as thoſe that were the elders & Iudges of the people, and ſo they condemned hir to death. G

42 Suſanna cryed out with a loude voice, and ſayde, O euerlaſting God, thou ſearcher of ſecretes, thou ẏ knoweſt al things before they come to paſſe: Heb. 4. b

43 Thou wottell that they haue borne falſe witneſſe againſt mee, and beholde I muſt dye, whereas I neuer did any ſuch things as theſe men haue maliciouſly inuented againſt mee.

44 And the Lorde heard hir voyce.

45 For when ſhe was led forthe to death, the Lorde rayſed vp the ſpirite of a yong childe, whoſe name was Daniel,

2.Re.3.k. 46 Which cryed with a loude voyce, I am cleane from this blod.

47 Then all the people turned towarde him, and ſayde, What meane theſe wordes that thou haſt ſpoken?

G 48 Daniel ſtode in the myddeſt of them, and ſayde, Are ye ſuche fooles, O ye children of Iſrael, that ye cannot diſcerne nor knowe the trueth? Ye haue here condemned a daughter of Iſrael vnto death, and knowe not the trueth wherefore.

49 Go ſit in iudgement againe: for they haue ſpoken falſe witneſſe againſt hir.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all the haſte: and the Elders (that is, the principall heades) ſayde vnto him, Come ſit downe heere among vs, and ſhewe vs this matter, ſeeyng God hath giuen thee as great honour as an Elder.

2.Re.3.d. 51 And Daniel ſayde vnto them, Put theſe two aſide one from another, & then ſhall I examine them.

52 When they were put aſunder one from another, he called one of them, and ſayde vnto him, O thou old cancarde carle, that haſte vſed thy wickedneſſe ſo long, thyne vngratious deedes whiche thou haſte done afore, are nowe come to lyght.

53 For thou haſt gyuen falſe iudgementes, thou haſt oppreſſed the innocent, and letten the gyltie goe free: whereas yet the Exod.23.a. Lorde ſayeth, The innocent and righteous ſee thou ſlaye not.

54 Well then, if thou haſt ſeene hir, tel mee vnder what tree ſaweſt thou them companying togither? He anſwered, Vnder a "Mulbery tree.

55 And Daniel ſayd, very well, nowe thou lyeſt euen vpon thine heade: loe, the meſſenger of the Lorde hath receyued the ſentence of him, to cut thee in two.

56 Then put hee him aſyde, & called for the other, & ſayd vnto him, O ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Juda, fayrnes hath deceiued thee, & luſt hath ſubuerted thyne heart.

57 Thus dealt ye afore with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare, conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Juda would not abyde your wickednelle.

58 Now tel me then, Vnder what tree didſt thou take them companying togither? He anſwered, Vnder a "Pomegranate tree.

59 Then ſayde Daniel vnto him, Very well, now thou lyeſt alſo euen vpon thyne head: the meſſenger of the Lorde ſtandeth wayting with the ſworde to cut thee in two, and ſlay you both.

60 With that, al the whole multitude gaue a great ſhout, & praiſed God, which alway deliuereth the that put their truſt in him.

61 And they came vpon ẏ two elders, who Daniel had conuict of their owne mouth, that they had giuen falſe witneſſe, 62 And dealte with them euen likewiſe as they woulde haue done with their neyghbours, yea, they did according to the lawe of Moſes, and put them to death: thus the innocent blod was ſaued the ſame day. Dan.

63 Then Helcias and his wife prayſed God for their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim hir huſbande, and all the kinred, that there was no diſhoneſtie founde in hir.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of ẏ people.

65 And king Aſtiages was layd with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia raigned in his ſtede.

The ende of the ſtory of Suſanna.

The ſtory of Bel and the Dragon, which is the.xiiij. Chapter of Daniel after the Latine.

1 aniel dyd eate at the kings table, & was had in reuerence aboue all his friendes.

2 There was at Babylō an image called Bell, and there were ſpent (a) vpon him euery daye (b) twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, and ſixe great (c) pottes of wine.

3 Him dyd the king worſhippe him ſelfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worſhipped his owne God: and the king king sayde vnto him, Why doest thou not worship Bell?

4 He answered, and sayd, Bycause I may not worshippe things that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hathe power vpon all flesshe.

5 The king sayde vnto him, Thinkest thou not that Bell is a liuing God? or seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

6 Daniell smyled, and sayde, O king, deceyue not thy selfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of brasse without, neither eateth he euer any thing.

7 Then the king was wroth, and called for his priestes, and sayde vnto them, If ye tell me not who is this that eateth vp these expences, ye shall dye:

8 But if ye can certifie me that Bell eateth them, then Daniell shall dye: for hee hath spoken blasphemie against Bell. And Daniell sayde vnto the king, Let it so be, according as thou hast sayde.

9 The priestes of Bell were threescore and tenne, besides their wiues and children: and the king went with Daniell into the temple of Bell.

10 So Bels priestes sayd, Loe, we will go out: and set thou the meate there, O king, and poure in the wine, then shut the doore fast, and seale it with thine owne signet:

11 And to morowe when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bell hath eaten vp all, we will suffer death: or elles Daniell, that hath lyed vpon vs.

12 The priestes thought them selues sure inough: for vnder the " aulter they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, & did eate vp what there was.

13 So when they were gone forth, the king set meates before Bell: nowe Daniell had commaunded his seruants to bring ashes, and these he " sifted throughout al the temple, that the king might see: then went they out, and sparred the doore, sealing it with the kings signet, and so departed.

14 In the night came the priests, with their wiues and children, as they were wont to do, and did eate and drinke vp all.

15 In the morning betimes at the breake of the daye, the kyng arose, and Daniell with him.

16 And the king sayde, Daniell, are the seales whole yet? He answered, Yea, O king, they be whole.

17 Nowe as sone as hee had opened the doore, the king loked vnto the " aulter, and cryed with a loude voyce, Greate art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceyte.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and sayde, Behold the pauement, marke well, whose footesteppes are these?

19 The king sayde, I see the footesteppes of men, women, and children.

20 Therfore the king was angry, and toke the priestes with their wyues and children, and they shewed him ỹ priuy doores where they came in, and did eate vp such things as were vpon the aulter.

21 For the whiche cause the king slue them, and delinered Bell into Daniels power, whiche destroyed him and his temple. D Iere. 51. b. Esai. 46. a.

22 And in that same place there was a greate Dragon, whiche they of Babylon worshipped.

23 And the king sayde vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is but a God of brasse also? Lo, he liueth, he eateth & drinketh, so that thou canst not say that hee is no liuing God: therefore worshippe him.

24 Daniel sayd vnto ỹ king, I wil worship the Lorde my God, hee is the true liuing God: as for this, he is not ỹ God of lyfe.

25 But giue mee leaue, O king, and I shal destroy this Dragon without sworde or staffe. The king sayde, I giue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel toke pitch, fatte, & heaire woll, and did seethe them togither, and made lumpes therof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, & so the Dragon burste in sunder. And Daniel sayde, Loe, there is he whome ye worshipped.

27 Whe they of Babylon heard that, they toke greate indignation, and gathered them togyther agaynste the king, saying, The king is become a Iewe, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon, and put the priestes to death. E

28 So they came to the king, and sayd, Let vs haue Daniel, or els wee will destroye thee and thyne house.

29 Nowe when the king sawe that they rushed in so sore vpon him, and that necessity constrayned him, he delinered Daniel vnto them: Dani. 6. c.

30 Whiche cast him into the Lions dennie, where he was sixe dayes.

31 In the denne there were seuen Lyons, and they had giuen them euery day two bodyes, and two sheepe: which then were not gyuen them, to the intent that they myght deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a Prophete called Habacuc, whiche had made potage, and broken bread in a bolle, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the capers.

33 But the Angell of the Lorde sayde vnto Habacuc, Goe carie the meate that thou hast, into Babylon vnto Daniell, whiche is in the Lions denne.

34 And Habacuc sayde, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, and as for the denne, I knowe it not.

35 Then the Angell of the Lorde toke him by the toppe, and bare him by the hayre of the heade, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne.

Eze.8.a.

36 And Habacuc cryed, saying, O Daniell, thou seruāt of God, haue, take the "breakfast that God hath sent thee.

3.Re.17.a. "or, dinner.

37 And Daniell sayde, O God, hast thou thought vpon me? well, thou neuer failest them that loue thee.

F

38 So Daniell arose, and did eate. And the Angell of the Lorde set Habacuc in his owne place agayne immediatly.

39 Upon the seuenth day, the king went to bewepe Daniell: and when he came to the denne, he loked in, and behold, Daniel sate (in the midst of the Lions.)

40 Then cried the king with a loud voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lorde God of Daniell, & there is none other besides thee.

41 And he drew him out of the Lions den, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

Ier.

42 After this, wrote the king vnto all people, kinreds, and tongs, that dwelt in al countreys.

43 Saying, Peace be multiplyed with you: My commandement is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stande in awe of Daniels God, for he is the liuing God, whiche endureth for euer.

44 His kingdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting:

45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, he doth wonders and maruellous workes in heauen & in earth: for he hath saued Daniell from the power of the Lions.

¶ The prayer of Manasses king of Iuda, when he vvas holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, and of the righteous seede of them: which hast made heauen and earth, with al the ornament thereof, which hast "ordeyned the sea by the worde of thy commaundement, which hast shut vp the depe, and hast sealed it for thy feareful and laudable name, which al men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatning, the whiche is importable to sinners, but the mercy of thy promise is great and vnsearchable: for thou art the Lorde God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercyfull, and repentant vpon the malice of men: Thou Lorde after thy goodnesse hast promised repentance of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the God of the righteous, hast not put repentance to the righteous Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but bicause I haue sinned aboue the number of the sandes of the sea, and that myne iniquities are multiplied, I am "humbled with many bandes of yron, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue doone euill before thee, in committing abhominations, and multiplying offences: And nowe I bowe the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee, O Lorde. I haue sinned Lord, I haue sinned, and knowe mine iniquitie, I desire thee by prayer, O Lorde forgiue me, forgiue me, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember mine euils to punish them: but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy great mercy, and I will praise thee euerlastingly all the dayes of my life: for all the power of heauen praiseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, world without end. Amen.

"or, the sea.

The Monarchie of the Greekes.

Alexander the great, sonne to Philip king of Macedonia, conquered the Monarchie of the Persians from Darius, the. 192. yeere of Cyrus the first Monarchie, and transported it to the Grekes: he raigned. 6. whole yeres, and the seuenth died, leauing diuers successours, to whõ hee diuided the sayde Monarchie before his death. That is, the kingdomes of Syria, Asia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We will here treate of his successours, the kings of Syria only, bycause the scripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the supputation of the yeeres, by the tyme that the saide kings reigned, beginning at the first: as appeareth in the first booke of the Machabees. And we will orderly sette their names, and the time that eche of them hath raigned, to conferre them with the number of the weekes, placed on the lefte syde of this table, to the ende that the sayde weekes may be verified, and that the prophesie of Daniell may be plainly vnderstode, touching the comming and death of our sauiour Christ.

The first booke of the Machabees.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11. Antiochus taketh the kingdome. 12. Many of the children of Israel make couenant with the Gentiles. 21. Antiochus subdueth Egypt and Ierusalem vnto his dominiō. 43. Ierusalem being burnt, they make lawes of their owne, and forbid to keepe Gods lawes. 50. Antiochus setteth vp an idol ouer the aulter of God.

A 1 Fter that Alexander king of Macedonia, son of Philip, went forth of the lād of "Cethim, & (a) slewe Darius king of the Persians, and Medes, and raigned for him as he had don before in Gretia:

"or, Chettim, a. The first battel with the Carthaginenses, was fought at this time

2 It happened that he toke great warres in hande, wanne very many strong cities, and slue many kings of the earth,

3 Going through to the endes of ỹ world, and getting many spoyles of the people, insomuche that the whole world stode in awe of him, and therefore was he proude in harte.

Judit. 1. b. b. The beginnig of the kingdome of Egypt.

4 (b) Now when he had gathered a mightie strong host,

5 And subdued the landes and people with their princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fel sicke: and when he perceiued that he must needes dye,

B 7 He called for his noble estates, which had bin brought vp with him of childzen, and parted his kingdome among them, whyle he was yet aliue.

Dani. 7. a.

8 So Alexander raigned twelue yeres, and then dyed.

c. The beginning of the kingdome of Syria.

9 (c) After his death fell the kingdome vnto his princes, and they obteyned it euery one in his rome,

10 And caused them selues to be crowned as kinges: and so did their childzen after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse increased in the world.

"or, Epiphanius. 1. Mac. 8. a.

11 Out of these came the vngratious rote, "noble Antiochus, the sonne of Antiochus ỹ king, which had bin a pledge at Rome: and he raigned in the hundzed thirtie and seuenth yere of ỹ Empyre of the Grekes.

d. The beginning of the kingdome of the Parthians.

12 (d) In those dayes wēt there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsel, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathē that are rounde about vs: for sithe we departed frō them, we haue had much sorowe.

Deut. Jer.

13 So this deuise pleased them wel,

14 (e) And certaine of the people toke vpon them for to goe vnto the king, whiche gaue thē licence to do after the ordinance of the heathen.

e. Iosephus Lib. 12. cap. C

15 (f) Then set they vp an opē scole at Ierusalem of the lawes of the heathen:

1. Par. f. The wicked headlong into mischiefe.

16 (g) And made themselues vncircumcised, but forsoke the holy testament, and ioyned them selues to the heathen, and were cleane solde to do mischiefe.

g. Epiphanius saith that was by diuising the signe other that that was circumcised.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mightie in his kingdome, he went about to obtayne ỹ land of Egypt also, that he might haue the dominion of two realmes.

1. Mac.

18 Upon this entred he into Egypt, with a strong host, with charettes, Elephantes, horsemen, and a great number of shippes.

19 (h) And beganne to warre agaynst Ptolome the king of Egypt: but Ptolome was afrayde of him, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

h. The second battel with the Carthaginenses.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities, and toke away great good out of the lande of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned agayne in the hundzed fourtie and three yeere, and went towarde Israel,

1. Mac. 1. D

22 And came vp to Ierusalē, with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and toke away the golden aulter, the candelsticke, and all the ornamentes thereof, the table of the shewbread, ỹ pouring vessels, the chargers, the golden spones, the vayle, the crownes, and golden apparel of the temple, and brake downe all in peeces.

24 He toke also the siluer and golde, the pretious iewels, and the secrete treasures that he founde.

25 And when he had taken away altogether ther, cauled a great murther of men, and ſpoken verie proudly, he departed into his owne lande.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation throughout all Iſraell.
27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the yong men and the maydens were " defiled, and the fayre beautie of women was changed:
28 The bridegrome and the bride toke them to mourning,
29 The lande and thoſe that dwelt therein was moued: for all the houſe of Jacob was brought to confuſion.
30 (i) After two yeeres the king ſente hys chiefe treaſurer vnto the cities of Juda, whiche came to Jeruſalem with a greate multitude of people,
31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was deceyte: for when they had giuen him credence,
32 He fell ſodeinly vpon the citie, and ſmote
it ſore, & deſtroyed much people of Iſraell:
33 And when he had ſpoyled the citie, he ſet fire on it, caſting down houſes and walles on euery ſide.
34 The women and their children toke they captiue, and led away their cattell.
35 Then builded they the citie of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, and with mightie towres, and made it a ſtrong holde for them.
36 Beſides all this, they ſet wicked people, and vngodly men to keepe it.
37 Stored it with weapons, and victuals, gathered the goods of Jeruſalem, and layd them vp there: thus became it a theeuiſhe caſtell.
38 Thus they became a heauy burthen, laying wayte for the people that wente into the ſanctuarie, and for the cruell deſtruction of Iſraell.
39 Thus they ſhed innocent bloude on eue-rie ſide of the ſanctuarie, and defiled it:
40 Inſomuch that the citizens were fayne to depart, and the citie became an habitation of ſtrangers, being deſolate of hir own ſeede: for hir owne natiues were fayne to leaue hir.
41 Hir ſanctuarie was cleane waſted, hir holy dayes were turned into mourning, hir ſabbothes were had in deriſion, and hir honour brought to nought.
42 (k) Loke how great hir glorie was before, ſo great was hir confuſion, and hir ioy turned into ſorrowe.
43 Antiochus alſo the king, ſent out a commiſſion vnto all his kingdome, that all the people ſhould be one.
44 Then they left euery man his law, and all the heathen agreed to the commaunde-ment of king Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Iſraelites conſented therevnto, offering vnto idols, and defy-ling the Sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus ſent his meſſegers with his commiſſion vnto Jeruſalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they ſhould folow the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbad either burnt offering, meat offering, or peace offering, to be made in the temple of God, and that there ſhoulde no Sabboth nor high feaſt day be kept:
48 But commaunded that the ſanctuarie, &
the holy people of Iſrael, ſhuld be defiled:
49 He commaunded alſo, that there ſhould be ſet vp other aulters, temples, and idols, to offer vp Swines fleſhe, and other vncleane beaſtes.
50 That men ſhoulde leaue their children vncircumciſed, to defile their ſoules with all maner of vncleānеſſe & abhominatiōs:
51 That they might ſo forget the lawe, and change all the holy ordinances of God, 52 And that whoſoeuer woulde not do according to the commaundement of kyng
Antiochus, ſhould ſuffer death.
53 In lyke manner commaunded hee throwout al his realme, and ſet rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to do theſe things:
54 Commaunding al the cities of Juda, to do ſacrifice vnto idols.
55 Then went the people vnto the heathen by heapes, forſoke the lawe of the Lorde, and committed much euill in the lande.
56 And he droue the Iſraelites into ſecrete places, euen where ſo euer they coulde flee for ſuccour.
57 The fyfteenth day of the moneth " Caſ-leu, in the hundred threeſcore and fifth yeere, ſet king Antiochus an" abhominable idoll of deſolation vpon the aulter of God, and the buylded aulters throughout all the cities of Juda, on euery ſide, 58 Before the dores of the houſes, and in the ſtreetes, where they burnt incenſe, and dyd ſacrifice.
59 And as for the bookes of the law of God, they burnt them in the fire, (l) and rent the in peeces.
60 What ſo euer hee was that had a booke of the teſtament of the Lorde founde by him, yea, whoſoeuer endeuoured him ſelfe to keepe the lawe of the Lorde, the kinges commaundement was, that they ſhoulde put him to death.

61 And through his authoritie, they executed these things euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel, that were found in the cities.

2.Mac.6.b. 62 The twentie and fift day of the moneth, what time as they did sacrifice vppon the aulter, which stoode in the steede of the aulter of the Lorde:

63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certayne women to death, whiche had caused their children to be circumcised:

64 Not only that, but they hanged vp the children by the neckes throughout all their houses, and slue the circumcisers of them.

65 Yet were there many of the people of Israell, which determined in themselues that they would not eate vncleane things: but chose rather to suffer death, than to be defiled with vncleane meates.

66 So bicause they wouldo not breake the blessed law of god, they were cruelly slain.

67 And this great tyrannie encreased verie sore vpon the people of Israell.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. The mourning of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie. 19. They refuse to doe sacrifice vnto idols. 24. The zeale of Mathathias for the lawe of God. 33. They are slayne, and will not fight agayne. bycause of the Sabboth day. 49. Mathathias dying, commaundeth his sonne to sticke by the worde of God, after the example of the fathers.

A 1 IN those dayes there did stande vp one Mathathias, the sonne of John, the sonne of Simeon the priest, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Jerusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin.

2 And had fiue sons: John, called Gaddis.

3 Simon, called Thasi,

4 Judas, otherwise called Machabeus,

5 Eleazer, otherwise called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose syrname was Apphus.

6 These sawe the euill that was done among the people of Juda, and Jerusalem.

B 7 And Mathathias sayde, Wo is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this miserie of my people, and the pitious destruction of the holy city, and thus to sit so stil, it being deliuered into the handes of the enimies.

8 Hir sanctuarie is come into the power of strangers, hir temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:

2.Mac.7. 9 Hir pretious ornaments are caried away captiue, hir olde menne are slayne in the streets, and hir yong me are falne through the sworde of the enimies.

10 What people is it that hath not some possession in hir kingdome? or who hath not gotten some of hir spoyles?

11 All hir glory is taken awaye, she was a free woman, and nowe she is become an handmayde.

12 Behold, our sanctuarie, our beautie, and honour, is wasted away, and defiled by the Gentiles.

13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?

C 14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vppon them, and mourned very sore.

15 Then came the men thyther, which were sent of king Antiochus, to compell suche as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to do sacrifice, and to burne incense vnto idols, and to forsake the lawe of God.

16 So many of the people of Israell consented, and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remained stedfast.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayde vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of hygh reputation, and great in this citie, hauing many fayre children, and bretheren:

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea and the menne of Juda, and such as remaine at Jerusalem: so shalte thou and thy children be in the kings fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewardes.

19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall away euerye man, from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commandementes:

20 (a) Yet will I, and my sonnes, and my bretheren, not fall from the lawes of our fathers. (a) The procurement of his children that they serue God doth please him.

21 God forbid we shoulde: that were not good for vs that we should forsake the law and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commaundement of king Antiochus. Ioh.4. D Pro.4.

22 Therefore we will do no suche sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our lawe, to goe another way.

23 And when he had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all, dyd sacrifice vnto the idols vpon the aulter in the citie of Modin, according to the kings commaundement.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, he gret-

ued (b) him at the heart, so that his reynes ſhoke withall, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that hee ſtart vp, and kylled the Iewe beſide the aulter:
25 Yea, and ſlue the kings cõmiſſioner that compelled him to do ſacrifice, and deſtroyed the aulter at the ſame tyme.
26 Suche a zeale had hee vnto the lawe of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri
the ſonne of Salomi.
27 And Mathathias cryed with a lowde voyce through the citie, ſaying, Who ſo is feruent in the lawe, and will keepe the couenant, let him folowe mee.
28 So hee and his ſonnes fledde into the mountaynes, and left all that euer they had in the citie.
29 Many other godly men alſo, whiche liued iuſtly and vprightly, departed into the wildernelle, with their childrẽ, their wiues, and their cattell, and remayned there: for the tyrannie increaſed ſore vpon them.
30 Now when the kings ſeruants, and the hoſt whiche was at Ieruſalem in the citie of Dauid, hearde that certayne men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gonne their waye to the wildernelle into ſecrete places:
31 Then many purſued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped them ſelues, and ſet the battell in araye a-gainſt them in the Sabboth day,
32 And ſayde vnto them, Will ye yet rebel?
Get you hence, and do the commandemẽt of king Antiochus, and ye ſhall liue.
33 They anſwered, we wil not go (for thee,) neither will we do the kings commandement, to defyle the Sabboth day.
34 Then beganne they to fyght agaynſte
them:
35 But the other gaue them none other an-ſwere, neither caſte they one ſtone at them, nor made faſt their priuie places:
36 But ſayde, We will dye all in our innocencie, heauen and earth ſhall teſtifie with vs, that ye put vs to death wrongfully.
37 Thus they fought agaynſte them vpon the Sabboth, and ſlue bothe men and cattell, their wyues and their children, to the number of a thouſand people.
38 When Mathathias and his freendes hearde this, they mourned for them ryght ſore,
39 And ſayde one to another, If ſo be that we all do as our brethren haue done, and fyght nat for our liues and for our lawes agaynſt the heathen, then ſhall they the ſooner rote vs out of the earth.
40 So they concluded among them ſelues at the ſame time, ſaying, 41 What ſoeuer he be that cõmeth to make battell with vs vppon the Sabboth daye, we will fyght againſt him, and not dye all as our brethren that were murdered in the wildernelle.
42 Vpon this came the aſſembly of the Aſſideans vnto them, which were of the ſtrõgeſt men in Iſrael, and all ſuche as were feruent in the lawe:
43 And all they that were fledde for perſecution, came to helpe them, and to ſtande
by them:
44 In ſo muche that they gathered an hoſt of men, and ſlue the wicked doers in their

The.iij.Chapter.

1. Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11. He killeth Apollonius, and Seron the prince of Syria. 44. The confidence of Iudas towarde God. 55. Iudas determineth to fight agaynst Lysias, whome Antiochus had made captaine ouer his hoste. 60. The prayer of the absteyners.

A 1 Then stode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers steade.

Iose.cap.8. 9.10.11.12. antiqui. 2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that helde with his father, and fought with chearefulnesse for Israell.

3 So Judas gat his people great honour: He put on a brestplate as a giant, and arayed him selfe with his harnesse, and defended the host with his sworde.

4 In his actes he was like a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe roaring at his pray.

5 He was an enimie to the wicked, and hunted them out, and brent vp those that vexed his people.

6 So that his enimies fled for feare of him, and all the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: suche lucke and prosperitie was in his hande.

7 This greeued diuers kings, but Jacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, and he gat him selfe a great name for euer.

8 He went through the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israell, 9 And receiuing suche as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Apollonius (a prince of Syria) gathered a mightie great host of the heathen, & out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Which when Judas perceiued, he went forth to meete him, fought with him, slue him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fled, and he toke their substance.

12 Judas also toke Apollonius owne sword, and fought with it al his life long.

13 Nowe when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, hearde say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation and Church of the faythfull.

14 He sayde, I will get mee a name, and a prayse throughout the realme: for I will goe fight with Judas, and them that are with him, as many as haue despised the kings commaundement.

15 So he made readie, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly, to stande by him, and to be auenged of the children of Israell.

16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a small companie.

17 And when his people sawe such a great host before them, they sayde vnto Judas, Howe are we able being so fewe, to fight against so great a multitude, & so strong, seeing we be so weery, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayde, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with fewe: yea there is no difference to the God of heauē, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small companie:

19 For the victorie of the battel standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Be-

20 Beholde, they come agaynste vs with a cruell and proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues, and our children, and to rob vs:
21 But we will fight for our liues, and for our lawes.
22 And the Lord him self shal destroy them before our face: therefore be not ye afrayde of them.
23 As sone as he had spoken these wordes, he leapt suddainely vpon them: thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flight, 24 And Judas followed vpon them beyond Bethoron vnto the plaine fielde, where there were slaine eyght hundred men of them: and the residue fled into the lande of the Philistines.
25 Then all the heathen on euerie side, were afrayde of Judas and his brethren.
26 So that the rumour of him came vnto the kings eares, for all the gentiles coulde tell of the warres of Judas.
¶ 27 So when king Antiochus hearde these tydings, he was angry in his mind: wherfore he sent forth, and gathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:
28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his host a yeares wages in hande, commaunding them to be readie at all times.
29 Nevertheless, when he sawe that there was not money ynough in his treasuries, and that through the disorde and persecution which hee made in the lande to put downe the lawes that had beene of olde times, his customes and tributes of the lande were minished:
30 Hee feared that hee was not able for to beare the costes and charges any longer, nor to haue suche giftes to giue so liberally as he did afore, more than the kings that were before him.
31 Wherefore he was heauie in his mynde, and thought to goe vnto Persides, for to take tributes of the lande, and so to gather much money.
32 So hee lefte Lysias, a noble man of the kings bloud, to ouersee the kings businesse, from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:
33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus, till he came againe.
¶ 34 Moreouer, hee gaue him halfe of hys hoste, and Elephantes, and committed vnto him euerie thing, and gaue hym the charge of all things that he woulde haue done, concerning those whiche dwelte in Juda and Jerusalem:
35 That hee shoulde sende out an armie against them, to destroye, and to rote out the power of Israell, and the remnaunt of Jerusalem, to put out their memoriall from that place, 36 To set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters, & to part their land among them.
37 Thus the king toke the other parte of the hoste, and departed from Antioche, a citie of hys realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fourtie and seuenth yeere, and went through the hyghe countreys. Iose. cap. 10. lib. antiq.
38 And Lysias chose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mightie men, and the kings friends. 1. Mac. 8. d.
39 These hee sent, with fourtie thousande fotemen, and seuen thousande horsemen, for to goe into the lande of Juda, and to destroy it, as the king commaunded.
40 So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus, into the playne fielde.
41 When the marchantes of the countrey heard the rumour of them, they and their seruants toke verie much syluer and gold, for to buy the children of Israell to be their bondemen: there came vnto them also yet moe men of warre on euerie side, out of Syria, and from the Palestines.
42 Nowe when Judas and his brethren sawe that trouble increased, and that the hoste drewe nyghe vnto their borders, consydering the kynges wordes which hee commaunded vnto the people (namely,) that they shoulde vtterly waste and destroy them: ¶
43 They sayde one to an other, Let vs redresse the decay of our people, let vs fight for our folke, and for our sanctuarie.
44 Then the congregatiō were sone redy gathered to fight, to praye, and to make supplycation vnto god, for mercy & grace.
45 As for Jerusalem, it lay voyd, and was as it had beene a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, and the sanctuarie was troden downe, the aliantes kepte the castell, there was the habitation of the heathen, the myrth of Jacob was taken away, the Pipe and the Harpe was gone from among them. 1. Mac. 1. d.
46 The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Jerusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed afore time in Israell. 1. Re. 7. d.
47 So they fasted that day, and put sackclothes vppon them, cast asshes vppon their heades, rent their clothes.
48 And layde forth the bookes of the lawe, wherevnt the heathen sought to paynte

the

the likenesse of their images:

Num.6.b. 49 And brought the priestes ornaments, the firstlings, and the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, whiche had accomplished their vowes before God:

50 And cryed with a loude voyce towarde heauen, saying, What shal we do vñ to these? and whither shall we cary them away?

51 For thy sanctuarie is troden downe, and defiled, the priestes are come to beauinesse and dishonour.

52 And beholde, the heathen are come together for to destroy vs: thou knowest what things they imagine agaynst vs.

53 Howe may we stand before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?

54 Then they blewe out the trumpet also with a loude voyce.

Exod.28. 55 Then Judas ordeyned captaynes ouer the people, ouer thousands, ouer hũdredes, ouer fiftie, and ouer tenne.

56 But as for suche as buylded them houses, maryed wyues, planted them vineyardes, and those that were fearefull, he commaunded them euery man to go home agayne, according to the lawe.

Deu.20.a. 57 So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

Jud.7.a. 58 And Judas sayde, Arme your selues, be strong, O my children, make you ready agaynste to morowe in the morning, that ye may fight with these people, whiche are agreed together, to destroy vs and our sãctuarie.

59 Better is it for vs to dye in battel, than to see our people and our sanctuarie in suche a miserable case.

Matth.6.b. Luke.11.a. 60 Neuertheles, as thy will is, O God in heauen, so be it.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. Iudas goeth against Gorgias, whiche lyeth in wayte. 14. He putteth Gorgias and his host to flight. 28. Lysias inuadeth Iurie, 29. But Iudas driueth him out. 43. Iudas purifieth the temple, and dedicateth the aulter.

Ioseph.li.12.cap.10. A 1 Then toke Gorgias fiue thousande men of warre, and a thousande of the best horsemen, & remoued out of the campe by nyght,

2 To come nye where the Jewes host lay, and so to slay them sodenly: (Nowe the men that kept the castel, were the conueyers of them.)

3 Nowe when Judas heard this, he remoued, and al the strong men that were with him, to smyte the cheefe and principall of the kings host at Emmaus.

4 For ẏ armie was not yet come togither.

5 In the meane season, came Gorgias by nyght into Judas tentes, and when he found no man there, he sought them in the mountaines, and thought they had beene fledde away bicause of him.

6 But when it was daye, Judas shewed him selfe in the fielde with three thousande men onely, which had neither harnesse, nor swordes to their mindes.

7 But on the other side, they sawe that the heathen were mightie, and well harnessed, and their horsemen about them, and all these well expert in feates of warre.

8 Then sayd Judas to ẏ men that were w̃ him, Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayde of their violent running.

9 Remember howe our fathers were deliuered in the red sea, whē Pharao folowed vpon them with a great host. Exo

10 Euen so let vs also crye nowe towarde heauen, and the Lorde shall haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea and destroy this host before our face this day:

11 And all the heathen shall knowe, that it is God him selfe, which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the heathen lyft vp their eyes, and when they sawe that they were comming against them, 13 They went out of their tentes into the battayle, and they that were with Judas, blewe vp the trumpettes.

14 So they buckled together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fledde ouer the playne feelde: C 1.Ma

15 But the hyndmost of them were slayne with the sworde: for they folowed them vnto "Azarenoth, and into the feeldes of Joumea, towarde Azot and Jamnia: so that ther were slayne of them vpon a three thousande men. "a.6

16 So Judas turned againe with his host.

17 And sayd vnto the people, Be not gredy of ẏ spoiles, we haue yet a battaile to fight:

18 For Gorgias and his host, are here by vs in the mountaines, but stande ye fast agaynste our enimies, and ouercome them, then may ye safely take the spoyles.

19 As Judas was speaking these wordes, beholde, there appeared one parte of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias sawe, that they of his partie were fled, and the tentes brent vp (for by the smoke they myght vnderstande what was done) they perceyning this,

this, were verie sore afrayde:

22 And when they sawe also that Judas and his hoste were in the fielde readie to strike battell, 23 They fled euery one into the land of the heathen.

24 So Judas turned agayne to spoyle the tentes, where they gat much golde, and siluer, pretious stones, purple, & great riches.

25 Thus they wente home, and song a Psalme of thankes giuing, and praysed God in heauen, for he is gratious, and his mercye endureth for euer.

26 And so Israell had a great victorie in that day.

27 Now all the heathen that escaped, came and tolde Lysias euerie thing that hadde happened:

28 Wherfore Lysias was sore afrayd, and greeued in his mynde, bycause Israell had not gotten suche misfortune as he woulde they should, neither as the king cõmanded.

29 The next yeere folowing, gathered Lysias threescore thousande chosen men of fote, and fiue thousande horsemen, to fight against Jerusalem.

30 So they came into Jurie, and pitched their tentes at Bethoron: where Judas came against thē with ten thousand men.

31 And when he saw so great and mightie an hoste, hee made his prayer, and sayde, Blessed be thou, O sauiour of Israell, whiche dyddest destroye the violent power of the giant, in the hande of thy seruant Dauid, and gauest the hoste of the heathen, into the hande of Jonathan the sonne of Saule, and of his harnesse bearer:

32 Put this hoste now into the hande of thy people of Israell, and let them be confoũded in their multitude and horsemen.

33 Make them afrayde, and discomfite the boldenesse of their strength, that they may be moued through their destruction.

34 Cast them downe through the swoord of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, prayse thee with thanksgiuing.

35 So they stroke the battell, & there were slaine of Lysias hoste fiue thousande men.

36 Then Lysias seeing the discomfiting of his men, and the manlynesse of the Iewes, howe they were readie eyther to liue, or to dye like men: he went vnto Antioche, and chose out men of warre, that when they were gathered together, they might come agayne into Jurie.

37 Then sayde Judas and his brethren, Beholde, our enimies are discomfited, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanse, and to repayre the sanctuarie.

37 Upon this, all the host gathered them together, and went vp into the mount Sion. 2. Ma. 10. 1.

38 Nowe when they sawe the sanctuarie layde waste, the aulter defiled, the dores brent vp, the shrubs growing in the courts like as in a wood, or vpon mountaynes, yea, and that the priestes chambers were broken downe:

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, cast ashes vpon their heads, 40 Fell down flat to the ground vpon their faces, made a great noyse with the trumpets, and cryed toward heauen.

41 Then Judas appoynted certayne men, to fight againste those whiche were in the castell, till they had cleansed the sanctuarie.

42 So he chose priests that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:

43 And they cleansed the sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place.

44 And for so muche as the aulter of burnt offerings was vnhalowed, he toke aduisement what he might do withall: &

45 So he thought it was best to destroy it, least it shoulde happen to doe them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therefore they brake it downe.

46 As for the stones, they layd them vp vpon the mountaine by the house in a conuenient place, till there came a prophete to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they toke whole stones, according to the lawe, and buylded a newe aulter, such one as was before, Exo. 20. b. Deut. 27. 8 Josu. 8. g.

48 And made vp the sanctuarie within and without, & halowed the house & the courts:

49 They made new holy ornaments, and brought the candlesticke, the aulter of incense, and the table into the temple:

50 The incense layd they vpon the aulter, and lighted the lampes which were vpon the candlesticke, that they myght burne in the temple:

51 They set the shew breade vpon the table, and hanged vp the vayle, and finished all the workes which they had begun to make,

52 And vpon the twentie and fifth daye of the nynth moneth (which is called the moneth of "Casleu) in the hundred fortie and eyght yeere: 2. Ma. 10. f. " November.

53 They rose vp betimes in the morning, for to do sacrifice according to the law, vpõ the newe burnt offering aulter that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same daye was it set set vp agayne, with songs, pypes, harpes, and cymballes.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and thanking the god of heauen, which had giuen them the victory.

56 So they kept the dedication of the aulter
2 Par. 7. b. eyght dayes, offering burnt sacrifices and thanke offerings with gladnesse:

57 They deckt the forefront of the temple also with crownes and shieldes of golde, and halowed the portes and celles, and hanged dores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, bicause the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.

59 So Iudas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israell, ordeyned
John. 10. c. that the time of the dedication of the aulter, should be kept in his season from yere to yeere, by the space of eyght dayes, from the twentie and fifth daye of the moneth
" November. "Casleu with myrth and gladnesse.

60 And at the same time buylded they vp the mount Sion, with highe walles and strong towres roūd about, least the gētiles should come and treade it downe, as they did afore.

1. Mac. 6. b. 61 Therefore Iudas set men of warre in it, to keepe it, and made it strong for to defend Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge against the Edomites.

The. v. Chapter.

3. Iudas vanquisheth the heathen that go about to destroy Israell, and is holpen of his brethrē Simon and Ionathas. 50. He ouerthroweth the citie of Ephron, bicause they denied him passage thorowe it.

A 1 IThappened also, that when the heathen rounde about hearde, howe that the aulter and the sanctuarie were set vp in Iose. cap. 12. lib. 13. their old estate, it displeased them very sore.

2 Wherefore, they thought to destroye the generation of Jacob that was among thē: in so muche that they beganne to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.

Ezr. 25. b. 3 Then Iudas fought against the children
& 35. a. of Esau in Idumea, at Arabathane: for they dwelt rounde about the Israelites, where he slue and spoyled a great multitude of them.

4 He thought also vpon the malice and vnfaythfulnesse of the children of Bean, howe they were a snare and stoppe vnto the people, and howe they layde wayte for them in the high way:

5 Wherefore he shut them vp into towres, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroyed them vterly, and brent vp their towres, with all that were in them.

6 Afterwarde went he against the children of Amon, whereof he founde a mightie power, and a great multitude of people, with Timothie their captaine.

7 So hee stroke many battels with them, B which were destroyed before him.

8 And when he had slaine them, he wanne Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, & so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad, gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castel of Dathemam,

10 And sente letters vnto Iudas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs on euerie side to destroy vs.

11 And nowe they make them readie for to come and lay siege to the castel whervnto we are fled, and Timothie is captayne of their hoste:

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands, for there is a great multitude of vs slayne alreadie.

13 Yea and our brethren that were at Tubin, are slayne and destroyed, welnigh a thousande men, and their wiues, their children, and their goods haue the enimies led away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, C beholde, there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which told euen the same tydings, 15 And sayde, that they of Ptolomais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were gathered against them and that all Galilee was filled with enimies, to destroy Israell.

16 When Iudas and the people heard this, 1. Ma they came together a great congregation, to deuise what they might doe for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enimies.

17 And Iudas sayde vnto Simon his brother, Chose thee out certaine men, and go deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Ionathas, we will go into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zachart, and Azarias, to be captaines of the people, to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iewrie, 19 And commaunded them, saying: Take the ouersight of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.

20 And

10 And vnto Simon hee gaue three thousand men, for to goe into Galilee: but Judas him selfe had eyght thousand in Galaaditim.

11 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battayles with the heathen, whome he discomfited.

12 And folowed vpon them into the port of Ptolomais: and there were slayne of the heathen almost three thousande men.

13 So he toke the spoyles of them, and caryed awaye the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis, with their wiues, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iewrie wyth greate gladnesse.

14 Judas Machabeus also and his brother Jonathas wente ouer Jordane, and trauelled three dayes iourney in the wyldernesse?

15 Where the Nabathees met them, and receyued them louingly, and tolde them euerie thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

16 And howe that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Alimis, Caldon, Mageth, and Carnaim (al these are strong walled and mightie great cities,)

17 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morowe they are appoynted to bring their hostes vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroye them in one day.

18 So Judas and his host turned in all the haste in the wildernesse towarde Bosor, and wanne the citie, slue al the males with the swoord, toke all their goods, and set fire vpon the citie:

19 And in the night they toke their iourney from thence, and came to the castel, 20 And betimes in the morning, when they looked vp, behold, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other instruments of warre, to take the castell, and to ouercome them.

21 When Judas sawe that the battayle beganne, and that the noyse thereof wente vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so great a cry in the citie,

22 He sayde vnto his hoste, Fyght this daye for your brethren:

23 And so came behinde their enimies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpets, and cryed in their prayer to God.

24 But so soone as Timotheus hoste perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled from him: and he slue them downe right lore, so that there were killed of them the same day almost eyght thousand men.

25 Then departed Judas vnto Malpha, layde siege vnto it, and wan it, slue all the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.

26 From thence went hee, and toke Caldon, Mageth, Bosor, and the other cities in Galaaditim.

27 After this, gathered Timothie another hoste, which pitched their tentes before Raphon, beyond the water. 2.Ma.10.v.

28 Judas also sent to spy the hoste, and they brought him worde agayne, saying, All the heathen that be rounde about vs, are gathered vnto him, & ỹ hoste is very great: F

29 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tentes beyonde the water, and are readie to come and fight against thee. So Judas went on to meete them.

30 And Timothie said vnto the captaines of his hoste, When Judas and his hoste come nighe the ryuer, if he goe ouer fyrst, we shall not be able to withstand him: for why? he will be to strong for vs.

31 But if he dare not come ouer, so that he pitch his tent beyonde the water: then will we goe ouer, for we shal be strong inough against him.

32 Nowe as soone as Judas came to the ryuer, hee appoynted certayne scribes of the people by the ryuer, and commaunded them, saying, See that ye leaue none behynde vpon this side of the ryuer, but let euery man come to the battayle.

33 So he went fyrst ouer vnto them, and all his people after him, and al the heathen were discomfited before him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the temple that was at Carnaim, 34 Which citie Judas wanne, and brent the temple, with al that were in it: so was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstande Judas.

35 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, a verie great hoste, for to come into the lande of Israell. G

36 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie great and strong citie, and laye in their way: for they coulde not go by it, neyther on the right hande, nor on the left, but must go through it. 2.Mac.7.8.

37 Neuertheleſſe, they that were in the citie, woulde not let them goe through, but walled vp the portes with stones: and Judas sent vnto them with peaceable words, saying,

48 Let vs passe through your lande, that we may go into our owne countrey, there shall no body doe you harme, we will but onely goe through on foote. But they would not let them in.

49 Wherefore Judas commaunded a proclamation to be made throughout the host, that euerie man should assault the citie in his order.

50 And so they did their best, like valiant men: and Judas besieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and so wanne it.

51 Where they slue as many as were males, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went through all the citie ouer them that were slayne.

52 Then went they ouer Iordane, into the playne fielde before Bethsan.

53 And Judas helped those forwarde that came behynde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way through, till they were come into the lande of Juda.

2.Par.20.a 54 Thus they went vp into the mount Sion, where they offered burnt offrings with myrth and thankesgiuing, bicause there were none of them slayne, but came home agayne peaceably.

55 Nowe what time as Judas and Jonathas were in the land of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galilee before Ptolomais:

56 Then Joseph the sonne of Zachari, and Azarias, the captaynes, hearing of the actes that were done, and of the battayles that were stricken, sayde, 57 Let vs get vs a name also, and go fight against the heathen ỳ are round about vs.

58 So they gaue their host a commaundement, and went towarde Jamnia:

59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the citie, to fight against them:

60 Joseph, also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Iewrie, and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel two thousand men: so that there was a great miserie among the people of Israell,

1.Ma.5.d. 61 And all bicause they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they should quite them selues manfully.

62 Neuertheless, they came not of the seed of these men, by whom Israel was helped.

63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the sight of al Israell, and all the heathen, whersoeuer their name was heard vpon.

64 And the people came vnto them, bydding them welcome.

65 After this, went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau, in the land that lyeth toward the South, where he wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beside it: and as for the walles and towers rounde about, he brent them vp.

66 Then remoued he to goe into the lande of the Philistines, and went through Samaria.

67 At the same time were there (many) priestes slaine in the battell, which wilfully and without aduisement, went out for to fight, to get them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines lande, he brake downe their aulters, brent the images of their idolles, spoyled the cities, and came againe into the lande of Juda. Deut.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elymas for a pray, is driuen away of the citizens. 8. He falleth into sickneſſe, and dyeth. 17. His sonne Antiochus is made king. 34. The beſieging of the tower of Sion. Eupater commeth into Iewrie with a great armie. 43. The boldneſſe of Eleazar.

1 NOwe when king Antiochus trauelled thorugh the highe countreys, he heard that Elymas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and golde.

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, where as were clothes, coate armours, and shieldes of golde, whiche Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia, that raigned first in Grecia, had lefte behinde him.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the citie, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him:

4 And so he fled, and departed with greate heauinesse, and came againe into Babylo.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tydings in Persia, that hys hostes whiche were in the lande of Juda were driuen away.

6 And howe that Lysias went forth firste with a great power, and was driuen away of the Iewes, howe that they hadde wonne the victory, and gotten great gods out of the hostes that perished.

7 Howe they had broken downe the abomination which he set vp vpon the aulter at Jerusalem, and fenced the sanctuarie with high walles, like as it was afore, yea and Bethsura his citie also.

8 So

8 So it chaunced, that when ỳ king heard these wordes, he was afrayde, and greued very sore: wherefore he layde him downe vpon his bed, and fel sicke for very sorow, and all bycause it had not happened as he had deuised.

9 And there continued he long: for his griefe was euer more and more, so that he sawe he must needes dye.

10 Therefore he sente for all his friendes, and sayde vnto them, The sleepe is gone from myne eyes, for the very sorowe and veration of harte that I haue.

11 For when I consider in my minde the greate aduersitie that I am come vnto, and the flouds of heauinesse whiche I am come in, where as afore time I was so merry, and so greatly set by, by reason of my power:

12 Agayne consydering the euill that I haue done at Jerusalem, from whence I toke all the riches of gold and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabitours of Jurie without any reason why:

13 I know that these troubles are come vpon me for the same cause: & behold, I must dye with great sorowe in a strange land.

14 Then called he for one Philip, a friende of his, whome he made ruler of all hys realme, 15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ryng, that he shoulde take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, and bring him vp, til he might raigne him selfe.

16 So the king Antiochus dyed there, in the hundred fourtie and nine yeere.

17 When Lysias knew that the king was dead, hee ordeyned Antiochus hys sonne, whom he had brought vp to raigne in his fathers steede, and called him Eupator.

18 Nowe they that were in the castel at (Jerusalem) kept in the Jewes rounde about the sanctuarie, and sought euer styl to doe them harme, for the strengthning of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Judas thought to destroy them, and called all the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

20 So they came togither in the hundred and fiftie yeere, and besieged them, laying forth their ordinaunce and instrumentes of warre.

21 Then certaine of them ỳ were besieged, went forth: vnto whome some vngodly men of Israel ioyned them selues also,

22 And went vnto the king, saying, How long will it bee or thou punishe, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue euer bin minded to do thy father seruice, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commaundementes, 24 Therefore our people fel from vs: and whersoeuer they founde any of vs, they slue them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not onely medled with vs, but with all our countreys.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Jerusalem to take it, and haue made vp the strong holde in Bethsura: 1.Mac.4.§

27 And if thou doest not preuent them right sone, they will do more than these, & thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king hearde this, he was very angry, and called al his friendes, the captaines of his armie, and (al his footemē and) horsemen: E 2.Ma.13.d.

29 He hyred menne of warre also, of other realmes, partayning to ỳ kings that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the sea, which came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoste was an hundred thousande footemen, and twentie thousande horsemen, and thirtie and two Elephantes wel exercised to battel.

31 These came through Idumea vntō Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, and made diuers instrumentes of warre against it: but the Jewes came out, and brent them with fyre, & fought like men. 1.Mac.4.§

32 Then departed Judas from the castel (at Jerusalem) and remoued the hoste towarde Bethzacaran, ouer agaynste the kings armie.

33 So the king arose before the day, and brought the power of his host into the way to Bethzacaran: where the hostes made them ready to the battayle, blowing the trumpettes.

34 And to prouoke the Elephantes for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of redde grapes, and mulberies,

35 And diuided the Elephantes among the hoste: so that by euery Elephante there stoode a thousande menne well harnessed, and helmets of steele vppon their heades: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephantes also were ordeyned fiue hundred horsemen of the best. F

36 Which wayted on the Elephant, going whersoeuer he went, & departed not from hym.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong towre of wood, fastened thereon with instrumentes, whereupon were thirtie and two valiant men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde, to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two partes with trumpets, to prouoke the host, and to stirre vp such as were slowe in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vppon their shieldes of gold and steele, the mountaines glistered agayne at them, and were as bright as the creslets of fyre.

40 The kings host also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaines, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the lande, were afrayde at the noyse of their hoste, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote together: for the hoste was both great and mightie.

42 Judas also and his host entered into the battayle, and slue fyue hundred men of the kings armie:

43 Nowe when Eleazar the sonne of "Saura did see one of the Elephantes deckt with the kinges badge, and was a more goodly beast than the other, he thought the king should be vpon him,

"or, Abron.

44 And ieoparded him selfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetual name.

45 Wherfore he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the host, smiting them downe on both the sydes, and slue many about him.

46 So went he to the Elephants feet, and gate him vnder him, (a) and slue him: then fell the Elephante downe vpon him, and there he dyed.

a. This example is not to be followed, bycause it is contrary to the commaundement.

47 Judas also and his menne, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his hoste, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went vp agaynst them toward Jerusalem, and pitched their tentes in Jurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king toke truce wyth them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie (bycause they had no vitayles, but were shut vp within, and the lande lay vntylled,)

1. Mac. 4. g

50 The king toke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his host to the place of the sanctuarie, 51 And layde siege to it a great while, where hee made all manner ordinance, handebowes, fierie dartes, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arowes, and slings.

52 The Iewes also made ordinãce against theirs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the citie there were no vitailes, for it was the seuenth yere of the warres: and those heathen that remayned in Iurie, had eaten vp all their store.

54 And in the sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the hunger came so vppon them that they were scattered abrode euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias hearde that Philip (whom Antiochus the king while he was yet liuing, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might be king,) 2. Mac.

56 Was come againe out of Persia and Medea with the kings host, and thought to obtayne the kingdome, with the gouernance of al things:

57 He gate him to the king in all the hall, and to the captaines of the host, and sayde, We decrease dayly, and our vitayles are but smal: agayne, the place that we lay siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, and take truice with them, & with all their people.

59 And graunt them to liue after their law, as they did afore: for they be greeued, and do all these things against vs, bycause we haue "despised their lawe.

"or, abhorred.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.

61 Nowe when the king and the princes had made an othe vnto them, they came out of the castel, 62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he sawe that the place was wel fenced, he brake the othe that he had made, and cõmaunded to destroy the wal rounde about.

63 Then departed he in all the hall, and returned vnto Antioch, where he founde Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and toke the citie againe into his handes.

The .vij. Chapter.

1. Demetrius raigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias. 5. He troubleth the children of Israel through the counsayle of certaine wicked persons. 37. The prayer of the priestes agaynste Nicanor. 41. Iudas killeth Nicanor, after he hath made his prayer.

1 IN the hundred fiftie and one yeere, I came Demetrius the son of Seleucus from the citie of Rome with a smal companie of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioch the citie of of his progenitours, his hoſt toke Antiochus & Lyſias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was tolde him, he ſayde, Let me not ſee their faces.

4 So the hoſte put them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was ſet vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him wycked and vngodly men of Iſrael, whoſe captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bin made high prieſt:

6 Theſe men accuſed the people of Iſrael vnto the king, ſaying, Iudas and his brethren haue ſlayne thy friendes, and driuen vs out of our owne lande:

B 7 Wherefore, ſende nowe ſome man, to whome thou giueſt credence, that he may goe, and ſee all the deſtruction whiche hee hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him be punyſhed, w̄ all his frendes and fauourers.

8 Then the king choſe Bacchides, a friend of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyonde the water, and faithfull vnto the king, and ſent him (to ſee the deſtruction that Iudas had done.)

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, hee made him high prieſt, and commaunded him to be auenged of ẏ children of Iſrael.

10 So they departed (from the king) and came with a great hoſte into the lande of Iuda, ſending meſſengers to Iudas and his brethren, and ſpeaking vnto them w̄ peaceable wordes, but vnder deceyte.

11 Therefore Iudas and his people beleeued not their ſaying, for they ſawe that they were come with a great hoſt.

12 After this, came the ſcribes together vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreate of reaſonable couenantes:

13 And the Aſidians were the firſt among the children of Iſrael that required peace of them,

C 14 Saying, Alcimus the prieſt is come of the ſeede of Aaron, howe can he deceyue vs though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louing wordes, and ſwore vnto them, and ſayde, We will do you no harme, neither your friendes.

16 And they beleeued him: but the very ſame day toke he threeſcore men of them and ſlue them according to the wordes that are written,

17 They haue caſt the fleſhe of thy ſaintes, and ſhed their bloud rounde about Ieruſalem, and there was no man that would burye them.

18 So there came a greate feare and dread among al the people ſaying, There is neither truthe nor righteouſneſſe in them: for they haue broken the appoyntment and othe that they made.

19 And Bacchides remoued his hoſt from Ieruſalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he ſent forth, and toke many of them that had forſaken him: he ſlue many of the people alſo, and caſt them into a great pit.

20 Then committed he the lande vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides him ſelfe went vnto the king.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his hygh prieſthood. D

22 And all ſuche as vexed Iſrael, reſorted vnto him: inſomuche that they obteyned the lande of Iuda, and did much euil vnto the Iſraelites.

23 Nowe when Iudas ſawe all the miſchiefe that Alcimus and his company had done, (yea more than the heathen themſelues) vnto the Iſralites:

24 He went forth rounde aboute all the borders of Iurie, and puniſhed thoſe vnfaithfull rundagates, ſo that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus ſawe that Iudas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, & that he was not able to abide them: he went agayne to the king, and ſayde al the worſt of them that he coulde.

26 Then the king ſente Nicanor, one of his chiefe princes, which bare euil wil vnto Iſrael, and commaunded him, that he ſhould vtterly deſtroy the people.

27 So Nicanor, came to Ieruſalem with a greate hoſte, and ſente vnto Iudas and his brethren with friendly wordes, but vnder deceite, ſaying, 2. Mac. 15. 8

28 There ſhall be no war betwixt me and you, I will come with a fewe men to ſee how ye do with friendſhip. E

29 Upon this he came vnto Iudas, and they ſaluted one another peaceably: but the enimies were appointed to take Iudas by violence.

30 Neuertheleſſe, it was tolde Iudas, that he came vnto him but vnder deceite: wherfore he gate hym awaye from hym, and woulde ſee his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceyued that his counſel was bewrayed, hee went out to fight agaynſt Iudas, beſide" Capharſalama: "or, Carphsalama.

32 Where there were ſlayne of Nicanors hoſte fiue thouſande men: and the reſidue fledde vnto the castel of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priestes, with the Elders of the people, went forth to salute him peaceably, and to shewe him the burnt sacrifices that were offered for the king.

34 But he laughed them and the people to scorn, mocked them, defiled their offerings, and spake disdainefully:

2.Mac.14.a 35 Yea, and sware in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his host be not deliuered nowe into my hands, assone as euer I come again ¶ farewel, I shal burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

F 36 Then the priestes came in, and stood before the aulter of the Temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forsomuche as thou O Lorde hast chosen this house, ẏ thy name might be called vpon therein, ¶ that it should be an house of prayer, and petition for thy people:

Esai.56.b. 38 Be auenged of this man, and his host, and let them be slayne with the sworde: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Ierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethoron, and there an host met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adarsa with three thousande men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying.

Esai.37.f.f 41 O Lorde, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went forth and slue an hundred, fourescore, and fiue thousande of them:

42 Euen so destroy thou this host before vs to day, that other people may knowe how that he hath blasphemed thy sanctuarie, and punish him according to his maliciousnesse.

2.Mac.15.d. 43 And so the hostes stroke the feelde the thirtienth day of the moneth "Adar: and Nicanors host was discomfited, and hee him selfe was fyrst slayne in the battel.

"Februarie

44 When Nicanors men of warre, sawe ẏ he was killed, they cast away their weapons, and fledde:

45 But the Iewes followed vpon them a whole dayes iourney, from Adazer, vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpettes, and making tokens after them.

G 46 So the Iewes came forth of all the townes round about, and blewe out their hornes vppon them, and turned agaynst them: thus were they all slayne, and not one of them left.

47 Then they toke their substance for a pray, and smote of Nicanors head, and his right hande which he helde vp so proudely, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Ierusalem. 2.Mac.

48 Wherfore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeyned that the same day, (namely) the thirtienth day of the moneth Adar, should be kept in myrth euery yere.

50 Thus the lande of Iuda was in rest a little while.

The.viij. Chapter.

2. Iudas considering the power and godly policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22. The rescript of the Romanes sente vnto the Iewes.

1 IUdas heard also the fame of the Romanes, that they were mightie, and valiant men, and agreeable to all things that are required of them, and make peace with al men which come vnto them, I

2 And howe they were doughtie menne of strength: besides that, it was tolde him of their battels and noble actes wh iche they did in Galatia, howe they had conquered thē, ¶ brought them vnder tribute,

3 And what great things they had donne in Spaine: how that with their wyledome and sober behauiour, they had wonne the mines of syluer ¶ golde that are there,

4 And obteyned all the lande, wyth other places farre from them: howe they hadde discomfited and slayne downe the kinges that came vpon them, from the vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yeere.

5 How they had slayne and ouercome Philip, and Perses king of "Cethim, and other moe in battel, which had brought their ordinaunce against them: "or, the

6 How they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that woulde needes fyght with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephantes, with horsemen, charets, and a very great host:

7 How they toke him selfe alyue, and ordained him, with suche as should raigne after him, to pay them a greate tribute, yea and to finde them good sureties and pledge besides al this:

8 Howe they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best lands, and giuen them to king Eumenus:

9 Agayne, howe they perceiuing that the Greekes were comming to vexe them,

10 Sent agaynste them a captayne of an host, hoſt, which gaue them battel, ſlue many of them, led away their wiues and children captiue, ſpoyled them, toke poſſeſſion of their lande, & deſtroyed their ſtrong holdes, & ſubdued them to be their bondmen, vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, howe that as for other kingdomes and Iles, which ſometime withſtode them, they deſtroyed them, & brought them vnder their dominion.

12 But kept amitie with their owne frendes, and thoſe that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both far and nigh: and that whoſoeuer hearde of their renowme, was afrayde of them.

13 For whome they woulde helpe to their kingdomes, thoſe raigned: and whom it liked not them to raigne, they put them downe: and how they were come to great preheminience,

14 Hauing no king among them, neyther any man clothed in purple to be magnified therethrough:

15 But had ordayned them ſelues a "parliament, wherein there ſat three hundred and twentie Senatours daply vpon the counſel, to diſpatche euer the buſineſſe of the people, and to kepe good order:

16 And howe that euery yeere they chose a "Mayre to haue gouernance of all their lande, to whome euery man was obedient and there was neither ciuill wil, nor diſſention among them.

17 Then Iudas chose Eupolemus, the ſon of "Iohn, the ſonne of Iacob, and Iaſon, the ſonne of Eleazer, and ſente them to Rome, for to make friendſhip, and a bond of loue with them, 18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Greekes: for the Iewes ſawe that the Greekes would ſubdue the kingdome of Iſrael.

19 So they went vnto Rome, a very great iourney, and came vnto the "Parliament and ſayde, 20 Iudas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath ſent vs vnto you, to make a bonde of friendſhip and peace with you, and ye to note vs as louers and friendes.

21 And that matter pleaſed the Romanes your right wel.

22 Wherefore it was written vp: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of braſſe, and ſent it to Ieruſalem, that they might haue by them a memorial of the ſame peace and bonde of frendſhip, after this manner.

23 God ſaue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by ſea and by land, and keepe the ſworde and enimie from them for euermore:

24 If there come firſt any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their frendes thorowout all their dominion, 25 The people of the Iewes ſhal helpe the, as the time requireth, and that with all their hartes.

26 Alſo they ſhal neither giue nor ſend vnto their enimies victayles, weapons, money, nor ſhippes: but fulfil their couenantes at the Romanes pleaſure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Agayne, if the people of the Iewes happen firſt to haue warre, the Romanes ſhal ſtande by them with a good wyll, according as the time will ſuffer:

28 Neyther ſhall they giue vnto the Iewes enimies victayles, weapõs, money, or ſhippes: thus are the Romanes content to do, and ſhall fulfil their charge without any deceite.

29 According to theſe articles, the Romanes made the bond with the Iewes.

30 Now after theſe articles (ſayde they) if any of the parties wil put to them, or take any thing from them, they ſhall doe it with the conſent of both: and whatſoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it ſhal ſtande faſt.

31 And as touching the euil that Demetrius hath donne vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, ſaying, Wherefore layeſt thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our friendes and louers?

32 If they make any complaint of thee agayne vnto vs, we ſhall defende them, and fight with thee by ſea and by lande, according to iuſtice.

The.ix.Chapter.

1. After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius ſendeth his armie agaynſte Iudas. 18. Iudas is ſlaine. 34. Ionathas is put in the ſteede of his brother. 47. The ſtryfe betweene Ionathas & Bacchides. 55. Alſimus is taken with the palſie, and dyeth. Bacchides returneth agayne vnto the king. 68. He commeth vpon Ionathas by the counſel of certaine wicked perſons, and is ouercome. 70. The truce of Ionathas with Bacchides.

1 IN the meane ſeaſon, when Demetrius hearde that Nicanor and his hoſt was ſlayne in the fielde, he proceeded further, to ſende Bacchides, and Alcimus againe into Iurie and the chiefe strength of his host with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tentes before Masaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wan the citie, & slue much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their host, and layde their siege against Ierusalem:

4 But rayling their campe, they came to Berea, with twentie thousand footemen, and two thousand horsemen.

or, Elena, 5 Nowe Iudas had pitched his tent at" Laisa, with three thousande chosen men, 6 And when they sawe the multitude of the other armie, that it was so great, they were sore afraide, and many conueyed thē selues out of the host, insomuch that there abode no more of them, but eyght hundred men.

B 7 When Iudas sawe that his host failed him, & that he must needes fyght, it brake his hart, that hee had no tyme to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless, he saide vnto them that remayned with hym: vp, let vs goe against our enimies, peraduenture we shal be able to fyght with them.

9 But they would haue stopped him, saying, We shall not be able: therefore nowe let vs saue our liues, and turne agayne to our brethren: for shoulde we fight against them, being so fewe?

a. He whiche was wont to pray and ouercome, is ouercome when he truste th in his strength, and omitteth prayer.

10 And Iudas saide, (a) God forbid that we should flee from them: wherfore if our tyme become, let vs dye manfully for our brethren, & let vs not stayne our honour.

11 Then the host remoued out of the tentes, and stode against them, and the horsemen, were diuided in two partes: the sling casters and archers went before the host, and all the mightie men were formost in the fielde.

12 Bacchides him selfe was in the right wing of the battell, and the hoste, drewe nigh in two parts & blew the trumpettes.

13 They of Iudas syde blewe the trumpets also, and the earth shoke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a feelde from the morowe til night.

C 14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides host was strongest on the right side, he toke with him al the hardie men, 15 And brake the right wing of their order, & folowed vpon thē vnto mount Azot.

16 Nowe when they whiche were the left wyng, sawe that the right side was discomfited, they pursued Iudas and them that were with him harde at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battel: for many were slaine & wounded on both ỳ partes.

18 Iudas also him selfe was killed, and the remnant fledde.

19 So Ionathas and Simon toke Iudas their brother, and buried him in his fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And al the people of Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned long, saying.

21 Alas, that this worthy should be slayne, D which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other thinges pertayning to the battels of Iudas, the noble actes that he dyd and of his worthinesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

Iosephus ca. 3. lib. 13.

23 Nowe after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coastes of Israel, & there arose al such as did worke vngodlynesse.

24 In those dayes, was there a great dearth in the lande, and all the countrey gaue ouer thē selues & theirs vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, and made them Lordes in the lande.

26 These sought out and made searche for Iudas friendes, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged him selfe vpon them with greate dispite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the tyme that no prophete was seene there.

28 Then came all Iudas friendes toge- E ther, and sayde vnto Ionathas:

29 For so muche as thy brother Iudas is deade, there is none like him to goe forth against our enimies, against Bacchides, & such as are aduersaries of our own people.

30 Wherefore this day we chose thee for him, to be our prince and captaine, to order our battel.

31 And Ionathas toke the gouernance vpon him at the same tyme, & ruled in stede of his brother Iudas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge therof, he sought for to slay him.

33 But Ionathas and Simon his brother, perceiuing that, fledde into the wildernesse of Thecua, with all their companie, and pitched their tentes by the water pole of Asphar.

34 Whiche when Bacchides vnderstode, he came ouer Iordane with all his host, vpon the Sabboth day.

35 Nowe had Ionathas sente his brother (Iohn) a captaine of the people, to praye his his freendes the Nabuthites, that they woulde lende them their ordinaunce, for they had muche.

36 So the children of "Jambri came out of Madaba, and toke John, and all that he had, and went their way withal, when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Jonathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Zambri made a great mariage, & brought the bride frō Madaba, with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

f 38 Wherfore they remembred the bloode of John their brother, and went vp, and hyd them selues vnder the shadowe of the mountaine.

39 So they lyfte vp their eyes, and loked, & beholde, there was muche a dw, and great preparation: for the bryde grome came forth, and his freendes, and his brethren met them, with tympanies, instrumeuts of musicke, and many weapons.

40 Then Jonathas, & they that were with him, rose out of their lurking places against them, and slue many of them, and the remnant fledde into the mountaines, and they toke all their substance.

41 Thus ỹ mariage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of their melodie, into lamentation.

42 And so when they had auenged the (a) bloo of their brother, they turned agayne vnto Jordane.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the brye border of Jordane with a greate power, vpon the Sabboth day.

44 And Jonathas sayde to his company, Let vs get vp, and fight againste our enimies: for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past.

45 Beholde, our enimies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with bankes, fens, and woddes, on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

46 Wherfore crye nowe vnto heauen, that ye may bee deliuered from the power of your enimies: so they stroke the battel.

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides, but he fled backwarde.

48 Then Jonathas & they that were with him, leapt into Jordane, and swymmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other woulde not passe ouer Jordane after him.

49 And there were slaine of Bacchides side that day a thousande men.

50 Therfore Bacchides with his hoste turned againe to Jerusalem, and built vp the castels & strong holds that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethorō, Bethel, Thamnata, "Phara, and "Thopo, with hyghe walles, with portes, and with lockes:

"or, Pharathoni.
"or, Tephon.

51 And sette men to keepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castel, and prouided them with men and vittailes.

53 He tokealso the cheefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castel at Jerusalem to be kept.

54 Afterwarde, in the hundred fiftie and three yeere, in the seconde moneth, Alcimus commaunded that they shoulde destroy the walles of the inwarde court of the sanctuarie, and he pulled downe, and beganne to destroy the monumentes of the Prophetes.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and smitten with a paulsie, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped (by God) so that he could no more speake, nor commaunde any of his house concerning his businesse.

56 Thus dyed Alcimus in great miserie at the same time.

57 And whē Bacchides saw that Alcimus was deade, he turned againe to the king: and so the lande was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathas and his cōpanie are at ease, and dwell without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hyther, and he shall take them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsell.

60 Which arose, to come with a great hoste, and sent letters priuily to his adherentes whiche were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with him: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuice.

61 And Jonathas toke fyftie men of the countrey, whiche were the ringleaders of them, and slue them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon with their companie departed vnto the citie "Bethbasin, whiche lyeth in the wyldernesse, and repayred the decay thereof, and made it strong.

"or, Bethbessen.

63 When Bacchides knewe this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent worde to them that were in Jurie.

64 Then came he and layde siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and made instrumentes of warre.

65 Nowe Jonathas left his brother Simon in the citie, and went forth him selfe into the countrey, and came with a certaine number, 66 And slue "Odomeras, and his brethren, & the children of Phaleron in their tentes, so that hee beganne to be strong, and to increase in power.

67 As for Simon and his company, they went out of the citie, and brent vp the instrumentes of warre.

68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore vexed, because his counsell and trauayle was in vayne.

69 Wherefore, he was wroth at the wicked men (a) that gaue him counsell to come into their lande, and slue many of them: then purposed he with his companie to go away into his owne countrey.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadours vnto him, for to make peace with him, & that he shoulde deliuer his prisoners agayne.

71 To the whiche Bacchides consented gladly, & did according to his desire: yea, and made an othe that he should neuer do him harme, all the dayes of his life.

72 So hee restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the lande of Juda, & then turned & went his way into his owne lande, neyther proceeded he any further to come vnto ẏ borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, & Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and beganne there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

"or, Odarth.

a. Wicked counsell falleth on the counsellours.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Demetrius desyreth to haue peace with Ionathas. 48. Alexander mooueth warre agaynst Demetrius. 50. Demetrius is slaine. 51. The freendshippe of Ptolomeus and Alexander.

A 1 IN the hundred and threescore yeere, came Alexander, the sonne of noble "Antiochus, and toke Ptolomais, whose cytizens receyued him, and there hee raygned.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceeding greate host, and went forth agaynst him to fight.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas with louing wordes, and praysed him greatly.

4 For he sayde: we will firste make peace with him, before he bynde him selfe with Alexander agaynst vs:

5 Els he shall remember the euill that wee haue done agaynst him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an host, to make weapons, and to be confederate with him, and commaunded the pledges that were in the castel to bee deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, & read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in ẏ castel.

8 And therefore were they sore afrayde, because they hearde that the king had giuen him licence to gather an host.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, whiche restored them to their parentes.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Jerusalem, and began to buyld vp, and to repayre ẏ citie:

11 Commaunding the workemen to wall it and the mounte Sion rounde about with free stone, to be a strong holde: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castels, which Bacchides had made vp, they fledde:

13 So that euery man lefte the place, and went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethsura remayned certaine of the Jewes, which had forsaken the law and commaundements of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Nowe when king Alexander hearde of the promises that Demetrius hadde made vnto Jonathas, & when it was tolde him of the battels and noble actes, whiche he, and his brethren had done, & of the greate trauayles that they had taken.

16 He sayde, Where shall we finde suche a man? well, we will make him our freend, and be confederate with him.

17 Upon this, he wrote a letter vnto him, with these wordes:

18 Kyng Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas.

19 We haue hearde of thee, that thou art a valiant man, and meete to be our friende:

20 Wherefore, this day we ordeyne thee to be the highe priest of thy people, and to be called the kings freende, (Upon this, he sent him a purple clothing, and a crowne of golde) that thou mayest consider what is for our profite, and keepe freendship towarde vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vppon the solempne

"or, Epiphanes.

lemne feaſt day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vpon him: then gathered he an hoſte, and prepared many weapons.

D 22 Which when Demetrius heard, he was maruellous ſore, 23 And ſayde, Alas what haue we done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the friendſhip of the Iewes, for his owne defence?

24 Yet will I write louingly vnto them alſo, yea, and promiſe them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my ſide.

25 Whereupon he wrote vnto them theſe wordes: King Demetrius ſendeth greeting vnto the people of the Iewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenaunt towarde vs, and continued in our friendſhippe, not enclining to our enimies, we were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wherefore remaine ſtill, and be faithful to vs, and we ſhal wel recompence you for the things that you haue done on our partie:

28 We ſhall releaſe you of many charges, and giue you rewardes.

E 29 And nowe I diſcharge you and all the Iewes from tributes, I forgiue you the cuſtomes of ſalte, and releaſe you of the crowne taxes, of the thirde part of ſeede, 30 And halfe the fruite of trees, whiche is myne owne dutie, I do releaſe them from this day forth, ſo that they ſhall not be taken of the lande of Juda, nor of the three cities, whiche are added therevnto out of Samaria and Galilee, frō this day forth for euermore.

31 Jeruſalem alſo, with all things belonging thereto, ſhall be holy and free, yea, the tithes, and tributes ſhall perteine vnto it.

32 As for the power of the caſtell whiche is at Jeruſalem, I remit, and gyue it vnto the highe prieſt, that he may ſet in it ſuche men as he ſhal chooſe to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Iewes that are priſoners throughout all my realme, ſo that euery one of them ſhall be free from paying any tribute, yea, euē of their cattel.

34 All the ſolemne feaſtes, Sabbothes, new mones, the dayes appoynted, the three dayes before and after the feaſt, ſhall be free for all the Iewes in my realme.

35 So that in them, no man ſhall haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of thē in any manner of cauſe.

36 There ſhall thirtie thouſande alſo of the Iewes be written vp in the kings hoſte, and haue their wages payde as all other men of warre of the kings ſhoulde haue: and of them ſhall be ordeyned certayne to keepe the kings ſtrong holdes.

37 Yea, and ſome of them ſhall be ſet ouer the kings ſecrete affayres: and their gouernours and princes ſhall be of them ſelues, and liue after their own lawes, as the king hath commaunded in the lande of Juda.

38 And the three cities that are taine vnto Jurie from the countrey of Samaria, ſhal be taken as Jurie, and be vnder one, neyther be ſubiect to any ſtrange lorde, but to the highe prieſt.

39 As for Ptolomais and the lande perteining thereto, I giue it vnto the ſanctuarie at Jeruſalem, for the neceſſarie expences of the holie things. F

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yeere, fyftene thouſand ſicles of ſiluer, of the kings reuenues, out of the places appertayning vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not paied for things due, as they did in the former yeeres, from henceforth they ſhall giue it, towarde the workes of the temple.

42 And beſides this, the fiue thouſand ſicles of ſiluer which they receyued yerely of the account appoynted, for the entertainment of the ſanctuarie, theſe yeeres paſſed, euen theſe things ſhall be releaſed, becauſe they appertaine to the prieſtes that miniſter.

43 Item, who ſo euer they be, that flee vnto the temple at Jeruſalem, or within the liberties thereof, whereas they are taine into the kings danger for any manner of buſineſſe, they ſhall be pardoned, and all the goodes that they haue in my realme ſhall be free.

44 For the buylding alſo, and repayring of the worke of the ſanctuarie, expences ſhall be giuen out of the kings reuenues:

45 Yea, and for the making of the walles rounde about Jeruſalem, for the breaking downe of the olde, and for the ſetting vp of the ſtrong holdes in Jurie, ſhall the coſtes and charges be gyuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Jonathas and the people heard theſe words, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednes that hee had done vnto Iſrael, and howe ſore he had vexed them. 1.Mac.7.b

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt friendly with them, & ſo they ſtode by him alway. Ioſe.cap.6.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoſte, and brought his armie againſt Demetri- lib.13.

metrius:

49 So the two kings ſtroke battell together, but Demetrius hoſte fled, and Alexander folowed after, and fell vpon them.

50 A mightie ſore fielde was it, continuing till the ſunne went downe: and Demetrius was ſlayne the ſame day.

51 And Alexander ſent Imbaſſadours vnto Ptolomie, ℣ king of Egypt, with theſe wordes, ſaying, 52 For ſo muche as I am come againe to my realme, and am ſet in the throne of my progenitours, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered the lande, and ſtriken a fielde with him, ſo that we haue diſcõfited both him, and his hoſte, and ſit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs nowe make friendſhip together, giue me thy daughter to wife, ſo ſhall I be thy ſonne in lawe, and both giue thee rewards, & vnto me according to thy dignitie.

55 Ptolomie the king gaue anſwer, ſaying, Happy be the day wherein thou arte come againe to the lande of thy progenitours, and ſet in the throne of their kingdome.

56 And now will I fulfill thy writing: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may ſee one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thee, according to thy deſire

57 So Ptolomie went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais, in the hundred threeſcore and two yeere, 58 Where king Alexander met him, and he gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and marryed them at Ptolomais wyth great worſhip, like as the maner of kyngs is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he ſhould come and meet him.

60 So he wente honourably vnto Ptolomais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them and their friends great preſents of golde, and ſilver, and founde fauour in their ſight.

61 And there came together againſt Jonathas, certaine wicked men and vngratious perſons of Iſraell, making complaints of him: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commaunded to take of his garmentes, and to cloth him in purple: and ſo they did. Then the king appoynted him to ſit by him.

63 And ſayde vnto his princes, Goe wyth him into the midſt of the citie, and make a proclamation that no man complayne againſte him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cauſe.

64 So it happened, that when his accuſers ſawe the worſhip which was proclaymed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled every one.

65 And the king made muche of him, wrote him among his chiefe friendes, made him a Duke, and partaker of his dominion.

66 Thus Jonathas went againe to Jeruſalem, with peace and gladneſſe.

67 In the hundred threeſcore and fift yeere, came Demetrius, the ſonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers lande:

68 Whereof when Alexander heard tell, he was right ſory, & returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius choſe Apollonius, which had the gouernance of Celoſyria, to be his captaine: ſo he gathered a great hoſte, and came vnto Jamnia, and ſent worde vnto Jonathas the high prieſt, ſaying, 70 Dareſt thou withſtande vs thy ſelfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to ſcorne, and ſhamed, bycauſe thou diddeſt vaunt thy ſtrength againſt vs in the mountaynes.

71 Now therefore, if thou truſteſt in thine owne ſtrength, come downe to vs into the playne fielde, and there let vs trie the matter together, for thou ſhalt knowe, that I haue the ſtrength of many cities.

72 And ſhalt knowe who I am, and the other that ſtande by me, whiche ſay, That your ſwte is not able to ſtande before our face, for thy fathers haue bene twice chaſed in their owne lande.

73 And nowe howe wilt thou be able to abide ſo great an hoſt of horſmen and fotmen in the field, whereas is neither rocke, ſtone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas hearde the wordes of Apollonius, he was moued in his mynde, wherefore he choſe tenne thouſande men, and went out of Jeruſalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tentes at Joppa: but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius garriſon was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas layde ſiege to it, and they that were in the citie, for verie feare, let him in: & ſo Jonathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, toke three thouſande horſemen, with a great hoſte on fote, and went to Azotus, as though he would go further, and came immediately into the playne fielde, bycauſe he had ſo many horſmen, and put his truſt in them.

78 So Jonathas folowed vpon him to Azotus, and the armie ſkirmiſhed with his rear-

trareward, & there they stroke the battell.
79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousand horsmen behynd them priuily in the tents.
80 And when Jonathas knewe that suche wayte was layde behinde them, they went rounde about the enimies hoste, and shot darts at the people, from the morning to the euening.
81 As for Jonathas people, they kept their order, as hee had commaunded them, and the enimies horses were weery.
82 Then brought Simon forth his hoste, and set them agaynst the fotemen (for the horsemen were weery alreadie:) so he discomfited them, and they fled.
83 And they that were scattered in ỹ fielde, gate them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idoll, that they might there saue their liues.
84 But Jonathas set fyre vppon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, and toke their goods, and brent vp the tẽple of Dagon, with all them that were fled into it.
85 Thus were slayne and brent well nygh eyght thousande men.
86 So Jonathas remoued the hoste from thence, and brought them to Ascalon, wher the men of the citie came forth, and met him with great worshyp.
87 After this, went Jonathas and his host again to Jerusalem, with great substance of good.
88 And when kyng Alexander hearde these things, he thought to do Jonathas more worshyp.
89 And sent him a coller of golde, as the vse is to be giuen vnto such as are of the kings next bloud: he gaue him also the citie of Accaron, with the lands belonging therto, in possession.

The.xi.Chapter.

1. The dissention betwixte Ptolomeus, and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17. The death of Alexander. 19. Demetrius raygneth after the death of Ptolomeus. 22. Sion is besieged of Ionathas. 42. Demetrius seeing that no man resisteth him, sendeth his armie agayne. 54. Tryphon moueth Antiochus agaynst Demetrius. 60. Demetrius is deliuered by the succour of Ionathas. 63. After his deliuerance he breaketh his couenãt that he had made.

1 AND the king of Egypt gathered an hoste like the sand that lyeth vpon the sea shore, and many shippes, and went about through deceyte to obteyne the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioyne it vnto his owne realme.
2 Upon this, he toke his iourney into Syria, vsing gentle wordes, so that he was letten into the cities, and men came forth to meete him: for king Alexander had commaunded them so to doe, bycause hee was his father in lawe.
3 Nowe when Ptolomie entered into any citie, he lefte men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout all the cities.
4 And when he came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was brent vp, with the other thinges which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abroade, and the graues that they had made by the way syde for suche as were slayne in the fielde, 2.Ma.10.83
5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these things, to the intent they myght get him euill will: but the kyng sayde not one word thereto.
6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one an other, and toke their rest.
7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king, vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Jerusalem. B
8 Nowe Ptolomie had gotten the dominion of the cities, vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coaste, imagining wicked counsels agaynst Alexander, 9 And sent Ambassadours vnto Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a bonde betwixt vs, so shall I giue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt raigne in thy fathers kingdome.
10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.
11 And thus he slaundered Alexander, bycause he would haue had his realme.
12 Thus he toke his daughter from him, gaue hir vnto Demetrius, and forsoke Alexander: so that his malice was openly knowne.
13 And Ptolomie came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his owne heade, the crowne of Egypt, and of Asia.
14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against him. C
15 But when Alexander heards of this, he came to warre agaynst him: so king Ptolomie brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mighty power, & chased him away.
16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian, smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolomi.

18 But the third day after dyed king Ptolomi him selfe, and they whome he had set in the strong holdes, were slayne one of another.

19 And Demetrius raigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas the that were in Jurie, to lay siege vnto the castell whiche was at Jerusalem, and so they made many instrumentes of warre against it.

21 Then went there certayne vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and tolde him that Jonathas besieged the castell.

D 22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediately came vnto Ptolomais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he shoulde not lay siege to the castell, but come and speake with him at Ptolomais in all hast.

23 Neuertheless, when Jonathas heard this, he commaunded to besiege it: he chose also certaine of the elders and priestes of Israell, and put him selfe in perill, 24 And toke with him golde, siluer, clothing, and diuers presentes, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and found him gratious.

25 And though certein vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon him,

1.Mac.10.d 26 Yet the king entreated him, like as his predecessours had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friendes, 27 Confirmed him in the highe priesthode, with all the worship that he had afore, and made him his chiefe frend.

E 28 Jonathas also desyred the king, that he 1.Ma.10.e. woulde make Jurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the landes perteyning thereto: vpon this did Jonathas promise him three hundred talents.

29 Wherevnto the king consented & gaue Jonathas writing of the same, conteining these wordes:

30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 We sende you heere a copie of the letter which we did write vnto our chosen Lasthenes concerning you, that ye shoulde knowe it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenes his father.

33 For the faithfulnesse that our friendes the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kyndnesse which they beare towarde vs, we are determined to doe them good.

34 Wherefore we assigne vnto the coastes of Judea, the three gouernmentes, Aferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Jurie from Samaria, and all the landes perteyning therevnto, to be freely separated for suche as doe sacrifice in Jerusalem, both concerning the paymentes whiche the king toke yeerely afortime, and the fruite also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tithes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharge them therof from this time forth. F

36 In like manner we graunt vnto them all the customes of salte, and crowne taxes, whiche were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shal they haue firme and stedfast, from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therefore, see that ye make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be set vpon the holie mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king sawe that his lande was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his hoste, euery man to his owne place, excepte certaine bandes of straungers, whome he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers hoste hated him.

39 Nowe was there one Tryphon that had 1.Ma. beene of Alexanders parte afore, whiche when he sawe that all the hoste murmured against Demetrius, he went to Samalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander, 40 And laye fore vpon him to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might raigne in his fathers steed: he told him also what great euil Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre loued him not: and so remayned there a long season.

41 And Jonathas sent vnto kyng Demetrius, to driue them out which were in the castell at Jerusalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they did Israell great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent worde vnto Jonathas, saying, I will not only doe these things for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I will doe both thee and thy people great worship.

43 But nowe thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt sende me men to helpe me: for all myne armie is gone fro me.

44 So Jonathas sent him three thousande strong men vnto Antioch, and they came vnto vnto the king, wherefore the king was verie glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thoulande men, gathered them together in the middeſt of the citie, and would haue ſlayne the king:

46 Whiche fledde into his court, and the citizens kept the ſtreates of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Jewes help, which came vnto him altogether, and went abroad through the citie, 48 And ſlue the ſame day an hundred thouſand men, ſet fire vpon the citie, and gate many ſpoyles in that daye, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens ſawe that the Jewes had gotten their wyll of the citie, and they themſelues diſappoynted of their purpoſe, they made their ſupplication vnto the king, ſaying,

50 Graunt vs peace, and let the Jewes ceaſe from troubling vs, and the citie:

51 And vppon this, they caſte away their weapons. Thus they made peace, and the Jewes gate great worſhip in the ſight of the king, and in the ſight of all that were in his realme, and were ſpoken of through out the kingdome: and ſo they came agayne to Jeruſalem with great goods.

52 So the king Demetrius ſat in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in hys lande.

53 Neuertheleſſe, he diſſembled in all that euer he ſpake, and withdrew him ſelf from Jonathas, neyther rewarded him accoꝛding to the benefites whiche he had done for him, but troubled him very ſore.

54 After this came Tryphon agayne with yong Antiochus, which raygned, and was crowned king.

55 Then there gathered vnto hym all the men of warre whome Demetrius had put away, theſe fought againſt Demetrius: which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon toke the Elephantes, and wanne Antioch.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathas, ſaying, I confyrme thee in thy prieſthode, and make thee ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayeſt be a friende of the kings.

58 Upon this, he ſent him golden veſſels to be ſerued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in golde, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a coller of golde.

59 He made his brother Simon alſo captayne, from the coaſtes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathas toke his iourney, and went through the cities beyonde the water of Jordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered them vnto him for to helpe him: ſo hee came vnto Aſcalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went he to Gaza, but they would not let him in: wherefore he laid ſiege vnto it, burning vp and ſpoiling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza ſubmitted them ſelues vnto Jonathas, which made peace with them: but toke of their ſonnes to pledge, ſent them to Jeruſalem, and went through the coũtry vnto Damaſcus.

63 Now when Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great hoſt, purpoſing to driue him out of the countrey:

64 He came againſt them, and left Simon his brother in the lande.

65 And Simon came to Bethſura, and layd ſiege to it a long ſeaſon, and diſcomfited them.

66 So they deſired to haue peace with him: which he graunted them, and afterwarde put them out from thence, toke the citie, and ſet men to keepe it.

67 And Jonathas with his hoſte came to the water of Geneſar, and betymes in the morning gate them to the playne fielde of Azor:

68 And beholde, the hoſtes of the heathen met them in the fielde, and layde watche for them in the mountaines:

69 So that when Jonathas came againſt them, the other which were laide to watch, roſe out of their places and fought,

70 And they that were of Jonathas ſyde fled euery man, and there was not one of them left, except Mathathias the ſonne of Abſalomus, and Judas the ſonne of Calphie, the captaine of the hoſte.

71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his heade, (a) made his prayer, a. Behold the effect of praier

72 And turned agayne to them in the field, where they fought together, and hee put them to flight.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fledde, ſawe this, they returned againe vnto him, and helped him to folowe vpon all their enimies vnto their tentes, at Cades, and there they camped, 74 So there were ſlayne of the heathen the ſame day three thouſand men, and Jonathas turned againe to Jeruſalem.

The

The.xij. Chapter.

1. Ionathas sendeth Ambassadours to Rome. 2. and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of friendship. 20. Ionathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40. Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceyte.

A 1 IOnathas seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and 1.Ma.7.a. sent them vnto Rome, for to stablysh and to renue the friendship with them:

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner.

3 So they wente vnto Rome, and entred *or, senate. into the * counsell, and sayde, Ionathas the high prest, & the people of the Iewes, sente vs vnto you, for to renue the olde friendship and bonde of loue.

4 Vpon this, the Romanes gaue them free passportes, that men shoulde leade them home into the lande of Iuda peaceably,

5 And this is the copie of the letters that Ionathas wrote vnto the Spartians.

6 Ionathas the hygh prieste, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Iewes, sende greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

B 7 There were letters sent long agoe vnto *or, Darius. Onias the high prest, from * Arius, which then raigned among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie heere vnder written doth specifie.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassadour that was sent honourably, and receiued the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bonde of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we need no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our handes to our comfort.

10 Neuertheless, we had rather sende vnto
you. for the renuing of the brotherhode and friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent word vnto vs.

11 Wherfore, in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the hyghe solemne dayes, and other, we alway remember you without ceassing, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren.

12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though we haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kings about vs, haue fought against vs;

C 14 Yet woulde we not be greeuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and friendes in these warres.

15 For we haue had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliue-red, and our enimies subdued.

16 Wherefore, we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Iason, and sente them vnto the Romanes, for to renue the olde * bonde of *or, kyng friendship and loue with them.

17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhode.

18 And nowe ye shall do right well, to giue vs an answere therevnto.

19 And this is the copie of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the high prest.

21 It is founde in writing, that the Spar-tians and Iewes are brethren, and come D out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our mynde vnto you, our cattell and goods are yours, and yours ours: these things haue we commaunded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Ionathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fight against him, with a greater host than afore,

25 He went from Ierusalem, and met them in the lande of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne countrie.

26 And hee sente spyes vnto their tentes, whiche came againe, and tolde him that they were appoynted to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore, when the sunne was gone E downe, Ionathas commaunded his men to watche all the night, and to be readie with weapons for to fight, and set watchmen rounde about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries hearde that Ionathas was ready with his men to the battell, they feared, and were afrayde in their harts, and kindled fires in their tents, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Ionathas and his com-panie knewe it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Ionathas followed vpon them, but he myght not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Ionathas departed vnto the Arabi-ans, which were called Zabadei, slue them and toke their goodes.

32 He

33 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went through all the countrey.

34 But Simon his brother toke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the nexte strong holdes, departing vnto Ioppa, and wanne it, 35 (For he heard that they woulde deliuer the holde to them that toke Demetrius part) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

36 After this came Ionathas home againe, and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them, for to buylde vp the strong holdes in Iurie.

37 And to make vp the walles of Ierusalē higher, to set vp an high wall betwixt the castel and the citie, for to separate it from the citie, that it might be alone, and that men shoulde neither buy nor sell in it.

38 Vpon this, they came together for to builde vp the citie, and for so muche as the wall vpon the broke of the east side, called Caphetetah was falne downe, repaired it.

39 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it.

40 Now when Tryphon purposed to raigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slaye the king Antiochus:

41 He was afrayde that Ionathas would not suffer him, but fyght againste him: wherefore he went about to take Ionathas, and to kyll him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

42 Then went Ionathas forth againste him to the battell, with fourtie thousande chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

43 But when Tryphon sawe that Ionathas came with so great an host to destroy him he was afrayde:

44 And therefore he receyued him honorably, commended him vnto all his friendes, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to him selfe:

45 And sayde vnto Ionathas, Why haste thou caused this people to take such trauel, seeing there is no warre betwixt vs?

46 Therefore sende them home againe, and chose certayne men to wayte vpon thee, and come thou with me to Ptolomais: for I will gyue it thee, with the other strong holdes, men of warre, and their officers: as for me, I must depart, this is only the cause of my comming.

47 Ionathas beleeued him, and did as he sayde, putting away his hoste, which went into the lande of Iuda.

47 Hee kept but three thousande by hym, whereof he sent two thousande into Galilee, and one thousand went with him selfe.

48 Now as soone as Ionathas entred into Ptolomais, the citizens sparred the gates of the citie, and toke him, and slue al them with the sword that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an hoste of footemen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great playne fielde, to destroy all Ionathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Ionathas was taken, and all they slayne that wayted vpon him, they toke counsell together, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fight.

51 So when they which folowed vpon the, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe agayne.

52 As for the other, they went into the land of Iuda peaceably, and bewayled Ionathas, and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were rounde about them, sought to destroy them:

54 For they sayd, Nowe haue they no captayne, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercome them, and rote out their name from among men.

The. xiij. Chapter.

1. After Ionathas is taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17. of whome Tryphon taking his children, and money for the redemption of Ionathas, kylleth him and his children. 25. The graue of Ionathas. 31. Tryphon killeth Antiochus, and possesseth the realme. 36. Demetrius taketh truce with Simon. 43. Simon winneth Gaza. 50. Hee possesseth the tower of Sion. 53. Hee maketh his sonne Iohn captayne.

1 NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the lande of Iuda, and to destroye it, A

2 And sawe that the people was in greate fearefulnesse and care: he came vp to Ierusalem, and gathered the people together.

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Ye knowe what great battayles I, and my brethrē, and my fathers house, haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuarie, and what maner of troubles we haue seene.

4 Through occasion whereof, all my brethren are slayne for Israels sake, and I am lefte alone. 1. Mac. 6. c.

5 And

5 And nowe let not me spare mynne owne life in any maner of trouble, for I am no better than my brethren:

6 But will auenge my people, and the sanctuarie, our children and our wiues: for all the heathen are gathered together to destroy vs, of very malice.

B 7 At these wordes the heartes of the people were kindled together,

8 So that they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Thou shalte be our captayne, in steede of Judas and Jonathas thy brethrē:

9 Order thou our battell, and what so euer thou commaundest vs, we shall do it.

10 So hee gathered all the men of warre, making hast to finish al the walles of Jerusalē, which he made strong round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absalomus, with a freshe hoste, vnto Joppa, whiche droue them out that were in the castell, and remayned there him selfe.

12 Tryphon also remoued from Ptolomais with a great armie, to come into the lande of Juda, and Jonathas with him in ward.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at Addus, or, Addidis. before the playne fielde.

C 14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stode vp in the steede of his brother Jonathas, and that he woulde warre against him, he sent messengers vnto hym, saying, 15 Where as we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that he is owing in the kings account, concerning the businesse that he had in hande.

16 Wherefore sende nowe a hundred talentes of syluer, and his two sonnes for suretie (that when hee is letten forth, hee shall not forsake vs) and we shall send him agayne.

17 Neuertheless, Simon knewe that hee dissembled in his wordes: yet commaunded he the money and children to be deliuered vnto him, least the Israelites might haue hated him, 18 And sayde, Bycause hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon sent him the children, and an hundred talentes: but hee dissembled, and would not let Jonathas goe.

20 Afterwarde came Tryphon into the lande to destroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: but wheresoeuer they went, thyther went Simon and his host also.

D 21 Nowe they that were in the castell, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make hast to come by the wildernesse, and to sende them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made readie all his horsemen, to come the same night: neuertheless, it was a very great snowe, so that he came not, bicause of the snowe, but he remoued, & went into the cuntry of Galaad.

23 And when hee drewe nygh Baschama, he slue Jonathas and his sonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne lande.

25 Then sent Simon for to fetche his brothers dead coarse, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So all Israell bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for hym verie long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father and his brethrē: a building high E to loke vnto, of free stone, behind, & before,

28 And set vp seuen pillers vpon it one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren, 29 And set great pillers round about them, with armes vpon them, for a perpetuall memorie, and carued shyppes beyde the armes, that they myght be seene of men sayling in the sea.

30 This sepulchre whiche he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

31 Now as Tryphon went forth to walke Iose. li. 13. with the yong king Antiochus, he slue him trayterously, 32 And raigned in his steede, crowned him selfe king of Asia, and did mucht euill in the lande.

33 Simon also buylt vp the castels in Jurie, making them strong with high towres great walles, portes, and lockes, and layd vp victuals in the strong holdes.

34 And Simon chose certain men, and sent them to king Demetrius, to desire him that he would discharge the land from all bondage, for Tryphon had spoiled it very sore.

35 Wherevpon Demetrius the kyng answered him, and wrote vnto hym, after this manner,

36 Demetrius the kyng, sendeth greeting vnto Simon the hygh priest his friende, with the elders and people of the Jewes:

37 The golden crowne, and precious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and f are readie to make a stedfast peace with you, yea and to write vnto our officers for to release you, cōcerning the things wherin we made you free.

38 And the appoyntment that we make with you, shall be firme and stable: the strong ſtrong holdes which ye haue buylded, ſhall be your owne.

39 Is for any ouerſight or fault committed vnto this day, we forgiue it, & the crowne tare that ye ought vs alſo: and where as was any other tribute in Ieruſalem, it ſhall nowe be no tribute:

40 And loke who are meete among you to be in our court, let them be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Iſraell, in the hundred and ſeuentith yeere.

42 And the people of the Iewes beganne to wryte in their letters and actes on this maner: In the fyrſte yeere of Simon the high prieſte, a gouernour and prince of the Iewes.

43 In thoſe dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and beſieged it rounde about, where he ſet vp ordinance of warre, and wanne a towre, which he toke.

44 So they that gat into the towre, leapt into the citie, which was in a great feare:

45 In ſo muche that the people of the citie rent their clothes, and clymed vp vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beſeeching Simon to be at one with them, ſaying,

46 Orewarde vs not after our wickednelle, but be gratious vnto vs, (and we ſhal doe thee ſeruice.)

47 Then Simon for verie pitie, wolde fight no more againſt them, but put them out of the citie, and cauſed the houſes wherein the images were, to be cleanſed; and ſo entred the citie with pſalmes of prayſe, giuing thankes vnto the Lorde.

48 So when he had caſt all abhominations out of the citie, he ſet ſuch men in it as kept the law of God, and made the citie ſtrong, and buylded a dwellyng place for hym ſelfe.

49 Nowe when they in the caſtell at Ieruſalem were kept ſo ſtraightly, that they coulde not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, and myght neyther buy nor ſell, they were verie hungry, and many of them famiſhed to death.

50 In ſo muche that they beſought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: ſo he put them out from thence, and cleanſed the caſtell from fylthynelle.

51 And vpon the twentie and three daye of the ſeconde moneth, in the hundred threeſcore and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thankeſgiuing, and branches of Palme trees, with Harpes, Cymbales, and Lutes, ſinging Pſalmes and ſongs of prayſe vnto God, for that the great enimie of Iſraell was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordeined that the ſame day ſhould be kept euery yeere with gladneſſe.

53 And made ſtrong the hyll of the temple that was beſide the caſtell, where he dwelt him ſelfe with his company.

54 Simon alſo perceyuing that John his ſonne was a mightie man of armes, made him captayne of all the hoaſtes, and cauſed him to dwell at " Gaza. " Or, Gazara.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

1. Demetrius is ouercome of Arſaſes. 11. Simon being captayne, there is great quietneſſe in Iſraell. 18. The couenant of friendſhip with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta is renued.

1 IN the hundred threeſcore and twelfth yeere, gathered king Demetrius his hoaſte, and departed vnto Media, to get hym helpe for to fight againſt Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arſaſes the king of Perſia and Media, hearde that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he ſent one of his princes to take him alyue, (and to bring him vnto him.)

3 So he went and ſlue Demetrius hoaſt, toke him ſelfe, brought hym to Arſaſes, which kept him in warde.

4 And all the lande of Iuda was in reſt ſo long as Simon lyued, for he ſought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worſhip alway.

5 Simon wanne the citie of Joppa alſo for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the ſea:

6 He enlarged the borders of his people and conquered them more lande:

7 He gathered vp manye of theyr people that were priſoners, he had the dominion of Gaza, Bethſura, and the caſtell with he cleanſed from fylthynelle, and there was no man that reſiſted him.

8 So that euery man tylled his grounde in peace, the land of Iuda and the trees gaue their fruite and encreaſe.

9 The elders ſat all in iudgemente, and toke their deuiſe for the wealth of the lande, the yong men put on worſhip, and harneſſe vpon them.

10 He prouided victuals for the cities, and made goodly ſtrong holdes of them, ſo that the fame of his worſhip was ſpoken of vnto the end of the world.

Leuit.26.8. 11 For he made peace throughout the lande, and Israell was full of myrth and ioy.

12 Euery man sat vnder his vyne and fig trees, and there was no man to fray them away.

13 There was none in the lande to fyght against them, for then the kings were ouercome.

¶ 14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, hee was diligent to see the lawe kepte: as for suche as were vngodly and wicked, he toke them away.

15 He set vp the sanctuarie, and encreased the holy vessels of the temple.

16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten worde that Jonathas was dead, they were right sorie.

17 But when they hearde that Simon hys brother was made high priest in his stead, and how he had wonne the lande agayne, with the cities in it:

1. Mac.8.c. 6.12.8. 18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the friendship and bonde of loue, whiche they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren.

19 Whiche writings were read before the congregation at Jerusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent:

20 The Senatours and citizens of Sparta, sende greeting vnto Simon the great priest, with the elders, priests, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:

D 21 When your Ambassadours that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worshipp, honour, and prosperous wealth: we were glad of their comming, 22 And haue written the ambassage in the publique recordes in this maner: (namely) that Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason the Jewes Ambassadours, are come vnto vs, for to renue the olde friendship with vs.

23 Upon this the people consented, that the men shoulde be honourably intreated, and that the copie of their ambassage should be written in the speciall bookes of the people, for a perpetuall memorie vnto the Spartians, yea and that we shoulde sende a copie of the same vnto Simon the great priest.

24 After this, dyd Simon send Numenius vnto Rome, with a golden shielde of a thousand pounde wayght, to confyrme the friendship with them.

25 Which when the Romanes vnderstood, they sayd, What thankes shall we recompence againe vnto Simon and his childre?

26 For hee and his brethren, and the house of his father, hath stablyshed Israell, and ouercommed their enimies, wherefore they graunted hym to be free, and confyrmed the libertie thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pyllers in mount Sion.

27 The copie of the wryting is this, The eyghtenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth yeere, in the third yeere of Simon the high priest, €

28 In the great congregation of the priests, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at " Saramell, were these wordes openly declared: " a, Iam.

29 For so muche as there was muche warre in our lande, therefore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the chyldren of Jarib, and his brethren, put them selues in perill, and resisted the enimies of their people, that their sanctuarie & lawe might be mainteyned, and did their people great worshipp. €

30 Jonathas in like maner, after that hee had gouerned his people, and beene their hyghe priest, dyed, and lyeth buryed beside his elders.

31 After that woulde their enimies haue troden their holy things vnder foote, destroyed their lande, and vtterly walled their sanctuarie.

32 Then Simon wythstode them, and fought for his people, spent muche of his owne money, weaponed the valiant men of his people, gaue them wages, 33 Made strong the cities of Juda, wyth Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Jurie, where the ordinance of their enimies lay sometyme, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.

34 Hee made fast Joppa also, whiche lyeth vpon the sea, and " Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enimies dwelte afore, and there he set the Jewes to keepe it: and what so euer was meete for the subduing of the aduersaries, that layde he therein. f " 6.8

35 Nowe when the people sawe the noble actes of Simon, and what worshipp hee purposed to doe for them, his godly behauiour and faythfulnesse which he kept vnto them, and howe he sought by all wayes the wealth of his people: bycause hee dyd all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest.

36 And in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their lande, and they also which were in in the citie of Dauid at Ierusalem in the castell, where they went out and defiled al things that were about the sanctuarie, and did great harme vnto cleanlynesse:

37 And Simon put men of the Iewes in it, for the defence of the land and citie, and set vp the walles of Ierusalem.
38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthode.
39 For these causes, made hym his friende, and did him great worship:
40 For he hearde that the Romanes called the Iewes their friendes, louers, and brethren: howe honorably they receyued Simons Imbassadours:
41 Howe the Iewes and priestes consented that he shoulde be their prince and hyghe priest perpetually, tyll God rayled vp the true prophete:
42 And that he should be their captayne, to care for the sanctuarie, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the land, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouisiō for the holy things.
43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the writings of the lande to be made in his name, that he should be clothed in purple and golde:
44 And that it should be lawfull for none of the people nor priestes to breake any of these things, to withstand his wordes, nor to cal any congregation in the land without him: that he should be clothed in purple, and weare a coller of golde.
45 And if there were any which disobeyed, or brake this ordinance, that he shoulde be punished.
46 So all the people consented to alowe Simon, & to do according to these words:
47 Simon also him selfe toke it vpon him, & was content to be the high priest, the captaine and prince of the Iewes and priests, and to gouerne them all.
48 And they commaunded to make this writing in tables of brasse, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuarie, in an open place:
49 And to lay vp a copie of the same in the treasurie, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. Antiochus maketh a couenant of friendship with Simon. 11. and Tryphon is persecuted. 15. The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes. 27. Antiochus refusing the help that Simon sent him, breaketh his couenant.

1 Moreouer, king Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius, sent letters from the Iles of the sea, vnto Simon the hyghe priest and prince of the Iewes, and to all the people, A 2 Concerning these words: Antiochus the kyng sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Iewes.
3 For so muche as certayne wicked menne haue gotten the kyngdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to chalenge the realme agayne, and to restore it to the old estate: wherefore I haue gathered a great hoast, and made shippes of warre:
4 That I may goe through the countrey, and be auenged of them whiche haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many cities in my realme.
5 And therefore nowe I make thee free also from all thy tributes, whereof all kyngs my progenitours haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, what so euer they be:
6 Yea, I gyue thee leaue to smyte money of thyne owne within thy lande.
7 As for Ierusalem, I will that it be holie and free, and all the weapons and houses of defence which thou hast buylded, and keepest in thyne handes, shall be thyne. B
8 Whereas any thing is or shall be owing vnto the king, I forgyue it thee, from this time forth for euermore.
9 And when we haue obteyned our kingdome, we shall doe thee, thy people, and the temple, great worship: so that your honour shall be knowne throughout the whole worlde.
10 In the hundred threescore and fourtenth yeere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that fewe were left with Tryphon.
11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him: but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:
12 For hee sawe that there was mischiefe comming vnto him, and that his hoast had forsaken him.
13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twentie thousand men of armes on foote, and eyght thousand horsemen: so hee compassed the citie rounde about, and the shippes came by the sea.
14 Thus they vexed the citie by lande and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in, nor out. C
15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had beene with hym, from 1. Ma. 14. b the citie of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and prouinces, wherein were conteyned these wordes:

16 Lucius the Consull of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolomie the king.

17 The Ambassadours of the Iewes our friendes, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs, for to renue the olde friendship and bonde of loue,

18 Brought a shielde of golde, weying a thousand pound:

19 Wherefore we thought it good to write vnto the kings and prouinces, to doe them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countries, neither to maintaine their enimies against them:

20 And we were content to receiue of them the shielde.

D 21 If there be any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that he may punishe them according to their own lawe.

22 The same wordes wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to all regions: as Samsanes, to them of Spartia, "Delo, "Mydo, Sicion, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Faselidis, Coo, Sida, Arado, Cozyna, Gnidum, to Cypres, and Cyren.

"or, Delus. "or, Mydus.

24 And of euerie letter, they sent a copie to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king, brought hys hoast vnto Doza the seconde tyme, to take it, where hee made diuers ordinance of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he shuld not go either in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus, two thousand chosen men, to helpe hym, with gold, siluer, and other plenteous things.

E 27 Neuertheless, he would not receiue thē, but brake all the couenant which he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe hym selfe from him.

28 He sent Athenobius also, a friend of his vnto Simon, for to reason with him, saying: Ye withholde from me Joppa and Gaza, with the castell that is at Jerusalem, which are cities of my Realme, 29 Whose borders ye haue destroyed, & done great euill in the land, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome.

30 Wherefore deliuer nowe the cities which ye haue taken, with the tributes of the places that ye haue rule vpon, without the borders of Jurie:

31 Or else giue me fiue hundred talentes of syluer: yea and for the harme that ye haue done in the cities, and for the tributes of the same, other fiue hundred talents: if no, we shall come and fight against you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friende came to Jerusalem, and when he saw the great worshyp and honour of Simon, in golde, siluer, and so great plentie of ornamentes, he maruelled, and told Simon as the king commaunded him. f

33 Then answered Simon, and sayd vnto him, As for vs, we haue neyther taken other mens landes, nor witholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, which our enimies had vnrighteously in possession a certayne time. Iud. 2.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in processe of time.

35 And where as thou complaynest concerning Joppa and Gaza, they dyd great harme to our people, and in our lande, yet wil we giue an hundred talents for them. Neuertheless, Athenobius answered hym not one worde:

36 But turned agayne wrothfully vnto the king, and tolde him all these wordes, and the great dignitie of Simon, with all that he had seene: & the king was very angry.

37 And in the meane time fled Tryphon by ship, vnto Orthosias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captayne of the sea coast, and gaue hym an hoast of fotemen and horsemen, G

39 Commaunding him to remoue the host towarde Jurie, and to buylde vp the citie of Cedron, to make vp the Portes, and to warre against the people of the Iewes: as for the king him selfe, hee followed vpon Tryphon

40 So Cendebeus came vnto Jamnia, and beganne to vexe the people, to tread down Jurie, to take the people prysoners, to slay them, 41 And to buylde vp Cedron, where he set horsemen, and other men of warre, that they myght come forth, and goe through the streetes of Jurie, like as the kyng had commaunded him. 1. Ma

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. Cendebeus the captayne of Antiochus hoast, is put to flyght of the sonnes of Simon. 11. Ptolomeus the sonne of Abobus kylleth Simon and his two sonnes at a banket. 23. Iohn killeth them that lye in wayte for hys lyfe.

1 Then

1 Then came John vp from Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done (among their people.)

2 Upon this called Simon two of his eldest sonnes, Judas and John, and sayde vnto them: I and my brethren, and my fathers house, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day, foughten against the enimies of Israell: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Israell oftentimes.

3 And nowe for so much as I am olde, and ye by Gods goodnesse are of a sufficient age, be ye in steede of me and my brother, to goe forth to fight for our people: and the helpe of God be with you.

4 So he chose twentie thousande fighting men of the countrey, with horsemen also, which went forth against Cendebeus, and rested at Modin.

5 In the morning they arose, and went into the playne fielde, and beholde a mightie great hoaste came against them, both of footemen and horsemen: nowe was there a water broke betwixt them,

6 And John remoued the hoaste towarde them: and when he sawe that the people was afrayde to go ouer the water broke, he went ouer fyrst him selfe: and the men seeing this, followed him.

7 Then John set his horsemen and footemen in order, the one by the other: for their enimies horsemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the priestes trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoast: whereof many were slayne, and the remnante gat to their strong holdes.

9 Judas also Johns brother was wounded at the same time, and John followed still vpon the enimies, till he came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had builded.

10 The (enimies) fled also vnto the towres that were in the field of Azotus, and those did John burne vp with fire: thus there were slayne two thousande men of them, and John turned agayne peaceably into Jurie.

11 And in the field of Jericho was Ptolomie the sonne of Abobus made captayne: which, because he had abundance of siluer and golde,

12 (For he had maryed the daughter of Simon the high priest.)

13 Waxed proud in his mynd, and thought to conquere the lande, imagining falshood against Simon and his sonnes to destroy them.

14 Nowe as Simon was going about throwe the cities that were in the country of Jurie, and caring for them, he came downe to Jericho with Mathathias and Judas his sonnes, in the hundred three score and seuenteenth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.

15 Then (Ptolomie) the sonne of Abobus receiued them, but with deceit, into a strong house of his, called Dochus, which he had buylded, where he made them a banket, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his sonnes were merry, and had dronken well, Ptolomie stode vp with his men (whome he had hyd there) and toke their weapons, entred into the banket house, and slue Simon with his two sonnes, and certayne of his seruantes.

17 Suche great vnfaythfulnesse dyd Ptolomie in Israell, and recompenced euyll for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolomie these things, and sent vnto kyng (Antiochus) requiring him that he shoulde sende him an hoaste to helpe him, and so shoulde he deliuer hym the lande, with the cities and tributes of the same.

19 He sent other men also vnto Gaza for to take John, and wrote vnto the captaynes to come to him, and he shoulde giue them siluer, golde, and rewardes.

20 And to Jerusalem he sent other, to take it, and the sanctuarie.

21 Then ranne there one before, and tolde John in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slayne, and howe that Ptolomie had sent to slay him also.

22 When John heard this, he was sore abashed, and layde hands of them that were come to destroy him, and slue them: for he knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 As for other things concerning John, of his warres, of his noble actes wherein he behaued him selfe manfully, of the buylding of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his priesthode, from the time forth that he was made high priest after his father.

The ende of the first booke of the Machabees.

¶ The seconde booke of the Machabees.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Ierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egipt, wherein they exhort them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19. Of the fire that was hid in the pit. 24. The prayer of Nehemias.

A 1 He brethren of ỹ Iewes which bee at Ierusalem, and in the lande of Iurie, wish vnto these brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God be gratious vnto you, and thynke vpon his couenant that he made with Abraham, Isahac, and Iacob, his faythfull seruantes:

Deut. 30. b. 3 And gyue you all suche an heart that ye may loue and serue him, yea and perfourme hys wyll with an whole heart, and a willing mynde:

4 He open your hearts vnto his lawe, and in his cõmaundements, & sende you peace.

5 Heare your prayers, be at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble,

6 For so muche as nowe we heere be praying for you.

B 7 What time as Demetrius raigned, in the hundred threescore and nynth yeere, we Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs: in those yeres, after that Iason departed out of the holy lande and kingdome,

8 They brent vp the portes, and shed innocent bloud: then made we our prayer vnto the Lorde, and were hearde, we offered vp sacrifices and fine floure, setting forth cakes and breade:

Lenit. 23. k. November. 9 And nowe come ye vnto the feast of tabernacles in the moneth Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eightenth yeere, the people that was at Ierusalem and in Iurie, the counsell, and Iudas himselfe, sent this wholesome salutation vnto Aristobulus king Ptolomais master, whiche came of the generation of the annoynted priestes, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no lesse at all than if we had banquished the king in battell.

12 For when he, with those that had fought against the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as hee was in Persis (namely) the captayne with the great hoast, he perished in the temple of Naneas, being deceiued through the deuise of Naneas priestes.

14 For when Antiochus, as he that shoulde C marry with hir, came, and his friendes with him, into the place to receyue by name of dowrie the money whiche the priestes of Naneas had set forth:

15 Hee entred with a small companie into the compasse of the temple, and so they shut the temple.

16 Nowe when Antiochus entred by opening the priuie entrance of the temple, the priestes stoned the captayne to death, hewed them in pieces that were with him, smote off their heads, and threw them out.

17 In all things God be praysed, whiche hath deliuered the wicked into our handes (to be punished.)

18 Whereas we are now purposed to keepe the purification of the temple vpon the fine and twentie daye of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessarie to certifie you thereof: that ye also might kepe the tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was giuen vs when Nehemias offered, after that he had set vp the temple & the aulter. Lenit. Nu. 29. 3. Esd.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away vnto Persis, the priestes which then sought the honour of God, toke the fyre priuily from the aulter, and hid it in a valley, whereas was a deepe drye pit: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowne to euery man.

20 Nowe after many yeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias shoulde be sent from the king of Persia, he sent the children childzen of those priestes which had hyd the fyre, to seeke it: and as they tolde vs, they found no fire, but thicke water. Lenit. 10. d.

21 Then commaunded he them to drawe it vp, and to bryng it hym, and the offrings wythall. Nowe when the sacrifices were layde on, and ordred, Nehemias comcommaunded the prieſtes to ſprinkle them and the wood with water.

22 Whē this was done, and the time come that the ſunne ſhone, which afore was hyd in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, in ſo much, that euery man maruelled.

23 Nowe all the prieſtes prayed whyle the ſacrifice was making: Jonathas prayed fyrſt, and the other gaue anſwere.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this manner: O Lorde God, maker of all thinges, thou fearefull and ſtrong, thou ryghteous and mercifull, thou that art only a gratious king,

25 Only liberall, onely iuſt, almightie and euerlaſting, thou that deliuereſt Iſraell from all trouble, thou that haſt choſen the fathers, and halowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offering for thy whole people of Iſraell, preſerue thine owne portion, and halowe it, 27 Gather thoſe together that are ſcattered abroade from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, loke vpon them which are deſpiſed and abhorred: that the heathem maye knowe, and ſee howe that thou onely art God, which art our God.

28 Punithe them that oppreſſe, and proudly put vs to diſhonour.

29 Set thy people again in thy holy place, like as Moſes hath ſpoken.

30 And the prieſts ſong Pſalmes of thankſgiuing, ſo long as the ſacrifice endured.

31 Now when the ſacrifice was brent, Nehemias commaunded the great ſtones to be ſprinkled with the reſidue of the water.

32 Whiche when it was done, there was kindled a flame of them alſo: but it was conſumed through the light that ſhyned from the aulter.

33 So when this matter was knowne, it was tolde the king of Perſia, that in the place where the prieſtes which were led away had hyd fyre, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his company had purified the ſacrifices withall.

34 Then the king conſidering and pondering the matter diligently, incloſed the place, and conſecrated a temple, to proue the thing that was done:

35 And when hee founde it ſo in deede, hee gaue the prieſtes many giftes, and diuers rewardes, yea, he toke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

36 And Nehemias called the ſame place (a) Nephthar, which is as muche to ſay as a cleanſing: but many men call it Nephi.

The. ij. Chapter.

4. Howe Ieremie hid the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter, in the hil. 23. Of the fiue bokes of Iaſon conteyned in one.

1 IT is founde alſo in the writings of Ieremie the prophete, that hee commaunded them whiche were caryed away, to take fire, as it is ſayde afore. A

2 Hee commaunded them alſo that they ſhould not forget the lawe and commaundements of the Lord, and that they ſhould not erre in their myndes, when they ſee images of ſyluer and golde, with their ornamentes. 2. Mac. 1. c. Jere. 29. b. Baruc. 6. a.

3 Theſe and ſuche other things commaunded he them, and exhorted them that they ſhould not let the lawe of God goe out of their heartes.

4 It is written alſo, howe the prophete at the commandement of God charged them to take the tabernacle and the arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountaine where Moſes climed vp, and ſawe the heritage of God. Deut. 34. a.

5 And when Ieremie came there, he founde an open caue, wherein he layde the tabernacle, the arke, and the aulter of incenſe, and ſo ſtopped the dore.

6 There came certayne men together alſo folowing him, to marke the place, but they could not finde it.

7 Which when Ieremie perceyued, hee reproued them, ſaying, As for that place, it ſhall be vnknowne, vntill the time that God gather his people together agayne, and receiue them vnto mercy. S

8 Then ſhall God ſhew them theſe things, and the maieſtie of the Lord ſhall appeare, and the cloude alſo, like as it was ſhewed vnto Moſes: and like as when Solomon deſired that the place might be honourably ſanctified, and it was ſhewed him. Exo. 13. d. 1. Reg. 8. b.

9 For hee being a wyſe man, handled honourably and wyſely, offering vnto God in the halowing of the temple when it was fynished.

10 And lyke as when Moſes prayed vnto the Lorde, the fire came downe from heauen, and conſumed the burnt offeryng: euen ſo prayed Solomon alſo, and the fire came downe from heauen, and conſumed the burnt offering. Leui. 10. d. 2. Par. 7. a.

11 And Moſes ſayde, Becauſe the ſinne offering was not eaten, therefore it is conſumed.

12 In like maner, Solomon kept the dedication (or halowing) eight dayes.

Some reade Nehemias.

13 In the annotations and wrytings of Jeremie were these thinges put also: and howe he made a librarie, and howe he gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the kings, and of the prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the kings concerning the holy gyftes.

¶ 14 Euen so Judas also, lowke what he learned by experience of warre, and suche things as hath happened vnto vs, he gathered them all together, and so we haue them by vs.

15 If ye nowe desire to haue the same, sende some body to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, we haue written vnto you: therefore ye shall do well, if ye keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also, that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them al the heritage, kingdome, priesthode, & sanctuarie, Deut.3.a. 18 That he promised them in the lawe, shall shortly haue mercie vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place: for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus and his brethren, the purification of the great temple, the dedication of the aulter:

1.Mac.6.a. 20 Yea, and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus and Eupator his sonne:

D 21 And the myracles shewed from heauen by the valyant actes of those which defended the Jewes religion, so that a fewe ran through the whole countrey, and draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repayred agayne the temple that was spoken of throughout all the worlde, deliuered the citie, doing their best that the lawe of the Lorde, which was put downe, myght with all tranquillitie be restored agayne vnto the Lorde, that was so mercifull vnto them.

23 As touching Jason also of Cyren, we haue vndertaken compendiously, to bring into one booke the things that were comprehended of him in fiue.

24 For we considering the multitude of the bookes, and how hard it should be for them that would meddle with stories and actes, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehende the stories, that suche as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and passime therein: and that they whiche are diligent in suche things, might the better thinke vpon them: yea and that whosoeuer reade them, might haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheless, we our selues that haue medled with this matter for the shortning of it, haue taken no small labor, but great diligence, watchings, and trauayle.

27 Lyke as they that make a feaste, would fayne doe other men pleasure: euen so we also, for many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Whereas we may shortly comprehende ¶ the things that other menne haue truely written.

29 For hee that buyldeth an house a newe, must prouide for many things to the whole buylding: but hee that paynteth it afterwarde, seeketh but onely that is comely, meete, & conuenient to garnish it withall:

30 Euen so doe we also in like maner: and why? he that beginneth first to write a storie, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his wordes in order, and diligently seeke out euery part.

31 But he that afterwarde will shorten it, vseth fewe wordes, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a Prologue.

32 Nowe will we begin to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolishe thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the storie it selfe.

The.iij.Chapter.

1. Of the honour done vnto the temple by the kings of the gentiles. 6. Simon vttereth what treasure is in the temple. 9. Heliodorus is sent to take them away. 26. He is stricken of God, and healed at the prayer of Onias.

1 WHat time as the holie citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet verie well kept: for so was it ordeyned through the godlynesse of Onias the high priest, and other godly men ỳ were enimies to wickednes. ¶

2 It came thereto, that euen the kings and princes them selues, dyd the place greate worship, and garnished the temple with great gyftes. 1.Ma

3 In so muche that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rentes bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the offring.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, ruler of the temple, vpon a variance risen betwene him and the high priest, for wickednesse that was done in the citie,

5 For that he coulde not ouercome Onias, he gate him to Apollonius the sonne of Thraslia, whiche then was chiefe Lorde in in Celosyria, and Phenices,

6 And tolde him, that the treasurie in Jerusalem was ful of innumerable money, and howe that the common goods, whiche belongeth not vnto the offerings, were exceeding great also: yea and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the kings power.

7 Now when Apollonius had shewed the king of the money, as it was tolde hym: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commaundement to bring him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus toke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though hee woulde goe through Celosyria, and Phenices, to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfil the kings pleasure.

9 So when he came to Jerusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also if it were so in deede.

10 Then the high priest tolde hym that there was suche money layd vp for the vpholding of widowes and fatherlesse children,

11 And howe that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hyrcanus, the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of all the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talentes of siluer, and two hundred of golde:

12 Yea, and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued that had put assured confidence in the holynesse of the place, & in the maiestie & vndoubted safety of the temple, whiche is had in worshippe through the whole world, for the maynteinance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answered, that the king had commaunded him in any wise, to bring him the money.

C 14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entered into the temple to order this matter: wherefore there was no small feare throughout the whole citie.

15 The priestes fell downe before the aulter in their vestmentes, and called vnto heauē vpon him, whiche had made a lawe concerning stuffe giuen to keepe, that they shoulde be safely preserued for suche as committed them vnto keeping.

16 Then who so had loked the high priest in the face, it woulde haue greeued his hart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inwarde sorow of his minde.

17 The man was all in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that loked vpon him, might perceiue the griefe of his hart.

18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, bycause the place was like to come into confusion.

19 The women came togither through the streetes wyth heary clothes about theyr brestes: the virgins also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vppon the walles, other some loked out at the wyndowes.

20 Yea they al held vp their hands toward heauen, and prayed:

21 A miserable thing was it to loke vpon the common people, and the high priest being in such trouble. D

22 But they besought Almightie God, that the goodes whiche were commited vnto them, myght be kept whole for those that hadde deliuered them vnto theyr keepyng.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that performed he in the same place, he him selfe personally beyng about the treasurie with his men of warre.

24 But the spirite of almightie God shewed him selfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fel through the power of God into a greate fearefulnesse, and dreade.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse, wyth a terrible man sitting vppon hym, decke in goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: now he that sate vpon the horse, had harnesse of golde vpon him. 2.Ma.10.f. and.11.b.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two fayre and beautifull young menne of notable strength, in goodly aray, whiche stode by him, scourged him of both the sides, & gaue him many stripes without ceassing.

27 With that, fel Heliodorus sodenly vnto the grounde, so they toke him vp, being compassed about with great darknesse, and bare him out vpon a beere. 2.Mac.3.c.

28 Thus he that came with so many runners and men of warre into the said treasurie, was borne out, whereas no man might help him, being destitute of harnesse and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest and knowen. E

29 He lay stil dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.

30 And they prayſed the Lorde, that he had ſhewed his power vpon his place & temple, whiche a little afore was full of feare and trouble, and that through the reuelation of the almightie Lorde, it was filled with ioy and gladneſſe.

31 Then certaine of Heliodorus frendes, prayed Onias that in all haſte he woulde call vppon God, to graunt him his lyfe, which was geuing vp the ghoſt.

32 So the hygh prieſte fearing leſt the king ſhould ſuſpect that the Iewes hadde done Heliodorus ſome (a) euil, he offered an ofkering for his healthy.

a. In working ſome trecherie or ſorcerie againſt him.

33 Nowe when the hygh prieſt had obtayned his petition, the ſame yong men in the ſame clothyng appeared, and ſtode beſide Heliodorus, ſaying, Thanke Onias the hygh prieſt: for, for his ſake, hath the Lord graunted thee thy life.

Actes. 27. t.

34 Therefore ſeeing that God hath ſcourged thee, giue him prayſe and thankes, and ſhewe euery man his might and power. And when they had ſpoken theſe wordes, they apeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him which had graunted him his life, thanked Onias, toke hys hoſt, and went againe to the king.

36 Then teſtified he vnto euery man, of the great workes of God, that he had ſeene with his eyes.

F 37 And when the king aſked Heliodorus who were meete to be ſent yet once again to Ieruſalem, he ſaide, 38 If thou haſt any enimie or aduerſarie vnto thy realme, ſende him thither, and thou ſhalt haue him puniſhed, if he eſcape wt his life: for in that place (no doubt) there is a ſpecial power and working of God.

39 For he that dwelleth in heauen, viſiteth and defendeth that place, and all that come to do it harme, he puniſheth and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the treaſurie (at Ieruſalem.)

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. Simon reporteth euil of Onias. 7. Iaſon deſyring the office of the hygh prieſt, corrupted the king with rewards. 19. The wicked intent of Iaſon.

A 1 THus Simon nowe (of whome wee ſpake afore) being a bewrayer of the mony, & of his owne natural countrey, reported the worſt of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though hee hadde benne a bringer vp of euil.

2 Thus was he not aſhamed to call hym an enimie of the realme, ỹ was ſo faithful an ouerſeer and defender of the citie, and of his people, yea, & ſo feruent in the lawe of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increaſed ſo farre, that through hys frendes there were certaine manſlaughters committed.

4 Onias conſydered the perill that might come through this ſtrife, and howe that Apollonius, the chiefe lorde in Celoſyria and Phenices, was all ſet vpon tyrannie, and Simons malice increaſed the ſame:

5 He gat him to the king, not as an accuſer of the citizens, but as one that by him ſelfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude.

6 For he ſawe it was not poſſible to lyue in peace, neyther Simon to leaue off from his fooliſhneſſe, except the kyng dyd looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when B Antiochus, whiche is called the noble, toke the kingdome, Iaſon the brother of Onias, laboured to be high prieſt:

8 For he came vnto the king, and promiſed him three hundred and threeſcore talentes of ſiluer, and of the other rentes foureſcore talentes.

9 Beſides this, he promiſed him yet an hundred and fiftie more, if he might haue licence to ſet vp a ſcole and an exerciſe of weapons, and that he might call them of Ieruſalem, Antiocheans.

10 Whiche when the king had graunted, and he had gotten the ſuperioritie, he beganne immediatly to drawe his kinſmen to the cuſtome of the heathen,

11 Put downe the things that the Iewes had ſet vp of loue, by John the father of Eupolonius, whiche was ſent Imballadour vnto Rome, for to make the bonde of friendſhip and loue, he put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and ſet vp the wicked ſtatutes.

12 For when he had made a ſcole of kence vnder the caſtel, he drewe all the cheefeſt young men on his ſide, and trained them to weare (a) hattes.

a. Thoſe hattes were taken of warlyke neſſe that the Gentiles vſed.

13 And there was ſuche a feruent deſire to come to the manners of the heathen, and to take vp newe ſtrange faſhions brought in through the vngratious and vnheard

wickednesse of Jason, whiche should not be called a priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the priestes were nowe no more occupied about the seruice of the aulter: but despised the temple, regarded not the offerings, yea, gaue their diligence to learne to fyght, to wrastel, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by ỳ honor of the fathers, but liked the glory of the Greekes best of all:

16 For the which they stroue perilously, and were greedy to folowe their statutes, yea, their lust was in all things to be like them, which afore were their enimies and destroyers.

17 Howbeit, to do wickedly against the lawe of God, shall not escape vnpunished, but of this we shal speake hereafter.

18 What time as the "Olimpians sportes were played at Tyrus, the king him selfe being present.

19 This vngratious Jason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Jerusalem, (whiche now were called Anthiocheans) three hundred drachmes of siluer for an offering to Hercules: these had they that caryed them desired, vnder such a fashion, as though they should not haue bin offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheless, hee that sent them, sent them to the intent that they should be offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were giuen as to the making of shippes.

21 And Apollonius, the sonne of Menesthens, was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of king Ptolomie Philometor. Now when Antiochus perceiued that he was put out frō (b) medling in ỳ realme, he sought his owne profite, departed from thence, came to Joppa, and then to Jerusalem, 22 Where he was honorably receiued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torche light, & with great prayse: and so he turned his host vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeeres Jason sent Menelaus, (the foresaide Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring hym answere of other necessarye matters.

24 But he, when he was cōmended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned the priesthode vnto him selfe, laying vp three hundred talentes of siluer for Jason.

25 So when he had gotten commaundementes from the kyng, he came, hauyng nothing that becommeth a priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruel tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde brute beast.

26 Then Jason, whiche had deceiued his owne brother, seeing that he him selfe was beguiled also, was fayne to flee into the lande of the Ammonites. 1. Mac. 3. b

27 And Menelaus gat the dominion: but as for ỳ money that he had promised vnto the king, he did nothing therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castel requyred it of him.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes, wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the priesthod, and Lysimachus his brother came in his stead, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the (c) Cyprians.

c. That is, of the that medled with the reuenue.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians, and Malotians, made insurrection, because they were giuen for a present vnto Antiochus the kings Concubine.

31 Then came the king in all hast to stynt them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his Deputie, as one meete therefore.

32 Now Menelaus supposing that he had gotten a right conuenient time, stole certayne vessels of golde out of the temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some he solde at Tyrus, and in the cities thereby.

33 Which when Onias knewe of a suretie, he reproued him: but hee kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lyeth by Antioche.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus, and prayed him that he would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, he counselled him craftyly to come out of the sanctuarie, giuing him his hande with an othe, (howebeit he suspect him) & then he slue Onias, without any regarde of righteousnesse.

35 For the whiche cause not onely the Jewes, but other nations also, toke indignatiō, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Jewes and certaine of the Grekes went vnto him, complayning for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea, Antiochus him selfe was sory in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied him, and he wept, remembring his soberneste, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kyndled in his mynde, that he commaunded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothing, and so to be led throughout the citie, yea, and the vngratious man to be slayne in the same place, where he committed hys wickednesse vppon Onias: thus the Lord rewarded him his punishmente, as he had deserued.

39 Nowe when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the temple throwe the counsel of Menelaus, and the voyce came abrode: the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus, for he had caryed out now much golde.

40 So when the people arose, and were full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousande vnthriftes, to defend him, a certayne tyrant beyng their captayne, whiche was growen both in age & woodnesse.

41 They therefore, seeing the enterprise of Lysimachus, caught vp some stones, some some blockes endes, and some handefuls of dust, that was next at hande, and threw them vpon the rebelles of Lysimachus bande that had set vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, some being slayne, and all the other chased away: but as for the wicked churchrobber him selfe, they killed him beyde the treasurie.

43 Of these matters therefore, there was kept a courte against Menelaus.

44 Nowe when the king came to Tyrus, three menne that were sent from the Senate, pleaded him giltie before the king.

45 But Menelaus being nowe conuict, went and promised Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes to giue him much money, if he would pacifie the king towarde him.

46 So Ptolomie went to the king, into a courte whereas he was set to cole him, & brought him out of that minde:

47 Insomuche that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of all mischiefe: and those pore mē, which if they had told their cause, yea before the Scythians, they should haue bin iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they sone punished, which folowed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyrus, moued with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to be very honorably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnesse of them that were in power, Menelaus remayned stil in authoritie, encreasing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The. v. Chapter.

2. Of the signes and tokens seene in Ierusalem. 6. Of the end and office of Iason. 11. The pursute of Antiochus against the Iewes. 15. The spoyling of the temple.

1 ABout the same time Antiochus vndertooke his second viage into Egypt. 1

2 And then were there sene throughout all the citie of (Ierusalem) fourty dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bandes of speare men.

3 And as troupes of horsemen set in aray, incountring and coursing one against another, with shaking of shieldes, and multitude of dartes, and drawing of swordes, and shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sortes.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Nowe when there was gone forth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bin dead, Iason toke a thousande men, & came sodenly vpon the citie: the citizens ranne vnto the walles, at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fledde into the castel.

6 As for Iason, he spared not his owne citizens in the slaughter, neither considered he what great euil it were to destroy the prosperitie of his owne kynsmen: but dyd as one that had gotten the victorie of his enimies, and not of his friendes.

7 For all this gat he not the superioritie, B but at the last receiued confusion for his malice, and fledde agayne like a vacabund 2. Pa. 5. b into the lande of the Amonites.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse, he was accused before Aretha, the king of the Arabians, insomuch that he was faine to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man, as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abhominable person: and at the last, as an open enimie of his own natural countrey, and of the citizens, he was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne natiue lande, perished from home him selfe: he went to Lacedemon, thynking there to haue gotten succour, by reason of kinrede.

10 And he that afore hadde cast many one out vnburyed, was throwen out him selfe, no no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: so that he neither enioyed the buryal of a stranger, neither was he partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Nowe when this was done, the kyng suspected that the Iewes woulde haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great displeasure out of Egypt, and toke the citie by violence.

12 He commaunded his men of warre also, that they should kill, and not spare: but slay downe suche as withstode them, or clymed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a greate slaughter of yong men, olde men, women, children, and virgins.

14 In three dayes, were there slayne fourescore thousande, fourtie thousande put in prison: and there were as many solde, as were slayne.

15 Yet was he not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy temple of all the worlde, Menelaus that traytour to the lawes, and to his owne natural countrey, being his guide.

16 And with his wicked handes toke the holy vesselles, which other kings and cities had giuen thyther for the garnishing and honour of the place, them toke he in his handes vnworthyly, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he consydered not howe ẏ God was not a little wroth for the synnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which suche confusion came vpon that place.

18 And why? if it had not happened them to haue bin lapped in many synnes, this Antiochus assone as he had come, hadde sodenly bin punished and shut out of his presumption, like as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to robbe the treasurie.

19 Neuertheless, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterwarde shal it inioye the wealth of them: and like as it was nowe forsaken in the wrath of almightie GOD, so when the great God is reconciled, it shall be set vp in hygh worshipp againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousande and eyght hundred talentes out of the temple, he gat him to Antioch in all the haste, thynking in his pryde that hee might make menne saple vppon the drye lande, and to goe vpon the sea, suche an high minde had he.

22 He left Deputies there to vexe the people: at Ierusalem left he Philip a Phrygian, in manners more cruel than him selfe that set him there:

23 At Garizim hee lefte Andronicus and Menelaus, whiche were more greeuous to the citizens than other. 1.Mac.1.8.

24 Now as he was thus set in malice against the Iewes, he sente Appollonius, a cruell prince, with an armie of twentie & two thousand, commaunding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, maydens, and children.

25 When he came nowe to Ierusalem, he faigned peace, and kept him still vntil the Sabboth day: and then he commaunded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day.

26 And so he slue all them that were gone forth to the open play, running (here and there) thorowe the citie with his menne weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Machabeus, whiche was the tenth, fled into the wyldernesse, ledde his lyfe there, with his company, among wyld beastes, and vpon the mountaynes, dwelling there, and eating hearbes, least they should be partakers of ẏ filthinesse. 1.Mac.1.8.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. The Iewes are compelled to leaue the lawe of God. 4. The temple is defiled. 12. The readers are admonished that they shall not abhorre the aduersitie wherewith the Lorde afflicteth them. 28. The greeuous payne of Eleazarus.

1 NOt long after this, sente the king an olde man of Antioch, for to compell the Iewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the lawe of God, A for, Athens.

2 To defile the temple that was at Ierusalem, & to cal it the temple of Iupiter Olimpius: and that they should be in Garizim, as those whiche dwel at the place of Iupiter the harborous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauy vpon all the people:

4 For the temple was full of voluptuousnesse, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawful.

5 The

5 The aulter also was full of vnlawfull things, which the lawe forbyddeth to lay vpon it.

6 The Sabbothes were not kept, the other solemne feastes of the lande were not regarded: to be playne, ther durst no man be knowen that he was a Iewe.

B 7 In the day of the kings byrth, they were compelled perforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to weare garlandes of iuie, & to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsel of Pto-lomeus, there wente out a commaunde-ment, vnto the next cities of the heathen, against the Iewes, that the like custome
"or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed. and "banketting should be kept.

9 And who so woulde not conforme them selues to the manners of the Gentiles, should be put to death: then might a man haue seene the present miserie.

10 For there were two menne accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whome when they had led rounde about the citie, the babes hanging at their breastes, they cast them downe headlongs ouer the wal-les.

11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, and brent in the fyre, bycause that for the feare of God they kept the commaundementes so stiffely, and would not defende them selues.

12 Nowe I beseche all those whiche reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the thyngs that are happened for no destruction, but for a chastening of our people.

Prou. 3. b. 13 And why? When God suffereth not sinners long to folowe their owne mynde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindnesse.

C 14 For this grace haue we of God more than other people, That he suffereth not vs long to sinne vnpunished, like as other nations,

15 That when the day of iudgement commeth, he may punish them in the fulnesse of their sinnes.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercie from vs: and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doth he neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that we haue spoken nowe with fewe wordes, be for a warning and
"or, vnto vs. exhortation "of the heathen: nowe wyll we come to the declaring of the matter.

18 Eleazar one of the principal scribes, an aged man, and of a wel fauoured countenance, was constrained to gape with open mouth, and to eate swynes flesshe:

19 But he desiring rather to die gloriously, than to liue with shame, offered him selfe willingly to the martirdome.

20 Now when he sawe that he must nedes goe to it, he toke it patiently: for he was at a point with him selfe, that he woulde not consent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleasure of life.

D 21 They that (a) stode by, being moued with pitie (but not aright) for the olde friendshyp of the man, toke him asyde priuily, and prayed that he would let such flesshe be brought him as were lawfull to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the flesshe of the sacrifice, like as the king commaunded,

22 For so he might be deliuered from death, and so for the olde friendshyp of the man they shewed him this kindnesse.

23 But he beganne to consyder discretely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his auncient yeeres, and the honour of his gray heares, whereunto he was come, and his moste honest conuersation from his childehode, but chiefly the holy lawe made and giuen by God, therefore he answered consequentlye, and willed them straight wayes to sende him to the graue:

24 For it becometh not myne age, sayd he,
in any wise to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke that Eleazar, beyng fourescore yeeres old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion:

25 And so through mine hypocrisie, for a little time of a transitory life, they myght be deceiued: by this meanes also shoulde
I defile mine age, & make it abominable.

26 For though I were now deliuered from the tormentes of men, yet shoulde I not escape the hande of almightie God, neyther alyue nor deade.

27 Wherfore I will dye manfully, and do C as it becommeth mine age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue an Ensa.
example of stedfastnesse for suche as bee yong, if I with a redy minde, and man-fully die an honest death for the most worthie and holy lawes. When he had sayde these wordes, immediatly he was drawen to the torment.

29 Now they that led him, and were milde a little afore, began to take displeasure, by-cause of the wordes that he sayde: for they thought he had spoken them of an hygh mynde.

30 But

30 But when he was in his martyrdome he mourned, and sayde, Thou, O Lorde, whiche hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that wheras I might be deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paynes of my body: but in my minde I am well content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man dyed, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all the people, to be stedfast and manly.

The.vij. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren and of their mother.

1 IT happened also that there were seuen brethren with their mother, take, and compelled by the king against the law to eate swines flesshe, (namely) with scourges and leatherne whippes.

2 And one of them, whiche was the chiefe, sayde, What seekest thou, and what requyrest thou of vs? As for vs, we are redy rather to suffer death, than to offende the lawes of God, and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bade heate cauldrons and brasen pottes: which when they were made hot,

4 Immediatly he commaunded the tong of him that spake first to be cut out, to pul the skinne ouer his head, to pare the edges of his handes and feete: yea and that in the sight of his mother and the other of his brethren:

5 Now when he was cleane mangled, he commaunded a fire to be made, & so (while there was any breath in him) to be fryed in the caldron: in the which when he had bin long pained, the other brethren, with their mother, exhorted him to dye manfully, saying,

6 The Lord God shal regarde the truth, & comforte vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his song, (saying,) And he wil haue compassion on his seruantes.

7 So when the first was dead after this manner, they brought the seconde to haue him in derision, pulled the skinne with the heare ouer his head, and asked him if he would eate swines flesshe, or he were payned in ỹ other members also thorow out his body.

8 But he answered in his own language, and sayde, I wil not do it: and so he was tormented like as the first,

9 And when he was euen at the giuing vp of the ghost, he sayde, Thou most vngratious person puttest vs nowe to death: but the king of the worlde shall rayse vs vp which dye for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life.

10 After him was the thyrde had in derision, and when he was requyred, he put out his tong, and that right sone, holding forth his handes manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast fayth, These haue I of heauen, but nowe for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 In so much that the king and they which were wth hym, marueyled at the young mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paynes.

13 Nowe when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with tormentes in lyke maner.

14 So when he was nowe at hys death, he sayde, It is better that we, being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shall rayse vs vp agayne: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to lyfe. C John.5.c.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.

16 Then loked he vnto the king, and sayd, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hathe forsaken our generation.

17 Abyde thee, tary still a while, and thou shalt see the great power of God, howe he will punishe thee and thy seede.

18 After him they brought the sixth, whiche being at the point of death, sayde, Be not deceyued, O kyng, for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therfore marueylous things are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou whiche takest in hande to stryue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 This excellent mother, worthy to be wel reported of, and had in remembrance, sawe hir seuen sonnes dye in one day, and suffered it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea she exhorted euery one of them in hir countrey langnage, and that boldely and stedfastly with perfect wisedome, waking vp hir wyuishe thought with a mãly stomacke, and saide vnto them,

22 I can not tel howe ye sprang in my wombe: for I neyther gaue you breath, nor nor soule, nor life, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together.

29 But the maker of the worlde, which fashioned the byrth of man, and began all things: euen he also of his owne mercie shall giue you breath and life agayne, like as ye nowe regarde not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Now thought Antiochus, that he had despised him, therefore he let hir goe with hir reproofes, and beganne to exhort the youngest sonne, which yet was left, not onely with wordes, but swore vnto hym with an othe, that he shoulde make hym a riche and wealthy man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he should giue him what so euer were necessary for him.

25 But when the yong man would not be moued for all these things, he called his mother, and counselled hir to saue hir sons life.

26 And when he had exhorted hir with many words, she promised him that she wold speake to hir sonne,

E 27 So she turned hir vnto him, laughing the cruel tirant to scorne, and spake in hir countrey language: O my sonne, haue pitie vppon mee, that bare thee nine monethes in my womb, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age.

28 I beseche thee my sonne, looke vppon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consyder that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hangman, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue done: that I may receyue thee againe in the same mercie with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these wordes, the yong manne sayde, Whom looke yee for? (wherefore do yee tary?) I will not obey the kings commaundement, but the lawe that God gaue vs by Moses.

Leuit. 21. a.

31 As for thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the Iewes, thou shalt not escape the handes of God.

or, Hebrues.

32 For we suffer these things because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lorde be angry with vs a little while for our chastenyng and reformation, yet shall he be at one againe with his seruantes.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pride not thy selfe throughe vayne hope, in being so malicious vppon the seruantes of God:

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgementes of God, whiche is almightie, and seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a little payne, are nowe vnder the couenant of euerlasting life: but throughe the iudgemēt of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue done, I offer my soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vppon God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our people: yea, and with paine and punishment to make thee graunt that he onely is God.

f 2. Mac. 7. a.

38 In me nowe, and in my brethren, the wrath of almightie God is at an ende, whiche righteously is fallen vpon all our people.

39 Then the king being kindled in anger, was more cruel vppon him, than vpon all the other, and toke indignation that hee was so lightly regarded.

40 So this yong man died vndefiled, and put his trust still in the Lord.

41 Last of all, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this nowe be ynough spoken concerning the offeringes and extreme cruelnesse.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. Iudas gathereth together his host. 9. Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 16. Iudas exhorteth hys souldiers to constantnesse. 20. Nicanor is ouercome. 27. The Iewes giue thankes, after they haue put theyr enimies to flight, diuiding the spoyles vnto the fatherlesse, and vnto the wydowes. 35. Nicanor fleeth vntoo Antiochus.

1 WHen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuily into the townes, called their kinsfolkes and friendes together, toke vnto them all such as continued yet in the faith and lawe of the Iewes, and brought forth sixe thousande men.

2 So they called vppon the Lorde, that he would haue an eye vnto his people, which was troden downe of euery man, to be gratious vnto the temple, that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, whiche was shortly lyke to be he layde waste, to heare the voyce of the bloude that cryed vnto him:

4 To remember the moste vnryghteous deathes of young innocente children, the blasphemies also done vnto his name, and to punishe them.
5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was to mightie for the heathen, for the wrath of the Lorde was turned into mercie,
6 He fel vppon the townes and cities vn-wares, brent them, toke the most commodious places, & slue many of the enimies.
7 But specially he made suche chases by night, insomuche that his manlynesse was spoken of euery where.
8 So when Philip sawe that the man increased by little and little, and that the matter prospered with hym for the moste parte: he wrote vnto Ptolomie, whiche was a captaine in Celosyria and Phenices, to helpe him in the kings businesse.
8 Then sente hee Nicanor the sonne Patroclus, a speciall friende of his, in all the hast, and gaue him of the common sort of the heathen, no lesse than twentie thousande harnessed menne, to rote out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauyng to helpe him one Gorgias a man of warr, whiche in matters concerning battels had great experience.
10 Nicanor ordeyned also the tribute, which the Romanes should haue had, to be gi-uen vnto the kyng out of the captiue of the Iewes, (namely) two thousande ta-lentes.
11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requyring them for to buye Iewes to be their seruantes and bondemennе, promysing to sel them fourescore and ten for one talent: but he consydered not the wrath of almightie God that was to come vpon him.
12 When Judas knewe of this, he tolde the Iewes that were with him, of Nicanors comming.
13 Nowe were there some of them fearefull, not trusting vnto the ryghteousnesse of God, and fledde theyr way, and abode not in that place:
14 But the other that remayned, came together, and besought the Lord to delyuer them from that wicked Nicanor, whiche hadde solde them or euer he came nygh them.
15 And though hee wouldes not doe it for theyr sakes, yet for the couenant that hee made wyth theyr fathers, and byecause they called vppon his holy and glorious name.
16 And so Machabeus called his men to- 1.Mac.5.b.
gether, (namely) about fyre thousande, exhorting them not to agree vnto their Deut.20.a.
enimies, neyther to be afrayd for the multitude of their aduersaries comming a-gaynste them vnryghteously, but to fyght manly,
17 Consydering the reproche that they had done to the holy place wythout cause, howe they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea & destroyed the lawes of the fathers.
18 For they, sayd he, trust in their weapõs Iere.19.b. and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the almightie Lorde, whiche in the twinck-ling of an eye, may both destroy them which come againste vs, and al the world.
19 He exhorted them also to cal to remembraunce the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perysshed an hundred fourescore and fiue thousande of Sennacheribs people:
20 And of the battel that they had in Babylon againste the Galathians: howe all the Macedonians that came to helpe the, being foure thousande, stode in feare: and howe they being onely but fyue thousand, for, eight slue an hundred and twentie thousande, thousande.
through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they also had recei-ued many benefites.
21 Through these wordes the menne toke D good hartes vnto them, redy to dye for the law and the countrey.
22 So he set vppon euery company a captayne, out of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, giuing eche one fiftene hundred men.
23 He raulde Esdras also to reade the ho- for. Eleazar lye booke vnto them, and to geue them a rus.
toke of the helpe of God: then he him selfe, being captaine in the foreffront of the bat- 1.Mac.4.b.
tel, buckled with Nicanor.
24 And God was their helpe, insomuche that they slue aboue nine thousande men, and compelled the moste parte of Nicanors hoste to flee, they were so wounded and feeble.
25 Thus they toke the money from those that came to buye them, and folowed vpõ them an euery syde.
26 But when the time came vppon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they folowed no more vpon them.
27 So they toke theyr weapons, and spoyles, and kept the Sabboth, giuing thankes vnto the Lorde whiche had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoyles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to wydowes, and the residue had they the selues, with theirs. Num. 31. d.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the merciful Lorde to be at one with his seruantes.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, whiche fought agaynst them, they slue twentie thousande, wan hygh and strong holdes, and diuided mo spoyles, euen giuing an equal portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to wydowes, and to aged persons.

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons together, they layde the all in conuenient places, and the remnant of the spoyles brought they to Ierusalem.

32 They slue also Philarches, that wicked person, whiche was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they held the thankesgiuing at Ierusalem for the victorie, they brent those that had set fyre on the portes of the temple, (namely) Calisthenes, which was fled into an house, and so they gat a worthie reward for their wickednesse.

34 As for that most vngratious Nicanor, which had brought a thousande marchantes to buye the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lorde brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not, insomuche that he put off his glorious rayment, fled by sea, and came alone to Antioche with great shame and dishonour, whiche he gat through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus he that promised the Romanes to pay them their tribute euen he, toke Ierusalem, began nowe to say openlynely, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therfore not possible to ouercome them, bycause they followed the lawes whiche God had made.

Ione. ix. Chapeer.

1. Antiochus wylling too spoyle Perlepolis, is driuen too flyght. 9. As he persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lorde. 11. The faithfull repentaunce of Antiochus. 28. He dyeth.

1 AT the same tyme came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of Perlia. A 1. Mac. 6.

2 For when he came to Perlepolis, and vndertooke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ranne together, and defended them selues, in so muche that hee and hys were fayne to flee wyth shame: and so after that flyght, it happened that Antiochus came agayne wyth dishonour.

3 But when he came to Egbatana, he got knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor, and Timotheus.

4 Nowe as he was aduaunceyng hym selfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was done to them vpon the Iewes: and therefore commaunded to make redy his charet, hasting on his iourney without ceassyng, the iudgement of God prouokyng him, bycause he had spoken so proudely, that he woulde come to Ierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.

5 But the Lorde God of Israel, that seeth all things, smote him with an vncurable and an inuisible plague (whiche no man couldde heale,) For assone as he had spoken these wordes, there came vppon him an horrible paine of his bowels, and a sore grieue of the inner partes,

6 And that was but right: for he had martyred other mens bowels with diuers and strange tormentes.

7 Howbeit he woulde in no wise ceasse from his malice: yea he was yet the prouder & more malitious against the Iewes: B but while he was commaunding to make hast in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violently from the charet that ran swiftly, so that it bruised his body, and did him great payne.

8 And so he that thought a litle before he might commaunde the flouds of the sea (so proude was he beyonde the condition of man) and weyed the hyghe mountaines in a payre of balance, was nowe brought downe to the grounde, and bare vpon an horselitter, knowlegeing the manifest power of God vpon him.

9 So that the wormes ranne out of the body of this wicked man in aboundance: and whiles he was alyue, his flesh fell off for payne and torment, and all his armie was greeued at his smell.

10 Thus he that a little afore thought he might reach to the starres of heauen, him might no man nowe abyde to beare, for the vnbearable-ness of smelle.

11 Therefore

11 Therefore he being brought from his great pryde, beganne for to come to the knowledge of him selfe: for the punishment of God warned him, and his paine encreased euer more and more.

12 And when he him selfe might not abide his owne stincke, he sayde these wordes: It is reason to be obedient to God, and that a man whiche is mortal, thinke not through pride, him selfe to be equal vnto God.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lorde, who nowe would haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so hastily, to bring it down to the ground, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he delyzeth to deliuer it free:

15 And as touching the Iewes, whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue caste them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the foules and wilde beastes, (saying, that he would haue destroyed both olde and young:) now he promised to make them like the citizens of Athens:

16 And whereas he had spoyled the holye temple afore, nowe he maketh promise to garnisshe it with great giftes, to encrease the holy ornamentes, and of his owne rentes to beare the costes and charges belonging to the offerings:

17 Yea, and that he would also become a Iewe him selfe, to go through euery place of the worlde that was inhabited, and to preache the power of God.

18 But when his paines would not cease, (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a very dispayre he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of intercession, conteyning these wordes:

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wisheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Iewes much health, and good prosperitie.

20 If ye and your children fare wel, and if all things go after your minde, we giue great thankes.

21 In my sickneste also doe I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Perſia, and was taken with sore disease, I thought it necessarie to care for the common wealth:

22 Neither dispayre I in my selfe, but haue a good hope to escape this sickneste.

23 But considering that my father led an host sometime in the higher places, and shewed who shoulde raigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuersie, or any hard thing were declared, they in the land might know their chiefe Lord, that there shoulde be no insurrection.

25 Agayne, when I ponder with my selfe, how that all the mightie men and neyghbours rounde about, are laying wayte, and loke but for opportunitie to do harme: I haue ordeyned, that my sonne Antiochus shall raigne after me, whom I oft commended to many of you, when I was in the higher kingdomes, and haue written vnto him as it foloweth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you to remember the benefites that I haue done vnto you generally, and in especiall, and that euery man will be faythfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shall be of sober and louing behauiour, and if he folowe my deuice, he that be indifferent vnto you. E

28 Thus that murtherer and blasphemer of God was sore smitten: and like as he had intreated other men, so he dyed a miserable death in a strange countrey vppon a mountaine. Deut. 8. c.

29 And his body did Philip that went with him carry away, whiche fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolomie Philometor.

The. x. Chapter.

1. Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple. 10. He beginneth to shewe the actes of Eupator. 16. The Iewes fyght against the Idumeans. 24. Timotheus inuadeth Iurie, with whome Iudas ioyneth battel. 29. Fiue men appeare in the ayre to the helpe of the Iewes. 39. Timothie is slayne.

1 MAchabeus nowe and his company A through the helpe of the Lord wanne 1. Mac. 4. c.
the temple and the citie againe,

2 Destroyed the aulters and chappels that the heathen had builded through the streets,

3 Cleansed the temple, made another aulter of bricke stone, and after two yeeres Ezr. 10. c.
they offered sacrifices, set swith the incense, the lightes, and the we bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the grounde, & besought the Lord that they might come no more into suche trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, he him selfe to chasten them with mercie, & not to come in the handes of those aliantes and blasphemous men.

5 Nowe vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the temple, it happened that on the very same day it was cleansed

1.Mac.4.f. agayne: (namely) the twentie and fifth Nouemb. day of the moneth called Casleu.

6 They kept eyght dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of ỳ tabernacles, remẽbring that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon the mountaynes, and in dennes, like beastes.

B 7 And for the same token they bare greene bowes, branches, and palmes, and song Psalmes before him that had giuen them good successe to cleanse his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute, that euery yere those dayes should be solemnely kept of all the people of the Iewes.

9 Howe Antiochus then, that was called the noble, dyed, it is sufficiently told.

10 Now whyle we speake of Eupator the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, howe it happened with him, and so with fewe wordes to comprehend the aduersitie that chaunced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kingdome, he or, Celosyria. made one Lysias, which had bin captayne of the host in Phenices and Syria, ruler ouer the matters of the realme.

12 For Ptolomie, that was called Macron, being a ruler for the Iewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for suche wrong as was done vnto them, vndertoke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For the whiche cause he was accused of his frendes before Eupator: and when he was suspected to be a traitour, bycause he had left Cypres, that Philometor had cõmitted vnto him, and bycause he departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poysoned him selfe, and dyed.

C 14 Nowe when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he toke strangers, and vndertoke oft times to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that held the strong holdes, receiued those that were driuen from Ierusalem, and toke in hand to warre also.

2.Mac.5.a. 16 But they that were with Machabeus, besought and prayed vnto the Lorde that he would be their helper, and so they fell vpon the strong holdes of the Idumeans, 17 And wanne many places by strength: suche as came against them they slue, and killed no lesse of all together, than twenty thousande.

18 Neuerthelesse some, no lesse than nine thousande, were fledde into two strong towers, hauing all manner of ordinance to withstande them.

19 Then Machabeus, leauing Simon, Iosephus, Zacheus, and those that were with them, which were very many, went to besiege them, and to fyght where most neede was.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were intreated for money, through certaine of those that lay in the castels, toke threescore and ten thousande (a) dragmas, and let some of them escape.

21 But when it was told Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people together, accusyng those persons, that they had solde the brethren for money, and let their enimies goe.

22 So he slue those traytours, and immediatly went in hand with the two castels.

23 And when they had ordered them selues manly with their weapons and handes, they slue in the two castels more than twentie thousande.

24 Nowe Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an host also of horsemen of the Asians, to winne Iurie by strength,

25 But when he drewe nigh, Machabeus and they that were with him, fell to their prayer, sprincled ashes vpon their heades, being gyrded with heary cloth about their loynes,

26 Fell downe before the aulter, & besought the Lord that he would be merciful to thẽ, but an enemie vnto their enimies, and to take parte against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the lawe.

27 So after ỳ prayer, they toke their weapons, and went on further from the citie: and when they came nigh the enimies, they prepared them selues against them.

28 And betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, both the hostes buckled together: the one part had the Lorde for their refuge, which is the giuer of prosperitie, strength, and victorie: the other had a manly stomacke, which is a captaine of warre.

29 The battel now being great, there appeared vnto the enimies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horse backes, with golden rodes, leading the Iewes:

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwixt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot dartes and lightnings vpon the enimies, where-through though they were confounded wyth blindeſſe, and ſo ſore afraide that they fel downe.

31 They were ſlayne of fotemen, twentie thouſand and fiue hundred, and fiue hundred horſemen.

32 As for Timotheus him ſelfe, he fled vnto Gazara, a very ſtrong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Machabeus and his company, layed ſiege to it chearefully foure dayes.

34 Nowe they that were within, truſting to the ſtrength of the place, curſed, & banned exceedingly, and made great craking, with wicked wordes.

35 Neuertheleſſe, vpon the fifth day in the morning, twentie yong men of Machabeus companie, being ſette on fyre in their mindes bycauſe of the blaſphemie, came manfully vnto the wall, & with bolde ſtomackes ſmote downe thoſe that they met.

36 Others alſo climed vp vpon the towres, vndertaking to ſet fyre vppon the portes, and to burne thoſe blaſphemous perſons quicke, with the fyres that they had made: others brake open the gates, and receiued the reſt of the armie, and toke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they deſtroying the caſtel, which when they founde Timotheus that was creapt in a corner, they kylled him, and ſlue Chereas his brother in like manner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was don, they ſong pſalmes, with prayſes and thankeſgiuing vnto the Lorde, which had done ſo great things for Iſrael, and giuen them the victory.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. Lyſias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8. Succour is ſente from heauen vnto the Iewes. 16. The letter of Lyſias too the Iewes. 20. The letter of kyng Antiochus vnto Lyſias. 27. A letter of the ſame vnto the Iewes. 34. A letter of the Romanes too the Iewes.

1 NOt long after this, Lyſias the kings ſtewarde, and a kinſmanne of hys, which had the gouernance of hys matters, toke ſore diſpleaſure for the things that had happened.

2 And when he had gathered foureſcore thouſande men of fote, with all the hoſt of the horſemen, he came againſt the Iewes, thinking to winne the citie, to make it an habitation for the heathen:

3 And the temple woulde he haue to be an houſe of lucre, like as the other goddes houſes of the heathen are, and to ſel the prieſts office euery yere. Eſai. 56. b.

4 Not conſydering the power of God, but was wilde in his minde, truſting in the multitude of fotemen, in thouſandes of horſemen, & in his foureſcore Elephantes.

5 So he came into Iurie, and then to Bethſura, a caſtel of defence, lying in a narow place, fiue furlongs from Ieruſalem, and layde ſore ſiege vnto it.

6 Nowe when Machabeus, and hys company, knewe that the ſtrong holdes were beſieged, they fell to their prayers, wyth weeping and teares before the Lord: and the people in like manner beſought him, that he woulde ſende a good angel to deliuer Iſrael. 2. Ma. 10. b.

7 Machabeus him ſelfe was the fyrſt that B made him redy to the battel, exhorting the other that were wyth hym, to ieopарde them ſelues, and to helpe theyr brethren.

8 And when they were going forth of Ieruſalem together, wyth a redye and wyllyng minde, there appeared before 2. Mac. 3. d. them vppon horſebacke, a man in whyte clothyng, with harneſſe of golde, ſhaking his ſpeare.

9 Then they prayſed the Lorde all together, whiche had ſhewed them mercie, and were comforted in their mindes, in ſo muche that they were ready not onlye to fyght with men, but with the moſt cruel beaſtes, yea and runne through walles of iron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lord merciful vnto them.

11 They fel mightyly vppon their enimies lyke Lions, ſlue eleuen thouſande fotemen, ſixtiene hundred horſemen, and put all the other to flight, 12 Many of them being wounded, and ſome gat away naked: yea Lyſias hym ſelf was fayne to flee ſhamefully, and ſo to eſcape.

13 Neuertheleſſe, that man was not without vnderſtanding, but conſydered by him ſelfe, that his power was minished, and pondered how the Iewes, being defended by the helpe of almightie God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he ſente them worde, 14 And promiſed, that he woulde conſent C to al things which were reaſonable, and to make the king their friende.

15 To the whiche prayer of Lyſias, Machabeus agreed, seeking in all things the common wealth: and what so euer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the king graunted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes from Lysias, conteyning these wordes: Lysias sendeth greeting to the people of the Iewes.

17 John and "Absolon, which were sent from you, deliuered me writings, and required me to fulfill the things concerning their errande.

"or, Absalom.

18 Therefore loke what might be graunted, I certified the king therof: and whatsoeuer was conuenient, he agreed therto.

19 If ye now will be faythful in these matters, I shall endeuour my selfe hereafter also to doe you good.

20 As concerning these things, by euery article thereof, I haue committed them to your messengers, and to those whom I sent vnto you, to commune with you of the same particularly.

21 Fare ye wel. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the twentie and fourth day of the moneth Dioscorinthius.

22 Nowe the kings letter conteyned these wordes: King Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto his brother Lysias.

23 For sonuch as our father is now translated vnto the goddes, our wil is, that they which are in our Realme, liue wythout any insurrection, and euery man to be diligent in his owne matters:

2. Mac. 9. b.

24 We vnderstande also, that the Iewes would not consent to our father, for to be brought vnto the custome of the Gentiles, but stifly to keepe their owne statutes, for the whiche cause they require of vs also, to let them remayne still after their owne lawes.

25 Wherefore our minde is, that this people shal be in rest: we haue concluded, and determined also to restore them their temple againe, that they may liue according to the vse and custome of their forefathers.

26 Thou shalt doe vs a pleasure therefore if thou sende vnto them, and graunt them peace, that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good cheare, and loke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wrote vnto the Iewes: king Antiochus sendeth greeting vnto the counsel, and the other people of the Iewes:

28 If ye fare wel, wee haue our desire: as for vs, we are in good health.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs, how that your desire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne possessions.

30 Wherefore those that will come, we giue them free libertie, vnto the thirtie day of the moneth of "April,

"or, Zanthicus.

31 That they may vse the meates of the Iewes, and their owne lawes, lyke as afore: and none of them by any manner of wayes to haue harme for things donne in ignorance.

32 I haue sent also Menelaus, that he may comfort you.

33 Fare ye wel. In the hundred fourtie and eyght yeere, the fiftienth day of the moneth of April.

34 The Romanes also sent a letter, conteining these words: Quintus Memmius, and Titus Manilius, Ambassadours of the Romanes, sende greeting vnto the people of the Iewes.

35 Loke what Lysias the kings kinsman hath graunted you, we graunt you the same also.

36 But as concerning the things which he referred vnto the king, sende hyther some with speede, and ponder the matter diligently among your selues, that we may "cal the best to your profite, for we must depart nowe vnto Antioche.

"or, make the best.

37 And therfore write shortly agayne, that we may knowe your minde.

38 Farewel. In the hundred fourtie and eight yere, the fiftienth day of the moneth of April.

The. xij. Chapter.

2. Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3. The wicked deede of them of Ioppa against the Iewes. 6. Iudas is auenged of them. 9. He setteth fyre on the gate of Iamnia. 20. The pursute of the Iewes against Timothi. 24. Timothi is taken, and let goe vnhurt. 32. Iudas pursueth Gorgias. 43. Iudas offering sacrifyce for the deade, sheweth the hope of the resurrection.

1 When these couenantes were made, Lysias went vnto the king, and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But Timotheus, and Apollonius the sonne of Gennei, Ierome, and Demophon (the proude) Nicanor the captaine of Cypres, and they that lay in those places, would not let them liue in rest and peace.

3 They of Ioppa also dyd euen suche a shamefull deede: they prayed the Iewes that that dwelt among them, to goe with their wyues and children into the ships which they had prepared, and dyd wyth them as though they hadde ought them no euyll wil.

4 Forsomuche then as there was gonne forth a general proclamation through the citie, bycause of peace, they consented therto, and suspected nothyng: but when they were gonne forth into the deepe, they drowned no lesse than two hundred of them.

5 When Judas knew of this crueltie shewed vnto his people, he cōmaunded those that were with him to make them redy,

6 Exhorting them to call vppon God the righteous iudge, wente forth agaynste those murtherers of his brethren, set fyre in the heauen by night, brent vp the ships: and those that escaped from the fyre, hee slue (with the sworde.)

B 7 And when he had donne this, he departed, as though he would come againe, and rote out all them of Joppa:

8 But when he hadde gotten worde that the Jamnites were minded to doe in like manner vnto the Jewes whiche dwelt among them,

9 He came vppon the Jamnites by night, and set fyre on the hauen, with the ships: so ỳ the light of the fyre was sene at Jerusalem vppon a two hundred and fourtie furlonges.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney towarde Timotheus, fiue thousande men of forte, and fiue hundred horsemen of the Arabians, fought with him.

11 So when the battell was earnest, and prospered with Judas, through the helpe of God: the residue of the (a) Arabians, being ouercome, besought Judas to be at one with them, and promised to giue him certaine "pastures, and to doe him good in other things.

12 Judas thinking that they shoulde in deede bee profitable concernyng manye things, promised them peace: whereupon they shooke handes, and so they departed to their tentes.

13 Judas went also vnto a citie, whiche was very fast kept with bridges, fensed rounde about with walles, and diuers kindes of people dwelling therein, called Calpin.

C 14 They that were within it, put such trust in the strength of the walles, and in their store of vitayles, that they were the slacker in their doings, cursyng and reuiling Judas with blasphemies, and speaking suche wordes as it becommeth not.

15 But Machabeus calling vpon the great prince of the worlde, (whiche without any battel rammes or ordinance of warre, did cast downe the walles of Jericho, in time of Josuah) fel manfully vpon the walles, Josue. 6. t.

16 Toke the citie, and through the helpe of the Lorde, made an exceeding greate slaughter: insomuche that a lake of two furlongs broade, which lay thereby, seemed to flow with the bloud of the slayne.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fiftie furlongs, and came to "Taraca, vnto the Jewes that are called Tubianei. "or, Characa.

18 But as for Timotheus, they coulde not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) he was departed from thence, and had left certaine mē in a very strong hold.

19 But Dositheus and Sosipater, whiche were captaynes with Machabeus, slue those that Timotheus hadde lefte in the house of defence, more than ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus prepared him, wyth the fyre thousande men that were about him, set them in order by companies, and went forth against Timotheus, whiche hadde wyth hym an hundred and twentie thousande men of forte, two thousand and fiue hundred horsemen.

D 21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage, vnto a castel called Carnion: for it coulde not be won, and was harde to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narowe.

22 And when Judas his first band came in sight, the enimies were smitten with feare, through the presence of God which seeth al things: insomuch that they, fleeing one here, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swordes.

23 Judas also was very earnest in following vpō them, punishing those vngodly, and slue thirtie thousande men of them. Jud. 7. t. 1. Re. 14. c. 2. Par. 20. D

24 Timotheus also him selfe fell into the handes of Dositheus and Sosipater, whō he besought wyth muche crafte to let him goe wyth hys lyfe, bycause he had many of the Jewes fathers and brethren in prison, which if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when he had promised faithfully to deliuer them againe, according to ỳ condition made, they let him goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion and Atargation, and there slue twentie and fiue thousande men.

E 27 Nowe after that he had chased away, & slayne his enimies, he remoued the host toward Ephron, a strong citie, wherein was Lysias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong yong men kept the walles, defending them mightyly: in this citie was much ordinance and prouision of dartes. 1.Ma.5.c.

28 But when Iudas and his companie had called vppon almightie God, whiche with his power breaketh the strength of the enimies, they wan the citie, and slue twentie and fiue thousande of them that were within.

29 From thence went they to the citie of the "Scythians, whiche lyeth sixe hundred furlongs from Ierusalem. "or, Scythopolis.

30 But when the Iewes whiche were in the citie, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersitie, 31 Iudas and his company gaue the thankes, desiring them to be friendly styll vnto them: and so they came to Ierusalem, the high feast of the weekes being at hande.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth agaynst Gorgias, the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand me of foote, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Which when they met together, it chaūced a fewe of the Iewes to be slayne.

35 And Dositheus, one of the Bacenors, a mighty horseman, toke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fel vpon him, and smote of his arme, so ỳ Gorgias escaped, and fled into "Mozesa. "or, Maresa.

36 When they nowe that were of Gorgias side, had foughten long, and were weery, Iudas called vppon the Lorde, that hee woulde be their helper, and captayne of the feelde: "or, Eldrin.

F 37 And with that he beganne in his owne language, and song Psalmes with a loud voyce: insomuch that he made the enimies afrayde, and Gorgias men of warre toke their flight.

38 So Iudas gathered his host, and came into the citie of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vppon them, they cleansed them selues, as the custome was and kept the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vppon the day folowing, as necessitie requyred, Iudas and his company came to take vp the bodyes of them that were slayne, and to burie them in their fathers graues.

40 Nowe vnder the coates of certaine Iewes, which were slayne, they found iewels ỳ they had taken (out of the temple and) from the idolles of the Iamnites: which thyng is forbydden the Iewes by the lawe: then euery manne sawe that this was the cause wherefore they were slayne. Deut.7. Ioſu.7.

41 And so euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lorde for his righteous Iudgement, which had opened ỳ thing that was hid.

42 They fell downe also vnto their prayers, and besought God that ỳ fault which G was made, might be put out of remembraunce: besides that, Iudas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe them selues from suche sinne, forsomuche as they sawe before their eyes that these men were slayne for the same offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certaine, and sent two thousande dragmes of syluer vnto Ierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the misdeede: in the whiche place he did wel and ryght, for he had some consyderation and pondryng of the lyke that is after this time.

44 For if he hadde not thought that they whiche were slayne shoulde ryse agayne, it hadde bin superfluous and vayne to make any vowe or sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But for so muche as he sawe that they which dye in the fauour & beliefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honorable for a reconcilyng, to doe the same for those which were slayne, that the offence might be forgiuen. 1.p.c.

The.xiij.Chapter.

1. The comming of Eupator into Iurie. 4. The death of Menelaus. 10. Machabeus going to fyght against Eupator, moueth his souldiers vnto prayer. 15. He killeth fouretiene thousande menne in the tentes of Antiochus. 21. Rhodocus the betrayer of the Iewes is taken. 24. Antiochus reteyned friendship with the Iewes.

IN the hundred fourtie and nine yere, I 1 Mac. Iudas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was cōming with a greate power into Iurie.

2 And

1 And Lyſias the ſteward and ruler of his matters with hym, hauing an hundred and tenne thouſande men of fote of the Grecians, fiue thouſande horſemen, twentie and two Elephants, and three hundred charets set with hookes.

3 Menelaus also ioyned hym selfe wyth them, but with great deceyte spake fayre to the king, not for any good of the countrey, but bycause he thought to haue beene made some great man of authoritie.

4 But the kyng of kynges moued Antiochus mynde agaynſt this vngodly perſon, and Lyſias enfourmed the king that this Menelaus was the cauſe of all miſchiefe: ſo that the kyng commaunded to bryng him vnto Berea, and as the manner of them is, to put hym vnto death in the ſame place.

5 There was alſo in the ſame place a towre of fyftie cubites highe, heaped with aſhes: and it hadde an inſtrumente that turned rounde, and on euery ſyde it rolled downe into the aſhes, and there who ſo euer was condemned of ſacrilege, or of any other grieuous cryme, was caſt of all men vnto the death.

6 Whereunto the kyng commaunded that ſhamefull perſon to be caſt among the aſhes, as one that was cauſe of all vngrationſnelle.

B 7 And reaſon it was, that the vnthrifte ſhoulde dye ſuche a death, and not to bee buryed:

8 For he had done much miſchiefe vnto the aulter of God, whoſe fyre and aſhes were holie: therefore was it right that he hym ſelfe alſo ſhould be deſtroyed with aſhes.

9 But the king was wood in hys mynde. and came to ſhewe him ſelfe more cruell vnto the Jewes, than his father was.

10 Which when Judas perceyued, he commaunded the people to call vpon the Lord nyght and day, that he would nowe helpe them alſo lyke as he had done alway: for they were afrayde to be put from theyr lawe, from their naturall countrey, and from the holie temple, 11 And not to ſuffer the people, which a litle while afore began to recouer, to be ſubdued againe of the blaſphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and beſought the Lorde for mercie, with weeping, and faſting three dayes long, flat vpon the grounde, Judas exhorted them to make them ſelues readie.

13 But hee and the eldeſt together deuiſed to goe forth (firſt with the people) afore the kyng brought his hoaſt into Jurie, and afore he beſieged the citie, and ſo to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of C all things vnto God the maker of all the world, exhorting his people to fyght manfully, yea, euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne natiue countrey, and to defende the citizens: and he ſet his hoaſt before Modin.

15 Hee gaue them alſo that were with hym a token of the victorie of God, chooſing out the manlyeſt yong men, went by nyght into the kyngs pauilion, ſlue of the hoaſt fouretiene thouſande men, and the greateſt 1. Mac. 6. k.
of the Elephantes, with thoſe that ſat vpon them.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tentes of their enimies, and all things went proſperouſly with them, 17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Now when the king perceyued the manlyneſſe of the Jewes, hee went about to take the ſtrong places by craft,

19 And remoued his hoaſt vnto Bethſura, 2. Mac. 11. a which was a well kept houſe of defence of the Jewes: but they were chaſed away, hurt and diſcomfited.

20 And Judas ſent vnto them that were in it, ſuch things as were neceſſarie.

21 In the Jewes hoaſt alſo there was one D
Rhodochus, which tolde the enimies their ſecretes: but they ſought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put hym in pryſon.

22 After this, did the king commune wyth them that were in Bethſura, toke truce with them, departed, and ſtroke a battayle with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when hee vnderſtode that Philip, whome he had left to be ouerſeer of this buſineſſe at Antioch, beganne to rebell againſt him, he was aſtonyed in his mynd, ſo that he yeelded him ſelfe to the Jewes, and made them an othe to do whatſoeuer they thought right.

24 Nowe when hee was reconciled wyth them, hee offered, made muche of the temple, gaue great giftes vnto it,

25 Embraced Machabeus, making hym captayne and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Garrhenes, 26 Neuertheleſſe, when he came to Ptolomais, the people of ỳ citie were not cõtent with the bond of friendſhip: for they were afraid that he would breake the couenant.

27 Then went Lyſias vp into the iudgement ſeate, and excuſed the fact as well as he could, and enformed the people, ſhewed them the cauſe why, and pacifyed them: ſo hee came agayne to Antioche. This is nowe the matter concerning the kinges iourney, and his returne.

The.xiiij.Chapter.

1. By the motion of the Lorde, Demetrius ſendeth Nicanor to kyll the Iewes. 18. Nicanor maketh a compact with the Iewes. 29. whiche hee yet breaketh thorowe the motion of the king. 37. Nicanor commaundeth Razias to be taken. 41. The boldneſſe of Razias.

A 1 AFter three yeeres, was Iudas informed howe that Demetrius the ſonne of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and ſhippes, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certayne commodious places and countreys, againſt Antiochus and his captayne Lyſias.

3 Nowe Alcimus which had beene hyghe prieſt, and wilfully defiled him ſelfe in the tyme of the myxting, ſeeyng that by no meanes he coulde be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the aulter.

4 He came to king Demetrius, in the hundred fiftie and one yeere, preſenting vnto hym a crowne of Golde, a Palme, and an Olive tree, whiche as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day helde his tong.

5 But when hee had gotten opportunitie for his madneſſe, Demetrius called hym to counſell, and aſked him what things or counſels the Iewes leaned vnto?

6 He anſwered, The Iewes that be called Aſſidei (whoſe captayne is Judas Machabeus) mayntayne warres, make inſurrections, and will not let the realme be in peace.

B 7 For I, being depriued of my fathers honour (I meane the highe prieſthode) am come hither:

8 Partly bycauſe I was faythfull vnto the king, and partly bycauſe I ſought the profite of myne owne citizens: and why? all our people, through the wyckedneſſe of them, are not a litle troubled.

9 Wherefore, I beſeeche thee, O king, conſider all theſe things diligently, and then make ſome proviſion for the lande and the people, according to the kyndeneſſe that thou haſt offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Judas lyueth, it is not poſſible that men can liue in peace.

11 When hee hadde ſpoken theſe wordes, other friendes alſo hauyng euill will at Judas, ſet the king Demetrius on fyre (againſt him.)

12 Which immediatly ſent Nicanor, ruler of the Elephantes, a captayne, into Iurie, 1. Mac.

13 Commaunding hym to ſlay Judas, and to ſcatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus hygh prieſt of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fled out of Iurie frō Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thynking the harme and decaye of the Iewes to be their welfare. C

15 Nowe when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the Heathen, they ſprinckled themſelues with earth, and beſought him which 2. Mac. made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he would preſerue them ſtyll.

16 So at the commaundement of the captayne, they remoued ſtrayght wayes from thence, and came to a town called Deſſau.

17 And Simon, Judas brother, fell in hande wyth Nicanor: but through the ſodayne " commyng of the enimies her " 11, 12 was afrayde.

18 Neuertheleſſe, Nicanor hearing the manlyneſſe of them that were with Judas, and the bolde ſtomackes that they had to fyght for their naturall countrey, durſt not proue the matter with bloudſhedding.

19 Wherefore, he ſent Poſſidonius, " Theodorus, and Matthathias before, to gyue and to take peace. " 21, Gorgias, Mapſias.

20 So when they had taken long aduiſement therevpon, and the captayne ſhewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one mynde to haue peace.

21 And they appoynted a daye to ſyt vpon theſe matters quietly among them ſelues, D & for euery one ſtoles alſo were brought, and ſet forth.

22 Neuertheleſſe Judas commaunded certayne men of armes to wayte in conuenient places, leaſt there ſhould ſodainly ariſe any euill through the enimies: and ſo they communed reaſonably together.

23 Nicanor whyle he abode at Jeruſalem, ordered him ſelfe not vnreaſonably, but ſent away the people that were gathered together.

24 Hee loued Judas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

25 He

23 hee prayed him also to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he marryed, lyued in rest, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceyuing the loue that was betwixt them, and howe they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and tolde hym that Nicanor had taken strange matters in hande, and ordeyned Judas, an enimie of the realme, to be the kinges successour.

27 Then the kyng was sore displeased, and though the wycked accusations whiche Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was so prouoked, that he wrote vnto Nicanor, saying that he was very angry for the friendshippe and agreement which he had made with Machabeus: neuertheless, he commaunded hym, in all the haste, that hee shoulde take Machabeus prysoner, and sende him to Antioch.

28 Whiche (letters) when Nicanor hadde seene, hee was at his wittes ende, and sore greeued, that hee shoulde breake the things wherein they had agreed, specially seeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But bycause hee myght not withstande the king, hee sought opportunitie to fulfill his commaundement.

30 Notwithstanding, when Machabeus sawe that Nicanor beganne to be churlish vnto him, and that he intreated him more roughly than he was wont, hee perceyued that suche vnkyndnesse came not of good, and therfore he gathered a few of his men and withdrewe him selfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when hee knewe that Machabeus hadde manfully preuented hym, hee came into the great and most holie temple, and commaunded the priestes which were doing the vsuall offerings, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they sware that they coulde not tel wher the mã was whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hande toward the temple, and made an othe, saying, If ye will not delyuer me Judas captiue, I shall remoue this temple of God into the playne fielde, I shall breake downe the aulter, and consecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

34 After these wordes he departed. Then the priestes lyft vp their handes towarde heauen, and besought him that was euer the defender of their people, saying,

35 Thou, O Lord of al, which hast neede of nothing, wouldest that the temple of thy habitation should be among vs:

36 Therefore nowe, O moste holie Lorde, keepe this house euer vndefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accused vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Jerusalem, a louer of the whole citie, and a man of good report, which for the kynde heart that hee bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Jewes.

38 This man oftentimes, when the Jewes were mynded to keepe them selues vndefyled, defended and deliuered them, being content stedfastly to spende hys body and his life for his people.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare to the Jewes, sent fiue hundred men of warre to take him:

40 For he thought if he gate him, he should bring the Jewes in great decay.

41 Now when the people beganne to rush in at his house, to breake the dores, and to set fyre on it, he being nowe taken, (c) fell vpon his sworde,

42 Chosing rather to dye manfully, than to yeelde him selfe to those wicked doers: and bycause of his noble stocke, he had rather haue bene put to extreame crueltie.

43 Notwithstanding, what tyme as hee missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixte the dores, he ranne boldely to the wall, and cast him selfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Whiche gaue sone place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his belly.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, he was kyndled in his minde, and while his bloud gushed out exceedingly, (for he was verie sore wounded) he ran through the middest of the people, and gat him to the top of a rocke.

46 So when his bloud was now gone, he toke out his owne bowels with both his handes, and threwe them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lorde of life and spirite, to reward him this againe, and so he died.

c. This fact is not to be approued, for that it is contrarie to Gods commaundement. Thou shalt not kyll. Exod. 20. Deute. 5.

The. xv. Chapter.

2. Nicanor goeth about to come vppon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5. The blasphemie of Nicanor. 14. Machabeus expoũding vnto the Iewes the visiõ, boldneth their harts. 21. The prayer of Machabeus. 30. After the hoast of Nicanor is once ouercome, Machabeus commaundeth his head and his handes to be cut off, and his tong to be giuen vnto foules.

1 Now

A 1 NOwe when Nicanor knewe that Iudas and his company were in the 1.Mac.7.d. countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to strike a fielde with him vpon a Sabboth day.

2 Neuerthelesse, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, sayde, O doe not so cruelly and vnkyndly, but halowe the Sabboth day, and worshippe him that seeth all things:

3.Re.20.c. 3 (For all this) yet sayde the vngratious person, Is there a mightie one in heauen, that commaunded the Sabboth daye to bee kepte?

Exod.20.b. 4 And when they sayde, Yea, the lyuing God, the myghtie Lorde in heauen commaunded the seuenth day to be kept:

5 He sayde, And I am mightie vpon earth, to commaunde them for to arme themselues, and to performe the kings businesse. Notwithstanding, hee might not haue his purpose.

6 Nicanor had deuised with great pride to ouercome Iudas, and to bring away the victorie:

B 7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confydence, and a perfect hope in God, that hee would helpe him:

8 And exhorted his people not to be afrayd at the comming of the Heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had beene shewed vnto them from heauen, yea and to be sure nowe also that Almightie God would giue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe and prophetes, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had stricken afore, and made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their hearttes were pluckt vp, he shewed them also the deceytfulnesse of the Heathen, and howe they would keepe no couenant, nor othe.

11 Thus he weaponed them, not with the armour of shielde and speare, but with wholsome wordes and exhortations: hee shewed them a dreame also, wherthrough he made them all glad,

12 Which was this: Hee thought that hee sawe Onias, which had beene high priest, a vertuous and louing man, sadde, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had ben exercised in godlynesse from a chylde, holding vp his handes towarde heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honourable, and glorious.

C 14 And Onias sayd, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel, this is hee that prayeth muche for the people, and for all the holie citie, Ieremie the prophete of God.

15 Hee thought also that Ieremie helde out his ryght hande, and gaue vnto Iudas a sworde of golde, saying, 16 Take this holie sworde, a gyfte from God, wherewith thou shalt smite downe the enimies of the people of Israell.

17 And so they were well comforted throwe the wordes of Iudas, which were verie sweete, and able to styrre vp their courage: and toke courage vnto them, so that the yong men were determined in their myndes to fyght, and to abyde stiffly at it: in so much that in the things whiche they toke in hande, their boldenesse shewed the same, bycause the holie citie, the sanctuarie, and the temple were in peryll, 18 For the whiche they toke more care than for their wyues, chyldren, brethren, and kinsfolkes.

19 Agayne, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those whiche were to fight.

20 Nowe when they were all in hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and the enimies drewe nygh, the hoast being set in aray, the Elephantes and horsemen euery one standing in his place:

21 Machabeus considering the comming D of the multitude, the ordinance of dyuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beastes, held vp his handes towarde heauen, calling vpon the Lorde that doth wonders, which giueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons and power of the hoast, but to them that please him, according to his owne will. 2.Par. Iud.7. 4.Re.

22 Therefore in his prayer hee sayde these wordes, O Lorde, thou that dyddest sende thyne Angell in the time of Ezekiah kyng of Iuda, and in the hoast of Sennacherib slewest an hundred fourescore and fiue thousande:

23 Sende nowe also thy good Angell before vs, O Lorde of heauens, in the fearefulnesse and dread of thy mightie arme, 24 That they which come agaynst thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afrayde. And so hee made an ende of hys wordes.

25 Then Nicanor, and they that were with hym, drewe nyghe, with trumpettes and showtings for ioy:

26 But Iudas and hys companie, with prayer prayer and calling vpon God, encountred with the enimies.

27 With their handes they smote, but with their hearts they prayed vnto the Lorde, and slue no lesse than thirtie and fiue thousand men: for through the present helpe of God, they were glorioully comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning agayne with ioy, they vnderstoode that Nicanor hym selfe was slayne with the other, for all his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great shoute, and a crye, praysing the Almightie Lord in their owne language.

30 And Judas, which was euer readie to spende his bodie and lyfe for his citizens, commaunded to smite off Nicanors head, with his arme and hande, & to be brought to Jerusalem.

31 When he came there, hee called all the people and the priestes to the aulter, with those that were in the castell.

32 And shewed them Nicanors heade, and his wicked hande, which he had presumptuously holden vp agaynst the temple of God.

33 Hee caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor, to be cut in litle peeces, and to be cast to the fowles, and that cruell mans hande to be hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euery man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his place vndefiled.

35 As for Nicanors heade hee hanged it vp vpon the highe castell, for an euident and playne token of the helpe of God. F

36 And so they agreed altogether to keepe the day holy, (namely,) the thirtenth day of the moneth "Adar. "Februarie.

37 Which in the Syrians language is called the next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slayne, and from that tyme forth the Iewes had the citie in possession. And here will I nowe make an ende.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I could.

40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then agayne water, and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter, delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shall be the end.

The end of the second booke of the Machabees.

FOr better vnderſtanding of the contents this Table, ye ſhall note, that the Euangeliſtes S. Matthew and S. Luke, haue diuerſly reſited the generation of our Sauiour Chriſte, according to the fleſhe. and tend both to one end: that is, to proue, (according to that which is writte in the prophecies) he is deſcended of the royal blonde of Dauid and rightly ſucceeded him in the kingdom. So the difference the ſaid reſitall conſiſteth in this: that S. Matthew ſtretch the ſaide generation deſcending from father to ſonne, & S. Luke, aſcending from ſonne to father, which comes all to ende. But to ſhewe the agreement of Saint Luke with S. Matthew, we haue here ſet forth the generation by him deſcribed, deſcending after the order of Saint Matthewe, to end that the one may be conferred with the other. Further Saint Matthew deſcribed the generation of Ioſeph, though belong nothing to Ieſus Chriſt, after the fleſhe, and S. L that of the virgin Mary: for it was very neceſſary to reſite foraſmuch as women were cõmonly reputed of the line & red of their huſbands: & ſo aſwel on hir huſbands ſide, as on own ofſpring, it is manifeſt ẏ ſhe was of ẏ roial line of Da

* Iuda of the line of Nathan, engendred Simon, ca Ioas, which came to the royall ſeate, bycauſe the poſteritie Solomon fayled in Ochoſias: and therefore the kingdome longed to Nathans poſteritie, according to the ordinance Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the yongeſt of the childre Berſabe (whiche was Solomon) ſhould raigne after him, that, if the poſteritie fayled, the kingdome ſhoulde come to poſteritie of the next yonger, which was Nathan: and there Nathan was called Ihiſcar, that is to ſay, Bzother of ẏ prince, & they of his poſteritie Ihiſcarim, that is to ſay, Bzothers of prince, & Mathitim, which ſignifieth, giuen to ſucceed. The Philo reciteth, ẏ the poſteritie of the ſayd Nathan, was ſo red of the king Ioſaphat, that he called his childrẽ the bzothers Ioram his ſonne, and their childzen the bzothers of Ochoſias nephewe: and this is the cauſe why the Scripture ſaith, Ioas was the ſonne of Ochoſias, though he were not his na rall ſonne, but the ſonne of Iuda, deſcending from Nathan.

Note that S. Matthew, going about to deſcribe the gen tion by fourtenes, did firſt leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Z rias, which are ſet in betwene Ochoſias, ẏ laſt of the race o lomon & Ioathan. Further, he hath left out Achaas, & Ioa placed betwene Ioſias & Iechonias. All which we haue here in their order, to make the ſame deſcription more perfect & p

* Foraſmuch as it ſeemeth that S. Luke maketh no men of the generation of Marie, but rather of Ioſeph: for he these wordes, that Ieſus was counted the ſonne of Ioſeph, was of Heli, that is to ſay, the ſon of Heli: we muſt vnderſt that in this place, the name of ſonne, is taken for the name ſonne in lawe, and that S. Luke meaneth that Ioſeph was ſonne in lawe to Heli, for that he toke to wife the virgin M rie, daughter to the ſayd Heli, which maner of ſpeach is com in the ſcripture: for we find that Noemi called Ruth hir dau ter, which was but hir ſtepdaughter, hir ſonnes wife.

The nevve Te=ſtament of our ſauiour Ieſus Chriſte.

Rom. 1.

I am not aſhamed of the Goſpell of Chriſte, bycauſe it is the power of God vnto ſaluation to all that beleeue.

God ſaue the Queene.

A Preface into the nevve Teſtament.

THE newe Teſtament, ſo called, conteyning the wrytings of the Euangeliſtes, with the Epiſtles of Chriſtes Apoſtles, and with other ſuch diuine bookes, declare playnely vnto vs the ſumme and effect of all the ſcriptures expreſſed in the olde Teſtament. That which was in figure and in obſcuritie inuolued by the Patriarkes and Prophets in their propheticall volumes, written by the inſpiration of the holie ghoſt: is in this booke more playnely and euidently ſet out, vttered alſo in the ſelfe ſame ſpirite, by the children of the prophetes, the holie Apoſtles. Indeede the lawe was giuen by Moſes, but grace and veritie came by Ieſus Chriſte, which grace this booke of the newe Teſtament doth moſt euidently commend and ſet out. In this is diſcourſed the whole myſterie of our ſaluation and redemption, purchaſed by our ſauiour Chriſte, here is his holie conception deſcribed, his Natiuitie, his Circumciſion, his whole life and conuerſation, his godly doctrine, his diuine myracles. In this booke of the newe Teſtament is ſet out his death, his reſurrection, his aſcention, his ſending of the holy ſpirite, his ſeſſion in our fleſh on the right hand of his father, making continuall interceſſion to him for vs. In this booke is conteyned the forme and order of his laſt iudgement, after the generall reſurrection of our bodyes. Theſe be the myſteries of our fayth, theſe be the groundes of our ſaluation, theſe be thus written that we ſhoulde beleeue them, and by our beliefe ſhoulde enioy life euerlaſting. Once and in times paſt God diuerſly and many wayes ſpake vnto the fathers by the prophetes, but in theſe laſt dayes he hath ſpoken vnto vs (vpon whome the endes of the world be come) by his owne ſonne, whom he hath made heyre of all things, whoſe dignitie is ſuch, that he is the brightneſſe of his fathers glorie, the very image of his ſubſtance, ruling all things by the word of his power. This heauenly doctor ſo indued with glorie and maieſtie, we ought moſt reuerently to beleeue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heauenly father, to be heard as his moſt welbeloued ſonne, in whome is his whole delight, by whome he will be pleaſed and pacified: It will elſe come to paſſe, ſayth that prophet Moſes, that whoſoeuer ſhall not heare and obey that prophet in the wordes that he ſhall ſpeake in his fathers name, I will be, ſayth the father, reuenger of him. This is the laſt prophete to be looked for to ſpeake vnto vs: In him be vniuerſally incloſed the riches and treaſure of the wiſedome and knowledge of God his father: by him he hath decreed finally to iudge the whole worlde, the liuing and the deade: by him hath he decreed to giue to his elect life euerlaſting, and to the reprobate (who hath contemned his life and doctrine) death euerlaſting. Let vs therefore ſeriouſly heare and obey this our heauenly teacher, ſubmit our ſelues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs eſteeme his doctrine and conuerſation, as a full, perfect, and ſufficient patterne of all holyneſſe and vertue: Let vs eſteeme the doctrine of this booke, as a moſt inflexible rule to leade vs to all trueth and newneſſe of life. Here may we beholde the eternall legacies of the newe Teſtament, bequeathed from God the father in Chriſt his ſonne to all his electes, I ſay, the legacies liuely renued vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharao his ſeruitude, but from the bondage and thraldome of that perpetuall aduerſarie of ours the deuill: here may we beholde our inheritance, not of the temporall land of Chanaan, or of the tranſlation of vs to the place of worldly paradiſe: but here we may ſee the ful reſtitution of vs, both in body and ſoule, to the celeſtial paradiſe, the heauenly citie of Ieruſalem aboue, there to raigne with God the father, God the ſonne, and God the holie ghoſt for euer. Which legacies of his Teſtament promiſed and bequeathed, were notwithſtanding recorded in the bookes of the olde Teſtament to our auncient fathers, which in hope beleeued in Chriſt to come, who was painted before them in figures and ſhadowes, and ſignified in their olde ſacramentes ordayned for that time: but nowe more euidently renewed and exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promiſe, but in open ſight, in feeling, in handling and touching of this eternall life, moſt manifeſtly confirmed vnto vs in Chriſte his bloude in this his newe Teſtament continued and reuiued, yet in new ſacraments, the better to beare in our remembrance this his eternall Teſtament of al ioyful felicities. Let vs nowe therefore nowe good chriſtian people, reioyce in theſe glad tidings expreſſed vnto vs by the name of the Goſpell of our ſauiour Chriſt, and let it neuer fall out of our remembrance, that we were ſometime ouerwhelmed in darkeneſſe, and ſet in the ſhadowe of death: let vs conſider that we were ſometime by our naturall birth the children of God his wrath, and wholly eſtranged from the houſholde of God. Let vs beare in minde that we were ſometime no people of God, nor his beloued, that we were by nature branches of the wilde Oliue, and nowe by meere mercy grafted into the right and naturall Oliue tree: wherevpon let vs the rather repoſe our life in feare and reuerence. If we be nowe the children of light, let vs walke in this our light in all holyneſſe and godlyneſſe of life, approuing that whiche is pleaſing to the Lorde. Let vs haue no felowſhip with the vnfruitfull woorkes of darkeneſſe, and let vs henceforth be no more children, wauering and caryed about with euerie winde of doctrine, and by the deceit and craftineſſe of men, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue vs: but let vs folowe the trueth in loue and charitie, and in all things growe vp into him which is the heade, that is Chriſte our ſauiour. If we be nowe the children of grace, and made liuely members of his body, though ſometime ſtrangers and forreiners farre off, and made neere by the bloud of Chriſte, and made citizens with the ſaintes, and of the houſholde of God: let vs direct our hearts thither where our head is, delighting our ſelfe in all heauenly cogitations, walking in all ſpirituall workes and fruites of the ſpirite, as Gods deare elect. God graunt that Chriſte may ſo dwell in our hearts by fayth, that we may be able to comprehende with all ſaintes the vnſpeakable loue of Chriſt, which paſſeth all mans knowledge. Vnto him therefore which is able to do exceeding aboundantly aboue all that we can aske or thinke, be praiſe in the Church by Chriſte Ieſus, throughout all generations for euer. AMEN.

The (a) Gospell by Saint Matthæwe.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The genealogie of Christe from Abraham. 18. The mariage of his mother Marie. 20. The Angell satisfieth Iosephes mynde. 21. The interpretation of Christes names.

1 THis is the (b) booke of the generation of Iesus Christe, the sonne of Dauid, the sonne of Abraham.

2 Abraham begat Isahac, Isahac begat Jacob, Jacob begat Judas, and his brethren.

3 Judas begat Phares, and Zara, of Thamar, Phares begat Esrom, Esrom begat Aram.

4 Aram begat Aminadab, Aminadab begat Naallon, Naallon begat Salmon.

5 Salmon begat Boos, of Rachab, Boos begat Obed, of Ruth, Obed begat Jesse.

6 Jesse begat Dauid the king, Dauid the king begat Solomon, of hir that was the wife of Urie.

7 Solomon begat Roboam, Roboam begat Abia, Abia begat Asa.

8 Asa begat Josaphat, Josaphat begat Joram, Joram begat Ozias.

9 Ozias begat Joatham, Joatham begat Achas, Achas begat Ezekias.

10 Ezekias begat Manasses, Manasses begat Amon, Amon begat Josias.

11 Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were caryed away to Babylon.

12 And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiell, Salathiell begat Zorobabell.

13 Zorobabell begat Abiud, Abiud begat Eliakim, Eliakim begat Azor.

14 Azor begat Sadoc, Sadoc begat Achen, Achen begat Eliud.

15 Eliud begat Eleazer, Eleazer begat Matthan, Matthan begat Jacob.

16 Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Marie, of whome was borne Jesus, that is called Christe.

17 And so all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourtiene generations: and from Dauid vntyll the carying away into Babylon, are fourteene generations: and from the carying away into Babylon vnto Christ, are fourtene generations.

18 The byrth of Jesus Christe was on this wyse. When as his mother Marie was betrouthed to Joseph (before they came together) she was founde with childe of the holy ghost.

19 Then Joseph hir husbande, being a righteous man, and not wylling to make hir a publique example, was mynded priuily to put hir away.

20 But whyle hee thought these things, beholde, the angell of the Lorde appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Joseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take (vnto thee) Marie thy wife, for that which is conceyued in hir, is of the holie ghost.

21 She shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall saue his people from their sinnes. D Phil. 2. b. Actes. 4. b.

22 (All this was done, that it might be fulfilled, whiche was spoken of the Lorde by the prophete, saying, 23 Beholde, a virgin shall be with childe, and shall bring forth a sonne, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.) Esai. 7. c.

24 Then Joseph, being raysed from sleepe, did as the angell of the Lorde had bidden him, and he toke his wife:

25 (c) And knew hir not, till she had brought forth hir first borne sonne, and called his name Jesus.

c. This phrase doth not import that hee knewe hir afterward: as the like phrase vsed, Mat. 5, 28 and Psal. 123. or that she had any moe children.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. The time and place of Christes birth. 11. The wisemen offer their presentes. 14. Christe fleeth into Egipt. 16. The yong children are slayne. 23. Christe turneth into Galilee.

1 WHen Jesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Jurie, in the dayes of Herode the king: beholde, there came wise men from the East to Jerusalem. A The Gospell on the Epiphanie.

2 Saying, where is he that is borne kyng of the Jewes? for we haue seene his starre in the East, and are come to worship him. Num. 24. c.

3 When Herode the kyng had heard these things, her was troubled, and all (the citie of) Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the chiefe priestes and scribes of the people together, he demaunded of them where Christ shuld be borne.

5 And they sayd vnto him, At Bethlehem in Jurie: For thus it is written by the prophete, Mich.5.a. 6 And thou Bethlehem (in) the lande of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: For out of thee shall there come a captayne, that shall governe my people Israell.

Joh.7.k.

B 7 Then Herode when hee had priuily called the wyse men, enquired of them diligently, what time the starre appeared.

8 And hee sent them to Bethlehem, and sayde, Goe, and searche diligently for the yong chylde, and when ye haue found him, bring me worde againe, that I may come and worshyp him also.

9 When they had heard the kyng, they departed, and loe, the starre which they sawe in the East went before them, till it came and stode ouer (the place) wherin the yong chylde was.

10 When they sawe the starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy.

11 And went into the house, and they sawe the yong childe with Marie his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him giftes, gold, and frankensence, and Myrre.

Psal.72.d. Esai.60.b.

12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame, that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.

a. Ioseph was not the father of Christe, else the angell wold not haue sayd, Take the childe and his mother, but rather, take thy chylde.

13 * When they were departed, beholde, the angell of the Lorde appeared to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the yong chylde, and (a) his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there till I bring thee worde: for it will come to passe, that Herod shall seeke the yong childe, to destroy him.

* The Gospell on Innocentes day.

14 When he arose, he toke the yong childe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:

C 15 And was there vnto the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophete, saying, Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.

Oseæ.11.a.

Nu.24.c.

16 Then Herode, when hee sawe that hee was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slue all the chyldren that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coastes thereof, as many as were two yeeres olde and vnder, according to the time, which he had diligently learched out, of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremie the prophete, saying, Jer.31.c.

18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachell weeping (for) hir children, and would not be comforted, bycause they were not.

19 But when Herode was deade, beholde, an angell of the Lorde appeareth in a dreame to Joseph in Egypt, 20 Saying, Arise, and take the yong childe, and his mother, and goe into the lande of Israell: for they are deade whiche sought the yong childes life. Matt.2.d. Luke.2.d. John.2.

21 And hee arose, and toke the yong chylde and his mother, and came into the lande of Israell.

22 But when he heard, that Archelaus did raigne in Jurie in the rome of his father Herode, he was afraide to go thither: notwithstanding, after hee was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parties of Galilee.

23 And when hee was come thyther, hee dwelt in a citie, which is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by the prophetes, Hee shall be called a Nazarite.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. Iohns preaching, office, life, baptisme. 7. reprehending of the Pharisees. 13. and baptising of Christe in Iordane.

1 IN those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wildernesse of Jurie. I Mark.1.a. Luke.3.a. John.1.d.

2 And saying, Repent (a) ye: for the kingdome of heauen is at hande.

3 For this is he, that was spoken of by the prophete Esaias, saying, The voyce of one crying in the wyldernesse, Prepare ye the waye of the Lorde, make ye his pathes straight. Mark.1.a. 1. This is, after it is to be with a to sing Esai.40.a. 4.Kin.1.b. Mark.1.a. 1.Kin.17.b.

4 This John had his rayment of Camels haire, and a leatherne gyrdle about hys loynes: his meate was locustes and wylde honny.

5 Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Jury, & al the region rounde about Jordane.

6 And were baptised of him in Jordane, confessing their sinnes.

B 7 But when hee sawe many of the Pharisees and Saducees come to his baptisme, he sayde vnto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the anger to come? Luke.3.a.

8 Bring

8 Bring forth therefore fruites meete for repentance.
9 And be not of such mynde, that ye would say within your selues, We haue Abraham to (our) father: for I say vnto you, that God is able, of these stones to rayse vp children vnto Abraham.
10 Euen nowe is the axe also put vnto the rote of the trees: therefore, euerie tree whiche bringeth not forth good fruite, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.
11 I baptise you in water vnto repentance: but he that commeth after me, is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to beare, he shall baptise you with the holie ghost, and with fire.
12 Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floure, and gather his wheate into (his) garner: but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire.
13 Then commeth Iesus from Galilee to Iordane, vnto Iohn, to be baptised of him.
C 14 But Iohn forbade him, saying, I haue neede to be baptised of thee, and commest thou to me?
15 Iesus answering, sayde vnto him, Suffer it to be so nowe: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. Then hee suffered him.
16 And Iesus, when he was baptised, went vp straightway out of the water: and loe the heauens were opened vnto him, and (Iohn) sawe the spirite of God descending like a Doue, and lighting vpon him.
17 And loe there (came) a voyce from the heauens, saying, This is my dearely beloued sonne, in whome I am well pleased.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. Christe fasteth, is tempted. 17. He beginneth to preach. 18. He calleth Peter, Andrewe, Iames, and Iohn, and healeth all the sicke.

1 THen was Iesus led vp of the spirite into wildernesse, to be tempted of the deuill.
2 And when hee had fasted fourtie dayes, and fourtie nyghtes, hee was afterwarde an hungred.
3 And when the tempter came to hym, hee sayde, If thou be the sonne of God, commaunde that these stones be made breade.
4 But he answered, and sayde, It is written, Man shall not liue by bread only but by euery worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.
5 Then the deuill taketh hym vp into the holie citie, and setteth hym on a pinnacle of the temple,
6 And sayth vnto him, If thou be the sonne of God, cast thy self downe: for it is written, that he shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee, and with their handes they shall lift thee vp, least at any time thou dash thy foote against a stone. Psal.91.c.
7 Iesus sayde vnto him, It is written agayne, Thou shalte not tempt the Lorde thy God. Deut.6.c. Luke.4.b.
8 Agayne the deuill taketh him vp into an exceeding highe mountayne, and sheweth him all the kingdomes of the worlde, and the glorie of them: B
9 And saith vnto him, All these things wil I gyue thee, if thou wilt fall downe and worship me.
10 Then sayth Iesus vnto him, Get thee hence behinde me Satan: for it is written, Thou shalte worship the Lorde thy God, and him only shalt thou serue. Deut.6.c. 6.10.d. Luke.4.b. 1.Re.17.a.
11 Then the deuill leaueth him, and behold, the Angels came, and ministred vnto him. Mark.1.b.
12 When Iesus had heard that Iohn was (a)deliuered vp, he departed into Galilee, Mark.1.b.
a. That is, cast in prison.
13 And when hee had left Nazareth, hee went and dwelt in Capernaum, which is (a citie) vpon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim.
14 That it might be fulfilled, which was spoken by Esaias the prophete, saying, C Esai.9.a.
15 The lande of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, (by) the way of the sea beyonde Iordane, Galilee of the Gentiles.
16 The people, which sat in darkenesse, saw great light: and to them whiche sat in the region and shadowe of death, light is sprong vp.
17 From that time Iesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdome of heauen is at hand. Mark.1.a. Matth.1.b
18 And Iesus walking by the sea of Galilee, sawe two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrewe his brother, casting a nette into the sea (for they were fyshers.) Matth.3.a. Mark.1.b. The Gospell on S. Andrewes day.
19 And he sayth vnto them, Followe mee: and I will make you fishers of men. Iere.16.d. Ezr.47.b.
20 And they straightway left their nettes, and followed him.
21 And when hee was gone forth from thence, hee sawe other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in the shippe with Zebedee their father, mending their nettes: and he called them. D
22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him. Luke.5.b.

23 And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospell of the kingdome, and healing all manner of sickenesse, and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroade, throughout all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and gripings, and them that were possessed with deuils, and those whiche were lunatike, and those that had the paulse, and he healed them.

Mark.3.a. b. A countrey conteyning tenne cities.

25 And there folowed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, and (b) from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Jurie, and from (the regions that lye) beyonde Jordane.

The.v. Chapter.

In this chapter, and in the two next folowing, is conteyned the most excellent and louing sermon of Christ, in the mount. VVhich sermon, is the verie key, that openeth the vnderstãding into the law. In this fifth Chapter specially, he precheth of the.viij. beatitudes, or blessings. 21. of manslaughter. 22. wrath, and anger. 27. of adulterie. 33. of swearing. 39. of suffering wrong. 44. and of loue euen toward a mans enimie.

A The Gospell on al Saints day.

1 When he sawe the multitude, he went vp into a mountayne: and when he was set, his disciples came to him.

2 And when hee had opened his mouth, hee taught them, saying,

Luke.6.d. 3 Blessed (are) the powre in spirite: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

Esai.66.a. & 67.a. 4 Blessed (are) they that mourne: for they shall be comforted.

5 Blessed (are) the meeke: for they shall inherite the earth.

Jere.31.c. 6 Blessed (are) they which doe hunger and thirste (after) righteousnesse: for they shall be satisfied.

7 Blessed (are) the mercifull: for they shall obteyne mercy.

8 Blessed (are) the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

9 Blessed (are) the peace makers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 Blessed (are) they which haue bene persecuted for righteousnesse sake: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

2.Pet.2.c. 3.c.4.c. 11 Blessed are ye, when (men) shall reuyle you, and persecute (you,) and lying, shall say all maner of euill saying against you, for my sake.

Actes.5.g. 12 Reioyce ye and be glad, for great is your reward in heauen. For so persecuted they the prophetes, which were before you.

13 Ye are the salte of the earth: but if the salte become vnsauerie, wherein shall it be salted? It is thencefoorth good for nothing but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foote of men. Mark.9. Luke.4. Leui.2.

14 Ye are the light of the worlde. A citie that is set on an hill, can not be hid. C

15 Neyther doe men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, and it giueth light vnto all that are in the house. Mark.4. Luke.9. & 11.

16 Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good workes, and glorifie your father, which is in heauen. 1.Pet.2.

17 Thinke not that I am come to destroye the lawe or the prophetes. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill. Matth.5.c. Luke.16. Esai.42.

18 For truely I say vnto you, Till heauen and earth passe, one iote, or one title of the lawe shall not scape, till all be fulfilled.

19 Who so euer therfore shall breake one of these least commaundementes, and shall teache men so, he shall be called the least in the kyngdome of heauen: but who so euer shall doe and teache (so,) the same shall be called great in the kyngdome of heauen. James.2. Ezec.20.

20 For I say vnto you, Except your righteousnesse shall exceede the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdome of heauen. The Gospell on the.v. sunday after Trinitie. Ezech.33.d.

21 Yee haue heard, that it was sayde to them of olde tyme, Thou shalt not kyll: who so euer kylleth, shall be in daunger of iudgement. Exod.20. Luke.18. Deut.5.

22 But I say vnto you, that who so euer is angry with his brother, vnadui sedly, shall be in danger of iudgement: and whosoeuer shall say vnto his brother Racha, shall be in danger of a counsell: but who so euer shall say (thou) fole, shall be in danger of hell fire. D

23 Therefore if thou bring thy gyft to the aulter, and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought against thee:

24 Leaue there thy gifte before the aulter, and goe thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother: and then come and offer thy gift. Iob.42.

25 Agree with thyne aduersarie quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him: least at any time the aduersarie deliuer thee to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the minister, and then thou be cast into prison. Luke.12.

26 Verely I say vnto thee, thou shalt by no meanes comme out thence, till thou haste payde the vttermost farthing.

27 Ye

27 Ye haue heard that it was sayde vnto them of olde time, Thou shalt not commit adulterie.

28 But I say vnto you, that whosoeuer loketh on a woman to lust after hir, hath committed adulterie with hir already in his heart.

29 If thy right eye offende thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee, that one of thy members shuld perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hande offende thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee, that one of thy members shoulde perishe, and not that all thy body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath bin sayd, Whosoeuer will put away his wife, let him giue hir a writing of diuorcement.

32 But I saye vnto you, that who so euer dothe put away hys wife, except it be for fornication, causeth hir to commit adulterie: and whosoeuer marieth hir that is diuorced, committeth adulterie.

33 Agayne, ye haue heard that it hath bene sayd vnto them of olde tyme, Thou shalte not forsweare thy selfe, but shalt perfourme vnto the Lord thyne othes.

34 But I say vnto you, Sweare not at al, neyther by heauen, for it is Gods seate:

35 Nor by the earthe, for it is his fotestole: neyther by Hierusalem, for it is the citie of the great king.

36 Neyther shalt thou sweare by thy head, bycause thou canst not make one heare white or blacke.

37 But let youre communication be yea, yea: nay, nay: for whatsoeuer is more than these, commeth of euill.

38 Ye haue heard that it hath bene sayde, An eye for an eye, and a toth for a toth.

39 But I say vnto you, that yee resist not euill: but whosoeuer will giue thee a blow on thy right cheeke, turne to him the other also.

40 And if any mã will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coate, let him haue thy cloke also.

41 And whosoeuer will compell thee to goe a mile, goe with him twayne.

42 Giue to him that asketh thee: and from him that woulde borow of thee, turne not thou away.

43 Ye haue heard that it hathe bin sayde, Thou shalte loue thy neighbour, and hate thine enimie:

44 But I say vnto you, Loue your enimies, bless them that curse you, doe good to them that hate you, pray for them which hurt you, and persecute you:

45 That ye may be the children of your father which is in heauen: for he maketh hys sunne to rise on the euill and on the good, & sendeth rayn on the iust and on ỹ vniust.

46 For if yee loue them whiche loue you, what reward haue ye? Do not the Publicanes euen the same? Luke.6.c.

47 And if ye saiute youre brethren onely, what singuler thing do yee? Do not also the Publicanes likewise? "Greeting & imbracing.

48 Yee shall therefore bee perfect, euen as youre father which is in heauen is perfect. Leui.19.c.

The.vi. Chapter.

1. Of almes. 5. prayer. 16. and fasting. 19. He forbiddeth the carefull seeking of worldly things.

1 Take heede that ye do not your almes A before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no reward of your father, which is in heauen.

2 Therefore, when thou doest thine almes, do not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doe, in the sinagogues, and in the streetes, that they might bee esteemed of men. Verily I saye vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy C left hand know, what thy right hãd doeth:

4 That thine almes may be in secret: and thy father whiche seeth in secret, him selfe shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be 3.Reg.8.c.
as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray Esai.29.d.
standing in the sinagogues, and in the corners of the streetes, that they may be seene of men. Verily I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy 4.Reg.4.f.
closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father which is in secret, and thy father whiche seeth in secrete, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, babble not muche, as B the heathē do: for they think that they shal Esai.1.d.
be heard, for their much bablings sake.

8 Be not ye therefore like vnto them: for Rom.8.d.
your father knoweth, what things ye haue neede of, before ye aske of him.

9 After this maner therefore pray ye: O our Luke.11.a father which art in heauen halowed be thy name.

10 Let thy kingdome come. Thy wyll be done, as well in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Giue vs this day our dayly breade.
12 And forgyue vs our dettes, as we forgyue our detters.
13 And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from euill: for thine is the kingdome, and the power, and the glorie, for euer, Amen.
14 For, if ye forgiue men their trespasses, your heauenly father shal also forgiue you.
Math.18.b. Mark.11.d. 15 But, if ye forgiue not men their trespasses: no more shal your father forgiue (you) your trespasses.
The Gospell on the first day in Lent. Esai.57.a. Math.9.d. Iere.17.b. 16 Moreouer, when ye fast, be not of an heauie countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfygure their faces, that they myght appeare vnto men to fast: Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.
17 But thou, when thou fastest, annoynt thyne heade, and wash thy face:
18 That thou appeare not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy father which is in secrete: and thy father which seeth in secrete, shall reward thee openly.
19 Heape not vp for your selues treasures vpon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where theeues breake thorowe, and steale.
Luke.12.d. Eccle.22.b. 20 But lay vp for you treasures in heauen, where neyther moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where theeues doe not breake through nor steale.
D 21 For where your treasure is, there wyll your heart be also.
Luke.11.c. 22 The candle of the body is the eye: wherfore if thyne eye be single, all thy body shal be full of light.
23 But if thyne eye be wicked, all thy body shall be full of darkenesse. Wherfore, if the light that is in thee be darkenesse, howe great is that darkenesse?
The Gospell on the. xv. sunday after Trinitie. Luke.16.c. a. In the Syrian tong it signifieth money and lucre. Luke.12.c. Psal.55.d. 2.Pet.5.c. 24 No man can serue two maisters: for either hee shal hate the one and loue the other, or else he shall leane to the one, and despise the other. Ye can not serue God, and (a) Mammon.
25 Therefore I say vnto you, Be not carefull for your life, what ye shall eate or drinke, nor yet for your body what ye shall put on: Is not the lyfe more worth than meate? and the body than rayment?
26 Beholde the foules of the ayre: for they sowe not, neyther doe they reape, nor carrie into barnes, yet your heauenly father feedeth them. Are ye not muche better than they?
Luke.12.d. 27 Which of you by taking of careful thought, can adde one cubite vnto his stature?
28 And why care ye for rayment? Learne of the Lylies of the field, howe they growe: they weerie not (them selues) with labour: neyther (doe they) spinne. Lylies. C
29 And yet I say vnto you, that euen Solomon in all his royaltie, was not arayed like one of these.
30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grasse of the fielde, which though it stande to daye, is to morowe cast into the Ouen: shall he not muche more (doe) the same for you, (O) ye of litle fayth?
31 Therfore take no thought, saying, What shall we eate? or, what shall we drinke? or, wherewith shall we be clothed?
32 (For after all these things doe the Gentiles seeke:) for your heauenly father knoweth that ye haue need of all these things.
33 But seeke ye first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and al these things shall be added vnto you.
34 Care not then for the morowe: for the morowe shal care for it selfe: (b) Sufficient vnto the day, is the euill thereof. b. The [illegible] hath [illegible] of his [illegible] grieue [illegible] tion.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. He forbiddeth foolishe and rashe iudgement. 5. reproueth hypocrisie. 7. exhorteth vnto prayer. 13. and to enter in at the straight gate. 15. warneth to beware of false prophetes. 24. and willeth the hearers of his worde, to be doers of the same.

1 IVdge ye not, that ye be not iudged. I Luke.
2 For with what iudgement ye iudge, ye shall be iudged: and with what measure ye meate, it shall be measured to you agayne. Luke. Rom. Luke.
3 Why seest thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiuest not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Luke.
4 Or howe wilt thou say to thy brother, Suffer me, I wyll cast out a mote out of thyne eye: and beholde, the beame is in thine owne eye?
5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beame out of thyne owne eye, and then shalt thou see clearely to cast out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.
6 Geue not (that) whiche is holie vnto the dogges, neither cast ye your pearles before the swyne: least they tread the vnder their feete, and turning agayne, all to rent you.
7 Aske ye, and it shall be geuen you: seeke and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you. Iere.29. Iohn.16. Luke.11.
8 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, fyndeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.
9 What

9 What man is there of you, if hys sonne aske breade, will he giue him a stone?
10 Or if he aske fyshe, will hee giue him a serpent?
11 If yee then being euil, knowe to giue your children good giftes: howe muche more will your father which is in heauen, giue good things to them that aske him?
12 Therefore all thinges, what soeuer ye woulde that men shoulde doe to you, doe ye euen so to them: for this is the law and the prophetes.
13 Enter ye in at the strayte gate, for wyde is the gate, and brode is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which goe in thereat:
14 Bycause strayte is the gate, and narow is the way whiche leadeth vnto lyfe, and fewe there be that finde it.
15 Beware of the false prophetes whiche come to you in sheepes clothing, but inwardly they are rauening Wolues.
16 Ye shall knowe them by their fruites: Doe men gather grapes of thornes? Or, figges of thistles?
17 Euen so, euery good tree, bringeth forth good fruite: but a corrupt tree, bringeth forth euil fruite.
18 A good tree can not bring forth badde fruite, neither can a bad tree bring forth good fruite.
19 Euery tree that bringeth not forth good fruite is hewen down, & cast into the fire.
20 Wherefore, by their fruites yee shall knowe them.
21 Not euery one that saith vnto me, Lord, Lorde, shall enter into the kingdome of heauen: but he that doth the wyl of my father which is in heauen.
22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lorde, haue we not prophesied (through) thy name? and (through) thy name haue cast out deuylles: and done many great workes (through) thy name?
23 And then will I confesse vnto them, That I neuer knewe you: Depart from me, ye that worke iniquitie.
24 Therefore, who so euer heareth of mee these sayings, and doth the same, I will liken him vnto a wise man, whiche built his house vpon a rocke:
25 And the rayne descended, and the flouds came, and the windes blewe, and bet vpon that house: and it fel not, bycause it was grounded on a rocke.
26 And euery one that heareth of me these sayings, and doth them not, shalbe likened vnto a foolish man, which buylt his house vpon the sande:
27 And the rayne descended, and the flouds came, and the wyndes blewe, and bet vpon that house, and it fel, & great was the fal of it. Ezec.13.b.
28 And it came to passe, when Iesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonied at his doctrine.
29 For he taught them as one hauing power, and not as the Scribes. Mat.4.c. Luke.4.c.

35 And Jesus went about al the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing euery sickenesse, and euery disease among the people. Luke.11.b.
36 But when he sawe the multitudes, he was moued with compassion on them, because they were destitute, and scattered abrode as shepe hauing no shepheard. Mar.6.d.
37 Then saith he vnto his disciples, The haruest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are fewe. Luke.10.a.
38 Pray ye therefore the Lorde of the haruest, that he wil thrust forth labourers into his haruest.

The.x. Chapter.

5. Christ sendeth out his twelue Apostels, too preache in Iurie. 7. He giueth them charge, teacheth them, and comforteth them against persecution and trouble.

1 AND whē he had called his twelue disciples, he gaue them power (against) vncleane spirites, to cast them out, and to heale all maner of sickenesse, and all maner of disease. A Mar.6.b. Luke.6.d.
2 The names of the twelue Apostels, are these: the first, Simon, which is called Peter, and Andrewe his brother, James (the sonne) of Zebedee, and John his brother,
3 Philip, and Bartholomewe, Thomas, and Matthewe, whiche (had bin) a Publicane, James (the sonne) of Alphee, and Lebbeus, whose surname was Taddeus:

Mar.6.b. 4 Simon (the) Chanaanite, and Judas Iſcariot, which alſo betrayed him.

3 Jeſus ſente forth theſe twelue, when he had commaunded them, ſaying, Goe not into the way of the Gentiles, and into the citie of the Samaritanes enter ye not:

6 But goe rather to the loſt ſheepe of the houſe of Iſrael.

B 7 As ye goe, preache, ſaying, That the kingdome of heauen is at hande.

Acts.8.d. Mar.6.b. 8 Heale the ſicke, cleanſe the lepers, rayſe the dead, caſt out deuyls: freely ye haue receiued, freely giue.

11 But to what ſo euer citie or towne ye ſhal come, enquyre who is worthie in it: and (a) there abyde, til ye goe thence.

a. Shift not your lodging, vntil ye go out of the citie.

12 And when ye come into an houſe, ſalute the ſame.

Luke.9.a. and.10.a. 13 And if the houſe be worthie, let your peace come vppon it: but if it be not worthie, let your peace returne to you againe.

C 14 And who ſo euer ſhal not receiue you, nor wyl heare your preaching: when ye departe out of that houſe, or that citie, ſhake off the duſt of your feete.

Mar.6.d. Acts.13.g. 15 Verely I ſay vnto you, It ſhal be eaſier for the land of the Sodomits and Gomorrheans, in the day of iudgement, than for that citie.

Luke.10.a. 16 Beholde, I ſende you forth as ſheepe in the middes of wolues: be ye therefore wiſe as the ſerpentes, and harmeleſſe as the Doues.

Mar.13.d. Luke.12.c John.16.b. 17 But beware of men: for they ſhal deliuer you vp to the counſels, & ſhal ſcourge you in their ſynagoges.

Mark.13.b. Luke.12.a. Exod.4.b. 19 But when they deliuer you vp, take ye no thought, howe or what ye ſhall ſpeake: for it ſhal be giuen you in that ſame houre what ye ſhal ſpeake.

20 For it is not ye that ſpeake, but the ſpirite of your father (he it is) which ſpeaketh in you.

D 21 The brother ſhall deliuer vp the brother to death, and the father the ſonne: and the children ſhal riſe againſt their fathers and mothers, and ſhal put them to death.

Mich.7.b. Mat.24.a. 22 And ye ſhal be hated of all men for my names ſake: but he that endureth to the end ſhal be ſaued.

Luke.6. Diſciple. 24 The diſciple is not aboue the maiſter, nor the ſeruant aboue his Lorde.

25 It is ynough for the diſciple that hee be as his maiſter is, and (that) the ſeruant (be) as his Lord is. If they haue called the Lord of the houſe Beelzebub, howe much more ſhal they cal them of his houſehold?

Mat. Luke. and.12. 26 Feare them not therefore: for there is nothing cloſe, that ſhal not be opened: and nothing hyd, that ſhall not be knowen.

27 What I tel you in darkneſſe, that ſpeake ye in light: and what ye heare in the eare, that preache ye on the houſes.

Luke. 29 Are not two little Sparowes ſold for a farthing? And one of them ſhall not light on the ground without your father.

30 Yea, euen al the heares of your head are numbred.

31 Feare ye not therefore, yee are of more value than many Sparowes.

Mat. Luke. and.12. 32 Euery one therefore, that ſhall confeſſe me before men, him wil I confeſſe alſo before my father, which is in heauen:

33 But who ſo euer ſhall denie me before men, him will I alſo denie before my father, which is in heauen.

Luke. 34 Thinke not that I am come to ſende peace into the earth: I came not to ſende peace, but a ſworde.

Mich. 35 For I am come to ſet a man at variance againſte his father, and the daughter againſt hir mother, & the daughter in lawe, againſt hir mother in lawe.

Luke. 37 He that loueth father or mother more than me, is not worthie of me: and he that loueth ſonne or daughter more than me, is not worthie of me.

42 And whoſoeuer ſhall giue vnto one of theſe little ones to drinke, a cup of colde water onely, in the name of a diſciple, verily I ſay vnto you, he ſhall in no wiſe loſe his rewarde.

The.xi. Chapter.

1 Chriſt preacheth. 2. Iohn Baptiſt ſendeth his diſciples vnto him. 7. Chriſts teſtimonie concerning Iohn. 18. The opinion of the people concerning Chriſt, and Iohn. 20. Chriſt vpbraydeth the vnthankful cities. 25. The Goſpel is reuealed to the ſimple. 28. They that labour and are laden. 29. Chriſtes yoke.

1 AND it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus had made an end of commaunding his twelue diſciples, he departed thence, to teache, and to preache in their cities.

2 When Iohn had hearde in the priſon the workes of Chriſt, he ſét two of his diſciples,

3 And ſayde vnto him, Art thou he that ſhould come? Or do we loke for another?

4 Jeſus anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, Goe and ſhew Iohn againe thoſe things which ye do heare and ſee:

5 The blinde receyue their ſight, the hault doe walke, the leapers are cleanſed and the deafe heare, the dead are rayſed vp, and the poore haue the Goſpell preached to them.

6 And happie is he whoſoeuer ſhall not be offended in me.

7 And as they departed, Jeſus began to ſay vnto the multitude concerning Iohn, What went ye out into the wyldernéſſe to ſee? A reede ſhaken with the wind?

8 Or what went ye out for to ſee? A man clothed in ſoft rayment? Behold, they that weare ſoft (clothing) are in kings houſes.

9 But what went ye out for to ſee? A prophete? Yea, I ſay vnto you, and more excellent than a prophete.

10 For this is he of whom it is writté, Behold, I ſend my meſſenger before thy face, which ſhal prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I ſay vnto you, Among them that are borne of women, there hath not ryſen a greater than Iohn the Baptiſt: notwithſtanding, he that is leſſe in the kingdome of heauen, is greater than he.

12 From the dayes of Iohn the Baptiſt, vntill nowe, the kingdome of heauen ſuffereth violence, and the violent plucke it (vnto them.)

13 For all the prophetes, and the lawe it ſelfe, prophecied vnto Iohn. Luke.16.d.

14 And if ye will receyue it, this is Elias which was for to come. C

15 He that hath eares to heare let him heare. Luke.1.b. Mala.3.d.

16 But wherevnto ſhall I lyken this generation? It is lyke vnto little childzen, ſitting in the markets, and callyng vnto their felowes, John.1.c. Luke.7.c

17 And ſaying, We haue pyped vnto you, & ye haue not daunced: we haue (a) mourned vnto you, and ye haue not ſorowed. a. We haue ſong mourning ſonge vnto you.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they ſay, He hath a deuyl.

19 The ſonne of man came eating & drinking, and they ſay, Beholde a man glutténous, and a wine bibber, and a friende vnto publicanes and ſynners: and wyſedome was iuſtified of hir childzen. Luke.10.c.

20 Then began he to vpbrayde the cities, wherein moſt of his mightie workes were done, becauſe they repented not. D

21 Wo vnto thee Chorazin, wo vnto thee Bethſaida: for if the mightie workes whiche were done in you, had bin done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long agoe in ſackecloth and aſhes.

22 But I ſay vnto you, It ſhall be eaſyer for Tyre and Sidon, at the day of iudgement, than for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, whiche hall bin lyfted vp vnto heauen, ſhalt be brought downe to hel: for if the mightie workes which haue bin done in thee, had bin done among them of Sodome, they would haue remayned vntil this day.

24 But I ſay vnto you, That it ſhal be eaſyer for the lande of Sodome, in the day of iudgement, than for thee.

25 At that time Jeſus anſwered, and ſaid, I thanke thee, O father, Lord of heauen & earth, becauſe thou haſt hid theſe things from the wiſe & prudent, and haſt ſhewed them vnto babes.

26 Euen ſo, O father, for ſo was it thy good pleaſure.

27 All things are giuen vnto me of my father: and no man knoweth the ſonne, but the father: neither knoweth any man the father, ſaue the ſonne, and he to whom ſo euer the ſonne wil open (him.) Mat.28.d. Luke.10.c. John.3.d. John.7.d. and.8.c.

28 Come vnto me all ye that labour for and are laden, and I wil eaſe you. E

29 Take my yoke vpon you, and learne of me, for I am meeke and lowly in harte: and ye ſhal finde reſt vnto your ſoules.

The. xij. Chapter.

Christe excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne. 10. He healeth the dryed hand, 22. helpeth the possessed that was blind and dumbe. 31. Blasphemie. 34. The generatiō of vipers. 35. Of good wordes. 36. Of idle wordes. 38. He rebuketh the vnfaythful that would needes haue tokens, 49. and sheweth who is his brother, syster, and mother.

A 1 AT that time, Jesus went on the Sabboth dayes through the corne: and his Mark. 2. d. Deut. 23. d. disciples were an hungred, and began to plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.

2 But when the Pharisees sawe (them,) they sayde vnto him, Behold, thy disciples doe that which is not lawfull to do vppon the Sabboth day.

3 But he sayde vnto them, haue ye not read what Dauid did whē he was an hungred,
1. Sam. 21. a 4 and they that were with him, Howe he entred into the house of God, and did eate the shew bread, which was not lawefull for him to eate, neyther for them which were with him, but onely for the priestes?

5 Or haue yee not read in the lawe, howe that on the Sabboth dayes, the priestes in the temple (a) prophane the Sabboth, and are blamelesse?

a. That is, do vncleane workes.

6 But I say vnto you, That in this place is (one) greater than the temple.

B 7 But if ye had knowen what this meaneth, I wil mercy, and not sacrifice: yee
Mar. 11. b. Olee. 6. b. would not haue condemned the guiltlesse.

8 For the sonne of manne is Lorde of the Sabboth day.

Mark. 3. a. 9 And when he was departed thence he went into their synagogue,

10 And beholde, there was a man whiche had his hande dryed vp, & they asked him,
Luke. 14. a. saying, Is it lawfull to heale vppon the Sabboth dayes? ỳ they might accuse him.

Deut. 22. a. 11 And he saide vnto them, What man of you wil there be ỳ shal haue one sheepe: and if it fal into a pit on ỳ Sabboth day, wil he not take holde of it, and lift it out?

12 Howe much more then is a man better than a sheepe? Wherefore it is lawful to do wel on the Saboth dayes.

13 Then sayth he to the man, Stretch forth thy hande. And he stretched it forth and it was restored whole, like as the other.

C 14 Then the Pharisees went out, and held a counsel against him howe they might destroy him. Mark. 3. Iohn. 5.

15 But when Jesus knew (it) he departed thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them al,

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophete, saying,

Esai. 42. 18 Behold my child whom I haue chosen, my beloued, in whom my soule well delighteth: I wil put my spirite vpon him, & he shal shew iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 He shal not striue, nor crye, neither shal any man heare his voyce in the streetes.

20 A bruised reede shall he not breake, and smoking flaxe shal he not quenche, tyl he sende forth iudgement vnto victorie:

21 And in his name shal ỳ Gentiles trust. D

22 Then was brought to him one possessed Luc. 11. with a deuil, blinde and dumbe: and he healed him, insomuch that the blynde and dumbe both spake and sawe.

23 And all the people were amased, and sayde, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

24 But when the Pharisees heard (it,) they Mat. 9. Mar. 3. sayde, This (felowe) doth not cast out the Luc. 11. deuils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the deuils.

25 But when Jesus knew their thoughts, he sayde vnto them, Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, is brought to desolation: and euery citie or house diuided against it selfe, shal not stande.

26 And if Satan cast out Satan, then were he diuided against him selfe: howe shall then his kingdome endure?

27 And if I by Beelzebub caste out deuils, by whom do your children cast them out? Therefore shal they be your iudges.

28 But if I cast out the deuils by the spirite E of God, then is the kingdome of God come vpon you.

29 Or els how can one enter into a strong Luke. 11. mans house, and spoyle his goodes: except he fyrst bynde the strong man, and then wil spoyle his house?

30 He that is not with mee, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth abrode.

31 Wherefore I say vnto you, All maner Mark. 3. Luke. 12. of sinne & blasphemie shal be forgiuen vnto men: but the blasphemie against the (holy) spirite, shal not be forgiuen vnto men.

32 And whosoeuer speaketh a worde a- 1. Reg. gainst the sonne of man, it shal be forgiuen him: but whosoeuer speaketh against the holy ghost, it shal not be forgiuen him, neither ther in this worlde, neither in the worlde to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good: or else make the tree euill, and his fruite euill: For the tree is knowen by his fruite.

34 O generation of vipers, howe can ye speake good thinges, when ye your selues are euil? For out of the abundance of the hart, the mouth speaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treasure of the hart, bringeth forth good things: and an euil man out of euil treasure, bringeth forth euill things.

36 But I say vnto you, That of euery idle word that men shal speake, they shal giue accompt therof in the day of iudgement.

37 For of thy words thou shalt be iustified, and of thy words thou shalt be cõdemned.

38 Then certaine of the Scribes and of the Pharisees, answered him, saying, Maister, we wil see a signe of thee.

39 But he answered, and sayde to them, An euil & adulterous generation seeketh a signe, and there shal no signe be giuen to it, but the signe of the prophete Jonas.

40 For as Jonas was three dayes and three nightes in the Whales belly: so shal the sonne of man be three dayes and three nightes in the hart of the earth.

41 The menne of Niniue shall rise in the iudgement with this nation, and condemne it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and beholde here (is) one greater than Jonas?

42 The queene of the South shal rise in the iudgement with this generation, and shall condemne it: for she came frõ the vttermost partes of the earth, to heare the wisdome of Solomon, and behold in this place (is) one greater than Solomon.

43 When the vncleane spirite is gone out of a man, he walketh throughout drye places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he sayth, I will returne into my house from whence I came out. And when he is come, he fyndeth it emptie, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with hym selfe seuen other spirites worse than hym selfe, and they enter in, and dwel there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Euen so shal it be also vnto this frowarde generation.

46 While he yet talked to ỹ people, behold, his mother and his brethren stode without, desyring to speake with him.

47 Then one sayde vnto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stande without, desyring to speake with thee. Luke.8.c.

48 But he answered, and sayde vnto him that tolde him, Who is my mother? Or who are my brethren?

49 And when he had stretched forth his hande towarde his disciples, he sayd, Beholde my mother and my brethren. John.15.b

50 For whosoeuer shall doe the wil of my father which is in heauen, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother. D

The.xiij.Chapter.

3. The parable of the seede. 24. of the tares. 31. of the mustarde seede. 33. of the leauen, 44. of of the treasure hidde in the fielde, 45. of the pearles, 47. and of the nette.

1 THe same day when Jesus was gone out of the house, he sate by ỹ sea side. I Mar.3.a.

2 And greate multitudes were gathered together vnto him, (so) that he went into the ship and sate, and the whole multitude stode on the shore.

3 And he spake many things to them in parables, saying, Beholde, the Sower went forth to sowe.

4 And when he sowed, some seedes fel by the wayes side: and the foules came, and deuoured them vp.

5 Some fel vpon stony places, where they had not much earth: & anone they sprong vp because they had no depnesse of earth.

6 And whẽ the sunne was vp, they caught heate: and because they had not rote, they wythered away.

7 Againe, some fell among thornes: and the thornes sprong vp, and choked them. B

8 But some fell into good grounde: and brought forth fruite, some an hundred folde, some sixtie folde, some thirtie folde.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the disciples came, and sayde vnto him, Why speakest ỹ to them by parables?

11 He answered, and sayd vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to knowe the secretes of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen. Mark.4.a. Luk.7.b.

12 For whosoeuer hath, to him shal be giuẽ, and he shall haue more abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shal be taken away, euen that he hath. Mat 25.c. Mar.4.c. Luke.8.b. and.19.d.

13 Therfore speake I to them in parables: because they seeing, see not: and hearing, they heare not, neyther doe they vnderstande. Esai.6.c. Mar.4.b. Luke.8.b. John.12.b.

14 And in them is fulfylled the prophecie of Esaias, which saith, With the eare ye Actes.28.f. Rom.11.b.

shall thal heare & thal not vnderstande, and seing, ye thal see and thal not perceiue.

15 For this peoples hart is waxed grosse and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: least at any time they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and should vnderstande with their hart, and should conuert, that I might heale them.

Luke.10.d. 16 But blessed are your eyes, for they see 1.Pet.1.d. and your eares, for they heare.

17 Verely I say vnto you, that many prophetes and righteous men haue desyred to see those things which ye see, and haue not seene: and to heare those things which ye heare and haue not heard.

Mar.4.b. 18 Heare ye therefore the similitude of the Luke.8.b. Sower,

19 When one heareth the worde of the kingdome, and vnderstandeth it not, then commeth that euil, & catcheth away that which was sowen in his hart: this is he whiche receiued seede by the way side.

20 But he that receiued the seede into stonie places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with ioy receiueth it:

D 21 Yet hath he not rote in him selfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecutiō aryseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that receiued seede into the thornes, is he that heareth the worde, and the care of this worlde, and the deceytfulnesse of riches, choake vp the word, and so is he made vnfruitful.

23 But he that receiued seede into the good grounde, is he that heareth the word, and vnderstādeth it, which also beareth fruite, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixtie folde, some thirtie fold.

Mar.4.c. 24 Another parable put he forth vnto the, saying, The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man, whiche sowed good seede in his fielde.

25 But while men slept, his enimie came and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprong vp, and had brought forth fruite, then appeared the tares also.

27 So the seruauntes of the householder came and saide vnto him, Syr, diddest not thou sowe good seede in thy fealde? from whence then hath it tares?

E 28 He sayd vnto them, The malicious man hath done this. The seruauntes sayd vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe, and gather them vp?

29 But he sayd, Nay, least while ye gather vp the tares, ye rote vp also the wheate with them:

30 Let both growe together vntil the harueste: and in time of harueste, I wil say to the reapers, Gather ye together fyrst the tares, and bynde them in bundels to burne them: but carie the wheate into my barne.

31 Another parable put he forth vnto the, Mar.4. saying, The kingdome of heauen is like Luke.13.
to a grayne of mustarde seede, whiche a man toke and sowed in his fealde.

32 Which in deede is the least of al seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among herbes, and is a tree, (so) that the byrdes of the ayre come and make theyr nestes in the branches thereof.

33 Another parable spake he vnto them, Luke.13.
(saying,) The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a womā toke, & hid in three peckes of meale, til al were leauened.

34 Al these thinges spake Jesus vnto the Mar.4.
people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled whiche was f spoken by the prophete, saying, I wyll o- Psal.78.
pen my mouth in parables, I will speake forth things whiche haue bin kept secrete from the foundation of the worlde.

56 Then Jesus, when he had sent the peo- Mark.
ple away, went into the house: and his disciples came vnto him, saying, declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the fealde.

37 He answered & said vnto them, He that soweth the good seede, is the son of man.

38 The fielde, is the worlde. The good seede, these are ỹ childrē of the kingdome: but the tares, are the childrē of the wicked.

39 And the enimie that sowed them, is the deuil. The harueste, is the end of the worlde, The reapers, be the angels.

40 Euen as the tares therefore are gathered and brent in the fyre: so shall it be in the end of this worlde.

41 The sonne of man shall sende forth his Apo.14.
angels, and (they) shall gather out of his kingdome, all things that offende, and them which do iniquitie:

42 And shal cast thē into a furnace of fire: ther shal be wayling, & gnashing of teeth.

43 Then shall the righteous shyne as the Dan.12.
sunne in the kingdome of their father. Sapi.3.
Who hath eares to heare, let him heare. 1.Cor.15.

44 Againe, the kingdome of heauen, is like vnto treasure hyd in the fielde: the whiche when a man hath founde, hydeth, and for ioy therof, goeth and selleth al that he hath, and byeth that fealde.

45 Againe

45 Agayne, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seeking goodly pearles.

46 Which when he had founde one precious pearle, went and solde al that he had, and bought it.

47 Agayn, the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of al kinde:

48 Whiche when it was full, (the fishers) drew to land, and sate down, and gathered the good into vessels: but cast the bad away.

49 So shal it be at the ende of the world: the angels shal come forth, and seuer the bad from among the iust, 50 And shal cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wayling and gnashing of teeth.

51 Jesus saith vnto them, Haue ye vnderstande all these things? They say vnto him, Yea Lorde.

52 Then saide he vnto them, Therfore euery scribe which is taught in ỹ kingdome of heauen, is like vnto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things newe and olde.

53 And it came to passe, that when Jesus hadde finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 And when he came into his own countrey, he taught them in their synagogue, in so muche, that they were astonied, and saide, Whence commeth this wisedome and mightie workes vnto him?

55 Is not this the carpenters sonne? Is not his mother called Marie? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And are not all his sisters wyth vs? whence hath he then all these things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jesus saide vnto them, A prophete is not without honour, saue in his owne countrey, and in his owne house.

58 And he did not many mightie workes there, because of their vnbelieke.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

10. Iohn is taken and beheaded. 19. Christ feedeth fiue thousande men with fiue loaues. and two fishes, 25. and appeareth by night vnto his disciples vpon the sea.

1 AT that time Herode the Tetrarche heарde of the fame of Jesu:

2 And saide vnto his seruauntes, This is John the Baptist, he is risen from the dead, and therefore great workes do shew forth themselues in him.

3 For Herode when he had taken John, he bounde him, and put him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For John said vnto him, It is not lawfull for thee to haue hir. Marke.6.c. Luke.3.d.

5 And when he woulde haue put him to death, he feared the people: because they counted him as a prophete. Leui.18.c. Mat.21.b.

6 But when Herodes birth day was kept, the daughter of Herodias daunced before them, and pleased Herode. Gen.40.d.

7 Wherefore he promised with an othe, to giue hir what soeuer she woulde aske. B Mark.6.c.

8 And she, being before * instructed of hir mother, saide, Giue me here John Baptistes head in a platter, * or entised or induced.

9 And the king was sory: neuertheless, for the othes sake, and them which sat also at the table, he commaunded it to be giuen hir:

10 And sente (a tormenter) and beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his heade was brought in a platter, and giuē to the damsell and (she) brought it to hir mother.

12 And his disciples came, and toke vp his body, and buried it: and went and tolde Jesus.

13 When Jesus heарde of it, he departed thence in a ship, vnto a desart place out of the way: and when the people had heard thereof, they folowed him on foote out of the cities. Mark.6.d. Luke.9.d. John.6.a.

14 And when Jesus went forth, he sawe muche people, and was moued wyth mercie towarde them, and he healed their sicke. C

15 And when it was euenyng, his disciples came to him saying, This is a desart place, and the houre is nowe past: let the people depart, that they may goe into the villages, and buye them vitayles.

16 But Jesus said vnto them, They haue no neede to goe away: giue ye them to eate.

17 They say vnto him, We haue not here but fiue loaues, and two fishes, 18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And when he had commaunded the people to sit down on the grasse, and had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and lifted vp his eyes toward heauen, he blessed: and when he had broken (them) he gaue the loaues to his disciples, and his disciples to the people.

20 And they did al eate, and were sufficed:

And they toke vp (of the fragmentes that remayned) twelue baskettes ful.

D 21 And they that had eaten, were about fiue thousande men, beside women and chyldren.

Mar.6.f. Joh.6.b. 22 And straightway Jesus constrayned his disciples to get vp into a ship, and to goe before him vnto the other side, whyle he sent the people away.

Luke.6.c. 23 And when he had sent the people away, he went vp into a mountaine alone to pray: and when night was come, he was there him selfe alone.

24 But the ship was nowe in the middest of the sea, and was tost with the waues: for it was a contrary winde.

25 And in the fourth watche of the nighte, Jesus went vnto the, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples sawe him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, That it is a spirite: and they cryed out for feare.

27 But straightwaye Jesus spake vnto them, saying, Be of good cheare: it is I, be not afraide.

E 28 Peter answered him, and saide, Lorde, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.

29 And he sayde, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the shippe, he walked on the water to goe to Jesus.

30 But when he sawe a mightie winde, he was afrayde: and when he beganne to sincke, he cryed, saying, Lord saue me.

31 And immediatly Jesus, when he hadde stretched forth his hande, caught hym, and said vnto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?

Mark.6.g. 32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceassed.

33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truthe thou art the sonne of God.

34 And when they were gonne ouer, they came into the lande of Genezaret.

35 And when the men of that place hadde knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey rounde about, and brought vnto him all that were sicke, 36 And besought him that they myght touche the hemme of his garmente only: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

The.xv. Chapter.

3. Christ excuseth his disciples, and rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees for transgressing Gods commaundement through their owne traditions, 18. the thing that goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man, 22. he deliuereth the woman of Cananees daughter, 30. healeth the multitude, 36. and with seuen loaues, and a fewe little fishes, feedeth foure thousande men, beside women and children.

1 THen came to Jesus Scribes & Pharisees, which were come from Jerusalem, saying. I Marke.7

2 Why doe thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders? for they washe not their hands when they eate bread.

3 But he answered, and saide vnto them, Why do ye also transgresse the cõmaundement of God by your tradition?

4 For God commaunded, saying, Honor thy father and thy mother. And he that curseth father or mother, let him dye the death. Exo.20. Mark.7.

5 But ye say, whosoeuer shal say to his father or his mother, By the gyft that (is offered) of me, thou shalt be helped: Exod. Ephe.6. Deut.

6 And so shall he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue ye made the commaundement of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, full well did Esaias prophecie of you, saying. B Esai.29. Jere.12. Mar.7.

8 This people draweth nigh vnto me with their mouth, and honoureth me wyth their lippes: howebeit their hart is farre from me.

9 But in vaine do they worship me, teaching doctrines, preceptes of men.

10 And when he had called the people to him, he sayde vnto them, Heare and vnderstande.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which commeth out of the mouth, defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and sayd vnto him, Knowest thou not that ỹ Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and sayde, All manner planting which my heauenly father hath not planted, shal be rooted vp.

14 Let them alone: they be blinde leaders of the blinde. If the blinde leade ỹ blinde both shal fal into the ditche.

15 Then answered Peter, and sayde vnto him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Jesus sayde, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?

17 Do not ye yet vnderstande, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the bely, and is cast out into the draught.

18 But

18 But those things which proceede out of the mouth, come forth from the hart, and they defyle the man.
19 For out of the hart proceed euill thoughtes, murders, adulteries, whordomes, theftes, false witnesse, blasphemies.
20 These are the thinges whiche defile a man: but to eate with vnwashen handes, defileth not a man.
21 And Jesus, when he went thence, departed into the coastes of Tyre & Sidon.
22 And behold, a woman of the Chanaanites, which came out of the same coastes, cryed vnto him, saying, Haue mercie on me, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is greuously vexed with a deuil.
23 But he answered hir not a word. And his disciples came, and besought hym, saying, Sende hir away, for she cryeth after vs.
24 But he answered, and saide, I am not sent but vnto the lost shepe of the house of Israel.
25 Then came she, and worshipped hym, saying, Lord, helpe me.
26 But he answered, and saide, It is not meete to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to litle dogges.
27 And she saide, Yes Lorde, for the litle dogges also eate of the crummes which fall from their maisters table.
28 Then Jesus answered, and sayde, vnto hir, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And hir daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.
29 And Jesus, when he was departed frō thence, came nigh vnto the sea of Galilee, and when he was gone vp into a mountayne, he sate downe there.
30 Then great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maymed, and other many, and cast them downe at Jesus feete, and he healed them:
31 In so muche that the people wondred, when they sawe the dumbe speake, the maymed to be whole, the lame to walke and the blinde to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.
32 Then Jesus called his disciples vnto him, and saide, I haue compassion on the people, bycause they continue with me nowe three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: and I will not let them departe fasting, lest they faint in the way.
33 And his disciples say vnto him, Whence (shoulde wee get) so muche breade in the wyldernesse, as to suffise so great a multitude?
34 And Jesus sayth vnto thē, How many loaues haue ye? And they saide, Seuen, and a fewe little fishes. Mat.16.b.
35 And he commaunded the people to sitte downe on the grounde. F
36 And whē he had taken the seuen loaues, and the fishes, and had giuen thankes, he brake (them) and gaue to his disciples: & the disciples gaue them to the people.
37 And they did al eate, and were suffised: and they toke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskettes ful.
38 And yet they that did eate, were foure thousande men, beside women and children.
39 And when he had sent away the people, he toke shippe, and came into the parties of Magdala.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. The Pharisees require a token. 6. Iesus warneth his disciples of the Pharisees doctrine. 16. The confession of Peter. 19. the keyes of heauen, 24. the faithful must beare the crosse after Christ.

1 The Pharisees also, with the Saducees, came, and tēpting, desired hym that he woulde shewe them a signe from heauen. Mar.8.b. John.6.d. Luke.11.d.
2 He answered, and said vnto them, Whē it is euening, ye say, (it wil be) fayre weather: for the skie is red. Luke.12.g.
3 And in the morning (it wil be) foule weather to day: for the skye is lowring red. O ye hypocrites, ye can discerne the outwarde appearance of the skye: but can ye not discerne the signes of the times?
4 A frowarde and adulterous nation requireth a signe: and there shall no signe be giuen vnto it, but the signe of the prophete Jonas. And he left thē, & departed. Mar.12.c. Mark.8.b. John.6.d. Jonas.2.a
5 And when his disciples were come to the other side of the water, they had forgotten to take bread (with them.)
6 Then Jesus said vnto them, take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees and of the Saduces. Luke.12.a.
7 And they thought in them selues, saying, For we haue taken no bread (with vs.) (Which) when Jesus vnderstode, hee saide vnto them, O ye of litle faith, why thinke you within your selues, bycause ye haue brought no bread? B
8 Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember those five loaues of the five thousand, and how many baskettes toke ye vp?

Mat.14.c. Mar.15.d.

10 Neyther the seuen loaues, of the foure thousand, and howe many baskettes toke ye vp?

11 Howe is it that ye doe not vnderstande that I spake it not vnto you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leauē of the Pharisees, and of the Saducees?

12 Then vnderstode they how that he bad not the beware of the leuen of the bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Saducees.

13 When Jesus came into the coastes of Cesarea (which is called) Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the sonne of man am?

Mar.8.c. Luke.9.c.

14 They sayde, Some say (that thou art) John Baptist, some Elias, some Jeremias, or one of the prophetes.

15 He saith vnto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 Simon Peter answered, and said, Thou art Christ, the sonne of the liuing God.

Luke.9.c.

17 And Jesus answered, and saide vnto him, Happy art thou Simon Bar Jona: for flesh and bloud hath not opened (that) vnto thee, but my father which is in heauen.

John.6.g. John.6.d.

18 And I say also vnto thee, that thou art Peter, and vppon this rocke I wil builde my congregation: and the gates of hell shal not preuayle against it.

1. Co.10.a. Eld.28.c.

19 And I will giue vnto thee, the keyes of the kingdome of heauen: and what soeuer thou shalt binde in earth, shal be bound in heauen: and what so euer thou shalt lose in earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

Mat.18.c.

20 Then charged he his disciples that they shoulde tell no man that hee was Jesus Christ.

21 From that time forth beganne Jesus to shewe vnto his disciples, howe that he must goe vnto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and high priestes and Scribes, and (must) be killed, and be raysed againe the thirde day.

Mark.8.d. Luke.9.c.

22 And when Peter had taken him aside, he began to rebuke him saying, Lord, fauour thy selfe, this shal not be vnto thee.

23 But he turned him about, and saide vnto Peter, Goe after me Satan, thou art an offence vnto me: for thou sauerest not the things that (be) of God, but those that (be) of men:

24 Then saide Jesus vnto his diciples, If any man wil go after me, let him forsake him selfe, and take vp his crosse, and followe me.

25 For whosoeuer will saue his life, shall lose it: againe, whosoeuer shall lose his life for my sake, shall finde it. Mar.8. Luke.9. Mar.8.

26 For what is a man profited: if he shall win the whole worlde, and lose his owne soule? Or what shal a man giue for a raūsome of his soule? John.6. Rom.1.

27 For the sonne of man shall come in the glorie of his father with his angels: and then shall he reward euery man according to his workes.

28 Verely I say vnto you, There be some standing here, which shall in no wise tast of deathe, tyl they see the sonne of man comming in his kingdome. Mar.8. Luke.9.

The.xvij.Chapter.

2. The transfiguration of Christ. 15. he healeth the lunaticke. 27. and payeth tribute.

1 AND after five dayes, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them vp into an high mountaine, out of the way. I Mat.9. Luke.9.

2 And was transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light. Ipo.1.

3 And beholde, there appeared vnto them Moses and Elias, talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and saide vnto Jesus, Lorde, it is good for vs to be here. If thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 While he yet spake, beholde a bright cloude ouershadowed them: and beholde, (there came) a voyce out of the cloude, which saide, This is my beloued sonne, in whom I am wel pleased, heare ye him. Mat.3. and.m. Elai.42. Deut.18.

6 And when the disciples hearde (these thinges) they fell on their face, and were sore afrayde.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, and saide, Arise ye, and be not afrayde. B

8 And when they had lift vp their eyes, they sawe no man, saue Jesus only. Mar.9.

9 And when they came downe from the mountaine, Jesus charged them, saying, Shewe the vision to no manne, vntil the sonne of manne be risen againe from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes that Elias must first come?

11 Jesus answered, and saide vnto them, Elias truely shal first come and restore all Mala.4.

things:
12 But I ſaye vnto you, ỹ Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue donne vnto him what ſo euer they luſted: Likewiſe ſhall alſo the ſonne of manne ſuffer of them.
13 Then the diſciples vnderſtode that he ſpake vnto them of Iohn Baptiſte.
14 And when they were come to the people, there came to him a certaine man, kneeling downe to him, and ſaying, 15 Lord haue mercie on my ſonne, for he is lunaticke, and ſore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy diſciples, and they coulde not heale him.
17 Ieſus anſwered, and ſaide, O faithleſſe & peruerſe nation, how long ſhall I be with you? howe long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him hither to me.
18 And Ieſus rebuked the deuil, and he departed out of him: and the childe was healed euen that ſame time.
19 Then came the diſciples to Ieſus ſecretly, and ſaide, Why could not we caſt him out?
20 Ieſus ſaid vnto them, Bycauſe of your vnbeliefe: for verily I ſay vnto you, If ye haue faith "as a grain of muſtard ſeede, ye ſhal ſay vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place: and it ſhal remoue, neyther ſhall any thing be vnpoſſible vnto you.
21 How be it, this kinde "goeth not out but by prayer and faſting.
22 While they were conuerſant in Galilee, Ieſus ſaide vnto them, It will come to paſſe, that the ſon of mã ſhal be betrayed into the handes of men:
23 And they ſhall kill him, and the thirde day ſhal he ryſe again. And they were exceeding ſory.
24 And when they were come to Capernaum, they that receiued tribute money, came to Peter, and ſaide, Doth not your maiſter pay tribute?
25 He ſaith, Yes. And when he was come into the houſe, Ieſus preuented him, ſaying, What thinkeſt thou Simon? of whõ doe the kings of the earth take tribute or toll? of their owne children, or of the ſtrangers?
26 Peter ſaith vnto him, Of the ſtrangers. Ieſus ſaith vnto him, Then are the children free.
27 Notwithſtanding, leſt we ſhould offend them, goe thou to the ſea, and caſt an hooke, and take vp the fiſhe that firſt commeth vp: and when thou haſt opened his mouth, thou ſhalt finde a peece of twentie pence: that take, and giue it vnto them for me, and thee.

The.xviij.Chapter.

3. He teacheth his diſciples to be humble and harmeleſſe. 6. to auoyde occaſions of euil, 21. and one to forgiue anothers offence.

1 AT the ſame time came the diſciples vnto Ieſus, ſaying, Who is the greateſt in the kingdome of heauen?
2 Ieſus called a little child vnto him, and ſet him in the middes of them,
3 And ſaide, Verily I ſay vnto you, Except ye turne, and become as little children, ye ſhal not enter into the kingdome of heauen.
4 Who ſo euer therefore ſhall humble himſelfe as this little childe, the ſame is the greateſt in the kingdome of heauen.
5 And who ſo ſhal receiue ſuch a little child in my name, receiueth me.
6 But whoſo ſhal offend one of theſe little ones which beleeue in me, it were better for him that a mylſtone were hanged about his necke and that he were drowned in the deapth of the ſea.
7 Wo vnto the world bycauſe of offences, it muſt needes be that offences come: but wo to that man by whome the offence commeth.
8 If thy hande or thy foote offende thee (a) cut them off, and caſt (them) from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life haite or maymed, (rather) than thou ſhuldeſt, hauing two handes or two feete, be caſt into the euerlaſting fyre.
9 And if thine eye offende thee, plucke it out, and caſt (it) from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, (rather) than hauing two eyes, to be caſt into hel fire.
10 Take heede that ye diſpiſe not one of theſe little ones: for I ſay vnto you, that in heauen their (b) angels doe alwayes beholde the face of my father which is in heauen.
11 For the ſonne of man is come to ſaue that which was loſt.
12 Howe thinke ye? If a man haue an hũdred ſheepe, and one of them be gonne aſtray, doth he not leaue thoſe nintie and nine, and goeth into the mountaines, & ſeeketh that which went aſtray?

The Gospel on the.xxii. Sunday after Trinitie.

21 Then came Peter vnto him, & said, Lord, howe oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I forgiue him? til seuen times?

22 Jesus sayth vnto him, I say not vnto thee, vntil seuen times: but vntil seuentie times seuen.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certaine man that was a king whiche woulde take accompt of his seruantes.

24 And when he had begunne to recken, one was brought vnto him, which ought him tenne thousande talentes.

25 But for asmuch as he had not to pay, his Lorde commaunded him to be solde, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and (payment) to be made.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Lorde, haue patience with me, and I wil pay thee all.

27 Then the Lord of that seruant moued with pitie, losed him, and forgaue him the dette.

28 But the same seruant went out, and founde one of his felowes whiche ought him an hundred pence: and when he had layde handes on him, he toke him by the throte, saying, Pay (me) that thou owest.

29 And his felowe fel downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Haue patience with me, and I wil pay thee all.

30 And he woulde not: but went and cast him into prison, til he shoulde pay the det.

31 So when his felowes sawe that was done, they were very sory: and came, and tolde vnto their Lorde al that was done.

32 Then his Lord, after that he had called him, saide vnto him, O thou vngratious seruant, I forgaue thee al that dette when thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also haue had compassion on thy felowe, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his Lord was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentours, tyll he should pay al that was due vnto him.

35 So likewise shall my heauenly father doe also vnto you, if ye from your hartes forgiue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

The.xix.Chapter.

4. Christ giueth answere concerning mariage, 21. and teacheth, not to be careful, 22. nor to loue worldly riches.

1 AND it came to passe, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he gat him from Galilee, and came into the coastes of Jurie beyond Jordane. I. Mat.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 The Pharisees also came vnto him, tempting him, & saying vnto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for euery cause?

4 He answered, and said vnto them, Haue yee not read, that hee whyche created at the beginning, made them male and female? Gen. Expl. 1.Cap.

5 And saide, For this cause shall a manne leaue his father and his mother, and shall be knit to his wife, and they twaine shall be one flesche.

6 Wherfore they are no more twaine, but one flesche. Let not man therefore, put a sunder, that which God hath coupled together

7 They say vnto him, Why did Moses then commaunde to giue a writing of diuorcement, and to put her away? D

8 He saide vnto them, Moses, bycause of the hardnesse of your hartes, suffered you to put away your wiues, but from the begin-beginning it was not so.

9 I say vnto you, Who so euer shal put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adulterie: and who so marryeth hir which is diuorced, doth commit adulterie.

10 His disciples say vnto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, (then) is it not good to marry.

11 But he saide vnto them, Al men cannot receiue this saying, saue they to whom it is giuen.

12 For there are some chaste, which were so borne out of their mothers wombe: and there are some chaste, whiche were made chaste of men: and there be chaste, whiche haue made them selues chaste for ỹ kingdome of heauens sake. He that is able to receiue (it,) let him receiue (it.)

13 Then were there brought vnto him yong children, that he shoulde put hys handes on them, and praye: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 But Jesus said vnto them, Suffer the yong children, and forbidde them not to come vnto me: for to suche belongeth the kingdome of heauen.

15 And when he had put his handes on them, he departed thence.

16 And beholde, one came, and sayde vnto him, Good maister, what good thing shall I do, that I may haue eternal life?

17 He said vnto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, (and that is) God: But if thou wilt enter into that life, keepe the commaundements.

18 He saith vnto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not comit adulterie, Thou shalt no steale, Thou shalt not beare false witnesse, 19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt loue thy neighbor as thy self.

20 The yong mã saith vnto him, All the se (things) haue I kept from my youth vp: what lacke I yet?

21 Jesus sayde vnto him, If thou wilt be perfect, goe and sel thy substance, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen: and come and folow me.

22 But when the yong man hearde that saying, he went away sory: for he hadde great possessions.

23 Then Jesus saide vnto his disciples, Verily I say vnto you, that a riche (man) shal hardly enter into the kingdome of heauen.

24 And againe I say vnto you, It is easier for a Cammel to go through the eye of a needle, than for the riche to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 When ỹ disciples heard (this,) they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saued?

26 But Jesus beheld (them) and sayd vnto them, With men this is vnpossible, but with God al things are possible. Zach. 8. b.

27 Then answered Peter, and said vnto him, Behold, we haue forsaken al, & folowed thee, what shal we haue therefore? The Gospel on the cõuersion of S. Paule.

5 Againe, when he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, he did likewise.

7 They say vnto him, Because no man hath hyred vs. He saith vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyarde: and whatsoeuer is right, that shal ye receiue.

8 So when euen was come, the Lorde of the vineyarde sayth vnto his Stewarde, Call the labourers, and giue them their 9 And when they came that (were hyred) about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a peny.

10 But when the first came also, they supposed that they should haue receiued more: and they likewyse receyued euery man a peny.

11 And when they hadde receiued it, they murmured against the good manne of the house.

20 Then came to him, the mother of Zebedees children, with hir sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certayne thing of him.

21 And he saith vnto hir, What wylt thou? She saith vnto him, Graunt, that these my two sonnes may sitte, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdome.

22 But Iesus answered, and saide, Ye wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cuppe that I shall drinke of, and to be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with? They say vnto him, We are able.

23 He sayth vnto them, Ye shall drinke in deede of my cuppe, and be baptised wyth the baptisme that I am baptised with: but to sit on my right hande, and on my left, is not myne to giue, but to them for whō it is prepared of my father.

24 And when the tenne heard (this) they disdained at the two brethren.

Mat.15. Mark. Luke.

25 But Iesus, when he had called them vnto him, saide, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles haue dominiō ouer them: and they that are great, exercise authoritie vpon them.

26 It shal not be so among you: But who so euer wil be great among you, let hym be your minister:

27 And who so wil be chiefe among you, let him be your seruaunt.

Mark. Luke.

30 And behold, two blinde men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Iesus passed by, they cryed, saying, O Lorde, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the people rebuked thē, bycause they should holde their peace, but they cryed the more, saying, Haue mercie on vs, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid.

32 And Iesus stode still, and called them, and saide, What wil ye that I shal do vnto you?

33 They say vnto him, Lorde that our eies may be opened.

1 AND when they drewe nigh vnto Ierusalem, & were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Oliues, then sente Iesus two disciples,

2 Saying vnto them, Goe into ỳ village that lyeth ouer against you, and anone ye shal finde an Asse tyed, and a colt with hir, when yee haue losed (them,) bring (them) vnto me,

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, ye shal say the Lord hath neede of them, and straight way he wil let them goe.

4 All this was done, ỳ it might be fulfilled which was spoke by the prophete, saying,

5 Tell

5 Tell ye the daughters of Sion, Beholde, the king commeth vnto thee meeke, and sitting vpon an Asse and a colt the foale of (the Asse) vsed to the yoke.

6 The disciples went, and did as Jesus commaunded them.

7 And brought the asse, and the colte, and put on them their clothes, & he sat thereon.

8 And many of the people spread their garmentes in the way, other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cryed, saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: Blessed is hee that commeth in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 And when hee was come into Jerusalem, al the citie was moued, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude sayde, This is Jesus that prophete of Nazareth (a citie) in Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and ouerthrewe the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that solde Doues, 13 And sayde vnto them, it is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

14 And the blinde and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 When the chiefe priestes and Scribes sawe the wonders that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the son of Dauid, they disdained, 16 And sayd vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Jesus sayth vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings, thou hast ordeyned prayse?

17 And hee left them, and went out of the citie vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.

19 And when he sawe one figge tree in the way, hee came to it, and founde nothing thereon but leaues onely, and sayde vnto it, Neuer fruite growe on thee henceforwarde. And anone the figge tree withered away.

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marueiled, saying, Howe sone is the figge tree withered away?

21 Jesus answered and sayde vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, if ye haue fayth, and doubt not, ye shall not onely doe this (which is doone) to the figge tree, but also if ye shall say vnto this mountayne, Be thou remoued, and be thou cast into the sea, it shall be done. Luke.17.a.

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with them selues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, hee will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men, then feare we the people, for all (men) holde John as a prophete. Math.14.a

28 But what thinke you? A certayne man had two sonnes, and when he came to the first, he sayd, Sonne, go and worke to day in my vineyarde.

29 He answered, and sayde, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And when he came to the second, he sayd likewise: and he answered, and sayde, I (goe) sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of his father? And they sayd vnto him, The first. Jesus saith vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that the publicanes and the harlots goe into the kingdome of God before you.

33 Hearken another similitude, There was a certein man, an housholder, which planted a vineyarde, and hedged it rounde about, and digged a wine presse in it, and built a towre, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange countrey. F Gen.9.c. Esaias.5.a. Jere.12.c. Mark.12.c. Luke.20.b.

4 Agayne, he sent forth other his seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Beholde, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come vnto the mariage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:

24 Saying, Maiſter, Moſes ſayde, If a man dye, hauing no children, his brother ſhall "marry his wife, and rayſe vp ſeede vnto his brother.

25 There were with vs ſeuen brethren, and the firſt, when he had married a wife, deceaſed, and hauing no iſſue, left his wife vnto his brother.

27 Laſt of all, the woman died alſo.

28 Therefore in the reſurrection, whoſe wife ſhall ſhe be of the ſeuen? For they all had hir.

31 But as touching the reſurrection of the deade, haue ye not read that whiche was ſpoken vnto you of God, which ſayth.

37 Jeſus ſayde vnto him, Thou ſhalt loue the Lorde thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoule, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the firſt and great commaundement.

39 And the ſeconde is like vnto it. Thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour as thy ſelfe.

40 In theſe two commaundements, hang all the lawe and the prophetes.

45 If Dauid then call him Lorde, howe is he then his ſonne?

euen there will the Eagles also be gathered together.

29 Immediately, after the tribulation of Luke.21.c. Ioel.2.c.
those dayes, shall the sunne be darkened and the moone shall not giue hir light, and the starres shall fall from heauen, and the powers of the heauens shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appeare the signe of the Actes.1.b.
sonne of man, in heauen: and then shall all the kinreds of the earth mourne, and they shall see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes of heauen, with power and great glorie.

31 And hee shall sende his angels with the Dani.12.a. great sounde of a trumpet, and they shall 1.Thes.4.b gather together his chosen, from the foure windes, euen from one ende of heauen to the other.

32 Learne a parable of the figge tree: when Mark.13.c.
his branche is yet tender, and the leaues Luke.21.f.
spring, ye know that Sommer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shal see all these things, be sure that it is neere, euen at the dores.

34 Verily I say vnto you, this generation shall in no wise passe, till all these things be fulfylled.

35 Heauen and earth shall passe away, but Esai.2.b.
my wordes shall in no wise passe away. Esai.40.c.

36 But of that day and houre, knoweth no Math.5.c. man, no, not the angels of heauen, but my Actes.1.a.
father only. F

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so shall Gene.7.d.
also the comming of the sonne of man be. Luke.17.f.

38 For as in the dayes that were before the floude, they were eating, and drinking, marrying, and giuing in marryage, euen vntil the day that Noe entred into ỳ arke, 39 And knewe not till the floude came, and tooke them all away: so shall also the comming of the sonne of man be.

40 Then shall two be in the fielde: the one Luke.17.g. is receiued, and the other is left alone.

41 Two (women) shall be grinding at the mylle: the one is receyued, and the other left alone.

42 Watch therefore, for ye know not what Math.25.b.
houre your Lord doth come. Mark.13.g.

43 Of this yet be sure, that if the good man Luke.12.c. of the house had knowne what watche the theefe woulde come, he woulde haue watched, and woulde not haue suffered his house to be broken vp. Apoc.16.c.

44 Therefore be ye also readie: for in such an houre as ye thinke not, the sonne of mã commeth.

45 Who then is that faythfull and wyse seruant, seruant, whome his Lorde hath made ruler ouer his houshold, to giue them meate in season?

46 Blessed is that seruant, whom his lorde when he commeth, shall finde so doing.

47 Verely I say vnto you, that hee shall make him ruler ouer all his goods.

48 But and if that euill seruant shall say in his heart, My Lord will be long a comming:

49 And so begin to smite his felowes, yea, and to eate and drinke with the drunken:

50 The same seruants Lorde shall come in a day, when he loketh not for him, and in an houre that he is not ware of:

51 And shall hewe him in peeces, and giue him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

The.xxv. Chapter.

1. The tenne virgins. 14. The talentes deliuered to the seruantes. 32. And of the generall iudgement.

A 1 THen shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto tenne virgins, whiche when they had taken their lampes, went forth to meete the bridegrome.

2 But fiue of them were wise, and fiue were foolishe.

3 They that were foolishe, when they had taken their lampes, toke none oyle with them:

4 But the wise toke oyle in their vessels, with their lampes also.

5 While the bridegrome taryed, they all slumbred and slept.

6 And euen at midnight there was a crye made, Beholde, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meete him.

B 7 Then all those virgins arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolishe sayde vnto the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lāpes are gon out.

9 But the wise answering, saying, (Not so) least there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buye, the bridegrome came: and they that were readie, went in with him to the maryage, and the dore was shut vp.

Math.7.c. 11 Afterwarde came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But he answered, and sayde, Verily I say vnto you, I know you not.

Mark.24.d 13 Watche therefore, for ye knowe neyther
Mark.13.d. the daye, nor yet the houre, wherein the sonne of man commeth.

Luc. C 14 Likewise as (when) a (certayne) man taking his iourney into a strange country, called his owne seruantes, and deliuered vnto them his goods.

Mat. Luc. 15 And vnto one hee gaue fiue talentes, to another two, and to another one, to euerie man after his abilitie, and straight way toke his iourney.

16 Then he that had receyued the fiue talentes, went and occupied with the same, and made (them) other fiue talents.

17 And likewise he that had receyued two, he also gayned other two.

18 But he that had receyued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his Lordes money.

19 After a long season, the Lorde of those seruants commeth, & reckeneth with them.

20 And so he that had receyued fiue talents, came and brought other fiue talentes, saying, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto me fiue talentes, beholde, I haue gayned besides them fiue talentes moe.

21 His Lorde sayde vnto him, Well done D thou good and faythfull seruant, thou hast been faythfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lord.

22 He also that had receyued two talentes, came and sayde, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me two talentes: beholde, I haue won two other talentes besides them.

23 His Lorde sayde vnto him, Well done, good and faythfull seruant, thou hast been faythfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy Lord.

24 Then he which had receyued the one talent, came and sayde, Lorde, I knewe thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sowen, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And therefore was I afrayde, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thine is.

26 His Lord answered, and sayd vnto him, Thou euill and slouthfull seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliue- E red my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming shoulde I haue receyued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

29 For vnto euerie one that hath, shall be Math. giuen, and he shall haue aboundance: but Part. from from him that hath not, shall be taken away, euen that which he hath.

30 And cast the vnprofitable seruant into vtter darkenesse, there shall be weeping, and gnashing of teeth.

31 When the sonne of man shall come in his glorie, and all the holie angels with him, then shall hee sit vpon the throne of his glorie.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separat them, one from another, as a shepheard diuideth his shepe from the goates.

33 And hee shall set the sheepe on his right hand, but the goates on the left.

34 Then shal the king say vnto them (which shall be) on his right hande, Come ye blessed of my father, inherite the kingdome, which hath bene prepared for you, from the foundation of the world.

35 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me meate: I was thirstie, and yee gaue mee drinke: I was a straunger, and yee toke me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sicke, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came vnto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answere him, saying, Lord, when sawe we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirstie, and gaue thee drinke?

38 When sawe we thee a stranger, and toke thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when sawe we thee sicke, or in prison, and came vnto thee?

40 And the king shall answere, and saye vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, in as muche as ye haue done it vnto one of the least of these my brethren, ye haue done (it) vnto me.

41 Then shall he say also vnto them on the left hand: Depart from me ye cursed into the euerlasting fire, which is prepared for the deuill and his angels.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gaue me no meate: I was thirstie, and ye gaue me no drinke:

43 I was a straunger, and ye toke me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sycke, and in prison, and ye visited me not.

44 Then shall they also answere him, saying, Lorde, when sawe we thee an hungred, or a thyrst, or a stranger, or naked, or sicke, or in prison, and did not minister vnto thee?

45 Then shall hee answere them, saying, Verily I say vnto you, in as muche as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.

46 And these shall goe away into euerlasting payne: but the righteous into lyfe eternall. John.5.c.

The.xxvi.Chapter.

10. Marie Magdalene annoynteth Christe. 26. They eate the Easter lambe. 31. Christe prayeth in the garden. 48. Iudas betrayeth him. 62. Peter smyteth off Malchus eare. 64. Christe is accused by false witnesses. 69. Peter denyeth him.

1 AND it came to passe when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he sayd vnto his disciples, A The Gospell on the nexte sunday after Easter.

2 Ye knowe, that after two dayes is the feast of Passouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified. Math.13.a Luke.22.a

3 Then assembled together the chiefe priests, and the Scribes, and the elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high priest, which was called Caiaphas: John.11.f.

4 And held a counsell that they might take Jesus subtily, and kill him.

5 But they sayde, Not on the feast (day) least there be an vproze among the people.

6 When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the Leper, Mark.14.a John.12.a.

7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an Alabaster boxe of precious oyntment, and powred it on his head, as he sat (at the boorde.) B Luke,7.f.

8 But when his disciples sawe it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose (is) this waste?

9 This oyntment might haue bene sold for much, and giuen to the poore.

10 When Jesus vnderstode that, he sayde vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 For ye haue the poore alwayes with you: but me ye haue not alwayes. Deut.15.b.

12 For in that this woman hath caste this oyntment on my body, she did it to burie me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, Where so euer this Gospell shall be preached in the whole worlde, there shall also this that this woman hath done, be tolde for a memoriall of hir.

14 Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe priestes, C Mark.14.b

15 And sayd vnto them, What will ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? And they appoynted vnto him thirtie siluer (peeces.) Luke.22.a. John.12.a.

16 And from that time forth, he sought opportunitie to betray him.

Mark.14.b Luke.23.a. 17 The first (day) of sweete bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, wher wilt thou that we shall prepare for thee to eate the Passouer?

18 And he sayde, Goe into the citie to suche a man, and saye vnto him, The maister saith, my time is at hande, I make the Passouer at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them: and they made readie the Passouer.

Math.14.c Luke.12.b. 20 When the euen was come, he sat down with the twelue:

D John.13.c. 21 And as they did eate, hee sayde, Verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they being exceeding sorowfull, beganne euery one of them to say vnto him, Lord is it I?

23 Hee answered and sayde, Hee that hath dipped his hande with me in the dishe, the same shall betray me, Psal.41.b. 24 The sonne of man truely goeth as it is written of him: but woe vnto that man by whome the sonne of man is betrayed: It had ben good for that man if he had not bene borne.

25 Then Judas which betrayed him, answered, and sayde, Maister, Is it I? Hee sayd vnto him, Thou hast sayd.

26 When they were eating, Jesus, when he had taken the bread, and giuen thankes, he brake (it) and gaue (it) to the disciples, and sayd, Take ye, eat ye: this is my body.

1.Cor.11.c. Luke.22.b. Mark.14.c 27 And when hee had taken the cup, and giuen thankes, hee gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it:

E 28 For this is my blood of the newe Testament, that is shed for many, for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I say vnto you, I will in no wise drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntill that day when I drinke it new with you in my fathers kingdome.

Mark.14.c 30 And when they had prayed (God,) they went out vnto the mount of Oliues.

31 Then sayth Jesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended bicause of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepheard, and the sheepe of the flocke shall be scattered abroade.

Zach.13.c. Mark.14.c.

32 But after I am risen agayne, I will go before you into Galilee.

Mark.14.b Luke.22.d. 33 Peter answered, and sayde vnto hym, Though all men shall be offended bicause of thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 Jesus sayd vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, that in this same night before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt deny me thrise.

35 Peter sayd vnto him, Though I should dye with thee, yet will I by no manner of meanes denie thee. Likewise also sayd all the disciples.

36 Then commeth Jesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, and sayth vnto the disciples, Sit ye there, while I goe and praye yonder. Mark.

37 And when hee had taken with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, he beganne to be sorowfull and heauie. f

38 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauie, euen vnto the death: tarry ye here, and watch with me. Mark. Joha.

39 And when hee had gone a litle farther, hee fell flat on his face, praying, and saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt. Luke. Mark.

40 And he commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them asleepe, and sayth vnto Peter, What, coulde ye not watche with me one houre?

41 Watche, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit in deede is willing, but the flesh (is) weake. Gala.

42 He went away againe the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drinke it, thy will be fulfilled. Mark.

43 And when hee came, hee findeth them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.

44 And he left them, and went againe, and prayed the thirde time, saying the same wordes, 45 Then commeth hee to his disciples, and sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hande, and the sonne of man is betrayed into the handes of sinners.

46 Ryse, let vs be going: behold, he is at hande that doth betray me.

47 While hee yet spake, loe Judas one of the twelue, came, and with him a greate multitude with swordes and staues, from the chiefe priestes and elders of the people. Mark. Luke.

48 But hee that betrayed him, gaue them a token, saying, Whom so euer I shall kisse, that same is he, holde him fast.

49 And forthwith when he came to Jesus, he sayde, Haile master: and kissed him.

50 And Jesus sayde vnto him, Friende, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layd handes on Jesus, and toke him.

51 And beholde, one of them whiche were with with Jesus, stretched out his hande, and drewe his swoorde, and after that hee had stricken a seruant of the high priestes, hee smote off his eare.

51 Then sayde Jesus vnto him, Turne backe thy swoord into his place: for all they that take the swoorde, shall perishe with the swoorde.

53 Thinkest thou that I can not nowe pray to my father, and he shall cause to stand by me more than twelue legions of angels?

54 But howe then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?

55 In that same houre sayde Jesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a theefe with swoordes and staues for to take me: I sate dayly with you teaching in the temple, and ye toke me not.

56 But al this was done, that the scriptures of the prophetes might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples hauing forsaken him, fled.

57 But they that had taken Jesus, led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Peter folowed him a farre off vnto the high priestes palace, and went in, and sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 The chiefe priestes and elders, and all the counsell, sought false witnesse against Jesus, for to put him to death,

60 But founde none: yea, when many false witnesses came, yet founde they none. At the last came two false witnesses, 61 And sayde, This (felowe) sayde, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to builde it in three dayes.

62 And the chiefe priest arose, and sayd vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? What (is that which) these witnesse against thee?

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the chiefe priest answered, and sayde vnto him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs, whether thou be Christe the sonne of God?

64 Jesus sayth vnto him, Thou hast sayd: Neuertheless, I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power (of God) and comming in the cloudes of the skie. Mark. 14. g Luke. 22. g.

65 Then the highe priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemie: what neede we of any moe witnesses? Beholde, nowe ye haue heard his blasphemie. Math. 14. g

66 What thinke ye? They answered and saide, He is worthy to dye.

67 Then did they spit in his face, & buffeted him with fistes, and other smote him on the face with the paulme of their handes, Esai. 50. c.

68 Saying, Prophecie vnto vs, O Christe, who is he that smote thee?

69 Peter sate without in the palace: and a damosell came to him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denyed before them all, saying, I wote not what thou sayest.

71 When he was gone out into the porche, another (wenche) sawe him, and sayd vnto them that were there, This felow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.

72 And agayne he denyed with an othe, I do not knowe the man.

73 And after a while, came vnto him they that stoode by, and sayde to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy speache bewrayeth thee. Mark. 14. g Luke. 22. g Joh. 18. c.

74 Then began he to curse, and to sweare, (saying,) I know not the man. And immediatly the Cocke crewe.

75 And Peter remembred the woordes of Jesu, whiche sayde vnto him, Before the Cocke crowe, thou shalt denye me thrise. And he went out, and wept bitterly. Math. 26. c.

We haue in this deſcription conferred the vſe and manner of the celebration of Eaſter that the Iewes helde, with that whiche we vſe to recken and beginne at, and alſo to name the dayes of the weeke, and haue added thereto certaine dayes of the moneth of Marche in the yeere that Ieſus Chriſte ſuffered, to declare the vnderſtanding of the ſaide difficultie. Wherein there is to be noted, that the Lord Ieſus celebrated not the Paſſouer the ſame day that the Iewes did: but that he whiche came not to breake the lawe, but to fulfill the lawe in euery poynt, ate the Lambe with his diſciples at the time ordeyned by the lawe. Exod.12. which is the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth (that is to ſay, Marche) in the after noone, on the which began the ſaid feaſt: whiche fell this yere on the Fryday, the euen of the Sabboth or day of reſt. On the which day hee which was the true Lambe was offered, to the ende that the truth might agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebrated the ſaide Paſſouer the day folowing at euen after ſunne ſet, Ieſus Chriſt being in the graue: for that by tradition of their predeceſſours, the ſaide feaſt which fell on the Friday according to the lawe, was deferred to the next day, which was the day of their weekly Sabboth, becauſe they would not keepe two feaſts together: for this feaſt day they called the great Sabboth. The diſciples prepare the Lambe which Ieſus Chriſte ate with them after euen, the ſame day on which euen beganne the feaſt.

Ieſus hauing eaten the Lambe with his diſciples, inſtitutеth the ſacramẽt of the ſupper: is kiſſed by Iudas: is crucified, deade, and buried.

Ieſus Chriſte reſteth in the graue all this day.

The women carry ſyweet ointments: worke early in the morning to the graue.

Here is alſo to be noted, that where the eating of the Lambe, the inſtitution of the ſacrament, with the reſidue before mentioned, is referred to Thurſday and Friday: If ye recken according to the Iewes account, who begin their Friday night on Thurſday after ſunne ſet, and continueth that night and day vntill the next day after ſunne ſet, ye ſhall finde that Chriſte did eate the Paſcall Lambe, inſtituted the ſacrament of his body and bloud, was kiſſed by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buried on Fryday. But if ye recken after our vſe, then Chriſt did eate the Paſcal lamb, inſtituted the ſacrament of his body and bloud, and was kiſſed of Iudas on Thurſday, but was crucified, dead, and buried on Fryday.

The.xxvij. Chapter.

1. Christe is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5. Iudas hangeth him selfe. 24. Christe is crucified among theeues. 57. he dyeth and is buried. 64. watchmen keepe the graue.

1 When the morning was come, all the chiefe priestes, and the elders of the people, held a counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bounde him, they led him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.

3 Then Iudas, whiche had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented him selfe, and brought agayne the thirtie "siluer peeces to the chiefe priestes and elders,

4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betrayed the innocent bloud. And they sayd, What is that to vs? see thou to that.

5 And when he had cast downe the peeces of siluer in the temple, hee departed, and went his way and hanged him selfe.

6 And the chiefe priestes toke the siluer (peeces) and sayd, It is not lawfull for to put them into the treasurie: bycause it is the price of bloud.

7 And when they had taken counsell, they bought with them the potters field, to burie strangers in.

8 Wherefore that fielde was called, The fielde of bloud, vntill this day.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the prophete, saying, And they toke the thirtie siluer (peeces,) the price of him that was valued, whom they bought of the children of Israell:

10 And gaue them for the potters fielde, as the Lord appoynted me.

11 Iesus stode before the deputie, and the deputie asked him, saying, Arte thou the king of the Iewes? Iesus saith vnto him, Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chiefe priestes and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then sayth Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not howe many thinges they witnesse against thee?

14 And he answered him to neuer a word: insomuch ỹ the deputie maruelled greatly.

15 At that feaste the deputie was wont to let lose vnto the people a prysoner, whom they would.

16 Hee had then a notable prysoner, called Barrabas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate sayde vnto them, Whether will ye that I giue lose vnto you Barrabas, or Iesus, which is called Christe. Mark. 15. a. John. 18. g.

18 For he knew that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 When hee was set downe on the iudgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: For I haue suffred many things this day in a dreame bicause of him.

20 But the chiefe priestes and elders persuaded the people that they shoulde aske Barrabas, and destroy Iesus. Math. 15. a. Luke. 23. b.

21 The deputie answered, and sayde vnto them, Whether of the twaine will ye that I let lose vnto you? They said, Barabas. D Actes. 3. c.

22 Pilate said vnto them, What shall I do then with Iesus, which is called Christe? Then all sayde vnto him, Let him be crucified. Math. 15. a.

23 The deputie sayde, What euill hath hee done? But they cryed exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate saw that hee coulde preuayle nothing, but that more businesse was made, hee toke water, and washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocent of the bloud of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and sayd, His bloud be on vs, and on our children. Actes. 5. c. Mark. 15. a.

26 Then let he Barrabas lose vnto them, and when he had skourged Iesus, he deliuered him to be crucified. Luke. 23. d.

27 Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hall, gathered vnto hym all the bande (of souldiers.) E Mark. 15. a.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

28 And

28 And immediatly his fame ſpread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29 And forthwith, when they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the houſe of Simon and Andrewe, with James and John.

34 And hee healed many that were ſicke of diuers diſeaſes, and caſt out many deuils: and ſuffered not the deuils to ſpeake, becauſe they knew him.

35 And in the morning verie early before day, Jeſus when he was ryſen vp, wente out, and departed into a ſolitarie place, & there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him folowed after him:

5 When Jeſus ſawe their fayth, hee ſayde vnto the ſicke of the palſie, Sonne, thy ſinnes be forgiuen thee. Eſai. 42. c. & 44. d.

6 But there were certaine of the Scribes ſitting there, and reaſoning in their harts, Luke. 5. d.

7 Why doth hee thus ſpeake blaſphemies? Who can forgiue ſinnes, but God onely? B

8 And immediatly, when Jeſus perceyued in his ſpirite, that they ſo reaſon within them ſelues, he ſayth vnto them, Why reaſon ye ſuch things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it eaſier to ſay to the ſicke of the palſie, Thy ſinnes be forgiuen thee: or to ſay, Ariſe, take vp thy bed, and walke?

10 But that ye may knowe that the ſonne of man hath power in earth to forgiue ſinnes, (he ſayth to the ſicke of the palſie,)

18 And the disciples of John, & of the Pharisees did fast: and they come and say vnto him, Why do the disciples of John and of ỹ Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Jesus sayde vnto them, Can the children of the bride chamber fast, whyle the bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the bridegrome with them, they can not fast.

20 But the dayes will comme, when the bridegrome shall be taken away from thē, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

D 21 No man also soweth a peece of newe cloth, vnto an olde garment: other wayes his newe peece taketh away (somewhat) from the olde (garment,) and so the rent is made worse.

22 And no man powreth newe wine into olde vessels, else the newe wine doth burst the vessels, and the wyne runneth out, and the vessels will be marred: But new wine, must be put into new vessels.

1.Reg.21.b

26 Howe hee went into the house of God, in the dayes of Abiathar the highe priest, and did eate the shew breade, which is not lawfull to eate, but for the priestes, and gaue also to them which were with him?

27 And he sayde vnto them, The Sabboth was made for man, and not man for the Sabboth.

28 Therefore is the sonne of man Lord also of the Sabboth.

5 And when hee had loked rounde about on them with anger, mourning for the hardenesse of their heartes, hee sayth to the man, Stretche forth thyne hande. And he stretched it out: and his hande was restored as whole as the other. Math.12. Luke.6. 1.Re.13.

6 And the Pharisees departed, and straight way gathered a counsell with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him. Math.12.

8 And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and (from the region which is) beyond Jordane, and they that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what things he did, came vnto him. Math.4. Luke.6. John.6.

9 And Jesus commaunded his disciples that a ship should wayte on him, because of the people, least they should throng him.

10 For hee had healed many, (in so muche) that they preassed vpon him for to touche him, as many as had plagues.

11 And the vncleane spirites, when they sawe hym, they fell downe before him (at his feete) and cryed, saying, Thou arte the sonne of God.

12 And he straightly charged them, that they should not make him knowne.

13 And he goeth vp into a mountayne, and calleth vnto him whome hee would: and they came vnto him.

14 And he ordeyned twelue, that they shuld C be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach: Math.10.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goodes, excepte he wil first bind the strong man, and then wil spoyle his house.
28 Verily I say vnto you, All sinnes shal be forgiuen vnto the children of men, and blaspheimies, wherewith so euer they shall blaspheme:
29 But he that shall blaspheme against the holy ghost, hath neuer forgiuenesse, but is in danger of eternal damnation.

17 Yet haue no roote in themselues, and so endure but a time: & anone when trouble and persecution aryseth for the wordes sake: immediatly they are offended.

18 And those be they that receiue seede among thornes: and they are such as heare the word, 19 And the cares of this world, and the deceytfulnesse of riches, and the lustes of other things entring in, choake the worde, and it is made vnfruiteful.

28 For she sayde, If I may but touche his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And straightway the fountaine of hir bloud was dried vp: and she felt in hir body that she was healed of the plague.

30 And Jesus immediatly knowing in him selfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preasse, and sayde, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples sayde vnto him, Thou seest the people thrusse thee, and askest thou, Who did touche me?

32 And he loked rounde about, for to see hir that had done this thing.

33 But the womā fearing and trembling, knowing what was donne within hir, came and fel downe before him, and tolde him al the truth.

4 And (when they come) from the market, except they washe, they eate not. And many other things there be, whiche they haue taken vpon them to obserue, (as) the washing of cuppes and pottes, brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then asked him the Pharisees and Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the traditiō of the elders, but eate breade with vnwashen handes?

Mat. 10. c. Luke. 12. b. 38 Whosoeuer therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my wordes, in this adulterous and synnefull generation, of him also shall the sonne of man be ashamed, whē he commeth in the glory of his father, with the holy angels.

The. ix. Chapter.

2. The transfiguration of Christe, 13. Elias is come. 26. A dumbe spirite is caste out. 29. VVhy the disciples coulde not cast it out. 33. The disciples contende for superioritie. 38. One casteth oute deuilles that folowed not Christs disciples. 43. Of the offences of hand, fote, or eye. 49. Of seasoning with salt.

1 AND he sayde vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stande here which shall in no wyse tast of death, tyll they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power. Mat. Luke.

2 And after sixe dayes, Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them vp into an hygh mountaine out of the way alone: and he was transfigured before them. Mat. Luke.

3 And his rayment did shine, (and became) very white, euen as snowe, so as no fuller vpon the earth can white them.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered, and saith to Jesus, Maister, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what he should say: for they were sore afrayde.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them: and a voyce came out of the cloud: saying, This is my beloued sonne: heare him.

8 And sodeynly when they hadde loked rounde about, they sawe no man, more than Jesus onely with them selues. Mat. and. Luke.

9 And as they came downe from the hyll, he charged them that they should tell no man those thinges that they hadde seene, til the son of man were risen frō the dead. Mat. Esai. Mat. Mar.

10 And they kept that saying with them, and demaunded one of another, what the rysing from the dead should meane.

11 And they asked him saying, Why then say ỹ Scribes that Elias must first come? Mal.

12 He answered and sayde vnto them, Elias verely when he commeth first, restoreth all thinges: and the sonne of man, as it is writte of him, shal suffer many things and be set at nought. Esai.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, and they haue done vnto him what so euer they wouldē, as it is written of him.

14 And when he came to his disciples, he sawe muche people about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheldē him, were greatly amased, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the Scribes, What dispute ye among your selues?

17 And one of the company answered, and sayde, Maister, I haue brought vnto thee my sonne, which hath a dumbe spirite:

18 And where so euer he taketh him, he teareth teareth him, and (he) foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithlesse nation, how long shal I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when he sawe him, straightway the spirite tare him, and when he fell downe on the grounde, he wallowed, foaming.

21 And he asked his father, Howe long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he sayde, Of a childe.

22 And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst doe any thing, haue mercie on vs, and helpe vs.

23 Jesus sayde vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleeue, all things are possible to him that beleeueth.

24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cried with teares, he said Lord I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeleefe.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running together, he rebuked the foule spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe & deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And (the spirit) when he had cryed, and rent him sore, came out of him, & he was as one that had bin dead, insomuch that many sayde, He is dead.

27 But Jesus, when he had caught him by the hand, lifted him vp: and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretely, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he sayde vnto them, This kinde can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30 And after they departed thence, they toke their iourney through Galilee, & he would not that any man should know (it.)

31 For he taught his disciples, and sayde vnto them, The sonne of man is deliuered into the handes of men, and they shal kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the thirde day.

32 But they vnderstode not that saying, and were afraide to aske him.

33 And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among your selues by the way?

34 And they held their peace: for by the way they had reasoned among them selues, who (should be) the chiefest.

35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and saith vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shal be last of al, and seruant vnto all.

36 And when he had taken a young child, he set him in the middest of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he sayde vnto them, Mar.18.a. Luke.6.k.

37 Who so euer shall receiue any suche a yong child in my name, receiueth me: and whosoeuer that receiue me, receiueth not me, but him that sent me.

38 John answered him, saying, Maister, we sawe one casting out deuils in thy name, and he followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not.

39 But Jesus sayde, Forbid him not, for 1.Cor.12.a. there is no man, which, if he do a myracle in my name, can lightly speake euil of me.

40 For he that is not against vs, is on our part.

41 Whosoeuer shal in my name giue you Mat.10.d. a cup of colde water to drinke, because ye belong to Christ: verely I say vnto you, he shal not lose his reward.

42 And who so euer shall offende one of Mat.18.a. these little ones, that beleeue in me, it is better for him if a mylstone were hanged about his necke, & he were cast into the sea.

43 And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: Mat.18.b. It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than hauing two hands to goe into hel, into fire that neuer shal be quenched:

44 Where their worme dieth not, and the Esai.66.g. fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foote offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than hauing thy two feete, to be cast into hel, into fire that neuer shal be quenched:

46 Where their worme dyeth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it Mat.5.f. out: it is better for thee to enter into the Leuit.2.d. kingdome of God with one eye, than hauing two eyes, to be cast into hel fire:

48 Where their worme dyeth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For euery man shal be salted with fire, Leuit.2.d. and euery sacrifice shal be seasoned with salt.

50 Salt is good: but if the salt be vnsauerie, with what thing shall you season it? Haue ye salt in your selues, and haue peace among your selues one with another. Mat.5.b. Luke.14.d.

20 He answered, and said vnto him, Master, all these haue I obserued from my youth.

21 Iesus beheld him, and loued him, and said vnto him, one thing thou lackest: Go thy way, sell what so euer thou hast, and giue to the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, & come folowe me, when thou hast taken vp the crosse.

26 And they were astonyed out of measure, saying betweene themselues, Who then can be saued?

32 And they were in the way goyng vp to Jerusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they folowed, were afrayd: and when he had agayne taken with him the twelue, he began to tel them what thyngs should happen vnto him, 33 (Saying,) Beholde, we goe vp to Hierusalem, and the son of man shal be deliuered vnto the high Priestes, and vnto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death, & shal deliuer him to the Gentiles.

34 And they shal mocke hym, and scourge hym, and spyt vppon hym, and kyll hym: and the thyrde day he shall aryse.

35 And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came vnto hym, saying, Mayster, we wyll that thou shouldest doe for vs, whatsoeuer we shal desire.

36 He said vnto them, What wil ye that I should do for you?

37 They saide vnto him, Graunt vnto vs that we may sit, one on thy right hand, & the other on thy left hand in thy glory.

38 But Jesus said vnto them, Ye wot not what ye aske: Can ye drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of? and be baptised with the baptisme that I am baptised with?

39 And they saide vnto him, That we can. Jesus sayde vnto them, Ye shall in deede drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of: and with ỹ baptisme that I am baptised with al, shall ye be baptised:

40 But to sit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to giue, but (it shall be giuen) vnto them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the (other) ten heard it, they began to disdaine at James and John.

42 But Jesus, when he had called them to him, saith vnto them, Ye know that they which seeme to beare rule among the Gentiles, raigne as lordes ouer them: and they that be great among them, exercise authoritie vpon them.

43 But so shall it not be among you: but who so euer of you will be great among you, shal be your minister:

48 And many rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cryed the more a great deale, Thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

49 And Jesus stode stil, and commaunded him to be called: and they cal the blynde, saying vnto him, Be of good comfort, rise, he calleth thee.

50 And when he hadde throwen away his cloke, he arose, and came to Jesus.

51 And Jesus answered, and said vnto him, What wylt thou that I doe vnto thee? The blind saide vnto him, Maister, that I might see.

I Pet.

2 And when the time was come, he sent to the husbandmen a seruaunt, that he might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruite of the Vineyarde.

3 And

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away emptie.
4 And againe he sent vnto them another seruant: and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away all to reuyled.
5 And againe he sent another, and him they killed: & many other, beating some, and killing some.
6 And so when he had yet but one beloued sonne, he sent him also at the last vnto them, saying, They will stande in awe of my sonne.
7 But the husbandmen said amongst them selues, This is the heyre, come, let vs kyll him, and the inheritance shal be ours.
8 And they toke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the Vineyarde.
9 What shall therefore the Lorde of the Vineyard do? He shal come and destroye the husbandmen, and wil giue the Vineyard vnto other.
10 Haue ye not read this scripture? The stone which the buylders disalowed, is become the chiefe stone of the corner:
11 This was the Lordes doing, and it is marueylous in our eyes?
12 They went about also to take him, and feared the people: for they knewe that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.
13 And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his wordes.
14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Maister, we knowe that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the persons of men, but teachest the way of God in truthe: is it lawful to giue tribute to Ceasar, or not?
15 Shal we giue, or shal we not giue? But he knowing their hypocrisie, sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penie, that I may see it.
16 And they brought it: and he sayth vnto them, Whose is this image & superscription? And they sayde vnto him, Ceasars.
17 And Iesus answering, sayde vnto them, Giue to Ceasar the thinges that (belong) to Ceasar: and to God the things which (pertayne) to God. And they marueyled at him.
18 There come also vnto him the Saducees, whiche say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying.
19 Maister, Moses wrote vnto vs, if anye mans brother dye, and leaue his wife behinde him, and leaue no children: that his brother shoulde take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.
20 Their were seuen brethren: and the first toke a wife, and when he died, left no seede behinde him.
21 And the seconde toke hir, & died, neither left he any seede: and the thirde likewise. D 22 And seuen had hir, and lefte no seed behind them: last of al, the wyfe died also.
23 In the resurrection therefore when they shall rise, whose wife shal she be of them? for seuen had hir to wife.
24 And Iesus answering, said vnto them, Do ye not therefore erre, bycause ye knowe not the scriptures, neyther the power of God?
25 For when they shal ryse from the dead, they neither marry, nor are giuen in maryage: but are as the angels which (are) in heauen.
26 As touching the dead that they rise: haue ye not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bushe God spake vnto him, saying, I (am) the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob? Exo.3.b. Mat.22.f. Luke.10.f.
27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore do greatly erre.
28 And when there came one of the Scribes: and had heard them disputing together, and perceiued that he had answered them well, he asked him which is the first commaundement of al? E Mar.22.d.
29 Iesus answered him, the first of all the commaundements (is,) Heare, O Israel, the Lorde our God, is one Lord: Deut.6.a. Mat.22.d.
30 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy hart, & with al thy soule, and with al thy minde, & with al thy strength. This (is) the first commaundement:
31 And the second is like vnto (this,) Thou shalt loue thy neyghboure as thy selfe: There is none other commaundemente greater than these. Leuit.19.d Mat.22.b. Rom.13.c. Galat.5.c. Jacob 2.b. Mat.5.f.
32 And the Scribe saide vnto him, Well maister, ỹ hast saide the truth, for there is one God, and there is none other but he.
33 And to loue him with al the hart, & with al the vnderstanding, & with al the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue a (mans) neighbour as him selfe, is greater than all the burnt offerings & sacrifices.
34 And when Iesus sawe that he answered discreetely, he sayde vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.
35 And Iesus answering, sayde, teaching in the temple, Howe say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

Mat. 22.d. Mar. 12.a. 36 For Dauid him selfe, inspired with the holy ghoste, sayde, The Lord sayde to my Lord, Syt on my right hand, tyl I make thine enimies thy fotestoole.

37 Dauid him selfe calleth him Lord: and whence is he then his sonne? And muche people heard him gladly.

Mat. 23.a. Luke. 20.g. 38 And (he) said vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes, whiche desyre to walke in long clothing, and (loue) salutations in the market places, 39 And the chiefe seats in the synagogues, and the vppermost romes at feastes, 40 Which deuour wyddowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers: these shall receiue greater damnation.

Luke. 21.a. 41 And when Iesus sate ouer against the treasurie, he beheld howe the people put money into the treasurie: and many that were riche, cast in muche.

42 And there came a certaine poore wyddowe, and she threw in two mytes, which make a farthing.

43 And when he had called vnto him hys disciples, he sayth vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that this poore wyddowe hath cast more in, than al they which haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For they al did cast in of their superfluitie: but she of hir want, did cast in al that she had, (euen) al hir liuing.

3 And as he sate vpon ẏ mount of Olives ouer against the temple, Peter, & James, and John, & Andrewe, asked him secretly, 4 Tel vs, when shall these things be? And what shal be ẏ signe when all these things shall be fulfiled?

5 And Iesus answering them, began to say, Take heede lest any man deceiue you.

6 For many shal come in my name, saying I am (Christ:) and shall deceiue many. Mat. Luke. B

7 When ye shall heare of wars, and tidinges of warres, be ye not troubled: For such (things) must nedes be: but the end (shall) not (be) yet.

8 For there shall nation rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in diuers places, and famines shall there be, & troubles: these are the beginnings of sorowes.

9 But take ye heede to your selues: for they shall deliuer you vp to counsayles, and to synagogues, and ye shall be whypped, yea and shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, (that this might be) for a witnesse against them. John. Mat. Luke. John.

10 And the Gospel must fyrst be published among al nations. Mat.

11 But when they shall leade you, deliuering you vp, be not careful aforehande, neither take thought what ye shal speake: but what soeuer shal be giuē you in ẏ same houre, that speake ye: for it is not ye that speake, but the holy ghoste. Mat.

12 The brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne: and the children shal rise against their fathers and mothers, and shal put them to death.

13 And ye shal be hated of all men for my names sake: but he that shall endure vnto the ende, the same shall be safe.

14 Moreouer, when ye see the abhominatiō of desolation, wherof is spoken by Daniel ẏ prophete, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth vnderstande) then let them that be in Iurie, flee to the mountaines: C Mat. Luke. Dani.

15 And let him that is on the house toppe, not goe downe into the house, neither enter therein to fetche any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the fielde, not turne backe agayne for to take his garment with him.

17 Wo (shal be) then to them that are with child, and to them that giue sucke in those dayes.

18 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter:

19 For there shall be in those dayes (suche) tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation whiche God created, vnto this time, neyther shall be in any wise.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesche should be saued: but for the electes sake whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

21 And

21 And then, if any man shall say to you, Loe here is Christe, or loe he is there: beleue him not.

22 For false Christes, and false prophetes shall rise, & shall shewe signes and wonders, to deceiue, if it were possible, euen the elect.

23 But take ye heede: beholde, I haue shewed you al things before.

24 Moreouer, in those dayes, after that tribulation, the sunne shal be darkened, and the mone shal not giue hir light:

25 And the starres of heauen shal fall, and the powers which (are) in heauen, shall be shaken.

26 And then shal they see the sonne of man comming in the cloudes, with great power and glorie.

27 And then shall he sende his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, from the ende of the earth to the vttermost part of heauen.

28 Learne a parable of the fig tree. When hir branche is yet tender, and hath brought forth leaues, yee knowe that sommer is neare:

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these thinges come to passe, vnderstande (a) that (it) is nigh, euen at the dores.

30 Verily I say vnto you, that this generation shall in no wise passe, till all these thinges be donne:

31 Heauen and earth shall passe away: but my wordes shall in no wise passe away.

32 But of that day and that houre knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heauen, neither the sonne him selfe, saue the father (only.)

33 Take ye heede, watche and pray: for ye knowe not when the time is.

34 As a man which is gon into a strange countrey, and hath left his house, and giuen authoritie to his seruantes, and to euery man his worke, and commaunded the porter to watche:

35 Watche ye therefore, (for ye knowe not when the maister of the house commeth, at euen, or at midnight, whether at the Cocke crowing, or in the dawning,)

36 Lest if he come sodenly, he finde you sleping.

37 And that I say vnto you I say, vnto al, Watche.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The preface of Luke. 5. Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 11. The Angell sheweth the Natiuitie of Iohn Baptist. 20. The incredulitie of Zacharie is punished. 28. The angell saluteth Marie, and sheweth the Natiuitie of Christe. 40. Marie visiteth Elizabeth. 46. The song of Marie. 57. The byrth, Circumcision, and graces of Iohn Baptist. 68. The prophecie of Zacharie. 80. The office of Iohn.

A 1 FOr as much as many haue taken in hande to set forth in order the declaration of those things whiche are most surely " beleeued among vs.

" or, proued

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning sawe them the selues with their eyes, & were ministers of the (a) word:

a. That is, they were doers in suche things as be set foorth in the Gospell.

3 It seemed good to me also, hauing perfect vnderstanding of all things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus.

4 That thou mightest knowe the certaintie of those things whereof thou hast bene taught by mouth.

5 THere was in the dayes of Herode the king of Iurie, a certayne priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia, and his wife (was) of the daughters of Aaron, and hir name was Elizabeth.

2. Par. 24. 8

6 They were both righteous before God, walking in all the commaundements and ordinances of the Lord, blamelesse.

B 7 And they had no childe, bicause that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharie executed the priestes office before God, as his course came,

9 According to the custome of the priestes office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lorde.

10 And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, whyle the incense was burning.

11 And there appeared vnto him an angell of the Lorde, standing on the right side of the aulter of the incense.

12 And when Zacharias sawe him, he was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angell sayde vnto him, Feare not Zacharie, for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shal beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn,

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, C and many shall reioyce at his byrth:

15 And hee shall be great in the sight of the Lorde, and shall neyther drinke wine nor strong drinke, and hee shall be fylled with the holie Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 For many of the children of Israell, shall he turne to their Lorde God.

17 And hee shall goe before him with the spirite and power of Elias, to turne the hearttes of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make ready a perfect people for the Lorde. Mal.

18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the angell, Gen. By what token shall I know this? For I am old, & my wife well stricken in yeeres. 17. 18.

19 And the angell answering, sayde vnto him, I am Gabriell that stande in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

20 And beholde, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntyll the daye that these things shall be performed, bycause thou beleeuedst not my wordes, which shal be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people wayted for Zacharias, D and marueiled that hee tarryed so long in the temple.

22 And when hee came out, hee coulde not speake vnto them: and they perceyued that he had seene a vision in the temple: for he beckened vnto them, and remayned speachlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that as sone as the dayes of his office were out, hee departed into his owne house.

28 And when the angell was come in vnto hir, he sayde, Hayle (thou that art) in highe fauour, the Lord is with thee, Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she sawe him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in hir mynde what maner of salutation this should be.

31 For beholde, thou shalt conceyue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Jesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be called the sonne of the highest, and the Lorde God shall giue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid, 34 Then sayde Marie vnto the Angell, Howe shall this be, seeing I knowe not a man?

35 And the angell answering, sayde vnto hir, The holie ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the highest shall ouershadowe (e) thee. Therefore also that holie thing which shall be borne, shall be called the sonne of God.

36 And beholde, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceyued a sonne in his olde age, and this is hir sixth moneth, whiche was called barren.

37 For with God shall no worde be vnpossible.

38 And Marie sayde, Beholde the handemayden of the Lorde, be it vnto me according to thy worde: and the angell departed from hir.

39 And Marie arose in those dayes, and wente into the hyll countrey with haste, into a citie of Juda, 42 And she spake out with a loude voyce, and sayde, Blessed art thou among woms, and the fruite of thy wombe is blessed.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lorde shoulde come to me?

44 For loe, as sone as the voyce of thy salutation sounded in myne eares, the babe sprang in my wombe for ioy.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued, for those things shall be performed whiche were tolde hir from the Lord.

63 And when he had asked for writing tables, he wrote, saying, His name is John: and they marueiled all.

1 IT came to passe, that when the people preassed vpon him, to heare the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Genezareth,

I

2 And he sawe two shippes stand by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

Mark.

3 And when he was entred into one of the shippes which perteyned to Simon, he prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the lande: and he sate downe and taught the people out of the shippe.

4 When he had left speaking, he sayd vnto Simon, Launche out into the deepe, and let slip your nettes to catch.

5 And Simon answering, sayde vnto him, Maister, we haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheles, at thy commaundement I will lose forth the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their net brake.

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other shippe, that they should come, and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the shippes, that they sunke (almost.)

8 When Simon Peter sawe (this) he fell downe at Iesus knees, saying, Goe out from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.

9 For he was vtterly astonyed, and all that were with him, at the taking of the fishes which they had caught together.

10 And so was also Iames and John the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Iesus sayde vnto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt (a) catch men.

11 And when they had brought vp their boates to the shore, (b) they forsoke all, and folowed him.

12 And it came to passe, that when he was in a certaine citie, behold (there was) a man full of leaprosie: and when he had spyed Iesus, he fell flat on his face, and besought him, saying, Lorde, if thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

13 And when hee had stretched forth his hande, he touched him, saying, I will: be thou cleane. And immediatly the leaprosie departed from him

14 And he charged him to tell no man: but, Goe, (sayth he) and shewe thy selfe to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commaunded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroade of him, and much people came together to heare, and to be healed of him from their infirmities.

16 And he kept him selfe a part in the wildernesse, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine daye as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctours of the lawe sitting by, which were come out of all the townes of Galilee and Iurie, and Ierusalem: and the power of the Lorde was present, to heale them.

18 And beholde, men brought in a bedde a man whiche was taken with a paulsie: and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not finde on what side they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vpon the toppe of the house, and let him downe through the tyling with his couche, euen into the middes before Iesus.

20 When he sawe their fayth, he sayde vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees beganne to (d) thinke, saying, What felow is this, which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgiue sinnes, but God only?

22 But when Iesus perceyued their thoughts, he answering, sayd vnto them, What thinke ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Ryse vp, & walke?

24 But that ye may knowe that the sonne of man hath power to forgiue sinnes on earth, (he sayde vnto the sicke of the paulsie) I say vnto thee, Aryse, and when thou hast taken vp thy couch, go vnto thy house.

25 And immediatly he rose vp before them, and when hee had taken vp his couche, whereon he lay, he departed to his owne house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they gaue the glorie vnto God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse we haue seene strange things to day.

27 And after these things hee went forth, and sawe a Publicane named Leui, sitting at the receit of custome: and he saide vnto him, Folowe me.

28 And when he had left all, he rose vp, and folowed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that sat (at meate) with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured agaynst his disciples, saying, Why doe ye eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners?

31 And Iesus answering, sayde vnto them, They that are whole, neede not a Physition: but they that are sicke.

32 I came not to call the (c) righteous: but sinners to repentance.

33 And they sayde vnto him, Why doe the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees: but thine eate and drinke?

34 He sayde vnto them, Can ye make the chilozē of the wedding chamber fast, while the bridegrome is with them?

35 But the dayes will come: and when the bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, then shal they fast in those dayes.

36 Hee spake also vnto them a similitude. No man putteth a peece of a newe garment, into an olde vesture: for then the newe reneth (the olde,) and the peece that was (taken) out of the newe, agreeth not with the olde.

F 37 And no man poureth newe wyne into olde vessels: For if he doe, the newe wine will burst the vessels, and runne out it self, and the vessels shall perishe.

38 But newe wine must be put into newe vessels, and both are preserued.

39 No man also hauing dronke olde wine, will straightway haue newe: for he sayth, The olde is better.

8 But he knewe their thoughtes, and sayde to the man which had the wythered hand, Rise vp, and stande forth in the middes. And he arose, and stode forth.

9 Then sayd Jesus vnto them, I will aske you a question, Whether is it lawfull on the Sabboth dayes to doe good, or to doe euill? to saue ones life, or to destroy it?

21 Blessed are ye that hunger nowe: for ye shall be satisfied. Blessed are ye that weepe nowe, for ye shall laugh.

22 Blessed are ye when men shall hate you, D and when they shall separate you (from their companie) and shall rayle on you, and put out your name as euill, for the sonne of mans sake.

23 Reioyce ye in that day, and leape ye for ioy: for beholde, your rewarde is great in heauen: For in like manner did their fathers vnto the prophetes.

24 But woe vnto you that are riche: for ye

27 But

28 Bleſſe them that curſe you: and pray for them which wrongfully trouble you.

29 And vnto him that ſmiteth thee on the one cheeke, offer alſo the other: and him that taketh away thy cloake, forbid not to take thy coate alſo.

30 Giue to euerie man that asketh of thee, and of him that taketh away thy goods, aske them not againe.

31 And as ye would that men ſhould do to you, doe ye alſo to them likewiſe.

32 For if ye loue them whiche loue you, what thanke haue ye? for ſinners alſo loue their louers.

33 And if ye do good for them which do good for you, what thanke haue ye? for ſinners alſo do euen the ſame.

34 And if ye lende (to them) of whome ye hope to receiue, what thanke haue ye? for ſinners alſo lende to ſinners, to receiue ſuch like againe.

35 But loue ye your enimies, and doe good and lende, looking for nothing againe: and your rewarde ſhall be great, and ye ſhall be the children of the higheſt: for he is kinde vnto the vnkinde, and to the euill.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your father alſo is mercifull.

37 Iudge not, and ye ſhal not be iudged at all: condemne not, and ye ſhall not be condemned at all: forgiue, and ye ſhall be forgiuen.

38 Giue, and it ſhall be giuen vnto you, good meaſure, preſſed downe, ſhaken together, and running ouer, ſhall men giue into your bolomes: for with the ſame meaſure that ye meate withall, it ſhall be meaſured to you againe.

40 The diſciple is not aboue his maiſter: but who ſo euer (wil be) a perfect (diſciple,) ſhall be as his maiſter is.

41 And why ſeeſt thou the moate that is in thy brothers eye, but conſidereſt not the beame that is in thyne owne eye?

42 Either how canſt thou ſay to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye: when thou thy ſelfe ſeeſt not the beame that is in thine owne eye? Thou hypocrite, caſt out the beame out of thine owne eye firſte, and then ſhalt thou ſee perfectly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye.

43 For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruite: neither is that an euill tree that bringeth forth good fruite. Math. 12. k.

44 For euerie tree is knowne by his owne fruite: for of thornes doe not men gather figges, nor of a bramble buſhe gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treaſure of his hart bringeth forth that which is good: and an euill man out of the euill treaſure of his heart, bringeth forth that whiche is euill: For of the abundance of the heart his mouth ſpeaketh. Math. 12. k. Pſal. 40. b.

46 Why call ye me Lorde, Lorde, and doe not as I bid you? Math. 7. d. e. 25. b.

47 Who ſo euer commeth to me, and heareth my ſayings, and doth the ſame, I will ſhewe you to whome he is like.

34 When the heardmen sawe what was done, they fled: and when they were departed, they tolde it in the citie, and in the villages. F

35 Therfore they came out to see what was done, & came to Jesus, and found the man out of whom the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Jesus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afrayde.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes he that was possessed of the deuils was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought him that he woulde depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and he gate him vp into the shippe, and returned backe agayne. Math. Mark.

38 Then the man out of whome the deuils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, 39 Goe home agayne to thyne owne house, and shew what " things soeuer God hath done for thee. And he went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what things so euer Jesus had done vnto him. " or, how great God hath done for him.

46 And Jesus said, Some body hath touched mee: for I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hid, she came trembling, and fell (at his feete) and tolde him before al the people, for what cause she had touched him, and howe she was healed immediatly.

48 And he saide vnto hir, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy fayth hath saued thee, goe in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there commeth one from the ruler of the synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, disease not the maister.

50 But when Jesus heard (that worde,) he answered him, (saying,) Feare not, beleue only, and she shalbe made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to goe in with him, saue Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the mayden.

52 Euery body wept, and sorowed for hir: and he saide, Weepe not, the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them all out, and toke hir by the hande, and cryed, saying, Mayde, arise.

55 And hir spirite came agayne, and she rose straightway: and he commaunded to giue hir meate.

56 And hir parentes were astonied: but he warned them that they should tel no man what was done.

28 And it came to passe, about an eyght dayes after these sayings, he toke Peter, and John, and James, and went vp into a mountaine to pray.

29 And it came to passe as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was changed, and his garment shining very white.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, whiche were Moses and Elias.

31 That appeared in glory, and spake of his departing, whiche he shoulde ende at Ierusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauy with sleepe: and when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two men standing with him.

Mat.17.a. Mar.10.a.
33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter saide vnto Iesus, Maister, it is good being here for vs, and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he sayde.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and ouershadowed them, and they feared when they were come into the cloud.

35 And there came a voyce out of the cloud saying, This is my deare sonne, heare him.

36 And as soone as the voyce was past, Iesus was founde alone. and they kepte it close, and tolde no man in those dayes any of these things which they had seene.

37 And it came to passe, that on the next day, when they were come downe from the hil much people met him.

38 And beholde, a man of the company cried out, saying, Maister, I beseech thee behold my sonne, for he is al that I haue:

39 And lo, a spirite taketh him, and sodainely he crieth and teareth him that he foometh againe, and with much pain departeth from him, when he rent eth him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 Iesus answering, saide, O faithlesse and peruerse nation, how long shall I be with you, and shall suffer you? bring thy sonne hyther.

42 As he was yet a comming, the fiende rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirite, and healed the childe, and deliuered him agayne to his father.

43 And they were al amased at the maiestie of God: But while they wondred euery one at al things whiche Iesus dyd, he saide vnto his disciples, 44 Let these sayings sinke downe into your eares: for it will come to passe that the sonne of man shall be deliuered into the handes of men.

45 But they wyst not what that worde meant, and it was hid from them, that they shoulde not vnderstande it: and they feared to aske him of that saying.

46 Then there arose a disputation among them, which of them shoulde be the greatest.

47 When Iesus perceiued the thought of their hart, he toke a childe, and set hym hard by him, 48 And saide vnto them, Who so euer shal receiue this childe in my name, receiueth me: and who so euer shal receiue me, receiueth him that sent me: For he that is least among you all, ỹ same shal be great.

49 And John answering, saide, Maister, we sawe one casting out deuils in thy name, and we forbade him, because he followeth loweth not (thee) with vs.

50 And Jesus saide vnto him, Forbidde ye (him) not: for he that is not against vs, is with vs.

51 And it came to passe, when ỹ time was come that he should be receiued vp, he stedfastly set his face to goe to Jerusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face, and they went and entered into a village of the Samaritanes, to make redy for him.

53 And they did not receiue him, bycause his (b) face was as though he would goe to Jerusalem.

54 When his disciples, James, and John sawe this, they saide, Lorde, wilt thou that we commaunde fire to come downe from heauen, and consume them, euen as Elias did?

55 Jesus turning about, rebuked them saying, Ye wote not what manner spirite ye are of.

56 For the sonne of man is not come to destroy mens liues, but to saue them. And they went to another village.

57 And it came to passe, that as they went walking in the way, a certaine man saide vnto him, I wil folowe thee Lorde, whyther so euer thou goest.

58 And Jesus saide vnto him, Foxes haue holes, and byrdes of the ayre haue nestes: but the sonne of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 And he said vnto another, Folowe me: And the same saide, Lorde, suffer me first to goe and bury my father.

60 Jesus said vnto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but goe thou and preache the kingdome of God.

61 And another saide, Lorde, I wil folow thee: but let me first goe bidde them farwel (c) whiche are at home at my house.

62 Jesus sayde vnto him, No manne hauing put his hande to the plowe, and lowking backe, is apt to the kyngdome of God.

Mat.22.d.

28 And he saide vnto him, Thou hast answered right, this do and thou shalt liue.

29 But he, willing to iustifie him selfe, said vnto Iesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answering, said, A certaine man descended from Ierusalem to Iericho and fel among theeues, which robbed him of his rayment, and wounded him, and departed, leauing him halfe dead.

31 And it befell, that there came downe a certaine priest that same way, and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Leuite, when he went nigh to the place, came and loked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritane as he iourneyed, came by him: and when he sawe him, he had compassion on him.

34 And went to him & bound vp his woundes, powring in oyle & wine, and set him on his owne beast, and brought him to a (common) Inne, & made prouision for him.

35 And on the morowe when he departed, he toke (d) out two pence, and gaue them to the hoast, and saide vnto him, Take cure of him: and what so euer thou spendest more, when I come againe, I will recompence thee.

36 Whiche nowe of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fel among the theeues?

37 And he saide, He that shewed mercie on him. Then saide Iesus vnto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 Nowe it came to passe as they went, that he entred into a certaine village: and a certaine woman named Martha, receiued him into hir house.

39 And this woman had a sister, called Marie, Which also sat at Iesus feete, and heard his word:

40 But Martha was cumbred about much serning, and came to him, and said, Lord, doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? Bid hir therefore that she help me.

41 And Iesus answered, and said vnto hir, Martha, Martha, thou art carefull, and troubled about many things:

1 AND so it was, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples saide vnto him, Lorde, teache vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

2 And he saide vnto them, When ye pray, saye, O our father whiche art in heauen, halowed be thy name. Thy kingdome come. Thy will be done, euen in earth also as it is in heauen.

6 For a friend of mine is come out of the way to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.
7 And he from within shal answere, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is nowe shut, and my children are with me in bed I can not rise and giue thee.
8 I say vnto you, Though he will not rise, and giue him, because he is his friende: yet because of his importunitie, he will rise, & giue him as many as he needeth.
9 And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shal be giuen you: seeke, and ye shal finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you.
10 For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh shal it be opened.
11 If the sonne shall aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? Or if he aske fishe, will he for fishe giue him a serpent.
12 Or if he shall aske an egge, will he offer him a scorpion?
13 If ye then being euil, haue knowledge to giue good gifts vnto your children: howe much more shall your father of heauen giue the holy spirite to them that desire (it) of him?
14 And he was casting out a deuil, and the same was dumbe. And it came to passe, when the deuil was gone out, the dumbe spake: and the people wondred.
15 But some of them saide, He casteth out deuils, through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils.
16 And other tempting him, required of him a signe from heauen.
17 But he knowing their thoughtes, said vnto them, Euery kingdome diuided against it selfe, is desolate: and a house (diuided) against a house, falleth.
18 If Satan also be diuided against himselfe, howe shall his kingdome endure? Because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub.
19 If I by Beelzebub cast out deuils by whom doe your children cast them out? therefore shall they be your iudges.
20 But if I with the finger of God cast out deuils, no doubt the kingdome of God is come vpon you.
21 When the strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his goodes are in peace.
22 But when a stronger than he shal come vppon him, and ouercome him, he taketh from him al his harnesse wherein he trusted, and diuideth his spoyles.
23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.
24 When the vncleane spirite is gone out of a man, he walketh through drie places, seeking rest: and finding none, he saith, I will returne vnto mine house, whence I came out. Mar.12.c.
25 And when he commeth, he findeth it swept, and garnished.
26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seuen other spirites worse than himselfe, and they enter in, and dwel there, and the last state of that man is worse than the first.
27 And it came to passe as he spake these things, a certaine woman of the company lift vp hir voyce, and saide vnto him, Happy is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.
28 But he said, Yea rather, happy are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.
29 When the people were gathered thicke together, he began to say, This is an euil nation: they seeke a signe, and there shal no signe be giuen them, but the signe of Ionas the prophete. Mat.12.c. Mar.8.b.
30 For as Ionas was a signe to the Ninimites, so shall also the sonne of man be to this nation. Ioh.6.d. Ionas.2.c.

32 The men of Ninive shall rise in iudgement with this nation, & shal condemne them: for they repented at the preaching of Ionas, and beholde, a greater than Ionas is here.
33 No man when he hath lighted a candel, putteth it in a priuie place, neither vnder a bushel: but on a candelsticke, that they which come in, may see the light. Mat.5.b. Mark.4.b. Luke.8.c.
34 The (a) candel of the body, is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, all thy body also is ful of light: but if thine eye be euil, al thy body also is full of darkenesse. Mat.6.c. a. That is the light.
35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.
36 If al thy body therfore be cleare, hauing no part darke: thy shal it al be ful of light, euen as when a candel doeth light thee with brightnesse.

Mat.23.c. 39 And the Lord sayde vnto him, Nowe doe ye Pharisees make cleane the outside of the cuppe, and the platter: but your inwarde parte is full of rauening, and wickednesse.

40 Ye fooles, did not he that made that whiche is without, make that which is within also?

b. Christ requireth here two things. First, that we come truly by our meate: next, that we giue almes, for charitie is the perfection of the lawe.

41 But rather (b) giue almes of those thinges whiche are within: and behold, all thinges are cleane vnto you.

42 But woe vnto you Pharisees, for ye tithe mynt, and rue, and all manner herbs, and passe ouer iudgement, & the loue of God: Those ought ye to haue done, and yet not to leaue the other vndone.

Mat.23.c. 43 Woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the synagogues, and greetinges in the marketes.

Mat.13.c. 44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for ye are as graues whiche appeare not, and the menne that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

Esai.10.a. Mat.23.b. 45 Then answered one of the Lawyers, and sayde vnto him, Maister, thus saying, thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

Mat.13.d. 46 And he sayde, Woe vnto you also ye Lawyers: for ye lade men with burdens greeuous to be borne, and ye your selues touche not the burdens with one of your fyngers.

47 Woe vnto you, for ye buylde the sepulchres of the prophetes, and your fathers killed them.

Mat.23.d. 48 Truely ye beare witnesse that ye alowe the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye buylde their sepulchres.

51 From the bloud of Abel, vnto the bloud of Zacharie, which perished betweene the aulter and the temple: Verely I say vnto you, it shall be requyred of this nation.

c. The pure doctrine, and true vnderstanding of the scriptures.

52 Woe vnto you Lawyers: for ye haue taken away the (c) key of knowledge: ye entred not in your selues, and them that came in, ye forbade.

53 When he thus spake vnto them, the Lawyers and the Pharisees begaune to vrge (him) vehemently, and to prouoke him to speake many thinges.

54 Laying waite for him, and seeking to catch some thing out of his mouth wherby they might accuse him.

The.xij. Chapter.

1. The leauen of the Pharisees is to be auoyded. 5. Who is to be feared. 8. To confesse Gods name, or to denie. 11. To blaspheme against the spirite. 11. He comforteth the disciples against affliction. 15. and warneth them to beware of couetousnesse by the similitude of a riche man. 28. Against care of earthly thinges. 31. To giue our selues to righteousnesse, almes, watching, patience, wisedome, and concorde.

1 IN the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, (insomuch) that they trode one another, he began to say vnto his disciples, First of all, beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, whiche is hypocrisie.

2 For there is nothing couered, that shall not be vncouered, neither hid, that shal not be knowen.

3 Therefore, what so euer you haue spoken in darknesse, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secrete places, shall be preached (a) on the top of the houses.

4 And I say vnto you my friendes, Be not afraide of them that kil the body, and after that, haue no more that they can doe.

5 But I will forwarne you whom you shall feare: feare him, whiche after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hel, yea I say vnto you, Feare him.

6 Are not fiue sparowes solde for two farthinges, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

7 But, euen the very heares of your heade are numbred: feare not therefore, ye are more of value than many sparowes.

8 Also I say vnto you, Who so euer shall confesse me before menne, him shall the sonne of man knowledge also before the angels of God.

9 But he that shall denie me before men, shall be denied before the angels of God.

10 And whosoeuer shall speake a word against the sonne of man, it shal be forgiuen him: but vnto him that blaspheneth the holy (b) ghost, it shall not be forgiuen.

11 And when they bring you vnto the synagogues, & vnto the rulers and officers, take take yee no thoughte howe or what thing ye shal answere, or what ye shall speake:

12 For the holy ghost shall teache you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.
13 One of the company sayde vnto him, Maister, speake to my brother that he diuide the inheritance with me.
14 And hee sayde vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a diuider ouer you?
15 And he sayde vnto them. Take heede, and beware of couetousnesse: for no mans life standeth in the aboundaunce of the things which he possesseth.
16 And he put forth a similitude vnto the, saying, The grounde of a certaine rythe man brought forth plentiful fruites.
17 And he thought within him selfe, saying, What shall I doe, because I haue no rowme where to bestowe my fruites?
18 And he sayde, This will I doe, I will pul downe my barnes, and buylde greater, and therein will I gather all my fruites and my goodes.
19 And I wil say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goodes layde vp (in store,) for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and be merry.
20 But God sayde vnto him, Thou fole this night doe they require thy soule againe from thee; then whose shall those things be, which thou hast prouided?
21 So is he that gathereth riches to him selfe, and is not riche towarde God.
22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, take no thought for your life what ye shall eate, neither for the body what ye shall put on.
23 The life is more than meate, and the body is more than rayment.
24 Consider the Rauens, for they neither sowe nor reape, whiche neither haue storehouse nor barne, and (notwithstanding,) God feedeth them: howe muche more are ye better than the foules?
25 Whiche of you with taking thought, can adde to his stature one cubite?
26 If ye then be not able to doe that thing whiche is least: why take ye thought for the remnaunt?
27 Consider the Lillies, howe they growe they labour not, they spin not: and yet I say vnto you, That Solomon in all his royalty, was not clothed like one of these.
28 If God so cloth the graſſe, which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the furnace: howe much more (will hee cloth) you, (O) ye of little faith?
29 And aske not ye, what ye shall eate, or what ye shall drinke, neither be ye of doubtful minde.
30 For all such things doe the people of the world seeke for: and your father knoweth that yee haue neede of these things.
31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and al these things shal be added vnto you. Mat.6.c. 1.Tim 6.b. Eccl.29.b. Prou.23.a.
32 Feare not, (O) little flocke, for it is your fathers good pleasure to giue you a kingdome.
33 Sel that ye haue, and gyue almes: and prepare you bagges which waxe not old, (euen) a treasure that fayleth not in the heauens, where no theefe approcheth, neither moath corrupteth. Mat.19.c. Mark.10.c.
34 For where your treasure is, there wyll your hart be also.
35 Let your loynes be gyrte about, and (your) lightes burning. Ephe.6.c. 1.Pet.1.c.
36 And ye your selues (be) like vnto men that wayte for their Lorde, when he will returne from the wedding, that when he shal come and knocke, they may open vnto him immediately.
37 Happy are those seruantes, whom the Lord when he commeth, shall finde waking. Verely I say vnto you, that he shal gyde him selfe, and make them to sit downe to meate, and wil come forth, and minister vnto them.
38 And if he shal come in the second watch, yea, if he shall come in the third watche, and finde them so, happie are those seruantes.
39 This vnderstande ye, that if the good man of the house hadde knowen what houre the theefe would come, he would surely haue watched, and not haue suffered his house to be broken through.
40 Bee ye therefore ready also, for the son of man commeth at an houre when yee thinke not. Mat.24.d. Mark.13.d.
41 Then Peter said vnto him, Maister, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or to al? Mat 24.d. Mar.13.c.
42 And the Lorde saide, Who is a faithful and wise stewarde, whom his lorde shall make ruler ouer his houshold, to giue them their portion of meate in due seaso?
43 Happie is that seruant, whom his lorde when he commeth, shall finde so doing. Apo. 16.c.
44 Of a truth, I say vnto you, That he will make him ruler ouer al his substance.
45 But and if that seruant say in his hart, My lorde delayeth his comming: and shall beginne to smyte his seruantes and maydens, and to eate and drinke, and to be drunken. Mat.24.d.

46 The Lord of that seruant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an houre when he is not ware, and will hewe him in peeces, and wil set him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.

Iacob.3.d.

47 And the seruant that knewe his maisters will, and prepared not him selfe, neither did according to his wil, shal be beaten with many (strypes.)

c. Ignorance wil not excuse

48 But he that knewe not, (c) and dyd commit things worthie of strypes, shall be beaten with fewe (strypes.) For vnto whom so euer much is giuen, of him shall be much required: and to whom menne haue committed muche, of him will they aske the more.

d. That is, the Gospel, which is a vehement fire, and maketh a change of things, throwe all the worlde.

49 I am come to send fire (d) on the earth, and what is my desire, (e) if it be alrady kindled?

e. That is, but that it be.

50 Not withstanding, I must be baptised with a baptisme, (f) and howe am I payned til it be ended?

f. He compareth affliction, and his death to baptisme.

Mat.10.d.

51 Suppose ye that I am come to sende peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, but rather (g) diuision.

g. Christ is not the cause that there is destruction for the Gospel, but the wickednesse of worldlings, which by malice contemning the Gospel, be at variance with all that professe it.

52 For from henceforth there shal be fiue in one house diuided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be diuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in lawe against hir daughter in lawe, and the daughter in lawe against hir mother in lawe.

Mat.16.a.

54 He sayde also to the people, When ye see a cloude rise out of ỳ West, straightway ye say, There commeth a showre: and so it is.

55 And when yee see the Southwinde blowe, ye say, It will be whot: and it commeth to passe.

56 Ye hipocrites, ye can discerne the face of the skie, and of the earth: but howe is it that ye do not discerne this time?

57 Yea, and why iudge ye not of your selues what is right.

Mat.5.d. Prou.25.b.

58 When thou goest with thine aduersarie to the ruler: as thou art in the way, giue diligence, that thou maiest be deliuered from him, least he drawe thee violently to the iudge, and the iudge deliuer thee to the sargeant, and the sargeant cast thee into prison.

59 I tel thee, Thou shalt not depart thence, till thou haue made good the vttermost myte.

The.xiij. Chapter.

1. Of the Galileans. 4. and those that were oppressed at Siloe. 6. Of the fig tree that bare no fruite. 11. The woman hauing a spirite of infirmitie is healed. 15. The vse of the Sabboth. 18. He declareth by diuers similitudes what the kingdome of God is. 24. Few enter into the kingdome of Christ. 32. He reproueth Herode and Ierusalem.

1 THere were present at the same season certaine men, that shewed him of the Galileans, whose bloud (a) Pilate had mingled with their owne sacrifice.

a. Pilate caused them as they were sacrificing. Luke.13.a.

2 And Iesus answering, sayde vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners than al the other Galileans, because they suffered suche punishment?

3 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent ye shall al likewise perishe.

4 Or those eightiene, vppon whome the towre in (b) Siloe fell, and slue them, thinke ye that they were sinners aboue al men that dwelt in Ierusalem?

b. Which towre was in the fild of Siloe, not in Ierusalem.

5 I tel you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall al likewise perish.

6 He tolde also this similitude, A certaine man had a figge tree, planted in his vineyarde, and he came and sought fruit theron, and found none.

Mat.

7 Then sayde he to the dresser of his vineyard, Beholde, this three yeeres I come seeking fruite in this figge tree, and finde none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the ground?

8 And he answering, sayd vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, til I shall dig rounde about it, and dung it:

9 And if it beare fruite, (thou mayest let it alone:) and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teaching in one of their synagogues, on the Sabboth dayes.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirite of infyrmitie eightiene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp (hir selfe.)

12 When Iesus sawe hir, he called hir to him, and sayde vnto hir, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he layde his hands on hir, and immediatly she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Iesus had had healed on the Sabboth day, and said vnto the people, There are sixe dayes in whiche menne ought to worke: in them therefore come, that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day.

15 But the Lord answered him, and sayd, Thou hypocrite, doth not eche one of you on the Sabboth day lowse his oxe or his asse from the stalle, and leade him to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bounde loe eighteene yeeres, be lowsed from this bonde on the Sabboth day?

17 And when he sayde these thinges, al his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for al the excellent deedes that were done by him.

18 Then saide (Iesus,) What is the kingdome of God like? Or whereto shall I compare it?

19 It is like a grayne of mustarde seede, which a man toke and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree: and the fowles of the ayre made nestes in the branches of it.

20 And againe he sayde, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It is like leauen, which a woman toke and hyd in three peckes of meale, tyll all was leauened.

22 And he went through all townes and villages, teaching, & iourneying towards Ierusalem.

23 Then saide one vnto him, Lorde, are there fewe that be saued? And he sayde vnto them, 24 Strive (c) to enter in at the straite gate for many, I say vnto you, wil seeke to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the dore, and ye begin to stande without, and to knocke at the dore, saying, Lord, Lorde, open vnto vs, and he shall answere, and say vnto you, I knowe you not whence ye are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We haue eaten and dronken in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 And he shal say, I tel you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, al ye that worke iniquitie.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isahac, and Jacob, and all the prophetes in the kingdome of GOD, and ye your selues thrust out.

29 And they (d) shall come from the East, and from the West, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit downe in the kyngdome of God.

Mark. 19. b.

30 And behold, there are last, which shal be (e) first, and there are first, whiche shall be (f) last.

c. That is the Gentiles whiche beleeue the Gospel that were called after the Iewes.

31 The same day, came there certaine of the Pharisees, saying vnto him, Get thee out, and depart hence, for Herode will kil thee.

f. The Iewes which though they had the lawe, yet refusing the Gospel, are shut out.

32 And he sayde vnto them, Goe ye and tel that foxe, beholde, I cast out deuils, and I doe cures to day and to morowe, and the thyrde day I shal be perfected.

33 Neuertheless, I must walke to day and to morowe, and the day folowing, for it can not be that a prophete perishe out of Ierusalem.

34 O Ierusalem, Ierusalem, whiche kyllest prophetes, and stonest them that are sent vnto thee, howe often would I haue gathered thy children together, as a henne doth gather hir yong vnder hir wings, and ye would not?

Mat. 23. b.

g. That is, the temple and Ierusalem should be destroyed.

35 Beholde, your (g) house is left vnto you desolate. Verily I say vnto you, ye shall not see me, vntil the time come that yee shall say, Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord.

Mat. 21. b.

The. xiiij. Chapter.

1. Christ eateth with the Pharisee. 4 Healeth the dropsie on the Sabboth. 8. Teacheth humilitie. 12. To feast the poore. 15. Of the great supper. 28. He warneth those that wil folowe him, to make their accompts before, by the parable of the sower. 34. The salt of the earth.

1 AND it came to passe, as he went into the house of one of the chiefe Pharisees to eate bread on the sabboth day, they were watching him.

I. The Gospel on the. 17. Sunday after Trinitie.

2 And beholde, there was a certaine man before him which had the dropsie.

3 And Iesus answering, spake vnto the Lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heale on the sabboth day?

Mat. 12. a. Mark. 3. a. Luke. 6. a.

4 And they held their peace. And hee toke him & healed him, and let him goe,

5 And answered them, saying, Whiche of you shal haue an asse or an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not straight way pul him out on the Sabboth day?

Exo. 23. d. Deut. 22. d. Mat. 12. a.

6 And they could not answere him againe to these things.

7 He put forth also a similitude to the ghestes, ghestes, when he marked howe they chose out the chiefe romes, saying vnto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not downe in the highest rome: lest a more honorable man than thou be bidden of him,

9 And he that bad thee and him, come and say to thee, Giue this man rome: and thou then begin with shame to take the lowest rome.

10 But when thou art bidden, goe and sit in the lowest rome, that when he that bad thee cometh, he may say vnto thee, Friend, sit vp higher: then shalt thou haue worship in the presence of them that sit at meate with thee.

Prou. 25. a.

11 For whosoeuer exalteth him selfe, shall be brought lowe: and he that humbleth him selfe, shall be exalted.

Mat. 23. b. Luke. 18. c.

12 Then sayde he also to him that bad him (to meate,) When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friendes, nor thy brethren, neyther thy kinsemen, nor thy riche neighbors: lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call the poore, the maymed, the lame, & the blynd,

C 14 And thou shalt be happie, for they can not recompence thee: for thou shalt be recompenced at the resurrection of the iust men.

15 When one of them that sate at meate also heard these things, he said vnto him, Happie is he that shal eate bread in the kyngdome of God.

The Gospell on the second Sunday after Trinitie.

16 Then said he vnto him, A certaine man ordeyned a great supper, and bad many:

Mat. 22. a. Apoc. 19. b.

17 And sent his seruant at supper time, to say to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.

18 And they all at once began to make excuse. The first sayde vnto him, I haue bought a peece of ground, & I must nedes goe & see it, I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another sayde, I haue bought fiue yoke of oxen, and I goe to proue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another saide, I haue maryed a wife: and therefore I can not come.

D 21 And the seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then the good man of the house being angry, saide to his seruant, Goe out quickely into the broade streetes and lanes of the citie: and bring in hyther the poore, and the maymed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant saide, Lorde, it is done as thou hast commaunded, and yet there is rome.

23 And the Lord sayde to the seruant, Goe out into the high wayes and hedges, and (2) compel the to come in, that my house may be filled.

Gen. 2. b. power worketh heal.

24 For I say vnto you, that none of those men whiche were bidden, shal taste of my supper.

25 There went a great company with him: and he returned, & saide vnto them,

Mat. 10. Luke. 14. b. we cast away fleshly affections for the loue of Christ.

26 If any man come to me, and hate (b) not his father and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his owne life also, he can not be my disciple.

27 And who so euer dothe not beare his crosse, and come after me, can not be my disciple.

28 For whiche of you disposed to buylde a towre, sitteth not downe before, & counteth the coste whether he haue sufficient to perfourme it?

C

29 Lest at any time after he hath layde the foundation, and is not able to perfourme it, al that beholde it, begin to mocke him, 30 Saying, This man beganne to buylde, and was not able to make an ende.

31 Or what king going to make battel against another king, sitteth not downe first, and casteth in his minde whether he be able with ten thousande, to mette him that commeth against him with twentie thousande?

32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an embassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, who so euer he be of you, that forsaketh not al that he hath, he can not be my disciple.

34 Salt is good, but if the salte haue lost ỹ saltnesse, wherein shall it be seasoned?

Mat. Mar.

35 It is neyther good for the lande, nor yet for the dunghil: but men cast it out (at the doores.) He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

The. xv. Chapter.

2. The Pharisees murmure, bycause Christ receiueth synners. 4. The great mercie of God is set forth in the parable of the lost sheepe. 8. and of the peece of siluer lost. 12. and of the prodigal sonne.

1 THen resorted vnto him al the Publicanes and sinners for to heare him.

Mat. 9. Mar. 2. Luke. 5.

2 And the Pharisees & Scribes murmured, saying, He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 But

3 But he put forth this parable vnto them, saying,

4 What man of you hauing an hundred sheepe, if he lose one of them, doth not leaue nientie and nine in the wildernesse, and goe after that which is lost, vntil hee finde it?

5 And when he hath founde it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycing:

6 And when he commeth home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue founde my sheepe which was lost.

B 7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shal be in heauen ouer one sinner that repenteth, more than ouer nientie and nine iust persons, whiche neede no repentance.

8 Either what woman hauing (a) tenne peeces of siluer, if she lose one peece, doth not light a candel, and sweepe the house, and seke diligently til she finde (it.)

9 And when she hath founde it, she calleth hir frendes and hir neighbours together saying, Reioyce with me: for I haue foūd the peece which I had lost.

10 Likewise I say vnto you, there is ioy in the presence of the angels of God ouer one sinner that repenteth.

11 And he sayde, A certaine man had two sonnes:

12 And the yonger of them saide to his father, Father, giue (me) the portion of the substance that to me belongeth. And he diuided vnto them his liuing.

13 And not many dayes after, when the yonger sonne had gathered all that he had together, he toke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that land, and he began to lacke.

15 And going, he ioyned himselfe to a citizen of that countrey: and he sent him into his fieldes to feede swine.

16 And he would fayne haue filled his belly with the coddes that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.

17 And when he came to himselfe, he said, Howe many hyred seruantes of my fathers haue breade ynough, and spare, and I perishe with hunger?

18 I will arise, and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee, 19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hyred seruantes.

20 And he arose, & came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father sawe him, & had compassion, & ranne and fel on his necke, & al to kyssed him. Iob. 13. c. Psal. 32. a.

21 And the sonne saide vnto him, Father D I haue synned against heauen, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.

22 But the father saide to his seruantes, Bring forth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hande, and shoes on his feete:

23 And bring (hyther) that fat Calfe, and kill it, and let vs eate, and be merry.

24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe, he was lost and is founde. And they beganne to be merry.

25 The elder brother was in the fielde: and when he came & drewe nigh to the house, he heard minstrelsie and dauncing.

26 And called one of his seruantes, and asked what those things ment.

27 And he saide vnto him. Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fatte Calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sounde.

28 And (he) was angry, and would not E goe in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 He answering, saide to his father, Loe, these many yeeres doe I serue thee, neyther brake I at any time thy cōmaundement, & yet thou neuer gauest me a kyd, that I might make merry with my frendes:

30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, whiche hath deuoured thy liuing with harlottes, thou hast for his pleasure killed that fat Calfe.

31 And he saide vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with mee, and al that I haue is thine.

32 It was meete that we shoulde make merry and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and was lost, and is founde.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. Christ exhorteth to liberalitie, by the example of the steward. 10. VVho is a faithfull steward. 13. No man can serue two maisters. 14. He reproueth the hipocrisie of those that iustifie them selues before men. 16. The ende and force of the lawe. 18. The state of maryage. 19. Of the rich glutton, and Lazarus. 29. Moses and the prophetes to be heard.

1 And

The Gospell on the.9. Sunday after Trinitie.

A 1 AND he saide also vnto his disciples, There was a certain riche man which had a stewarde, and the same was accused vnto him ẏ he had wasted his goodes.

2 And when he had called him, he sayde vnto him, Howe is it that I heare this of thee? Giue accomptes of thy stewardshyp: for thou mayest be no longer stewarde.

3 The stewarde saide within him selfe, What shal I do, for my maister taketh away from me the stewardshyp? I can not digge, and to begge I am ashamed.

4 I wote what to doe, that when I am put out of the stewardshyp, they may receiue me into their houses.

5 So when he had called all his maisters debters together, he said vnto the first, howe much owest thou vnto my maister?

6 And he saide an hundred measures of oyle. And he sayde vnto him, Take thy bil, and sit downe quickely, & write fiftie.

B 7 Then saide he to another, Howe muche owest thou? And he saide, An hundred measures of wheate. He saide vnto him, Take thy bil, and write fourescore.

a. He speaketh after the common sorte, not that suche vntrueth is prayseworthy, but bycause it is thought wysedome in the eyes of the worlde.

8 And the Lorde cõmended (a) the vniust stewarde, bycause he had done wisely: for the children of this worlde, are in their nation wiser than the children of light.

b. Lay vp your treasure in heauen.

9 And I say vnto you, Make you (b) friends of the vnrighteous (c) Mammon, that when ye shall haue neede, they may receiue you into ẏ euerlasting (d) habitations.

c. Not that ryches ar euyll of them selues, but that for the most part they be occasions of euyll.

10 He that is faithfull in that whiche is least, is faithful also in much: and hee that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in muche.

d. God for their cause shal receiue you vnto lyse euerlasting, and rewarde your good doings not for the worthynesse therof, but for his promise sake.

11 So then, if ye haue not bin faythfull in the vnrighteous Mammõ, who shal trust you in the true (treasure?)

12 And if ye haue not bin faithfull in that whiche is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?

13 No seruant can serue two maisters: for either he shal hate the one, and loue the other, or else shall leane to the one, and despise the other, ye can not serue God and Mammon.

Mark.6.c.

14 All these things hearde the Pharisees also, which were couetous: and they mocked him greatly.

15 And he saide vnto them, Ye are they whiche iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hartes: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abhomination in the sight of God.

16 The lawe and the prophetes (raigned,) vntil Iohn, and since that time the glad tidyngs of the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man striueth to go in.

17 Easier it is for heauen & earth to passe away, than one title of the lawe to fayle.

18 Who so euer forsaketh his wife, & marryeth another, committeth adulterie: and he that marrieth hir that is diuorced frõ hir husbande, committeth adultrie (also.)

19 There was a certaine riche man, which was clothed in purple and fine white, and fared very deliciously euery day.

20 And there was a certaine begger named Lazarus, whiche was layde at his gate ful of sores:

21 And desiring to be refreshed with the crummes whiche fel from the riche mans boorde (And no man gaue vnto him:) but the dogges came, and licked his sores.

c. The diuersitie.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was caryed by the angels into (e) Abrahames bosome: The riche man also dyed, and was buried.

23 And being in hel in tormentes, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham a farre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:

24 And he cryed, and sayde, Father Abraham, haue mercie on me, and send Lazarus that he may dippe the tippe of his finger in water, and cole my tong: for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham sayd, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasure, and like wise Lazarus paynes: but nowe is he comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 Besides al this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, can not, neyther haue they passage to vs, that woulde come from thence.

27 Then he saide, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldest send him to my fathers house.

28 For I haue fiue brethren, that he may witnesse vnto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham saith vnto him, They haue Moses and the prophetes, let them heare them.

30 And he said, Nay father Abraham: but if one come vnto them from ẏ dead, they will repent.

e. We must seke for rest in Gods worde and not of the dead.

31 He saide vnto him, If they heare not Moses & the prophetes, (f) neither wil they beleeue tho ugh one rose from death.

1 Christ teacheth to auoyde offences. 3. One to forgiue another. 5. To pray for the increase of faith. 10. VVe are but vnprofitable seruantes. 12. Of the tenne lepres. 20. Of the comming of the kingdome of God. 23. Of false Christs. 30. the manner of Christes comming.

1 HE saide vnto the disciples, It can not be but offences will come, neuertheles wo vnto him through whom they come.

2 It were better for him that a millione were hanged about his necke, and he cast into the sea than that he should (a) offende one of these little ones.

3 Take heede to your selues: If thy brother trespasse against thee, rebuke him, and if he repent, forgiue him.

4 And though he sinne against thee seuen times in a day, and seuen (b) times in a day turne againe to thee, saying, I repēt: thou shalt forgiue him.

5 And the Apostles saide vnto the Lorde, Increase our faith.

6 And the Lord saide, If ye had faith (as muche) as a graine of mustarde seede, ye should say vnto this Sycamine tree, Be thou plucked vp by the roote, and be thou planted in the sea: and it shoulde obey you.

7 But whiche of you hauing a seruant plowing, or feeding cattel, will say vnto him by and by when he were come from the fielde, Goe and sit downe at the table?

8 And will not rather say vnto him, Dresse wherewith I may suppe, and gyrde vp thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and dronken: and afterwarde thou shalt eate and drinke.

9 Doth he thanke that seruant bycause he did the thinges that were commaunded vnto him? I trowe not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shal haue done al those things which are commaunded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruantes: we haue done that which was our duetie to doe.

11 And so it was, as he went to Ierusalē, that he passed through the middes of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certain village, there met him tenne menne that were lepres, which stode a farre off, 13 And they put forth their voyces, and saide, Iesu maister, haue mercie on vs.

15 And one of them when he sawe that he was healed, turned backe (againe) with a loude voyce, glorifying God:

16 And fell downe on his face at his feete, giuing him thankes: and the same was a Samaritane.

17 And Iesus answering, saide, Are there not tenne cleansed? but where are those nine?

18 There are not founde that returned againe to giue glory to God, saue (onlye) this stranger.

19 And he saide vnto him, Arise, goe thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 When he was demaunded of the Pharisees when the kingdome of God commeth: he answering them, saide, The kingdome of God commeth not with obseruation.

23 And they shall say to you, See here, see there: goe not after them, nor folowe them.

The.xviij. Chapter.

2. Christ teacheth to continue in prayer by the example of the wicked iudge and the wydowe. 10. the prayers of the Pharisee and the Publicane. 16. to children belongeth the kingdome of god. 18. of the way to saluation. 20. and what things hinder the reward promised to his seruantes. 31. he foresheweth his death. 35. he restoreth a blind mā to his sight.

A 1 AND he put forth a parable vnto them (to this end) that men ought alwayes to pray, and not to be (a) weerie:

1. The.5.d. a. The greeke word signifyeth, not to shrinke backe, as cowardes in warre, or in dangers. "or do me iustice against my aduersarie.

2 Saying, There was in a certaine citie a certaine iudge, which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a certaine wydowe in the same citie, and she came vnto him, saying, Auenge "me of mine aduersarie.

4 And he would not for a while. But afterward he said within him selfe, Though I feare not God, nor care for man, 5 Yet bycause this widowe (much) troubleth me, I will auenge her, lest she come at the last, and make me weerie.

6 And the Lord saide, Heare what the vnrighteous iudge saith.

B 7 And shall not God auenge his elect, which crye day and night vnto him, yea though (b) he deferre them?

b. That is, although he seeme slowe in reuenging their enimies. 8 I tell you that he wil auenge them, and that quickely. Nerethelesse when the son of man commeth, shall he finde faith on the earth?

The Gospell on.11. Sunday after trinitie. 9 And he tolde this parable vnto certaine which trusted in them selues, that they were righteous and dispised other:

10 Two men went vp into the temple to pray: the one a Pharisee, and the other a Publicane.

11 The Pharisee stode and prayed thus with him selfe, God, I thanke thee that I am not as other men are, extorcioners, vniust, adulterers, or as this Publicane.

12 I fast twice in the weeke. I giue tithe of al that I possesse. Deut.16. Eccle.7.

13 And the publicane standing a farre off, would not lift vp his eyes to heauen: but smote vpon his brest, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tel you, this man departed (home) to his house iustified rather than the other: For euery one that exalteth him self, shall be brought lowe: and he that humbleth him selfe, shal be exalted. Mat.23. Luke.14.

15 They brought vnto him also (c) infantes, that he shoulde touche them: when his disciples sawe, they rebuked them. c. The word signifyeth sucking babes. d. Thatis, those that are the babes.

16 But Iesus, when he had called (d) them vnto him, saide, Suffer little children to come vnto me and forbid them not: for to suche (c) belongeth the kingdome of God. c. Both infantes in age, and also in simplicitie & pureness.

17 Verily I say vnto you, Who so euer shall not receiue the kingdome of God as a (f) little childe, shall in no wise enter therein. f. Laying aside al malice and pride.

18 And a certaine ruler asked him, saying, Good maister, what ought I to doe to possesse eternal life? Mat.18. Mark.10. Mat.19.

19 Iesus saide vnto him, Why callest thou me good? None is good, saue God only.

20 Thou knowest the commandementes, Doe not commit adulterie, Doe not kyl, Doe not steale, Doe not beare false witnesse, Honour thy father & thy mother. Exo.20.c. Math.5.f. Deut.5.

21 And he saide, All these haue I kept from my youth vp.

22 When Iesus hearde that, he saide vnto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: Sell all that thou hast, and distribute vnto the poore, and thou shalt haue treasure in heauen, and come, folowe me. Mat.19.c. Mar.10.c.

23 When he heard this, he was very sory: for he was very rich.

24 When Iesus sawe that he was very sory, he saide, Howe hardly shal they that haue money, enter into the kingdome of God. Mat.19.c. Mar.10.b.

25 For it is easier for a Cammel to go through a needles eye, than for a riche man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they that heard (it) said, And who then can be saued?

27 And he saide, The things whiche are vnpossible Zach.8.

impossible with men, are possible with God.

28 Then Peter saide, Lo, we haue forsaken all, and followed thee.

29 He sayde vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, There is no man y hath forsaken house, either parentes, either brethren, or wife, or children, for y kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Which shal not receiue manyfold more in this world, and in the world to come life euerlasting.

31 Iesus toke vnto him the twelue, and saide vnto them, Beholde, we goe vp to Ierusalem, and all things shall be fulfilled to the sonne of man that are written by the prophetes.

32 For he shall be deliuered vnto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And when they haue scourged him, they will put him to death: and the thirde day he shall rise.

34 And they vnderstode none of all these things: and this saying was hid from them, so that they perceiued not the things which were spoken.

35 And it came to passe, that as he was come nigh vnto Iericho, a certaine blind man sate by the wayes side, begging.

36 And when he heard the people passe by, he asked what it ment.

37 And they saide vnto him, that Iesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cryed, saying, Iesu thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on me.

39 And they which went before, rebuked him, that he shoulde holde his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou sonne of Dauid haue mercie on me.

40 And Iesus staying, commaunded him to be brought vnto him: and when he was come neare, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall doe vnto thee? And he sayd, Lord, that I may receiue my sight.

42 And Iesus said vnto him, Receiue thy sight: thy faith hath saued thee.

43 And immediatly he receiued his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and al the people whē they saw (it,) gaue prayse vnto God.

4 And he ranne before, and climed vp into a wilde fig tree, to see him: for he was to come that way.

5 And when Iesus came to the place, hee looked vp, and sawe him, and saide vnto him, Zache, come downe at once: for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he came downe hastily, and receiued him ioyfully. Actes. 16. g.

7 And when they al sawe it, they murmured, saying that he was gonne in to tary with a man that is a sinner. B

9 Iesus said vnto him, This day is saluation come to this (a) house: bycause that he is also the child of (b) Abraham.

10 For the sonne of man is come to seeke, and to saue that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, bycause he was nigh to Ierusalem, and bycause they thought that the kingdome of God should shortely appeare.

12 He saide therfore, A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for him selfe a kingdome, and to come againe.

13 And when he had called his tenne seruantes, he deliuered them tenne" peeces of money, saying vnto them, Occupie (c) till I (d) come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not haue this man to raigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe that when he had returned, receiuing his kingdome, then he commaunded these seruantes to be called vnto him, to whom he had giuen the money, that he might know how much euery man had gained in occupying.

30 Saying, Go ye into the towne, which is ouer against you, in the which at your entring, ye shall finde a colte tied, whereon yet neuer man sate: lose him, & bring him hither.

36 And as he went, they spreade their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was nowe come nigh to the going downe of the mount Oliuet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne reioycing to prayse God with a loude voyce, for all the myracles that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the king that commeth in the name of the Lorde, peace in (c) heauen, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees of the company saide vnto him, Maister, rebuke thy disciples.

40 He answering, saide vnto them, I tell you, that if these would hold their peace, then shal the stones crie immediatly.

41 And when he was come neare, he beheld the citie, and weapt on it, 42 Saying, If thou haddest knowen those things whiche (belong) vnto thy peace, euen in this thy daye: but nowe are they hid from thine eyes.

45 And he went into the temple, and beganne to cast out them that solde therein, and them that bought.

46 Saying vnto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer, but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

47 And he taught dayly in the temple. But the high priestes, and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people, went about to destroy him,

20 1 AND it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the Gospell, the highe priestes and the Scribes came vpon him, with the elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs, by what authoritie doest thou these things? Eyther who is he that gaue thee this authoritie?

3 He answering, sayde vnto them, I wyll also aske you one woꝛd, and answere me.

4 The baptisme of (a) John, was it from heauen, oꝛ of men?

5 And they reasoned within them selues, saying, If we shall say from heauen, hee will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6 But and if we say of men, all the people will stone vs: foꝛ they be persuaded that John is a prophete.

B 7 And they answered, that they coulde not tell whence (it was.)

8 And Jesus sayde vnto them, Neyther tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

9 Then beganne he to put foꝛth to the people this parable. A certaine man planted a vineyarde, and let it foꝛth to husbandmen, & went him selfe into a strange countrey foꝛ a great season.

10 And when the time was come, hee sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruite of the vineyarde. But they, when they had beaten him, sent him away emptie.

11 And agayne, (he) sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten him also, and entreated him shamefully, sent him away emptie.

12 Agayne, he sent the thirde, and when they had wounded him also, they cast him out.

13 Then sayde the Lorde of the vineyarde, What shall I doe? I will send my deare sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him.

C 14 But when the husbandmen sawe him, they reasoned within them selues, saying, This is the heyre, come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyard, they killed him. What then shal the Lord of the vineyarde do vnto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbãdmen, and shall let out his vineyarde to other. When they heard (this,) they sayde, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and sayde, What is this then that is written, The stone that (b) the builders dissalowed, the same is become the head of the corner.

18 Who so euer shall stumble vpon that stone, shall be broken: but on whom so euer it shal fall, it wil grind him to pouder.

19 And the high priestes and the Scribes the same houre went about to lay handes on him, and they feared the people: foꝛ they perceyued that he had spoken this similitude against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent foꝛth spyes which should fayne them selues righteous men, that they might take holde of his woꝛds, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

21 And they asked him, saying, Maister, we knowe that thou sayest and teachest right, neyther considerest thou the outwarde appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:

22 Is it lawfull foꝛ vs to giue tribute vnto Ceasar, oꝛ no?

23 When he had perceiued their craftinesse, he sayde vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shewe me a penny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answering, sayde, Ceasars.

25 And he sayde vnto them, Giue then vnto Ceasar the things whiche (belong) vnto Ceasar: and to God the things that pertayne vnto God.

26 And they coulde not reproue his sayings before the people: and they marueiled at his answere, and held their peace.

27 Then came to him certaine of the Saducees, (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him.

28 Saying, Maister, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother dye, hauing a wife, and he dye without children, that then his brother should take his wife, and rayse vp seede vnto his brother.

29 There were therefoꝛe seuen brethren, and the first, when hee had taken a wife, dyed without children.

30 And the seconde toke hir to wife, and he dyed childlesse.

31 And the thirde toke hir, and in likewise (the residue of) the seuen, and left no children behinde them, and dyed.

32 Last of all, the woman dyed also.

33 Nowe in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? foꝛ seuen had hir to wife.

34 Jesus answering, sayde vnto them, The children of this (c) woꝛlde marrie wyues, and are married:

35 But they which shall be counted woꝛthy to enioy that woꝛlde, and the resurrection

The Gospel by Saint Iohn.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christe. 15. The Testimonie of Iohn. 39. The calling of Andrewe, Peter, Philip, and Nathaniel.

1 IN the beginning was the word, and the worde was w God, & " God was ẏ worde.
2 The same was in the beginning w God.
3 All things were made by it, and without (a) it was made nothing that was made.
4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.
5 And the light shyned in the darkenesse, and the darknesse comprehended it not.
6 There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:
7 The same came for a witnesse, that hee should beare witnesse of the (b) light, that all men through him might beleeue.
8 Hee was not that light, but (was sent) to beare witnesse of the light.
9 That (lyght) was the true light, whiche lighteth euerie man that commeth into the worlde.
10 He was in the worlde, and the worlde was made by him, and the worlde knewe him not.
11 Hee came in to his owne, and his owne receyued him not.
12 But as many as receyued him, to them gaue he (c) power to be the sonnes of God, (euen to) them that beleeued on his name.
13 Which were borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesshe, nor yet of the will of man, but of God.
14 And the same worde " became (d) flesshe, and dwelt among vs, (and we sawe the glorie of it, as the glorie of the only begotten sonne (that came) from the father) full of grace and trueth.
15 Iohn beareth witnesse of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whome I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was " before me.
16 And of his fulnesse haue al we receyued, and grace (e) for grace.
17 For the lawe was giuen by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ.
18 No man hath seene God at any time, the only begotte sonne which is in the bosome of the father, he hath declared him.
19 And this is the recorde of Iohn, when the Iewes sent priestes and Leuites from Ierusalem to aske him, What art thou?
20 And hee confessed, and denyed not, and sayde playnely, I am not that Christe.
21 And they asked him, What then? Arte thou Elias? And he sayth, I am not, Art thou that Prophete? And hee answered, No.
22 Then sayde they vnto him, What arte thou, that we may gyue an answere to them that sente vs? what sayest thou of thy selfe?
23 He sayd, I (am) the voice of a crier in the wildernesse: make straight the way of the Lord, as sayd the Prophete Esaias.
24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.
25 And they asked him, and sayd vnto him, Why baptisest thou then, if thou be not that Christe, nor Elias, neyther " a Prophete?
26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptise with water, but there standeth one among you, whome ye know not.
27 He it is which though he came after me, was before me, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnlose.
28 These things were done in " Bethabara beyonde Iordane, where Iohn was baptizing.
29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayth, Beholde the lamb of God, which taketh away the sinne of the worlde.
30 This is he of whome I sayde, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.
31 And I knew him not: but that he should be declared to Israell, therfore am I come baptizing with water.
32 And Iohn bare recorde, saying, I sawe the spirite descending from heauen, like vnto a doue, and it abode vpon him.
33 And I knewe him not: but he that sent me to baptise with water, the same sayde vnto

(a) it was made nothing that was made.
(b) light.
(c) power.
(d) flesshe.

35 The next day after, John stode againe, and two of his disciples.

36 And when he beheld Jesus walking, he sayth, Beholde the lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and they followed Jesus.

38 And Jesus, when he turned about, and sawe them following (him,) sayth vnto thē, What seeke ye? they sayd vnto him, Rabbi (which is to say if one interpret it, Maister) where dwellest thou?

39 He sayth vnto them, Come, & see. They came, and sawe where he dwelte, and abode with him that day: for it was about the (f) tenth houre.

41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and sayth vnto him, We haue founde the Messias, whiche is by interpretation, the "annoynted, 47 Jesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and sayth of him, Behold a right Israelite, in whome is no guyle.

48 Nathanael sayth vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, being vnder the figge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and sayth vnto him, Rabbi, thou arte euen the (very) sonne of God: thou art the king of Israell.

50 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Because I sayde vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figge tree, thou "beleuest: thou shalt see greater things than these.

"or, beleeuest thou.

51 And he sayth vnto him, Verily, verily, I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending vppon the sonne of man.

The. ij. Chapter.

7. Christe beginneth to worke myracles, and turneth water into wine. 12. He goeth to Capernaum, and so ascendeth to Ierusalem. 14. He casteth the buyers and sellers out of the temple. 19. He forewarneth his death and resurrection. 23. And many beleeue in him, when they see his myracles.

2 And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, vnto the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus sayth vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Jesus sayth vnto hir, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? myne houre is not yet come.

Luke.

5 His mother sayth vnto the "ministers, Whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, do it.

"or, seruants.

6 And there were set there fiue water pots of stone, after the maner of the puryfying of the Jewes, conteyning two or three "firkins a peece.

"or, pipes.

7 Jesus sayth vnto them, Fyll the water pottes with water. And they fylled them vp to the brimme.

8 And he sayth vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (and knewe not whence it was, but the ministers which drew the water knewe) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bridegrome,

10 And sayth vnto him, Euerie man at the beginning doth set forth good wine, and when the ghestes haue well dronke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntyll nowe.

11 This beginning of myracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 After this he went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.

13 And

13 And the Iewes Passouer was at hand, and Iesus went vp to Ierusalem, 14 And founde sitting in the temple those that solde oxen and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money.
15 And when he hadde made (as it were) a skourge of small cordes, he droue them all out of the temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the changers money, and ouerthrew the tables:
16 And sayde vnto them that solde doues, haue these things hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandize.
17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, The zeale of thyne house hath euen eaten me.
18 Then answered the Iewes, and sayde vnto him, What token shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things?
19 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, Destroy this temple, and in three dayes I will reare it vp.
20 Then sayde the Iewes, Fourtie and sixe yeeres was this temple a building, & wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?
21 But he spake of the temple of his body.
22 When therfore he was risen from death, his disciples remembred that he thus had sayde: and they beleeued the scripture, and the wordes which Iesus had saide.
23 When hee was in Ierusalem at the Passouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, when they sawe his myracles which he did.
24 But Iesus did not commit him self vnto them, bycause he knewe all men:
25 And needed not that any shoulde testifie of man: for he knewe what was in man.

1 THere was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:
2 The same came to Iesus by night, and sayde vnto him, Rabbi, we knowe that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these myracles that thou doest, except God be with him.
3 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Verily, verily, I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, hee can not see the kingdome of God.
4 Nicodemus sayth vnto him, Howe can a man be borne when hee is olde? can hee enter the seconde time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

9 Nicodemus answered, and said vnto him, Howe can these things be?
10 Iesus answered, and said vnto him Art thou a maister of Israell, and knowest not these things?
11 Verily, verily, I say vnto thee, we speake that we doe knowe, and testifie that we haue seene: and ye receyue not oure witnesse.
12 If I haue tolde you earthly things, and ye beleeue not: howe shall ye beleeue if I tell you of heauenly things?
13 And no man hath ascended vp to (a) heauen, but hee that came downe from heauen, (euen) the sonne of man whiche is in (b) heauen.
14 And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wyldernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lift vp:

16 *For God so loued the world, that he gaue his only begotten sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shoulde not perishe, but haue euerlasting life.
17 For God sent not his sonne into the world to condemne the world, but that the world (c) thorow him might be saued.
18 Hee that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned alreadie, bycause he hath not beleeued in the name of the onely begotten sonne of God.
19 And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the worlde, and men loued darknesse rather than light: bycause their deedes were euill.
20 For euerie one that euill doth, hateth the light: neyther commeth to the light, least his deedes should be reproued.

11 The woman sayth unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to drawe with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?

12 Arte thou greater than our father Jacob, whiche gaue vs the well, and her him selfe dranke therof, and his children, and his cattell?

13 Jesus answered, and sayde unto hir, Who so euer drinketh of this water, shall thirst againe:

14 But who so euer drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shall neuer be more a thirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall be in him a well of water springing vp into euerlasting life.

15 The woman sayth unto him, Syr, giue me of that water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to drawe.

16 Jesus sayth unto hir, Goe, call thy husbande, and come hither.

17 The woman answered, and sayde unto him, I haue no husbande, Jesus sayde unto hir, Thou hast well sayde, I haue no husbande.

18 For thou hast had fiue husbandes: and he whom thou nowe hast is not thy husband: in that saydest thou truely.

19 The woman sayth vnto him, Sir, I perceiue that thou art a prophete.

20 Our fathers worshipped in this mountayne, and ye say that in Ierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Iesus sayth vnto hir, Woman beleeue me, the houre commeth, when ye shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Ierusalem worship the father.

22 Ye worship ye wote not what, we know what we worship: for saluation commeth of the Iewes.

23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true worshippers, shall worship the father in spirite, and in the trueth, for suche the father also requireth to worship him.

24 God is a spirite: and they that worship him, must worship him in spirite, and in the trueth.

25 The woman sayth vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, whiche is called Christe: when hee is come, hee will tell vs all things.

26 Iesus sayth vnto hir, I that spake vnto thee, am. (he.)

27 And immediatly came his disciples, and marueled that he talked with the womã: yet no man sayde, What seekest thou, or why talkest thou with hir?

28 The woman then lefte hir water pot, and went hir way into the citie, and sayth to the men, 29 Come, see a mã which told me al things that euer I did: is not he that Christe?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

10 The Iewes therfore said vnto him that was made whole, It is the sabboth day, it is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

11 Hee answered them, Hee that made me whole, sayde vnto me, Take vp thy bedde and walke.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said vnto thee, Take vp thy bed, and walke?

13 And he that was healed, wist not who it was: for Iesus had gotten him selfe away, bycause that ther was preasse of people in that place.

C 14 Afterwarde, Iesus findeth him in the temple, and sayde vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.

John. 8. a.

15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes That it was Iesus whiche had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought (the meanes) to slea him, bicause he had done these things on the Sabboth day.

17 Iesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke. 1. Cor. 15.

18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him, not onely bycause he had broken the Sabboth, but sayde also, that God was his father, and making him self equal with God. Math. 26. Mark. 14. Luke. 22.

19 Then answered Iesus, and sayde vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of him selfe, but that he seeth the father doe: for what so euer hee doeth, that also doeth the sonne likewise. John. 5. a.

20 For the father loueth the sonne, & sheweth him all things that he him selfe doth: and he will shewe him greater workes than these, bicause ye should maruell.

21 For likewise as the father raiseth vp the deade, and quickeneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 Neyther iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed al iudgement vnto the sonne, Math. 11. Luke. 22.

23 Bycause that all men should honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. He that honoureth not the sonne (the same) honoureth not the father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that heareth my worde, and beleeueth on him that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shal not come into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto life. John. 5. c.

25 Verily, verily I say vnto you, The houre is comming, and nowe is, when the deade (b) shal heare the voice of the sonne of god: and they that heare, (c) shall liue. Luke. 12. Math. 9. 1. John. 5. b. Meaning those that are drowned in sinne. c. That is, they shall receiue life by fayth.

26 For as the father hath life in him selfe: so likewise hath he giuen to the sonne to haue life in him selfe.

27 And hath giuē him power also to iudge, bicause he is the sonne of man. John. 5. E

28 Maruell not at this: for the houre is comming, in the which all that are in the graues, shal heare his voyce. Math. 25.

29 And shall come forth, they that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of damnation.

30 I can of myne owne selfe doe nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, bycause I seeke not myne owne will, will, but the will of the father, which hath sent me.

31 If I beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnesse is not true.

32 There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witnesse vnto the truth.

34 But I receiue not the recorde of man: neuertheless, these things I say, that ye might be saued.

35 He was a burning and a shyning light: and ye would for a season haue reioyced in his light.

36 But I haue greater witnesse than (the witnesse) of Iohn: for the workes which the father hath giuen me to finishe, the same workes that I doe, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me.

37 And the father him selfe which hath sent me, hath borne witnesse of me. Ye haue not heard his voyce at any time, nor seene his shape, 38 And his worde haue ye not abyding in you: for whome he hath sent, him ye beleeue not.

39 Searche the Scriptures, for in them ye thinke ye haue eternall lyfe: and they are they which testifie of me:

40 And yet will ye not come to me, that ye might haue life.

41 I receiue not the prayse of men.

42 But I knowe you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.

43 I am come in my fathers name, and ye receiue me not: if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue.

44 Howe can ye beleeue, which receiue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God only?

45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses in whome ye trust.

46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye woulde haue beleeued me: for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleue not his writings, how shall ye beleeue my wordes?

10 And Iesus sayde, Make the people sitte downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousande.

11 And Iesus toke the breade, and when he had giuen thankes, he distributed to the disciples: and the disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they woulde.

12 When they were filled, he sayde vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remayneth, that nothing be lost.

13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, whiche (broken meate) remayned vnto them that hadde eaten.

20 But he sayth vnto them, It is I, be not afraide.

D 21 And they would haue receiued him into the shippe: and immediately the ship was at the lande whither they went.

24 When the people therfore saw that Jesus was not there, neyther his disciples, they also toke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had founde him on the otherside of the sea, they sayde vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Jesus answered them, and saide, Verily verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke me, not bicause ye sawe the myracles, but bycause ye did eate of the loaues, and were filled.

54 Who so eateth my flesh, and drinketh my bloud, hath eternal lyfe, and I will rayse him vp at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meate in deede, and my bloud is drinke in deede.

66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lorde, to whom shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternal life:

69 And we beleeue and are sure that thou art that Christe, the sonne of the liuing God.

70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I chosen you twelue, and one of you is a deuil?

35 And the seruant abydeth not in ỹ house for euer: but the sonne abydeth euer.

36 If the sonne therfore shal make you free, then ye shal be free in deede.

F 37 I knowe that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke (meanes) to kyll me, because my worde hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answeared, and sayde vnto hym, Abraham is our father. Jesus sayth vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye woulde doe the workes of Abraham, 40 But now ye goe about to kill me, a man that hath tolde you ỹ trueth, which I haue heard of God: this dyd not Abraham.

41 Ye doe the deedes of your father. Then saide they vnto him, We be not borne of fornicatiō, we haue one father, euen god.

42 Jesus saide vnto them, If God were your father, truely ye would loue me: for I proceeded forth, and came from God: Neither came I of my selfe, but he sente me.

43 Why do ye not knowe my speache? euen because ye can not heare my worde.

G 44 Ye are of your father the deuyl, & the lustes of your father will ye doe: he was a murderer from the beginning and abode not in the truth: because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lye, he speaketh of his owne: for he is a lyer, and the father of it.

45 And because I tel you the trueth, therfore ye beleeue me not.

The Gospell on the fyfth sunday in Lent. 46 Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? if I say the trueth, why doe not ye beleeue me?

John.10.c. 47 He that is of God, heareth God wordes, Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and saide vnto him, say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuil? John.8.

49 Jesus answered, I haue not a deuill: but I honour my father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glory, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verely, verely I say vnto you, If a mā keepe my saying, her shall neuer see death.

52 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Now knowe we that thou hast a deuill. Abraham is dead, and the prophetes: and thou sayest, If a man keepe my saying, he shall neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Jesus answered, If I glorifie my selfe, my glory is nothing: It is my father that glorifieth me, which ye say that he is your God.

55 And yet ye haue not knowen him, but I knowe him: and if I say that I know him not, I shall be a lyer like vnto you: but I knowe him, and keepe his saying.

57 Then said the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres old, and hast thou seene Abraham.

58 Jesus saide vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then toke they vp stones to cast at him: but Jesus was hidde, and went out of the temple.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Christ restoreth sight on the Sabboth day, to him that was borne blinde. 13. the Pharisees reason with him that was blinde. 27. the Pharisees excommunicate those that beleeued in Christe. 34. they excommunicate him that was borne blinde. 35. Christe teacheth him and he beleeueth. 39. to what blinde menne Christ restored sight.

1 AND as Jesus passed by, he sawe a mā I which was blind from his birth:

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parentes, that he was borne blinde?

3 Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, sinned, nor yet his parentes: but that the workes of God should be made manyfest in him.

4 I must worke the workes of him that sent me, whyle it is (a) day: The night commeth when no man can worke.

5 As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he annoynted the clay vppon the eyes of the blinde,

B 7 And saide vnto him, Goe wasche thee in the pole of Siloe (which by interpretation is, (as much to saye as) sent) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came (againe) seeing.

8 The neyghbours therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blinde, saide, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some saide, This is he: Other sayde he is like him. He him selfe saide, I am (euen) he.

10 Therefore saide they vnto him, Howe were thyne eyes opened?

11 He answered, and saide, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and annoynted myne eyes and saide vnto me. Goe to the pole Siloe, and washe: And when I went and washed, I receiued (my) sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he?
He saide I can not tell.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him, that a little before was blinde.

C 14 And it was the Sabboth day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him how he had receiued his sight? He saide vnto them, He put clay vppon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Therefore saide some of the Pharisees,
This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other saide, Howe can a man that is a sinner do suche myracles? And there was a "strife amog them.

17 They say vnto the blinde man againe,
What sayest thou of him because he hath opened thine eyes? He saide, He is a pro-phete.

18 But the Iewes did not beleeue the mā how that he had bin blinde, and receiued his sight, vntil they called the parentes of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne whom ye say that hee was borne blinde? howe dothe hee nowe see
then?

20 His parentes answered them, & saide,
We knowe that this is our sonne, and that he was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, we D can not tel, or who hath opened his eyes, can not we tel, he is of age, aske him, hee shall speake for him selfe.

22 Suche wordes spake his parentes, because they feared the Iewes: for the John. 12. f.
Iewes hadde agreed alreadye, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, hee shoulde be excommunicate out of the sy-nagoge.

23 Therefore saide his parentes, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blinde, and sayde vnto him, Giue God the prayse, we knowe that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered, and saide, Whether hee be a sinner or no, I can not tel: one thing
I am sure of, that whereas I was blind, nowe I see.

26 Then saide they to him againe, What did hee to thee? Howe opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I tolde you yet while, and ye did not heare: wherefore would you heare it againe? Will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, and sayde, Thou E art his disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that god spake vnto Moses: as for this felow, we knowe not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and saide vnto them, This is a maruelous thing, that ye wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 For we be sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, & doth his wil, him heareth he.

32 Since the world beganne was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde.

33 If this man were not of God, he coulde doe nothing.

34 They answered and saide vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, and doest thou teache vs? And they cast him out.

35 Iesus hearde that they had excommunicate him: and when he had found him, he sayde vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?

36 He answeared, and sayde, Who is he Lorde, that I might beleeue on him?

John.4.c. 37 And Jesus sayde vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

b.He declared his faith by his outward profession. 38 And he sayde, Lorde, I beleeue: and he (b) worshipped him.

39 And Jesus saide vnto him, I am come vnto iudgement in this world, that they whiche see not, might see: and that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, hearde these words, and sayde vnto him, Are we blind also?

John.15.b. 41 Jesus saide vnto them, If ye were blinde, ye shoulde haue no sinne, but now ye say, We see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

The.x. Chapter.

1. Christ the true shepheard and the doore. 4. Christes sheepe heare his voyce, and wil not heare a stranger. 10.12. False shepheardes are hyrelings and theeues. 15. Christ willingly giueth his life for his sheepe. 16. The calling of the Gentiles. 19. Dissention among the Iewes about his words. 24. They aske if he be Christ. 26. Wherefore the Iewes beleeue not. 31. The Iewes woulde haue stoned him, and called his preaching blasphemie. 34. Princes called Gods. 37. Christes workes declared him to be God.

I. The Gospell on Tuesday after whitsunday. 1 VErily, verily I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the doore, into the sheepefolde, but clymbeth vp some other way, the same is a theefe, and a robber.

2 But he that entreth in by the doore, is the shephearde of the sheepe.

Prou.20.d. 3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voyce, and he calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he hath put forth his owne sheepe, he goeth before them, & the sheepe folowe him: for they know his voyce.

5 A stranger will they in no wise folowe, but will flee from him, for they knowe not the voyce of strangers.

John.14.a. a. He meaneth al false prophetes, who led not men to Christ, but from him to others, or else preached themselues. 6 This prouerbe spake Jesus vnto them: but they vnderstoode not what thinges they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then saide Jesus vnto them againe, Verily verily I say vnto you, I am the doore of the sheepe.

8 All (a) euen as many as came before me, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

9 I am the doore: by me if any man enter in, he shal be safe, and shall goe in, and go out, and finde pasture.

10 The theefe commeth not, but for to steale, kil, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.

11 I am the good shepheard, the good shepheard giueth his life for the sheepe.

12 An hyreling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither ỳ sheepe are his owne, seeth the Wolfe comming, and leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth: and the Wolfe catcheth them, and scattereth the sheepe.

13 The hyreling fleeth, because hee is an hyreling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and knowe my sheepe, and am knowen of mine.

15 As the father knoweth me, euen so know I also the father: and I giue my life for the sheepe.

16 And other (b) sheepe I haue, which are not of this folde: them also I must bring and they shall heare my voyce, and there shall be one fold, (and) one shepheard.

17 Therefore doth he my father loue me, because I put my life (from me,) that I might take it againe.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I put it away of my selfe: I haue power to put it from me, and I haue power to take it againe. This commaundement haue I receiued of my father.

19 There was a dissention therefore againe among the Iewes, for these sayings.

20 And many of them saide, He hath a deuil, and is mad, why heare ye him?

21 Other said, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill. Can a deuil open the eyes of the blinde?

22 And it was at Jerusalem the feaste of the dedication, and it was wynter:

23 And Jesus walked in the temple, euen in Solomons porche.

24 Then came the Iewes rounde about him, and saide vnto him, Howe long dost thou make vs to doubt? If thou be Christ, tel vs plainely.

25 Jesus answered them, I told you, & ye beleeue not: the workes that I doe in my fathers name, they beare witnesse of me.

26 But ye beleeue not, because ye are not of my sheepe, as I sayd vnto you.

27 My sheepe heare my voyce, and I know them, and they folow me:

28 And I giue vnto them eternal lyfe, and they shal neuer perishe, neither shall any man man plucke them out of my hande.

29 My father whiche gaue them me, is greater thā al: and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hande.
30 I and my father are one.
31 Then the Iewes toke vp stones, to stone him (withal.)
32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my father, for which worke of them doe ye stone me?
33 The Iewes answered him saying, For a good worke we stone thee not, but for thy blasphemie, and because that thou being a man, makest thy selfe God.
34 Iesus answered them, Is it not writin your lawe, I sayde, ye are Gods?
35 If he called them Gods, vnto whom the worde of God was spoken, and the scripture can not be broken:
36 Say ye of him whom the father hath sanctified and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest: because I sayde, I am the sonne of God?
37 If I doe not the workes of my father, beleeue me not.
38 But if I doe, and if ye beleeue not me, beleeue the workes: that ye may knowe and beleeue that the father is in me, and I in him.
39 Againe they went about to take him: and he escaped out of their hande, 40 And went away againe beyonde Iordane, into the place where Iohn was first baptising: and there he abode.
41 And many resorted vnto him, and said, Iohn did no myracle: but al thinges that Iohn spake of this man, were true.
42 And many beleeued on him there.

The.xi. Chapter.

43. Christ rayseth Lazarus from death. 45. Certaine Iewes beleeue in Christ. 47. The Pharisees take counsel against him. 50. Caiaphas prophesieth that one muste dye for the people. 54. Christ fleeth the Pharisees. 57. The high priestes and the Pharisees commaunded Christ to be taken.

1 CErtaine man was sicke, named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and hir sister Martha.
2 (It was that Marie whiche annointed the Lorde with oyntment, and wiped his feete with hir heare, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)
3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, saying, Lorde, beholde, he whom thou louest is sicke.
4 When Iesus heard that, he sayde, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glorie of God: that the sonne of GOD might be glorified thereby. Iohn.9.d.
5 Iesus loued Martha, and hir sister, and Lazarus.
6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that, saith he to his disciples, B Let vs goe into Iurie againe.
8 His disciples say vnto him, Maister, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, and goest thou thyther againe? Iohn.7.d.
9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres of the day? If any man walke in the day, he stumbleth not because he seeth the light of this world.
10 But if a man walke in ỹ night, he stumbleth: because there is no light in him.
11 These thinges sayde he, and after that, he sayth vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe that I may awake him out of sleepe. Mat.9.c. Luke.8.g. Mar.5.d.
12 Then saide his disciples, Lorde, if hee sleepe, he shal doe wel enough.
13 Howbeit Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.
14 Then sayde Iesus vnto them plainly, C Lazarus is dead:
15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheles, let vs goe vnto him. Iohn.20.k.
16 Then saide Thomas, whiche is called Didymus, vnto his felowe disciples, Let vs also goe, that we may dye with him.
17 Then when Iesus came, he founde that he had lyen in his graue foure dayes alredy.
18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Ierusalem, about (a) fiftiene furlongs off:) a. Which is about two myles.
19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha & Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.
20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Marie sate still in the house.
21 Then said Martha vnto Iesus, Lord, D if thou haddest bin here, my brother hadde not dyed. Iohn.11.d.
22 But euen nowe I knowe, that what soeuer thou wilt aske of God, God will giue it thee.
23 Iesus saith vnto hir, Thy brother shal rise ryse againe.

24 Martha saith vnto him, I knowe that he shall ryse againe in the resurrection at the last day.

John.1.a. and.14.a. John.3.b. Rom.1.b. Abac.2.a. Heb.10.g.

25 Jesus saide vnto hir, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that beleeueth on mee, yea, though hee were dead, yet shall he liue.

26 And who so euer liueth, & beleeueth on me, shal neuer dye. Beleeuest thou this?

27 She saith vnto him, Yea Lorde, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of God, which should come into the worlde.

E 28 And when she had so saide, she went hir way, & called Marie hir sister secretly, saying, The Maister is come, and calleth for thee.

29 As sone as she hearde that, she ariseth quickly, and commeth vnto him.

30 Jesus was not yet come into ỹ towne: but was in that place where Martha met him.

31 The Jewes then which were with hir in the house, and comforted hir, when they sawe Marie that shee rose vp hastily, and went out, folowed hir, saying, She goeth vnto the graue to weepe there.

John.11.c. 32 Then when Marie was come where Jesus was and sawe him, she fell downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lorde, if thou haddest bin here, my brother hadde not bin dead.

33 When Jesus therefore sawe hir weeping, and the Jewes also weeping which came with hir, he groned (b) in the spirite and was troubled in him selfe.

b. For compassiō, feeling in him selfe our miseries.

34 And saide, Where haue ye layde him? They say vnto him, Lorde, come, and see.

Luke.19.k. 35 Jesus wept.

F 36 Then saide the Jewes, Beholde howe he loued him.

John.9.b. 37 And some of them said, Could not this man whiche opened the eyes of the blind, haue caused that this man also should not haue dyed.

38 Jesus therefore againe groning in him selfe, cōmeth to the graue: it was a caue, and a stone layde on it.

39 Jesus saide, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, sayth vnto him, Lorde, by this time he stynketh: for hee hath bin dead foure dayes.

40 Jesus sayth vnto hir. Sayde I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldest beleeue, thou shouldest see the glorie of God?

41 Then they toke away the stone from the place where the dead was layde. And Jesus lift vp his eyes, and saide, Father, I thanke thee that thou hast heard me.

42 Howbeit, I knowe that thou hearest me alwayes: but bycause of the people which stande by, I sayde it, that they may beleeue that thou hast sent me. John.11

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cryed with a loude voyce, Lazarus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead, came forth, bound hande & foote with graue clothes, and his face was bounde about with a napkin. Jesus saith vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe. John.5.

45 Then many of the Jewes which came to Marie, and hadde seene the thinges which Jesus did, beleeued on him. John.7.

46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and tolde them what Jesus had done.

47 Then gathered the high priestes & the Pharisees a counsel, and sayde, What doe we? for this man doth many myracles. Mat.26. Mar.14. Luke.22.

48 If we let him scape thus, all men will beleeue on him, and the Romanes (c) shall come, and take away both our rowme, and the people. Acts.4. c. By the way that thought cape can they fel it.

49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same yeere, sayde vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at al, G

50 Nor consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man shoulde dye for the people, and not that all the nation perish, John.11.

51 This spake he not of him selfe: but being high priest that same yeere, her prophesied that Jesus shoulde dye for that nation.

52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he shoulde gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abrode.

53 Then from that day forth, they toke counsayle together for to put hym to death. Mat.26. Mark.14.

54 Jesus therfore walked no more openly among the Jewes: but wente his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wildernesse, into a citie whichis called Ephraim, & there continued with his disciples.

55 And the Jewes Easter was nigh at hande, and many went out of the countrey vp to Jerusalem before the Easter, to purifie them selues. Mat.26. Mar.14. Luke.22.

56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among them selues, as they stode in the temple, What thinke ye, seeing he cōmeth not to the feast day? John.7.

57 Both the high priestes and the Pharisees John.11.

1 THen Iesus before sixe dayes of the Passeouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had bin dead, whom he rayled from death.

2 There they made him a supper, & Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.

3 Then toke Marie a pound of oyntment, of Spike narde, verye costly, and annoynted Iesus feete, and wypped his feete (a) with her heare: and the house was filled with the odour of the oyntment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Iudas Iscariot, Simons sonne, whiche shoulde betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment solde for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?

6 This he saide, not that he cared for the poore: but because he was a theefe, and had the (a) bagge, and bare that whiche was giuen.

7 Then saide Iesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.

9 Muche people of the Iewes therefore had knowledge that he was there: and they came not for Iesus sake onely, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he rayled from death.

10 But ỳ high priestes held a counsel, that they might put Lazarus to death also,

11 Because that for his sake, many of the Iewes went away, & beleeued on Iesus.

12 On the next day, muche people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Iesus commeth to Hierusalem, 13 Toke braunches of Palme trees, and went foorth to meete hym, and cryed, (b) Hosanna, blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord, kyng of Israel.

14 And Iesus when he had found a yong Asse, sate thereon, as it is written, 15 Feare not daughter of Sion: beholde, thy kyng commeth, sitting on an Asses colte.

16 These thynges vnderstoode not his disciples at the fyrst: but when Iesus was glorified, then remembred they that such thinges were written of hym, and that suche thinges they had done vnto hym.

17 The people that was with hym, when he called Lazarus out of his graue, and rayled hym from death, bare recorde.

18 Therefore met hym the people also because they heard that he had done suche a myracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore sayde among them selues, Perceyue ye howe ye preuayle nothing? Beholde, (all the whole) worlde is gone after hym.

20 There were certayne Greeks among them, that came vp to worship at ỳ feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip, whiche (was) of Bethsaida, (a citie) of Galilee, and desyred hym, saying, Syr, we would (fayne) see Iesus.

22 Philip commeth and telleth Andrewe: and agayne Andrewe and Philip tolde Iesus.

23 And Iesus answeared them, saying, The houre is come that the sonne of man shoulde be glorified.

24 Verily, verily I say vnto you, Except the wheate corne fal into the ground, and dye, it abydeth alone: if it dye, it bringeth foorth muche fruite.

25 He that loueth his life shal lose it: and he that hateth his life in this worlde, shal keepe it vnto lyfe eternal.

26 If any man minister vnto me, let hym folowe me: and where I am, there shal also my minister be: If any man minister vnto me, hym wyl my father honour.

27 Nowe is my soule troubled, and what shal I saye? Father, saue me from this houre, but therefore came I into this houre.

28 Father, glorifie thy name, Then came there a voyce from heauen, (saying,) I haue both glorified it, and wil glorifie it agayne.

29 The people therefore that stoode by, and heard it, sayde that it thundered: other 35 Then Jesus said vnto them, Yet a little while is the light with you: walke while ye haue light, least the darknesse come on you: for he that walketh in the darke, wotteth not whither he goeth.

Ephes.5.c. 36 While yee haue light, beleeue on the light, that ye may be the children of the light. These thinges spake Jesus, and departed, and was hid from them.

37 But though he had done so many myracles before them, yet beleeued not they on him:

Esai.53.a. Rom.10.c. 38 That the saying of Esaias the prophete might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lorde, who hath beleeued our saying? And to whom hath the arme of the Lord bin declared?

39 Therefore coulde they not beleeue, because that Esaias saide againe, Esai.6.c. Mat.13.b. Mar.4.b. Luke.8.b. Actes.28.f. 40 He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their hart, that they shoulde not see with their eyes, and lest they shoulde vnderstande with their hart, and shoulde be conuerted, and I shoulde heale them.

41 Suche things saide Esaias, when he sawe his glory, and spake of him.

42 Neuertheless, among the chiefe rulers also many beleeued on him: but because John.9.c. of the Pharises they did not confesse him, lest they shoulde be put out of the synagogue.

John.5.g. 43 For they loued the prayse of men, more than the prayse of God.

44 Jesus cryed, and saide, He that beleeueth on me, beleeueth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And he that seeth me, seeth him that sent me.

John.1.a. 3.c.8.b. 46 I am come a light into the world, that who so euer beleeueth on me, shoulde not bide in darkenesse.

John.3.b. 47 And if any man heare my wordes, and beleeue not, I iudge him not: for I came not to iudge the worlde, but to saue the worlde.

48 He that refuseth me, and receiueth not my wordes, hath one that iudgeth him: the worde that I haue spoken, the same shall iudge him in the last day.

49 For I haue not spoken of my selfe: but the father whiche sent me, he gaue me a commaundement what I should say, and what I should speake.

50 And I knowe that his commaundement is life euerlasting, what so euer I speake therefore, euen as the father bade me, so I speake.

The.xiij.Chapter.

5 Christ washeth the Apostles feete. 8 Peter refuseth to be washed, but afterwarde consenteth. 10 The Apostles are cleane. 13 Christe, Lorde and Maister. 14 Exhorting to humility & charity. 26 Christ sheweth who shall betray him. 27 Satan entreth into Iudas. 30 He goeth out to the Pharisees. 34 Christe exhorteth the disciples too loue. 35 Wherby Christes disciples are knowen. 38 He forewarneth Peters denial.

I

1 BEfore the feast of the Passouer, whe Jesus knewe that his houre was come that he shoulde departe out of this worlde vnto the father, when he loued his owne whiche were in the worlde, vnto the ende he loued them.

2 And when it was nowe supper, (after ỹ the deuil had put in ỹ hart of Judas Iscariot Simons (sonne) to betray him)

3 Jesus knowing that the father had giuen all things into his handes, and that he was come from GOD, and went to God:

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garmentes: and when he had taken a towel, he gyrded him selfe.

5 After that he powreth water into a bason, & began to washe the disciples feete, and to wipe them cleane with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith vnto him, Lorde, doest thou washe my feete?

7 Jesus answered, and saide vnto him, What I doe, thou wotest not nowe: but thou shalt knowe hereafter.

8 Peter saith vnto him, Thou shalt neuer washe my feete. Jesus answered him, If I washe thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter sayth vnto him, Lorde, not my feete onely, but also my handes, and my head.

10 Iesus sayth to him, He that is washed, needeth not saue to washe his feete, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are cleane, but not al.

11 For he knewe who it was that shoulde betray him: therefore saide he, Ye are not al cleane.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and receiued his clothes, and was set downe againe, he said vnto them, Wote ye what I haue done to you?

13 Ye cal me Maister and Lorde, and yee say wel: for so am I,

14 If I then your Lord and Maister haue washed your feete, ye also ought to wash one anothers feete.

15 For I haue giuen you an ensample, that ye should do as I haue done to you.

16 Verily, verily I say vnto you, the seruant is not greater than his maister, neither the messenger greater than he that sent him.

17 If ye knowe these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 I speake not of you al, I knowe whom I haue chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me, hath lift vp his (a) heele against me.

19 Nowe tel I you before it come, that when it is come to passe, ye might beleeue that I am he.

20 Verily, verily I say vnto you, he that receiueth whom so euer I send, receiueth me: and he that receiueth me, receiueth hym that sent me.

21 When Iesus had thus saide, he was troubled in spirite, and testified, and said, Verily verily I say vnto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples loked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 There was one of Iesus disciples leaning on Iesus bosome (euen he) whom Iesus loued.

24 To him beckened Simon Peter therfore, that he should aske who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then, when he leaned on Iesus breast, saide vnto him, Lorde, who is it?

26 Iesus answered, He it is to whom I shal giue a soppe, when I haue dipped it. And when he had dipped ẏ soppe he gaue it to Iudas Iscariot (the son) of Simon.

27 And after the soppe, Satan entred into hym: then sayde Iesus vnto hym, That thou doest, doe quickly.

28 That wist no mã at the table, for what intent he spake vnto him.

29 Some of them thought, because Iudas had the bagge, that Iesus had saide vnto him, Buy those thinges that we haue nede of against the feast: or that he should giue something to the poore.

30 Assone then as he had receiued ẏ soppe, he went immediatly out: & it was night.

31 Therefore, when he was gone out, Iesus saide, Nowe is the sonne of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.

32 If God be glorified in him, God shal also glorifie him in him self, & shal straightway glorifie him.

33 Little children, yet a little while am I with you. Ye shall seke me: and as I said vnto the Iewes, whither I goe, (thyther) can ye not come: to you also say I nowe, 34 A newe commaundement giue I vnto you, That ye loue together, as I haue loued you, that euen so ye loue one another.

35 By this shal al men knowe that ye are my disciples, if yee haue loue one to another.

36 Simon Peter sayde vnto him, Lorde, whyther goest thou? Iesus answered him, Whyther I goe, thou canst not folowe me nowe: but thou shalt folow me afterwardes.

37 Peter saide vnto him, Lorde, why can not I folowe thee nowe? I will ieoparde my life for thy sake.

38 Iesus answered him, Wilt thou ieoparde thy life for my sake? Verily, verily I say vnto thee, the Cocke shal not crow, till thou haue denied me thrise.

3 Nowe are ye cleane through the worde which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Bide in me, and I in you: As the branch can not beare fruite of it selfe, except it byde in the vine: no more can ye, except ye (a) abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: hee that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruite: for without me can ye doe nothing.

6 If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a braunche, and withereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye byde in me, and my wordes abide in you, ye shall aske what ye will, and it shall be done for you

8 Herein is my father glorified, that yee beare much fruite, & become my disciples.

10 If ye keepe my commaundementes, ye shall abyde in my loue: euen as I haue kept my fathers commaundementes, and abyde in his loue.

11 These thinges haue I spoken vnto you, that my ioy might remayne in you, and that your ioy might be ful.

12 This is my commaundement, that ye loue together as I haue loued you.

13 Greater loue hath no man than this: ỹ a man bestowe his life for his friendes.

14 Ye are my friendes, if ye doe what so euer I commaund you.

15 Henceforth cal I not you seruants, for the seruant knoweth not what his Lorde doth, but you haue I called friendes, for al (c) thinges that I haue hearde of my father, haue I made knowen to you.

16 Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, & ordeyned you, that you shoulde goe and bring forth fruite, and that your fruite shoulde remaine: that what so euer ye shall aske of the father in my name, he may giue it you.

17 This commaunded I you, that ye loue together.

18 If the world hate you, ye knowe that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If yee were of the worlde, the worlde would loue his owne: howebeit, bycause ye are not of the worlde, but I haue chosen you out of the worlde, therefore the world hateth you.

15 And Simon Peter folowed Jesus, and so did another (b) disciple: That disciple was knowen vnto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the pallace of the high priest.

b That is, Iohn.

16 But Peter stode at the dore without. Then went out that other disciple, which was knowen vnto the high priest, and spake vnto the damsel that kept the dore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsell that kept the dore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 The seruantes and officers stode there, whiche had made a fyre of coales (for it was cold) and they warmed them selues: Peter also was standing among them, warming him.

19 The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the worlde, I euer taught in the synagogue and in the temple, whither all the Jewes resort, and in secrete haue I sayd nothing:

D

21 Why askest thou me? Aske them which hearde me what I haue saide vnto them: beholde they can tel what I saide.

22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers whiche stode by, smote Jesus (with a rod) saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I haue euyll spoken, beare witnesse of the euil: but if I haue wel spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 Nowe Annas had sent him bounde vnto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 Simon Peter was standing, and warming him selfe: Then saide they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denyed it, and saide, I am not.

26 One of the seruantes of the high priestes (his cousin, whose eare Peter smote off) saith vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

28 Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas into the hall of iudgement: It was in the morning, and they them selues went not into the iudgement hall, lest they shoulde be defyled: but that they might eate the Passeouer.

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, & said, What accusation bring you against this man?

30 They answered, and sayde vnto him, If he were not an euill doer, we woulde not haue deliuered him vnto thee.

31 Then saide Pilate vnto them, Take ye him, & iudge him after your owne lawe. The Jewes therefore said vnto him, it is not lawful (c) for vs to kil any man.

34 Jesu answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy selfe, or did other tell it thee of me?

F

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jewe? Thine owne nation & high priestes haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?

John.c.

36 Jesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this worlde, then woulde my seruauntes surely fight, that I shoulde not be deliuered to the Jewes: but nowe is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore saide vnto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou saiest that I am a king: For this cause am I borne, & for this cause came I into the worlde, that I should beare witnesse vnto the truth, and all that are of the truth, heare my voyce.

38 Pilate saith vnto him, What is truthe And when he had saide this, he went out againe vnto the Jewes, and saith vnto them, I finde in him no faulte at all.

40 Then cried they all againe, saying, not him, but Barrabas. This Barrabas was a robber.

The. xix. Chapter.

1. Christe is whipped, beaten, and crowned. 4. Pilate would haue deliuered him. 6. but the Iewes aske him to be crucified. 11. Al power of God. 16. Pilate deliuered Christ to be crucified. 19. 1 THen Pilate toke Iesus therefore, and skourged him.

2 And the souldiers, whē they had wounde a crown of thorns, they did put it on his hed, & they did cast about him a purple garmēt,

3 And sayde, Hayle king of the Iewes: and stroke him with roddes.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and sayde vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may knowe that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and (Pilate) sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 When the high priestes therefore and officers sawe him, they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto thē, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a lawe, and by our lawe he ought to dye: bicause he made him selfe the sonne of God.

8 When Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afrayde,

9 And went agayne into the iudgement hal, & saith vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him none answere.

10 Then sayth Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto me: Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to lose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against me, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And from thencefoorth sought Pilate (meanes) to lose him: but the Iewes cryed, saying, If thou let him go, thou art not Cesars friende: For whosoeuer maketh him selfe a king, speaketh against Cesar. Acts. 17. b.

13 When Pilate heard that saying, hee brought Iesus forth, and he sate downe in the iudgement seate, in a place that is called the pauement, but in the Hebrue tong, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Passeouer, and about the sixth houre: and he sayth vnto the Iewes, Behold your king. C

15 They cryed, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Shall I crucifie your king? The hyghe priestes answered, We haue no kyng but Cesar.

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nygh to the citie: And it was written in Hebrue, Greeke and Latine.

21 Then sayd the high priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not the king of ỹ Iewes: but that he sayde, I am king of ỹ Iewes. D

22 Pilate answered, What I haue writte, that haue I written.

23 Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, toke his garmentes (& made foure partes, to euerie souldier a part) and also his coate: the coate was without seame, wouen from the top throughout. Math. 27. b Mark. 15. c. Luke. 23. c.

31 The Jewes therfore, bicause it was the preparing (of the Sabboth,) that the bodies should not remayne vpon the crosse on the Sabboth day, (for that Sabboth day, was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe.

c. Bycause they were not yet deade, for that was their custome.

32 Then came the souldiers, and (c) brake the legges of the first, and of the other whiche was crucified with him.

38 After this, Joseph of Arimathea, (being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for feare of the Jewes) besought Pilate that he might take downe the body of Jesus: and Pilate gaue him licence. He came therfore, and toke the body of Jesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus (which at the beginning came to Jesus by nyght) and brought of Myrrhe and Aloes mingled together, about an hundred pounde (waight.)

40 Then toke they the bodie of Jesus, and wounde it in linnen clothes with the odors, as the maner of the Jewes is to burie.

41 And in the place where he was crucified there was a garden, and in the garden a newe sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layde.

42 There layde they Jesus therfore, bicause of the preparing (of the Sabboth) of the Jewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

16 Jesus sayth vnto hir, Marie: she turned hir selfe, and sayde vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Maister.

17 Jesus sayth vnto hir, Touche (b) me not, for I am not yet ascended to my father, but go to my brethren, and say vnto them, I ascend vnto my father and your father, and to my God and your God.

18 Marie Magdalene commeth bringing tidings to the disciples that she had seene the Lorde, and that he had spoken suche things vnto hir.

19 The same day at night, whiche was the first day of the "sabbothes, when the doores were shut where the disciples were assembled together for feare of the Iewes, came Jesus, and stode in the (c) middes, and sayth vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so sayde, he shewed vnto them his handes and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they sawe the Lorde.

21 Then said Jesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so sende I you also.

22 And when he had sayde those wordes, he breathed on them, and sayth vnto them, Receiue ye the holie ghost.

23 Whosoeuers sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto thē, and whosoeuers sinnes ye reteine, they are reteyned.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelue, which is called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.

25 The other disciples therefore sayde vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he said vnto them. Except I shal see in his hands the print of the nayles, and put my finger into the print of ẏ nailes, & thrust my hand into his side, I will in no wise beleeue.

26 And after eyght dayes, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Jesus, the doores being shut, and stode in the middes, and sayde, Peace be vnto you.

27 After that sayth he to Thomas, Bring thy finger hither, and see my handes, and reache hyther thy hande, and thrust it into my side, & be not faithlesse, but beleeuing.

28 Thomas answered, and sayd vnto him, My Lord, and my God.

29 Jesus sayth vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 And many other signes truly did Jesus before the eyes of his disciples, whiche are not written in this booke.

3 Simon Peter saith vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, We also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a ship immediatly, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stode on the shoare: neuertheles, the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Jesus sayth vnto them, "Children, haue ye any meate? The answered him. No. "or, Sirs.

6 And he saith vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the shippe, and ye shall finde. They cast out therefore, and anone they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Then laide the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lorde: When Simon Peter heard that it was the lord, he gyrded his coate vnto him, (for he was naked) and did cast him selfe into the sea. B

8 The other disciples came in a litle shippe (for they were not farre from land, but as it were two hundred cubites) drawing the net with fishes.

15 So when they had dyned, Jesus sayth to Simon Peter, Simon Joanna, louest thou me more than these? Hee sayth vnto him, Yea Lorde, thou knowest that I loue thee. He sayth vnto him, Feede my lambes.

Or, sonne of Iona.

16 Hee sayth vnto him agayne the seconde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He sayth vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. Hee sayth vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

17 He sayde vnto him the thirde time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sorie, bycause he sayde vnto him the thirde time, Louest thou me? And he sayde vnto him, Lorde, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I loue thee: Jesus sayth vnto him, Feede my sheepe.

John.21.

19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he saith vnto him, Folow me.

20 Peter turning about, seeth the disciple whome Jesus loued, folowing, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and sayde, Lorde, which is he that betrayeth thee?

John.21.c.19.d.

21 When Peter therfore sawe him, he saith to Jesus, Lord, what shall he doe?

22 Jesus sayth vnto him, If I will haue him to tarrie till I come, what is that to thee? Folowe thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroade among the brethren, that, that disciple should not die: Yet Jesus sayde not to him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tarrie till I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same disciple is he which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we knowe that his testimonie is true.

25 There are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written euerie one, I suppose the world coulde not conteyne the bookes that shoulde be written. Amen.

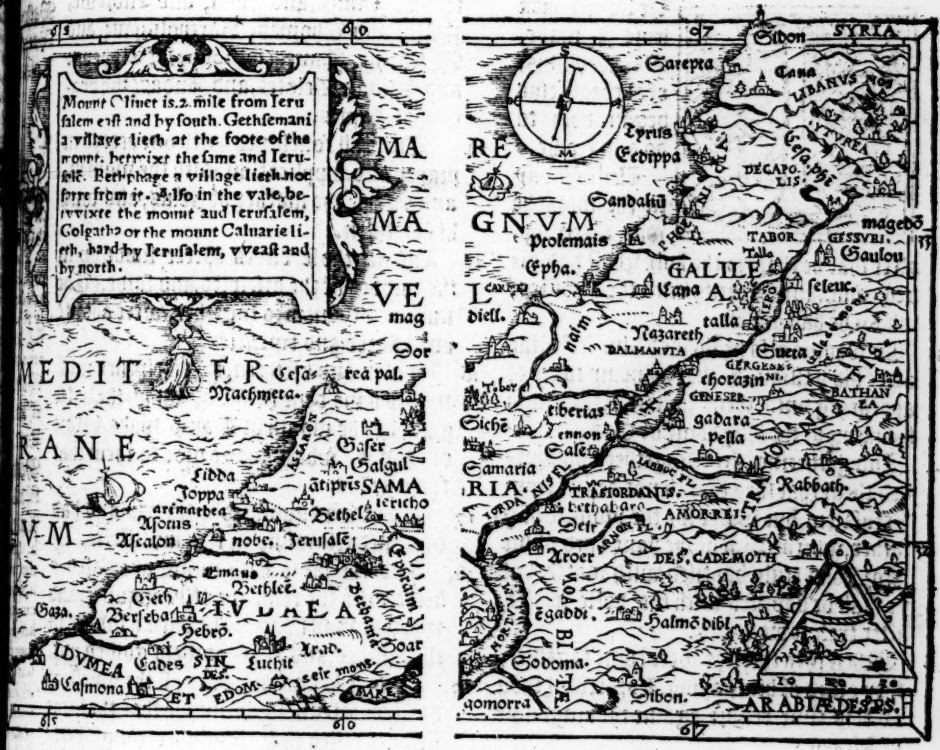
Here endeth the Gospell by Saint Iohn.

The

The discription of the lande of promise, called Palestina, Chanaan, or the holie lande, where Christ vvas borne, vvrought his myracles, and suffred death.



The Argument of the Actes of the Apostles.

In this booke, the Euangelist saint Luke doth declare and write vnto vs (if we will be Theophile, that is to say, vnfayned louers of God) what was doone and wrought for our singular comfort after the glorious resurrection and most triumphant ascention of our sauiour Iesus Christ. Howe that our Lorde Iesu did both promise, and also giue most aboundantly his holy spirit vnto all his disciples: and what this spirit did worke by the preaching of the worde both in the Iewes, and also in the Gentiles that beleeued in Christ. This booke hath alwayes bin in so great estimation, and that most deseruingly. For the actes of the Apostles (saith Hierome) seeme to be but a bare historie, bycause in them onely the infancie of the Church (which then began to spring) is set foorth: but if we consider that Luke the Philition (whose gospell is in the Gospell) hath written them, we shall also perceiue, that all his wordes are the phisicke of a languishing and sicke soule. What other thing (I beseech you) is this sacred and heauenly historie, but one of the chiefest partes of the Gospell? For truly in the other bookes (which are intituled Gospels) the corne (whose cast into the ground, is described: but here in this booke the selfe same corne is set foorth, being already sprong vp, and declaring most effectually his riches vnto the world. Againe, if we had not by Luke knowne after what maner Christ forsooke the earth, where, and in what place, howe, and after what faishion the promised comfortar did come, what beginning the Church had, wherein it did flourish, and by what meanes it did encrease: should we not haue lacked a great part of the Gospell? Therefore Bede did write right well, saying: That Luke not onely made an historie vntill the resuerrection and assumption of the Lord, as the other did, but also did set forth by writing the doings of the Apostles, as much as he knew to be sufficient to edify the faith of the readers or hearers, that only his booke (touching the Acts of the Apostles) was by the church thought worthy to be credited, al other which presumed to write of the same matter, being reiected & disappointed. Chrysostome also, to the that did maruel why S. Luke had not written all the apostolicall historie vnto the ende, or that he had not described the actes of euery one of them seuerally in bookes by them selues, doth answere goodly, saying. These are sufficient vnto them that will apply their mindes, and take heede. Therefore leauing vnprofitable questions (why was not this written, or that written) let vs take heede vnto these wholesome sayings of the Euangelist, that so we may apply this most comfortable salue (ministred vnto vs by him) vnto our wounded soules.

16 Ye men and brethren, this scripture must needes haue bene fulfilled, which the holie ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Judas, which was guide to them that toke Jesus.

17 For he was numbred with vs, and had obteyned felowship in this ministerie.

18 And the same hath nowe purchased a fielde, with the rewarde of (b) iniquitie, and when he was hanged, he burst a sunder in the middes, and al his bowels gushed out.

19 And it is knowne vnto all the dwellers at Jerusalem, in so muche that the same fielde is called in their mother tong Aceldema, that is to say, The fielde of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, Let his habitation be desart, and no man be dwelling therin: & his bysshoprike let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which haue cõpanied with vs all the time that the Lorde Jesus went in and out (c) among vs.

22 Beginning from the baptisme of John, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordeined to be a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they appoynted two, Joseph which is called Barsabas, whose surname was Justus, and Matthias.

24 And whẽ they had prayed, they said, thou Lord, which knowest the harts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosē, 25 That he may take the rowme of this ministerie and Apostleship, from which Judas by trãsgression fell, that he might go to his owne place.

26 And they gaue forth their (d) lottes, and the lot fell vppon Matthias, and hee was counted with the eleuen Apostles.

The.ij.Chapter.

The holy ghoſt came vpon the Apoſtles in viſible ſignes. 6. The hearers were aſtonied. 14. Peter preacheth, and ſtoppeth their mouthes. 41. He baptiſeth a great number. 42. The godly exerciſe of the faithfull.

1 AND when the day of Pentecoſt was fully come, they were all with one accorde in one place.

2 And ſodenly there came a ſounde from heauen, as it had bene the comming of a mightie winde, and it filled all the houſe where they were ſitting.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongs, like as they had bene of fire, and (it) ſate vpon each one of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holie ghoſt, and beganne to ſpeake with other tongs, as the ſpirit gaue them vtterance.

5 There were dwelling at Ieruſalem Iewes, deuout men, out of euerie nation of them that are vnder heauen.

6 When this was noyſed about, the multitude came together, and were aſtonied, becauſe that euerie man heard them ſpeake in his owne language.

7 They wondred all, and marueiled, ſaying one to another, Beholde, are not all theſe which ſpeake, of Galilee?

8 And howe heare we euerie man his own (a)tong, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Meſopotamia, and in Iurie, and in Capadocia, in Pontus, and Aſia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egipt, and in the parties of Lybia, whiche is beſide Cyrene, and ſtrangers of Rome, Iewes and (b) Proſelytes, 11 Cretes and Arabians, we do heare them ſpeake in our tongs, the wonderfull workes of God.

12 They were all amazed, and were in a doubt, ſaying one to another, What maketh this?

13 Other mocking, ſaide, Theſe men are full of newe wine.

14 But Peter ſtanding forthe with the eleuen, lift vp his voyce, and ſaid vnto the, Ye men of Iurie, and all ye that dwell at Ieruſalem, be this knowne vnto you, and heare my wordes, 15 For theſe are not dronken, as ye ſuppoſe, ſeeing it is but the (c) third houre of ỹ day.

16 But this is that whiche was ſpoken by the prophete Ioell.

17 And it ſhall be in the laſt dayes, ſayth God) of my ſpirit I will powre out vpon all fleſh: and your ſonnes and your daughters ſhall prophecie, and your yong menne ſhall ſee viſions, and your olde men ſhall dreame dreames. Ioel.2.g

18 And on my ſeruantes, and on my handmaydens, I will powre out of my ſpirite in thoſe dayes, and they ſhall prophecie:

19 And I will ſhewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath, bloud, and fire, and the vapour of ſmoake. Math.24.f. Luke.23.f.

20 The ſunne ſhall be turned into darkeneſſe, and the mone into bloud, before that great and notable day of the Lord come.

21 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that who ſo euer ſhall call on the name of the Lorde, ſhall be ſaued. D Rom.10.f.

22 Ye men of Iſrael, heare theſe wordes, Ieſus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you with myracles, wonders and ſignes, which God did by him in the midſt of you, as ye your ſelues alſo know.

23 Him after that ye had taken by wicked hands, bring deliuered by the determinate counſell and foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and ſlaine.

24 Whom God hath raiſed vp, hauing loſed the ſorrowes of death, becauſe it was impoſſible that he ſhould be holden of it.

25 For Dauid ſpeaketh of him, I ſawe the Lorde alwayes ſet forth before my face, for he is on my right hande, that I ſhould not be moued. Pſal.16.f.

26 Therefore did my heart reioyce, and my tong was glad: Moreouer alſo, my fleſhe ſhall reſt in hope.

27 Becauſe thou wilte not leaue my ſoule in hell, neither wilt thou ſuffer thine holie one to ſee corruption.

28 Thou haſt ſhewed me the wayes of life, thou ſhalt make me full of ioye with thy countenance. E

29 Ye me and brethren, let me freely ſpeake vnto you of the patriarch Dauid: for hee is both deade and buried, and his ſepulchre is with vs vnto this day. 3.Re.2.b.

30 Therefore being a prophete, and knowing that God had ſworne with an othe to him, that he would raiſe vp Chriſt, as concerning the fleſh, of the fruite of his loynes, to ſit on his ſeate.

31 He ſeeing this before, ſpake of the reſurrection of Chriſte, that his ſoule was not left in hell, neyther his fleſhe did ſee corruption.

32 This Ieſus hath God raiſed vp, whereof we all are witneſſes. Acts.1.a.

33 Then

33 Then being by the right hande of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the father the promise of the holy ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye nowe see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into the heauens, but he sayth him selfe. The Lorde saide vnto my Lorde, Sitte thou on my Psal. 110. a. Math. 22. d. right hande,

35 Until I make thy foes thy footstoole.

36 Therfore let all ỹ house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made that same Iesus whom ye haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Nowe when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and saide vnto Peter, and to the other apostles, Ye men and Luke. 3. b. brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Peter said vnto them, Repent ye, and let euerie one of you be baptised in the name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receiue the gifte of the holie ghost.

39 For the promise was (made) vnto you and to your children, and to all that are a farre off, euen as many as the Lorde our God shall call.

40 And with many other wordes bare hee witnesse, and exhorted them, saying, Saue (your selues) from this vntoward generation.

G

41 Then they that gladly receyued his worde, were baptised, and the same day there were added (vnto them) about three thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the apostles doctrine and (d) felowship, and in breaking of breade, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vpon euerie soule, and many wonders and signes were done by the apostles.

44 And al that beleued were together, and had all things common.

45 And solde their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing dayly with one accord in the temple, and breaking breade from house to house, did eate their meate together with gladnesse of heart, 47 Praysing God, and hauing fauor with all the people. And the Lord added to the Church dayly such as should be saued.

d. By felowship, is meant a godly companying together, in practising the works of charitie, in tendering and helping one an other, in disposing by almes, their goods to their needie neighbours.

By breaking of breade, is ment the mysterie wherein our sauiour Christe doth communicate and distribute vnto vs his body and bloud, by his blessed sacramente of bread & wine, where is represented to the eyes of our faith, the breaking of Christes body, and the shedding of his bloud.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. The halt is restored to his feete. 12. Peter preacheth Christ vnto the people.

NOwe Peter and John went vp together into the temple at the ninth houre of prayer.

2 And a certaine man that was lame from his mothers wombe, was brought, whom they laide dayly at the gate of the temple which is called beautifull, to aske almes of them that entred into the temple.

3 Which seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple, asked an almes.

4 And Peter fastening his eyes vpon him, with John, saide, Looke on vs.

5 And he gaue heede vnto them, trusting to receiue some thing of them.

6 Then saide Peter, Siluer and gold haue I none, but such as I haue, giue I thee: In the name of Iesus Christe of Nazareth, rise vp and walke.

7 And he toke him by the right hande, and lift him vp, and immediatly his feete and ancle bones receiued strength. Math. 15

8 And he leaping vp, stood, and walked, and entred with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praysing God.

9 And all the people saw him walking and praysing God.

10 And they knewe him, that it was hee which sate for almes at the beautifull gate of the temple, and they wondred, and were soare astonyed at that whiche had happened vnto him.

11 And as the lame which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ranne together greatly amazed vnto them in the porch, that is called Solomons. 3. Kin. 7. John. 10. Act. 5.

12 And when Peter sawe that, he answered vnto the people, Ye men of Israell, why marueil ye at this? or why looke ye so earnestly on vs, as though by our own power or (a) godlinesse we had made this man to walke.

13 The God of Abraham, and of Isahac, & of Jacob, the God of our fathers hath glorified his sonne Iesus, whom ye betrayed and denyed in the presence of Pilate, whe he had iudged him to be losed.

14 But ye denyed the holie and iust, and desired a murtherer to be giuen you, 15 And killed the Lord of life, whom God hath raysed from the dead, of the whiche we are witnesses.

16 And his name, through the fayth in his name, hath made this man sound, whome ye see and knowe, and the faith whiche is by him, hath giuen to this man health in the presence of you all.

17 And nowe brethren, I wote that through ignorãce ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But those things which God before had shewed shewed by the mouthe of all hys Prophetes, that Christe shoulde suffer, he hathe so fulfilled.

I

19 Repent ye therefore, and reuerte, that your sinnes maye be blotted oute, when the tyme of (b) refreshing shall come in the presence of the Lorde.

20 And he shall sende Jesus Christe, whiche before was preached vnto you.

21 Whom the Heauen must receiue, vntill the time that all things be restored, which God hath spoken by the mouth of al his holy prophets since the worlde began.

22 For Moyses truely sayde vnto the fathers, A Prophete shal the Lorde your God rayse vp vnto you of your brethren, lyke vnto me, him shall ye heare in all things whatsoeuer he shall say vnto you.

23 For the tyme will come, that "euery soule which will not heare that same prophet, shal be destroyed from among the people.

24 Al the Prophetes also from Samuell, and these that folowed in order, as many as haue spoken, haue lykewyse tolde you before of these dayes.

25 Ye are the children of the (c) Prophets, and of the couenaunte whiche God made vnto oure fathers, saying vnto Abraham, Euen in thy seede shall all the kinredes of the earth be blessed.

26 Vnto you fyrste, God hauyng raysed vp his son Jesus, sent hym to blesse you, in turning euery one of you from his iniquities.

The. iiij. Chapter.

7. The Apostles are brought before the counsell, 18. being forbidden to preach, they obey God rather than man. 24. They praye for good successe. 32. The Churche encreaseth in doctrine, and exercises of all godlinesse.

1 AND as they spake vnto the people, the priestes, and the "ruler of the temple, and the Sadducees, came vpon them,

2 Taking it grieuously that they taughte the people, and preached in Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they layde handes on them, and put them in holde vntill the next day: for it was nowe euentyde.

4 Howbeit, many of them whiche hearde the word, beleeued: and the number of the men was about fiue thousande.

5 And it came to passe on the morowe, that their rulers, and elders, and Scribes.

6 And Annas the chief Priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kinred of the high priests, were gathered together at Hierusalem.

7 And when they had sette them before them, they asked, By what power, or in what name haue ye done this? Exod. 2. c. Math. 21. c.

8 Then Peter full of the holy Ghoste sayde vnto them, Ye rulers of the people and elders of Israell. Acts. 7. d.

9 If we this daye bee examined of the good deed done to the sicke man, by what meanes he is made whole.

10 Be it knowne vnto you all, and to all the people of Israell, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom GOD raised againe from the dead, euen by him doth this man stande here before you whole. Math. 1. c. Philip. 2. b.

11 This is the stone which was sette nought by of you buylders, whyche is the head of the (a) corner,

a. Christ is called the chiefe corner, or corner stone, bycause the Iewes and the Gintiles are ioyned together, and builded vpon him by faith, and made one churche.
b. Neyther sainte nor angell, nor workes, nor oughe els can saue, but Christe alone.

13 Nowe when they sawe the boldnesse of Peter and John, and vnderstoode that they were vnlearned, and ignorant menne, they meruayled, and they knewe them that they had bin with Jesu:

14 And beholdyng also the man whiche was healed standyng with them, they could not say against it.

15 But when they had commaunded them to go ayde out of the counsell, they counsayled among themselues.

16 Saying, What shal we doe to these men? for a manyfest signe is done by them, and is openlye knowen to all them that dwell in Hierusalem, and we can not denie it. John. 11. k.

17 But that it bee noysed no farther among the people, let vs threaten and charge them, that they speake hencefoorth to no manne in this name.

18 And they called them, and commaunded them that in no wise they should speake nor teache in the name of Jesu. Acts. 5. g.

19 But Peter and John answered and sayde vnto them, Whether it be right in the sighte of God, to hearken vnto you, more than to GOD, iudge ye.

20 For wee can not but speake that, whiche we haue seene and hearde.

21 So when they had more sharpely threatened them, they lette them goe, fyndyng nothyng howe to punishe them, bicause of the people: for all men glorified God, bicause of that whiche was done. D

22 For the man was aboue fortie yeares old, on whome thys miracle of healyng was shewed. Acts. 3. b.

23 Then as soone as they were let goe, they came to their felows, and shewed al that the high Priests and elders, had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accord, and sayde, Lord, thou art God which hast made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is.
Psalme.2.a. 25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast sayde, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vayne things?
26 The kings of the earth stode vp, and the rulers came together against the Lord, and agaynst his Christe.
27 For of a truth against thy holy child Iesus, whom thou hast annointed, both Herode & also Pontius Pylate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, gathered them selues togither.
€ 28 For to doe whatsoeuer thy hande and thy counsell determined before to be done.
29 And nowe Lord, beholde their threatenings, & graunt vnto thy seruants, that with all boldnesse they may speake thy worde, 30 So that thou stretch forth thyne hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders, bee done by the name of thy holie childe Iesus.
Actes.16.f. 31 And as soone as they had prayed, the place moued where they were assembled togither, and they wer all filled with the holy ghoste, and they spake the word of God boldly.

33 And with greate power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Iesu, and great grace was with them all.
34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: For as many as were possessoures of landes or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were solde.
35 And layde it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.
Actes.1.d. 36 And Ioses, whiche was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say if ye interprete it, the sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprus.
37 Hauing land, sold it, and brought the money, and layd it downe at the Apostles feete.

1 BVt a certayne man named Ananias, A with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,
2 And kept away (parte) of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certain part, and layd it downe at the Apostles feet.
3 But Peter sayde, Ananias, howe is it that Sathan hath filled thyne hart, to lye vnto the holy ghoste, and keepe away (parte) of the price of the lande?
4 Whyles it remayned, was it not thyne owne? and after it was solde, was it not in thyne owne power? why hast thou conceyued this thyng in thyne hearte? thou hast not lyed vnto men, but vnto God.
5 Ananias hearing these wordes, fel downe, and gaue vp the ghost: And great feare came on all them that heard these things.
6 And the yong men rose vp, and put him aparte, and caried him out, and buried him.
7 And it came to passe, that as it were about B the space of three houres after, hys wyfe came in, not knowyng that whyche was done.
8 And Peter sayde vnto hir, Tell me, solde ye not the lande for so muche? And she said, Yea, for so muche.
9 Then Peter sayde vnto hir, Why haue ye agreed together, to tempte the spirite of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them whiche haue buried thy husband, are at the dore, and shall carie thee out.
10 Then fell she downe straightwaye at his feet, and yelded vp the ghost: And the yong men came in, and found hir dead, and caried hir out, and buryed hir by hir husbande.
11 And great feare came vppon all the Churche, and vppon as manye as heard these thinges.
12 And by the hands of the apostles, were manie signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were al together wyth one accorde in Solomons porche.
13 And of other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless, the people magnified them.
14 The number of them that beleeued in the Lorde, both of menne and women, grewe more and more.)
15 In so muche that they brought the sick into the streetes, and laide them on beddes and couches, that at the least way, the (a) shadow of Peter when he came by, might shadowe some of them.
16 There came also a multitude of the cities rounde aboute, vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, and them whiche were vexed with vncleane spirites: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then

17 Then the chiefe priest rose vp, & al they that were with hym, (which is the sect of the Saducees,) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde handes on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the angel of the Lorde by night opened the prison dores, & brought them forth, and sayde, 20 Goe, and stande and speake in the temple to the people all the wordes of this lyfe.

D 21 And when they heard that, they entred into the temple early in the morning, and taught: but the chiefe priest came, and they that were with hym, and called a counsell together, and all the elders of the chyldren of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetche them.

22 But when the officers came, and founde them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde, 23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with all diligence, and the keepers standyng without before the dores, but when wee had opened, we founde no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe priests, and the captayne of the temple, & the hygh priestes hearde these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would growe.

25 Then came one and shewed them (saying,) Beholde, the menne that ye put in prison, are standyng in the temple, and teachyng the people.

26 Then went the captayne of the temple with the officers, and brought them without violence: (For they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the counsel. And the chiefe priest asked them, E 28 Saying, Did not wee straytely commaunde you that ye should not teach in this name? And beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intende to bring (b) this mans bloud vpon vs.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answeared, and sayde, We ought more to obey God than men.

30 The God of our fathers rayled vp Jesus, whom ye slue, and hanged on tree.

31 Hym hath G O D lyfte vp with hys right hande, to be a prynce and a sauiour, for to gyue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenesse of sinnes.

32 And wee are recorders of these thynges whiche we say, and so is also the holy ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey hym.

33 When they heard that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slea them.

34 Then stode there vp one in the counsel, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of lawe, had in reputation among all the people, and cõmaunded to put the apostles forth a litle space, Actes.22.a

35 And sayde vnto them, Ye men of Israell, take heede to your selues, what ye entend to do as touchyng these men. F

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reportyng himself to be some great mã, to whom a number of men, aboute a foure hundred, ioyned thẽselues: which was slayne, and they all which " beleeued him, were scattered abrode, and brought to nought. "or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man arose vp one Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drewe away much people after hym: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed hym, were scattered abrode. Luke.13.a

38 And nowe I say vnto you, refrayne your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this worke be of men, it wil come to nought.

39 But and if it be of God, yee can not destroy it, least haply ye be founde to stryue agaynst God.

40 And to him they agreed; and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commaunded that they should not speake in the name of Jesu, and let them goe. Actes.4.d

41 And they departed frõ the face of the counsel, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for hys name. Mat.5.b

42 And dayly in the temple, and in euery house, they ceassed not to teache and preache Jesus Christe.

1 AND in those dayes, when the number of the disciples grewe, there arose a grudge among the Grekes agaynst the Hebrues, by cause theyr widdowes were despised in the dayly ministerie. A

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and sayde, It is not good that we should leaue the word of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke yee out among you seuen men of honest reporte, and full of the holy ghost and wisedome, to whom we may commit this busnesse. 1.Tim.3.c

4 But we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministerie of the worde.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Steuen, a man full of fayth and of the holy ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Apoc.2.b

6 These they set before the apostles: & when they had prayed, they layde theyr handes on them.

7 And the worde of God encreased, and the number of the disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the priests were obedient to the fayth.

8 And Steuen full of fayth and power, dyd greate wonders and myracles among the people.

a. Or, Colledge. For in the citie of Hierusalem, there were erected many houses or schooles, wherin the youth of the Iewes & stragers were instructed: as now a dayes are vsed in our vniuersities.

9 Then there arose certayne of the (a) synagogue, which is called (the synagogue) of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputyng with Steuen:

b. The wicked setteth forth false witnesses, when they by reasonyng can not preuayle against the truth And thus malice seeketh false Christes, when the truth fayleth hyr.

10 And they coulde not resist the wisedome and the spirite by the which he spake.

11 Then they priuily prepared menne, whiche sayde, (b) We haue hearde hym speake blasphemous wordes agaynst Moses, & agaynst God.

12 And they moued the people and the elders, and the scribes, & came vpon him, and caught hym, and brought hym to the counsell:

13 And brought forth false witnesses, whiche sayde, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes agaynst this holy place, and the lawe.

14 For we hearde him say, that this Iesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the ordinãces which Moses gaue vs.

15 And all that sate in the counsell, lokyng stedfastly on him, sawe his face as it had bene the face of an angel.

12 But when Iacob heard that there was corne in Egypt, he sent our fathers first. Gen.45.

13 And at the seconde (tyme) Ioseph was knowen of his brethren, and Iosephes kynrede was made knowen vnto Pharao.

14 Then sent Ioseph, and caused hys father Iacob to be brought, and all his kinne, threescore and fiftene soules. C Gen.46. Gen.49.

17 But when the tyme of the promise drewe nigh, whiche God had sworne to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt:

18 Till another kyng arose, whiche knew not of Ioseph.

19 The same dealte subtilly with our kinrede, and euyll entreated our fathers, and made them cast out theyr young children, that they should not remayne alyue.

21 And when hee was caste out, Pharaos daughter toke him vp, and nourished him for hyr owne sonne. D

22 And Moses was learned in all manner of wisdome of the Egyptians, and was mighty in deedes and in wordes.

23 And

23 And when he was full foꝛtie yeares olde, it came into his heart to viſite his bꝛethꝛen the childꝛen of Iſraell.
24 And when hee ſawe one of them ſuffer wꝛong, he defended him, and auenged his quarrel that had the harme done to him, and ſmote the Egyptian.
25 Foꝛ he ſuppoſed his bꝛethꝛen woulde haue vnderſtand, how that god by his hand ſhuld deliuer them, but they vnderſtode not.
26 And the next day he ſhewed himſelfe vnto them as they ſtroue, and woulde haue ſette them at one agayne, ſaying, Syꝛs, ye are bꝛethꝛen, why doe ye wꝛong one to an other?
27 But he that didde his neighbour wꝛong, thꝛuſt him awaye, ſaying, Who made thee a ruler, and a iudge ouer vs?
28 Wilte thou kill mee, as thou diddeſt the Egyptian yeſterday?
29 Then fledde Moyſes at that ſaying, and was a ſtraunger in the lande of Madian, where he begate two ſonnes.
30 And when foꝛtie yeares were expired, there appered to him (c) in the wilderneſſe of moũt Sina, an Angell of the Lozde in a flame of fyꝛe in a bꝛamble buſhe.
31 When Moyſes ſawe it, he wondꝛed at the ſight: and as he dꝛewe neare to beholde, the voyce of the Lozde came vnto him.
32 (Saying) I (am) the God of thy fathers, the God of Abꝛaham, and the God of Iſahac, and the God of Iacob. Then Moſes tꝛembled, and duꝛſt not beholde.
33 Then ſayd the Lozde to him, Put off thy ſhoes from thy feete: foꝛ the place where thou ſtandeſt, is holy gꝛounde.
34 I haue ſeene, I haue ſeene the affliction of my people whiche is in Egypt, and I haue heaꝛde their gꝛoning, and am come dowꝛne to deliuer them: and nowꝛ come, and I will ſende thee into Egypt.
35 This Moyſes whom they foꝛſwoꝛe, ſaying, Who made thee a ruler & a iudge? the ſame did God ſende to be a ruler, and a deliuerer, by the handes of the angell whiche appeared to him in the bꝛamble buſhe.
36 Hee bꝛoughte them oute, after that he had ſhewed wonders and ſignes in Egypte, and in the Reode ſea, and in the wyldeꝛneſſe foꝛtie yeares.
37 This is that Moyſes, whiche ſayde vnto the chyldꝛen of Iſraell, A pꝛophete ſhall the Lozd youꝛ God ꝛayſe vp vnto you of youꝛe bꝛethꝛen lyke vnto me, him ſhall ye heaꝛe.
38 This is he that was in the Churche in the wilderneſſe with the Angell, whyche ſpake to him in the Mounte Sinai, and with oꝛ fathers: this man receyued the wozd of lyfe to giue vnto vs.

41 And they made a calfe in thoſe dayes, and offered ſacrifice vnto the idoll: and reioyced ouer the wozkes of their owne handes.
42 Then God tuꝛned himſelfe away, & gaue * them vp to wozſhip the hoſt of heauen, as it is wꝛitte in the booke of the pꝛophets, * O ye houſe of Iſraell, haue ye offered to mee (d) ſlaine beaſtes & ſacrifices by the ſpace of foꝛtie yeeres in the wildeꝛneſſe. * Rom. 1. c. * Amos. 5. d. Iere. 7. c.

59 And they ſtoned Steuen, calling on, and ſaying, Lorde Jeſu, receiue my ſpirite.
60 And he kneeled downe, (f) and cryed with a loude voyce, Lorde, lay not this ſynne to their charge. And when he had thus ſpoken, he fell a ſleepe.

3. Saule perſecuteth the Chriſtians. 4. The Apoſtles are ſcattered abroade. 5. Philip commeth to Samaria. 13. Simon Magus is baptiſed, and he diſſembleth. 38. Philip baptiſeth the Eunuch.

A Actes. 22. d.

1 AND Saule was conſentyng vnto his deathe: And at that tyme there was a greate perſecution againſte the churche which was at Hieruſalem, and they were all ſcattered abroade throughoute the regions of Jurie and Samaria, excepte the Apoſtles.

Mat.10.c. Actes.11.g.

2 And deuoute men caryed Steuen together to his buryall, and made great lamentation ouer him.

Actes.9.a. 1.Cor.15.b. Galath. 1.c.

3 As for Saul, he made hauocke of the churche, entryng into euery houſe, and drawyng out bothe men and women, did putte them into priſon.
4 Therefore they that were ſcattered abrode, wente euery where preachyng the worde of GOD.
5 Then came Philip into the citie of Samaria, and preached Chriſt vnto them.
6 And the people gaue heed vnto thoſe thinges whiche Philip ſpake, with one accorde, hearyng and ſeeyng the miracles whyche he did.

B Matth.16.d.

7 For vncleane ſpirites, crying with lowde voyce, came out of many that were poſſeſſed with them: & many taken with palſies, and many that halted, were healed.
8 And there was great ioy in that citie.
9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, whiche before tyme in the ſame citie vſed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, ſaying that hee was a man that coulde do great things.
10 To whome they all gaue heede, from the leaſt to the greateſt, ſaying, This man is the greate power of God.
11 And him they ſet muche by, becauſe that of lōg time he had bewitcht thē with ſorceries.
12 But when they beleeued Philips preaching of the kingdome of God, and of the name of Jeſus Chriſte, they were baptiſed, both men and women.
13 Then Simon himſelfe beleeued alſo: and when hee was baptiſed, he continued with Philip, and wondred, beholdyng the miracles and ſignes whiche were done.
14 When the Apoſtles whiche were at Hieruſalem heard ſay, that Samaria had receyued the worde of God, they ſent vnto them Peter and John.
15 Whiche when they were come downe, prayed for them that they might receyue the holy ghoſt.
16 (For as yet he was come downe vppon none of them, but they were baptiſed (a) only in the name of Chriſt Jeſu.)
17 Then layde they their hands on them, and they receyued the holy ghoſt.
18 And when Simon ſawe that through laying on of the Apoſtles handes, the holy ghoſt was giuen, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Gyue me alſo thys power, that on whome ſo euer I put the hands, he may receyue the holy ghoſt.
20 But Peter ſayde vnto him, Thy money periſh with thee, becauſe thou haſt thoughte that the gift of God may be obteyned wyth money.
21 Thou haſt neyther part nor felowſhip in this buſineſſe: for thy hart is not ryght in the ſight of God.
22 Repent therefore of this thy wickednelle, and praye God, if perhaps the thoughte of thyne heart may be forgiuen thee.
23 For I perceiue that thou art (b) in the gall of bitternelle, & in the bond of (c) iniquitie.
24 Then anſwered Simon, and ſayd, Praye ye to the Lorde for mee, that none of (theſe things) which ye haue ſpoken, fall on me.
25 And they, when they had teſtified and preached the word of the Lord, returned toward Hieruſalem, and preached the Goſpel in manie villages of the Samaritanes.
26 And the Angell of the Lorde ſpake vnto Philip, ſaying, Ariſe, & go toward the ſouth, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hieruſalem vnto Gaza, which is deſert.
27 And he aroſe, & went in: and behold a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuche, & of great authoritie with Candace, queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of al hir treaſure, which came to Hieruſalem for to worſhip.
28 And as he returned home againe, ſitting in his charet, he read Eſaias the Prophet.

29 Then

29 Then the spirite sayde vnto Philip, Come neare, and ioyne thy selfe to this charret.

30 And Philip ranne thyther to him, & hearde hym reade the prophete Esaias, and sayde, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he sayde, Howe can I, except some man shoulde guide me? And he desired Philip that he woulde come vp, and sitte with hym.

32 The tenour of the scripture which he read, was this, He was ledde as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a lambe dumbe before the shearer, so openeth he not his mouth.

33 In his humilitie, his iudgement is exalted: but who shall declare his generation? For his lyfe is taken from the earth.

34 And the Eunuche answeared Philip, and sayde, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophete this? of him selfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened hys mouthe, and began at the same scripture, and preached vnto hym Iesus.

36 And as they went on theyr way, they came vnto a certayne water: and the Eunuche sayde, See, here is water, what doth let me to be baptised?

37 Philip sayde (vnto hym) If thou beleeuest with al thyne hart, thou mayest. And he answeared, and sayde, I beleeue that Iesus Christe is the sonne of God.

38 And he commaunded the charet to stande still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip and also the Eunuche: and he baptised hym.

39 And assoone as they were come out of the water, the spirite of the Lorde caught away Philip, that the Eunuche sawe him no more: and he went on hys way reioycing.

40 But Philip was founde at Azotus: and he walked throughout the countrey, preaching in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

3. The conuersion of Saul. 25. Paul escapeth the Iewes conspiracies, 26. he goeth vp to the Apostles. 34. Peter healeth Eneas, 40. and rayseth vp Tabitha.

1 AND Saul (a) yet breathyng out threatnynges & slaughter agaynst the disciples of the lord, went vnto the high priest,

2 And desired of hym letters (to carie) to Damascus, to the synagogues: that if hee founde any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bryng them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 And when he iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nyghe to Damascus, sodenly there shyned rounde aboute hym a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying vnto hym, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? Actes. 22. b

5 And he sayde, Who art thou Lorde? And the Lord sayd, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest: It is harde for thee to kicke against the prickes.

6 And he both tremblyng and astonied, sayd, Lorde, what wylt thou haue me to do? And the Lorde sayde vnto hym, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shal be tolde thee what thou must do. Luke. 3. b Actes. 2. k.

7 The men also whiche iourneyed with him stode amased, (b) hearyng a voyce, but seing no man. B

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when hys eyes were opened, he sawe no man: but they led hym by the hande, and brought hym into Damascus.

9 And he was three dayes without sight, and neyther dyd eate nor drynke.

10 And there was a certayne disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to hym sayde the Lorde in a vision, Ananias. And he sayd, Behold, I (am here) Lorde.

11 And the Lorde sayde vnto hym, Arise, and goe into ỳ streate, which is called Strayght, and seeke in the house of Iudas after one called Saul of Tarsus: for beholde he prayeth, 12 And hath seene in a vision a man named Ananias commyng in to hym, and puttyng hys hands on hym, that he myght receyue his sight.

13 Then Ananias answeared, Lorde, I haue hearde by many of this man, howe muche euyll he hath done to thy saynctes at Hierusalem: Actes. 8. a 1. Cor. 15. b Galat. 1. c

14 And here he hath authoritie of the hyghe priests, to bynde all that eal on thy name.

15 The Lorde sayd vnto hym, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the chyldren of Israel.

16 For I wyl shewe him howe great things he must suffer for my names sake. Actes. 21. c 2. Cor. 11. c

17 And Ananias went hys way, and entred into the house, and put his hands on him, and sayde, Brother Saul, the Lorde (euen Iesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent me, that thou myghtest receyue thy sight, and be filled with the holy ghost. Actes. 22. c 18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and he receiued sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptised.

19 And when hee had receyued meate, hee was comforted. Then was Saul certayne dayes with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And strayghtway he preached Christ in ỳ synagogues, that he is the sonne of God.

D 21 But all that hearde hym, were amased, and sayde, Is not this he that destroyed them whiche called on this name in Hierusalem, and came hyther for that intent, that hee might bryng them bounde vnto the hyghe priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Iewes whiche dwelt at Damascus, prouyng by conferryng (one scripture with another) that this is very Christe.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Iewes toke counsel together to kill him.

24 But theyr laying awayte was knowen of Saul: and they watched the gates day and night to kill hym.

1.Cor.12.a 25 Then the disciples toke hym by night, and 26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple himselfe to the disciples: but they were all afrayde of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas toke hym, and brought hym to the Apostles, and declared to them howe hee had seene the Lorde in the way, and that he had spoken to hym, and howe he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Iesus.

E 28 And he was with them commyng in, and goyng out at Hierusalem.

29 Speakyng boldely in the name of the Lorde Iesus, and he spake and disputed agaynst the Grecians: but they went about to slea hym.

Act.21.a 30 Whiche when the brethren knewe, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, he came also to the saintes whiche dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there hee founde a certayne man named Eneas, whiche had kept hys bedde eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certayne woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, whiche by interpretation is called (c) Dorcas: the same was full of good workes and almes deedes, whiche she dyd. John.5.b Acts.3.b c. Tabitha called Dorcas

37 And it came to passe in those daies that she was sicke, and died: Whom when they had washed, they layde hir in an vpper chamber.

38 And for asmuche as Lydda was nygh to Ioppa, and the disciples had hearde that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiryng hym that he would not be greeued to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and came with them: when he was come, they brought hym into the vpper chamber: and all the widowes stode round about hym weeping, & shewing the coates and garmentes whiche Dorcas made whyle she was with them.

40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned hym to the body, and sayde, Tabitha, aryse. And she 3.Reg. opened hyr eyes, and when shee sawe Peter, 4.Reg. she sate vp. Luke.

42 And (it) was knowen throughout al Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lorde.

43 And it came to passe, that he taried many dayes in Ioppa, with one Simon a tanner.

The.x. Chapter.

11. The vision that Peter sawe. 17. He was sent to Cornelius. 19. The Heathen receyue the spirite, and are baptised.

1 THere was a certayne man in Cesarea, A called Cornelius, a captaine of the bande, called the Italian bande,

2 A deuoute man, and one that feared God with all his houshold, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway.

3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the nienth houre of the day, an angel of God commyng in to hym, and saying vnto hym, Cornelius.

4 And when he loked on hym, he was afrayde, and sayde, What is it Lorde? And he said vnto him, Thy (a) prayers & thine almes are come vp into remembrãce before God.

5 And nowe send men to Ioppa, and cal for one Simon, whose surname is Peter,

6 He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: He shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius was departed, he called two of hys houshold seruauntes, and a deuoute souldier souldier of them that wayted on hym,

8 And tolde them all the matter, and sente them to Joppa.
9 On the morowe as they wente on theyr iourney, and drewe nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp vnto the highest part of ẏ house to pray, about the syxth houre.
10 And when he waxed hungry, hee woulde haue eaten: But whyle they made ready, he fell into a traunce,
11 And he seeth (b) heauen opened, and a certayne vessell come downe vnto him, as it had bene a greate sheete, knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:
12 Wherein were all manner of foure footed beastes of the earth, and wilde beastes, & such as creepe, and foules of the ayre.
13 And there came a voyce to hym, Rise Peter, kyl, and eate.
14 But Peter sayd, Not so Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.
15 And the voyce spake vnto him agayne the second tyme, What God hathe clensed, that call not thou common.
16 This was done thrice: and the vessell was receyued vp agayne into heauen.
17 Nowe whyle Peter doubted in hym selfe what this vision which he had seene shoulde meane: beholde, the men which were sent frō Cornelius, had made enquirance for Simōs house, and stode before the doze, 18 And called, and asked whether Simon, whiche was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.
19 Whyle Peter thoughte on the vision, the spirite sayde vnto him, Beholde, three men seeke thee.
20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with thē, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.
21 Then Peter wente downe to the menne whyche were sent vnto hym from Cornelius, and sayde, Beholde, I am hee whome ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?
22 And they sayde, Cornelius the Captayne, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good reporte among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angell, to sende for thee into his house, and to heare wordes of thee.
23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: And on the morowe Peter wente awaye with them, and certayne brethren from Joppa accompanied him.
24 And the third day after entred they into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called togeather his kinsemen and speciall frienders.
25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, Cornelius met hym, and fell downe (c) at his feete, and worshipped (him.)
26 But Peter toke hym vp, saying, Stande vp, I my selfe also am a man.
27 And as hee talked wyth him, he came in, and fyndeth many that were come togeather.
28 And he sayde vnto them, Ye knowe howe that it is an vnlawfull thing for a man that is a Iewe, to company or come vnto one of another nation: but God hathe shewed mee, that I should not call any man common or vncleane.
29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, assone as I was sent for: I aske therefore for what intent ye haue sent for me?
30 And Cornelius sayde, Foure dayes agoe vntill thys houre I was fasting, and at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, and beholde, a man stode before me in bright clothyng, 31 And sayde, Cornelius, thy prayer is hearde, and thine almes deedes are had in remembrance in the syght of God.
32 Sende therefore to Joppa, and cal for Simon, whose surname is Peter: he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner, by the sea syde, who when he commeth, shal speake vnto thee.
33 Then sent I for thee immediatly, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Nowe therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all thinges that are commaunded vnto thee of God.
34 Then Peter opened his mouth and sayde, Of a trueth I perceyue that God hathe no regarde of persons.
35 But in euery nation, he that feareth hym, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.
36 Touching the worde whiche God sente vnto the children of Israell, preachyng peace by Jesus Christ (he is Lorde ouer all.)
37 Ye knowe howe the worde was published through all Iurie, beginning in Galilee after the baptime which John preached:
38 Howe God anoynted Jesus of Nazareth, with the holy ghost, and with power, who wente about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuyll: for god was with him.
39 And we are witnesse of all things whiche he did in the land of the Iewes, and at Jerusalem, whom they slew, when they hadde hanged him on a tree.
40 Hym God rayled vp the thirde daye, and shewed him openly.

B 7 And I heard a voyce, saying vnto me, Aryse Peter, slay, and eate.
8 But I sayde, Not so Lorde: for nothyng common or vncleane hathe at any tyme entred into my mouth.
9 But the voyce answeared me agayne frō heauen, Do not thou make them (a) commō which God hath cleansed.
10 And thys was done three times: and all were taken vp agayne into heauen.
11 And beholde, immediatly there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.
12 And the spirite sayd vnto me, that I shuld goe with them, nothing doubting: Moreouer, these syx brethren accompanied me, and we entred into the mans house:
13 And he shewed vs howe he had seene an angell in his house, which stode and sayde vnto him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter:
14 He shall tell thee wordes, whereby both thou, and all thyne house shall be saued.
15 And as I began to speake, the holy ghost fell on them, as he did on vs at ỹ beginning.
16 Then remembred I the worde of the Lorde, howe that he sayde, John baptised with water, but ye shall be baptised with (b) the holy ghost.
17 Forasmuche then as God gaue them the lyke gifte as he did vnto vs when we beleeued on the Lord Iesus Christ: what was I that I should haue withstande God?
18 When they heard these thyngs, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying: Then hath God also to the Gentiles graunted repentance vnto lyfe.
19 They also whiche were scattered abroade through the affliction ỹ arose about Steuen, walked throughout vnto Phenice, and Cypres, and Antioche, preaching the worde to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.
20 And some of them were men of Cypres and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioche, spake vnto the Grecians, and preached the Lord Iesus.
21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a greate number beleeued, and turned vnto the Lorde.
22 Then tydings of these thinges came vnto the eares of the Church whiche was in Hierusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should goe vnto Antioche.
23 Whiche when hee came, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lorde.
24 For he was a good man, and full of the holy ghost and of faythe: and much people was added vnto the Lorde.
25 Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seeke Saul.
26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioche. And it came to passe, that that a whole yeere they had their conuersation with the Church there, and taught muche people: insomuch, that the disciples of Antioch were the (c) firste that were called Christians.

27 * And in those dayes came prophetes from Hierusalem vnto Antioche.

28 And there stode vp one of them, named Agabus, and signifyed (d) by the spirite, that there should be greate dearth throughout all the worlde: which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man accordyng to his habilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iurie.

30 Whiche thing they also did, and sent it to the elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

The .xij. Chapter.

1. Herode persecuteth the Christians, 2. kylleth Iames, and putteth Peter in prison, 7. whome the Lorde deliuereth by an angel: 21. The horrible death of Herode. 24. The Gospel florisheth. 25. Barnabas and Saul turnyng to Antiochia, take Iohn Marke with them.

1 AT the same tyme Herode the king stretched forth his handes to vexe certayne of the Church.

2 And he killed Iames the brother of Iohn with the sworde.

3 And because he sawe it pleased the Iewes, he proceeded further, and toke Peter also, (Then were the dayes of swete bread.)

4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison also, and deliuered hym to foure (a) quaternions of souldiers to be kept, entending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 And Peter was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceassing of the Churche vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode woulde haue brought him forthe vnto the people, the same nighte Peter was sleeping betweene two souldiers bounde with two chaynes, and the keepers before the dore kept the prison.

7 And beholde, the angell of the Lorde was there present, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the syde, and stirred him vp, saying, Arise vp quickly. And hys chaynes fell off from his handes.

8 And the angell sayd vnto hym, Gyrde thy selfe, and bynde on thy sandales. And so he dyd. And he sayeth vnto hym. Cast thy garment about thee, and folowe me.

9 And (Peter) came out, and folowed hym, and wist not that it was trueth whiche was done by the angell: but thought he had seene a vision.

10 When they were past the firste & the second watch, they came vnto the iron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by the owne accorde: and they wente out, and passed throughout one streete, and forthwith the angell departed from hym. Actes.5.d.

11 And when Peter was come to hym selfe, he sayd, Nowe I knowe of a suretie that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hande of Herode, and from all the wayting for, of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he consydered the thing, he came to the house of Marie ỹ mother of Iohn, whose symame was Marke, where many were gathered togeather in prayer. Actes.1.b.

13 As Peter knocked at the entrie dore, a damsell came forthe to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knewe Peters voyce, shee opened not the dore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and tolde howe Peter stode before the dore. C

15 And they sayde vnto her, Thou art madde, But she affirmed that it was euen so. Then sayd they, It is his (b) angell.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and whē they had opened the dore, and sawe him, they were astonyed.

17 And when he had beckned vnto them with the hand, that they might holde their peace, he tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought him out of the prison: And bee sayde, Goe shewe these things vnto Iames, and to the brethren. And he departed, & went into another place.

18 Now as sone as it was day, there was no little a do among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commaunded them to be carried away. And he descended from Iurie to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 And Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came all with one accord to him, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kynges chamberlayne, and desyred peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings countrey.

21 And vppon the day appoynted, Herode arayed him in royall apparell, and set hym in his seate, and made an oration vnto them. D

22 And the people gaue a shoute, (saying,) It is the voyce of a God, and not of a man.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and layde their handes on them they lette them goe.

4 And they, after they were sent forthe of the holy ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, & from thence they sayled to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the worde of God in ỹ synagogues of ỹ Iewes: and they had also John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone through the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certayne sorcerer, a false prophete, a Iewe, whose name was Barieſu:

10 And sayde, O full of all subtilitie and all mischiefe, thou chylde of the Deuill, thou enimie of all righteousnesse, wylte thou not ceasse to peruerte the ryghte wayes of the Lorde?

11 And now beholde, the hande of the Lorde is vpon thee, and thou shalte be blynde, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediately there fell on him a myste and a darkenesse, and he went about seeking (them) that should leade hym by the hande.

15 And after the readyng of the lawe and the prophetes, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye haue any worde to exhorte the people, say on.

26 Ye men and brethren, children of the generation of Abraham, and who so euer amõg you feareth God, to you is the word of thys saluation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Hierusalem, and their rulers, bycause they knewe hym not, nor yet the voyces of the prophets whiche are read euery Sabboth day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning hym.

E 28 And though they found no cause of deathe in hym, yet desyred they Pilate that he shuld be slayne.

29 And when they had fulfylled all that were written of hym, they toke hym down from the tree, and put hym in a sepulchre.

30 But God raysed hym from the dead:

31 And hee was seene many dayes of them whiche came vp with hym from Galilee to Hierusalem, whiche are hys witnesses vnto the people.

32 And we declare vnto you glad tidinges, how that the promise which was made vnto the fathers, 35 Wherefore he sayeth also in another place, Thou shalt not suffer thyne holy one to see corruption.

36 For Dauid after he had serued hys tyme, by the will of God, fell on sleepe, and was layd vnto hys fathers, and sawe corruption:

37 But he whome God raysed agayne, sawe no corruption.

38 Be it knowen vnto you therefore, ye men and brethren, that thrugh this man is preached vnto you the forgiuenesse of synnes:

39 And by hym, all that beleeue, are iustified from all thynges, from whiche yee coulde not be iustifyed by the lawe of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, least that fall on you which is spoken of in the prophetes, 41 Beholde yee despisers, and wonder, and perishe ye: for I do a worke in your dayes, a worke whiche yee shall in no wise beleeue, though a man declare it to you playnely.

42 And when they were gone out of the synagogue of the Jewes, the Gentiles besought that these wordes myght be preached to them the next Sabboth.

43 Now when the congregation was broke vp, many of the Jewes and vertuous Proselytes folowed Paul and Barnabas, which speaking to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God. Actes.11.b

44 And the next Sabboth day came almost the whole citie togeather, to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Jewes sawe the people, they were full of indignation, and spake against those thinges whiche were spoken of Paul, speaking against, and rayling.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and sayd, It was necessarie that the word of God shoulde fyrste haue bin spoken to you: but seeing yee put it from you, and thynke your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, loe, we turne to the Gentiles. Math.10.b. Esai.49.b. Luke.1.c.

47 For so hathe the Lorde commaunded vs, saying,) I haue made thee a lyghte of the Gentiles, that thou be the saluation vnto the ende of the worlde.

48 And when the Gentiles hearde thys, they were glad, and glorifyed the worde of the Lord: and as many as were ordeyned to eternall lyfe, beleeued.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jewes moued the deuout (c) and honest women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raysed persecution against Paul & Barnabas, and expelled them out of theyr coastes.

51 But they shooke off the dust of their (d) feete agaynste them, & came vnto Iconium, 52 And the disciples were fylled with ioye, and with the holy ghost.

c. These were wealthy and substanciall women, and yet superstitious, being led with a blinde zeale, whome the common people esteemed very godly, and therefore Luke speaketh here of these women according to the world esteemed of them.

d. This they did according to the commaundemente of the Gospell, for a witnesse of their trauayle, that they came into their citie, and offered to them the doctrine of the Gospell, which they contemned, and thereby signifyed also that they so detested theyr company, for this their contempte, that they would not haue the dust of their citie hang vpon their shoes.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1 AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both togeather into the synagogue of the Jewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jewes, and also of the Greekes beleeued. A

2 But the vnbeleeuing Jewes stirred vp, and corrupted the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3 Long tyme therefore abode they there, speaking speaking boldely with the helpe of the Lorde, which gaue testimonie vnto the worde of hys grace, and graunted signes and wonders to be done by their handes.

4 But the multitude of the citie (a) was diuided: and part held with the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Iewes, with their rulers, to do them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fled vnto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth round about.

7 And there were they preachyng the (b) Gospell.

8 And there sate a certayne man at Lystra weake in his feete, being a creeple from hys mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.

9 The same hearde Paul speake: whiche beholding him, and perceyuing that hee hadde fayth to be whole,

10 Sayde with a loude voyce, Stand vpryght on thy feete: and he start vp, & walked.

11 And when the people sawe what Paul had done, they lyft vp their voyces, saying in the speache of Lycaonia, The Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, bycause hee was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Jupiters priest, whiche was before their citie, brought oxen and garlandes, vnto the dore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

¶ 14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent theyr clothes, & ranne in among the people, crying, 15 And saying, Syrs, why do ye these things? We also are mortall men like vnto you, and preach vnto you the Gospell, that ye shoulde turne from these vanities, vnto the lyuing God, whiche made heauen, and earthe, and the sea, and all things that are therein.

18 And with these sayings scarse refrayned they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thyther came certayne Iewes from Antioch and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the (c) people, & had stoned Paul, drewe him out of the citie, supposing he had bin dead.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stood rounde about him, he rose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day hee departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospell to that citie, and had taught many, they returned agayne to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioche, D

22 And strengthed the disciples soules agayne, and exhorted them to continue in the faythe, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God. Acts.14. 2. Tim.3.

23 And when they had ordeyned them elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with (d) fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whome they beleeued.

24 And whē they had gone throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had spoken the worde (of God) in Perga, they descended into Attalia.

26 And thence departed by ship to Antioche, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke whyche they fulfylled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Churche togeather, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and howe he had opened the dore of faith vnto ỹ Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples. ¶

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thing, when we were come togeather with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their liues for the name of our Lord Jesu Christe.

27 We haue sente therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tel you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy ghost, and E to vs, to lay vppon you no greater burthen than these necessary things.

29 (That is to say,) That yee abstayne from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication: from whiche if ye keepe your selues, yee shall doe well. So fare ye well.

30 Now therefore, when they were departed, they came to Antioche: and when they had gathered the multitude togeather, they deliuered the Epistle.

31 Which when they had read, they reioyced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas beyng prophetes also them selues, exhorted the brethren wyth many words, and strengthed them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abyde there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in F Antioche, teaching and preaching the worde of the Lorde, with other many also.

36 But after a certayne space, Paul sayd vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe agayne and visite our brethren in euery citie where we haue vttered the worde of the Lorde, and knowe (and see) how they do.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsell to take wyth them John, whose syrname was Marke.

38 But

Actes. 12 c.

38 But Paul would not take him vnto theyr company, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

c. God suffereth the most perfect to fall, and yet turne their infirmities to the setting foorth of his glory, as this breache of company, caused the Gospel to be preached in moe places.

39 And (c) the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: & so Barnabas toke Marke, and sayled vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas and departed, being committed of the brethren vnto ỳ grace of God.

41 And he went throughe Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

The. xvi. Chapter.

1. Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7. The spirite calleth them from one countrey to another. 24. Lydia is conuerted. 28. Paul and Silas imprisoned, conuert the iaylour, 37. and are deliuered bycause they be Romanes.

A 1 Then came he to Derbe, and to Lystra: and beholde, a certayne disciple was there, named Timotheus, a womans sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleeued: but hys father was a Greeke.

2 Whiche was well reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul would that he should goe forth with him, and toke and circumcised him, bycause of the Jewes whyche were in those quarters: for they knewe all that his father was a Greeke.

4 And as they went throughe the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were ordeyned of the Apostles and elders which were at Hierusalem.

Actes. 15. c.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gone throughout Phrygia, and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy ghost to preache the worde in Asia,

Rom. 1. c.

8 And they passyng throughe Mysia, came downe to Troada.

Actes. 18. c.

9 And a visiõ appeared to Paul in the night: There stode a mã of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, and helpe vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gatheryng by conference, that the Lord had called vs for to preach the Gospell vnto them.

11 Thẽ we being caryed from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, whiche is the chiefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and we were in that citie abyding certayne dayes.

13 And on the day of the Sabboths we went out of the citie beside a ryuer, where prayer was wont to be made: and we sate downe, and spake vnto the women whych resorted thyther.

14 And a certayne woman named Lydia, a C seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, whych worshipped God, gaue vs audience: whose hart the Lorde opened, that she attended vnto the thyngs which were spoke of Paul.

15 And when she was baptised and hir housholde, shee besought vs, saying, If ye haue iudged me to be faythfull to the Lorde, come into my house, and abyde there. And she cõstrayned vs.

16 And it came to passe, as we went to prayer, a certayne damsell possessed with a spirite of (a) soothsaying, mette vs: whych brought hir maisters muche vantage with soothsaying.

a. Why coulde thynges and gyftes thinges which ledge in things permitte the Deuil thys cu Augustin teth, that mighte more m deceyue that wo leeue by Math. Actes.

17 The same folowed Paul and vs, and cryed, saying, These men are the seruants of the most hygh God, whiche shewe vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul not content, turned about, and sayde to the spirite, I commaunde thee in the name of Jesu Christ, that thou come out of hir. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when hir maisters sawe that ỳ hope of their gaynes was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drewe them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These men beyng Jewes, doe exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preach ordinãces, which are not lawfull for vs to receyue, neyther to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 And the people rane against them, and the officers rent theyr clothes, and commaunded to beate them with roddes.

23 And when they had layde many stripes vppon them, they cast them into prison, commanding the iayler of the prison to keepe them diligently.

24 Whiche when hee hadde receyued suche commaundemente, thrust him into the inner prison, and made theyr feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed, and lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and immediately all the doores opened, and euerie mans bandes were loosed.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and saw the prison doores open, he drewe out his woorde, and would haue killed him selfe, supposing that the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paule cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paule and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and sayde, Syrs, what must I doo to be saued?

31 And they sayd, Beleeue on the Lord Iesus Christe, and thou shalt be saued, and thy household.

32 And they spake vnto him the woord of the Lord, and to all that were in his house:

33 And he toke them the same houre of the nyght, and washed their woundes, and was baptised him selfe, and all they of his household straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, & ioyed y he with all his household beleeued on God.

35 And when it was day, the officers sente the sergeantes saying, Let those men go.

36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this saying to Paule, The officers haue sent woord to lowse you: now therefore get you hence, and goe in peace.

37 Then sayd Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romanes, and haue cast vs into prison, nowe do they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verily: but let them come them selues, and fetche vs out.

38 And the sergeantes tolde these woordes vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into (the house) of Lydia, and whē they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

The.xvij. Chapter.

1. Paule commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore. 15. Paul escapeth to Athens, where he preacheth the vnknowne God.

1 NOw they made their iourney through Amphypolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paule, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabboth dayes disputed with them out of the scriptures,

3 Opening and alledging that Christ must needes haue suffered and risen agayne from the dead: and that this is Christ Iesus which I preach vnto you. Luke. 24. g

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paule and Silas, and of the deuout Greekes a great multitude, & of the chiefe women not a fewe. Acts. 18. k

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, moued with enuie, toke vnto them certayne vagabondes, and lewd men, and gathered a compaine, and set all the citie on a roare: and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they founde them not, they drew Iason and certein brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying: These that haue troubled the world, are come hither also.

7 Whome Iason hath receyued (priuily:) and these all do contrarie to the decrees of Cesar, (a) saying that there is another king, (one) Iesus. John. 19. c. a Like quarelyking they striue against Christ: and these be the weapons that by the worlde continually fighteth against the members of Christ: treason & sedition.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken sufficient suertie of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul & Silas by night vnto Berea: whiche when they were come thyther, they entred into the synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were the noblest of byrth among them of Thessalonica, which receyued the woord with all readynesse of mynde, and searched the scriptures dayly, whether those things were so. John. 5. g

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honest women whiche were Greekes, and of men not a fewe.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the woord of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thyther, and moued the people.

14 And the immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus aboade there still. Acts. 18. b.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him with speed, and went their way.

16 While Paul wayted for them at Athens, his spirite was moued in him, when he sawe the citie giuen to worshipping of idols.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market daply with them that came vnto him by chance.

18 Then certaine Philosophers of the (b) Epicures, and of the (c) Stoikes, disputed with him: and some sayde, What will this babbler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of newe gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.

19 And they toke him, and brought him vnto the streete of Mars, saying, May we knowe what this newe doctrine whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our eares, we would knowe therefore what these things meane.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there, had leysure to nothing else, but either to tell or to heare some newe thing.)

22 Then Paule stode in the middes of the streete of Mars, and sayde, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld the maner howe ye worship your gods, I founde an aulter wherein was written, Vnto an vnknowne God. Whome ye then ignorantly worship, him shewe I vnto you.

24 God that made the worlde, and all that are in it, seeing that he is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with handes:

25 Neyther is worshipped with mennes hands, as though he needed of any thing, seeing he him selfe giueth lyfe and breath to all creatures:

26 And hath made of one bloud, al nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and also the bonds of their habitation:

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if perhaps they might haue felte and founde him: though he be not farre from euerie one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue oure beyng, as certayne of youre owne Poetes haue sayde, For we are also his offspring.

29 For as muche then as we are the (d) offspring of God, we ought not to think that the godhead is like vnto golde, siluer, or stone, grauen by art and mans deuice.

30 And the time of this ignorance God winked at, but nowe biddeth all men euerie where to repent:

31 Bycause he hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the worlde in righteousnesse, by that man whome he hath appointed, and hath offred fayth to all men, in that he hath raysed him from the dead.

32 And when they hearde of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: and other sayde, We will heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certayne men claue vnto him, and beleeued: among the which was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The.xviij. Chapter.

1. Paule preacheth at Corinth. 19. Paule goeth againe into Syria, and commeth to Ephesus and Antioch. 24. Of Apollos. 26. Aquilla and Priscilla.

1 After these things, Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth,

2 And founde a certaine Iewe named Aquila, borne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla (bycause that Claudius had comaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) & he came vnto the.

3 And bycause he was of the same craft, he aboade with them, and wrought, (for by their occupation they were tent makers.)

4 And he disputed in the synagogue euerie Sabboth, and exhorted the Iewes and the Greekes.

5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paule was constrayned by the spirite to testifie to the Iewes, that Iesus was Christe.

6 And when they sayde contrary, and blaspheamed, he shoke his rayment, and sayde vnto them. Your bloude be (e) vpon your owne heades: from henceforth will I go blameles vnto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certayne mans house named Justus, a worshipper of God, whose house ioyned harde to the synagogue,

8 And one Crispus, the chiefe ruler of the synagogue, beleeued on the Lorde with al his housholo: and many of the Corinthians hearing, beleeued, and were baptised.

9 Then spake the Lord to Paul in y night by a vision, Be not afrayd but speake, and holde not thy peace.

10 For I am with thee: and no man shall assaile thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this citie.

11 And he continued there a yere, and sixe monethes, teaching the worde of God among them.

12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accorde against Paul, and brought him to the iudgement seate, 13 Saying, This fellow perswadeth men to worship God contrary to the lawe.

14 And when Paule nowe was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayde vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wrong, or an euill deede, O ye Iewes, reason would that I should beare with you:

15 But if it be a question of wordes and names, or of your lawe, looke to it your selues: for I will be no iudge of such matters.

16 And he draue them from the iudgement seate.

17 Then all the Grecians toke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the synagogue, and smote him before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 And Paul after this tarved (there) yet a good while, and then toke his leaue of the brethren, and sayled thence into Syria, (Aquila and Priscilla accompanying him) and he shaue his head in (b) Cenchrea: for he had a vowe.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he him selfe entred into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.

20 When they desired him to tarie longer time with them, he consented not:

21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needes at this feaste that commeth, be in Ierusalem: but I will returne agayne vnto you if God will: and he sayled from Ephesus.

22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and ascended vp, and saluted the Church, he went to Antioch.

23 And when he had tarved there a while, he departed, and went ouer all the country of Galatia and Phrygia by order, strengthening all the disciples.

24 And a certayne Iewe named Apollos, borne at Alexandria, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, & mighty in the scriptures.

25 The same was enstrumed in the way of the Lorde, and being feruent in the spirite, hee spake and taught diligently the things of the Lorde, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.

26 And the same began to speake boldly in the synagogue: Whom when Aquilla and Priscilla had heard, they toke him vnto them, and (c) expounded vnto him the way of God perfitly.

c. Apollo being a wittie & a learned man was not ashamed to be taught & instructed in the doctrine of Christ of a poore crafts man & his wife.

27 And when he was disposed to goe into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receiue him: Which when he was come, helped them much which had beleeued through grace.

28 For he ouercame the Iewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christ.

The xix. Chapter.

3. Of baptisme. 6. Of the holy ghost giuen by Paules handes. 9. The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paule. 13. The punishment of coniurers. 24. Demetrius raiseth sedition. 41. God deliuereth his, and appeaseth the sedition.

1 AND it came to passe, that whyle Apollos was at Corinth, Paul passed thorowe the vpper coastes, and came to Ephesus, and found certayne disciples,

2 And sayde vnto them, Haue ye receyued the (a) holy ghoste since ye beleeued? And they sayde vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy ghost or no.

a. By the holy ghost, here he meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirite.

3 And he sayde vnto them, vnto what then were ye baptized? And they sayde, Vnto (b) Iohns baptisme.

b. By this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrin, which therefore is so called, for that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.

4 Then sayde Paule, Iohn verily baptised with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptised in (c) the name of the Lord Iesus.

c. They that were baptised, were not baptised with water, being before baptised of Iohn with water: but thei were baptised with visible gifts of the holy ghost, which S. Luke declaring how it was, writeth that it was by the laying on of S. Paules handes.

6 And when Paule had layde his handes vpon them, the holy ghost came on them, & they spake with tongs, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelue.

8 And he went into the Synagogue, and spake boldely for the space of three monethes, disputing and perswading those things that (appertayne) to the kingdome of God.

9 But when diuers waxed harde hearted, and beleeued not, but spake euyll of the way (of the Lord) and that before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples: and he disputed dayly in the schole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeeres, so that all they which dwelte in Asia, heard the worde of the Lorde Jesus, both Jewes and Greekes.

Mark.16.d Actes.5.c. 11 And God wrought speciall myracles by the handes of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlets, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirites went out of them.

Math.16.d. 13 Then certayne of the vagabond Jewes exorcistes, toke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirites, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We coniure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

Math.7.c. 14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Jewe, and chiefe of the priestes, which did so.

15 And the euill spirite answered, and sayd, Jesus I knowe, and Paule I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whome the euill spirite was, ranne on them, and ouercame them, and preuayled agaynst them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowne to all the Jewes and Greekes also which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

Mark.1.a. 18 And many that beleeued, came, and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious crafts, brought their bookes, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fiftie thousand peeces of siluer.

20 So mightily grewe the worde of God, and preuayled.

D 21 After these things were ended, Paule purposed in the spirite, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of the that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he him selfe remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no little adoe about that way.

24 For a certaine man named Demetrius, a siluer smyth, which made syluer shrynes for Diana, ministred no small gayne vnto the craftesmen:

Actes.16.d. 25 Whome hee called together, with the workemen of lyke occupation, and sayde, Syrs, ye knowe that by this craft we haue aduantage.

26 Moreouer, ye see & heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paule hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods which are made with handes. Psal.115.

27 So that not onely this our craft commeth into perill to be set at nought: but also that the temple of the great Goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence shoulde be destroyed, whome all Asia & the worlde worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they E were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And all the citye was on a roare, and they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paules companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 Certayne of the chiefe of Asia, which were his frendes, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not presse into the common hall.

32 Some therefore cryed one thing, and some another, and the assembly was all out of quiet, and the more parte knewe not wherefore they were come together.

33 And (certayne) of the people drewe Alexander out of the multitude, the Jewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander Actes.21. beckened with the hande, and would haue giuen the people an answere.

34 But when they knewe that hee was a Jewe, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres, of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacified F the people, he sayde, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is " the temple Some read a worship keeper of the great Goddesse Diana, and of the (image) which came downe from Jupiter.

36 Seeing then that these things can not be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hyther these men, which are neyther robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But if ye enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardie to be accused of this dayes vprore, for as muche as there is no cause whereby we may giue a reckoning of this concourse of people.

41 And

41 And when he had thus ſpoken, he let the aſſembly depart.

The.xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia. 7. he celebrateth the Lordes ſupper, and preacheth. 9. At Troas he rayſeth vp Eutichus from the deade. 17. At Epheſus he calleth the elders of the Church together, and committeth the keeping of Gods flocke to them. 29. warneth them of falſe teachers. 36. maketh his prayer with them. 38. and departeth by ſhip towardes Ieruſalem.

1 AND after the vproze was ceaſſed, Paul called the diſciples, and toke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia.

2 And when he had gone ouer thoſe partes, and had giuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there aboade three monethes: and when the Jewes layde wayte for him, as he was about to ſayle into Syria, he purpoſed to returne through Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Aſia Sopater of Berea: & of the Theſſalonians Ariſtarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Aſia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5 Theſe going before, taryed vs at Troas:

6 And we ſayled away from Philippos, after the dayes of ſweete breade, and came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where we aboade ſeuen dayes.

7 And vppon one of the Sabboth dayes, when the diſciples came together for to breake breade, Paule reaſoned with them, ready to depart on the morrowe, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lightes in an vpper chamber where they were gathered together.

9 And there ſate in a windowe a certayne yong man named Eutichus, being falne into a depe ſleepe, and as Paule was long reaſoning, hee was the more ouercome with ſleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fell on him, and imbraced him, and ſayde, Make nothing a do: for his life is in him.

11 When he therfore was come vp againe, and had broken breade and eaten, and talked a long while, euen till the morning, ſo he departed.

12 And they brought the yong man aliue, and were not a litle comforted.

13 And we went afore to ſhippe, and ſayled vnto Aſſon, there to receyue Paule: for ſo had hee appoynted, mynding him ſelfe to goe afote.

14 And when he was come to vs to Aſſon, we toke him in, and came to Mitylene. C

15 And we ſayled thence, and came the next day ouer againſt Chios, and the next day we aryued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paule had determined to ſayle ouer by Epheſus, becauſe he would not ſpende the time in Aſia: for he haſted, if it were poſſible for him, to be at Ieruſalem the day of Pentecoſt.

17 And from Miletum he ſent to Epheſus, and called the elders of the church.

18 Whiche when they were come to him, he ſayde vnto them, Ye knowe from the firſte daye that I came into Aſia, after what manner I haue bene with you at all ſeaſons.

19 Seruing the Lord with all humbleneſſe of mind, and with many teares and temptations, whiche came vnto me by the layings awaite of the Jewes:

20 And howe I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue ſhewed you, and haue taught you openly, and throughout euery houſe:

21 Witneſſing both to the Jewes and alſo to the Greekes, the repentance that is towarde God, and the fayth whiche is toward our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. D Luke.24.f.

22 And nowe beholde, I goe bound(a) in the ſpirite vnto Ieruſalem, not knowing the things that ſhall come vnto me:

23 But that the holy ghoſt witneſſeth in euery citie, ſaying that bonds and troubles abyde me.

24 But none of theſe thinges moue me, neither count I my lyfe deare vnto my ſelfe, ſo that I might fulfill my courſe with ioy, and the miniſterie which I haue receiued of the Lord Jeſu, to teſtifie the Goſpell of the grace of God.

25 And now beholde, I am ſure that henceforth ye all, among whome I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, ſhall ſee my face no more.

26 Wherfore I take you to record this day that I am pure from the bloud of al men.

27 For I haue kept nothing back, but haue ſhewed you all the counſell of God.

28 Take heede therefore vnto your ſelues, and to all the flocke, ouer the whiche the holie ghoſte hath made you ouerſeers, to E

29 For I knowe this, that after my departing, shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shal men arise, speaking peruerse things, to(c) draw away disciples after them.

31 Therfore watche, and remember that by the space of three yeres I ceased not to warne euery one night & day with teares.

32 And nowe brethren I commende you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to builde further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue desyred no mans siluer, or golde, or vesture.

34 Yea, ye your selues knowe, that these handes haue ministred vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, howe that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lorde Iesu (howe that he saide) It is more blessed to giue, than to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, & fell on Paules necke, and kissed him, 38 Sorrowing most of all for the wordes which he spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

The.xxi. Chapter.

1. Paules iourney by shippe. 8. Of Philip the Euangelist. 10. and Agabus the prophete. which warneth Paule not to goe to Ierusalem. 13. Hee remayned stedfast in his purpose, and is taken.

1 AND when it came to passe that we had blanched forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, and the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had founde a shippe sayling vnto Phenice, we went aboorde, and set forth.

3 Nowe when Cyprus began to appeare (vnto vs) we left it on the lefte hande, and sayled into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the ship vnladed the burthen,

4 And when we had founde disciples, we taryed there seuen dayes: who sayde to Paule through the spirite, that he shoulde not goe vp to Ierusalem.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, till we were come out of the citie: & we kneeled down in the shore, & prayed. Actes.20.

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we toke ship, and they returned home agayne.

7 When we had ful ended the course from B Tyre, we went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and aboade with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Pauls companie departed, and came vnto Cesarea: and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (which was one of the Actes.6.d. & 8.a. seuen) and aboade with him.

9 And the same man had foure daughters Ioel.2.g. virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we taryed there a good many of dayes, there came a certaine prophete from Iurie, named Agabus.

11 And when hee was come vnto vs, hee toke Paules girdle, and bounde his owne handes and feete, and sayde, Thus sayth the holy ghost, So shall the Iewes at Ierusalem bynde the man that oweth this gyrdle, and shall deliuer him into the handes of the Gentiles. Actes.9.c. 2.Cor.11.

12 And when we hearde these things, both we, and other whiche were of the same place, besought him that he would not goe vp to Ierusalem.

13 Then Paule answered, what doe yee weeping and vexing myne heart? for I am ready, not to be bounde only, but also to dye at Ierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.

14 And when we could not turn his mind, C we ceased, saying, The will of the Lorde be fulfilled. Math.6.

15 And after those dayes we toke vp our burthens, and went vp to Ierusalem.

16 There went with vs also (certaine) of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an olde disciple, with whome we should lodge. Actes.9.c.

17 And when we were come to Ierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And on the morrow Paul went in with vs vnto(a) James, and all the elders came together.

19 And when he had saluted them, he tolde by order all things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministerie.

20 And when they heard (it) they glorified the Lorde, and sayde vnto him, Thou seest brother howe manye thousande Iewes there 21 And they are enformed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes whiche are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke (after) the customes.

22 What is it therfore? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Doe therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure men whiche haue a vowe on them, 24 Them take, and purifie thy selfe with them, and doe cost on them, that they may shaue their heades: and all shall knowe that those things which they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the lawe.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue, we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no such thing, saue only that they keepe them selues from things offered to idols, and from bloud, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paule toke the men, and the next day purifying him selfe with them, entred into the temple, declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, until that an offering should be offered for euery one of them.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they sawe him in the temple, moued all the people, and layde handes on him, 28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euerie where against the people, & the law, and this place: he hath also brought Greekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the citie Trophimus an Ephesian, whome they supposed that Paule had brought into the temple.)

30 And al the citie was moued, and the people swarmed together: and they toke Paule, and drewe him out of the temple: and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tydings came vnto the byghe captayne of the souldiers, that all Ierusalem was in an vprore.

32 Which (immediately) toke (b) souldiers, and vnder captaynes, and ranne downe vnto them: and when they sawe the chiefe captayne and the souldiers, they left smyting of Paule.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neare, and toke him, and commaunded him to be bound with two chaynes, and demaunded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cryed one thing, some another, among the people: and when he could not knowe the certaynetie for the rage, hee commaunded him to be carryed into the castell.

35 And when he came vpon the stayres, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people folowed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And when Paul began to be caried into the castell, he saide vnto the high captayne, May I speake vnto thee: Who sayde, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 Arte thou not that Egyptian which before these dayes madest an vprore, and ledest out into the wildernesse foure thousand men that were murtherers.

39 But Paule sayd, I am a man which am a Iewe of Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citizen of no vile citie: and I beseeche thee suffer me to speake vnto the people. Actes.9.b. & 22.a.

40 And when hee had giuen him licence, Paule stode on the stayres, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrue tong, saying. Actes.22.f.

Actes.9.a.

8 And I answered, Who art thou Lorde? And he sayd vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth(a) whom thou persecutest.

a. Iesus was now in heauē, and could not be persecuted of Paule: But the persecutiō which Paul exercised against the faithfull being his mēbers, Christe counted it as done to him selfe.

9 And they that were with me sawe verily the light, and were afrayd: but they heard not the voyce of him that spake to me.

10 And I saide, What shall I doe Lorde? And the Lorde sayde vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus: and there it shall be tolde thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I sawe nothing for ỳ brightnesse of the light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this worde, and then lift vp their voyces, and sayde, Away with such (a felowe) from the earth: for it is no reason that he shoulde liue.

23 And as they cryed, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the ayre, 24 The chiefe captayne commaunded him to be brought into the castell, and bad that he should be skourged, and examined: that he might knowe wherefore they cryed so on him.

25 And as they bounde him with thongs, Paule saide vnto the Centurion that stod by, Is it lawfull for you to skourge a man that is a(b) Romane, and vncondemned?

b. He was born at Rome but at Tarsis the citizens whereof enioyed the priuiledge of the cite of Rome, and were counted as Romanes.

26 When the Centurion heard that, hee went and tolde the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou dost: for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and sayd vnto him, Tell me, arte thou a Romane? He saide, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obteyned I this freedome. And Paul saide, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from hym they which shoulde haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afrayde after hee knewe that hee was a Romane, and bycause he had bound him.

30 On the morrowe, bicause he would haue knowne the certaintie wherefore he was accused of the Iewes, hee loosed him from his bandes, and commaunded the byghe priestes and all the counsell to come together, and brought Paule forth, and set him before them.

4 And they that stode by, saide, Reuilest thou Gods high priest?

5 Then

5 Then saide Paule, I wist not brethrē (b) that he was ỳ high priest: For it is written, Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Saducees and the other Pharisees, he cryed out in the counsel, Menne and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And when he had so saide, there arose a debate betweene the Pharisees & the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 For the Saducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirite: but the Pharisees confesse both.

9 And there arose a great crye: And when the Scribes whiche were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, We finde no euil in this man: but if a spirite, or an angel hath spoken to him, let vs not striue against God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captaine fearing least Paule should haue bin pluckt asunder of them, commaunded the souldiers to goe down, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castel.

11 And the night following: the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheare Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Ierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Iewes gathered them selues together, and made a (c) bowe, saying that they woulde neither eate, nor drinke, till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were moe than fourtie (men) which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe priestes and elders, & saide, We haue bound our selues with a bowe, that we will eate nothing vntil we haue slaine Paul.

15 Nowe therefore giue ye knowledge to the chiefe captaine, and to the counsel, that he bring him forth vnto you to morowe, as though ye woulde knowe some thing more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neare, are ready to kil him.

16 And when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying awayte, he went and entred into the castel and tolde Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captaines vnto him, and saide, Bring this yong man vnto the high captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shewe him.

18 And he toke him, and brought him to the high captaine, and saide, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath a certaine matter to shewe thee.

19 Then the high captaine toke him by the hand, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, What is it that thou hast to tel me?

20 And he saide, The Iewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldst bring forth Paul to morowe into the counsell, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But folowe not thou their mindes: for there lye in wayte for him of them moe than fourtie menne, whiche haue bounde them selues with a bowe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, til they haue killed him: and nowe are they ready, & looke for a promise from thee. D

22 The chiefe captaine then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And he called vnto him two vnder captaines, saying, Make redy two hundred souldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and tenne, and spearemen two hundred, at the thirde houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mightie ruler Felix, sendeth greetings.

27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bin killed of them: Then came I with an armie and rescued him, and perceiued that he was a Romane: Acts.16.f.

28 And when I woulde haue knowen the cause wherfore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsel, Acts.22.g.

31 Then the souldiers, as it was commaunded them, toke Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatridis.

32 On the morowe, they left the horsemen to goe with him, & returned vnto ỳ castel.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtesie a fewe wordes.

5 For we haue founde this man a pestilent felowe, and a mouer of debate vnto al the Iewes in the whole world, and a mayntayner of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 Which also hath gone about to pollute the temple: whom we toke, and would haue iudged accordyng to our lawe.

Actes.21.c.

7 But the high captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence toke him away out of our handes.

8 Commaunding his accusers to come vnto thee: of whom thou mayest, if thou wilt enquire, knowe the certaynte of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes like wise affirmed, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie him selfe had beckened vnto him that he should speake, answered, With a more quiet mind do I answere for my self, forasmuch as I vnderstande, that thou hast beene of many yeeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Ierusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither founde me in the temple disputing with any man, eyther raysing vp the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proue the thinges whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I cõfesse vnto thee, that after the way whiche they cal (b) heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all things whiche are written in the lawe and the prophetes.

The.xxv. Chapter.

2. The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8. He answereth for him selfe. 11. and appeleth vnto the Emperour. 14. his matter is brought before Agrippa. 23. and hee is brought forth.

1 Then when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea vnto Ierusalem.

2 Then enfourmed him the high priest and the chiefe of the Iewes against Paul, and they besought him.

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would sende for him to Ierusalem, laying waite in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he him selfe would shortly depart thither.

5 Let them therefore, saide he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse him, if there be any faulte in this man.

6 And when he had taried among them more than tenne dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day sate down in the iudgement seate, and commaunded Paul to be brought.

7 Who being come, the Iewes whiche were come from Ierusalem, stode about (him) and laide many and greeuous complaintes against Paul, which they coulde not (a) proue.

8 While he answered (for him selfe) that neither against the lawe of the Iewes, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to doe the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and saide, Wilt thou goe vp to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then saide Paule, I stande at Cesars iudgement seate, where I ought to bee iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For if I doe any wrong, or haue committed any thing worthie of death, I refuse not to die, but if there be none (of these things) whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer me to them. I appeale vnto (b) Cesar.

b: The iniquitie of the iudge, who contrary to equitie, willing to pleasure the Iewes, deuised howe to betray Paule, draue Paul to appeale, which is, the vttermost remedie for such as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by Gods prouidence was a meane that Paule should testifie of Christ at Rome also.

12 Then spake Festus, with the counsell, and answered: Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa, and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had bin there a good season, Festus rehearsed Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in bandes of Felix, 15 About whom, when I came to Ierusalem, the high priestes and elders of the Iewes enfourmed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romanes, for fauour to deliuer any man that he should perishe, before that he whiche is accused haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answere for him selfe, concerning the crime layde against him.

17 Therefore when they were come hither, without any delay, on the morowe I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when ỳ accusers stode vp, they brought none accusation of such thinges as I supposed: Actes.23.f.

19 But had certain questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would goe to Ierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commaunded him to be kept, tyl I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa saide vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morowe saide he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morow when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pompe, and were entred into the counsell house, with the chiefe captaines & chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commaundement was Paul brought forth.

24 And Festus saide, King Agrippa, and all men whiche are here present with vs, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of ỳ Iewes haue entreated me, both at at Jerusalem, and also here crying that he ought not to live any longer.

25 Yet fonde I nothing worthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheles, seing that he hath appeale to Augustus, I haue determined to sende him:

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lorde: Wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write, 27 For me thinketh it vnreasonable for to sende a prisoner, and not to shewe the causes whiche are layde against him.

The xxvi. Chapter.

1 King Agrippa heareth Paule. 25. Paules modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

1 Then Agrippa saide vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hande, and answered (for him selfe.)

2 I thinke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee, of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all customes & questions whiche are among (a) the Iewes: Wherefore I beseeche thee to heare me patiently.

4 My life that I haue ledde of a childe whiche was at ẏ first among mine owne nation at Jerusalem, know al ẏ Iewes.

5 Which knew me from the beginning (if they would testifie) that after the most straightest sect of our (b) religion, I liued a Pharisee.

6 And nowe I stande, and am iudged for the hope of ẏ promise made of God vnto our fathers.

7 Vnto whiche promise our twelue tribes instantly seruing god day and night hope to come: For which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God raiseth ẏ dead?

9 I also verily thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things, cleane against the name of Jesus of Nazareth:

10 Which thing I also did in Jerusalem, and many of the saintes did I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high priestes, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence.

11 And I punished them oft in euery synagogue, & commpelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more made vpon them, and persecuted the euen vnto strange cities.

12 About which things as I went to Damascus, with authoritie and commission of the high priestes, 13 Euen at midday, O king, I sawe in the way a light from heauen, aboue ẏ brightnesse of the Sunne, shine rounde about me, and them which iourned with me.

14 And when they were al fallen to ẏ earth, I heard a voyce speaking vnto me in the Hebrue tong, and saying, Saule, Saule, why persecutest thou me? It is harde for thee to kicke against the prickes. Actes 9. v. 22. c

15 And I said, Who art thou Lorde? And he saide, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stand vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnesse, both of those things which thou hast sene, and of those things in the whiche I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom nowe I sende thee, 18 To open their eyes, that they may bee turned from darkenesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by fayth that is in me.

19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout al the coastes of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe such workes as become the that repent.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the temple, and went about to kil me.

22 Seeing therfore that I haue obtayned helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to smal & great, saying none other things than those whiche the prophetes & Moses did say should come.

23 That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for him selfe, Festus saide with a loude voyce, Paul thou art beside thy (c) selfe, much learning doth make thee mad,

25 But he said, I am not mad most noble Festus, but speake forth the wordes of truth

a. He knewe muche, but he fayled in the right applying of hys knowledge, as they doo which be wyse in their owne conceiptes only, and haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

b. He taketh the sect of the Pharisies to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better than the other sectes. The Saducees denied the resurrection of the dead. The Essens glorying in straightnes of lyfe, litle regarded true doctrine.

Actes. 8. a. 1. Co. 15. b. Galat. 2. c.

c. Festus ing much troubled Paules de ration, and uing such to say ag yet would yelde vnt but clam roudly co ned it as ked & fu ticious, worldlin are loth cumbred godly m and coun suche fall that wol themselu therewith

26 For the king knoweth of these thinges, before whom also I speake freely: neyther beleue I that any of these thinges are hidden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, beleuest thou the prophetes? I wote well that thou beleuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Somewhat perswadest thou me to be a christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that heare me to day, were both some what, and also in a great deale such as I am, except these bondes.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, & the Deputie, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doth nothing worthy of death, or of bondes.

32 Then said Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue bin let loose, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

The .xxvij. Chapter.

1 Paul shippeth towardes Rome. 3. Iulius the captaine entreateth him curteously. 41. And at the last they suffer shipwracke.

1 AND when it was concluded that we should sayle into Italie, they deliuered both Paul & certaine other prisoners vnto one named Iulius, an vnder captaine of Augustus bande.

2 And we entred into a ship of Adramyttium, and loosed from lande, appointed to sayle by the coastes of Asia, one Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarying stil with vs.

3 And the next day we came to Sidon, and Iulius curteously entreated Paule, and gaue him liberty to go vnto his friendes, and to refreshe him selfe.

4 And when we had launched fro thence, we sayled harde by Cypres, because the windes were contrary.

5 And when he had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra (a citie) which is in Lycia.

6 And there the vnder captaine founde a ship of Alexandria, sayling into Italie, and he put vs therein.

7 And when he had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarce were come ouer against Gnidum, because the winde withstode vs, we sayled harde by " Candie, ouer against Salmone,

8 And with muche worke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place whiche is called the Fayre hauens, nigh wherunto was the citie of Lasea.

9 When muche time was spent, and when sayling was now ieopardous because also that the fast was now alredy past, Paul put them in remembrance,

10 And said vnto them, Sirs, I perceiue that this voyage will be with hurt and muche damage, not of the ladyng & ship only, but also of our lyues.

11 Neuertheles, the vnder captaine beleeued the gouernour and the maister of the ship, more than those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the hauen was not commodious to winter in, many took counsel to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attayne to Phenice, and there to winter, which is an hauen of Candie, and lyeth towarde the Southwest, and Northwest winde.

13 And when the South winde blewe softly, they supposing that they had obtayned their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sayled past Candie.

14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flawe of winde, out of the Northeast, which is called Euroclydon.

15 And when the shippe was caught, and could not resist the winde, we let her goe, and were driuen with the weather.

16 But we were caried into an Ile, which is called Clauda, and had much worke to come by a boate, 17 Which they toke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing least they should fall into the Syrtes: and so they let downe " a vessel, and were caryed.

18 The next day whe we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lightned ý ship.

19 And the third day we cast out with our owne handes the tackling of the shippe.

20 And when neyther the Sunne nor Starres in many dayes appeared, and no smal tempest lay vpon vs, al hope that we should be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stode forth in the middest of them, and said, Sirs, ye should haue hearkened to mee, and not to haue loosed from Candie, & to haue gained vnto vs this harme & losse.

22 And nowe I exhort you to be of good cheare: for there shal be no losse of any mans lyfe among you, but of the shippe.

23 For there stode by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, & whom I serue, 24 Saying,

" or, some read the Sayles.

Actes.25.

24 Saying, Feare not Paule, thou must be brought before Cesar, and lo, GOD hath giuen thee (a) all them that sayle with thee.

a. The graces and blessings whiche God giueth to his children, profite many times the enimies, whiche are vnworthy to receiue the fruit thereof.

25 Wherefore sirs, be of good cheare, for I beleeue God that it shall be euen as it was tolde me.

26 Howbeit, wee must be cast into a certaine Ilande.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were sayling in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drewe neare to some countrey.

28 And sounded, and found it twentie fadomes: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded againe, and founde it fifteene fadomes.

29 Then fearing lest we shoulde haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the shippe, when they had let downe the boate into the sea, vnder a colour as though they woulde haue cast ankers out of the foreship, 31 Paule saide vnto the vnder captaine, & to the souldiers, Except these abyde in the ship, (b) ye can not be saued.

b. Paul would vse such meanes as god had ordeined, lest he should seeme to haue tempted him.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the rope of the boate, and let it fal away.

33 And when the day began to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue tarried and continued fasting, receiuing nothing at al.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubte is for your health, for there shall not (c) an heare fall from the heade of any of you.

c. By this Hebrue speache is ment that they should be in al pointes safe & sound. 1. Tim. 4. a 35 And when he had thus spoken, he toke bread, and gaue thankes to God in presence of them all: and when he had broke it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good cheare, and they also toke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the shippe, two hundred, threescore & sixtiene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lightned the shippe and cast out ỳ wheate into the sea:

39 And when it was day, they knewe not the lande: but they spied a certaine hauen with a banke, into the whiche they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed (a) (them selues) vnto the sea, and losed the rudder bandes, and

a. Or, the ship.

hoysed vp the mayne sayle to the winde, and drewe to lande.

41 And when they fell into a place where two seas met, they thrust in the ship, and the foreparte stucke fast and moued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsell was to kil the prisoners, lest any of them when he had swomme out, should runne away.

43 But the vnder captaine willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commaunded that they which could swim should cast them selues first into the sea, and scape to lande:

44 And the other, some on bordes, & some on broken peeces of the shippe: And so it came to passe, ỳ they escaped al safe to land.

The.xxviij. Chapter.

1. The Viper hurteth not Paules hand, & he healeth Publius father. 23. & preacheth Christ at Rome.

1 AND when they were escaped, then they knewe that the Ile was called Melita. Actes.2

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no little kindnesse, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one, because of the present rayne, and because of the colde.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and layde them on the fyre, there came a Viper out of the heate, & caught him by the hand.

4 And when the strangers sawe the beast hang on his hande, they said among them selues, No doubt this man is (a) a murderer, whom though he haue escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to liue.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, whiche receiued vs, and lodged vs three dayes curteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a Feuer, & of a bloudy flixe, to whom Paul entred in, & prayed, and layd his handes on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was donne, other also whiche had diseases in the Ile, came, and were were healed.

10 Which also did vs great honour, and when we departed, they laded vs with such things as were necessarie:

11 And after three monethes we departed in a ship of Alexandria, whiche had wintred in the Ile, whose badge was (d) Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we taried there three dayes.

13 And from thence we fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blewe, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

C 14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarie with them seuen dayes: and so we came towarde Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren hearde of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three Tauernes: When Paul sawe them he thanked God and waxed bolde.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vnder captaine deliuered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwel by him selfe, with a souldier that kept him:

17 And it came to passe, that after three dayes, Paul called ỳ chiefe of the Iewes together. And when they were come together, he saide vnto them, Menne and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner frō Ierusalē into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Whiche when they had examined me, woulde haue let me go, bycause there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was cōstrained to appeale vnto Cesar: not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see (you,) and to speake with you: bycause that for the (e) hope of Israel I am bounde with this chaine:

21 And they said vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harme of thee.

D

22 But we will heare of thee what thou thinkest: for cōcerning this sect, we know that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophetes, euen frō morning to night. Luke.2.c.

24 And some were perswaded in the thinges whiche were spoken, and some beleeued not. Acts.17.a.

25 And whē they agreed not among them selues, they departed, after that Paule had spoken one worde, (that is to say,) Well spake the holy ghost by Esaias ỳ prophet, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, Go vnto this people, and say, With your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstande, and with your eyes shal ye see, and not perceiue. Esai.6.c. Mat.13.b. Mar..4.b. Luke.8.b. Ioan.12.f.

27 For the hart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed: least they shoulde see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstande with their hartes, and should be conuerted, and I should heale them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent to the Gentiles, and they shal heare it. E

29 And when he had saide these wordes, the Iewes departed, and had great reasoning among them selues.

30 And Paule dwelt two yeres ful in his owne hyred house, and receiued all that came in vnto him.

31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those things which concerne the Lorde Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

The Epistle of the Apostle

Saint Paul to the Romanes.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. Paul sheweth to whome and to what purpose he is called. 16. What the Gospell is. 18. The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20. The vse of the creatures. 24. The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

1 PAul the seruaunte of Iesus Christe, (a) called (to be) an Apostle, seuered into the Gospell of God,

2 Which he had promised afore by hys prophetes in the holy scriptures

3 Of his sonne, which was made of the seede of Dauid after the flesshe:

4 And hath bin declared to be the sonne of (b) God, with power after ỳ spirite that sanctifyeth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Iesus Christ our Lorde:

5 By whome we haue receyued grace and Apostleship, that obedience myght be geuen vnto the fayth in hys name among all heathē

6 Among whome, yee are also the called of Iesus Christ:

7 To all that be in Rome, beloued of Gods saintes by calling: Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lorde Iesus Christe.

8 Firste verily, I thanke my God thorough Iesus Christ for you all, that your fayth is published throughout all the worlde.

9 For God is my witnesse, whome I serue with my spirite in the Gospell of his sonne, ỳ without ceassing I make mentiō of you: John.4.b. 1.Cor.3.b.

10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might take a prosperous iourney by the wyl of God, to come vnto you. Philip.1.a. Colos.1.c.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestowe among you some spirituall gift, that ye might be stablished.

12 That is, that I myght haue consolation to-

a. By thys he declareth, that he came not into the office of the Apostleship by hys owne arrogancie, but by the calling of God, whereby he differeth from the false Apostles. Math.1.a.

b. Three maner of wayes Paul sheweth here Christ to be declared the sonne of God. First, by power and working of miracles. Secondly, by the holy ghost appearing in visible signes. Thyrdly, by hys resurrectiō from the dead. 1. Cor. 1. a. Gala.1.a.

on togeather with you, eache with others fayth, yours and myne.

13 I would that ye shoulde knowe brethren, howe that I haue often times purposed to come vnto you (and haue bene let hytherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am debter both to the Greekes, and to the (c) barbarous, both to the wise, and to the vnwyse.

15 So that as muche as in me is, I am ready to preach ỹ Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospell of Christ, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleeue, to the Iewe fyrst, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is ỹ ryghteousnesse of God opened from fayth to fayth. As it is written, The iust shall liue by fayth.

18 For the wrath of God (d) is reuealed from heaue, against all vngodlynesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, whiche (e) withholde the trueth in vnryghteousnesse.

19 For that that may be knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hathe shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible thinges, being vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the world, are seene, that is, both hys eternall power and godhead: so that they are without excuse.

21 Because that when they knewe God, (notwithstandyng) they glorifyed hym not as God, neyther were thankfull, but waxed full of vanities in theyr imaginations, and their foolish hart was blynded.

22 Whē they counted them selues wise, they became fooles.

23 And turned the glory of the incorruptible God vnto an image, made not onely after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of byrdes, and four footed beastes, and of creeping beastes.

24 Wherefore God gaue them vp to vncleannesse, through the lustes of their owne harts, that theyr owne bodyes shoulde be defyled among them selues.

25 Which changed his (f) trueth for a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, more than the creator, whiche is to be praysed for euer, Amen.

Rom.9.a.

3 What then though some of them did not beleeue? Shall theyr vnbeleefe make the (a) fayth of God without effect?

a. Whyche is the performance of Gods promise. For fayth is taken after two sortes, both for our beleefe, when we assure our selues that God wyll performe his promise, and also for the stedfastnesse of Gods promise to thys people. For although some of the Iewes did not beleeue, yet Gods trueth neuer fayled.

4 God forbyd: yea let God be true, and euery man a lyer, as it is written, That thou mightest be iustifyed in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged.

5 But if our vnrighteousnesse setteth forthe the ryghteousnesse of GOD, what shall we say? Is God vnrighteous whiche taketh vengeance? (I speake after the maner of men,)

6 God forbyd: for how then shall God iudge the worlde?

7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded thyrough my lye vnto hys glory, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner?

8 And not rather (as we bee slaunderously reported, and as some affirme that we saye) let vs do euill, that good may come therof? whose damnation is iust.

9 What then, are we better (than they?) No, in no wise: for we haue before accused both the Iewes and Gentiles, that they are all vnder synne:

10 As it is written, There is none righteous, no not one:

Psal.14.a. and.52.a.

11 There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnprofitable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

13 Their throte is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceyued, the poyson of aspes is vnder their lyppes.

14 Whose mouth is full of cursing and bytternesse:

15 Their feete are swift to shed blood.

16 Hartes griefe and miserie are in theyr wayes.

17 And the way of peace haue they not knowen.

18 Ther is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 Nowe we knowe that what thynges so euer the law sayeth, it sayth it to them whych are vnder the lawe: that euery mouth maye be stopped, and that all the worlde may be indangered to God.

20 Bycause that by the deedes of the (b) law, there shall no flesshe be iustifyed in his sight: For by the lawe commeth the knowledge of synne.

21 But nowe is the righteousnesse of God declared without the lawe, being witnessed by the lawe and the prophets.

22 The righteousnesse of God (commeth) by the fayth of Iesus Christe, vnto all, and vpon all them that beleeue. There is no differrence:

23 For all haue synned, and haue neede of the glory of God.

24 (But are) iustifyed freely by his grace, thorough the redemptiō that is in Christ Iesu:

25 Whome God hathe set fourthe to be a (c) propitiation, through fayth in his blood, to declare hys righteousnesse, by the forgiuing of the sinnes that are past, 26 Whiche God did suffer, to shewe at thys tyme hys righteousnesse: that he might bee iust, and the iustifyer of hym which beleeueth on Iesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? of workes? Nay: but by the lawe of fayth.

28 Therefore, we hold that a man is iustifyed by fayth, without the deedes of the lawe.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

30 For it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by (d) fayth, and vncircumcision through fayth.

31 Doe we then destroy the lawe thorough fayth? God forbid: but we rather maynteyne the lawe.

The. iiij. Chapter.

7. Iustification is the free gyft of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13. and also by the office of law and fayth.

1 WHat shall we say the that Abraham our father, as pertenyng to the flesshe, dyd synde?

2 For if Abraham were iustifyed by workes, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

3 For what sayeth the scripture? Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for ryghteousnesse.

4 To him that worketh, is the rewarde not reckened of grace, but of duetie.

5 To hym that worketh (a) not, but beleeueth on him that iustifyeth the (b) vngodly, hys fayth is counted for righteousnesse.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednesse of the man vnto whom God imputeth righteousnesse without workes:

7 (Saying,) Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered.

8 Blessed is that man to whome the Lorde will not impute synne.

9 (Came) this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision only, or vppon the vncircumcision also? For we say that fayth was reckened to Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 How was it then reckened? when he was in the circumcision, or (when he was) in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

11 And he receyued the signe of circumcision, as the (c) seale of the righteousnesse of fayth, whiche he had yet being vncircumcised, that he shoulde be the father of all them that beleeue, though they be not circumcised, that righteousnesse myghte bee imputed vnto them also.

12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely whiche came of the circumcised: but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he should be the heire of the worlde, (was) not to Abraham, or to his seede through the lawe, but thorough the righteousnesse of fayth.

14 For if they which are of the law be heyres, then is fayth but vayne, & the promise made of none effect:

15 Bycause the lawe causeth wrathe: For where no lawe is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore by fayth (is the inheritance gyuen) that it might (be) by grace, that the promise myghte bee sure to all the seede, not to that only which is of the lawe, but to that also whiche is of the fayth of Abraham, whiche is the father of vs all.

The. v. Chapter.

1. The fruite of faith. 7. The loue of God, and obedience of Christe. 12. From whence commeth death, and from whence life.

1 Therefore beyng iustified by faith, wee are at (a) peace with God, through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2 By whome also we haue had an entrance by faith, vnto this grace wherein we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.

3 Not that only: but also we reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:

4 Patience proofe, proofe hope:

5 And hope maketh not (b) ashamed, because the loue of God is shed abroade in oure hartes by the holy ghoste, whiche is gyuen vnto vs.

6 For when we were yet weake, according to the time, Christ dyed for the vngodly.

7 Now scarse wil any man dye for the righteous: yet peraduenture for the good some man durst dye.

8 But God setteth out his loue towarde vs, seeing that whyle we were yet synners, Christ dyed for vs.

9 Much more then nowe, we that are iustified by his blood, shall be saued from wrath thorough him.

10 For if when we were enimies, we wer reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: much more, seeing we are reconciled, wee shall be saued by his lyfe.

11 Not only so, but we also ioy in God, thorough our Lorde Jesus Christ, by whome we haue nowe receyued the atonement.

12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the worlde, and deathe by synne: euen so, death entred into all men, insomuch as all haue synned. Gen. 2. Rom. 5.

13 For vnto the law was sinne in the world: but sinne is not imputed when there is no lawe.

14 Neuertheless, death raigned from Adam to Moses, euer them also that had not sinned wyth lyke transgression as dyd Adam, whyche is the figure of him that was to come. C

15 But not as the synne, so is the free gyfte. For if through the synne of one many bee dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, whiche (is) by one man Jesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many. John. 1. b.

16 And not as by one that sinned (euen so) the gyft: for the sinne entred by one (offence) into condemnation: but the gift of (c) many sinnes into iustification.

17 For if by the synne of one deathe raigned by the meanes of one, much more (they) whiche receyue abundance of grace and of the gyft of righteousnesse, shall raigne in life by the meanes of one, Jesus Christe.

18 Lykewise then, as by the sinne of one (sinne came) on all menne to condempnation: euen so, by the righteousnesse of one (good came) vpon all men, to the righteousnesse of life.

19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 But the lawe in the meane time entred in, that synne shoulde encrease. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous. Gala. 3. d.

21 That as sinne hath raigned vnto deathe: euen so myght grace raigne thorough righteousnesse vnto eternall lyfe, by Jesus Christ our Lorde. D baptised (b) into hys death?

4 We are buried then with them by baptisme into hys death, that lykewise as Chryst was rayſed vp from the dead by the glory of the father: euen ſo, we alſo ſhould walke in newneſſe of life.

5 For if we bee graft togeather by the lykeneſſe of hys death: euen ſo ſhall we be (partakers) of the reſurrection:

6 Knowing this, that our old man is crucifyed wyth him alſo, that the body of ſynne myghte vtterly be deſtroyed, that henceforwth we ſhould not ſerue ſynne.

7 For he that is dead, is iuſtified from ſynne.

8 And if we be dead with Chriſte, we beleeue that we ſhall alſo lyue with hym:

9 Knowing that Chriſt being rayſed from the dead, dyeth no more, death hathe no more power ouer hym.

10 For as touching that he died, he dyed concerning ſynne once: and as touching that hee lyueth, he lyueth vnto God.

11 Likewiſe recken your ſelues to be dead vnto ſynne, but alyue vnto God, thorough Jeſus Chriſt our Lorde.

12 Let not ſynne raigne therefore in youre mortall body, that ye ſhould therevnto obey by the luſtes of it.

13 Neyther gyue yee your members "as inſtrumentes of vnrygbteouſneſſe vnto ſinne: but gyue your ſelues vnto God, as they that are alyue from the dead, and your members "as inſtrumēts of righteouſneſſe vnto God.

14 For ſynne ſhall not haue power ouer you, bycauſe ye are not vnder the (c) lawe, but vnder grace.

15 What then? Shall we ſynne, bycauſe we are not vnder the lawe, but vnder grace? God forbidde.

16 Know ye not how that to whome ſo euer ye committe your ſelues as ſeruantes to obey, his ſeruants ye are to whome yee obey: whether it be of ſynne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteouſneſſe?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the ſeruantes of ſynne: but yee haue obeyed wyth hart the fourme of doctrine, into the whyche ye were brought vnto.

18 Being then made free from ſynne, ye are become the ſeruauntes of righteouſneſſe.

19 I ſpeake after the (d) manner of men, bycauſe of the infirmitie of your fleſhe. For as ye haue giuen youre members ſeruantes to vncleanneſſe and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen ſo now gyue your members ſeruauntes to righteouſneſſe vnto holyneſſe.

20 For when ye were the ſeruants of ſinne, ye were free from righteouſneſſe.

21 What fruite had ye then in thoſe thyngs, wherof ye are nowe aſhamed? For the ende of thoſe things, is death.

22 But now yee being made free from ſinne, and made the ſeruauntes of God, haue youre fruite vnto holyneſſe, and the ende euerlaſting life.

23 For the rewarde of ſynne is death: but the gyft of God is eternall life, thorough Jeſus Chriſt our Lorde. Gen.2.c. Rom.5.c.

The.vij. Chapter.

1. 7. 12. The vſe of the lawe, 4. from the which Chriſt hath deliuered vs. 23. The fighte betweene the lawe of the fleſhe, and the lawe of the ſpirite.

1 KNowe yee not brethren (for I ſpeake to them that knowe the (a) lawe) (howe) that the lawe hathe power ouer a manne, as long as he lyueth?

2 For the woman whiche hath an husband, is bound by the lawe to hir husband, as long as he lyueth: but if the husband be dead, ſhe is loſed from the lawe of hir husbande.

3 So then if whyle hir husband lyueth, ſhee couple hir ſelfe with another man, ſhe ſhall be "counted a wedlocke breaker: but if hir husbande be dead, ſhe is free from the lawe: ſo that ſhe is no wedlocke breaker though ſhe couple hir ſelfe with another man.

4 Euen ſo ye alſo, my brethren, are dead concerning the lawe by the (b) body of Chriſte, that ye ſhould be coupled to another, who is rayſed from the dead, that we ſhoulde bryng forth fruite vnto God.

5 For when we were in the fleſhe, the luſtes of ſynne (which were) by the lawe wrought in our members, to bryng forthe fruite vnto deathe.

6 But nowe are we deliuered from the law, and dead vnto it wherevnto we were in bondage, that wee ſhoulde ſerue in newneſſe of ſpirite, and not in the oldneſſe of the letter.

7 What ſhall we ſay then? is the lawe ſinne? God forbidde. Neuertheleſſe, I knewe not ſinne, but by the lawe: for I had not knowen luſt, except the lawe had ſayde, Thou ſhalt not luſt.

8 But ſynne taking occaſion by the commandement, wrought in me all manner of concupiſcence. For without the lawe ſinne (was) dead.

9 I once lyued without lawe: but when the commaundement came, ſynne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very ſame commaundement, whiche was (ordeyned) vnto lyfe, was found (to be) vnto me an occaſion of death.

a. Before the commyng of Chriſt all men were maryed and bound to the law, which did them none other ſeruice, but diſcloſed their ſynne and wickednеſſe, forcing them to ſeeke helpe for their ſinnes els where. Now then, the lawe being aboliſhed for his imperfection, and they cleanſed thorough Gods grace, are ſpouſed vnto Chriſt theyr newe husband, hym to ſerue in newneſſe of life.

"or, called.

b. Bycauſe the body of Chriſt is made an offering and a ſacrifice for our ſinnes, whereby God is pleaſed, and his wrath appeaſed: and for Chriſtes ſake the holy ghoſt is giuen to al beleeuers, whereby the power of ſinne is in vs dayly weakened: we are counted dead to the law for that the lawe hath no dominion ouer vs. Rom.5.c. Gala.3.b. Exod.20.c. Deut.5.b.

11 For synne taking occasion by the commaundement, hath deceyued me, and by the same slue (me.)

12 Wherefore the lawe is holy, and the commaundement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then whiche was good, made death vnto me? God forbidde. But synne, that synne might appeare, by that whyche was good to worke deathe in me: that synne by the commaundemente might bee out of measure synfull.

14 For we knowe that the lawe is spiritual: but I am carnall, solde vnder (c) sinne.

15 For that whiche I doe, I alowe not: for what I would, that doe I not: but what I hate, that doe I.

16 If I do nowe that, which I woulde not, I consent vnto the lawe that it is good.

17 Now then, it is not I that do it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in me (that is to say in my flesche) dwelleth no good thing. For to will, is presente with mee: but I fynde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For the good that I would, do I not: but the euill which I would not, that do I.

20 And if I do that I woulde not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I fynde then by the lawe, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delight in the lawe of God, after the inwarde man:

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling agaynste the lawe of my mynde, and subduing mee vnto the lawe of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: who shal deliuer me from the (d) body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christe our Lorde. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the lawe of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of synne.

1 THere is then no damnation to them which are in Christ Iesu, whiche walk not after the flesh, but after the spirite.

2 For the lawe of the (a) spirite of life, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free from the lawe of synne and death.

3 For what the lawe coulde not do, in as muche as it was weake through the flesche, God hauing sente his owne sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesche, euen by sinne, (b) condemned sinne in the flesche:

4 That the righteousnesse of the law, might be fulfylled in vs, whych walke not after the flesh, but after the spirite.

5 For they that are carnall, are (c) carnally minded: but they that are spiritual, are spiritually minded.

6 To be carnally minded, is death: but to be spiritually minded, is life and peace:

7 Bycause that the fleshly minde is enmitie agaynste God: for it is not obedient to the lawe of God, neyther can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesche, can not please God.

9 But yee are not in the flesche, but in the spirite, if so be that the spirite of God dwell in you. If any manne haue not the spirite of Christ, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christe be in you, the body is dead bycause of (d) sinne: but the spirite is life for righteousnesse sake.

11 But if the spirite of hym that raysed vp Iesus from the dead, dwell in you: euen hee that raysed vp Christ from the dead, shal also quicken your mortall bodies, bycause that his spirite dwelleth in you.

12 Therefore brethren, we are debters, not to the flesche, to liue after the flesche.

13 For if ye liue after the flesche, yee shall dye: but if yee through the spirite, do mortifie the deedes of the body, ye shall liue.

14 For as many as are ledde by the spirite of God, they are the sonnes of God.

15 For yee haue not receyued the spirite of bondage agayne to feare: but ye haue receyued the spirite of adoption, whereby we crye, Abba, father.

16 The spirite it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirite, that we are the sonnes of God.

17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heires, the heyres of God, and ioynt heyres wyth Christ: so that we suffer togeather, that wee may be also glorifyed togeather.

18 For I am certainely (e) perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not worthy of the glory which shall be shewed vpon vs.

19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abydeth, looking when the sonnes of God shall appeare:

20 Bycause the (f) creature is subiect to vanitie, not wylling, but for hym whiche hathe subdued the same in hope.

21 For the creature it selfe shall be made free from the bondage of corruption, into ỹ glorious libertie of the sonnes of God:

22 For we knowe that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauayleth in payne with with vs, euen vnto this tyme.

23 Not onely (they,) but we also whiche haue the firſt fruytes of the ſpirite, & we our ſelues mourne in our ſelues, wayting for the adoption (euen) the deliuerance of our body.

24 For we are ſaued by hope: But hope that is ſeene, is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he ſeeth?

25 But and if wee hope for that wee ſee not, then do we with patience abide for it.

26 Likewiſe, the ſpirite alſo helpeth our infirmities. For we knowe not what to deſire as we ought: but the ſpirite it ſelfe maketh great (g) interceſſion for vs, with gronings, whiche can not be expreſſed.

27 And he that ſearcheth the hartes, knoweth what is the meanyng of the ſpirite: for hee maketh interceſſion for the ſaincts according to the pleaſure of God.

28 For we knowe that all things worke for the beſte, vnto them that loue God, to them whiche alſo are called of purpoſe.

29 For thoſe whiche he knewe before, he alſo dyd predeſtinate, that they ſhoulde bee lyke faſhioned vnto the ſhape of his ſonne, that he might be the firſte begotten among many brethren.

30 Moreouer, whom he did predeſtinate, them alſo he called: and whom he called, them alſo he iuſtified: and whom he iuſtified, them he alſo glorified.

31 What ſhal we then ſay to theſe things? If God be on our ſide, who can be againſt vs?

32 Whiche ſpared not his owne ſonne, but gaue hym for vs all: howe ſhall he not with hym alſo gyue vs al things?

33 Who ſhall lay any thyng to the charge of Gods choſen? It is God that iuſtifieth:

34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Chriſte which died, yea rather which is rayſed again, which is alſo on the right hande of God, and maketh interceſſion for vs.

35 Who ſhall ſeparate vs from the loue of Chriſte? (Shall) tribulation, or anguiſhe, or perſecution, eyther hunger, eyther nakednelle, eyther perill, eyther ſworde?

36 (As it is written: For thy ſake are we killed all day long, and are counted as ſheepe for the ſlaughter.)

37 Neuertheleſſe, in all theſe thyngs we ouercome, through him that loued vs.

38 For I am ſure, that neyther death, neyther lyfe, neyther angels, nor rule, neyther power, neyther thyngs preſent, neyther thyngs to come.

39 Neyther heigth, nor deapth, neyther any other creature, ſhal be able to ſeparate vs from the loue of God, which is in Chriſte Ieſu our Lorde.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Paul declareth his feruent loue towarde his nation, 11. he treateth of election, and reprobation, 24. alſo of the callyng of the Gentiles, 30. and of the ſalting off, of the Iewes.

1 I Say the trueth in Chriſt, I lye not, (my conſcience alſo bearyng me witneſſe by the holy ghoſt,)

2 That I haue great heauineſſe, and continuall ſorowe in my hart.

3 For I haue wiſhed my ſelfe to be curſed from (a) Chriſt, for my brethren, my kinſmen as partayneth to the fleſhe,

4 Whiche are the Iſraelites: to whome partayneth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenantes, and the lawe that was gyuen, and the ſeruice of God, and the promiſſes:

5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom as concernyng the fleſhe Chriſte (came) which is God, in all things to be prayſed for euer, Amen.

6 And it can not be, that the worde of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Iſraelites, whiche are of Iſrael:

7 Neyther are they all children that are the ſeede of Abraham: but in Iſaac ſhall thy ſeede be called.

8 That is to ſay, They whiche are the children of the fleſhe, theſe are not the children of God: but they whiche be the children of promiſſe, are counted the ſeede.

9 For this is the worde of promiſe: About this tyme wyll I come, and Sara ſhall haue a ſonne.

10 Not onely thys, but alſo Rebecca was with chylde by one (euen) by our father Iſaac.

11 For yet the (chyldren) were borne, when they had neyther done good, neyther bad, (that the purpoſe of God by (b) election myght ſtande: not by the reaſon of workes, but by the caller,) 12 It was ſayd vnto hyr, The elder ſhal ſerue the yonger.

13 As it is written, Iacob haue I loued, but Eſau haue I hated.

14 What ſhall we ſay then? Is there any vnrighteouſneſſe with God? God forbid.

15 For he ſayth to Moſes, I wyll ſhewe mercie, to whom ſo euer I ſhewe mercie: and wyll haue compaſſion, on whom ſo euer I haue compaſſion.

16 So then (election) is not of the wyller, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercie.

17 For the Scripture ſayeth vnto Pharao,

a. He ſaw the loſſe and deſtruction of his whole nation falling ſo farre from gods true religiō, he cōſidered how ſore God ſhuld be diſhonored, when his wonderful benefits and bleſsings beſtowed vpon his people, ſhould take none effect, but vtterly be defaced, whiche ſo mightily moued him, that he wiſhed rather to be cut off frō Chriſte, then thoſe things ſhoulde come to paſſe. 26 And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was sayde vnto them, Yee are not my people: there shal they be called the chyldren of the liuyng God.

27 And Esaias cryeth concernyng Israel, (Though) the number of the chyldren of Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet (but) a remnant shal be saued.

28 For he finisheth the (c) worde, and maketh it short in righteousnesse: for a short worde wyll the Lorde make on earth.

29 And as Esaias sayde before, Except the Lorde of Sabboth had left vs (d) seede, wee had bene made as Sodoma, and had bene lykened to Gomorrha.

30 What shall wee say then? that the Gentiles whiche followed not righteousnesse, haue obteyned ryghteousnesse: euen the righteousnesse (whiche commeth) of fayth:

31 But Israel whiche followed the lawe of righteousnesse, hath not attayned to the lawe of righteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? Bycause (they sought it) not by fayth, but as it were by the workes of the lawe: For they haue stumbled at the stumblyng stone, 33 As it is written, Behold, I put in (e) Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence: and who so euer beleeueth on hym, shall not bee confounded.

a. The worde here is taken for a thyng or matter. The Lorde diminished his people by sundry plagues, persecutions, and banishments, and brought them to a very fewe. Likewise meaneth saynt Paul, that a fewe of them shal be saued, whiche fewe notwithstanding shal abound in righteousnesse to the glory of God.

d. The seede is Christe Iesus, sowen abrode by his apostles and disciples.

Esai. 28. d

e. Christ doth iustifie vs by fayth without workes, which thing the Iewes and iusticiaries can not beleeue. Therfore they stumble at Christ, and are offended with him.

The. x. Chapter.

3. Paul sheweth the cause of the fall of the Iewes. 5. The difference betweene the iustice of the lawe, and fayth. 16. The castyng off, of the Iewes, and callyng of the Gentiles.

1 BRethren, my hartes desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them recorde, that they haue a (a) zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they beyng ignorant of Gods righteousnesse, and goyng about to stablish their (b) owne righteousnesse, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.

4 For Christe is the ende of the lawe, (c) for righteousnesse to all that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse whiche (is) of the lawe, howe that the man whiche doth those thyngs, shall lyue by them.

6 But the righteousnesse whiche is of fayth, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thine hart, who shal ascende into (d) heauen? That is, to fetche Christe downe from aboue.

7 Eyther who shall descende into the deepe? That is, to fetche vp Christe agayne from the dead.

8 But what sayth he, The worde is nygh thee, euen in thy mouthe, and in thy harte. This same is the worde of fayth, whiche we preache.

9 For if thou shalte knowledge with thy mouth the Lorde Iesus, and shalt beleeue in thyne harte that God rayled hym from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

10 For with the harte man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse: and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the scripture sayth, Who so euer beleeueth on hym, shal not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Iewe and the Greke: for the same Lorde ouer all, is riche vnto al that cal vpon hym.

13 For who so euer shall call on the name of the Lorde, shal be saued.

14 Howe then shall they call on hym, on whom they haue not beleeued? Howe shall they beleeue on hym, of whom they haue not hearde? Howe shall they heare, without a preacher?

15 And howe shall they preache, except they be sent? As it is written: Howe beautifull are the feete of them whiche bryng good tidings of peace, and bryng good tidings of good things?

a. That is certayne affection, but not after knowledge. For no zeale, nor no good intent can be acceptable vnto God but only that whiche is grounded vpon fayth, and the knowledge of God.

b. It is called our own righteousnesse, when we refuse the righteousnesse whiche commeth by christ and imagine another righteousnesse, which comes by our owne workes and deuises.

c. That is, Christe hath fulfilled the whole law, and therefore who so euer beleueth in him, counted iust before God, as wel as he hath fulfilled the whole law himselfe.

d. For fayth teacheth vs, that Christ is ascended vp to heauen to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death, to destroy death, and to deliuer vs.

16 But

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospell for Esaias sayth, Lorde, who hath beleeued our sayings?

17 So then fayth commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the worde of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not hearde? No doubte, their sounde wente out into all landes, and their wordes into the endes of the worlde.

19 But I demaunde whether Israell dyd know or not? First Moyses sayth, I wyll prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people: and by a folyshe nation I wyll anger you.

20 And Esaias is bolde, and sayeth, I haue bin founde of them that sought me not: I I haue bene made manifest vnto them that asked not after me.

21 But against Israel, he sayeth, All day long haue I stretched forthe myne handes vnto a people that beleeueth not, but speaketh agaynst me.

The. xi. Chapter.

1. God hathe his Churche, though it appeare not alway to the world. 8. God hathe forsaken the Iewes, and chosen the Gentiles. 18. whome yet hee warneth to humble themselues. 29 God repenteth him not of his giftes. 33. The depth of Gods iudgements.

1 I Say then, hathe God caste away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people whiche he knew before. Wot ye not what the scripture sayth of Elias? howe he maketh intercession to God against Israel.

3 Saying, Lorde they haue killed thy Prophetes, and dygged downe thyne (a) Aultars: and I am lefte alone, and they seeke my lyfe.

4 But what sayth the answere of God vnto hym? I haue reserued vnto my selfe seuen thousande men, whiche haue not bowed the knee to (the image of) Baal.

5 Euen so at this tyme there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 If it be of grace, then is it not nowe of workes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of workes, then is it now no grace, for then worke is no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteyned that whiche he seeketh for, but the election hathe obteyned it, the remnant haue bene "blynded,

8 (Accordyng as it is written, God hath gyuen them the spirite of (b) remorse: eyes that they should not see, and eares that they should not heare) euen vnto this daye.

9 And Dauid sayth, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling stocke and a recompence vnto them.

10 Lette their eyes bee "blinded, that they see not, and bowe thou downe their backe alwaye.

11 I saye then, haue they therefore stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid: but thorough their fall, saluation (is come) vnto the (c) Gentiles, for to prouoke them withal.

12 Nowe if the fall of them be the richesse of the worlde, and the minishing of them, the richesse of the Gentiles: howe muche more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as muche as I am the Apostle of the Gentils, I magnifie myne office.

14 If by any meane I maye prouoke them whiche are my flesshe, and might saue some of them.

15 For if the castyng away of them be the reconcilyng of the worlde: what shall the receiuing (of them) be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the firste fruites be holie, the whole lumpe also (is holy.) And if the rote be holie, the branches also.

17 And if some of the branches bee broken (d) of, and thou being a wild Olyue tree, wast graft in among them, and made partaker of the rote and fatnesse of the Olyue tree:

18 Boast not thy selfe against the braunches, For if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the rote, but the rote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: bicause of vnbeleefe they were broken off, and thou stodest stedfast in faith. Be not high mynded, but feare.

21 For seeing that God spared not the naturall branches, (take heed) least it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the kyndnesse and rigorousnesse of God: on them whiche fell, rigorousnesse: but towardes thee, kindnesse, if thou continue in kindnesse: or else thou also shalt be hewen off.

23 And they, if they byde not still in vnbeleefe, shall be graffed in: for God is of power to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou were cut out of a natural wild Olyue tree, and were graffed contrarye to nature in a true olyue tree: howe much more shall these which bee the naturall branches, be graffed in their owne Olyue tree?

28 As concerning the Gospell, they are enimies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are loued for the fathers (sakes.)

29 For the free giftes and calling of God are without repentance.

30 For as ye in tyme passe haue not beleeued God, yet haue ye now obteyned mercy thorough their vnbeleefe:

31 Euen so now haue they not "beleeued the mercie (shewed) vnto you, that they also may obteyne mercie.

14 But put yee on the Lorde Ieſus Chriſte, and make not proviſion for the fleſhe, to (fulfill) the luſtes (thereof.)

The. xiiij. Chapter.

1. The weake muſte bee borne with. 10. No man ought to offende his neyghbours conſcience. 15. One ought to beare with an others conſcience in charitie.

1 HIm that is weake in the fayth receyue, not to doubtfulneſſe of (a) diſputations.
2 One beleeueth that he may eate euery thing: another which is weake, eateth herbes.
3 Let not hym that eateth, deſpiſe him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receyued him.
4 What art thou that iudgeſt another mans ſeruant? To hys owne mayſter he ſtandeth or falleth: Yea, he ſhal be holden vp, for God is able to make him ſtande. Iacob. 4. b
5 This man putteth difference betweene day & day. Another man counteth all dayes alike. Let euery man be fully perſwaded in hys owne (b) minde.
6 He that eſteemeth the day, eſteemeth it vnto the Lorde: and he that eſteemeth not the day, to the Lorde he doth not eſteeme it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lorde, for he gyueth God thankes: and he that eateth not, eateth not to the Lorde, and gyueth GOD thankes.
7 For none of vs liueth to hymſelfe, and no man dieth to himſelfe.
8 For yf we lyue, we liue vnto the Lorde: and if we dye, we dye vnto the Lorde: Whether wee lyue therefore, or dye, wee are the Lordes. Actes. 2. f Philip. 2. b
9 For to this ende Chriſte bothe died, and roſe, and reuyued, that he might be Lord both of dead and quicke.
10 But why doeſt thou then iudge thy brother? Eyther, why doeſt thou ſet at nought thy brother? wee ſhall all ſtande before the iudgement ſeate of Chriſte. Eſai. 65. c Philip. 2. b 11 For it is written, I liue, ſayth the Lorde, and all knees ſhall bowe to me, and all tongues ſhall giue prayſe to God.
12 So ſhall euery one of vs gyue accompt of himſelfe to God. Mat. 15. b Actes. 10. b
13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a ſtumblyng blocke, or an occaſion to fal in his brothers way. 1. Tim. 4. b Mark. 7. d
14 For I knowe, and am perſwaded by the Lorde Ieſus, that there is nothyng common of it ſelfe: but vnto hym that iudgeth it to bee common, to hym it is common. C
15 But if thy brother bee greeued with thy meate, now walkeſt thou not charitably: deſtroy not hym with thy meate, for whom Chriſte dyed.
16 Let not your good be euill ſpoken off.
17 For the kyngdome of God is not meate and drinke: but righteouſneſſe and peace, and ioy in the holy ghoſt.
18 For hee that in theſe thyngs ſerueth Chriſte, pleaſeth God, and is commended of men.

19 Let

b. We muſte be aſſured in our conſcience by gods worde in al thing that we doo, that if we be ſtrong, we may know what is our libertie: and if we be weake, we may learne, to profite dayly. B

(a) with him in matters of religion, wherevnto, through the weakneſſe of fayth, he can not as yet attayne, leaſt he ſhoulde fall with a greater ſcruple of conſcience, or be offended with reaſonable reaſoning.

Titus.1.d

c. Fayth is here take for a ful perswasion of the christian libertie in things indifferent.
d. This sentece, both Augustine and Origene do take to be generally meant of al mens works what so euer they be, whiche proceede not of a right cõsciẽce, & an vndoubted fayth, grounded vpõ the worde of God.

19 Let vs therfore folow those thyngs which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edifie another.
20 Destroy not the worke of God for meats sake: all things are pure, but it is euyll for that man which eateth with offence.
21 It is good neyther to eate flesche, neyther to drynke wyne, neyther (any thing) whereby thy brother stumbleth, eyther is offended, or is made weake.
22 Hast thou (c) fayth? haue it with thy selfe before God. Happy is he that condemneth not hymselfe in that (thing whiche) hee alloweth.
23 For he that maketh conscience, is damned if hee eate, bycause (he eateth) not of fayth: for what so euer is not of fayth, is (d) sinne.

The.xv. Chapter.

1. VVee muste support one another after the example of Christe. 14. Paul sheweth his zeale toward them, 30. and requireth the like of them.

A Galat.6.a

1 WE which are strong, ought to beare the frayletie of the weake, and not to stand in our owne conceyts.

a. To edifie, signifieth to do al maner of dueties to our neighbour, eyther to bryng him to Christ, or if he be wonne that he may goe forwarde to vertue.

2 Let euery man please hys neyghbour in that that is good to (a) edifying.
3 For Christe pleased not himselfe, but as it is written, The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fell on me.
4 For whatsoeuer thyngs haue bene written afore tyme, were written for our learnyng: that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures, might haue hope.

The Epistle on the second Sunday in Aduent.

5 The God of pacience and consolation, graunt you to be lyke mynded one towards another, after the ensample of Christe Iesu:
Leui.19.d 6 That ye all agreeyng together, may with one mouth prayse God, and the father of our Lorde Iesus Christe.

B 7 Wherfore, receyue ye one another, as Christ receyued vs to the glory of God.
8 And I say, that Iesus Christe was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promyses (made) vnto the fathers:
Deut.20.f 2.Reg.22.d Psalm.18.g 9 And that the Gentiles might glorifie God for hys mercie, as it is written, For this cause I wyll prayse thee among the Gentiles, and sing vnto thy name.
Deut.32.f 10 And agayne hee sayth, Reioyce ye Gentiles with his people.
Psalm.117.a 11 And agayne, Prayse the Lorde all yee Gentiles, and laude him all yee people together.
Esai.11.a 12 And agayne Esaias sayth, There shall bee the rote of Iesse, and hee that shall ryse to raygne ouer the Gentiles, in hym shall the Gentiles trust.
13 The God of hope fill you with all ioy and peace in beleeuyng, that ye may be riche in hope, through the power of the holy ghost.
14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are ful of goodnesse, and filled with all knowledge, able also to exhort one another. C
15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue somewhat more boldly written vnto you, as puttyng you in remembrance through the grace that is gyuen to me of God,
16 That I shoulde be the minister of Iesus Christe to the Gentiles, "and shoulde minister the Gospel of God, that the offeryng of the (b) Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy ghost.
17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioyce through Christe Iesus, in those things which parteyne to God.
18 For I will not be bolde to speake of any of those thyngs which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient with worde and deede, 19 In mightie signes and wonders, by the power of the spirite of God, so that from Hierusalem, and the coastes round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christe.
20 So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christe was named, least I shoulde haue buylt vpon another mans (c) fundation.
21 But as it is written, To whom hee was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that hearde not, shal vnderstande.
22 For this cause I haue bene oft let, that I coulde not come vnto you.
23 But nowe hauyng no more to do in these countreys, & also hauyng a great desire many yeares to come vnto you:
24 When so euer I take my iourney into Spayne, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my iourney, and to be brought on my way thytherwarde by you, after that I be somewhat filled with you.
25 But nowe goe I vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the (d) saynctes.
26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certayne common gathering for the poore saynctes whiche are at Hierusalem.
27 It hath pleased them verely, and they: debters are they. For if the Gentiles bee made partakers of theyr spirituall things, their duetie is to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue perfourmed this, and haue (c)ſealed to them this fruite, I wil come by you into Spayne.

29 And I am ſure that when I come vnto you, I ſhall come with aboundaunce of the bleſſing of the Goſpell of Chriſte.

30 I beſeeche you brethren for the Lorde Jeſus Chriſtes ſake, and for the loue of the ſpirite, that ye helpe mee in my buſineſſe with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered from them which beleeue not in Jurie, and that this my ſeruice which I haue at Hieruſalem, maye bee accepted of the ſainctes.

32 That I may come vnto you with ioye by the will of GOD, and maye with you be refreſhed.

33 The God of peace be with you all. Amen.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. A number of ſalutations. 17. Paule willeth them to beware of falſe brethrē. 20. He praieth, and giueth thankes for them.

1 I Commende vnto you Phebe our ſiſter, which is a miniſter of the (a) Churche of Cenchrea:

2 That ye receyue hir in the Lorde, as it becōmeth ſaints, and that ye aſſiſt hir in what ſoeuer buſineſſe ſhe hathe neede of you: for ſhe hath ſuccoured many, and my ſelfe alſo.

3 Greete Priſcilla and Aquila, my helpers in Chriſte Jeſu:

4 (Which haue for my lyfe layde downe their owne neckes: Unto whome, not only I giue thankes, but alſo all the Churches of the Gentiles:)

5 Lykewyſe (greete) the Churche that is in their houſe. Salute my welbeloued Epenetus, which is the fyrſte fruite of Achaia in Chriſte.

6 Greete Marie, which beſtowed much labour on vs.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia my couſins, and priſoners with mee alſo, which are well taken among the Apoſtles, and were in Chriſte before me.

8 Greete Amplias my beloued in the Lorde.

9 Salute Urban, our helper in Chriſte, and Stachys my beloued.

10 Salute Appelles approued in Chriſte. Salute thē which are of Ariſtobulus houſhold.

11 Salute Herodion my kinſman. Greet them that be of the houſhold of Narciſſus, which are in the Lorde.

12 Salute Tryphena, and Tryphoſa, whiche laboure in the Lorde. Salute the beloued Perſis, which laboured muche in the Lorde.

12 Salute Ruphus, choſen in the Lorde, and his mother and myne.

14 Greete Aſyncritus, Phlegon, Herman, Patrobas, Mercurius, and the brethren whiche are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus and his ſyſter, and Olympas, and all the ſainctes whiche are with them.

16 Salute one an other wyth an holye (b) kiſſe. The churches of Chriſt ſalute you.

17 Nowe I beſeeche you brethren, (c) marke them whiche cauſe diuiſions, and giue occaſions of euil, contrary to the doctrine which ye haue learned, and auoyde them.

18 For they that are ſuch, ſerue not the Lord Jeſus Chriſte, but their owne bellye, and with ſweete and flattering wordes deceyue the heartes of innocentes.

19 For your obedience is gone abroade vnto all men. I am gladde therfore on your behalfe: but yet I would haue you wyſe vnto that whyche is good, and ſimple concerning euill.

20 The God of peace ſhall treade Satan vnder your feete ſhortely. The grace of oure Lord Jeſus Chriſt be with you Amen.

21 Timotheus my worke fellowe, and Lucius, and Jaſon, and Soſipater my kinſmen ſalute you.

22 I Tertius which wrote this Epiſtle, ſalute you in the Lorde.

23 Gaius myne hoſte, and of the whole churche ſaluteth you. Eraſtus the chamberlaine of the citie ſaluteth you, and Quartus his brother.

24 The grace of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt be with you all. Amen.

25 To him that is of power to ſtabliſh you, accordyng to my Goſpell, and preachyng of Jeſus Chriſte, by reuealing of the myſterie, whiche was kepte ſecrete ſince the worlde beganne.

26 But now is opened, and by the ſcriptures of the Prophets, at the commaundement of the euerlaſting God, to the obedience of faith, among all nations publiſhed:

27 To (the ſame) God, wyſe only, be glorie, through Jeſus Chriſte, for euer. Amen.

a. Cor. 12. c.

b. This was a ſigne of amitie among the Iewes, whiche Saint Paul wil leth to be holy that is, that it come from a minde full of godly charitie.

c. There ar two marks to know the falſe Apoſtles by. The one is, whē they leaue Chriſt, & ſetue their bely. The other, when they regarde not the holye ſcripture, but preache lyes, & their owne fantaſies.

This Epiſtle was written to the Romaines from Corinthus, (and ſent) by Phebe the miniſter of the churche at Cenchrea.

¶ The fyrſt Epiſtle of Saint Paule the Apoſtle to the Corinthians.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. He prayſeth the great graces of God ſhewed toward them. 10. exhorting them to concorde and humilitie. 19. He beateth downe all pryde and wyſedome whiche is not grounded vpon God. 26. Shewyng whome God hath choſen to confounde the wyſedome of the worlde.

A 1 PAule called (to be) an Apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſte, through the will of god & brother Soſthenes:

2 Unto ỹ churche of GOD, whiche is at Corinthus, to them that are ſanctified in Chriſte Jeſus, (a) ſaints by calling, with all that call on the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſte in euery place, both of theirs and ours.

3 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

4 I thanke my God alwaies on your behalf, for the grace of God which is ginen you in Jeſus Chriſte:

5 That in all things ye are enriched in him, in all vtterance, and in all knowledge:

6 As the teſtimonie of Jeſus Chriſt was confirmed in you.

B 7 So that ye are deſtitute of no gifte, wayting for the appearing of oure Lorde Jeſus Chriſte.

8 Which ſhal alſo "ſtrengthe you vnto the ende, that ye may be (b) blameleſſe in the day of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt.

9 God is faythfull, by whom ye haue bin called vnto the felowſhippe of his ſonne Jeſus Chriſt our Lorde.

10 Now I beſeech you brethren by the name of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt, that ye al ſpeake one thing, and that there bee no diſſentions among you: but that ye be perfectly ioyned togyther in the ſame mynde, and in the ſame meaning.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me my brethren of you, by them whyche are of the houſe of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I ſay, that euery one of you ſayth, I am of Paul, and I am of Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Chriſte.

13 Is Chriſte diuided? was Paule crucified for you? either were ye baptiſed in the name of Paule?

14 I thanke God that I baptiſed none of you, C but Criſpus and Gaius:

15 Leſt any ſhoulde ſaye that I had baptiſed in myne owne name.

16 I baptiſed alſo the houſholde of Stephanas: beſydes, I knowe not whether I baptiſed any other.

17 For Chriſt ſente mee not to baptiſe, but to preache the Goſpell: not with wyſedome (c) of wordes, leaſt the croſſe of Chriſt ſhould be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the croſſe is to them that perithe, foliſhneſſe: but vnto vs which are ſaued, it is the power of God.

19 For it is written, I wyl deſtroy the wiſdome of the wiſe, and will caſte away the vnderſtanding of the prudent.

20 Where is the wyſe? where is the ſcribe? where is the diſputer of this worlde? hath not God made the wiſedome of this worlde foliſhe?

21 For after that in the wiſedome of God, the D worlde thorough their wiſedome knew not God, it pleaſed God through foliſhneſſe of preaching, to ſaue them that beleeue.

22 For the Iewes require a ſigne, & the Greekes ſeeke after wiſedome.

23 But we preache Chriſt crucified, vnto the Iewes a ſtumblyng blocke, and vnto the Greekes foliſhneſſe:

24 But vnto them whiche are called, bothe Iewes and Greekes, Chriſte, the power of God, and the wiſedome of God.

25 For the foliſhneſſe of God is wyſer than men: and the weakneſſe of God is ſtronger than men.

26 Brethren, ye ſee your calling, howe that not many wiſe men after the fleſhe, not manie mightie, not manie noble are (called.)

27 But God hath choſen the foliſhe things of the worlde, to confounde the wyſe: and GOD hathe choſen the weake things of the worlde, to confounde the things whyche are mightie:

28 And vnnoble things of the worlde, and E things which are deſpiſed, hath God choſen, (yea) and thinges whiche are not, to bring to nought things that are:

29 That no flesshe shoulde glorye in his presence.
30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, whiche of God is made vnto vs wisedome, & righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:
31 That according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glorye in the Lorde.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. He putteth for example his manner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel. 8. which Gospell was contemptible, and hyd to the carnal. 10. & againe honorable and manifest to the spiritual.

1 AND I brethren, when I came to you, came not in "glorioustnesse of wordes, or of wisdome, shewing vnto you the (a) testimonie of God.
2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.
3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.
4 And my wordes and my preaching was not with entysing wordes of mans wisedome, but in shewing of the spirite, and of power:
5 That your faith shoulde not stande in the wisedome of men, but in ỹ power of god.
6 And we speake wisedome among them that are perfect: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the princes of this world, whiche come to nought:
7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a misterie (euen) the hid (wisdome) which God ordeined before the world, vnto our glorye.
8 Whiche none of the princes of this worlde knewe: for had they knowen it, they woulde not haue crucified the Lorde of glorye.
9 But as it is written, The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not heard, neither haue entred into the hart of man, ỹ thinges whiche God hath prepared for them that loue him,
10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirite: For the spirite searcheth al things, yea the deepe things of God.
11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the (b) spirite of man whiche is in him? Euen so the things of God, knoweth no man, but the spirite of God.
12 And we haue not receiued the spirite of the worlde, but the spirite whiche is of God, that we might knowe the things that are giuen to vs of God.
13 Which things also we speake, not in the wordes whiche mans wisedome teacheth, but whiche the holy ghost teacheth: comparing spirituall things with spirituall things.
14 But the natural man perceiueth not the thinges of the spirite of God, for they are folishnesse vnto him: neither can he knowe (them) bycause they are spiritually discerned. C
15 But he that is spiritual, discerneth all thinges, yet he him selfe is iudged of no man.
16 For who hath knowen the minde of the Lorde, that he might instruct him? But we haue (c) the minde of Christ. Rom. 8. a. Esai. 40. c.

The.iij. Chapter.

3. Paul rebuketh the sectes and authors therof. 7. No man ought to atribute his saluation to the ministers, but to god. 10. That they beware of erroneous doctrines. 13. Christ is the foundation of the Church. 16. The dignitie & office both of the ministers, and also of al the faithful.

1 AND I coulde not speake vnto you brethren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnal (euen) as vnto (a) babes in Christ. I a. Being ingraffed in Christ by faith we beginne to moue by his spirite: and as we profite in faith, we growe vp to a ripe age. And here let him take heede that teacheth, lest for mylke and giue poison. For milke he strong meate in effect are one, but onely differ in manner and fourme.

2 I haue nourished you with mylke, and not with meate: for yet then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.
3 For ye are yet carnal: seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnal, & walke as men?
4 For while one saith, I am of Paul, & another, I (am) of Apollo, are ye not carnal?
5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? But ministers by whom ye beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to euery man.
6 I haue planted, Apollo watred: but God gaue the encrease.
7 So then, neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth: but God that giueth the encrease.
8 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: and euery man shal receiue his reward according to his labour.
9 For we together are Gods labourers, ye are Gods husbandry, ye are Gods building. Ephe. 2. d.
10 According to the grace of God whiche is giuen vnto me, as a wise maister builder, haue I layde the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let euery man (b) take heede howe he buyldeth vpon. b. He reproueth the ministers of Corinth, as teachers of curious doctrines & questions.
11 For other foundation can no man laye than than that is layde, which is Jesus Christ.

Mat.16.c. 12 If any man buylde on this foundation, gold, siluer, pretious stones, tymber, hay, (or) stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shall be made manifest. The day shall declare it, bycause it shall be reuealed by the fyre, and the fyre shall trie euery mans worke what it is.

C 14 If any mans worke that he hath buylt vpon abyde, he shall receiue a rewarde.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall sukfer losse, but he shall be sake him selfe: yet as (it were) through fyre.

1.Co.6.D. 16 Knowe ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirite of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God distroy: for the temple of God is holy, which (temple) ye are.

or, destroy.

18 Let no man deceiue him selfe: If any man among you seeme (to him selfe) to be wise in this worlde, let him become a fole, that he may be wise.

19 For the wisedome of this world, is folishnesse with God: for it is written, Hee compasseth the wise in (c) their owne craftinesse.

Iob.5.b. c. When they them selues are entangled in the same snares which they layde for others.

20 And againe, The Lorde knoweth the thoughtes of the wise, that they be vayne.

21 Therefore let no man glory in (d) men: for al thinges are yours.

d. But in God, who worketh by his ministers to his owne glory, and the comfort of his Churches.

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the worlde, either life, or death, whether things present, or things to come, all are yours:

23 But ye are Christs, & Christ (is) Gods.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. After that he had described the office of a true apostle, 3. seeing they did not acknowledge him suche one, 4. he appealeth to gods iudgement, 7. beating downe their glory, which hindred them to prayse that whiche they dispraysed in him. 16. He sheweth what he requireth on their part and what they ought to looke for of him at his returne.

1 LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christe, and dispolers of the secretes of God.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the dispolers, that a man be founde faithful.

3 With me it is but a very smal thing that I shoulde be iudged of you either of mās iudgement: yea, I iudge not (a) myne owne selfe.

a. Whether I haue great giftes or litle, few or many,

4 For I knowe nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me is the Lord.

5 Therefore iudge nothing before the time, vntil the Lorde come, who wil lighten the hidden things of darknesse, and open the counsels of the hartes: and then shall euery man haue prayse of God.

6 And these things brethren I haue figuratiuely applyed vntomy selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learn by vs, not to be wise above that which is writte, that you swel not one against another for any mans cause.

7 For who (b) separateth thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not receiued? If thou haue receiued it, why dost thou glory as though thou haddest not receiued it?

b. To wit other men preferreth thee.

8 Nowe ye are ful, nowe yee are rich, yee haue raigned as kings without vs, and I would to God ye did raigne, that we also might raigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs whiche are the last apostles, as it were menne appointed to death. For we are made a gasing stocke vnto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We (are) (c) fooles for Christs sake, but ye are wise in Christ, We (are) weake, but ye (are) strong: ye (are) honorable, but we (are) despised.

c. By this ter taunting in abiecting him selfe, exalting the Corinthians he maketh them afhamed of their vaine glory.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloued sonnes I warne you.

15 For though ye haue ten thousande instructors in Christ, yet (haue ye) not many fathers: for in Christe Iesus I haue begotten you through the Gospel.

21 What wil ye? Shall I come vnto you with a rod, or in loue, and in the spirite of meekenesse?

The. v. Chapter.

1. He reproueth sharpely their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest. 3. willing them to excomunicate hym. 7. to imbrace puritie. 9. and flee wickednesse.

1 IT is reported commonly, that there is fornication among you, and suche fornication as is not named among the (a) Gentiles: that one should haue his fathers wife.

2 And yee are puffed vp, and haue not rather sorowed, that he that hath done this deede, might be taken away from among you.

3 For I verely as absent in body, but present in spirite, haue determined alredy as though I were present, that he that hathe so done this deede,

4 In the name of our Lord Iesus Christ, you being gathered together, and my spirite, with you, with the power of the Lorde Iesus Christ,

5 To deliuer suche (a one) vnto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirite may be saued in the day of the Lorde Iesus.

6 Your glorying is not (b) good. Knowe ye not that a little leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe?

7 Purge out therefore the olde leauen, that ye may be a newe lumpe, as ye are vnleauened. For (euen) Christ our passouer is " offered vp for vs.

8 Therfore let vs kepe holyday, not with old leauen, neither with the leauen of malicionsnesse & wickednesse: but with the vnleauened (bread) of pureness and truth.

9 I wrote vnto you in an epistle, that yee should not companie with fornicatours.

10 (I did not meane) not at al with the fornicatours of this world, or with the couetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters: for then must ye needes haue gone out of the worlde.

11 But nowe (this) I wrote vnto you, not to company together, if any that is called a brother be a fornicatour, or couetous, or a worshipper of idols, or a rayler, or a drunkard, or an extortioner: with him that is such, not to eate.

12 For what haue I to doe to iudge them that are without? do not ye iudge them that are within?

13 Them that are without, GOD shall iudge, And ye shal put away from among you that wicked person. Deut. 13. b.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them for going too lawe together before the heathen. 7. Christians ought rather to suffer. 12. He reproueth the abusing of christian libertie. 15. and sheweth that we ought to serue God purely, both in body and in soule.

1 DAre any of you, hauing businesse " with another, be iudged vnder the (a) vniust, and not rather vnder the saintes? " or, against. a. He calleth them vniust, whosoeuer are not sanctified in Christ.

2 Doe ye not knowe that the saintes shall iudge the worlde? If the world shall be iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the smallest matters? Mat. 19.

3 Knowe ye not howe that we shall iudge the angels? Howe much more, things that pertaine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgement of things pertayning to this life, set vp them to iudge whiche are least esteemed in the Churche.

5 I speake it to your shame. Is it so that there is not a wise man among you? no not one that shall be able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?

7 Nowe therefore there is vtterly a " fault among you, because ye goe to lawe one with another: Why rather suffer yee not wrong? why rather suffer ye not harme? " or, want. B

8 Nay, ye your selues doe wrong, and doe harme, and that to your brethren.

9 Knowe ye not that the vnrighteous shal not inherite the kingdome of God? Be not deceiued: neither fornicatours, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of thē selues with mankinde, Gala. 5. d. Eph. 5. a.

10 Nor theeues, nor couetous nor drunkardes, nor reuilers, nor " pillers, shall inherite the kingdome of God. " or, extortioners.

11 And some suche like you were: but yee are washed, but ye are sanctified, but yee are iustified in the name of the Lorde Iesus, and by the spirite of our God.

12 All things are lawful vnto me, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawfull vnto mee, but I will not bee brought vnder the (b) power of any. Eccl. 17. d. 1. Co. 10. c. b. For we are subiect to those things which we can not want.

13 Meates for the belly, and the belly for meates: but God shall destroy both it and them. Nowe the body (is) not for (c) fornication, but for the Lorde: and the Lord for the body.

c. They abused meates both in that they offended other thereby, and also prouoked their owne lustes to vncleannesse. 1. Cor. 3. c.

14 And GOD both hath rayled vp the Lorde, and also shall rayse vs vp by his power.

15 Knowe ye not that your bodyes are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What, knowe yee not that he which is coupled with an harlot, is one body? For two (saith he) shal be one flesche. *

*With the harlot. Gen. 2. d. Math. 19. Mark. 10. a. Ephes. 5. g.

17 But he that is coupled vnto the Lorde, is one spirite.

18 Flee fornication: Euery sinne that a man doeth, is without the body: but hee that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body.

19 What, knowe ye not that your body is the temple of the holy ghost (which is) in you, whom ye haue of God, and yee are not (d) your owne?

d. To liue after your owne wil, but after the wil of him that hath bought you.

20 For yee are bought with a price: therefore glorifie God in your body, & in your spirite, which are gods.

The. vij. Chapter.

1 The apostle answereth to certaine questions whiche the Corinthians desired to knowe. 2. as of single life. 3. of the duetie of maryage. 11. of discordes and dissention in maryage, 13. of mariage betweene the faithfull and vnfaithfull. 18. of vncircumcising the vncircumcised. 21. of seruitude. 25. of virginitie, 39. and second maryage.

1 NOw as concerning the things whereof ye wrote vnto me: It is (a) good for a man not to touche a woman.

a. Or expedient, because maryage thorowe mans corruption, & not by Gods institution, bringeth cares and troubles.

2 Neuertheless, to auoyde fornication, let euery manne haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue hir owne husbande.

3 Let the husbande giue vnto the wife due benevolence: likewise also the wife vnto the husbande.

4 The wife hath not the power of hir owne body, but the husbande: and likewise also the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraude you not the one the other, except (it be) with both your consentes for a time, that yee may giue your selues to fasting and prayer: and afterwarde come togither againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

Tobi. 6. d. Joel. 2. d.

6 This I say "of fauour, and (b) not of commaundement.

"or, by way sufferance. b He shewe that he com maundeth n precisely to marry, but that God h graunted a remedy vn them which can not liue chaste. 1. Tim. 5. Mat. 5. c. and. 19. d.

7 For I woulde that all men were euen as I my self: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

8 I say therefore to the vnmaryed and widowes, it is good for them if they abide euen as I:

9 But if they can not absteine, let them marry: for it is better to marrye than to burne.

10 Unto the maryed commaunde, not I, but the Lorde, let not the wife departe from hir husbande:

11 But and if she depart, let hir remaine vnmaryed, or be reconciled to hir husbande (againe:) and let not the husbande put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant speake I, not the Lorde, If any brother haue a wife that beleeueth not, & she consent to dwel with him, let him not put hir away.

13 And the woman which hath to hir husbande an infidel, and he consent to dwell with hir, let hir not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husbande is sanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is sanctified by the husband, else were your children vncleane, but nowe are they (c) holy.

c. They that are borne of eyther of the parentes faithful, are also counted members of Christes Churche, by cause of the promise.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart: A brother or a sister is not made subiect in suche (things:) but God hathe called vs in peace.

16 For howe knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husbande? or how knowest thou, O manne, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lorde hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordeine I in all Churches. Ephe. 4. d

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not adde (vncircumcision:) Is any called in vncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commaundements of God.

20 Let euery man abyde in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheless, if thou mayest be made free, vse it rather. 1. Tim. 6. c.

22 For he that is called in the Lord (being) a seruant, is the lordes free man: likewise also he that is called (being) free is Chri-

stes

ſtes ſeruant.

23 Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the ſeruantes of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide with (d) God.

25 Nowe concerning virgins, I haue no commaundement of the Lord: yet giue I counſel, as one that hath obtayned mercy of the Lorde to be faithfull.

26 I ſuppoſe therefore that it is good for the preſent neceſſitie, that (I ſay) it is good for a man ſo to be.

27 Art thou bounde vnto a wife? ſeeke not to be loſed. Art thou loſed from a wife? ſeeke not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou haſt not ſinned: & if a virgin marry, ſhee hath not ſinned: neuertheleſſe, ſuch ſhall haue trouble in the fleſh: but I (e) beare with you.

29 But this ſay I brethren, becauſe the time is ſhort: It remaineth that they alſo whiche haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buye, as though they poſſeſſed not:

31 And they that vſe this worlde, as not abuſing it: for the faſhion of this worlde goeth away.

32 I woulde haue you without care. He that is vnmaryed, careth for the things that belong to the Lorde, howe he may pleaſe the Lorde:

33 But he that hath maryed, careth for the things that are of the worlde, howe he may pleaſe his wife.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wife: The vnmaryed woman careth for the things that are of the Lorde, that ſhe may be holy both in body & in ſpirite, but ſhee that is maryed, careth for the things that pertaine to the worlde, howe ſhe may pleaſe hir huſbande.

35 This ſpeake I for your profite, not that I may caſte a ſnare vppon you, but for comelineſſe ſake and ſitting faſt vnto the Lorde without ſeparation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomely for his virgin if ſhe paſſe the time of maryage, (f) and neede ſo requyre, let him doe what he will, he ſinneth not: let them be maryed.

37 Neuertheleſſe, he that ſtandeth ſtedfaſt in his hart, hauing no neede, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath ſo decreed in his hart that he will keepe his virgin, doth wel.

38 So then he that giueth in maryage, doth wel: but he that giueth not in maryage, doth better.

39 The wife is bounde to the " law as long as hir huſbande liueth: but if hir huſbande be dead, ſhe is at libertie to be maryed to whom ſhe will, onely in the Lord. " Rom. 7. a. or, by the law of maryage.

40 But ſhe is happyer if ſhe ſo abyde, after my iudgement: and I thinke verely that I haue the ſpirite of God.

The. viij. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them that vſe their libertie to the ſclaunder of other, in going to the idolatrous ſacrifices. 9. And ſheweth howe men ought to behaue them towarde ſuche as be weake.

1 AS touching things offered vnto idols, we knowe that we all haue knowe- A Acts. 5. c.
ledge. Knowledge maketh a man ſwel: but charitie edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to knowe.

3 But if any man loue God, the ſame is " knowen of him. or, taughte.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of thoſe things that are offered in ſacrifice vnto idolles, we know that an idol is nothing in the worlde, and that there is none other God but one. 1. Co. 10. f.

5 And though there be that are called goddes, whither in heauen or in earth, (as there be goddes many, and (g) lordes many:)

6 Yet vnto vs is there but one God (whiche is) the father, of whom are all things, and wee in him, and one Lorde Ieſus Chriſt, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 But there is not in euery manne that knowledge: for ſome hauing conſcience of the idol vntill this houre, eate as a thing offered vnto idolles, and their conſcience being weake, is defyled. B 1. Cor. 8. g.

8 But meate doth not commende to God: For neither if wee eate, haue wee the more: neyther if wee eate not, haue wee the leſſe.

9 But take heede leſt by any meanes this libertie of yours become a ſtumbling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man ſee thee whiche haſte knowledge, ſit at meate in the idols temple: ſhall not the conſcience of him which is weake, be (b) boldened to eate those thynges which are offered to idolles, 11 And through thy knowledge shall the (c) weake brother perysshe, for whome Christ dyed?

12 But when ye synne so agaynst the brethren, and wounde their weake conscience, ye synne agaynst Christ.

13 Wherfore if meate offende my brother, I wyll eate no flesshe while the worlde standeth, least I shoulde offende my brother.

b. By thyne example, without any ground of doctrine.
c. Which eateth against his conscience.

Rom. 14. d

The. ix. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of other. 24. to runne on foorth in the course that they haue begunne.

1 AM I not an apostle? am I not free? Haue I not seene Jesus Christe our Lorde? Are not ye my worke in the Lord?

1 Actes. 11. a.

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: for the (a) seale of mine apostleship are ye in the Lorde.

3 Myne answere to them that aske me, is this,

4 Haue wee not power to eate and to drinke?

5 Haue we not power to leade about a (b) sister a woman, aswel as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord and Cephas.

6 Is the libertie of not labouring "taken from me and Barnabas onely?

7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyarde, and eateth not of the fruite thereof? Or who feedeth a flocke, & eateth not of the mylke of the flocke?

8 Say I these things after the manner of men? or saith not the lawe the same also?

9 For it is writen in the lawe of Moyses, thou shalt not muzzel the mouth of the oxe that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Either saith he it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubte (this) is writen: that he whiche eareth, shoulde eare in hope: and that he whiche thresheth in hope, shoulde be partaker of his hope.

11 If we haue sowen vnto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if wee shall reape your carnal things.

a. I neede no further declaration, but the workes that I haue wrought among you.
b. Or a sister, a wife. Saint Paul vseth none other word to expresse a wife than γυνὴ. γυνὴ, what nedeth it to adde a woman where was promised a sister? wherfore I thinke (saith he) it ought to be translated a wife, specially bycause it is expressed in the singular number γυναῖκα. The old translation printed, transposeth the wordes, saying, Mulierem Sororem, where the most olde written copies constantly haue Sororem Mulierem, as al the Greke copies. ἀδελφὴν γυναῖκα. "with the handes.

12 If others be partakers of (their) power ouer you, (wherefore are) not we rather? Neuertheles, we haue not vsed this power: but suffer al thynges, lest we shoulde hinder the Gospel of Christ.

Deu. 25. 1. Tim. 5. Rom. 15. Gala. 6. b. Actes. 20.

13 Woe ye not knowe that they which minister about holy things, eate of the things of the temple? and they whiche wayte at the aulter, are partakers with the aulter?

14 Euen so hath the Lorde ordeined, that they whiche preache the Gospel, shoulde liue of the Gospel.

C Mat. 10. b.

15 But I haue vsed none of these things. Neuertheles, I wrote not these things, that it shoulde bee so done vnto me: for it were better for me to dye, than that any manne shoulde make my "reioycing vayne.

Actes. 20. "or, boast.

16 For if I preache the Gospel, I haue nothing to "reioyce of: for necessitie is layde vpon me. But wo is vnto me if I preache not the Gospel.

"or, boast of.

17 For if I do this thing with a good will, I haue a reward: but if against my will, the (c) dispensation is committed vnto me.

c. The greke worde, signifieth a guide, beslowing, distribution of things, a yeue, with the profite of an housholde.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that when I preache the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ free, that I misuse not mine authoritie in the Gospel.

19 For though I be free from al men, yet haue I made my selfe seruaunt vnto all men, that I might winne the more.

20 Unto the Jewes I become as a Jewe, that I might winne the Jewes: to them that are vnder the law, as vnder the lawe, that I might winne them that are vnder the lawe:

Actes. 16. Gala. 2. d.

21 To them that are without law, as without law, (when I was not without lawe as pertayning to the law of god, but was in the law of Christ) that I might winne them that are without lawe.

22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might winne the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.

1 Cor. 10.

23 And this I doe for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof.

24 Knowe ye not that they whiche runne in a race, runne all, but one receiueth the reward? So runne that ye may obtaine.

The Epistle on Septuagesima Sunday.

25 Euery man that proueth maisteries, abstayneth from al things: and they (doe it) to obtayne a corruptible crowne, but we (to obtaine) an incorruptible (crowne.)

2. Tim. 4. 1. Pet. 5. b.

26 I

26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncertayne thyng: so fyght I, not as one that beateth the ayre:

27 But I tame my (d) body, and bryng it into subiection: lest by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be a cast away.

The.x. Chapter.

1. He feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God: 14. Exhorting them to flee all idolatrie. 23. and offence of their neyghbour.

1 BRethren, I would not that ye should bee ignorant, howe that all our fathers were vnder the cloude, and all passed thorowe the sea:

2 And were all baptised " vnto Moses in the cloude, and in the sea:

3 And did all eate of the same (a) spiritual meate:

4 And did all drinke of the same spiritual drinke: (For they dranke of that spiritual rocke that followed them: and that rocke was (b) Christ.)

5 But in many of them hadde God no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wildernesse.

6 These things verily are our ensamples, that we shoulde not be lusters after euill things, as they also lusted.

7 Neither be ye idolaters, as (were) some of them, as it is written, the people sate downe to eate and drinke, and rose vp to play.

8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed " fornication, and fell in one day three and twentie thousande.

9 Neyther let vs tempt Christ, as some of them tempted, and were distroyed of serpentes.

10 Neither murmur ye, as some of them murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.

11 All these things happened vnto them for ensamples: but they are written (c) for our admonition vppon whom the endes of the worlde are come.

12 Wherfore let him that thinketh he stãdeth, take heede lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you but suche as followeth the nature of man: but God is faithful, which shall not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you are able: but shall with the temptation make away to escape, that yee may bee able to beare it.

14 Wherefore my dearely beloued, flee frõ idolatrie.

15 I speake as vnto them whiche haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.

16 The cuppe of blessing whiche we blesse, is it not the partaking of the bloude of Christ? The bread whiche we breake, is it not the partaking of the bodye of Christ?

17 For we that are many, are one bread and one body, in as muche as we all are partakers of one bread.

18 Behold Israel (which is) after the flesh: are not they whiche eate of the sacrifices, partakers of the aulter?

19 What say I then? that the idol is any thing? or that it which is offered in sacrifice to idolles is any thing?

20 But (this I say) that the things which the Gentiles offer in sacrifice, they offer to deuils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should haue (d) felowship with the deuils.

21 Ye can not drinke the cup of the Lord, and the cuppe of deuils: yee can not bee partakers of the Lordes table, and of the table of deuils.

22 Eyther doe we prouoke the Lord to anger? What, are we stronger than he?

23 All thinges are lawful for me, but all thinges are not expedient, all thinges are lawful for me, but al things edifie not.

24 Let no man seeke his owne: but euery man anothers (wealth.)

25 What so euer is solde in " the market, that eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

26 For the earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof.

27 If any of them whiche beleeue not, byd you (to a feast) and ye be disposed to goe, what so euer is set before you, eate, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say vnto you, This is offered in sacrifice vnto idolles, eate not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake. The earth is the Lordes, and the plentie thereof.

29 Conscience I say, not of thine owne selfe, but of the other: for why is my (e) libertie iudged of another mans conscience?

Deut. 22. a. 6 If the woman be not couered, let hir also be shorne: if it be a shame for a woman to be shorne or shauen, let hir be couered.

B 7 A man ought not to couer his head, forasmuche as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

Gene. 1. d. 8 For the man is not of the woman: but the woman of the man.

9 Neither was the man created for the woman: but the woman for the man,

a. Some thing to couer hir head, in signe of subiection. 10 For this cause ought the woman to haue (a) power on hir head, for the angels sakes.

11 Neuertheles, neither is the man without the woman, neither ý woman without the man, in the Lorde.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man also by the woman, but all things of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto GOD bare headed?

14 Doeth not nature it selfe teache you, that it is a shame for a man if he haue long heare? C

15 But if a woman haue long heare, it is a prayse for hir: for hir heare is geuen hir for a couering.

16 If any man lust to striue, we haue no suche custome, neyther the Churches of God.

17 This I warne you of, and commende not that ye come together for the better, but for the worse. Epistle. Thursday next before Easter.

18 For first of al, when ye come together in the Churche, I heare that there be dissentions among you, and I partly beleeue it.

19 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are "approued among you, myght be knowen. Mat. 18. "or, tryed.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, "you can not eate the Lordes supper. "or, this is not to eate

22 What, haue ye not houses to eate and to drynke in? Or dispyse ye the Churche of God, and shame them that haue not? What shal I say vnto you, shall I prayse you? in this I prayse you not.

23 That whiche I delyuered vnto you, I receyued of the Lorde, that the Lorde Iesus the same nyght in the which he was betrayed, toke bread:

25 After the same manner also (he tooke) the cuppe when he hadde supped, saying, This cuppe is the new Testament in my bloud: this doe ye as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me. Actes. 1. b. 1. Pet. 2. b.

26 For as often as ye eate this bread, and drinke this cuppe, ye doe shewe the Lords death til he come.

28 But let a man examine him selfe, and so let him eate of this bread, and drinke of this cuppe. Eccl. 28. c.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthyly, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto vnto him (c) selfe, making no difference of the Lordes body.

30 For this cause many are weake and sicke among you, and many sleepe.

31 For if we would iudge our selues, we should not be " iudged.

32 But when wee are " iudged, wee are " chastened of the Lorde, that we should not be damned with the world.

33 Wherefore my brethren, when ye come together, to eate, tarrie one for another.

34 If any man hunger, let him eate at home, that ye come not together vnto condemnation. The rest will I set in order when I come.

The. xij. Chapter.

1. The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy ghost, ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christes Church. 12. as the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

1 CConcerning spirituall (giftes) brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, caryed away vnto dumbe idols, euen as ye were (a) led.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that no man speaking by the spirite of God, " defieth Iesus: also no man can say " that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy ghost.

4 There are diuersities of giftes, but it is the selfe same spirite.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but it is the selfe same Lord.

6 And there are diuers manners of operations, but it is the selfe same God, whiche worketh all in all.

8 The manifestation of the spirit, is giuen to euery man to profite withall:

9 For to one is giuen by the spirit the word of wisdom, to another the word of knowledge by the same spirite:

9 To another (is giuen) fayth by the same spirite: to another the gyftes of healing by the same spirite:

10 To another power to (doe) myracles, to another (b) prophesie, to another discerning of spirites, to another diuers kyndes of tongs, to another the interpretation of tongs.

11 But these all worketh euen that one and the selfe same spirite, diuiding to euerie man seuerally euen as he will.

12 For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body being many, are one body: euen so is Christ also.

13 For by one spirite are we all baptized into one body, whether (we be) Iewes or Gentiles, whether (we be) bonde or free: and haue all dronke of one spirite. Esai. 55. a.

14 For the bodye is not one member, but many. C

15 If the foote doe say, Bycause I am not the hande, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare doe say, Bycause I am not the eye, I am not of the bodye: is it therefore not of the body?

17 If al the body (were) an eye, where were then the hearing? If all (were) hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But nowe hath God set the members, euerie one of them seuerall in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 If they were all one member, where were the body?

20 Now are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye can not say vnto the hande, I haue no neede of thee: nor agayne the head to the foote, I haue no neede of you. D

22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body which seeme to be more (c) feeble, are necessarie,

c. Whose vse seemeth to be more vile.

23 And vpon those (members) of the bodye which we think to be lesse honourable, we owe (d) more honour; and our vncomely (partes) haue more comelynesse.

d. We are more carefull to couer them

24 For our comely (members) neede it not: But God hath tempered the body together, hauing giuen the more honor to that (part) which lacked,

25 That there should be no strife in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it. E

27 Ye are the body of Christ, and members (e) in part.

e. That is, euery one is a meber of the body of christ for his part.

28 And God hathe ordeyned some in the Churche, first Apostles, secondarily Prophetes, thirdly Teachers, then them that do myracles: after that, the gyftes of healing, helpers, gouernours, " diuersities of tongs. Math. 10. a. Luke. 11. a. Ephes. 4. c.

" or, kindes.

29 Are all, Apostles? are all, Prophetes? are all, Teachers? are all doers of myracles?

30 Haue all the giftes of healing? Doe all speake with tongs? Doe all interprete?

31 Couet after the best gifts: And yet shew I vnto you a more excellent way.

The.xiij. Chapter.

Bycause loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth foorth the nature, office, and prayse thereof.

A The Epistle on quinquagesima sunday.

1 Though * I speake with the tongs of men and of (a) angels, and haue not charitie, I am (as) sounding brasse, or (as) a tinckling Cymball.

a. If the angels had tongues, & I had the vse therof, & did not bestowe them to profite my neighbour, it were nothing but vain babbling.

2 And though I haue prophesie, and vnderstand all secrets, and all knowledge: Yea, if I haue all fayth, so that I can remoue mountaynes, and haue not charitie, I am nothing.

Luke.17.a.

3 And though I bestowe all my goodes to feede the poore, and though I giue my body that I should be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charitie suffereth long, and is curteous: Charitie enuieth not, charitie doth not frowardly, " swelleth not,

" or, is not puft vp.

5 Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not his owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euill,

1. Cor.10.f. Philip.2.a.

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the truth:

B 7 Suffereth al things, beleeueth al things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Though that prophesying fayle, eyther tongs ceasse, or knowledge vanish away, (yet) charitie falleth neuer away.

9 For our knowledge is " vnperfecte, and our prophesying is vnperfect:

" or, in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is vnperfect shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I vnderstode as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but as soone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse.

12 Nowe we see in a (b) glasse, euen in a darke speaking: but then (shall we see) face to face. Now I know vnperfectly: but then shall I know, euen as I am knowne.

b. The mysteries of God

13 Now abydeth fayth, hope, and charitie, these three, but the chief of these is charitie.

The.xiiij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongs, and other spirituall giftes. 5. But chiefly prophesying. 34. He commaundeth women to keepe silence in the Church. 40. And sheweth what good order ought to be obserued in the Church.

A 1 Follow after charitie, and couet spirituall (gistes:) but most chiefly that ye may prophesie.

2 For he that speaketh with (an vnknowne) tong, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: For no man (a) heareth (him:) how beit, in the spirite he speaketh mysteries.

a. Vnderstandeth him.

3 But hee that prophesieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 Hee that speaketh with (an vnknowne) tong, edifieth him selfe: but he that prophesieth, edifieth the Church.

Rom.12. Num.11.

5 I would that ye al spake with (b) tongs, but rather that ye prophesyed: For greater is hee that prophesyeth, than hee that speaketh with tongues, except hee expounde it, that the Churche may receyue edifying.

b. Tongs in this place, & such like, signifieth no instrumēt we speak but propr of some l guage that hearer vn standeth no without an terpreter.

6 Now brethren, if I come vnto you speaking with tongs, what shall I profite you, except I shall speake to you eyther by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And euen things without lyfe giuing B sound, Whether (it be) a Pipe or an harp, except they giue a distinction in the soundes, howe shall it be knowne what is pyped or harped?

8 For if the trump giue an vncertain sound, who shall be prepared to the warre?

9 So likewise you, except ye vtter wordes by the tong easie to be vnderstoode, howe shall it be knowne what is spoken? For ye shall speake into the (c) ayre.

c. Your wo shal be lost ye shal neit glorifie Go thereby, n profite man

10 There are happyly so many kyndes of voyces in the worlde, and none (of them) are without signification.

11 Therefore if I knowe not the meaning of the voyce, I shal be vnto him that speaketh an aliant, and hee that speaketh shall be an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, for as much as ye couet spirituall (giftes) seeke that ye may excell, vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tong, pray that he may interprete.

14 For if I pray with (an vnknowne) tong, C my spirite prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I will praye with the spirite, and will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will (d) sing with the spirite, & will sing with the vnderstanding also.

d. Or, g thankes by singing.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, howe shall he that " occupyeth the rowme of the vnlearned say Amen, at thy gyuing of thankes, seeing hee vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

" or, fylleth.

17 Thou verily giuest thankes well: but the other is not edified.

18 I

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongs more than ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speak fyue wordes with my vnderstanding, that by my voyce I may teach other also, than tenne thousande wordes in (an vnknowne) tong.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding: howbe it, as concerning noughtinesse be ye children, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

21 In the lawe it is written, With (men of) sundry tongs and sundry lippes will I speake vnto this people: and yet for all that will they not heare mee, sayth the Lorde.

22 Wherefore tongs are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: But prophesying (serueth) not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Churche be come together into one place, and all speake with tongs, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say that ye are madde?

24 But if all prophesie, and there come in one ỹ beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of all men, he is iudged of al men.

25 And so are the secretes of his heart made manifest, and so hauing falne down on his face, he will worshippe God, saying that God is in you of a truth.

26 How is it then brethren? When ye come together, euery one of you hath a Psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tong, hath a reuelation, hath interpretation: Lette al things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tong, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course, and let one interprete.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Churche, and let hym speake to him selfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophetes speake two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesie one by one, that al may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the (d) spirites of the prophetes are subiect to the prophetes.

33 For God is not (the authour) of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the Saintes.

34 Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake, but (they are commaunded) to be vnder obedience, as also sayth the lawe.

35 If they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbandes at home: For it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 Spring the worde of God from you? eyther came it vnto you only?

37 If any man thinke him selfe to be a prophete, eyther spirituall, let him know that the things that I write vnto you, are the commaundements of the Lord. F

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophesie, and forbid not to speake with tongs.

40 Let all things be done honestly, and in order.

The. xv. Chapter.

1. Hee proueth the resurrection of the deade. 3. and first that Christ is risen. 22. then, that we shall rise. 52. and the manner how.

1 MOreouer brethren, I declare vnto you the Gospell which I preached vnto you, which also ye haue receyued, and wherein ye haue "continued, I "or, stoode.

2 By the which also ye are saued, if ye keepe the doctrine which I preached vnto you, except ye haue beleeued in vayne.

3 For I deliuered vnto you first of all, that which also I (a) receyued, how that Christ died for our sinnes, according to the scriptures: a. He sheweth that nothing ought to be taught, which we haue not learned by Gods word. Math. 28. b. Ioh. 20. a. Luke. 24. b.

4 And that he was buryed, and that he arose the thirde day according to the scriptures:

5 And that he was seene of Cephas, then of the twelue:

6 After that he was seene of moe than fiue hundred brethren at once: of which, the more part remayne vnto this daye, and some are falne asleepe.

7 And after that he was seene of Iames, then of all the Apostles. B

8 And last of all he was seene of me, as of one borne out of due time.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthie to bee called an Apostle, bicause I persecuted the Church of God. Actes. 7. a.

10 But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in me, was not vayne: But I laboured more abundantly than they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me. Gala. 2. c.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 If

12 If Christe be preached how that he arose from the dead: how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there be no ryssing of the dead, then is Christ not rysen.

C 14 If Christ be not rysen, then is our preaching vaine, & your fayth is also (b) vaine.

b. For if christ be swalowed vp of death, there remayneth no hope of life any more.

15 Yea, and we are founde false witnesses of God, bycause we haue testified of God, how that he rayled vp Christe: whom he raised not vp, if so be that ỹ dead rise not.

16 For if the deade ryse not, then is not Christ rysen.

17 If it be so that Christ is not rysen, then is your fayth vayne, ye are yet in youre sinnes.

18 But also they which are falne a sleepe in Christe, are perysshed.

19 If in this life onely we haue hope in Christe, then are we of all men most myserable.

20 But now is Christ rysen from the dead, he is become the first (c) fruits of thē ỹ slept.

Colos. 1. c.

c. As by the offering of the first fruite, the whole fruit is sanctified: so by Christe which is the first that is rayssed, al haue assurance of the resurrection.

21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrection of the deade.

22 For as "by Adam all dye, euen so "by Christ shall all (a) be made aliue,

"or, in Adam.
"or, in Christ.
d. To wit, the faythfull.

23 But euerie man in his own order. The first fruites (is) Christ, afterward, they that are Christes at his comming.

24 Then (commeth) the ende, when he shall haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the father, when he shall haue put downe all rule, and all authoritie, and powre.

D 25 For he must raigne tyll he shall haue put all his enimies vnder his feete.

Psal. 110. a.
Math. 22. d.
Hebr. 1. c.

26 The last enimie that shall be destroyed, (is) death.

Psal. 8. b.
Hebr. 2. d.

27 For he hath put downe all things vnder his feete: But when he sayth, All things are put vnder him, it is manifest that he is accepted whiche did put all things vnder him.

28 When all things shall be subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne also him selfe be subiect vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they doe which are baptized for the deade, if the deade ryse not at all? Why are they then baptized for the deade?

E 30 And why stande we in icopardie euerie houre?

e. That is, hauing regarde to this present life, and not to Gods glory, & to life euerlasting.

31 (I protest) by our reioycing which I haue in Christ Jesus our Lord, I dye dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beastes at Ephesus after the (e) manner of men, what auantageth it me, if the deade ryse not? Let vs eate and drinke, for to morrow we dye.

33 Be ye not deceyued: Euill wordes corrupt good manners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of God, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, Howe are the dead raised vp? With what body do they come?

36 Thou "fole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it dye.

"or, mad man.
1. Ioh. 12.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that bodye that shall be, but bare corne, it may chance of wheate, or of some other (corne.)

38 But God gyueth it a bodie, as it hath pleased him, and to euerie seede his owne body.

39 All flesh, is not "the same flesh, but there is one (manner of) flesh of men, another flesh of beastes, another of fishes, and another of byrdes.

"or, one manner of flesh.

40 There are also celestiall bodies, and bodies terrestriall: But the glorie of the celestiall is one, and (the glorie) of the terrestriall another.

f

41 There is one glory of the (f) Sunne, and another glory of the Mone, and another glory of the Starres: For (one) starre differeth from (another) starre in glorie.

f. Euen as Sunne and Moone be of one substace, differ dignitie: so the resurrection, our bodies shall haue more excellent qualities than thei haue now. For what more vile to looke vpon, than the dead carkasse.

42 So is the resurrection of the deade, it is sowen in corruption, it ryseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in (g) dishonour, is ryseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it ryseth in power.

44 It is sowen a naturall body, it ryseth a spirituall body: There is a naturall body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 And so it is also written: The first man Adam was made a lyuing soule, and the last Adā was made a quickning spirit.

Gen. 2. b.

46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spirituall, but that (which is) naturall, and then that (which is) spirituall.

47 The first man (is) of the earth, earthy: the second man (is) the Lord from heauen.

48 As is the earthy, suche (are) they that are earthy: And as is the heauenly, suche (are) they also that are heauenly.

49 And as we haue borne the image of the earthy, we shall also beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I brethren, that flesh and bloud can not inherite the kingdome of God: neyther dothe corruption inherite incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shewe you a mysterie. We shall

1. Thes. 4. d.

shall not all slepe, but we shall all be chaunged.

52 In a moment, in the twinckling of an eye, at the last trumpe, (for the trumpe shal blowe) and the deade shall ryse incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall (must) put on immortalitie.

54 When this corruptible shal haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on immortalitie, then shall be brought to passe the saying that is written, Death is swalowed vp into victorie.

55 O Death where is thy sting? O Hell where is thy victorie?

56 The sting of death (is) sinne, and the (h) strength of sinne is the lawe.

57 But thankes be vnto God, which giueth vs the victorie through our Lorde Iesus Christe.

58 Therefore my beloued brethren, bee ye stedfast, vnmoueable, alwayes abounding in the worke of the Lorde, for as much as ye know that your labour is not in (i) vaine in the Lorde.

The.xvi. Chapter.

1. He putteth them in remembrance of the collection for the poore brethren at Ierusalem. 13. We must persever in fayth, in the loue of Christe, and of our neighbour. 15. After his commendations, he wisheth to them al prosperitie.

1 Concerning the collection for ỹ saints (as I haue ordeyned in the Churches of Galatia, euen so do ye.

2 Vpon some Sabboth day, let euerie one of you put aside by him selfe, laying vp as God hath prospered him, that then there be no gatherings when I come.

3 When I am come, whom so euer ye shal alow by (your) letters, them will I send to bring your liberalitie vnto Ierusalem.

4 And if it be meete that I goe also, they shall goe with me.

5 I will come vnto you, after I shall haue gone ouer Macedonia, (for I doe nowe passe through Macedonia.)

6 And it may be that I will abyde, yea, or winter with you, that ye may bring me on my way, whether so euer I goe.

7 For I will not see you nowe in my passage, but I trust to abyde a while with you, if the Lord suffer me.

11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conuey him forth in peace, that hee may come vnto me: for I loke for him with the brethren.

12 As touching (our) brother Apollo, I greatly desired him to come vnto you with the brethren, but his will was not at all to come at this time: But hee will come when he shall haue conuenient time. Actes. 18. c. 1. Cor. 1. b.

13 (a) Watche ye, stand ye fast in the fayth, quite you like men be strong.

16 That ye be also obedient vnto suche, and to all that helpe with vs, and labour.

17 I am glad of the comming of Stephana, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for that which was lacking (vnto me) on your (c) part, they haue supplyed.

18 For they haue comforted my spirite and yours: therefore knowe ye them that are suche.

19 The Churches of Asia salute you: Aquila and Priscilla salute you mightie in the Lorde, with the Churche that is in theyr house.

The.ij.Chapter.

1. He sheweth his loue towards the.7. requiring likewise that they would be fauourable to the incestuous adulterer, seing he did repent. 14 he also reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine. 17. confuting therby such quarell pickers, kers, as vnder pretence of speaking against his person, sought nothing but the ouerthrow of his doctrine.

1 BVt I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come agayne to you in heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sory, who is he that maketh me gladde, but the same whiche is made (a) sory by me?

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, least when I came, I should take heauinesse of them of whom I ought to reioyce, hauing confidence in you all, that my ioy, is (the ioy) of you all.

4 For in great affliction and anguishe of hart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye shoulde be made sorry, but that ye might perceiue the loue whiche I haue most aboundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sory, but partly, least I should ouer greeue you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that nowe contrariwise ye ought rather to forgiue him, and comfort him, least that same (person) should be swalowed vp with ouermuch heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you that you woulde confirme your loue towardes him.

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might knowe the proufe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whome ye forgiue any thing, I (forgiue) also: For if I forgaue any thing to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes (forgaue I it) in the (b) sight of Christ, 11 Lest we shuld be circumuented of satan: For we are not ignorant of his deuices.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to (preach) Christes Gospell, and a dore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirite, because I founde not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Nowe thankes be vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph (c) in Christe, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christe in them that are saued, and in them which perish.

16 To the one (are we) the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of life, vnto life: And who is meete vnto these things?

12 For we are not as many are, which chop and change with the worde of God: but as of pureneſſe, but as of God in the sight of God, speake we "in Christ.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. He taketh for example the fayth of the Corinthians for a probation of the truth which he preached. 6. and to exalt his apostleship against the braggers of the false apostles. 7. 13. he maketh comparison betwixt the lawe and the Gospell.

1 DOe wee beginne to commende our selues againe: Or neede we, as some (other) Epistles of commendation vnto you? or (letters) of comendation from you?

2 Ye are our Epistle written in our hearts, "vnderstoode and read of all men:

"or, knowne:

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christe ministred by vs, written not with inke, but with the spirite of the liuing God, not in stonie tables, but in fleshely tables of the heart.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiencie (is) of God:

6 Whiche hath made vs able ministers of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirite: For the letter killeth, but the (a) spirit giueth life.

1. Cor. 4. b.

a. Meaning the spirituall doctrine which is in our hartes.

7 But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glorie, so that the children of Israell could not stedfastly beholde the face of Moses, for (b) the glorie of the countenance, which (glory) is done away:

b. After that god had spoken with him, and giuen him the lawe.

8 Howe shall not the ministration of the spirite be much more in glory?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation, be glorie: muche more doth the ministration of ryghteousnesse exceede in glorie.

c. Moses shewed the lawe as it was couered with shadowes, so that the Iewes eyes were not lightned, but blinded, and so could not come to Christ, who was the ende thereof. Again, the Gospell setteth forth the glory of God clearely, not couering our eyes, but dryuing the darkenesse away from them.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorifyed in this behalfe, by cause of the exceeding glory.

11 For if that which is put away was glorious: much more that which remayneth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speach:

13 And not as Moses, which put (c) a vayle ouer his face, that the children of Israell should not stedfastly looke into the ende of that which is abolished.

14 But their mindes were blinded: for vntill this day remaineth ỳ same vaile vntake away in the reading of the olde Testament, which (vaile) is put away in Christ.

15 But euen vnto this day when Moses is read, the vayle is layde vpon their heart.

16 Neuertheleſſe, when it ſhall turne to the Lorde, the vaile ſhall be taken away.

17 The Lorde is the ſpirite: and where the ſpirite of the Lord (is) there is libertie.

18 But we all beholding (as) in a (d) myrrour the glorie of the Lorde, with his face open, are chaunged vnto the ſame image from glorie to glorie, euen as of the ſpirite of the Lorde.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. He declareth his diligence, and roundneſſe in his office. 8. and that which his enimies tooke for his diſaduantage, to wit, the croſſe and affliction which he endured, he turned it to his great aduantage. 11. 17. ſhewing what profit commeth therby.

1 THerefore, ſeeing that we haue ſuche a miniſterie, as we haue receyued mercie, we faint not.

2 But haue caſt from vs the cloakes of vnhoneſtie, walking not in craftineſſe, neyther handling the word of God deceitfully, but in opening of the truth, commending our ſelues to euery mans conſcience, in the ſight of God.

3 If our Goſpell be hidde, it is hid in them that are loſt:

4 In whom the (a) God of this world hath blinded the myndes of them which beleue not, leaſt the light of the Goſpell of the glorie of Chriſte ſhould ſhine vnto them, (which is the image of God.)

5 For we preach not our ſelues, but Chriſte Jeſus the Lorde, and our ſelues your ſeruants for Jeſus ſake.

6 For it is God that commaunded ỳ light to ſhyne out of darkneſſe, who hath ſhyned in our heartes, for (to giue) the light of the knowledge of the glorie of God, in the face of Jeſus Chriſt.

7 But wee haue this treaſure in earthen veſſels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 Wee are troubled on euerie ſyde, yet are we not " without ſhift: We are in pouertie, but not in extreme pouertie.

9 We are perſecuted, but are not forſaken therein: We are caſt downe, but we periſhe not:

10 We alwayes beare about in the body the dying of the Lord Jeſus, that the lyfe of Jeſus might alſo be made manifeſt in our body.

11 For we which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Jeſus ſake, that the life alſo of Jeſus might be made manifeſt in our mortall fleſhe.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but lyfe in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the ſame ſpirit of fayth, (according as it is written, I beleeued, and therefore haue I ſpoken:) We alſo beleeue, and therfore ſpeake:

14 Knowing that hee, which rayſed vp the Lorde Jeſus, ſhall raiſe vp vs alſo by the meanes of Jeſus, & ſhall ſet vs with you.

15 For al things " (do I) for your (ſakes,) that the plenteous grace by thankes giuing of many, may redound to the prayſe of God.

16 Wherefore we are not weeryed: but though our outwarde man periſhe, yet the inward man is renued day by day.

17 For the momentanie (b) lightneſſe of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding, and an eternall wayght of glory vnto vs:

18 While we loke not on the things which are ſeene, but on the things which are not ſeene: For the things which are ſeene, are tempozall: but the things whiche are not ſeene, are eternall.

The.v. Chapter.

1 FOR we knowe that if our earthly (a) houſe of this tabernacle were deſtroyed, we haue a building of God, (euen) an habition not made with handes, but eternall in heauen.

2 For therefore ſigh we, deſiring (vpon our clothing) to be further clothed with our houſe which is from heauen:

3 If ſo be that we being clothed, ſhall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernable, ſygh being burthened, bycauſe we would not put off our clothing, but vpon the ſame put on more, that mortalitie might be ſwalowed vp of lyfe.

5 Hee that hath ordeyned vs for the ſelfe ſame thing, (is) God which hath alſo giuen vnto vs the earneſt of the ſpirit.

6 Therfore we are alway of good cheare, & knowe that as long as we are at home in the body, we are abſent from the Lord.

11 Knowing therfore the feare of the Lorde, wee perſwade men, for wee are (b) knowen well inough vnto God: I truſte alſo that we are knowne in your conſciences.

7 And not by his comming onely, but also by the consolation which he receiued of you, when he told vs your vehement desyre, your weeping, your feruent mynde toward me; so that I reioyced the more.

8 For though I made you sorie with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: for I perceyue that the same Epistle made you sorie, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce: not that ye were made sorie, but that ye were made sory to repentace: for ye were made sorie to Godward, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

10 For godly sorow, causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the sorowe of the worlde causeth death.

1 MOreouer we doe you to wit brethren, of the grace of God, whiche was giuen in the churches of Macedonia. A

2 Howe that in mucbe triall of affliction their ioy abounded, & their depe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

9 For ye knowe the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that ye thorowe his pouertie, might be made riche.

10 And

10 And I gine counsel herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begun not to dw onely, but also to wyll a yeere agoe.

11 Nowe therefore perfourme to dw (it) also: that as there (appeared in you) a readynesse to will, euen so there may appeare a readines to perfourme, of that which ye haue.

12 For if there be first a willyng minde, it is accepted accordyng to that a man hath, and not accordyng to that he hath not.

13 Truly, not that other be let at ease, and you burdened:

15 As it is written, He that (had gathered) much, had nothyng ouer, and he that (had gathered) litle, had no lacke.

16 Thanks be vnto God, which put the same earnest care for you in the hart of Titus, 17 Bycause he accepted the exhortation: and beyng the more carefull, came of his owne accorde vnto you.

18 Wee haue sent with hym that brother (b) whose prayse is in the Gospell throughout al the Churches:

19 (And not that onely, but hee was also chosen of the Churches to be a felowe with vs in our iourney, concernyng this "grace, that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lorde, and (declaration) of your ready minde,)

20 Eschewyng this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is ministred by vs:

21 Makyng prouision for (c) honest thyngs, not onely in the sight of the Lorde, but also in the sight of men.

22 Wee haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom we haue oftentymes proued diligent in many thyngs, but nowe much more diligent, for the great confidence" (whiche I haue) in you:

23 Whether (any do enquyre) of Titus, he is my felow and helper concernyng you: or of other whiche are our brethren, they are the messengers of the Churches, (and) the glory of Christ.

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vaine in this behalf, that (as I haue sayde) ye may be prepared.

4 Least happily if they of Macedonia come with me, and fynde you vnprepared, we (I will not say you) shoulde be ashamed in this boldenesse of boasting.

10 For the letters (a) (ſayth he) are ſore and ſtrong: but (his) bodily preſence is weake, and his ſpeache nothyng worth.

11 Let hym that is ſuche a one, thynke on this wiſe, that as we are in word by letters when we are abſent, ſuch alſo are we in deede when we are preſent.

12 For we dare not number or compare our ſelues with certayne whiche prayſe themſelues: neuertheleſſe, whyle they meaſure themſelues with themſelues, and compare themſelues with themſelues, they vnderſtand not.

13 But wee wyll not boaſt aboue meaſure: but accordyng to the (b) meaſure of the rule which God hath diſtributed vnto vs, a meaſure to reache euen vnto you.

b. That is, the giftes and vocatiō which God had giuen him to winne others by.

14 For we ſtretche not out our ſelues beyond meaſure, as though wee reached not vnto you: For euen to you alſo haue wee come with the Goſpel of Chriſt:

C 15 Not boaſting our ſelues out of meaſure in other mens labours: but hoping when your fayth is encreaſed, to be magnified amōg you accordyng to our meaſure abundantly, 16 That I may preache the Goſpell in thoſe (regions) which (are) beyonde you: and not glory of thoſe things which by another mās meaſure are prepared already.

17 But lette him that glorieth, glory in the Lorde.

18 For he that commendeth himſelfe, is not alowed, but whom the Lord commendeth.

2 For I am gealous ouer you with godly gealouſie: For I haue coupled you to one man, to preſent (you) a chaſte virgin vnto Chriſt.

3 But I feare leaſt by any meanes, that as the ſerpent beguyled Eue through his ſubtiltie, euen ſo your myndes ſhoulde be corrupted from the ſingleneſſe that is towarde Chriſt.

Gen. 3. 4

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth another (a) Ieſus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receyue another ſpirite whom yee haue not receyued: eyther another Goſpel which ye haue not receyued, you would well haue ſuffered (him.)

a. That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Chriſt Ieſus.

5 Verily, I ſuppoſe that I was not behinde the chiefe Apoſtles.

6 But though (I be) rude in ſpeakyng, yet not in knowledge: but in al thyngs among you we haue bene well knowen to the vttermoſt.

B 7 Haue I committed an offence bycauſe I ſubmitted my ſelfe, that ye might be exalted, bicauſe I preached to you the Goſpel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, takyng wages of them, to do you ſeruice.

9 And when I was preſent with you, and had neede, I was chargeable to no man by my idleneſſe: for that whiche was lackyng vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia ſupplied: and in all things I haue kept my ſelfe not chargeable to you, and (ſo) will I keepe my ſelfe.

11 Wherfore? bycause I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that will I do, that I may cut away occasion from them whiche desyre occasion: that they myght bee founde lyke vnto vs, in that wherein they glorie.

13 For suche false Apostles, are deceytful workers, transfourmed into the Apostles of Christe.

14 And no maruayle: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an angell of lyght.

15 Therfore it is no greate thing if that his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shall be according to their workes.

16 I say agayne, Let no man thinke that I am folishe: or else euen nowe take ye mee as a fole, that I also maye boaste my selfe a little.

17 That I speake, I speake it not after the (c) Lorde: but as it were folishly in this boldnesse of boasting.

18 Seing that many glorie after the flesche, I will glorie also.

19 For ye suffer foles gladly, seeing ye your selues are wyse.

20 For ye suffer, if a manne bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure, if a man take, if a man exalte himselfe, if a man smyte you on the face.

21 I speake concerning reproche as thoughe we had bin weake: howbeit, wherin soeuer any man is bolde (I speake folishly) I am bolde also.

22 They are Hebrues, euen so (am) I: they are Israelites, euen so (am) I: they are the seede of Abraham, euen so (am) I:

23 They are the ministers of Christ (I speake as a fole) I am more: in labours more abundantly, in stripes aboue measure, in prison more plentuously, in deaths (d) oft.

24 Of the Iewes fiue tymes receyued I forty (stripes) saue one.

25 Thrice was I beaten with rodes, once stoned, thrice I suffered shipwracke, a night and a day haue I bin in the deapth.

26 In iourneying often, in perils of waters, in perilles of robbers, in perilles of myne owne nation, in perils among the heathen, in perils in the citie, in perilles in the wyldernesse, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren.

27 In labour and trauaile, in watchings often, in hunger and thirste, in faskings often, in colde and nakednesse, 28 Besydes the thinges whiche outwardely (come) vnto me: the trouble which priuily conspireth against me dayly (15) the care of al the Churches.

29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not? 1. Cor. 9. d.

30 If I must needs glorie, I will glorie of things that concerne mine infirmities. 11

1 IT is not expedient doubtlesse for mee I to glorie, I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lorde.

2 For I knewe a man in (a) Christe aboue fourteene yeares agoe, (whether in the body I can not tell: or whether out of the body I can not tell, God knoweth) taken vp into the third (b) heauen:

3 And I knewe the same man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I can not tel, God knoweth.)

4 How that he was taken vp into (c) paradise, and heard vnspeakable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.

5 Of suche " (a man) will I glorie, yet of my selfe will I not glorye, but in myne infirmities.

6 For though I would desire to glory (of them) I shall not be a fole, for I will saye the trueth: but I nowe refrayne, least any man should thinke of me aboue (that) which he seeth me (to be) or (that) he heareth of me.

7 And least I shoulde be exalted out of measure thorough the abundance of the reuelations, there was giuen vnto me a pricke to the flesche, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, bycause I shoulde not be exalted out of measure. B John. 2. b.

8 For thys thyng besoughte I the Lorde thrice, that it myght departe from me.

9 And he sayde vnto mee, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfecte in weakenesse. Most gladly therfore I wil rather glorie in my infirmities, that the power of Christ might dwell in mee.

13 For what is it wherein ye were inferiour vnto other Churches, except (it be) that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse? forgeue me this wrong.

C 14 Beholde, nowe the thirde tyme I am ready to come vnto you, and yet will I not be chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse: for I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parentes, but the parentes for the children.

19 Agayne, thinke you that wee excuse oure selues vnto you? We speake in Christe in the syght of God: but (we do) all thinges dearly beloued for your edifying.

20 For I feare leaste when I come, I shall not fynde you suche as I would, and that I shall be founde vnto you such as ye wold not: least there be debates, enuyings, wrathes, strifes, backbytings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:

The second Epistle to the Corinthians, was written from Philippos (a citie) of Macedonia, by Titus and Lucas.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to the Galathians.

¶ The first Chapter.

6. Paul rebuketh their inconstancie, which suffered themselues to be seduced by the false apostles, who preached that the obseruation of the ceremonies of the law were necessary to saluatiō, 8. and detesteth them that preach any otherwyse than Christ purely. 13. He sheweth his owne conuersation, magnifieth his office and apostleshyp, and declareth himself to be equal with the chiefe apostles.

1 PAule an Apostle not of men, neyther by man, but by Jesus Christe, and by God the father, whiche rayled hym vp from the dead:

2 And al the brethren whiche are with mee, vnto the Churches of Galatia.

3 Grace (be) with you, and peace from God the father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ:

4 Whiche gaue hymselfe for our sinnes, to deliuer vs from this (a) presente euyll worlde, accordyng to the will of God, and our father:

5 To whom (be) glory for euer and euer, Amen.

6 I marueyle that yee are so soone turned from hym that had called you in the grace of Christe, vnto another Gospel:

7 Whiche is not another (Gospel) but that there be some which trouble you, and intende to peruert the Gospel of Christe.

8 Neuertheles though wee, or an Angel from heauen, preache any other Gospel vnto you, than that which we haue preached vnto you, let hym be accursed.

9 As we sayd before, so say I now againe, If any man preache any other Gospel vnto you, than (that) ye haue receyued, let hym be accursed.

10 Do I nowe perswade men, or God? eyther do I seeke to please men? For if I yet pleased men, I should not be the seruant of Christ.

11 I certifie you brethren, that the Gospel whiche was preached of mee, is not after man.

12 For I neyther receyued it of man, neyther was I taught (it:) but by the reuelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye haue heard of my conuersation in tyme past, in the Iewes religion, (how) that beyonde measure I persecuted the Churche of God, and spoyled it:

14 And profited in the Iewes religion aboue many of myne (c) companions in myne owne nation, beyng a very feruent mayntener of the (b) traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, whiche separated me from my mothers wombe, and called (me) by his grace,

16 To reueale his sonne by me, that I should by the Gospel preache hym among the Heathen: immediatly I communed not with (c) fleshe and blond:

17 Neyther went I vp to Hierusalem, to them which (were) Apostles before me: but went my wayes into Arabia, and came agayne vnto Damascus.

18 Then after three yeeres I went vp to Hierusalem to see Peter, and abode with hym fiftiene dayes.

19 But other of the Apostles sawe I none, saue James the Lordes brother.

20 The thynges therefore whiche I write vnto you, beholde, before God I lie not.

21 Afterward I came into the coastes of Syria and Cilicia, and was vnknowen in face vnto the Churches of Jurie whiche were in Christ.

22 But they had heard onely, that he whiche persecuted vs in tymes past, nowe preacheth the (d) faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God in me.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Confirmyng his apostleship to be of God, 3. he sheweth why Titus was not circumcised, 6. and that he is nothyng inferiour to other apostles, 11. yea, and that he hath reproued Peter the Apostle of the Iewes. 16. After, he commeth to the principall scope, which is, to proue that iustification only commeth of the grace of God by fayth in Jesus Christ, and not by the woorkes of the law.

1 THen fourtiene yeeres after, I went vp agayne to Hierusalem with Barnabas, nabas, and toke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel whiche I preache among the Gentiles: but priuately with them whiche were esteemed the chiefe: least by any meanes I should runne, or had runne in vayne.

3 But neyther Titus whiche was with me, beyng a Greeke, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that bycause of incommers, beyng false brethren, whiche came in priuily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesu, that they might bryng vs into bondage.

"or, moment. 5 To whom, no not for an "houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

a. Albeit thy had bene conuersant with Christ aforetime. b. That is, they taught me not: but approued my doctrine perfect in all poynts. 6 Of them whiche seemed to be some what (what they (a) were in times passed it maketh no matter to me, God accepteth no mans person:) for they which seemed chiefe, (b) added nothyng (to me.)

7 But contrarywise, when they sawe that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto me, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

B 8 (For he that was mighty in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles:

9 When they perceyued the grace that was gyuen vnto me, (then) James, Cephas, and John, whiche seemed to be pyllers, gaue to mee and Barnabas the ryght handes of felowshyp: that wee (shoulde be Apostles) vnto the Heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

"they admonished. Actes. 11. d 2. Cor. 9. 8 10 Onely "that wee shoulde remember the poore: whereto also I was diligent to do the same.

c. Meaning, before al men. 11 But when Peter was come to Antioche, I withstode hym (c) to the face, bycause he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certayne came fro James, he did eate with the Gentils: but when they were come, he withdrew, and separated hym selfe, fearyng them (whiche were) of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with hym: in so much that Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

C 14 But when I sawe that they went not the ryght way to the trueth of the Gospell, I sayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou beyng a Iewe, lyuest after the maner of the Gentiles, and not as do the Iewes: Why compellest thou the Gentiles to lyue as do the Iewes?

Philip. 3. a d. For so the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproche. 15 We (whiche are) Iewes by nature, and not (d) sinners of the Gentiles, 16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the fayth of Iesus Christe: and wee haue beleeued on Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christe, and not by the deedes of the lawe, bycause by the deedes of the lawe no flesshe shal be iustified. Rom. 3. f

17 If then, whyle we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, we our selues also are found sinners: is therefore Christe the minister of sinne? God forbyd.

18 For if I buylde agayne the thyngs whiche I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the lawe, that I might lyue vnto God: I am crucified with Christ.

20 Neuertheles, I lyue: yet nowe not I, but Christe lyueth in me: and the lyfe whiche I nowe lyue in the flesshe, I lyue by the faith of the sonne of God, whiche loued me, and gaue himselfe for me. Ephel. 5. f

21 I reiect not the grace of God: for if righteousnesse (come) of the lawe, then Christ is dead in vayne. Rom. 4. d

The. iij. Chapter.

1. He rebuketh them sharply, 2. and proueth by dyuers reasons, that iustification is by fayth. 6. as appeareth by the example of Abraham. 10. 19. 24. and by the office and the end both of the law, 11. 25. and of fayth.

O Foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that ye shoulde not obey the truth: to whom Iesus Christ was before (a) described before the eyes, and among you crucified? I

a. To whom Christ was liuely preached, as if he liuely were set before your eyes, or els, had bene crucified among you.

2 This onely would I learne of you, whether ye receyued the spirite by the deedes of the lawe, or by the hearyng of the fayth?

3 Are yee yet suche fooles, that after yee haue begun in the spirite, ye woulde now end in the flesshe?

4 Haue ye suffered so great things in vaine? If it be yet in vayne.

5 He therefore that ministreth to you the spirite, and worketh myracles among you, doth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearyng of the fayth?

6 Euen as Abraham beleeued God, and it was accounted to hym for righteousnesse. Gen. 15. b Rom. 4. d

7 Know ye therefore, that they whiche are of fayth, the same are the children of Abraham. James. 2. b B

8 For the Scripture seyng afore hande that God woulde iustifie the Heathen through fayth, shewed before hande glade tydings vnto Abraham, (saying,) In thee shall all Gen. 12. d and. 22. d nations nations be blessed.

9 So then, they whiche be of fayth, are blessed with the faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the (b) deedes of the lawe, are vnder the curse: for it is written, Cursed is euery one that continueth not in all things whiche are written in the booke of the lawe to doe them.

11 But that no man is iustified by the lawe in the syght of God, it is euident: for the iust shall liue by faith.

12 And the lawe is not of faith: but the man that doeth them, shall liue in them.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: for it is written, Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree:

14 That the blessing of Abraham myghte come on the Gentiles through Iesus Christ, that wee mighte receyue the promise of the spirite through fayth.

15 Brethren, (c) I speake after the manner of men, though it be but a mans testament, yet if it be alowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

16 To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. He sayeth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christ:

17 This I say, that the lawe which beganne afterwarde beyond foure hundred and thirtie yeeres, doeth not disanul the testamente that was confirmed afore of GOD vnto Christwarde, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not now of promise. But God gaue (the inheritance) vnto Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then (serueth) the lawe? It was added because of transgressions, till the seede shoulde come to whome the promise was made: and it was ordeyned by angels in the hand of a mediatour.

20 A mediatour, is not (a mediatour) of one, but God is (d) one.

21 Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbyd. For if there had bene a lawe gyuen which could haue gyuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse shoulde haue bin by the lawe.

22 But the scripture hath concluded all vnder synne, that the promise by the fayth of Iesus Christ shoulde be gyuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before fayth came, we were kept vnder the lawe, and were shut vp vnto the faith which should afterward be reuealed.

24 Wherefore the lawe was our scolemaister vnto Christ, that we should be iustified by fayth.

25 But after that fayth is come, we are no longer vnder a scolemaister.

26 For ye are all the children of God by fayth in Christ Iesus.

27 For "all ye that are baptised, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Iewe, neyther Greeke, there is neyther bonde, nor free, there is neyther male, nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Iesus.

29 If (ye be) Christes, then are yee Abrahams seede, and heyres according to the promise.

"Some read, all ye that are baptised into Christ, haue put on Christ.

The. iiij. Chapter.

1. He sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordeyned, which being shadowes, must ende when Christe the trueth commeth. 9. Hee moueth them by certayne exhortations.

1 AND I say, That the heyre as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruaunt, though he be Lord of all:

2 But is vnder tutours and gouernours, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the (a) rudimentes of the worlde:

4 But when the fulnesse of the tyme was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the lawe,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, that we might receyue the adoption of children.

6 Because yee are sonnes, God hath sente forth the (b) spirite of his sonne into your hartes, crying (c) Abba, father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruaunte, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heyre of God through Christ.

8 Notwithstanding, when (d) ye knewe not God, ye did seruice vnto them which by nature are no Gods.

9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, how turne ye againe vnto the weake and beggerly rudiments, whereunto againe ye desyre a fresh to be in bondage?

10 Yee obserue dayes, and monethes, & times, and yeeres.

18 It is good alwayes to be zelous in a good thyng, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My little children, of whome I trauaile in byrth agayne, vntill Christ be (h) fashioned in you.

20 But I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voyce: for I stande in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desyre to be vnder ỹ law, do ye not heare the lawe?

22 For it is written that Abraham had two sonnes: the one by a bondmayde, the other by a free woman.

23 But hee whiche was of the bond woman, was borne after the flesshe: but hee whyche was of the free woman, (was borne) by promise.

24 Which things are spoken by (i) an allegorie. For these are two testamentes: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

25 For Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the citie which (is) nowe (called) Hierusalem, and is in bondage with hir children.

26 But Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs all.

27 For it is written, Reioyce thou barren, that bearest no children, breake forth and cry, thou that trauaylest not: For the desolate hath many moe children than she which hath an husbande.

28 But brethren, we are after Isahac the children of promise.

29 But as then he that was borne after the flesshe, persecuted hym that was borne after the spirite: euen so is it nowe.

30 Neuertheles, what sayth the scripture? Put away the bondwoman and hir sonne: for the sonne of the bondwoman shall in no wyse bee heyre wyth the sonne of the free woman.

31 So then brethren, wee are not children of the bond woman, but of the free.

The.v. Chapter.

2. He laboureth to draw them away from circumcision, 17. and sheweth them the battell betwixte the spirite and the flesshe, and the fruites of them bothe.

1 STand fast therefore in ỹ libertie wherewith Christ hath made vs free, and bee not intangled "agayne with the yoke of bondage.

2 Beholde, I Paul say vnto you, that if yee be (a) circumcised, Christe shall profyte you nothyng.

3 For I testifye agayne to euery man whiche is circumcised, that he is a debter to doe the whole lawe.

4 Christ is become but vayn to you, as many of you as are iustifyed by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the spirite, waite for the hope of righteousnesse by fayth.

6 For in Iesus Christ, neither is circumcision any thing worth, neyther yet vncircumcisiõ: but fayth, which worketh by loue.

7 Ye did run well, who was a let vnto you, that ye should not obey the trueth?

8 This perswasion commeth not of him that calleth you.

9 "A little leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe of dowe.

10 I haue trust toward you in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise mynded: but hee that troubleth you, shall beare iudgement, whatsoeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preache circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the slaunder of the crosse ceased.

12 I would to God they were cut off whyche trouble you.

13 For brethren, yee haue bin called vnto libertie: only let not libertie be an occasion to the flesshe, but by loue serue one another.

14 For all the lawe is fulfylled in one worde (which is this) Thou shalte loue thy neyghbour as thy selfe.

15 If yee bite and deuoure one another, take heede lest ye be consumed one of another.

16 Then I saye, walke in the spirite, and yee shall not fulfyll the lust of the flesshe.

17 For the flesshe lusteth contrary to the spirite, and the spirite contrary to the flesh: these are contrary one to the other, so that yee can not do what ye woulde.

18 But and if yee be ledde of the spirite, then are ye not vnder the lawe.

19 The deedes of the flesh are manifest, which are these, adulterie, fornication, vncleannesse, wantonnesse,

Paule

A 1 PAule an Apostle of Jesus Christ by ỹ will of God, to the saintes whyche are at Ephesus, and to the faithfull in Christe Jesus,

Rom.1.a. 2 Grace (be) with you, and peace from God our father,
1.Cor.1.a. and (from) the Lord Jesus Christ.

1.Pet.1.a. 3 Blessed be God the father of our Lorde
Galat.1.a. Jesus Christ, whiche hathe blessed vs in all spirituall blessyng in heauenly thyngs by Christe:

4 Accordyng as he had chosen vs in hym, before the foundation of the worlde, that wee shoulde bee holy, and without blame before him through loue.

5 Who hathe predestinated vs into the adoption of (a) children by Jesus Christe vnto hym selfe, accordyng to the good pleasure of his wyll;

a. Whereas we were not the naturall children, he receiued vs by grace, & made vs hys childrē.

6 To the prayse of the glory of hys grace, wherein he hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

B 7 In whome we haue redemption through
Colos.1.b. his bloud, the forgiuenesse of sinnes, accordyng to the riches of his grace,

8 Wherein he hathe abounded towarde vs in all wisedome and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the misterie of his wyll, accordyng to his good pleasure whyche he had purposed in hym selfe:

Galat.4.a. 10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, he might gather togeather in one all things in Christe, both whiche are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whome also we are chosen, being predestinate, accordyng to the purpose of hym who worketh all things after the counsell of hys owne wyll:

12 That we shoulde be vnto the prayse of hys glory, which before beleeued in Christ.

b. Though we be redemed from the bondage of sinne by the death of Christe, Rom.6. yet we hope for thys seconde redemption, which shall be when we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, whereof wee haue the holy ghost for a gage as Cap. 4

13 In whome also yee (hoped) after that yee
C hearde the worde of trueth, the Gospell of your saluation: wherein ye also after that ye beleeued, were sealed with the holy spirite of promise, 14 Whiche is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the (b) redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the prayse of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, after that I heard of the fayth which ye haue in the Lorde Jesus, and loue vnto all the sayntes,

16 Cease not to gyue thankes for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the father of glory, may gyue vnto you the spirite of wisedome and reuelation, in the knowledge of hym, 18 The eyes of your mindes being lightned: that yee maye know what the hope is of hys calling, and what the richesse of the glory of his inheritance (is) in the saintes: Rom.15.c.

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of hys power to vs warde whiche beleeue, accordyng to the working of his mightie power, 20 Whiche hee wrought in Christe, when hee rayled hym from the dead, and set hym on hys ryght hand in heauenly (places,) Psal.110.c.

21 Far aboue all rule, and power, and might, and dominion, and euery name that is named, not onely in this world, but also in the world to come. D Dani.7.d.

22 And hath put all things vnder hys feete, and gaue him (to be) the head ouer al things to the Churche, Psal.8.b. Heb.2.b. 1.Cor.15. Ephes.1.c.

23 Whiche is his body, the fulnesse of hym that fylleth all in all. Colos.1.c.

The.ij.Chapter.

5. To magnifie the grace of Christ, whiche is the onely cause of saluation, 11. hee sheweth them what maner of people they were before theyr conuersion, 18. and what they are nowe in Christe.

1 AND (he quickened) you that were dead I in trespasses and sinnes:

2 In the whiche in time passed yee walked, Rom.5.d.
accordyng to the course of thys worlde, after Colos.1.c.
the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirite that now worketh in the children of disobedience.

3 Among whome we all had our conuersation also in tyme past in the lustes of oure flesche, fulfylling the wyll of the flesche and of the mynde, and (a) were by nature ỹ children of wrath, euen as other. Colos.3.a.

a. Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, and so by byrth.

4 But God whiche is rich in mercy, for hys great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by synnes, hath quickened vs togeather w̄ Christ, by (whose) grace ye are saued, Esai.25.d.

6 And hath rayled (vs) vp togeather, & made (vs) sitte togeather in heauenly thyngs in Christ Jesus:

7 That in ages to come he might shewe the B exceeding riches of his grace, in (his) kyndnesse to vs ward through Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace are yee made safe through fayth, and that not of your selues: it is the gyft of God,

9 Not of workes, lest any man should boast hym selfe.

10 For

10 For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, whych God hath before ordeyned that we should walke in them.

11 Wherefore remember that yee beyng in time passed Gentiles in the flesh, called vncircumcision of that which is called circumcision in the flesh, made by handes:

12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliants from the common wealth of Israell, and strangers from the testamentes of promise, hauing no hope, and wythoute God in this worlde.

13 But nowe in Christ Jesus, ye which somtime were far off, are made nigh by ỹ blond of Christe.

C 14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one: and hath broken downe the (b) middle wall that was a stop betweene vs,

15 Taking awaye in hys flesshe the hatred (euen) the lawe of commaundements (conteyned) in ordinãces, for to make of twayne one new man in him selfe, so making peace:

16 And that hee might reconcile both vnto God in one body through (his) crosse, and slue hatred thereby:

17 And came and preached the glad tydyngs of peace to you (which were) a farre off, and to them that were nygh.

18 For through hym wee haue both an entrance in one spirit vnto the father.

19 Nowe therefore, ye are no more strangers and forreyners: but folow citizens wyth the saints, and of the household of God,

20 And are built vppon the fundation of the Apostles and prophetes, Jesus Christe hym selfe being the head corner stone, 21 In whome all the building coupled together, groweth vnto an holy temple in the Lorde.

D 22 In whom also ye are buylded togeather for an habitation of God through the spirite.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. He sheweth the cause of his imprisonment, 13. desyreth them not to faint bycause of hys trouble, 14. and prayeth God to make them stedfast in his spirite.

I 1 For this cause I Paul (am) a prisoner of Jesus Christ for you heathen:

2 If ye haue heard of the dispensation of the grace of God, which is gyue me to youward

3 For by reuelation shewed (God) the (a) mysterie vnto mee (as I wrote afore in fewe wordes,

4 Wherby when ye reade, ye may vnderstãd my knowledge in the misterie of Christ.)

5 Whiche (mysterie) in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and prophetes by the spirite:

6 (That) the Gentiles should be inheritours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospell:

7 Wherefore I was made a minister, accoꝛding to the gift of the grace of God, whiche is gyuen vnto me after the working of hys power. B

8 Unto me whiche am lesse than the least of all saints is this grace gyuen, that I should preache among the Gentiles the vnsearcheable ryches of Christe, Colos. 1. d.

9 And bring to light to all men what the felowship of the mysterie is, whiche from the beginning of ỹ world hath bin hid in God, whyche made all thyngs through Jesus Christe:

10 To the intente that nowe vnto the rulers and powers in heauenly (things) might be knowen by the (b) Churche, the very manyfolde wisedome of God,

11 Accoꝛdyng to the eternall purpose whyche he wrought in Christe Jesus our Lorde:

12 By whome wee haue boldnesse and entrance in the confidence by fayth of hym.

13 Wherefore I desyre that yee faynt not for my tribulations for you, whyche is youre glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christe, 15 Of whome all the family in heauen and earth is named:

16 That he would graunt you, accoꝛdyng to the riches of his glory, to be strengthed wyth myght by his spirite in the inner man,

17 That Christ maye dwell in your hartes by fayth: that ye being rooted and grounded in loue,

18 Myght be able to comprehende wyth all saintes, what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and heygth:

19 And to knowe the loue of Christ, whyche excelleth (all) knowledge, that ye myght be fylled with all fulnesse of God.

20 Unto him that is able to doe exceedyng abundantly aboue all that we aske, or think, accoꝛding to the power that worketh in vs,

21 Be glory in the Churche by Christ Jesus throughout all ages worlde without ende, Amen. D

The. iiij. Chapter.

b. The church being gathered of so many kyndes of people is an example or a glasse for the angels to behold the wysedome of God in, who hath turned theyr particular discords, into an vniuersal concord, and of the synagoge of bondage, hath made the Churche of freedome.

that God hathe giuen him, 14. to beware of strange doctrine, 22. to lay asyde the old conuersation of greedy lustes, and to walke in a new life.

A
1 I Therefore a prisoner * in the Lorde exhort you, that yee walke worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,
2 With all lowlinesse and meekenesse, with long suffering, forbearing one another in loue,
3 Endeuouring to keepe the vnitie of ỹ spirite in the bond of peace.
4 One body, and one (a) spirite, euen as yee are called in one hope of your calling.
5 One Lorde, one faith, one baptisme.
6 One God and father of all, whiche is aboue all, and throughe all, and in you all.
7 But vnto euery one of vs is giuen grace, according to the measure of the gifte of Christe.
8 Wherefore he sayth, When he went vp on hygh, he ledde captiuitie captiue, and gaue gyftes vnto men.
9 (But that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended fyrste into the lower partes of the earth?
10 Hee that descended, is euen the same also that ascended vp farre aboue all heauens, to fulfyll all things.)
11 And he gaue some Apostles, and some Prophetes, & some Euangelistes, and some shepheards, and teachers.
12 To the gathering together of the saintes, into the worke of ministration, into the edifying of the body of Christe:
13 Till we all meete together into the vnitie of faythe and knowledge of the sonne of God, vnto a perfect man, vnto the measure of the age of the fulnesse of Christe:
C
14 That we henceforth be no more children, wauering & caryed about with euery winde of doctrine, and in the wylynesse of men, in craftinesse to the laying (b) wayte of deceite.
15 But folowing truth in loue, let vs growe vp into him in all things whiche is the head (euen) Christ:
16 In whome all the body beyng conueniently coupled, and knit together by euery ioynt, yeelding nourishment according to the effectuall power in the measure of (c) euery part, maketh increase of the body, vnto the edifying of it selfe in loue.
17 This I say therefore, and testifie in ỹ Lord, that yee henceforth walke not as other Gentiles walke, in vanitie of their minde:
18 Darkened in cogitation, being alienated from the life of God, by the ignorance that is in them by the " blindnesse of theyr hartes.
19 Whiche being past (d) feeling, haue gyuen them selues ouer vnto wantonnesse, to worke all vncleannesse with greedynesse.
20 But ye haue not so learned Christe.
21 If so be that yee haue hearde hym, and haue bin taught in hym, as the trueth is in Iesus,
22 To lay downe, according to the former conuersation, the (e) olde man, which is corrupt according to the lustes of errour:
23 To be renued in the spirit of your mynde.
24 And to put on that newe man which after God is shapen, in rightcousnesse and holynesse of trueth.
25 Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neyghbour: forasmuch as we are members one of another.
26 Be ye (f) angry, and sinne not: let not the sunne goe downe vpon your wrath.
27 Neyther gyue place to the deuyll.
28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let hym rather labour, worcking with his handes the thing whiche is good, that hee may gyue vnto him that needeth.
29 Let no fylthy communication proceede out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withall, as ofte as neede is, that it maye minister grace vnto the hearers.
30 And (g) greeue not the holy spirite of God, by whome yee are sealed vnto the day of redemption.
31 Let all bitternesse, and fiercenesse, & wrath, and crying, and euill speaking, be put away from you, with all noughtinesse.
32 Be ye curteous one to another, mercifull, forgyuing one another, euen as GOD for Christes sake hath forgyuen you.

5 For this ye knowe, that no whoremonger, neyther vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is a worshipper of images, hathe any inheritance in the kingdome of Christe, and of God.

6 Let no mā deceyue you with vayn wordes: For because of suche thynges commeth the wrath of God vppon the children of disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore companions of them.

8 For yee were sometimes darkenesse, but nowe are yee lyght in the Lorde: Walke as children of lyght.

9 (For the fruite of the spirit (is) in all goodnesse, and righteousnesse, and trueth.

10 Approuing what is acceptable vnto the Lorde.)

11 And haue no felowshyp with the vnfruitefull workes of darknesse, but rather euen rebuke them.

12 For it is shame euen to name those thynges which are done of them in secrete.

13 But all thinges when they are rebuked, are made manifest of the lyght: For all that which doth make manifest, is lyght.

14 Wherefore he sayeth, (a) Awake thou that sleepest, and stand vp from the dead: & Christ shall gyue thee lyght.

15 Take heede therefore that yee walke circumspectly: not as vnwyse, but as wyse,

20 Giuing thankes alwayes for all thynges vnto God and the father, in the name of our Lorde Iesus Christ:

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the feare of God.

22 Wiues, submit your selues vnto your own husbands, as vnto the Lorde:

23 For the husband is the head of the wyfe, euen as Christ is the head of the Churche, and he is the sauiour of the body.

24 But as the Church is subiect vnto Christ. lykewyse the wyues to theyr owne husbāds in all things.

28 So ought men to loue their wyues as E theyr owne bodyes: he that loueth hys wyfe, loueth hym selfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lorde the Churche:

30 For we are members of his body, of hys flesh, and of his bones.

31 For thys cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shall be ioyned vnto hys wyfe, and two shall be made one flesh. Gen.2.b. Mat.19.a. Mark.10.a.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, vnto the Philippians.

¶ The first Chapter.

1. Saint Paul discouereth his hart towards them, 3. by his thankes geuing, 4. prayers, 8. and wyshes for their fayth and saluation. 7. 12. 20. Hee sheweth the fruite of hys crosse, 25. 27. and exhorteth them to vnitie, 28. and pacience.

1 PAul and Timotheus the seruãts of Jesus Christ, to all the sayntes in Christ Jesus, whyche are at Philippos, wyth the Bishops and Deacons:

2 Grace (bee) vnto you, and peace from God our father, and (from) the Lord Jesus Christ.

The Epistle on the xii. Sunday after Trinitie. Rom. 1. b. Colos. 1. a.

3 I thanke my God with all remembrance of you.

4 (Alwayes in all my prayer for all you, making prayer with gladnesse:)

5 For youre felowship in the Gospell, from the fyrst (a) day vntill nowe:

a. That ye receyued the Gospell.

6 Being perswaded of thys same thyng, that he which hath begun a good worke in you, wil performe it vntill the day of Jesus Christe:

B 7 As it becommeth me to iudge this of you all, bycause I haue you in my hart, and in my bondes, in the defence and confyrmation of the Gospell, you al being partakers of my (b) grace.

b. Of this peculiar benefite to suffer for Christes sake.

8 For God is my recorde howe greatly I long after you all in the (c) bowels of Jesus Christe.

c. That is, for the very harte roote of Iesus Christ.

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstanding:

10 That yee may discerne things that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence till the day of Christe, 11 Being fylled with the fruites of righteousnesse, whiche (are) by Jesus Christ, vnto the glory and prayse of God.

12 But I would ye shoulde vnderstand, brethren, that the things which (came) vnto me, hath come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospell.

13 (So) that my (d) bondes in Christ, are manifest throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places.

d. Which I feyne for Christes cause.

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, being incouraged through my bonds, dare more plentifully speake the woord without feare. C

15 Some

15 Some preache Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will:
16 The one preache Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:
17 But the other of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospell.
18 What then? so that Christe be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by truth, I ioy therin, & will ioy.
19 For I knowe that this shall turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministring of the spirite of Iesus Christ,
20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all boldenesse, as alwayes, (so) nowe also Christ shall be magnified in my bodye, whether it be by lyfe, or by death.
21 For Christ (is) to me life, and death is to me aduauntage.
22 But whether to lyue in the flesh, this (be) the fruite of my labour, and what I shall chose, I wote not.
23 For I am in a straight betwixte two, hauing a desire to departe, and to be with Christ, which is much farre better.
24 Neuertheles, to abyde in the flesh (is) more needefull for you.
25 And this am I sure of, that I shal abide and continue with you al, for your furtherance and ioy of fayth:
26 That your reioycing may be the more aboundant in Iesus Christe for me, by my comming to you againe.
27 Only let your conuersation be as it becommeth the Gospell of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirite, in one soule, holding together in defence of the fayth of the Gospell.
28 And in nothing fearing your aduersaries, whiche is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and (c) that of God,
29 For vnto you it is giuen for Christe, not onely this to beleeue on him: but also this to suffer for his sake, 30 Hauing the same fight which ye sawe in me, and now heare in me.

The .ij. Chapter.

3. He exhorteth them aboue all things to humilitie, wherby pure doctrine is chiefly maintayned, 16. promising that he and Timotheus will speedyly come vnto them, 27. and excuseth the long tarying of Epaphroditus.

1 IF (there be) therefore any (a) consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any felowship of the spirite, if any compassion and mercie:
2 Fulfill ye my ioy, that ye be like mynded, hauing the same loue, being of one accord, of one mynde.
3 Let nothing (be doone) through strife, or vayne glorie, but in meekenesse euerie man esteeme one the other better than him selfe.
4 Loke not euerie man on his owne thinges, but euerie man also on the things of others.
5 Let the same mynde be in you, whiche was in Christ Iesus:
6 Who being in the fourme of GOD, thought it not (b) robberie to be equal with God:
7 But made him self of no reputation, taking on him the fourme of a seruant, and made in the likenesse of men, and founde in figure as a man:
8 He humbled him selfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.
9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and giuen him a name whiche is aboue euerie name,
10 That in the name of Iesus, euery (c) knee should bowe, (of things) in heauen, & things in earth and (things) vnder the earth:
11 And that euery tong should confesse that the Lorde is Iesus Christe, to the glorie of God the father.
12 Wherefore, my dearely beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence onely, but nowe much more in my absence, worke (d) out your own saluation with feare and trembling.
13 For it is God whiche worketh in you, both to will and to do, of good will.
14 Do all things without murmuring and disputing:
15 That ye may be blamelesse and pure, the sonnes of GOD, without rebuke in the myddes of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whome shyne ye as lightes in the worlde, 16 Holding fast the worde of lyfe, to my reioycing in the day of Christe, that I haue not runne in vayne, neyther laboured in vayne.
17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vppon the sacrifice and seruice of your faith, I reioyce, and reioyce with you all.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. He ſheweth where we ſhould ſeeke Chriſt. 5. he exhorteth to mortification, 10. to put off the olde man, and to put on Chriſt, 12. to the which he addeth exhortation, both generall and particular, to charitie and humilitie.

1 IF ye then be ryſen with Chriſte, ſeeke thoſe thinges which are aboue, where Chriſte ſitteth on the right hande of God:

I The Epiſtle on Eaſter day.

2 Set your affection on (a) things aboue, not on things on the earth.

a. When either ſerue but for a time, or els are inuented by man.

3 For ye are dead, and your lyfe is hid with Chriſt in God.

4 When ſo euer Chriſte whiche is our life ſhall appeare, then ſhall ye alſo appeare with hym in glorie.

5 Mortifie therefore your members whiche are vpon the earth, fornication, vncleanneſſe, inordinate affection, euill concupiſcence, and couetouſneſſe, whiche is worſhipping of images:

6 For whiche thinges ſake, the wrath of God commeth on the children of diſobedience.

7 In the whiche ye alſo walked ſometime, when ye lyued in them.

B Ephe. 2. a.

8 But now put ye off alſo all wrath, fierceneſſe, malitiouſneſſe, blaſphemie, filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 Lye not one to another, ſeeing that ye haue put off the old man with his workes:

10 And haue put on the newe man, whiche is renued into knowledge, after y image of him that made him;

14 And aboue all theſe things (put on) charitie, which is the bonde of perfectneſſe.

C Math. 22. d.

15 And let the peace of God haue the victory in your harts, to the which also we are called in one body: & see that ye be thankfull.

16 Let the worde of Chriſte dwell in you rychely in all wisedome, teaching and admonishing your owne selues, in psalmes and hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lorde.

17 And whatsoeuer ye do in word or deed, (do) all in the name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thanks to God and the father by him.

18 Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as it is comely in ỹ Lord.

19 Husbandes, loue your wiues, and be not bitter against them.

20 Children, obey your parents in al things, for that is well pleasing vnto the Lord.

21 Fathers, (c) prouoke not your children (to anger,) least they be discouraged.

22 Seruantes, obey in all things your bodyly maisters: not with eye seruice, as men pleasers, but in singlenesse of hearte, fearing God.

23 And what so euer ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not vnto men:

24 Knowing, that of the Lord ye shall receiue the rewarde of inheritance: for ye serue the Lord Chriſt, 25 But he that doth wrong, shal receiue for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

The fyrſt Epiſtle of the Apoſtle Saint Paule, to the Theſſalonians.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

1. He thanketh God for them, that they are ſo ſtedfaſt in fayth and good workes 6. and receyue the Goſpell with ſuch earneſtneſſe, 17. that they are an example to all others.

1 PAule and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Churche of the Theſſalonians, (whiche is) in (a) God the father, and in ỹ Lord Jeſus Chriſte, Grace (be) vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

2 We gyue thankes to God alwayes for all you, making mention of you in our prayers.

3 Without ceaſſing calling to remembrance the worke of your fayth, and laboure of loue, and pacient abyding in the hope of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſte, in the ſight of God and our father.

4 Knowing, brethren beloued, your election of God.

5 For our Goſpell came not vnto you in worde only, but alſo in power, and in the holy ghoſt, and in much certaintie, as ye know after what maner we were among you for your ſake.

6 And ye became followers of vs and of the Lord, hauing receyued the worde in much affliction, with (b) ioy of the holy ghoſt:

7 So that ye were an enſample to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you ſounded out the worde of the Lorde, not only in Macedonia and Achaia: but alſo in euerie place your fayth to Godwarde is ſpreade abroade, ſo that we nede not to ſpeake any thing.

9 For they them ſelues ſhewe of you, what manner of entring in we had vnto you, and how ye turned to God from images, to ſerue the (c) liuing and true God.

The.ij. Chapter.

1 To the intent they ſhould not faynt vnder the croſſe. 2. He commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13. and theirs in obeying. 18. He excuſeth his abſence, that he coulde not come, and open his heart to them.

1 YE yout ſelues, brethren, knowe your entrance in vnto you, that it was not in (a) vaine:

2 But euen after that we had ſuffered before, and were ſhamefully entreated as ye knowe at Philippos, we were bold in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpell of God, in much ſtriuing.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceyte, neyther of vncleanneſſe, neyther in guile:

4 But as we were alowed of god to be put in credite with the Goſpell, euen ſo we ſpeak, not as pleaſing men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

5 For neyther at any time vſed we flattering wordes, as ye knowe, neyther cloake of couetouſneſſe, God (is) record.

8 So being tenderly affected toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Goſpell of God onely, but alſo our owne ſoules, becauſe yee were deere vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our laboure and trauell: for we labouring night and day, becauſe we woulde not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Goſpell of God.

10 Ye (are) witneſſes, and God (alſo,) how we holyly, and iuſtly, and vnblameably, we behaued our ſelues among (c) you that beleeue:

But

9 But as touching brotherly loue, ye neede not that I write vnto you: for yee are taught of God to loue one another.

10 Yea, and that thing verily ye do vnto al the brethren which are in al Macedonia: but we beſeeche you brethren, that ye encreaſe more and more:

11 And that ye ſtudie to be quiete & to doe your owne buſineſſe, and to worke with your own hands, as we comaunded you:

12 That ye may walke honeſtly towarde them that are without, and that yee may haue lacke of nothing.

13 But I would not haue you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them whiche ſleepe, that ye (b) ſorow not, euen as other which haue no hope.

14 For if we beleeue that Jeſus dyed, & roſe againe, euen ſo them alſo which ſleepe by Jeſus, wil God bring with him.

15 For this ſay wee vnto you in the worde of the Lorde: that we which liue, whiche remaine vnto the comming of the Lorde ſhal not preuent them whiche ſleepe.

16 For the Lorde him ſelfe ſhall deſcende from heauen in a ſhout, (and) in the voice of the Archangel, and in the trumpe of God: and the dead in Chriſt ſhal riſe firſt.

17 Then we which liue, whiche remaine, ſhall be caught vp together with them in the cloudes, to meete the Lord in the ayre: and ſo ſhall we euer be with the Lorde.

18 Wherfore comfort your ſelues one another in theſe wordes.

The.v. Chapter.

1. He enfourmeth them of the day of iudgement, and comming of the Lord. 6. Exhorting them to watch. 12. and to regarde ſuch as preache Gods worde among them.

1 BVt of the times and ſeaſons, brethren ye haue no neede that I write vnto you.

2 For ye your ſelues knowe perfectly that the day of the Lord ſo commeth, euen as a theefe in the night.

3 For when they ſhal ſay, Peace and ſafetie: then ſodenly deſtruction commeth vpon them, (a) as ſorowe vpon a woman with childe, and they ſhall not eſcape in any wiſe.

4 But yee brethren are not in darkeneſſe, leaſt that day ſhoulde ouertake you as a theefe.

5 Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: Wee are not of the night, neither of darkeneſſe.

6 Therefore let vs not (b) ſleepe as (do) other: but let vs watch and be ſober.

7 For they that ſleepe, ſleepe in the night: and they that be dronken, are dronken in the night.

8 But let vs which are of the day, be ſober putting on the breſtplate of faith & charitie, and a helmet, the hope of ſaluation.

9 For God hath not apointed vs to wrath: but to obtaine ſaluation by our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

10 Whiche died for vs, that whether wee wake or ſleepe, wee ſhoulde liue together with him.

11 Wherfore, comfort your ſelues together, & edifie euery one another, euen as ye doe.

12 And we beſeeche you brethren, to know them which labour among you, and haue the ouerſight of you in the Lorde, and admoniſhe you:

13 That ye haue them in high reputation, in loue for their worke: and be at peace among your ſelues.

14 We exhorte you brethren, warne them that are vnruly, comfort the feeble mynded, lift vp the weake, be patient towarde al men.

15 See that none recompence euyl for euil vnto any man: but euer folow that which is good, both among your ſelues, and to al men.

16 Reioyce euer.

17 Pray continually.

18 In al things giue thankes: for this is the wil of God, in Chriſt Jeſus towarde you.

19 Quench not the ſpirite.

20 Deſpiſe not (c) prophecyings.

21 Examine al things: hold faſt that which is good.

3 We are bound to thanke God alwayes for you brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charitie of euery one of you towardes another aboundeth:

5 (Which is) a (b) token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:

8 In flamyng fyre, rendryng vengeance vnto them that knowe not God, & that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Iesus Christ,

9 Which shal be punished with euerlasting damnation, from the presence of the lord, and from the glory of his power:

10 When he shal come to be glorified in his saintes, and to be made marueylous in al them that beleeue, (because our testimonie towarde you was beleued) in that day.

11 Wherfore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God would make you worthy of the calling, and fulfil al good pleasure of goodnesse in y(c) worke of faith in power.

8 Neyther toke we bread of any man for nought: but wrought with labour and sweate night and day, because we would not be chargeable to any of you. Act. 20. g. 1. Cor. 9. f. 1. Thes. 2. c.
9 Not because wee haue not authoritie, but to make our selues an example vnto you to followe vs.
10 For when we were with you, this wee warned you of, that if any would not worke, the same should not eate.
11 For we heare that there are some which walke among you inordinatly, working not at al, but be busibodyes.
12 Them that are suche, we commaunde, and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that they working in quietnesse, eate their own bread. Galat. 6. b. C

The.i. Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, vnto Timothe.

The first Chapter.

3. He exhorteth Timothe to waite vppon his office, namely to see that nothing be taught but Gods worde, &c. 5. Declaring that faith with a good conscience, charitie, and edification, are the ende therof

1 PAule the Apostle of Jesus Christe, by the commission of God our sauiour, & Lord Jesus Christ (whiche is) our hope,
2 Unto Timothe a naturall (a) sonne in the faith: Grace, mercy (and) peace from GOD our father, and Jesus Christ our Lorde. Actes. 16. a. a. So called because he followed ỹ simplicitie of the Gospel.
3 As I besought thee to abide stil in Ephesus when I departed into Macedonia, Actes. 9. a.

(so do)

(so doe) that thou commaund some that they teache no other doctrine:

2. Tim. 2. c. Titus. 3. c. 1. Tim. 4. a b. Bycause these questionistes preferred their curious fables to al other knowledge, and beautified the with the lawe as if they had bin the very lawe of God: Saint Paul sheweth that the ende of Gods lawe is loue, whiche can not be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the worde of God: So their doctrine which is a occasion of contention, as worth nothing.

4 Neither geue heed to fables, and endlesse genealogies, which breede questiõs, more than godly edifying, which is in fayth.

5 But the end (b) of the commaundement, is charitie out of a pure hart, & of a good conscience, and of fayth vnfaigned.

6 From the whiche thynges some hauing erred, haue turned vnto vayne janglyng:

7 Coueting to be doctours of the law, not vnderstanding what they speake, neyther whereof they affirme,

8 But we knowe that the lawe is good, yf a man vse it lawfully:

9 Knowyng this, that the lawe is not geuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly and to sinners, to vnholy and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murderers of mothers, to manslears,

10 To whoremongers, to them that defyle them selues with mankinde, to manstealers, to lyers, to periured, and if there be any other thyng that is cõtrary to wholesome doctrine:

11 Accordyng to the Gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.

12 And I thanke Christ Jesus our Lord, which hath made me strong: for he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministerie, Actes. 9. a. 1. Co. 15. b Galat. 1. c. c. Not knowing that I fought against God.

13 Who was before a blasphemer, and an oppressour: But yet I obtayned mercy, bycause I did it (c) ignorantly in vnbeleefe.

14 Neuertheless, the grace of our Lorde was exceeding abundant, with faith and loue, which is in Christ Jesus.

Matth. 9. b Mark. 2. c. Luke. 19. a John. 3. c.

15 This is a faithfull saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, that Christ Jesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.

16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was mercy shewed vnto mee, that in mee the first, Jesus Christ might shewe all long suffering, to the example of them whiche should beleeue on him to life euerlasting.

d. He brusteth forth into these godly affections, considering Gods great mercy toward him.

17 (d) Now vnto the king euerlasting incorruptible, inuisible, vnto GOD only wise (be) honour and glory for euer and euer, Amen.

18 This commaundement commit I vnto thee sonne Timotheus, accordyng to the prophecies which went before vppon thee, that thou in them shouldest fyght a good fyght.

19 Hauing faith and good conscience, which some hauing put away, as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

2. Tim. 2. c. Mat. 18. c. 1. Cor. 5. d. e. Excommunicate, or cast out of the Churche.

20 Of whõ is Hymeneus and Alexander, whom I haue (e) deliuered vnto Satan, that they may learne not to blaspheme.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth to pray for al men, 4. wherfore, 8. and howe. 9. As touching the apparel and modestie of women.

1 I Exhort you therefore, that first of all A prayers, supplications, intercessions, and giuing of thankes, be made for al mẽ.

2 For kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may leade a quiet and peaceable life, in al godlinesse and honestie, Jere. 29. Baruc. 1. c.

3 For that is good and acceptable in the sight of God our sauiour,

4 Who wil haue all men to be saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the truth.

5 For (there is) one God, and one mediatour of god & men the man Christ Jesus:

John. 17. Heb. 9. Galat. 3. a. He shewes that there can be no mediator, except he be also the redeemer.

6 Who gaue hym selfe a (a) raunsome for al, a testimonie in due times:

7 Whereunto I am ordeyned a preacher and an Apostle (I tel the truth in Christ, and lye not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and veritie.

8 I wil therefore that the men pray euery where, lyfting vp holy handes, without wrath and reasoning.

B John. 4. b.

9 Likewise also the womẽ, that they aray them selues in comely apparell, with shamefastnesse, and discrete behauiour, not in braided heare, either golde or pearles, or costly aray:

10 But (that becõmeth women professing godlynesse) through good workes.

11 Let the women learne in silence with al subiection.

1. Co. 14. f.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teache, neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the mã, but to be in silence.

13 For Adam was first fourmed, then Eue.

14 And Adam was not deceiued, but the woman being deceiued, was (b) in the transgression.

C b. That is, guilty of the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shal be saued, if they continue in fayth and charitie, and holynesse, with modestie.

The

The.iij. Chapter.

1. He declareth what is the office of ministers. 11. and as touching their families, 15. the dignitie of the Churche. 16. and the principal point of the heauenly doctrine.

1 THis is) a faithfull saying: If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good worke.

2 A bishop therefore must be blameless, the husbande of one wife, watching, sober, comely apparelled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teache,

3 Not giuen to ouermuch wine, no stryker, not greedy of filthy lucre: but Gentle, abhorring fyghting, abhorring couetousnesse:

4 One that ruleth wel his own house, hauing children in subiection, with all grauitie.

5 (For if a man knowe not to rule his own house, howe shall he care for the Churche of God?)

6 Not a yong scoller, lest he being puffed, vp, (a) fal into the condemnatiō of the deuil.

7 He must also haue a good report of them which are without, lest he fal into the rebuke and snare of the deuil.

8 Likewise must the "ministers be graue, not double tongued, not giuen to muche wine, neither greedie of filthy lucre:

9 (b) Holding the misterie of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let the first be proued, then let the minister, being blameless.

11 Euen so must their wiues be graue, not euil speakers, sober, faithful in al things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbandes of one wife, and suche as can rule their children wel, and their owne households.

13 For they that haue ministred well, geat them selues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the faith (which is) in Christ Iesus.

14 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come shortly vnto thee:

15 But if I tary long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, whiche is the Churche of the liuing God, the "pyller and grounde of the truth.

16 And without doubt, great is that misterie of godlynesse: god was shewed manyfestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirite, was seene among the angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleeued on in ỹ world, & was receiued vp in glory.

The.iiij. Chapter.

2. Hee teacheth him what doctrine he ought to flee, 6. 8. 11. and what to folow, 15. and wherein he ought to exercise him selfe continually.

1 NOwe the spirite speaketh euidently, that in the latter times some shal depart from the faith, giuing heede vnto spirites of errour, and doctrines of deuils,

2 Which speake false in hipocrisie, hauing their (a) conscience seared with an hot iron.

3 Forbidding to marie (and commaunding) to abstaine from meates which God hath created to be receiued with giuing thankes, of them whiche beleeue and knowe the truth.

4 For euery creature of God (is) good, and nothing to be refused, if it bee receiued with thankesgiuing.

5 For it is sanctified by the worde of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt bee a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast bin nourished vp in the wordes of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually folowed.

7 But cast away prophane and old wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlynesse,

8 For bodyly exercise profiteth little, but godlynesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promises of the lyfe that is nowe, and of that whiche is to come.

9 (This is) a sure saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued:

10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer rebuke, because we haue hoped in the lyuing GOD, which is the sauiour of all men specially of those that beleeue.

11 These things commaunde, and teache.

12 Let no man despise thy youth: but bee thou a patrone of the beleeuers, in worde, in conuersation, in charitie, in spirite, in faith, in chastitie.

13 Til I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Despise not the gift that is in thee, whiche was giuen thee (b) through prophesie, with the laying on of handes, by the authoritie of the eldership.

15 Haue a care of these things, and giue thy selfe vnto them, that it may be seene how thou profitest in al things.

16 Take heede vnto thy selfe, and vnto doctrine, and continue therein: for in doyng this,

A Luke. 19. d.

1 REbuke not an elder, but exhorte him as a father, the yonger men as brethren.

2 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as sisters, in al chastitie.

3 Honor widdowes, which are widdowes in deede.

Eccle. 3. b.

4 But if any widdowe haue children or nephues, let them learne first to rule their owne houses godly, and to recompence also their elder kinsfolkes: for that is good and acceptable before God.

a. Which hath no manner of worldly meanes to helpe hir selfe with.

6 But she that lyueth in pleasure, is dead being aliue.

B

7 And these things commaund, that they may be blameles.

8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and specially for them of his housholde, he hath denyed the faith, and is worse than an infidell.

9 Let not a widdowe be chosē vnder threescore yeeres olde, hauing bin the wife of one man, Gene. 9. a. Actes. 10. c. 1. Pet. 4. b.

10 And wel reported of in good workes, if she haue brought vp children, if shee haue lodged strangers, if shee haue washed the saintes feete, if she haue " ministred vnto thē that were in aduersitie, if she haue bin continually giuen to euery good worke.

" or, holpen them.

11 But the yonger widdowes refuse, for when they haue begun to ware wanton against Christ, they will marrie:

12 Hauing damnation, because they haue cast away their first faith.

13 They learne to wander about frō house to house idle, yea not idle onely, but also tatlers, and busibodies, speaking things which are not comely.

C 1. Cor. 7. b.

14 I will therfore that the yonger women do marrie, to beare children, to guyde the house, to giue none occasion to the aduersarie to speake slaunderously.

15 For certaine of them are alredy turned backe after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that beleeueth haue widowes, let them sustayne them, and let not the Churche be charged, that it may sustaine them that are widdowes in deede.

17 The elders that rule well, let them be counted worthy of double honour, most specially they which labour in the worde and teaching.

18 For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzel the Oxe that treadeth out the corn: and, The labourer is worthy of hys reward. Deut. 25. Mat. 10. 1. Cor. 9. 1. Tim. 5. C

19 Against an elder receiue none accusation, but vnder two or three witnesses. Deut. 19.

20 Them that sinne, rebuke before all, that other also may feare.

21 I testifie before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, and the elect̄ angels, that thou obserue these things without hastinesse of iudgement, and do nothing after partialitie. D

22 Lay hands sodenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens sinnes. Keepe thy selfe chaste. Nu. 27. Acts. 6. 1. Tim. 5.

23 Drinke no longer water: but vse a little wine for thy stomackes sake, and thine often diseases. Eccle. 31.

24 Some mens sinnes are open before hande, hasting before vnto iudgement, and in some (b) they folowe after.

b. They folowe, while for a time they deceiued the godly, and after are detected, as Saul, Iudas, and other hypocrites, 1. Tim. 5. 17.

25 Likewise also good workes are manyfest before hande, and they that are otherwise can not be hid.

The. vi. Chapter.

2 And they which haue beleeuing maisters, let them not dispise them, because they are brethren, but rather let them doe seruice, forasmuch as they are beleeuing and beloued, & partakers of the (a) benifite: These things teache and exhort.

a. That is, the grace of god. Galat. 1.

3 If any man teache otherwise, and consenteth not vnto the wholesome wordes of our Lord Iesus Christ, and to the doctrine whiche is according to godlynesse:

4 He is pfte by, knowing nothing, but doting about questions, and strifes of wordes, wherof commeth enuie, strife, raylings, euil suemisings,

5 Vaine disputations of men of corrupte mindes, destitute of the truth, thinking lucre to be godlynesse: from suche be thou separate.

6 Godlynesse is great lucre, if a man be cõtent with that he hath.

7 For we brought nothing into the world, & it is certaine that we may cary nought away.

8 But hauing fode and rayment, we must therwith be content.

9 For they (b) that wil be rich, fal into temptation and snares, and into many folishe and noysome lustes, whiche drowne men in perdition and destruction.

10 For loue of money, is the rote of all euil, whiche while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, & (c) pearsed them selues throughout with many sorowes.

11 But thou, O man of GOD, flee these things, and folowe after righteousnesse, godlynesse, faith, loue, patience, meekenesse.

12 Fyght the good fyght of faith, lay hande on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 I giue thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Jesus Christ, whiche vnder Pontius Pilate witnessed a good profession,

14 That thou keepe the commaundemente without spot, vnrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lorde Jesus Christ:

15 Whiche in his times he shall shewe, that is blessed and prince onely, (d) the king of kings, and Lord of Lords.

16 Who only hath immortalitie, dwelling in the light that no man can attayne vnto, whom no man hath seene, neyther can see, vnto whom be honor and power euerlasting, Amen.

17 Charge them which are riche (e) in this worlde, that they be not high minded, nor trust in vncertaine riches, but in the liuing GOD, (which giueth vs abundantly all things to enioy:)

18 That they doe good, that they be riche in good workes, that they be ready to giue, glad to distribute:

19 Laying vp in store for them selues a good fundation against the time to come, that they may lay holde on eternal life.

20 O Timotheus, saue (f) that which is giuen thee to keepe, auoyding prophane (and) vaine bablings, and (g) oppositions of science, falsely so called:

21 Which some professing, haue erred concerning the faith. Grace (be) with thee, Amen.

2 To Timothe my dearely beloued son: grace, mercy, & peace from god the father, and Christ Jesus our Lorde.

The.ij.Chapter.

2. He exhorteth him to be constant in trouble, to suffer manly, to abyde fast in the wholesome doctrine of our Lorde Iesus Christ, 11. shewing him the fidelitie of Gods counsell touching the saluation of his, 19. and the marke thereof.

A 1 Thou therefore my sonne, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Iesus.

2 And the thinges that thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, which shall be apt to teache other also. Tim.2

3 Thou therefore suffer afflictions as a good souldier of Iesus Christ.

4 No man that warreth, entangleth him selfe with the affayres of (this) life, that he may please him which hath chosen him to be a souldier.

7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in al things.

8 Remember that Iesus Christ of the seede of Dauid, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel: Rom.

9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euil doer, euen vnto bondes: but the word of god is not bounde.

10 Therefore I suffer all things for the electes sakes, that they might also obtayne the saluation whiche is in Christe Iesus, with eternal glory. Iohn.10

11 (It is) a faithful saying: for if we be dead with him, we shall also liue (with him) Rom.6. Rom.8.

12 If we be patient, we shall also raigne (with him.) If we denie him, he also shall denie vs. Luke.12. Rom.4. Num.

13 If we be vnfaithful, he abideth faithful, he can not denie him selfe.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, testifie before the Lorde, that they striue not about words to no profite, (but) to the peruerting of the hearers. C

15 Studie to shewe thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the worde of truth.

1 THys knowe also, that in the last days, perilous times shall be at hande.

2 For men shall bee louers of their owne selues, couetous, boasters, proude, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, vnthankefull, vngodly:

3 Without naturall affection, truicebreakers, false accusers, riotous, fierce, despisers of them which are good:

4 Traytours, headdy, high minded, louers of pleasures more than louers of God:

5 Hauing a fourme of godlynesse, but denying the power thereof: Turne away from these.

6 These are they whiche enter into houses, and leade captiue (simple) women laden with synne, caryed with diuers lustes:

7 Euer learning, and neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

8 For as Iannes and Iambres wythstode Moses, so do these also resist the trueth: Men of (a) corrupt mindes, reprobate concernyng the fayth:

9 But they shall preuayle no longer. For their madnesse shall bee manifest vnto all (men) as also theyrs was.

10 But thou hast folowed my doctrine, fashion of liuing, (b) purpose, faythe, long suffering, charitie, patience, 11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came vnto me at Antioche, at Iconium, at Lystra, which persecutions I suffered patiently: and from them all, the Lord deliuered me.

12 Yea, and all that will lyue godly in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution. Actes.13.d. Psal.34.d.

13 But the euill men and deceyuers, shall waxe worse and worse, deceyuing, and being deceyued. Prou.24.b. Eccle.2.a.

14 But continue thou in the things whyche thou hast learned, "whyche also were committed vnto thee, knowing of whome thou hast learned (them) C " or, wherein also thou hast bin confyrmed & perswaded.

15 And that from an infant thou hast knowen the scriptures, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation, through fayth whych is in Christ Iesus. 1. Tim.4.a.

16 All scripture (is) gyuen by inspiration of God, and (is) profitable to doctrine, to reproue, to correction, to instruction whyche is in righteousnesse, 2. Pet.1.d.

The. iiij. Chapter.

2. He exhorteth Timotheus to be feruent in worde, and to suffer aduersitie, 6. maketh mention of hys owne death, 9. and byddeth Timothe come vnto him.

1 I Testifie therefore before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ, whyche shall iudge the quicke and the dead at his appearyng, and hys kingdome: I

2 Preache the worde, bee (a) instant in season, out of season: improue rebuke, exhort in all long suffering and doctrine. a. Leaue none occasion to preach, and to profyte.

3 For the time wyll come, when they shall not suffer wholsome doctrine: but after their owne lustes, shall they whose eares itch, get them an heape of teachers:

4 And shall turne away their hearing from the trueth, and shall be turned vnto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, suffer afflictions, do the worke of an Euangelist, fulfyl thy ministerie: The Epistle on Saynte Luke the Euangelists day.

6 For I am now ready to be offered, and the tyme of my dissolution is at hande.

7 I haue fought a good fyght, I haue fulfylled (my) course, I haue kept the fayth. B

8 Henceforthe there is layde vp for mee a crowne of righteousnesse, whiche the Lorde the ryghteous iudge shall gyue me at that day: not to me only, but vnto them also that haue loued hys appearing. 1. Cor.9.d. 1. Pet.5.b.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly vnto me.

10 For Demas hathe forsaken me, hauing loued thys present world, and is departed vnto Thessalonica, Crescens to Galatia, Titus vnto Dalmatia.

11 (b) Onely Luke is with me. Takyng Marke, bryng hym wyth thee, for he is profitable vnto me for the ministration. b. Hereby is manifest that Peter as yet was not at Rome, and if euer he were there, it is vncertayne.

14 Alexander the coppersmith shewed mee muche euill: the Lord (c) rewarde hym according to hys deedes:
15 Of whome be thou ware also: for he hath greatly withstand our preaching.
16 At my fyrst answearing no man assisted me, but all forsoke me (I pray God) that it may not be layde to theyr charges:
17 Notwithstanding the Lorde assisted me, and strengthed me, that by me the preaching shoulde bee fulfylled to the vttermost, and that all the Gentiles shoulde heare, and I was deliuered out of the mouth of ỳ Lion.
18 And the Lord shall deliuer me from euery (d) euill worke, and wil preserue me vnto his heauenly kingdome: to whome (be) prayse for euer and euer, Amen.

The second Epistle vnto Timotheus, ordeyned the fyrst byshop of the Church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was presented the second tyme vnto the Emperour Nero.

The Epistle of Saint Paule vnto Titus.

¶ The first Chapter.

5. He aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernement of the Churche. 7. The ordinance and office of ministers. 12. The nature of the Cretians, and of them which sowe abrode Iewish fables, and inuentions.

1 PAul a seruaunt of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christe, according to the (a) fayth of gods electe, and the knowledge of ỳ trueth, which is after godlynes:
2 In the hope of eternal life, whych god that can not lye, promised before ỳ world began:
3 But hath made manifest his worde at the time appointed through preaching, whych is committed vnto me, according to the ordinaunce of God our sauiour:
4 To Titus a naturall (b) sonne after the common fayth: Grace, mercy, (and) peace from God the father, and the Lorde Jesus Christ our sauiour.
5 For this cause left I thee in Creta, that thou shouldest reforme the things that are lefte, and ordeyne elders in euery citie, as I had appoynted thee:
6 If any bee blamelesse, the husbande of one wife, hauing faythfull children, not accusable of riote, or vntractable.
7 For a bysshop muste be blamelesse, as the steward of God: not stubborne, not angrie, not giuen to wine, no striker, not gyuen to fylthy lucre:
8 But a louer of hospitalitie, a louer of goodnesse, sober, righteous, godly, temperate:
9 Holding fast the faythfull worde whiche is according to doctrine, that hee may bee able both to exhort in wholsome doctrine, and to improue them that say against it.
10 For there are many vnruly and vayne talkers, and deceyuers of mindes, specially they (that are) of the (c) circumcision:
11 Whose mouthes must be stopped, whyche subuert whole houses, teachyng thynges which they ought not, for fylthy lucre sake.
12 One of them selues (euen) a prophete of theyr owne, sayde, The Cretians (are) alwayes lyers, euil beastes, slowe bellies.
13 This witnesse is true: wherfore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith.
14 Not taking heede to Iewes fables, and commaundementes of men, turning from the trueth.
15 Vnto the pure, (are) all things pure: but vnto them that are defiled and vnbeleeuyng, (is) nothyng pure, but euen the minde and conscience of them is defiled.
16 They confesse that they knowe God: but with workes they denye him, seeing they are abhominable and disobedient, and vnto to euery good worke reprobate.

The.ij. Chapter.

1. He commendeth vnto him the wholsome doctrine, and telleth him how he shall teache all degrees to behaue them selues, 11. through the benefyte of the grace of Christ.

1 BUt speake thou the thinges whyche become (a) holsome doctrine.

2 That the elder men be watching, graue, sober, sound in fayth, in charitie, in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that (they be) in such behauiour as becommeth holynesse, not false accusers, not giuen to muche wyne, teachers of good thyngs:

4 That they may make the yong women sober mynded, to loue their husbandes, to loue theyr chyldren,

5 (To be) discrete, chaste, (b) house keepers, good, obedient vnto theyr owne husbandes, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Yong men lykewyse exhort, to be sober mynded.

7 In all things shewing thy selfe a patterne of good workes, in the doctrine, vncorruptnesse, grauitie, integritie.

8 Wholsome worde, vnrebukeable, that hee which withstãdeth, may be ashamed, hauing no euill thing to say of you.

9 (Exhort) seruants to be obedient vnto their owne maisters, and to please (them) in all thyngs, not answering agayne:

10 Neyther pyckers, but shewing all good faythfulnesse, that they may adourne the doctrine of God our sauiour in all thyngs.

11 For there hath appeared the grace of God (which is) (c) healthfull to all men.

12 Teachyng vs, that denying vngodlynesse, and worldly lustes, we should lyue soberly, and righteously, and godly, in thys presente worlde:

13 Lokyng for that blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great God, and oure sauiour Iesus Christe, 14 Which gaue hymselfe for vs, that he might redeeme vs from all vnrighteousnesse, and purge vs a peculiar people vnto hym selfe, zelous of good workes.

15 These thyngs speake and exhort, and rebuke with all auctoritie: Let no man despise thee.

The.iij. Chapter.

1. Of obedience to such as be in auctoritie. 9. He warneth Titus to beware of foolyshe and vnprofitable questions, 12. concludyng with certayne priuate matters, 15. and salutations.

1 WArne them to be subiect to rule and power, to obey magistrates, to be ready to euery good worke:

2 To blaspheme no man, to be no fyghters, (but) gentle, shewing all meekenesse vnto al men,

3 (a) For we our selues also were sometyme foolish, disobedient, deceyued, seruyng diuers lustes and voluptuousnesse, lyuing in malitiousnesse and enuie, full of hate, hating one another.

4 But after that the kindnesse and loue of our sauiour God to manward appeared,

5 Not of workes that bee in righteousnesse whiche we haue wrought, but accordyng to his mercy he saued vs, by the (b) fountayne of the regeneration and renuyng of the holy Ghost,

6 Which he shed on vs richly through Iesus Christ our sauiour:

7 That we iustifyed by his grace, should be made heyrs according to the hope of eternall lyfe.

8 (This is) a faythful saying, and these things I will that thou affirme constantly, that they whych haue beleeued in God, myght bee carefull to maynteyne good workes: these thynges are good and profitable vnto men.

9 But foolishe questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and stryuings about the lawe, auoyde: for they are vnprofitable and vayne.

10 A man that is an heretike, after the fyrste and the second admonition, auoyde:

11 Knowing that he that is suche, is subuerted, and sinneth, beyng damned of hymselfe.

12 When I shall sende Artemas vnto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come vnto mee vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined ther to wynter.

13 Bryng Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on theyr iourney diligently, that nothing be lacking vnto them.

14 And let ours also learne to maynteyne good workes to necessary vses, that they bee not vnfruitefull.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greete them that loue vs in the fayth. Grace bee with you al, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul vnto Philemon.

5. He reioyceth to heare of the fayth and loue of Philemon. 9. whome he desyreth to forgyue his seruant Onesimus, and louingly to receyue hym agayne.

1 PAul a prisoner of Jesus Christe, & brother Timotheus, vnto Philemon my dearely beloued, and our felowe labourer,

2 And to our dearely beloued Apphia, and to Archippus, oure felowe souldier, and to the Churche in thy house:

1. Cor. 1. a. 2. Cor. 1. a. Galat. 1. a.

3 Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thanke my God, making mention alwayes of thee in my prayers,

5 Hearing of thy loue and fayth whyche thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward al sayntes:

a. Thy beneuolēce toward the saintes, which proceedeth of a liuely and effectuall fayth.

6 That the (a) felowship of thy fayth maye be effectuall in the knowledge of euery good (worke) whyche is in you towarde Christe Jesus.

b. Meaning their inwarde partes and affections were through his charitie comforted.

7 For we haue great ioy and consolation in thy loue, bycause the bowelles (b) of ỹ saints are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, though I might be much bolde in Christ, to enioyne thee that whych is conuenient:

9 Yet for loues sake I rather beseech thee, being suche a one as Paul the aged, and nowe also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

Colos. 4. b.

10 I beseeche thee for my sonne Onesimus, whome I haue begotten in my bondes:

11 Whiche in time passed was to thee vnprofitable, but nowe profitable to thee and to mee,

12 Whome I haue sent agayne: thou therfore receyue hym, that is, mine owne bowels,

13 Whome I would haue retayned wyth mee, that in thy steede hee myght haue ministred vnto mee in the bondes of the Gospell:

14 But without thy mynde would I do nothyng, that thy benefyte should not be as it were of necessitie, but willingly. C

15 For happily hee therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receyue hym for euer.

16 Not nowe as a seruaunt, but aboue a seruaunt, a brother beloued, specially to me: but howe much more vnto thee, both in the flesshe, and in the Lorde?

17 If thou count me therefore a felowe, receyue him as my selfe.

18 If hee haue iniured thee, or oweth (thee ought) that lay to my charge.

19 I Paul haue written it with myne owne hande, I wyll recompence it: albeit, I doe not say to thee howe thou owest vnto me euen thyne owne selfe beside.

20 Yea brother, let me inioy (this) "pleasure of thee in the Lord: comfort my (c) bowels in the Lorde.

" or, fruite. c. Graunt me this benefite, which shall be most acceptable vnto me of all other. D 21 Trusting in thyne obedience, I wrote vnto thee, knowing that thou wilte also doe more than I say.

22 Moreouer, prepare me also a lodgyng: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be gyuen vnto you.

23 There salute thee Epaphras my felowe prisoner (d) in Christ Jesus.

d. That is, for Christes cause.

24 Marcus, Aristarcus, Demas, Lucas, my felowe labourers.

25 The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ (be) with your spirite. Amen.

¶ The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul, to the Hebrues.

The first Chapter.

1. He sheweth the excellencie of Chryst, 4. aboue the angels, 7. and of theyr office.

1 God

GOD whyche in tyme past, at sundry times, and in diuers manners spake vnto the fathers in ỹ prophetes.

2 Hath in these (a) last days spoken vnto vs in the sonne, whome he hath appoynted heyre of all thynges, by whome also hee made the worldes.

3 Who being the brightnesse of the glory, and the very image of hys substance, vpholding all things with the word of his power, hauing by hym selfe purged our sinnes, hathe sit on the ryght hand of the maiestie on high:

4 Being so much more excellent than the angels, as he hathe by inheritance obteyned a more excellent name than they.

5 For vnto which of the angels sayd he at any tyme, Thou art my sonne, thys (b) daye haue I begotten thee? And agayne, I wyll bee to hym a father, and he shall be to me a sonne?

6 And agayne when he bringeth in the fyrst begotten sonne into the worlde, he sayeth, And let all the angels of God worship hym.

7 And vnto the angels he sayeth, He maketh his angels (c) spirites, and his ministers a flame of fyre:

8 But vnto the sonne (he sayth,) Thy seate, O God (shall be) for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kyngdome (is) a scepter of ryghteousnesse.

9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: therefore God, euen thy God, hath anoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy felowes.

10 And, thou Lord in the beginning hast layd the fundation of the earth: and the heauens are the workes of thy handes:

11 They shall perishe, but thou endurest: and they all shall waxe olde as doth a garment:

12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shall bee changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not fayle.

13 But vnto whiche of the angels sayd hee at any tyme, Syt on my ryght hand, til I make thyne enimies thy footestole?

14 Are they not all ministring spirites, sente forth into ministerie for their sakes whyche shall be heyres of saluation.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth vs to bee obedient vnto the newe lawe whiche Christe hathe giuen vs, 9. and not to bee offended at the infirmitie and lowe degree of Christ, 10. bycause it was necessarie that for our sakes he shoulde take such an humble state vpō him, that he might be lyke vnto his brethren.

1 WHerefore wee ought to gyue the more earnest heede to the thyngs whyche we haue heard, lest at any (a) tyme we shoulde let them slyppe.

2 For if the (b) worde spoken by angels, was stedfast: and euery transgression and disobedience receyued a iust recompence of reward:

3 How shal we escape, if we neglect so great saluation: which at the first began to be preached of the Lorde, and was confyrmed vnto vsward by them that heard it,

4 God bearing witnesse (thereto) both wyth signes and wonders also, and with diuers powers, and giftes of the holy ghost, accordyng to his owne wyll.

5 For vnto the angels hathe hee not put in subiection the worlde to come, whereof wee speake.

6 But one in a certayne place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou art myndfull of him? Or the sonne of man, that thou visitest hym?

7 Thou madest hym for a little whyle lower than the angels, thou hast crowned him with (c) glory and honour, and hast set hym aboue the workes of thy handes,

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put all thyngs vnder hym, he left nothyng that is not put vnder hym. But now we see not yet all things put vnder hym.

9 But hym that for a whyle was made lesse than the angels, wee see (that it was) Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned wyth glory and honour, that hee by the grace of God, shoulde tast of deathe for all.

10 For it became hym, for whome are all thyngs, and by whome are all things, after he had brought many sonnes vnto glory, that he should make the captayne of their saluation perfect through affliction.

11 For both hee that sanctifyeth, and they whiche are sanctified (are) all of one: For which cause, he is not ashamed to call them brethren, 12 Saying, I wyll declare thy name vnto my brethren, in the middest of the Churche will I prayse thee.

13 And agayne, I wyll put my trust in hym. And agayne, Beholde heere am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

a. We must diligently keepe in memorie, the doctrine whyche we haue learned, lest lyke vessels full of chaps, we leake and run out on euery part.
b. As the Gospell is, whyche only offereth saluation.
Math. 16. d.

Psal. 7. a.

c. In makyng hym felowe heyre wyth Christ.
Psal. 8. b.
1. Cor. 15. d.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesshe and bloud, hee also hym selfe likewise toke parte with them, that through death he might expell him that had lordship ouer death, that is the deuyl:

15 And that he myght delyuer them whyche through feare of deathe, were all their lyfe time in danger of bondage.

d. Not the nature of angels, but of men.

16 For he in no place taketh on hym the (d) angels: but the seede of Abraham taketh hee on him.

17 Wherefore in all thynges it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that he might be mercifull, and a faythfull hygh preest in thynges concerning God, for to purge ỳ peoples synnes.

18 For in that hee him selfe suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. He requireth them to be obedient vnto the word of Christ, 3. who is more worthy than Moses. 12. The punishmente of suche as wyll harden, theyr heartes, and not beleeue, that they myght haue eternall rest.

1 Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiall calling, (a) consider the apostle and hyghe preest of oure profession Christe Iesus,

a. Take heede to his wordes, and heare him.

2 Beyng faythfull to hym that appoynted hym, as also Moses (was faythfull) in al his house.

3 For this (man) was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, in as muche as hee which hath buylded the house, hath more honoure than the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man: but he that buylded all things, is God.

5 And Moses verily was faythfull in all hys house, as a seruante, for a witnesse of those thynges which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christe as a sonne hath rule ouer hys owne house: (b) whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the ende.

Rom. 5. a. b. For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of God.

7 Wherefore, as the holy ghost sayth, To day if ye will heare his voyce,

8 Harden not your hartes, as in the prouocation in the day of the temptation in the wildernesse:

9 Where youre fathers tempted me, prouoked me, and sawe my workes fortie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was greeued with this generation, and sayde, They doe alwaye erre in harte, they verily haue not knowen my wayes.

e. Here note the Hebrue phrase, meaning that they shal not enter.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, (c) If they shall enter into my rest.

12 Take heede brethren, least at any tyme there be in any of you an euill hart of vnbeleefe, to depart from the lyuing God:

13 But exhort ye one another dayly, whyle it is called to day: least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of synne.

14 For we are made partakers of Christe, if we keepe sure vnto the end (d) the beginning of the substance.

d. Whiche by fayth imbrace and hold fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christ, or, Iehyeh. C 15 "So long as it is sayd, To day if ye will heare hys voyce, harden not youre hartes, as in the prouocation.

" the Lord.

16 For some when they had heard, dyd prouoke: "howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whome was he displeased fortie yeeres? Not with them that had synned, whose carkases fell in the desart?

18 And to whome sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And wee see that they coulde not enter in, because of vnbeleefe.

The. iiij. Chapter.

2. The worde without fayth is vnprofitable. 3. The Sabboth or rest of the Christians. 6. Punishment of vnbeleeuers. 12. The nature of the word of God.

1 Let vs feare therefore, lest at any tyme by forsaking the promise of entring into hys rest, any of you shoulde seeme to be defrauded. I

2 For vnto vs was the Gospell preached, as well as vnto them: but the word which they heard, dyd not profyte them, not being coupled with fayth to them that heard.

3 For we whyche haue beleeued, doe enter into his rest, as he sayde, Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, if (a) they shall enter into my rest: although the workes were made perfect from the fundation of the worlde.

a. Although that God by hys rest after the creation of his worke, signifyed the spirituall rest of the faythfull: yet he sware to the rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, and dured but for a tyme. Gen. 2. a.

4 For he spake in a certayne place of the seuenth daye on this wise, And God did reste the seuenth day from all his workes.

5 And in this place agayne, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeyng therefore it followeth that some must enter therein to, and they to whome the Gospell was fyrst preached, entred not therein for vnbeleefe.

7 Agayne, he appoynteth a certayne day, by to day, saying in Dauid after so long a time (as it is sayde,) To day if ye wyll heare his voyce, harden not your hartes.

8 For if (b) Iesus had giuen them rest, then would

b. By Iesus, is meant Iosua.

woulde he not afterwarde haue spoken of another day.

9 There remayneth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entred into his rest, hathe ceassed also from his owne workes, as God (dyd) from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of disobedience.

12 For the word of God is quicke and mightie in operation, and sharper than any two edged sword, and entreth thorough euen vnto the dividing asunder of the (c) soule, and the (d) spirit, and of the ioyntes and the marowe, and is a discerner of the thoughtes and of the intents of the hart.

13 Neyther is there any creature that is not manyfest in the syght of hym: but all thyngs (are) naked and open vnto the eyes of hym of whome we speake.

¶ 14 Seeing then that wee haue a greate hyghe priest, whiche is entred into heauens, Iesus the sonne of God, let vs holde fast (this) confession.

15 For we haue not an hygh priest which can not bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all poyntes tempted lyke as we are, and (yet) without synne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obteyne mercy, and synde grace to helpe in time of neede.

The. v. Chapter.

1. He compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuiticall priestes, shewing wherein they eyther agree, or dissent. 11. Afterward he reproueth the negligence of the Iewes.

A 1 FOr euery high priest taken from among men, is ordeyned for men, in things (perteyning) to God, to offer (a) giftes, and sacrifices for sinne:

2 Which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorannt, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuch as he him selfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for the same (infirmitie) he is bounde to offer for sinnes, aswell for hym selfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto hym selfe, but hee that is called of God, as was Aaron.

5 Euen so, Christe also glorifyed not hym selfe to be made the high priest: but hee that sayde vnto him, Thou art my sonne, to day I haue begotten thee (gaue it him.)

6 As hee sayeth also in another place, Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

7 Whiche in the dayes of his flesshe, when hee B hadde offered by prayers and supplications, wyth (b) strong cryings and teares, vnto him that was able to saue him from deathe, and was hearde in that which he (c) feared:

8 Though he were the sonne, yet learned hee obedience, by these thyngs whyche he suffered.

9 And beyng perfect, was made the authour of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey hym:

10 And is called of God an hygh priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whome we haue many thyngs to saye, and harde to bee uttered, seeyng ye are dul of hearyng.

12 For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye neede agayne that wee teache you the fyrst principles of the begynnyng of the worde of God, and are become suche as haue neede of mylke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth mylke, is vnexpert of the worde of ryghteousnesse, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that C are perfect, euen those whiche by reason of vse, haue theyr wyttes exercised to discerne both good and euill.

The. vi. Chapter.

1. He proceedeth in reproouing them, and exhorteth them not to faynt, 12. but to be stedfast and patient, 18. forasmuch as God is sure in his promise.

1 THerefore leauing the doctrine of the be- A ginning (a) of Christ, let vs goe forthe vnto perfection, not laying agayne the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of fayth toward God,

2 Of the doctrine of baptismes, and of laying on of handes, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternall iudgement.

3 And this wyll we do, if God permit.

4 For it can not be that they which wer once lyghted, and haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy Ghost,

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come:

6 And they fall away, shoulde bee renued agayne into repentance, crucifying to them selues the sonne of God afresshe, and making a mocke of him.

18 That by (d) two immutable thinges, in whych it was impossible for God to lie, we might haue a strong consolation, whiche haue fledde to holde fast the hope layde before vs:

19 Which (hope) we hold as an anchor of the soule both sure and stedfast, and entring in into that thyng whyche is within the vayle:

20 Whyther the forerunner is for vs entred (euen) Jesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a priest for euer.

Hebr.8.a.

The.vij.Chapter.

1. He compareth the priesthood of Christ vnto Meschisedech, 11. also Christes priesthoode with the Leuites.

A Gen.14.g. 1 For this Melchisedech king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed hym,

2 To whome also Abraham gaue tythe of al things: first being called by interpretation king of righteousnesse: and after that also, kyng of Salem, which is king of peace,

3 Without (a) father, without mother, without kynne, hauyng neyther begynning of dayes, neyther ende of lyfe, but lykened vnto the sonne of God, continueth a priest for euer.

a. So called, bycause that Moses maketh no mention of his parentes or kinsfolkes, but as he had bin suddenly sent of God into the worlde, to be a figure of Christe, or euerlasting priest, and shortly taken out of the world agayn. So Christe, as touching hys humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie, no mother.

4 Now consyder how great this (man) was, vnto whome also the Patriarch Abraham gaue tythe of the spoyles.

5 And verily they whiche are of the chyldren of Leui, which receiue the office of the priesthood, haue a commaundement to take tithe of the people accordyng to the lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.

6 But hee whose kynrede is not counted among them, receyued tithe of Abraham, and blessed hym that had the promyses.

7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that dye, receyue tythes: but there he (receiueth them) of whome it is witnessed that he lyueth.

9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also whyche receyueth tythes, payed tythes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.

11 If therefore perfection was by the priesthood of the Leuites (for vnder that priesthood the people receyued the lawe) what needed it furthermore that another priest shoulde rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?

Rom.2.c. Galat.3.c.

12 For if the priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the lawe.

13 For he of whome these things are spoken, perteyneth vnto another tribe, of whyche no man gaue attendance at the aulter.

14 For it is euident that our Lord sprong out of Juda, of whiche tribe spake Moses nothyng concerning priesthood:

C Math.1.a.

15 And (it is) yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another priest, 16 Whiche is not made after the lawe of the carnall commaundement, but after the power of the endlesse life.

17 For he thus testifieth, Thou art a priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

Psal.110.b. Hebr.4.c.

18 For there is truely a disanulling of the commaundement going before, for ỹ weaknesse and vnprofitablenesse thereof.

19 For the lawe made nothing perfect, but (was) the bringing in of a better hope, by the which we drawe nygh vnto God.

Rom.8.a. Galath.3.c.

20 And in as much as that was not without an othe, (for those priests were made wythout an othe:

21 But

21 But this priestе with an othe, by him that sayde vnto him, The Lorde sware, and will not repent hym, thou art a priest for euer after the order of Melchisedech,)

22 By so muche was Iesus made a suretie of a better testament.

23 And amōg them many were made priests, bycause they were forbidden by death to endure:

24 But this man, bycause he endureth euer, hath an (b) vnchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherfore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermoste, that come vnto God by hym, seeyng he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.

26 For such an high priest became vs, (which is) holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than heauens:

27 Whiche needeth not dayly, as those hyghe priests, to offer vp sacrifice, first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that dyd he once, when he offered vp himselfe.

28 For the lawe maketh menne high priestes whiche haue infirmitie: but the worde of the othe whiche was after the lawe (maketh) the sonne, which is perfect for euermore.

The.viij. Chapter.

6. He proueth the abolishyng awel of the Leuiticall priesthood, as of the old couenant, by the spirituall and euerlastyng priesthood of Christ, 8. and by the new couenant.

1 BVt of the things which we haue spoke (this is) the summe: We haue suche an high priest, that sitteth on the right hande of the throne of the maiestie in the heauens,

2 A minister of holy things, and of the true tabernacle, whiche the Lorde pyght, and not man.

3 For euery hygh priest is ordeyned to offer gyftes and sacrifices. Wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.

4 For he were not a priest, if he were on the earth, seeyng that there are priests, that accordyng to the lawe offer gistes,

5 Who serue vnto the example and shadowe of heauenly thyngs, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finishe the tabernacle: for see, sayth he, that thou make all thyngs accordyng to the paterne shewed to thee in the mount.

6 But nowe hath he obteyned a more excellent office, by howe muche also he is the mediatour of a better" couenant, whiche was confirmed in better promyses.

7 For if that first (couenant) had bene faultelesse, then shoulde no place haue bene sought for the seconde.

8 For in rebukyng them, he sayth, Beholde, the dayes (a) come, sayth the Lord, and I wil finish vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house (b) of Iuda, a new couenant:

9 Not lyke that, that I made with theyr fathers, in the day when I toke them by the hande, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: bycause they continued not in my couenant, and I regarded them not, sayth the Lorde.

10 For this is the couenant that I wyll make with the house of Israell after those dayes, sayth the Lord: gyuing my lawes into their minde, and in theyr hart I will write them, and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

11 And they shall not (c) teach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.

12 For I wyll be mercyfull to theyr vnrighteousnesse, and theyr sinnes and theyr iniquities will I thynke vpon no more.

13 In that he sayth a newe (couenant) he hath worne out the first: for that whiche is worne out and wared olde, is ready to vanishe away.

a. That is, when Christe shal remit our sinnes by the preachyng of the Gospel.
b. Signifying that there should be no more diuision, but all shal be made one Churche.
c. Men shall not in the time of the Gospel be so ignorant as they were before: but shal know God much more perfectly thorow Christe.

The.ix. Chapter.

1. Howe that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the lawe are abolished, 11. by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

1 THe first (couenant) then had verily" iustifying ordinances, seruings of God, and worldly holynesse.

2 For there was a tabernacle made, the first (truely) wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the shew bread, which is called holy.

3 But after the (a) second vayle (was) a tabernacle which is called holyest of all:

4 Which had the golden censer, and the arke of the couenant ouerlayde rounde about with golde, wherein was the golden potte hauyng Manna, and Aarons rodde that had budded, and the tables of the couenant:

5 And ouer it the Cherubims of glory, shadowyng the mercy seate: Of which thyngs we can not now speake particularly.

6 When these thyngs were thus ordeyned, the priests went alwayes into the fyrst tabernacle, accomplishyng the seruice of God.

7 But into the second (went) the high priest alone, once euery yeere, not without bloud, which he offered for himselfe, & for the ignorances of the people.

12 Neither by the bloud of Goates & Calues: but by hys owne bloud he entred in once into the holy place, and founde eternall redemption.

c. The Leuitical prieſts offered beaſts bloud: But Chriſt the true & eternal prieſt offred his own bloud, whiche was moſt holy and pure. The Leuitical prieſt offered yerely, & therfore did only repreſent the true holines: but Chriſt by one only ſacrifice hath made holy for euer them that beleeue.

13 For if the (c) bloud of Oxen, & of Goates, and the aſſhes of a young Cowe, ſprynckling the vncleane, ſanctifieth to the purifying of the fleſhe:

14 Howe muche more the bloud of Chriſte, whiche thrꝫough the eternall ſpirite offered himſelfe without ſpot to God, ſhall purge your conſcience from dead workes, to ſerue the liuyng God?

15 And for this cauſe is he the mediatour of the new "couenant, that thrꝫough death, which was for the redemption of the tranſgreſſions (that were) vnder the firſte "couenant, they whiche are called, might receyue the promiſe of eternall inheritance.

17 For a teſtament is confirmed, when men are dead: for it is yet of no valu, as long as he that made the teſtament is alyue.

18 For whiche cauſe alſo, neyther the firſt (teſtament) was dedicated without bloud.

19 For when Moſes had ſpoken euery precept to all the people accordyng to the lawe, taking the bloud of Calues, and of Goates, with water, and purple wool, and hyſope, he ſprynckled bothe the booke it ſelfe, and all the people, 14 For with one offering hath he made perfect for euer them that are sanctified.

15 And the holy ghost also beareth vs recorde: For after that he had tolde before,

16 This is the "couenaunt that I will make vnto them after those dayes (sayth the Lord) giuing my lawes in their heart, and in their myndes will I write them:

17 And their sinnes and iniquities will I in no wyse remember any more.

18 And where remission of these things (is) there (is) no more offering for sinne.

19 Hauing therfore, brethren, libertie to enter into holie (places) in the (d) bloud of Jesus.

20 By the newe and (e) liuing way, whiche he hath prepared for vs through the vaile, that is to say, his flesh:

21 And (seing we haue) an high priest ouer the house of God.

22 Let vs drawe nygh with a true heart, in assurance of faith sprinkled in our harts from an euil conscience, and washed in body with pure water.

23 Lette vs holde the profession of the hope, without wauering, (for he is faithfull that promised:)

24 And lette vs consyder one an other to prouoke vnto loue, and good workes.

25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selues together, as the manner of some (is) but exhorting one (another) and so much the more as ye see the day approching.

26 For if we sinne willingly after that wee haue receyued the knowledge of the truthe, there remayneth no more sacrifice for sinnes:

27 But a fearefull loking for of iudgement, and violent fyre, whiche shall deuoure the aduersaries.

28 He that despised Moyses lawe, dyeth without mercie vnder two or three witnesses:

29 Of how much sorer punishment (suppose ye) shall he be worthie, which hath troden vnder foote the sonne of God: and hath counted the bloud of the couenaunt wherein hee was sanctified, an vnholie thing, and hath done dispite to the spirite of grace?

34 For ye suffred also with my bondes, and toke in worthy ỹ spoiling of your goods with gladnesse: knowyng in youre selues howe that ye haue in heauen a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therfore youre confidence which hath great recompence of rewarde.

36 For ye haue neede of pacience, that after ye haue done the will of God, ye might receiue the promise.

The.xij. Chapter.

1. An exhortation to be pacient and ſtedfaſt in trouble and aduerſitie, vpon hope of euerlaſtyng reward. 25. A commendation of the new teſtament aboue the olde.

¶ 1 Wherefore, ſeeyng that we are compaſſed with ſo great a cloude of witneſſes, all layde away that (a) preſſeth downe, and the ſinne that hangeth ſo faſt on, let vs run with patience vnto the battayle that is ſet before vs:

2 Lokyng vnto Jeſus the "captayne and finiſher of our fayth, whiche for the ioy that was ſet before him, endured the croſſe, hauyng deſpiſed the ſhame, and is ſet downe on the ryght hande of the throne of God.

3 Conſider therefore hym that endured ſuch ſpeakyng agaynſt hym of ſinners, leaſt you ſhoulde be wearyed, fayntyng in your mindes.

4 Ye haue not reſiſted vnto (the ſheddyng of) bloud, ſtryuing agaynſt ſinne.

5 And yee haue forgotten the exhortation whiche ſpeaketh vnto you as vnto chyldren, My ſonne, deſpiſe not thou the chaſtenyng of the Lorde, neyther faynt when thou art rebuked of hym.

6 For whom the Lorde loueth he chaſteneth, and ſcourgeth euery ſonne that he receiueth.

B 7 If ye endure chaſtenyng, God tendreth you as his ſonnes: for what ſonne is he whom the father chaſteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chaſtiſement, whereof al are partakers, then are ye baſtardes, and not ſonnes.

9 Furthermore, wee haue had fathers of our fleſhe, whiche corrected vs, and wee gaue (them) reuerence: ſhall wee not then muche rather be in ſubiection vnto the father of ſpirites, and lyue?

10 For they verely for a fewe dayes chaſtened vs after theyr owne pleaſure: but he, for our profite, that wee myght be partakers of hys holyneſſe.

11 No chaſtiſyng for the preſent ſeemeth to be ioyous, but greeuous: neuertheleſſe, afterwarde it bryngeth the quiet fruyte of rygh-teouſneſſe, vnto them whiche are exerciſed thereby.

12 Strayghten vp therefore the hands whiche were let downe, and the weake knees:

13 And make right ſteppes vnto your feete, leaſt (b) that which is haltyng, be turned out of the way: but let it rather be healed.

14 Folowe peace with all menne, and holyneſſe, without the which no man ſhall ſee the Lorde:

15 Taking heede that no man fal away from the grace of God, leaſt any rote of bitterneſſe ſpryngyng vp, trouble you, and thereby many be defiled.

16 Lette there be no fornicatour or vncleane perſon, as Eſau, whiche for one morſell of meate ſolde hys byrthryght. Gene.25.b

17 For ye knowe how that afterwarde, when he would haue inherited the bleſſyng, he was reprobated: For he found no place of repentance, though he ſought it carefully with teares. Gene.27.f

18 For ye are not come vnto the mouſt that is (c) touched, and vnto burnyng fire, and vnto ſtorme & darkeneſſe, & tempeſts of weather, Exod.19.b

c. Whiche might be touched and ſeene, for it was material, but God commaunded that none ſhould touche it.

19 And ſounde of a trumpe, and the voyce of wordes: whiche (voyce) they that hearde it, wiſhed away, that the worde ſhould not be ſpoken to them:

20 (For they did not abyde that whiche was commaunded. And if ſo muche as a beaſte touche the mountayne, it ſhall be ſtoned, or thruſt through with a dart. Exod.19.b

21 And ſo terrible was the ſight whiche appeared, that Moſes ſayde, I feare exceedingly, and quake:) D

22 But yee are come vnto the mount Sion, and to the citie of the lyuyng God, the celeſtiall Hieruſalem, and to an innumerable cõpany of (d) angels.

d. By the goſpel, we are ioyned with the angels & patriarkes.

23 And vnto the congregation of the firſte borne, whiche are written in heauen, and to God the iudge of all, and to the ſpirites of iuſt and perfect men:

24 And to Jeſus the mediatour of the newe "couenant, & to the bloud of ſprinklyng that ſpeaketh better then (did the bloud) of Abel. "or, teſtament. 1.Pet.1.a Hebr.9.d

25 See that yee deſpiſe not hym that ſpeaketh: for if they eſcaped not whiche refuſed hym that ſpake on earth, muche more ſhall we (not eſcape) if we turne away from hym that (ſpeaketh) from heauen: Gene.4.b

26 Whoſe voyce then ſhoke the earth, and nowe hath declared, ſaying, Yet once more I ſhake not the earth onely, but alſo heauen.

27 And this (word) yet once more, ſignifyeth remouyng of thoſe thyngs whiche are "ſhaken, as of thyngs whiche are made, that the things whiche are not "ſhaken, may remayne. "or, chãgeable. "or, chãgeable.

28 Wherefore, wee receiuyng a kyngdome whiche can not be moued, let vs haue grace, whereby wee may ſo ſerue God acceptable, with reuerence and godly feare. E Deut.4.d

e. To deſtroy thẽ that reſiſt hym.

29 For our God (is) a (e) conſumyng fyre.

¶ The firſt Chapter.

2. He exhorteth to reioyce in trouble, 6. to be feruent in prayer, with ſtedfaſt beleefe, 17. to looke for all good things from aboue, 21. to forſake all vyce, and thankfully to receyue the woorde of God, 22. not onely hearyng it, and ſpeakyng of it, but to doo therafter in deede. 27. VVhat true religion is.

1 IAmes a ſeruant of God, and of the Lorde Ieſus Chriſt, to ỹ twelue tribes which are ſcattered abroade, greeting.
2 My brethren, count it al ioye when ye fall into diuers temptations.
3 Knowing (this) that the trying of your fayth worketh patience,
4 And let patience haue (hir) perfect worke, that ye maye be perfect and ſounde, lackyng nothing.
5 If any of you lacke wiſedome, lette hym aſke of God, that giueth to all men indifferently, and caſteth no man in the teeth: and it ſhall be giuen him.
6 But let him aſke in faith, nothing wauering: For he that wauereth, is lyke a waue of the ſea, toſt of the wynde, and carryed with violence.
7 Neither let that man thinke that he ſhal receyue any thing of the Lorde.
8 A double mynded man (is) unſtable in all his wayes.
9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioyce in that he is (a) exalted:
10 Agayne, the ryche, in that he is made lowe: Becauſe as the floure of the graſſe he ſhall paſſe away.
11 For (as) the Sunne hath riſen with heate, and the graſſe hath withered, and his floure hath fallen awaye, and the beautie of the faſhion of it hathe periſhed: ſo alſo ſhall the riche man fade away in his wayes.
12 Bleſſed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tryed, he ſhall receyue the crowne of lyfe whiche the Lorde hathe promiſed to them that loue him.
13 Let no man ſay when he is (b) tempted, I am tempted of GOD: for GOD cannot be tempted with euill, neyther tempteth he any man.
14 But euery man is tempted when hee is drawen away, and enticed with the bayte of his owne concupiſcence.
15 Then when luſt hath conceyued, it bryngeth forth ſinne: and ſinne when it is finiſhed, bringeth forth death.
16 Doe not erre my deare brethren.
17 Euery good (c) giuing, and euery perfecte gyfte is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lyghtes, with whome is no variableneſſe, neither ſhadow of turning.
18 Of his owne will begate hee vs, with the worde of truth, that we ſhould be the firſte fruites of his creatures.
19 Wherfore my deare brethren, let euery man bee ſwyfte to heare, ſlowe to ſpeake, ſlowe to wrathe.
20 For the wrath of man, worketh not that whiche is righteous before God.
21 Wherfore lay apart all filthyneſſe, and ſuperfluitie of "naughtineſſe, and receyue with meekeneſſe the worde that is graffed in you, which is able to ſaue your ſoules.
22 And be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiuing your owne ſelues.
23 For if any be a hearer of the worde, and not a doer, he is lyke vnto a man beholding his bodyly face in a ((d) glaſſe.
24 For he hathe conſydered himſelfe, and is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediately what his faſhion was.
25 But who ſo loketh in the perfect law of libertie, and continueth (therin) he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, ſhall be bleſſed in his deede.
26 If any man among you ſeeme to be "deuoute, and refrayneth not his toung, but deceyueth his owne heart, this mans "deuotion is vayne.
27 Pure deuotion and vndefiled before God and the father is this, To viſite the fatherleſſe and widowes in their aduerſitie, and to kepe himſelfe vnſpotted of the worlde.

3 And ye haue a reſpecte to him that weareth the gay clothing, and ſaye vnto him, Sitte thou here in a good place: and ſay vnto the poore, Stand thou there, or ſitte here vnder my footeſtole:
4 Are ye not parciall in youre ſelues, and are made iudges of euill thoughtes?
5 Hearken my deare beloued brethren, Hathe not God choſen the poore of this world (that they might be) riche in faithe, and heires of the kingdome, whiche he promiſed to them that loue him?

9 But if ye regarde one perſon more than an other, ye commit ſinne, and are rebuked of the lawe as tranſgreſſours.
Matth. 5. c. 10 Whoſoeuer ſhall kepe the whole law, and yet fayle in one poynt, he is gyltie of all.
11 For he that ſayde, Doe not commit aduulterie: ſayde alſo, Doe not kill. Thoughe thou doe none aduulterie, yet if thou kill, thou arte become a tranſgreſſoure of the lawe.
c. By the mercie of God, which deliuereth vs from the curſe of the lawe. 12 So ſpeake ye, and ſo doe, as they that ſhal be iudged by the lawe of (c) libertie.
13 For hee (ſhall haue) iudgement withoute mercie, that hathe ſhewed no mercie: and mercie reioyceth agaynſt iudgement.
14 What profiteth it my brethren, though a man ſay he hath faith, and hath not deedes? can faith ſaue him?
15 If a brother or a ſiſter be naked, and deſtitute of dayely fode,
16 And one of you ſay vnto them, Depart in peace, be you warmed and fylled: notwithſtanding yee giue them not thoſe thynges whiche are needful to the bodie: what (ſhall it) profite?
17 Euen ſo Faithe, if it haue not deedes, is dead in it ſelfe.
18 But ſome man wil ſay, Thou haſt faith, and I haue deedes: ſhewe me thy fayth by thy (d) deeds, and I wil ſhew thee my faith by my deedes.
d. Here deedes are conſidered as ioyned with true faith. 19 Thou beleeueſt that there is one GOD, thou doeſt well: the deuyls alſo beleeue, and tremble.
20 But wilt thou know, O thou vayn man, that that fayth (whiche is) without workes, is dead?
Gene. 22. b. 21 Was not Abraham oure father iuſtifyed through workes, when he had offered Iſaac his ſonne vpon the aultar?
22 Seeſt thou not howe that faith wrought with his deedes, and through the deeds was the fayth made perfecte?
Gen. 15. b. Rom. 4. a. Galath. 3. a. 23 And the ſcripture was fulfilled whych ſayeth, Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteouſneſſe: and hee was called the friend of God.
24 Ye ſee then, howe that of deedes a man is iuſtifyed, and not of faith only?
Joſue. 2. a. 25 Lykewyſe alſo, was not Rahab the harlot iuſtifyed through workes, when ſhe had receiued the meſſangers, and had ſente them out an other way?
26 For as the bodye withoute the ſpirite is dead, euen ſo Faythe without workes, is dead (alſo.)

The. iij. Chapter.

2. He forbiddeth all ambition to ſeeke honour aboue our brethren. 3. He deſcribeth the propretie of the tongue. 15. 16. And what difference there is betwixte the wiſedome of God, and the wiſedome of the world.

1 MY brethren, be not many maiſters, knowing howe that wee ſhall receyue the greater damnation. A Matth. 23. Pſou. 17. a. He that is able to moderate his tongue hath attayned to an excellent vertue.
2 For in many things we ſinne all. If a man ſinne not in (a) worde, the ſame is a perfecte man, and able alſo to bridle all the bodie.
3 Beholde, we put bittes in the horſes mouthes, that they may obey vs, and we turne about their whole bodie:
4 Beholde alſo the ſhippes, whiche though they bee ſo greate, and are driuen of fierce wyndes, yet are they turned aboute with a verie ſmall helme, whether ſo euer the luſte of the gouernour will:
5 Euen ſo the tongue is a little member alſo, and boaſteth great things: beholde howe great a matter a little fyre kindleth.
6 And the tongue is fyre, euen a worlde of wickednelle: ſo is the toung ſet among our membres, that it defileth the whole bodye, and (b) ſetteth on fyre the courſe of nature, and it is ſet on fyre of hell. b. The inperancie of the toung, is a flame of hell fyre. B
7 All the nature of beaſtes, and of byrds, and of ſerpentes, and things of the ſea is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:
8 But the tongue can no man tame (it is) an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyſon:
9 Therewith bleſſe wee (our) God and father: and therwith curſe we men, which are made after the ſimilitude of God. Gene. 1. d.
10 Out of one mouthe proceedeth bleſſyng and curſing: My brethren, theſe thynges ought not ſo to be.
11 Doth a fountayne ſende forth at one hole ſweete (water) and bitter (alſo?)
12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare oliue berries? eyther a vine beare figges? ſo (can) no fountayne giue both ſalte water & freſhe alſo.
13 Who is a wyſe man and endewed with knowledge among you? let him ſhew his workes out of good converſation with meekneſſe of wyſedome.
14 But if ye haue bitter enuying and ſtryfe in your heart, glorie not, neyther be lyers againſt the truth. C
15 For ſuche wiſedome deſcendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, ſenſuall, & diueliſhe.
16 For where enuying and ſtryfe is, there is ſedition, and of all maner of euill workes.
17 But the wiſedome that is from aboue, is firſt pure, then peaceable, gentle, and eaſye to be to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.

18 Yea, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

The .iiij. Chapter.

1. Hauing shewed the cause of all wrong and wickednesse, and also of al graces and goodnesse, 4. he exhorteth them to loue God, 7. and submit them selues to him, 11. not speaking euil of their neighbors, 13. but patiently to depende on Gods prouidence.

1 FRom whence commeth warres and fightings among you? Come they not hereof, (euen) of your lustes that (a) fight in your members?

2 Ye lust, and haue not: ye enuie, and haue indignation, and can not obteyne: Ye fyght and warre, ye haue not, because ye asked not.

3 Ye aske, & receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to cōsume it vpon your lustes.

4 Ye adulterers and (b) adultresses, know you not howe that the friendshyp of the worlde is enmitie with God? Who so euer therfore wyl be a friende of the worlde, is made the enimie of God?

5 Either do yee thinke that the scripture sayth in vayne, The (c) spirit that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enuie?

6 But (the scripture) offereth more grace, & therfore sayth, God resysteth the proude, but geueth grace vnto the lowly.

7 Submit your selues therfore to God, but resist the deuil, and he will flee from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he wil draw nigh to you: cleanse your handes (ye) sinners, and purifye your hartes (ye) double mynded.

9 Suffer afflictions, and mourne, and weepe: Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your ioy to heauynesse.

10 Humble your selues in the sight of the Lorde, and he shal lyft you vp.

11 Backbite not one another, brethren: He that backbiteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the lawe, and iudgeth the lawe: but and if thou iudge the lawe, thou art not an obseruer of the lawe, but a iudge.

12 There is one lawe giuer, which is able to saue, & to destroy: What art thou that iudgest another?

13 Go to nowe ye that say, (d) To day and to morowe let vs go into such a citie, and continue there a yeere, and buye and sell and winne.

14 (And yet can not ye tel what (shal happen) on the morowe: For what thing is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a little (time) and then he vanisheth away.)

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and bin wanton: Ye haue nourished your hartes, as in a day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and killed the iust, and he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore brethren, vnto the comming of the Lorde. Beholde, the husbandman wayteth for the precious fruite of the earth, and hath long patience therevpon, vntil he receiue the early and latter rayne.

8 Be ye also patient, & settle your hartes, for the comming of the Lorde draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be damned: beholde, the iudge standeth before the dore.

10 Take, my brethren the prophetes for an example of suffering aduersitie, & of patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, we count them happy whiche endure. Ye haue heerde of the patience of Job, Matth.5.c.

Job, and haue seene the ende of the Lord: For the Lorde is very pitifull and merciful.

Mat. 5. f.

12 But aboue al things, my brethren, sweare not, neyther by the heauen, neyther by the earth, neither by any other othe: Let your (c) yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest you fal into condemnation.

c. That which must be affirmed, affirme it simply, and without othes: likewise that which must be denyed. By this he taketh not from the magistrate his authoritie, who may require an othe for the maintenance of iustice, iudgement, and truth.

13 Is any amõg you afflicted? let him pray, Is any merye? let him sing Psalmes, 14 Is any diseased among you? let him cal for the elders of the Churche, and let them pray for him, and annoynt him with oyle in the name of the Lorde.

15 And the prayer of faith shal saue ỹ sicke, and the Lorde shall rayse him vp: and if he haue committed sinnes, they shall bee forgiuen him.

16 Knowledge your faultes one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: (For) the feruent prayer of a righteous man auayleth muche.

17 Elias was a man vnder infirmities eue as we are, and he prayed in his prayer that it might not rayne: and it rayned not on the earth by the space of three yeeres and sixe monethes. 1. Re. 17. Iam. 5.

18 And he prayed againe, and the heauen gaue rayne, and the earth brought forth hir fruite.

19 Brethren, if any of you do erre from the truth, and another conuert him, 20 Let the same knowe, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide the multitude of sinnes.

2. He sheweth that through the abundant mercy of God, we are elect & regenerate to a liuely hope, 7. and howe faith must be tryed, 10. that the saluation in Christ is no newes, but a thing prophecied of olde, 13. he exhorteth them to a Godly conuersation, forasmuch as they are nowe borne a newe by the worde of God.

1 PEter, an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to (a) them that dwel here and there as strangers, throughout Pontus, Galatia, Capadocia, Asia, Bithynia:

a. Which were Iewes, to whom he was appointed to be an apostle.

2 Elect according to the (b) foreknowledge of God the father, vnto the sanctifying of the spirite, through obedient & sprynkling of the bloud of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you:

b. The free election of god, is the efficient cause of our saluation: the meterial cause is Christes obedience: our effectual calling is the formal cause: and the final cause is our sanctification.

3 Blessed be God the father of our Lorde Iesus Christ, which according to his abũdant mercy begate vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the rising of Iesus Christ, from the dead:

6 In the which ye reioyce, though nowe for a season (if needs require) ye are in heauynesse through manifolde temptations:

7 That the tryal of your faith being much more pretious than golde that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found (to be vnto you) vnto laude, honour, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ, Iob. 23. Sapi. 2. Iames. 1. Rom. 5. Iohn. 10.

8 Whom ye haue not seene, and yet loue him, in whome euen nowe though ye see him not, yet doe you beleeue (him) and reioyce with ioy vnspeakeable & glorious:

9 Receiuing the ende of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the prophetes enquired and searched diligently, whiche prophesied of the grace that (should come) vnto you: Act. 10. f. Esai. 9. f. Dan. 2. f. Iere. 23. b.

11 Searching when or at what time the spirite of Christe whiche was in them shoulde signifie (which spirite) testified before the passions that should happen vnto Christ, and the glory that shoulde folowe after, you, the things which the angels desire to behold.

13 Wherefore gyrde vp the loynes of your mynde, be sober, and truste perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelation of Iesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lustes of your ignorance:

15 But as he which called you, is holy, euē so be ye holy also in all manner of conuersation.

16 Because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy.

17 And if so be that ye call on the father, which wout respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, see that ye passe the time of your dwelling here, in feare:

18 Forasmuch as ye knowe, howe that ye were not redemed with corruptible (thinges) as siluer and golde, from your vaine conuersation, whiche ye receiued by the tradition of the fathers:

19 But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb vndefyled, and without spot:

20 Which was ordeined before hande, euen before the worlde was made, but was declared in the (c) last times for your sakes:

21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue on God that rayled him vp from the dead, and gaue him glory, that he might haue faith and hope towarde God:

22 Euen ye which haue purifyed your soules, through the spirite in obeying the truth, with brotherly loue vnfaigned, see that ye loue one another with a pure hart feruently:

23 For ye are borne a new, not of corruptible seede: but of incorruptible, by the word of God which liueth and lasteth for euer.

24 For all flesh is as grasse, & al the glory of man is as the floure of grasse: The grasse withereth, and the floure falleth away:

25 But the worde of the Lorde endureth euer: And this is the worde which by the Gospel was preached vnto you.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth them to lay aside all vice, 4. shewing that Christ is the fundation whereupon they buylde.

1 Wherefore all" noughtinesse, and all guyle, and faignednesse, and enuie, and backbiting layde aside,

2 As newe borne babes, desire ye the milke of the word, which is without deceite: that ye may growe thereby (vnto saluation.)

3 If so be that ye haue tasted howe gracious the Lorde is:

4 To whome ye come as vnto a liuing stone, disalowed of menne, but chosen of God (and) precious.

5 And ye as liuely stones, be you made a spirituall house, an holy priesthood, for to offer vp spiritual sacrifice, acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

6 Wherefore it is conteined also in the scripture: Beholde, I put in Sion a stone to be laide in the chiefe corner, elect and precious, and he that beleeueth on him, shall in no wise be confounded. Esai. 28.b. Actes. 5.b. Rom. 9.f.

B 7 Likewise ye husbandes, dwel with them according to knowledge, giuing honour vnto the wife, as vnto the weaker vessel, and as vnto them that are heyres also of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindred.

11 Let him eschewe euil, and do good, let him seeke peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lorde (are) ouer the righteous, and his eares are (open) vnto their prayers: againe, the face of the Lord (is) (b) ouer them that do euil.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth men to cease from sinne. 7. to be sober, and apt to pray.

1 FOr as much then as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme ye your selues likewise with the same minde: for he which suffereth in the flesh, ceaseth frō sinne:

2 That he hencefoorth should liue, as much time as remayneth in the flesh, not after the lustes of men, but after the wil of god.

3 For it is sufficient for vs that wee haue spent the time that is past of the life, after the wyl of the Gentiles, walkyng in wantonnesse, lustes, in excesse of wynes, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abhominable idolatrie. Rom. 1. d. Ephes. 4. d

4 And it semeth to them a strange thing, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of riot, and therfore speake they euil of you:

5 Which shal giue accompte to him that is redy to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verely was the gospel preached also vnto the (a) dead, that they should be iudged lyke other men in the flesh, but should lyue before God in the spirit.

7 The ende of all things is at hande. Be ye therefore sober, and watch vnto prayer.

8 But aboue al things haue feruent charitie among your selues: for charitie shall couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be ye harborous one to another, without grudgyng

10 As euery man hath receyued the gyfte, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewardes of the manifolde grace of God.

11 If any man speake, (let him talke) as the wordes of God: if any man minister, let him do it as of the abilitie which GOD ministreth (vnto him) that GOD in all things may be glorifyed through Iesus Christ, to whom be prayse and dominion for euer and euer Amen.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fyerye tryal, whiche thing is to trye you, as though some strange thing happened vnto you

13 But reioyce, in as much as ye are partakers of Christes passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye may be mery & glad.

14 If ye be rayled vppon for the name of Christ, happie (are ye:) for the spirite of glory & of God resteth vppon you: on their part he is euil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified. Matth. 5. b. 1. Pet. 3. b.

15 See that none of you be punished as a murderer, or as a theefe, or an euil doer, or as a busy body in other mens matters.

16 If any (man suffer) as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is (come) that iudgement must beginne at the house of God: If it first (begin) at vs, what shall the end be of thē which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarcely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare? Pro. 11. b:

19 Wherfore, let them that are troubled according to the wil of GOD, commit the keeping of their soules to him with well doing, as vnto a faithfull creatour.

The.v. Chapter.

2. The duety of pastours is to feede the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent. 5. He exhorteth yong persons to submit them selues to the elders. 8. to be sober, and to watch, that they may resist the enimie.

1 THe (a) elders which are among you I exhort, which am also an elder and a witnesse of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be opened:

a. By elders he vnderstandeth al them which preach, teach, or minister in the church.

2 Feede you Gods flocke which is committed vnto you, taking the ouersight of it, not as compelled thereto, but willingly: not for the desire of fylthie lucre, but of a cheereful minde? Acts. 20. f.

6 Submit your selues therefore vnder the mightie hande of God, that he may exalt you when the time is come.

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith: knowing ỹ the same afflictions are accõplished in your brethren that are in the world.
10 But the God of al grace him selfe, whiche hath called vs vnto his eternal glory by Christ Iesus, after that ye haue suffered a little affliction, make you perfect, settle, strengthen, and stablishe you.

The ende of the first Epistle of Saint Peter.

The second Epistle of Saint Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

4. Forasmuch as the power of god hath giuen them al things pertayning vnto life, he exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lustes.

1 Simon Peter, a seruant & an apostle of Iesus Christ, to them which haue obtained like pretious faith with vs, through the righteousnes of our God and sauiour Iesus Christ.
2 Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you through the knowledge of god, and of Iesus our Lord:
1.Pet.1.a.
3 According as his godly power hath giue vnto vs all things that (pertayne) vnto life and (a) godlynesse, through the knowledge of him that hathe called vs vnto glory and vertue:
4 By the which are giuen vnto vs excellent and moste great promises, that by the meanes thereof, ye might be partakers of the godly nature, if yee flee the corruption of worldly lust.
a. The sum of our saluation & religion is, to be ledde by Christ to the father, who calleth vs in the sonne.
John.1.c. Colos.2.b.
5 And hereunto giue al diligence, in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge,
2.Cor.8.a. 6 In knowledge temperance, in temperãce patience, in patience godlynesse.
B 7 In godlynesse brotherly kindnesse, in brotherly kindnesse, charitie.
8 For if these things be among you, and be plenteous, they make you that ye neyther shall be idle, nor vnfruitefull in the knowledge of our Lord Iesus Christ.
9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind, and can not see farre off, & hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.
10 Wherefore brethren, giue the more diligence for to make your calling and election (b) sure: for if ye do such things, ye shal neuer fal.
b. Albeit it be sure in it selfe, forasmuch as God can not change: yet we must continue in it in our selues by the fruites of the spirit, lyuing as the purpose of our election requireth, & faithfully vse the ordinances.
11 Yea and by this meanes an entring in shall be ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlasting kingdome of our lord and sauiour Iesus Christ.
12 Wherefore I wil not be negligent to put you alwayes in remembraunce of suche things, though ye know them your selues and be stablished in the present truth.
13 Notwithstanding I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:
1.Cor.3.c. C
14 Knowing that shortly I muste put off this my tabernacle, euen as our Lord Iesus Christ shewed me.
John.21.c.
15 I wil euer also giue my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembraunce of these things after my departing.
16 For we haue not folowed deceitful fables, when we opened vnto you the power & comming of our Lord Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we sawe his maiestie:
1.John.1.a.
17 Euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, and when there came suche a voyce to him from from the excellēt glory, This is my deare beloued sonne in whom I delite.

18 This voyce we heard come from heauen, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We haue also a right sure word of prophesie, whereunto ye take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, ye do wel, vntil the day dawne, and the day starre arise in your hartes.

20 So that ye first knowe this that no prophesie in the scripture is of any priuate motion.

21 For the prophesie came not in olde time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moued by the holye ghost.

The.ij. Chapter.

He prophecieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

1 There were false prophetes also amōg the people, euen as there shal be false teachers among you, which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring vppon them selues swift damnation.

2 And many shall folowe their damnable wayes, by whom the way of truth shall be euil spoken of:

3 And thorowe couetousnesse shall they with fayned wordes make (a) marchandise of you, whose iudgement nowe of long time ceaseth not, and their damnation sleepeth not.

4 For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hel, and deliuered them into chaynes of darkenesse, to be kept vnto iudgement:

5 Neither spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eight (person) a preacher of righteousnesse and brought in the flood vppon the world of the vngodly.

6 And turned their cities of Sodome and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrewe them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto those that after shoulde lyue vngodly:

7 And iust Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he.

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with (their) vnlawful deedes.)

9 The Lord knoweth howe to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be punished.

10 But chiefely them that walke after the flesshe in the lust of vncleanesse, and despise authoritie. Presumptuous (are they) and stande in their owne conceyt, which feare not to speake euill of them that excell in worship.

11 When the angels whiche are greater both in power and might, giue not (b) rayling iudgement againste them before the Lorde.

12 But these as brute beastes, led with sensualitie, and made to be take and destroyed, speake euill of the things that they vnderstande not, and shall perishe thorough their owne corruption:

13 And receiue the reward of vnrighteousnesse, they count it pleasure to liue delitiously for a season: spotts they are and blotes, (c) delighting them selues in their deceiuings, in fasting with you:

14 Hauing eyes ful of adulteris, and that can not ceasse from sinne, laying bayte for vnstable soules: hartes they haue exercised with "robberie, they are cursed children.

15 Whiche haue forsaken the right way and are gone astray, folowing the way of Balaam (the sonne) of Bosor, which loued the rewarde of vnrighteousnesse:

16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. The dumbe beast, and vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbade the madnesse of the prophete.

17 These are welles without water, cloudes that are caryed with a tempest, to whom the myst of darknesse is reserued for euer.

18 For when they speake the great swelling wordes of vanitie, they entice thorough lustes with the bayte of wantonnesse of the flesshe, them that were cleane escaped from them, which are wrapped in errour.

19 While they promise them libertie, whereas they them selues are the bonde seruantes of corruption: for of whom a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For if they, after they haue escaped frō the filthynesse of the worlde, thorough the knowledge of the Lorde and the sauiour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therin, and ouercome, then is the latter ende worse with them than the beginning.

21 For it hadde bin better for them not to haue knowen the way of righteousnesse, than after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commaundemente that

a. Albeit the angels condēne the vice and iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet they blame not the authoritie and power which is giuen them of God.

c. For in your holy feasts, they sit as members of the church where as in deede they be but spots, and so deceiue you.

The. iij. Chapter.

3. Hee sheweth the impietie of them whiche mocke at Gods promises. 7. After what sorte the ende of the world shall be. 8. That they prepare them selues therunto. 16. VVho they are which abuse the wrytings of saint Paule, and the rest of the scriptures, 18. concluding with eternal thankes to Christ Iesus.

1 This is the second Epistle that I now wryte vnto you, dearely beloued wherwith I stirre vp, and warne your pure myndes.

2 To be myndeful of the wordes which were tolde before of the holy prophetes, and also the "commaundement of vs, whiche be apostles of the Lorde and sauiour:

"or, our doctrine.

3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes mockers, walking after their owne lustes,

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his comming? For since the fathers fel a slepe, al thinges continue a like from the beginning of the creation.

a. He meaneth them which had once professed Christian religion, but became afterward contemners and mockers, as Epicures, and Atheistes.

5 For this they know not (and that (a) wilfully) how that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water, and by the water, by the worde of God:

6 By the whiche thinges the worlde that then was, perished, being then ouerrunne with water.

John. 14. b. Esai. 51. b.

7 But the heauens and earth whiche are nowe, be kept by his word in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of iudgement, and perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, how that one day is with the Lord as a thousande yeeres, and a thousande yeeres as one day.

Psal. 90. a. 2. Cor. 7. c.

9 The Lord that hath promised, is not slacke (as some men count slackenesse) but is patient to vs warde (forasmuch) as hee would haue no man lost, but wil receiue al men to repentance.

10 Neuertheless, the day of the Lord will come as a theefe in the night, in the which the heauens shall passe away with a great noyse, and the elementes shall melt with feruent heate, the earth also and the workes that are therein, shall be vtterly burned.

Mat. 24. b. 1. The. 5. d. Apo. 3. a.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall perishe, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlynesse, 12 Looking for, and hasting vnto the coming of the day of God, "by whom the heauens shall perishe with fyre, and the elementes shal melt with feruent heate?

"some reade, wherein.

13 Neuertheless we, according to his promise, looke for a newe heauen, and a newe earth, wherein dwelleth righteousnesse.

15 And suppose that the long suffering of the Lord is saluation, euen as our dearely beloued brother Paul also according to the wisedome giuen vnto him, hath written vnto you:

17 Ye therefore, beloued, seeing ye be warned aforehande, beware lest ye also being led away with the errour of the wicked, fal from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But growe in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lorde and sauiour Iesus Christ: to whom be glory both now and for euer, Amen.

Here endeth the seconde Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Epistle of Saint Iohn the Apostle.

¶ The first Chapter.

2. The true witnesse of the euerlasting worde of God. 7. The bloud of Christ is the purgation of finne. 10. No man is without finne.

1 THat which was from the beginning, which we haue herd, which we haue seen with our eyes, which we haue loked vpō, and our hands haue handled, of the word of life:

2 (And the life appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shewe vnto you that eternall life whiche was with the father,) and appeared vnto vs.

3 That whiche we haue seene and heard, declare we vnto you, that ye also maye haue (a) felowship with vs, and that our felowship may be with the father, and his sonne Iesus Christ.

4 And these things write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 And this is the tydings whiche we haue heardē of him, and declare vnto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse at all.

6 If we say that we haue felowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lye, and do not the truth.

7 But if we walke in the light, euen as he is in the light, then haue we felowshippe (b) one with another, and the bloud of Iesus Christ his sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

8 If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and the truth is not in vs.

9 If we knowledge our sinnes, he is faithfull and iust to forgiue vs our sinnes, and to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

10 If we say that we haue not sinned, we make him a lier, and his word is not in vs.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. Christ is our aduocate. 10. Of true loue, and how it is tried. 18. To beware of Antechrist.

1 MY little children, these things write I vnto you, that ye sinne not. And if any man sinne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Iesus Christ the righteous.

2 And he is the attonement for our sinnes: not for our (sinnes) onely, but also for the (sinnes) of all the world.

3 And hereby we are sure that we (a) knowe him, if we keepe his commaundements.

4 He that sayth, I knowe him, and keepeth not his commaundements, is a lyer, and the " veritie is not in him.

5 But who so keepeth his worde, in him is the loue of God perfecte in deede: hereby know we that we are in him.

6 Hee that sayth he abydeth in him, ought him selfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no newe commaundement vnto you, but an olde commaundement which ye haue herd from the beginning. The olde commaundement, is the worde, which ye haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, a new commaundement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and (the same is true) also in you, for the darkenesse is past, and the true light now shyneth.

9 He that saith howe that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkenesse euen vntill this time.

10 Hee that loueth his brother, abydeth in the light, and there is none occasion of euyll in him.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darkenesse, and walketh in darkenesse: and can not tell whether hee goeth, because that darkenesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 Babes I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuē you for his names sake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, bicause ye haue knowne him that is from the beginning. I write vnto you yong men, because you haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I write vnto you little children, because ye haue knowne the father. I haue written to you fathers, bicause ye haue known him that (is) from the beginning. I haue written vnto you yong menne, bycause ye are strong, and the worde of God abydeth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not the worlde, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the worlde, the loue of the father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the worlde, as the lust of the flesshe, and the lust of the eyes, and the pryde of lyfe, is not of the father, but of the worlde.

17 And the worlde passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abydeth for euer.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as ye haue hearde howe that Antechriste shall come, euen nowe there are many Antechristes: whereby we kno we that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: for if they had bene of vs, they would no doubt haue continued with vs: but "that it might appeare that they are not all of vs.

20 Neuertheles, ye haue an (b) oyntment of him that is holy, and ye know al things.

21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knewe not the trueth: but byeause ye knowe it, and that no lye is of the truth.

22 Who is a lyer, but he that denyeth that Iesus is Christe? the same is Antechriste, that denyeth the father and the sonne.

23 Whoso euer denyeth the sonne, the same hath not the father: (But he that knowledgeth the sonne, hath the father also.)

24 Let therefore abyde in you, that same which ye heard from the beginning: if that which ye haue heard from the beginning shall remaine in you, ye also shall continue in the sonne, and in the father.

25 And this is the promise that he hath promised vs, (euen) eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you concerning them that deceiue you:

27 And the annoynting which ye haue receyued of him dwelleth in you: and ye nede not that any man teache you, but as the same (c) annoynting teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, ye shall abyde in it.

28 And nowe (d) babes, abyde in him: that when he shal appeare, we may be bold and not be ashamed "of him at his comming.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, know also that euery one which doth righteousnesse, is borne of him.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. The singular loue of GOD towarde vs, 7. and howe we againe ought to loue one another.

1 BEholde, what charitie the father hath shewed vs (euen) that we should be called the sonnes of God: for this cause the worlde knoweth vs not, byeause it hath not knowne him.

Luke. 20. f. John. 1. b.

2 Dearely beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, and yet it doth not appeare what we shall be: but we knowe that when he shall appeare, we shall be lyke him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth him selfe, euen as he also is pure.

4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the lawe: for sinne is the transgression of the lawe.

5 And ye knowe that hee appeared to take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

6 As many as byde in him, sinne not: who so euer sinneth, hath not seene him, neyther knowne him.

7 Babes, let no man deceyue you: he that doth righteousnesse, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

B

8 He that committeth sinne, is of the deuil, for the deuil sinneth since the beginning: for this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to lose the workes of the deuil.

Gene. 3. a. John. 8. f.

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seede remayneth in him, and he can not sinne, bicause he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God known, and the children of the deuil: who so euer doth not righteousnesse, is not of god, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 For this is the tydings that ye heard from the beginning, that ye should loue one another.

12 Not as Caine (which) was of that wycked, and slue his brother: and wherefore slue he him? bicause his owne workes were euil, and his brothers righteous.

Gene. 4. b.

13 Maruell not, my brethren, if the worlde hate you.

The Epistle on the second sunday after Trinitie.

14 We knowe that we are translated from death vnto lyfe, bicause we (a) loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abydeth in death.

C

a. This loue is the special fruit of our faith, & a certaine signe of our regeneration.

15 Whosoeuer hateth his brother, is a manslear: and ye know that no manslear hath eternall life abyding in him.

16 Hereby perceiue we loue, byeause he layd downe his life for vs: and we ought to lay downe our liues for the brethren.

17 But whosoeuer hath this worldes good, and seeth his brother haue nede, and shutteth vp his compassion from him: howe dwelleth the loue of God in him?

Deut. 15. d.

18 My

18 My babes, let vs not loue in woꝛd, neyther in tong, but in deed and in veritie.
19 Hereby we know that we are of ẏ truth, and ſhall aſſure our hearts before him.
20 Foꝛ if our hearte condemne vs, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Dearely beloued, if our heart condemne vs not, then haue we boldeneſſe to warde God.
22 And what ſo euer we aſke, we receiue of him, bycauſe we keepe his commaundementes, and doe thoſe things whiche are pleaſing in his ſight.
23 And this is his commaundement, that we ſhould beleue on the name of his ſonne Ieſus Chꝛiſte, and loue one another, as he gaue vs commaundement.
24 And hee that keepeth his commaundementes, dwelleth in him, and hee in him: and hereby we knowe that hee abydeth in vs, (euen) by the ſpirite which he hath giuen vs.

The.iiij.Chapter.

1. Difference of ſpirites. 2. How the ſpirite of God may be known from the ſpirit of error.

1 Dearely beloued, beleeue not euerie ſpirit, but proue the ſpirites whether they are of God oꝛ not: foꝛ many falſe pꝛophetes are gone out into the woꝛld.
2 Hereby ſhall ye knowe the ſpirit of God: Euerie ſpirite that confeſſeth that Ieſus (a) Chꝛiſt is come in the fleſhe, is of God:
3 And euerie ſpirite whiche confeſſeth not that Ieſus Chꝛiſte is come in the fleſhe, is not of God, and this is that (ſpirite) of Antechꝛiſte, of whome ye haue hearde howe that he ſhould come: and euen nowe alꝛeady is he in the woꝛld.
4 Little childꝛen, ye are of God, and haue ouercome them: foꝛ greater (is) he that is in you, than he that is in the woꝛld.
5 They are of the woꝛlde, therefoꝛe ſpeake they of the woꝛlde, and the woꝛlde heareth them.
6 We are of God: he that knoweth God, heareth vs: he that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby knowe we the ſpirit of veritie, and the ſpirite of errour.
7 Dearely beloued, let vs loue one another, foꝛ loue commeth of God: and euerie one that loueth, is boꝛne of God, and knoweth God.
8 Hee that loueth not, knoweth not God: foꝛ God is loue.
9 In this appeared the loue of God to vs-ward, bycauſe God ſent his onely begotten ſonne into the woꝛlde, that we might lyue through him. John.3.c. Rom.5.b.
10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and ſent his ſonne to be the agreement foꝛ our ſinnes.
11 Dearely beloued, if God ſo loued vs, we ought alſo to loue one another.
12 No man hath ſeene God at any time. If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs. Exo.33.d. Iudic.5.c.
13 Hereby knowe we that we dwell in him, and he in vs: bicauſe he hath giuen vs of his ſpirite.
14 And we haue ſeene, and doe teſtifie that the father ſent the ſonne (to be) the ſauiour of the woꝛld.
15 Who ſo euer confeſſeth that Ieſus is the ſonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.
16 And we haue knowne and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and hee that dwelleth in loue dwelleth in God, and God in him.
17 Herein is the loue perfect in vs, that we ſhould haue boldneſſe in the day of iudgement: foꝛ as he is, euen ſo are we in this woꝛlde.
18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue caſteth out feare: foꝛ feare hath payneſulneſſe. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.
19 We loue him, foꝛ he loued vs firſt.
20 If a man ſay: I loue God, and yet hate his bꝛother, he is a lyer: foꝛ howe can he that loueth not his bꝛother whome hee hath ſeene, loue God whome he hath not ſeene?
21 And this commaundement haue we of him: that he which loueth God, ſhould loue his bꝛother alſo.

2 By this we know that we loue the chyldꝛen of God, when we loue God and keepe his commaundementes. John.1.c.
3 Foꝛ this is the loue of God, that we keepe his commaundements: and his commandements are not greeuous. Math.12.d.

8 And there are thꝛee which beare recoꝛd in earth, the ſpirite, and water, and bloud, and theſe thꝛee agree in one.

9 If we receiue the witneſſe of menne, the witneſſe of God is greater: For this is the witneſſe of God, which he teſtified of his ſonne.

10 Hee that beleeueth on the ſonne of God, hath the witneſſe in him ſelfe: He that beleeueth not God, hath made him a lyer, bicauſe he beleeued not the recoꝛd that God gaue of his ſonne.

11 And this is the recoꝛde, that God hath giuen vnto vs eternall lyfe, and this lyfe is in his ſonne.

12 He that hath the ſonne, hath life: and he that hath not the ſon of God hath not life.

13 Theſe things haue I wꝛitten vnto you that beleeue on the name of the ſonne of God, that ye may know that ye haue eternall lyfe, and that ye maye beleeue on the name of the ſonne of God.

14 And this is the truſte that wee haue in him: that if we aſke any thing accoꝛding to his will, he heareth vs. C Matth.7.c Matt.21.d Luke.11.b Joh.14.b

15 And if we knowe that he heare vs what ſo euer we aſke, we knowe that we haue the petitions that we deſire of him.

16 If any man ſee his bꝛother ſinne a ſinne (which is) not vnto death, he ſhall aſke, and hee ſhall giue him lyfe foꝛ them that ſinne not vnto death. There is a ſinne vnto death, I ſay not that he ſhould pꝛay foꝛ it.

17 All vnrighteouſneſſe is ſinne: and there is ſinne not vnto death.

18 We knowe that who ſo euer is boꝛne of God ſinneth not: but he that is begotten of God, keepeth him ſelfe, and that wicked toucheth him not.

19 We knowe that we are of God, and the whole woꝛld lyeth in wickedneſſe.

20 We know that the ſonne of GOD is come, and hath gyuen vs a mynd to know him whiche is true: and wee are in hym that is true, thꝛough his ſonne Jeſus Chriſte: This ſame is verie God, and eternall life.

9 I John your brother and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdome and patience of Iesus Christ, was in the Ile that is called Pathmos for the worde of God, and for the witnessing of Iesus Christ.

10 I was in the spirit on the "Lords day, and heard behinde me a great voyce, as it had bene of a trumpe.

11 Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: that thou seest wryte in a booke, and sende it vnto the seuen Churches which are in Asia, vnto Ephesus, and vnto Smyrna, and vnto Pergamos, and vnto Thyatira, and vnto Sardis, and vnto Philadelphia, and vnto Laodicea.

12 And I turned backe to see the voyce that spake to me. And when I was turned, I sawe seuen golden candelsticks.

13 And in the middest of the seuen candelsticks, (one) like vnto the sonne of man, clothed with a garment down to the feet, and gyrde about the pappes with a golden gyrdle.

14 His head and his haires were white, as white woll, and as snowe, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,

15 And his feete like vnto fine brasse, as though they burnt in a furnace: and his voyce as the sounde of many waters.

16 And he hadde in his right hande seuen starres: and out of his mouth went a sharp two edged swoord: and his face shone euen as the sunne in his strength.

17 And when I sawe him, I fell at his feet euen as deade: and he layde his right hand vpon me, saying vnto me, Feare not, I am the first and the last.

18 And am aliue, and was deade: and beholde I am aliue for euermore, Amen, and haue the keyes of hell and of death.

19 Write therefore the things whiche thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shal be fulfilled hereafter.

seuen golden candelsticks. The seuen starres, are the angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candelsticks whiche thou sawest, (are) the seuen Churches.

The. ij. Chapter.

1. He exhorteth foure Churches, 5. to repentance, 10. to perseuerance, patience, and amendment, 14. 20. 23. as well by threatning, 7. 10. 17. 26. as by promises of rewarde.

A 1 UNto the angell of the Churche of Ephesus, wryte, These things sayth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hande, and that walketh in the middes of the seuen golden candelsticks:

2 I knowe thy workes, and thy labour, and patience, and howe thou canst not forbeare them which are euill: and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them lyers:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheles, I haue (somewhat) against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou arte falne, and repent, and doe the fyrste workes: or else, I will come vnto thee shortly, and will remoue thy candelsticke out of his place, except thou repent.

Acts.6.b. 6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deedes of the Nicolaitanes, whiche (deedes) I also hate.

B 7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eate of Gene.2.b. D the tree of lyfe, which is in the middes of the Paradise of God.

8 And vnto the angell of the Churche of Smyrna, wryte, These things sayth hee that is first and the last, which was deade, and is (a) aliue:

a. The eternall diuinitie of Iesus Christe, Is here most plainly declared, with his manhood and victory ouer death, to assure his, that they shall not be ouercome by death.
b. In spirituall treasures.

9 I knowe thy workes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art (b) riche:) and I knowe the blasphemie of them which call them selues Iewes, and are not, but (are) the synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things whiche thou shalt suffer: beholde, the deuill shall caste some of you into prison to tempte you, and ye shall haue tribulation tenne dayes: be thou faythfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee a crowne of lyfe.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches, Hee that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the angell of the Church in Pergamos, wryte, These things sayth hee which hath the sharpe (a) sworde with two edges:

a. The worde of God is the sworde with two edges.

13 I knowe thy workes, and where thou dwellest (euen) where Satans seate is, and (that) thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denyed my fayth, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faythfull martyr was slayne among you, where Satã dwelleth.

14 But I haue a fewe things against thee, C because thou hast there them that maynteine the doctrine of Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumbling block before the children of Israell, that they should eate of meate sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication.

Num.31.f. Some read taught in Balac.

15 Euen so hast thou them that maintayne the doctrine of the Nicolaitaines, whiche thing I hate.

16 Repent, or else I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches, To him that ouercommeth will I giue to eate Manna that is hid, and will giue hym a white stone, and in the stone a newe name written, which no man knoweth saying he that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the angell of the Churche of Thyatira, wryte, these thinges saith the sonne of God, who hath eyes like vnto a flame of fire, & his feete (are) like fine brasse:

Thes.5.b. Pet.3.c.

19 I knowe thy workes, and thy charitie, seruice, and fayth, and thy patience, and thy deedes, whiche are more at the last than at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a few things 3.Reg.16. against thee, because thou sufferest that 4.Reg.10. woman Iesabell, which called hir selfe a prophetisse, to teache, and to deceiue my seruantes, to make them commit fornication, & to eate meate sacrificed vnto idols.

21 And I gaue hir space to repent of hir fornication, and she repented not.

22 Beholde, I will caste hir into a bed, and them that commit fornication with hir into great aduersitie, except they repent of their deedes.

23 And I will kill hir children with death, Iere.17.b. and all the Churches shall knowe that I am hee which searcheth the reynes and hearts, and I will giue vnto euerie one of you according to his workes.

will put vpon you none other burden:
25 But that which ye haue alreadie, holde fast till I come.
26 And who so euer ouercommeth, and keepeth my workes vnto the ende, to him wil I giue power ouer nations,
E 27 And he shall rule them with a rodde of iron, and as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shiuers:
28 Euen as I receyued of my father, so wil I giue him the morning starre.
29 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth to the Churches.

The. iij. Chapter.

1. Hee exhorteth the Churches or Ministers to the true profession of fayth, and to watching.

I 1 AND write vnto the angel of the church that is at Sardis, These things sayth he that hath the seuen spirites of God, and the seuen starres, I knowe thy workes, (euen) that thou hast a name that thou lyuest, and thou art deade.
2 Be awake, and strengthe the things which remayne, that are readie to dye: for I haue not founde thy workes perfect before God.
3 Remember therefore howe thou hast receiued and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If thou shalt not watche, I will come on thee as a theefe, and thou shalt not knowe what houre I will come vpon thee. 1.Thes.5.a 2.Pet.3.c.
4 Thou hast a fewe names in Sardis, whiche haue not defiled their garmentes, and they shall walke with me in white: for they are worthie.
5 He that ouercommeth, shall be thus clothed in white araye, and I will not blot out his name out of the booke of lyfe: and I will confesse his name before my father, and before his angels.
6 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.
B 7 And write vnto the angell of the Church of Philadelphia, These things sayth hee that is holy and true, whiche hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man shutteth, (and) shutteth, and no man openeth. Reuel.22.f. Iohn.12.c.
8 I knowe thy workes: beholde, I haue set before thee an open doore, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my sayings, and hast not denyed my name.
9 Beholde, I wil make them of the Synagogue of Satan, whiche call them selues Iewes, and are not, but doe lye: beholde, I will make them that they shall come and worshippe before thy feete, and shall knowe that I haue loued thee.
10 Because thou hast kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which wyll come vpon all the world, to trye them that dwell vpon the earth.
11 Beholde, I come shortly, holde that fast which thou hast, that no man take away thy crowne.
12 Hym that ouercommeth, wyll I make a pyller in the temple of my God, and hee shall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the name of my God, and the name of the citie of my God, (whiche is) newe Ierusalem, which commeth downe out of heauen from my God: and (I wyll write vpon him) my newe name.
13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches.
14 And vnto the angell of the Churche whiche is in Laodicea, wryte, These things sayth Amen, the faythfull and true witnesse, the beginning of the creatures of God. E
15 I knowe thy workes, that thou art neyther colde, nor hote: I would thou were colde or hote.
16 So then because thou art luke warme, and neyther colde nor hote, I will spewe thee out of my mouth,
17 Because thou sayest, I am riche, and encreased with goods, and haue neede of nothing: and knowest not howe that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poore, and blinde, and naked.
18 I counsell thee to buye of me golde tryed in the fire, that thou mayest be riche, and white rayment, that thou maist be clothed, that thy filthy nakednesse doe not appeare, and annoynt thyne eyes with eye saine, that thou mayst see. 2.Cor.5.d.
19 As many as I loue, I rebuke and chasten: be feruent therefore and repent. Prou.3.b. Hebr.12.b.
20 Behold, I stand at the doore, and knock: if any man heare my voyce, and open the doore, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.
21 To him that ouercōmeth, wyll I graunt to sit with me in my throne, euen as I ouercame, and haue sitten with my father in his throne.
22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirite sayth vnto the Churches.

The.iiij. Chapter.

1. The vision of the maiestie of God. 2. Hee seeth the throne, and one sitting vpon it. 8. and foure and twentie seates about it, with foure and twentie elders sitting vpon them, and foure beastes praysing God day & night.

A The Epistle on Trinitie Sonday.

1 AFter this I loked, and beholde, a doore was open in heauen: and the first voyce which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which sayde, Come vp hyther, and I will shewe thee thynges whiche must bee fulfylled heereafter.

2 And immediately I was in the spirite: and beholde, a throne was set in heauen, and (one) sate on the throne.

3 And he that sate, was to looke vpon lyke a Jasper stone, and a Sardine stone: and there was a raynebowe about the throne, in sight like vnto an Emeralde.

4 And about the throne were foure and twentie seates, and vpon the seates I saw foure and twentie elders sitting, clothed in white rayment, and they had on their heades crownes of golde.

5 And out of the throne doe proceede lightnings, and thunderings, and voyces: and there were seuen lampes of fire burning before the throne, whiche are the seuen spirites of God.

6 And before the throne there was a sea of glasse like vnto Christall: and in the middest of the throne, and rounde about the throne, were foure beastes full of eyes before and behind.

B 7 And the first beast was lyke a Lyon, and the second beast like a Calfe, and the third beaste had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flieing Eagle.

8 And the foure beastes had eache of them sixe winges about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they had no rest day nether night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lorde God almightie, which was, and is, and is to come.

Esai.6.b. 9 And when those beastes gaue glory, and honoure, and thankes to him that sate on the throne, which liueth for euer and euer.

10 The foure and twentie elders fell down before him that sate on the throne, and worshipped him that liueth for euer and euer, and caste their crownes before the throne, saying,

11 Thou art worthie, O Lorde, to receiue glorie, and honour, and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasures sake they are, and were created.

The.v. Chapter.

1. Hee seeth the lambe opening the booke, 8. 14. and therefore the foure beastes, the foure and twentie elders, and the angels prayse the lambe, and do him worship, 9. for their redemption, and other benefites.

1 AND I sawe in the right hand of him A that sate on the throne, a booke written within, and on the backeside, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong angell preachyng with a loude voyce, Who is worthie to open the booke, & to lose the seales thereof?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to loke thereon.

4 And I wept much, bicause no man was founde worthie to open and to reade the booke, neyther to loke thereon.

5 And one of the elders sayeth vnto me, Weepe not: beholde, that Lion that is of the tribe of Juda the rote of Dauid, hath obteyned to open the booke, and to lose the seuen seales thereof.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the throne and of the foure beastes, and in the middes of the elders, stode a lambe as though he had beene kylled, hauing seuen hornes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen spirites of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And he came, and toke the booke out of B the right hande of him that sate vpon the throne.

8 And when hee had taken the booke, the foure beastes and foure and twentie elders fell downe before the lambe, hauing eueric one of them harpes, and golden vyals full of odoures, whiche are the prayers of saintes.

9 And they song a new song, saying, Thou art worthie to take the booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast kylled, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy bloud, out of all kinred, and tong, and people, and nation:

10 And hast made vs vnto our God kings and priestes, and we shall raigne on the earth.

11 And

11 And I beheld, and I hearde the voyce of many angels about the throne, and (about) the beastes and the elders, and heard thousand thousandes, 12 Saying with a loude voyce, Worthy is the lambe that was kylled to receiue power, and ryches, and wisdome, & strength, and honour and glory, and blessing.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in thē, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sytteth vppon the throne, and vnto the lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beastes sayde, Amen. And the foure and twentie elders fel vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

The. vi. Chapter.

The lambe openeth the. vj. seales, and many things folowe the opening thereof.

1 AND I sawe when the lambe opened one of the seales, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noyse of thunder, Come, and see.

2 And I sawe, and beholde, (there was) a white horse: and hee that sate on him had a bowe, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the seconde seale, I heard the seconde beast say, Come, and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was redde: and power was giuen to him that sate therron to take peace from the earth, and that they should kyll one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sworde.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I hearde the thirde beast say, Come, and see. And I beheld, and loe a blacke horse: and he that sate on him had a payre of balances in his hande.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beastes say, A measure of wheat for a peny, and three measures of barley for a peny, and oyle and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when hee had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say. Come, and see.

8 And I loked, and beholde a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was death, and hell followeth with him: and power was giuen vnto them ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kyll with sworde, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when hee had opened the fifth seale, I sawe vnder the aulter the soules of them that were kylled for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they had. John. 11. d.

10 And they cryed with a loude voyce, saying, Howe long (taryest) thou Lorde holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our bloud on them them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white garmentes were giuen vnto euerie one of them: and it was sayd vnto them that they should rest yet for a little season, vntill their felowe seruants, and their brethren that should be kylled as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seale, & loe there was a great earthquake, and the Sunne was as blacke as sackcloth made of haire, and the Mone waxed all euen as bloud.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth hir vntimely figges when shee is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scroll when it is rolled together, and all mountaines and Iles were moued out of their places.

15 And the kynges of the earth, and the great men, and the ryche menne, and the chiefe captaynes, and the mightie men, and euerie bondman, and euery free man, hid them selues in the dennes, and in the

The.vij. Chapter.

4. 9. He ſeeth the ſeruantes of God ſealed in their foreheades, out of all nations and people, 15. which though they ſuffer trouble, yet the lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17. and God ſhall wipe away alteares from their eyes.

A 1 AND after that I ſawe foure angels ſtanding on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure windes of the earth, that the winde ſhoulde not blowe on the earth, neyther on the ſea, neyther on any tree.

The Epiſtle on al Saints day. 2 And I ſawe another angell aſcending from the ryſing of the ſunne, hauing the ſeale of the lyuing God: and he cried with a loud voyce to the foure angels to whom power was giuen to hurte the earth and the ſea, 3 Saying, Hurt ye not the earth, neyther the ſea, neither the trees, till we ſhall haue ſealed the ſeruantes of our God in their foreheades.
4 And I hearde the number of them which were ſealed: and there were ſealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thouſand of all the tribes of the childzen of Iſrael.
5 Of the tribe of Iuda were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Ruben were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Gad were ſealed twelue thouſand.
6 Of the tribe of Aſer were ſealed twelue thouſand. Of the tribe of Nephthali were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Manaſſes were ſealed twelue thouſand.
B 7 Of the tribe of Simeon were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Leui were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Iſachar were ſealed twelue thouſande.
8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were ſealed twelue thouſand. Of the tribe of Joſeph were ſealed twelue thouſande. Of the tribe of Beniamin were ſealed twelue thouſande.
9 After this I beheld, and loe a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kinredes, and people, and tongues, ſtoode before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with white garmentes, and palmes in their handes:

10 And cryed with a loude voyce, ſaying, Saluation (be aſcribed) to him that ſitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the Lambe.
11 And all the angels ſtoode in the compaſſe of the throne, and of the elders, and of the foure beaſtes, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worſhipped God,
12 Saying, Amen: Bleſſing, and glorie, and wiſedome, and thankes, and honoure, and power, and myght be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.
13 And one of the elders anſwered, ſaying vnto me, What are theſe which are arayed in white garmentes? and whence came they?
14 And I ſayde vnto him, Lorde thou woteſt. And hee ſayde to me, Theſe are they whiche came out of greate tribulation, and haue waſhed their long robes, and made (a) them white by the blonde of the Lambe.
15 Therefore are they in the preſence of the throne of God, and ſerue him day and night in his temple: and he that ſitteth in the throne will dwell among them.
16 They ſhall hunger no more, neyther thyrſt, neyther ſhall the ſunne light on the, neyther any heate.
17 For the lambe whiche is in the middes of the throne ſhal feed them, and ſhal leade them vnto lyuing fountaines of waters: and God ſhall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

a. That is, their long robes.

The.viij. Chapter.

1. The ſeuenth ſeale is opened, there is ſilence in heauen. 6. The foure angels blowe their trumpets, and great plagues folowe vpon the earth.

1 AND when he had opened the ſeuenth I ſeale, there was ſilence in heauen about the ſpace of halfe an houre.
2 And I ſawe the ſeuen angels which ſtood before God, and to them were giuen ſeuen trumpets.
3 And another angell came and ſtoode before the aulter, hauing a golden Cenſer, and and many oddures were giuen vnto him, that he ſhoulde offer with the prayers of all ſaintes vpon the golden aulter whiche was before the throne.

4 And the ſmoke of the odours which came of the prayers of ſaintes, aſcended vp before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angell toke the cenſer, and fylled it with fire of the aulter, and caſt it into the earth: and voyces were made, and thunderings, and lyghtnings, and earthquake.

6 And the ſeuen angels whiche had the ſeuen trumpettes prepared them ſelues to blowe.

B 7 The fyrſte angell blewe, and there was made hayle and fyre mingled with bloud, and they were caſt into the earth, and the thirde parte of trees was burnt, and all greene graſſe was burnt.

8 And the ſeconde angell blewe, and as it were a great mountayne burning with fire was caſt into the ſea, and the third part part of the ſea turned to bloud.

9 And the thirde part of creatures whiche were in the ſea and had life, dyed, and the thirde part of the ſhippes were deſtroyed.

10 And the thirde angell blewe, and there fell a great ſtarre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the thirde parte of the ryuers, and into fountaynes of waters:

11 And the name of the ſtarre is called wormewood, and the thirde part was turned to wormewood, and many men dyed of the waters, becauſe they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angell blew, and the third part of the Sunne was ſmitten, and the thirde part of the Mone, and the thirde part of ſtarres, that the thirde part of them ſhould be darkned: and the day was (ſmitten,) that the thirde part of it ſhoulde not ſhine, and likewiſe the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angell flieing through the middes of heauen, ſaying with a loud voyce, Wo, wo, wo to the inhabiters of the earth, becauſe of the voyces to come of the trumpe of the three angels which were yet to blowe.

The. ix. Chapter.

12. The firſt woe is paſt. 14. The foure angels that were bounde are looſed. 18. And the thirde part of men is kylled.

1 AND the fifth angell blewe, and I ſaw a Starre fall from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was giuen the keye of the bottomleſſe pit.

2 And hee opened the bottomleſſe pit, and the ſmoke of the pit aroſe, as the ſmoke of a great furnace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reaſon of the ſmoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the ſmoke locuſtes vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the ſcorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commaunded them that they ſhould not hurt the graſſe of the earth, neither any greene thing, neyther any tree: but onely thoſe men whiche haue not the ſeale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was giuen that they ſhuld not kill them, but that they ſhould be vexed fiue monethes, and their payne was as the payne that commeth of a ſcorpion whe he ſhall haue ſtricken a man.

6 And in thoſe dayes ſhall men ſeeke death, and ſhall not finde it, and ſhal deſire to dy, and death ſhall flee from them. Eſai. 2. d. Oſee. 10. c. Luke. 23. d.

7 And the ſimilitude of the locuſtes was like vnto horſes prepared vnto battayle, & on their heads (were) as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had bene the faces of men. B

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions as it were habergions of iron, and the ſounde of their wings was as the ſound of charets when many horſes runne to battayle.

10 And they had tayles lyke vnto Scorpions, and there were ſtings in their tayles: and their power was to hurte men fyue monethes.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angell of the bottomleſſe pit, whoſe name in the Hebrue tong is Abaddon, but in the greeke tong hath his name Apollyon (that is to ſay, a deſtroyer.)

12 One woe is paſt, and beholde two woes come yet after this.

13 And the ſixth angell blewe, and I heard a voyce from the foure hornes of the golden aulter, which is before God.

14 Saying to the ſixth angell which had the trumpe, Loſe the foure angels which are bounde in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were loſed, whiche were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yeere, for to ſlay the thirde part of men.

16 And the number of the horſemen of the armies were twentie thouſande times ten thouſande: and I hearde the number of them.

17 And thus I ſawe the horſes in the viſion, and them that ſate on them hauyng fyerie habergions of a iacint coloure, and brimſtone, and the heds of the horſes were as the heades of Lions, and out of their mouthes, commeth fyre, and ſmoake and brimſtone.

18 And of theſe three was the third part of men kylled (that is to ſay,) of the fire, and of the ſmoake, and of the brimſtone, whiche proceeded out of the mouthes of them.

19 For their powers be in their mouthes, & in their tayles: for their tayles were like vnto ſerpentes, hauing heades, and with them they doe hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not kylled by theſe plagues, repented not of the deedes of their handes, that they ſhould not worſhippe deuils, and idols of golde, and ſyluer, and braſſe, and ſtone, and of wood, which neyther can ſee, neyther heare, neyther goe:

D 21 Alſo they repented not of their murders, and of their ſorceries, neyther of their fornication, neyther of their theftes.

The.x. Chapter.

1. The angel hath the boke open, 6. he ſweareth there ſhall be no more time, 9. he giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

A 1 AND I ſawe another mightie angell come down from heauen, clothed with a cloud, and the raynebow vpon his head: and his face as it were the ſunne, and his feete as it were pillers of fire.

2 And hee had in his hande a little boke open: and hee put his right foote vpon the ſea, and his left foote on the earth.

3 And cryed with a loude voyce, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cryed, ſeuen thunders vttered their voyces.

4 And when the ſeuen thunders had vttered their voyces, I was about to wryte: and I hearde a voyce from heauen, ſaying vnto me, Seale vp thoſe things whiche the ſeuen thunders vttered, and wryte them not.

5 And the angell which I ſawe ſtand vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen.

6 And ſware by him that lyueth for euermore, which created heauē, and the things that therein are, and the earth, & the things that therein are, and the ſea, and the things which therein are, that there ſhoulde be no longer time,

7 But in the dayes of the voyce of the ſeuenth angell, when hee ſhall beginne to blowe, and the miniſterie of God ſhall be finiſhed, as he declareth to his ſeruantes the Prophetes. B

8 And the voyce which I heard from heauē, ſpake vnto me agayne, and ſayde, Go, and take the little boke (which is) open in the hande of the angell which ſtandeth vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth. Ezech.2.d.

9 And I went vnto the angell, and ſayd vnto him, Giue me the little boke. And he ſayde vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it ſhall make thy belly bitter, but it ſhall be in thy mouth as ſweete as hony.

10 And I toke the little boke out of the angels hande, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as ſweete as hony: and as ſone as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter. Ezech.3.d.

11 And he ſayde vnto me, Thou muſt prophecie againe among the people, and nations, and tongs, and to many kings.

The.xi. Chapter.

1. The tẽple is meaſured. 3. Two witneſſes raiſed vp by the Lord, are murdred by the beaſt.

1 AND then was giuen me a rede like vnto a rodde, and the angell ſtode by ſaying, Riſe and mete the temple of God, & the aulter, and them that worſhip therin. A

2 But the court which is without the temple caſt out, and meate it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holie citie ſhall they treade vnder foote fourtie and two monethes.

3 And I will giue (power) vnto my two witneſſes, and they ſhall prophecie a thouſande, two hundred, and threeſcore dayes, clothed in ſackcloth.

4 These are two Olive trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth,

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enimies: and if any man will hurt them, this wise must he be kylled.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it rayne not in the dayes of their prophesying: and haue power ouer waters, to turn them to bloud, and to smite the earth with all manner plagues, asoften as they will.

B 7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomelesse pyt, shal make warre against them, and shall ouer come them, and kyll them.

8 And their bodyes shall lye in the streetes of the great citie, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypte, where also our Lord was crucifyed.

9 And they of the people, and kinredes, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall see their bodyes three dayes and a halfe, and shall not suffer their bodyes to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and be glad, and shall sende giftes one to another: for these two prophetes vexed them that dwelt on the earth.

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the spirite of lyfe (comming) from God, entred into them: and they stode vp vpon their feete, and great feare fell vpon them which sawe them.

12 And they heard a great voyce from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hyther. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enimies saw them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie fell, and in the earthquake were slayne names of men seuen thousande: and the remnant were afrayde, and gaue glorie to the God of heauen.

C 14 The second woe is past, and behold the thirde woe commeth anone.

15 And the seuenth angell blewe, and there were made great voyces in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this worlde are our Lordes, and his Christes, and he shall raigne for euermore.

16 And the xxiij. elders which sate before God on their seates, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God, 17 Saying, We giue the thankes, O Lord God almightie, which art, and wast, and arte to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast raigned.

18 And the nations were angrie, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the deade that they should be iudged, and that thou shouldest giue rewarde vnto thy seruants the Prophetes and Saintes, and to them that feare thy name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them whiche destroy the earth.

19 And the temple of God was opened in heauen, and there were seene in his temple the arke of his testament: and there folowes lightenings, and voyces, and thunderings, and earthquake, and much hayle.

The. xij. Chapter.

There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the sunne. &c.

1 AND there appeared a great" wonder in heauen, A woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Mone vnder hir feet, and vpon hir head a crowne of twelue starres:

2 And she being with childe crieth, trauelling in byrth, and payned ready to be deliuered.

3 And there appeared another wonder in heauen, for behold a great red Dragon, hauing seuen heades and tenne hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heades.

4 And his tayle draweth the thirde part of the Starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stode before the woman which was ready to be deliuered, for to deuour hir childe as sone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man child, which shall rule all nations with a rod of yron: and hir sonne was taken vp vnto God, and (to) his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should fede hir there a thousand, two hundred, and three score dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen, Michael and his angelles fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels,

8 And preuayled not, neyther was their place founde any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon, that old serpent, called the deuyll and Satanas, was caste out, which deceyueth all the worlde: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voyce saying in heauen, Nowe is come saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christe: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, whiche accused them before our God day & night.

11 And they ouercame him by the bloud of the lambe, and by the worde of his testimonie, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce heauens, and ye that dwell in them: Woe to the inhabitours of the earth and of the sea: for the deuyll is come downe vnto you, whiche hath great wrath, because hee knoweth that hee hath but a short time.

13 And when the Dragon saw that he was caste vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman whiche brought forth the man childe.

C 14 And to the woman were gyuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she myght flee into the wyldernesse into hir place, where shee is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the Serpent caste out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had beene a floude: that he might cause hir to be caryed away of the floud.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened hir mouth, and swalowed vp the ryuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of hir seede, which keepe the commaundementes of God, and haue the testimonie of Jesus Christ.

19. The priuiledge of the beasts marke.

AND I sawe a beast ryse out of the sea, hauing seuen heades, and ten hornes, and vpon his hornes tenne crownes, and vpon his heades the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beaste whiche I sawe was lyke C a Leoparde, and his feete were as (the feete) of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lion: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and greate authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heades as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: And all the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beaste, saying, Who is lyke vnto the beaste? Who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two monthes.

12 And he doth all that the first beast coulde do in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them whiche dwell therein to worshippe the first beast, whose deadly wounde was healed.

17 And that no man might buye or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, either the number of his name.

2 And I heard a voyce from he heauen as the sounde of many waters, and as the voyce of a great thunder: and I heard the voyce of harpers harping with their harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beasts and the elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and fourtie and foure thousande, whiche were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they whiche were not defyled with women, for they are virgins: These are they which followe the lambe whether so euer he goeth: These were redeemed from men, being the firstfruits vnto God, and to the lambe.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without spot before ỹ throne of God.

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God, (yea) of the pure wyne whiche is poured in the cup of his wrath, and he shall be punished in fyre and brimstone before the holie angels, and before the lambe.

the vineyarde of the earth, for hir grapes are rype.

19 And the angell thrust in his sharp sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyarde of the erth, and cast it into the great wine-

3. The song of them that ouercome the beast.
7. The seuen vials full of Gods wrath.

A 1 AND I sawe another signe in heauen great and marueilous, seuen angels hauing the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stande on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

And all Gentiles shall come, and worship manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and beholde, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimonie was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen angels came out of the tẽ-ple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, and hauing their breastes gyrded with golden gyrdles.

B 7 And one of the foure beastes gaue vnto the glorie of God, and of his power: and monition to take heede and watch.

1 AND I heard a great voyce out of the A temple, saying to the seuen angels, Go your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first (angell) went, and powred out his viall vpon the earth, and there fell a noysome and sore botche vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the seconde angell shed out his vial vpon the sea, and it turned as it were into the bloud of a deade man: and euerie liuing thing dyed in the sea.

4 And the thirde angell shed out his viall vpon the ryuers and fountains of waters, and they turned to bloud.

5 And I heard the angell of the water say,
Lorde, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast giuen such iudgements.

6 For they haue shedde out the bloud of saintes and prophetes, and therefore hast thou giuen them bloud to drinke: for they are worthy.

7 And I heard̃e another out of the aulter B say, Euen so Lorde God almightie, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth angell powred out hys viall on the Sunne, and power was gyuen vnto him to vexe men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boyled in great heate, and blas-phemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues, and they repented not, to giue him glorie.

10 And the fifth angell powred out his viall vpon the seate of the beaste, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe their tongs for sorowe.

11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not of their deedes.

12 And the sixth angell powred out his vial vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dryed vp, that the waye of 18 And there folowed voyces, thundrings, and lightnings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since menne were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the greate citie was deuided into three partes, and the cities of the nations fel. And greate Babylon came in remembraunce before God, to giue vnto hir the cuppe of the wine of the fiercenesse of his wrath.

The. xvij. Chapter.

3. The description of the great whore, 8. and hir sinnes, and punishment.

1 AND there came one of the seuen angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with me, saying vnto me, Come, I will shewe vnto thee the iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vppon many waters:
2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabitours of the earth are dronken with the wine of hir fornication.
3 So he carryed me away in the spirit into the wildernesse: And I sawe a woman sit vppon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heades, and tenne hornes.

4 And the woman was arayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of gold in hir hande, full of abhominations and filthynesse of hir fornication.
5 And in hir forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whordome and abhominations of the earth.
6 And I sawe the woman dronken with the bloud of the saintes, and with the bloud of the martyrs of Iesus: And when I sawe hir, I wondred with great marueyle.
B 7 And the angel saide vnto me, Wherefore marueylest thou? I will shewe thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth hir, which hath seuen heades, and tenne hornes.
8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomelesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shal wonder, (whose names are not written in the booke of lyfe from the beginning of the worlde) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.
9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heades, are seuen mountaynes, on which the womā sitteth: They are also seuen kings.
10 Fiue are fallē, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.
11 And the beast that was and is not, is euen the eyght, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.
12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are tenne kings, which haue receiued no kingdome as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.
13 These haue one minde, and shall giue their power and strength vnto the beast.
14 These shall fight with the lambe, and C the lambe shall ouercome them: For he is 1. Tim. 6.
the Lorde of Lordes, and King of kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull.

15 And he saith vnto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they which shall hate the whore, and shall make hir desolate and naked, and shall eate hir flesh, and burne hir with fire.

17 For God hath put in their harts to fulfil his wil, and to doe with one consent, and to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntil the wordes of God shal be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which raigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the holde of all foule spirites, and a cage of all vncleane and hatefull birdes.

3 For all nations haue dronken of the wine of the wrath of hir fornication, and the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with hir, and the marchantes of the earth are waxed riche of the abundance of hir pleasures.

4 And I heard another voyce from heauen say, Come away from hir my people that ye be not partakers of hir sinnes, and that ye receiue not of hir plagues.

5 For hir sinnes are gonne vp to heauen, and God hath remembred hir wickednesse.

6 Reward hir euen as she rewarded you, and giue hir double according to hir workes, and powre in double to hir in the same cup which she filled vnto you.

7 And as muche as she glorified hir selfe, and liued wantonly, so muche powre ye in for hir of punishment and sorow: for she saith in hir harte, I sitte being a queene, and am no widowe, and shall see no sorowe. Esai.46.d.

8 Therefore shall hir plagues come in one day, death, and sorowe, and hunger, and she shall vtterly be burnt with fyre, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth hir.

9 And they shal wayle hir, and the kings of the earth shall lamente for hir, which haue committed fornication with hir, and haue lined wantonly with hir, when they shall see the smoke of hir burning:

one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioyce ouer hir thou heauen, and ye holy apostles and prophetes, for GOD hath giuen your iudgement on hir.

21 And a mightie angel toke vp a stone lyke a great mylstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shal that great citie Babylon be cast, and shall be founde no more at all.

22 And the voyce of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers and trumpetters, shall be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftes man, of what so euer craft hee be, shal be founde any more in thee: and the sounde of a mylshal be heard no more at al in thee:

23 And the light of a candel shall shine no more at all in thee, and the voyce of the bridegrome and of the bride shal be heard no more at all in thee: for thy marchantes were the great men of the earth, and with thine enchantment were deceiued all nations.

24 And in hir was found the bloud of the prophetes, and of the saintes, and of all that were slaine vppon the earth.

The.xix. Chapter.

Prayses are giuen vnto God for iudging the whore.

1 AND after these things, I heard a great voyce of much people in heauen, saying, (a) Alleluia: saluation, and glory, & honour, and power, (be ascribed) to the Lord our God:

(a) That is, prayse ye god, because that Iesus Christ and his wickednesse is taken out of the worlde.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgementes, for he hath iudged ỹ great whore which did corrupt the earth with hir fornication, and hath throughly auenged the bloud of his seruantes of hir hande.

3 And againe they sayde, Alleluia: and hir smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twentie elders, and the foure beastes fell downe, and worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Prayse our Lorde God all ye that are his seruantes, and yee that feare him both smal and great.

6 And I hearde as it were the voyce of muche people, euen as the voyce of many waters, and as the voice of strong thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lorde our God omnipotent raigneth.

7 Let vs be gladde, and reioyce, and giue honor to him: for ỹ mariage of the lambe is come, and his wife hath made hir selfe ready.

8 And to hir was graunted that she should be arayed with pure and goodly raynes: for the raynes is the righteousnesse of saintes. Mat. 22. d. Luke. 14. d

9 And he saide vnto me, Wryte: Happy are they which are called vnto the supper of the lambes marriage. And he sayde vnto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fel at his feete, to worship him: And he saide vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy felowe seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimonie of Iesus. Worship God: for the testimonie of Iesus, is the spirit of prophesie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a whyte horse: and he that sate vpon him was called faithful and true, and in righteousnesse (he) doth iudge & make battel.

12 His eyes (were) as a flame of fire, and on his heade were many crownes, and he had a name written that no man knewe but he him selfe. Esai. 53. b.

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipt in bloud: and his name is called the word of God.

14 And the armies whiche were in heauen folowed him vppon whyte horses, clothed with white and pure raynes. D

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe swoorde, that with it he shoulde smite the heathen: and he shall rule them with a rodde of iron, and he treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse and wrath of almightie God.

16 And he hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, King of Kings, and Lord of Lordes.

17 And I sawe an angel stand in ỹ Sunne, and he cryed with a loude voyce, saying to all the foules that flee by the middest of heauen, Come & gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That yee may eate the flesh of kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mightie menne, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, and bond men,

and

and of smal and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered togither, to make battell against him that sate on the horse, and against his armie.

20 And the beast was taken, and with hym that false prophete that wrought myracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beastes marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast quicke into a ponde of fyre, burning with brimstone:

D 21 And the remnant were slayne with the sworde of him that sate vppon the horse, which sworde proceded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their flesshe.

The.xx. Chapter.

2. Satan being bounde for a certaine time, 7. and after let loose, vexeth the Churche greeuously.

A 1 AND I sawe an angel come downe from heauen, hauing the key of the bottomlesse pitte, and a great chayne in his hande.

2 And he toke the Dragon, that olde serpent which is the deuil and Satanas, and he bounde him a thousande yeeres,

3 And caste him into the bottomlesse pitte, and he shut him vp, and set a seale on him, that he should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousande yeeres should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed (for) a little season.

4 And I sawe thrones, and they sate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the worde of GOD, and which had not worshipped the beast, neyther his image, neyther had taken his marke vppon their foreheades, or in their hands, and they lined and raigned with Christe a thousande yeeres.

5 But the other of the dead of men did no liue againe, vntil the thousande yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: for on suche the second death hath no power, but they shall be the priestes of god & of Christ, and shall rai[illegible] with him a thousande yeeres.

son:

8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations whiche are in the foure quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battel: whose number is as the sande of the sea.

9 And they went vp in the playne of the earth, and compassed the tentes of the saintes about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauē, and deuoured them:

10 And the deuil that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fyre brimstone, where the beast & the false prophete shall be tormented day and night for euermore.

11 And I sawe a great white throne, and him that sate on it, from whose face fledde away both the earth and the heauen, and their place was no more founde.

12 And I sawe the dead both small and great stande before God: and the bookes were opened: and another booke was opened, whiche is (the booke) of lyfe: and the dead were iudged of those things whiche were written in the bookes, according to their deedes.

13 And the sea gaue vp hir dead whiche C were in hir, and death and hel deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deedes.

14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fyre: this is the seconde death.

15 And whosoeuer was not founde written in the booke of lyfe, was cast into the lake of fire.

2 And I John sawe the holy citie newe Ierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husbande.

3 And I heard a great voyce out of hea- A uen, saying, Beholde, the tabernacle of God

God (is) with men, and he wil dwel with them, and they shall be his people, & God him selfe shall be with them, and be their God.

Esai.25.d.

4 And god shal wipe away all teares frō their eyes, & there shall be no more death, neither sorowe, neither crying, neither shal there be any more payne: for the former things are gone.

Esai.43.d. 2.Cor.5.3

5 And he that sate vpon the throne, sayde, Beholde, I make all things newe. And he sayd vnto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful,

6 And he sayde vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning & the ende, I will giue vnto him that is a thyrst of the wel of the waters of lyfe freely.

B 7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all things, and I wil be his God, and hee shall be my sonne.

8 But the fearefull and vnbeleeuing, and the abhominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all lyers, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire & brimstone: which is the seconde death.

9 And there came vnto me one of the seuē angels, which had the seuen vials ful of the seuen last plagues, and talked with mee saying, Come hyther, I will shewe thee the bride, the lambes wife.

10 And he caryed me away in the spirite to a great and high mountayne, and hee shewed me the great citie holy Ierusalē, descending out of heauen from God.

11 Hauing the glory of God: and hir shyning (was) like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Iasper, cleare as Christal.

12 And had a wal great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.

13 On the east side three gates, and on the north side three gates, and towardes the south three gates and from the west three gates.

C 14 And the wall of the citie had twelue fundations. & in them the twelue names of the lambes twelue apostles.

15 And he that talked with me, hadde a golden reede to measure the citie withall and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the citie lyeth foursquare, and the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the rede twelue thousande furlonges, and the length, and the breadth, and the heygth of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is of the angel.

18 And the buylding of the wal of it was of Iasper, and the citie was pure gold like vnto cleare glasse.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all manner of pretious stones. The first fundation was Iasper, the seconde Sapphire, the third a Chalcedoni, the fourth an Emeralde, 20 The fifth Sardonix, the sixth Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eyght Beryl, the nienth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysoprasus, the eleuenth a Iacinct, the twelfth an Amethist.

21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euery gate was of one pearle, & the streete of the citie was pure golde, as it were shyning glasse. D Esai.40.d.

22 And I sawe no temple therein: for the Lorde God almightie and the lambe, are the temple of it.

23 And the citie hath no need of the sun, neither of the moone to lighten it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the lambe is the light of it. Esa.60.d.

24 And the nations of them which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glory & honour vnto it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shal be no night. Esai.60.f.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any vncleane thing, neither what so euer worketh abhomination, or (maketh) lies: but they onely whiche are written in the lambes booke of life.

The.xxij. Chapter.

1. The riuer of the water of life. 9. The angel will not be worshipped.

1 AND hee shewed mee a pure ryuer of water of lyfe, cleare as Christal,

Chriſtall, proceding out of the throne of God, and of the lambe.

2 In the middes of the ſtreete of it, and of eyther ſide of the ryuer (was) there wood of life, which bare twelue manner of fruites, and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the wood ſerued to heale the people withal.

4 And they ſhal ſee his face, and his name (ſhal be) in their foreheades.

Eſai.40.d. 5 And there ſhall be no night there, and they neede no candel, neyther light of the Sunne, for the Lorde God giueth them light, and they ſhall raigne for euermore.

10 And he ſaith vnto me, Seale not the ſayings of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hande.
